SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION.

Meeting Called in Greenville on Friday, June 24.

Mr. J. Van Carter, general secretary of the North Carolina Sunday School Association, met leaders of the various Sunday schools of Greenville Thursday night in the parlors of the Methodist church in this city relative to the organization of a Pitt County Sunday School Association. Those present at the meeting effected a temporary organization by electing S. T. Hooker temporary president and Z. T. Broughton temporary secretary with the superintendents of the five Sunday schools in Greenville as a co-operating committee with whom the officers may confer in regard to the details of the convention of the county Sunday schools to be held in Greenville on Friday, June 24th to perfect a permanent organization for this county.

The Sunday School Association is an interdenominational movement and it is expected that all Sunday schools of all denominations will have representatives at the convention here on the 24th of June. Preparations will be made for a large gathering and delegates will be entertained by our people. The Sunday school workers are expecting great and lasting benefits to the Sunday school cause from the organization of their forces in Pitt county.

When we recall the fact that the Sunday school forces number above the twenty-five million mark we are brought to the realization that the Sunday school is one of the biggest institutions in the world. In North America alone there are fifteen millions of persons engaged in its service.

The purpose of the organizations of Pitt county is to secure a deeper interest in this great work through the means of interdenominational co-operation.

Rev. A. D. Betts Enjoys Trip.

The following item about "Uncle Betts" will be read with much interest throughout this section for he has lots of friends around here.

"The Rev. A. D. Betts, who disdained to ride to Mobile in a special Pullman car because he said a regular was much better than he got used to in the days of '61-'65, has returned from the great reunion of veterans in the Alabama city and reports a rattling good time. Alabama and especially Mobile gave the boys everything that could have been expected, said the Rev. Mr. Betts. On his return he stopped over with his son, the Rev. W. A. Betts, at Montro, Miss."—Greensboro News.

The meeting took a recess until Monday night, 9th, at 8 o'clock.

A. & M. COLLEGE NOTES

West Raleigh, N. C., May 5.—Excavations for the new engineering and chemical building were begun this week. This building will fill a long felt necessity, and it is to be hoped that it will be ready for occupancy early next fall.

Plans for the future of our campus were recently prepared by an eminent landscape gardener and accepted by the trustees. All future buildings will conform to these plans, thus tending to unify a hitherto irregular massing of buildings.

The entire college farm was planted with cover crops—small grain and crimson clover—during the winter. This modern conception of keeping something growing on the land all the time has many advantages. It prevents washing and loss of plant food by leeching and furnishes a rich covering of humus when turned under in the early spring prior to the planting of the field crops.

The recent cold snaps did not prove very injurious to the farm crops here. Cotton was, here, as elsewhere, most affected, continued cold is stunting it and nurturing the lice.

This has been a phenomenal year for us in baseball. Only one college team—Amherst—defeated our boys. The State championship goes to us beyond a doubt and it is quite evident that A. & M. has the best ball team in the South. The team made its annual northern trip last week. V. P. I. Georgetown and U. S. S. Franklin met defeat and the Navy game was played to a tie for fifteen innings.

The best and greatest celebration ever held at the college was made Monday night when the ball team returned with its northern laurels. With the band in wagons, the baseball boys in automobiles and the student body following in rear, with torches, banners and displayed game scores, an unrivaled display of college spirit was shown as the gay crowd visited the female colleges, and paraded the streets of Raleigh. The girls hailed us with songs and cheers and the people of Raleigh joined in the spirit of welcome and congratulation.

Prof. John Michels, head of our live stock and dairy department has resigned to enter commercial work. Prof. Michels is a recognized expert in dairying, having written several authentic books on the subject which are widely used. In his going we lose a man whose place will doubtless be impossible to fill. We hate to give him up, but since he goes the students wish him success in his new field.

Mr. Ernest Haynes a member of the senior class, died in Rex hospital yesterday, where he has been confined for a long while. "Chink" was universally beloved both as a student and athlete. The battalion will escort his remains to the cemetery this afternoon.

