GREENVILLE BOYS WIN.

Get Unanimous Decision in Debate Contest With Washington

The Henry Grady Debating society of the Greenville graded schools has again triumphed in debate. Its representatives, Messrs. B. F. Taylor and L. J. Smith, won a splendid victory Friday night in the contest with Washington. This makes the second place the society has won, it having been the victor in the contest with Goldsboro last spring.

The contest Friday evening was held in the auditorium of the Washington public school building. It was presided over by Supt. N. C. Newbold, the society of his school being represented by Messrs. Charlie Meekins and Enoch Simmons. The judges were Rev. M. T. Plyler, of Washington, Prof. H. E. Austin, of Greenville, and Supt. R. G. Kittrell, of Tarboro.

Greenville had the affirmative side of the query, which was as follows: "Resolved, That the United States Should Subsidize Her Merchant Marine in Terms of the Humphrey Bill." A summary of the principal speeches of the Greenville speakers was given in Friday's Reflector. Their rejoinders were both well composed and well delivered.

The first negative speaker was Mr. Meekins. He chose for his principal part of the query the fact that as a nation we are being legislated to death. That the people are all the time being slowly but surely deprived of their rights. That special interests are striving continually to secure the passage of special privilege laws, and the subsidy law is one of these. He showed that while the merchant marine is inadequate, there is no justifying subsidies as a means of rehabilitating it.

The second speaker was Mr. Enoch Simmons. His speech was carefully thought out, and it was a splendid piece of work. He reviewed the history of our cross-sea service, showing that the United States had never been a maritime nation. That we have concerned ourselves with our internal development, and have left our marine problems to English and Japanese seamen. That we have not lost by this policy, as they can build and operate ships very much cheaper than we can because of cheap labor and cheap raw material.

He contended that as a nation we can better afford to devote our attention to conservation, to internal improvements, and to defensive problems than to try to place large sums of money at the heads of ship owners in an attempt to compete with England, Germany and Japan.

After the debate the judges retired to a private office and balloted. The first vote was unanimous for the affirmative. In announcing the decision, Rev. M. T. Plyler complimented the speakers, declaring that he had heard many a debate in colleges and universities that were not so good.

While the committee was out making up its decision, Supt. Newbold introduced Supt. H. B. Smith to the audience. Mr. Smith expressed his appreciation of the cordial treatment he and the Greenville party had received. He spoke of the importance of public speaking and debate as a part of education, saying that he was glad that the schools were giving it more attention, and that the towns were beginning to enter into contests with each other.

The audience was attentive,

Newly Notes From Our Hustling Neighbor.

Winterville, N. C. April 30, 1910. Miss Venie Crawford and Mrs. J. H. C. Dixon, M. G. Bryan and R. G. Chapman attended the Methodist district conference at Ayden Thursday.

Mrs. R. G. Chapman spent yesterday in Ayden. Mrs. Mollie Fox, of Randleman, came in Friday to spend sometime with her parents here. F. O. Cox and little daughter, Joslin, of Wake Forest, came in Thursday.

J. E. Greene spent Sunday in Robersonville.

Dr. Joseph Dixon, of Ayden, was in town Thursday.

The W. H. S. commencement is only three weeks off.

Rev. M. A. Adams, of Ahsokie, will conduct service at the Baptist church Sunday. Mr. Adams is a very able speaker and we are sure he will give us thoughts that will be helpful.

Quite a number of our people attended the Methodist conference at Ayden this week.

Miss Clyde Chapman and Calvin T. Cox went to Wilson Thursday to visit Mrs. L. P. Woolard.

Miss Sarah Barker, who has been spending something at Wharton, came in Wednesday.

H. J. Langston came in yesterday from Wake Forest to spend Sunday at home.

PACTOLUS ITEMS.

Pactolus, N. C., April 29.—J. Fleming, Fenner Harris and Rufus Dudley attended Federal court at Washington last week.

Frank Rollins was in town a short time Sunday.

Miss Louise Satterthwaite, of W. H. S., is in town spending some time with her parents.

R. R. Fleming went to Tarboro Monday and returned Tuesday.

Mrs. Charlotte Ricks is sick this week. Hope she will soon be out again.

Miss Eliza Evans tied her horse to a tree at church Sunday, an automobile came by and frightened the animal causing the buggy to be broke by striking a tree while running.

Mr. and Mrs. Dixon, of Whartons, are in town visiting Mrs. G. Z. Ricks.

The boys are practicing for a game soon. They catch the ball like they mean it.

We were lucky not to get any hail Sunday. It came all around and very near, but we did not get any.

Watch Pactolus come to the top.

To Old Soldiers.

Editor Reflector:

I would like to know what company and regiment J. L. Faithful joined and fought in the civil war and any other information about him that any of your readers may possess. His family and friends desire especially to know where he died and was buried. I will thank any one for this information.

A Favored Region.

While no doubt the cold snap has injured crops somewhat in this vicinity and throughout the eastern part of North Carolina, it is probable that the damage has been slight. The Wilmington district reports no special damage to truck and shipments of the same go on at regular intervals. This condition is in striking contrast to that of our neighbors of the middle west, farther south. We can sympathize with them in their losses and deplore the same, but our own fortunate condition after the storm's passage should fill us with thankfulness. Indeed Eastern North Carolina has experienced a season so far this year that is almost ideal. The weather as a rule, from the very first of the year, has been open so that out-door work could be done at will. And our farmers went right in and took advantage of their opportunity with the result that the present condition of their crops is very good indeed. Without gloating over the misfortunes of others our people can truly say that their lot has fallen in pleasant places and their habitation is indeed "God's country."—Kinston Free Press.

Greenville Young Lady to Marry.

Invitations have been received here announcing that Miss Maud Evans will be married to Mr. D. Wilbourn Davis, on Wednesday evening, May 11th, at Nathaniel Jacobi memorial building in Goldsboro, N. C. The bride-elect is a daughter of Mrs. Annie Evans, of Greenville, but has been living in Goldsboro for several years.

Said he Didn't.

"Haven't you got the small-pox?" asked Judge Peebles of a negro who was called to the witness stand in court Friday. "Naw, sur," answered the negro with a grin that made everybody laugh. But he certainly had a very bumpy mug along with him.

Burial Friday.

The remains of Mr. S. C. Wooten, who was found dead in his room here Thursday morning, were buried Friday afternoon at the Wooten burial ground in Edgecombe county. Rev. J. H. Shore conducting the service.

STATE NEWS.

Newsy Items of Interest Condensed for Busy Readers.

The great council of the Improved Order of Red Men, of North Carolina will meet in Concord May 4th and 5th. Great preparations are being made by the local lodge for the entertainment of their visiting brothers. A big parade of the "Indians" over the streets of the city will be a feature of the meeting. Over a hundred delegates are expected to attend the meeting and will be entertained at the St. Cloud-Normandy and Mr. Norman is making special arrangements for the accommodation of the visiting delegates.—Concord Tribune.

The sixteenth general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will assemble in Asheville, N. C., Wednesday, May 4, and will probably be in session until May 25. It will be thirty-first general conference since the organization of the Methodist church in America in 1784.

The damage to the cotton crop is so great that many planters in this section will plow up and replant. Owing to the scarcity of seed the price which was fifty cents per bushel before the cold wave has now advanced to one dollar per bushel.—Wilson Times.

Certain Cure for Gapes in Chickens.