Our college band and battalion will take part in the Confederate memorial exercises on the tenth of May as escort to the governor.

In the recent inter-society contests the medal in declamation was won by C. P. Buchanan of the Leazor society and the Oratorical medal by J. H. Brown of the Pullen society. Both of these medals are given annually by President Hill.

It is just a month to the town election, but there are no candidates being talked yet.

STATE NEWS.

Newly Items of Interest Condensed for Busy Readers.

The North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association meets in the Selwyn Hotel, Charlotte, on the 8th 9th and 10th of June. The board of pharmacy meets in the same place on the 6th and 7th for the examination of applicants for license to practice pharmacy.

Mrs. Mary M. Buchanan, relict of the late Calvin Buchanan, drove to town early this morning and drew her pension for services performed by her husband in the Mexican war. And yet we talk about old soldiers and their relatives in the war of the sixties dying so fast. Older residents of Greensboro remember "Cal." Buchanan.—Greensboro Record.

Raleigh, N. C., May 5.—The nineteenth applicant for appointment as corporation commissioner to succeed the late B. F. Aycock, was listed in the office of Governor Kitchin today. His name, J. F. Leaper, of Gaston county. There is still no indication of any definite time when the appointment may be expected. Mr. Leaper is a well known farmer, who has served one or two terms as a member of the general assembly.

Raleigh, May 5.—Raleigh physicians are sorely perplexed over the situation here with reference to the filling of any whiskey or alcohol as a part. Every drug store in the city refused to renew the whiskey license when the aldermen put up the tax May 1 to $500 per year. Tomorrow night there is to be an effort to induce the aldermen to recede from this tax, which, it is contended, the druggists could under no circumstances afford to pay.

Raleigh, May 5.—Adjutant General Armfield, of the North Carolina National Guard, has ordered the disbandment of the Hornet's Nest Rifles, Company D, First infantry, of Charlotte, on account of inefficiency and failure to measure up to the required minimum standards in the recent official inspection. It is understood the vacancy will not be filled, there being a purpose to strive for the raising of the standard of equipment and efficiency, rather than the maintaining or increasing of the numerical strength of the guard.

HALLEY'S COMET IN MAY.

It May Still be Seen in the East in the Early Morning Hours.

To the Editor:—The comet is still in the east in the early morning.

It may be seen now a little after 4 a. m. to the left of the bright morning star Venus, and higher up.

It is visible for perhaps fifteen minutes, when it modestly fades from view—in deference to approaching dawn. And while visible it is at great disadvantage, being paled by the neighboring moon.

By Monday, the 9th, the moon will have moved on below the horizon. The comet will then show brighter all the week.

Weather permitting, it will be best seen each morning from about half past three to four o'clock.

On the 18th, when it crosses the line joining earth and sun, its tail, if of usual length, will sweep by the earth and on towards Antares, the conspicuous red star in the southeast at 11 p. m.

It will be well that night, between 11 and 12 o'clock, to look in the direction of Antares. Then, for the first time at night, we may see the hazy stream of the comet's long, filmy tail.

The comet that night passes to the east of the sun. On following nights it will be seen in the western sky soon after sunset. But it will be again paled by the bright moon until after the 24th. Still, it will be conspicuous.

Visible the 21st, until 9 p. m., the 22nd, until about 10 p. m., the 23rd and 24th, until about half past 10 o'clock; the 25th and 26th, until nearly 11 o'clock; and the rest of the month, until a little after 11 p. m.

The relative positions of the earth, sun, and comet now are very nearly the relative positions they had in the year 1066. So, if not enfeebled by age, the comet after the 18th will appear to us about as it appeared to William the Conqueror.

John F. Lanneau, Wake Forest College, May 3, 1910.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Saw the Comet.

Greenville is in it, too, and has seen the comet. Mr. D. B. Johnson, night engineer at the electric light plant, says it was visible in good shape about 3:45 this morning, being very bright and having a long tail pointing southward. Now you all can be on the lookout tomorrow morning.

Cards of Thanks.

All newspaper men are acquainted with the "card of thanks." It used to be a persistent visitor at the newspaper offices. But happily, through the refusal of many papers to print them without pay at the advertising rate and a decidedly cool reception by those who do print them on the one hand and the development of a more seeming taste on the part of all the people on the other hand, they have become much more rare than formerly. Now and then, however, one runs across one and some of them make interesting reading matter. The Atlanta Georgian has discovered one of these and tells about it as follows:

"The day is not far distant when 'cards of thanks' will be a thing of the past. When death enters a home neighbors never fail to do what they can to place a silver lining behind the dark cloud, and they do not expect or desire any thanks through the public press. One subscriber, however, in a neighboring town, not to be outdone, sent in the following to the editor:

"Mr. Editor: I desire to thank the friends and neighbors most heartily in this manner for their co-operation during the illness and death of my late husband, who escaped from me by the hand of death last Friday while eating breakfast. To all my friends and all who contributed so willingly to make the last moments and the funeral a success I desire to remember most kindly, hoping these lines will find them enjoying the same blessing. I have also a good milk cow and a roan gelding horse which I will sell cheap. 'God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform. He plants His footsteps on the sea rides upon the storm.' Also a black and white shoit cheap."—Raleigh Times.

FRIDAY, MAY 6, 1910.

The Britishers have given Peary a medal.

Pulling together accomplishes much more than pulling apart.

You can't lose Greenville, even when it comes to seeing the comet.

The towns have stopped guessing, but they will soon know how many the census gives them.

Raleigh may have to call on neighboring towns for police help when the next mass meeting comes.

The longer the appointment is delayed, the larger grows the list of candidates for corporation commissioner.

Chicago is claiming to have seen the comet. It is a wonder that Atlanta had not come forward with the discovery.

If the next Raleigh mass meeting is to be as bad as the first one, the mayor might interfere on the ground of its being in the "Girl from Rectors" class.

The Party Lash.

We are glad the time is almost here when men can well afford to laugh at the party manager and vote exactly as they please regardless of the consequences. It is all very well to boast of having never scratched a ticket provided the ticket has been always clean; but it is a decoration of honor sometimes to scratch a name that is totally unworthy to stand alongside that of honest men. Joseph G. Cannon is a good illustration of party regularity. He is a slave to the orders of the political boss. He knows nothing about the higher law in politics, namely, the play of a quick conscience. Men like him submerge all other considerations under the false and dangerous doctrine that the orders of a caucus or party manager are infallible and must be obeyed. His sun has set. He may be elected Speaker until he dies, but his glory is gone. He has ruled with a rod of iron but from henceforth and forever he is a back number. And there are others besides Joe Cannon whose sceptres have fallen from their nerveless grasp. A great change has come over the spirit of our dreams. It had its manifestation in Washington when the speaker was deposed from the committee on rules, but it has been coming for years, and is not confined to any particular part of the country. The people have come to realize that the party has no such authority as it arrogates to itself. This is a free country though party spirit has kept it in bondage for many a year. We will vote for a candidate belonging to our party if he is a fit man; if not, we will not vote for him. A nomination by a convention does not make a foul man clean; and no convention is strong enough to bind a man's conscience. The voter has a personal obligation to discharge to his country when he casts his ballot; and if he allows the party lash to drive him into line against his will he is a coward and unworthy to cast a vote at all. We rejoice that the new and better conception of the duties of citizenship has come to our people. It will mean cleaner candidates and purer politics.—Obarity and Children.