That vermin is the cause of more loss to poultry raisers than any other enemy to fowls is admitted. It does not seem to be known that gapes is caused by vermin in young chickens, but such is the case. The vermin enters the nostrils of the young chicken and lodges in the "slot" in the roof of the chicken's mouth, and there is changed to a worm, that is lodged in the throat of the chicken causing what is term "gapes." The cure is to mop out this "slot" in the roof of the chicken's mouth at the age of about two weeks with a mixture of two-thirds kerosene oil and one-third spirits turpentine, repeating the mopping again in two weeks. Not only does this prevent and cure the gapes but the young chickens will be benefited by the mixture and grow faster.

Local Merchants and Mail Order Houses

It behooves the local merchant to exert himself to meet the competition, constantly growing more attractive to the unthinking, of the big mail order houses in the cities. And as the spring season opens the country is being flooded with alluring catalogs bidding for trade. Of course the bargains at home are better when you consider that the home merchant gives you personal attention and the chance to return goods that are not what was represented. But the public forgets this, trade has to be drummed, and the most efficient drummer for the home merchant is the local newspaper.—Ex.

Another Construction Man Here.

J. Clarence Fogarty, of Rocky Mount, is here putting in telephones for the Home Telephone and Telegraph Co. He will probably be here several days as the exchange here is increasing so rapidly in number of telephones that the local force can't handle the business fast enough.

The Borrowing Mania.

National bank loans throughout the country have been swollen more than $800,000,000 in two years as the returns to the treasury show. This does not include the loans made by the insurance and trust companies and private banking institutions, from which there is no data, but in all probability they were in sufficient volume to bring the total increase in the period given to upward of $1,000,000,000.

This showing sharply challenges the popular theory that prosperity promotes the extinction of debts and creates a balance on the right side of the ledger. In truth, prosperity has the effect of making it easier to borrow—affording greater opportunities for obtaining credit. The railroads have been issuing new securities in great volume, and new industries also have entered into heavy obligations. But who would think for a moment that the farmers, the chief beneficiaries of prosperity, are leading all the rest? That this is a fact the reports of loans negotiated by the country banks clearly demonstrate. Farmers are tempted to borrow by agents of insurance companies which make a specialty of farm mortgages and by real estate men, with the result that the number of encumbered acres is increasing as never before. Besides purchasing heavily of farm machinery many of them do not actually need, some dabble in grain and provisions, thereby enriching the very men they daily denounce as the farmer's worst enemy. Those who use their borrowings to good advantage, to buy more land, for instance, may not be acting unwisely, but for those who speculate a day of reckoning is inevitable. One bad crop season would precipitate an avalanche of foreclosures, as happened to their forebears a score of years ago.

With another big yield in the wheat belt this year, as now promised, it is predicted that the borrowing mania will be still more violent, as the railroads are making arrangements for new capital consideration in excess of last year's total. The cause for special wonder is that the funds show no signs of a probable scarcity. — Washington Post.

Some Roads Aphorisms.

No farming section which has once had good roads would ever go back to bad roads.

High freight rates are not nearly as heavy a tax on the shippers of stock and other farm produce as bad roads.

Only a very rich country could afford the tremendous financial drain of bad roads.

A good road is to a country district what a paved street is to the city property that adjoins it. It makes business for that neighborhood.

A farmer living on a good road is a free man. He is not dependent on weather conditions. He is able to sell his stock and grain and fruit at the best market prices. The railroads have to serve the man who can get his stuff to a shipping point any day in the year.

Money spent for good roads is as good an investment for improving the farm as is money put into stock sheds, grain cribs, fences, seeds, or anything else that makes the farm pay. — Kansas City Star.

A Kansas widow wore trousers while at work in her garden. Her neighbors objected and threatened her with indictment. The widow appealed to the governor and was told that there was no law against women wearing trousers in that state. Now she not only works in the garden dressed to please herself, but she tells the neighbors she is a better man than any of them. — Raleigh Times.

Terms amount to very little—glittering promises cover a multitude of faults—you can get satisfactory terms anywhere, but a satisfactory piano at a precious few places.