Solicitor Chas. L. Abernethy is here prosecuting the docket with his usual ability. He is a candidate for re-nomination and re-election, and the fact that there is no one a candidate in the party against him, is a strong presumption in his favor that he has given satisfaction to the people in the discharge of the duties of his office. He is affable and courteous and prosecutes with vigor, tempered with mercy, which fact makes him a good solicitor.—Bayboro Sentinel.

When a man gets mad and "stops" his paper, it don't mean that he will not read it any more. Nine times out of ten he will worry some good paying subscriber by taking his paper away before the aforesaid subscriber has a chance to read it. "Stop my paper" simply means he will stop paying; not that he will stop reading, if anybody in the neighborhood takes it.—Reidsville Weekly.

FAIR EXCHANGE

A New Pack for an Old One. How it Can be in Greenville

The back aches at times with a dull, indelible feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the bad back for a new and stronger one. Greenville residents would do well to profit by the following example: Joseph Savage, Church street, Tarboro, N. C., says: "For some time my kidneys were disordered, the passages of the kidney secretions being scanty and at times painful. I had pains in my loins and if I stooped suddenly, sharp twinges caught me across the back, making it hard for me to stand. After trying a number of remedies without finding relief, I procured Doan's Kidney Pills and began their use. They removed the aches and pains and regulated the passages of the kidney secretions. I am pleased to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills in return for the benefit I have derived from their use."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co. Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Catarh Can Quickly be Cured

A bottle of Hyomei, a hard rubber pocket inhaler, that will last a lifetime, and simple instructions for curing catarh make a Hyomei outfit.

Into the inhaler you pour a few drops of magical Hyomei (pronounce it High-o-me.)

This is absorbed by the anti-epitaxial gauze within and now you are ready to breathe it over the germ infested membrane where it will speedily begin its work of killing catarh germs. Hyomei is made of Australian eucalyptol combined with other antiseptics and is very pleasant to breathe.

It is guaranteed to cure catarh, bronchitis, sore throat, croup, coughs and colds, or money back. It cures out a stuffed-up head in a few minutes. Sold by druggists everywhere, and by Coward & Wooten. Complete outfit $1. And remember that extra bottles afterward's needed cost only 50c. Breathe it, that's all.

To break up cold in the head or chest in a few minutes, pour a teaspoonful of Hyomei into a bowl of boiling water and cover head and bowl with towel and breathe the vapor.

THE NEEDY FAR AWAY.

With a Word About the Man Just Around the Corner.

On a certain Sunday last fall I attended the morning service of a village church in an eastern state. At the close of the sermon—a helpful sermon—the pastor reminded his congregation of the barrel of clothing regularly sent at this time to the poor of a city some fifty miles away.

I was just a bit startled, because I have been accustomed to hear city pastors remind their congregations of barrels to be sent to the poor of villages. It had not occurred to me that villages might be concerned about the poor in cities. I knew, of course, that cities whose churches are sending barrels to villages have their own desperately poor always with them, and I was in a position to know that this village whose church was preparing a barrel also had its proportion of sadly reduced families.

The situation struck me somehow as incongruous, illogical, out of gear. Why should good people in the cities distress themselves about suffering in the villages and good people in the villages distress themselves about suffering in the cities and both apparently feel little distress about the suffering right at their very doors—both apparently be more concerned about the distress of a stranger whom they have not seen than they are about the suffering of a neighbor whom they know?

Are warm hearted, helpfully inclined people more distressed by suffering a thousand miles, fifty miles, away than they are by suffering around the corner? I could not seem to get an answer to this query until I turned it on myself. Is it true of me? Am I more distressed, am I more strongly appealed to, by remote suffering?

Well, it's unselfish and good for us to think of others. Yes, but that poor devil right around the corner! Oh, he might not like it! He may be proud, and, besides, he does not seem so badly off. At any rate, he got himself where he is, and he will be stronger and have more self respect to dig his own way out.

True enough! And that other poor devil fifty miles away?

Oh, that's different—terribly pathetic case!

What makes it so different?—Erman J. Ridgway in Delineator.