We have 8 makes under grades and classification as follows: highest medium and low. Each grade is characterized by the price we ask for it. What ever price you are willing to pay for a piano, if bought from us, you will be getting legitimate value, as you won't be deceived in the grade you are getting. We have several self-player Pianos at bargain prices.

A Cold Storage In Your Home

You can not be too careful in buying a refrigerator, as much of the illness in some families can be traced directly to using insanitary refrigerators. We have carefully investigated all the many makes of refrigerators, and have selected a line which we can positively guarantee to be the cleanest and most sanitary refrigerators made. No germs are possible with the smooth, seamless surface, and they can be kept spotless and germless for years to come. One of these refrigerators will soon pay for itself in saving of ice bills. Before you buy let us show you our complete line of perfectly constructed refrigerators. They cost no more than the ordinary kind.

Must Finish the Game.

In a small country town there once lived a couple of young fellows who had gone into partnership in a barber's business, and in order to pass the time one particularly dull afternoon Tom proposed to Dick that they indulge in a quiet game of "nap." The quiet game went on hour after hour, and when the shades of night had fallen for some time neither of them noticed that a customer had entered. He surveyed them in silent contempt for some few minutes.

"Sorry if I interrupt," he said, acidly, at last, "but I'm in a hurry. Which of you fervid sportsmen is going to shave me?"

Tom looked over the hand which had just been dealt him. Then, in a voice full of suppressed excitement, he said:

"Just one moment, sir. Wait until we see who owns this shop!"—London Scraps.

A Real Disappointment.

"Yes, sir," Uncle Eden said to his nephew, "there are all kinds of disappointments in this world, Charley, and some of 'em are worse'n others." But they're all jest ways of feelin' bad for a minute, I guess. 'Bout the disappointin'g disappointment I ever have is when I feel and feel like sneezin' and it won't sneeze! That kinder gives you a notion of how all disappointments feel till you get over them."—Youth's Companion.

RETURNED THE CHANGE.

An Experience on a Train Between Metz and Paris.

"For scrupulous care and trouble taken to return change I have never heard of anything that equaled an experience of mine on the railroad between Metz and Paris," said a national guardsman the other day. "I had been studying the battlefields about Metz, and when I decided to get back to Paris I converted most of the money I had left into francs.

"It was a hot day in August, and the second class compartments were so crowded that I decided as we stopped at a town near the French border to change to a first class coach. There was a supplement to pay, and the only German money I had was in twenty mark pieces. The official who made the transfer did not have the proper change, and while I was waiting for him to come back with the 12 marks and some pfennigs that belonged to me the train moved off, and I gave my money up for gone.

"About 11 o'clock that night the train stopped at a town about halfway to Paris. There was only one other occupant of my compartment, a man who had got on at some station in France. Soon after we stopped the door of the compartment was opened and a man inquired which of us had given a twenty mark piece to be changed at the station in Germany. I replied that I was the individual.

"Come with me, monsieur," he said. So I alighted and followed him into the station office.

"There I found that my change had been telegraphed on, and he had the sum due me already counted out. There were a lot of receipts and things to sign, and the train was held up almost fifteen minutes on my account, but I got my money and a lot of satisfaction."—New York Sun.

A Skylark For the Shelley Class.

I have heard of a professor of English in one of our universities who evidently felt that his department was laboring under disadvantages. Finding that his scientific colleagues were getting appropriations of astonishing liberality for illustrative apparatus, he put in his annual report a request for $5,000 for an aviary. When the president asked him to explain he said that it was impossible for him to teach poetry properly unless he had an aviary connected with his class room. "Then," he said, "when the class is reading Shelley's 'Skylark' I reach my long handed net into the cage, catch a lark and hold it up to them. And when we are studying 'The Rime of the Ancient Mariner' my assistant will be stationed in the gallery with a crossbow to shoot a real, live albatross on the platform, thus giving the students opportunities for observation that doubtless Coleridge himself never had."—Independent.
