A MAGNIFICENT SERMON.

Dr. J. C. Caldwell Speaks to Graduating Class of Greenville Graded School.

A immense congregation gathered in Jarvis Memorial Methodist church Sunday night, filling both the main auditorium and Sunday school annex, to hear the sermon by Dr. J. C. Caldwell, president of Atlantic Christian college, Wilson, to the graduating class of Greenville graded school.

The preliminary service was conducted by Rev. B. F. Huske. Dr. Caldwell's subject was "The Relation of Religion and Education." He said when God wanted a great work performed He did not select an ignorant man for that work. Beginning with Moses who received forty years of intellectual training in the court of Pharaoh, and forty years of spiritual training in the land of Midian before God sent him to lead the children of Israel out of Egypt, he cited numerous instances from the Scripture and history where men who had accomplished great achievements had been specially prepared and fitted for their work.

He said he wished to impress upon the mind of every hearer the importance of the passage of Scripture "He that loseth his life shall find it, and he that saveth his life shall lose it." In emphasizing this he used a number of illustrations showing that the life must first be lost in the pursuit of an undertaking before it can be found in full accomplishment.

Dr. Caldwell's sermon was truly a magnificent one, expressed in beautiful language and forceful illustrations, and he held the closest attention of the large congregation.

IN MEMORY OF STEPHEN C. WOOTEN

Whereas on the 26th day of April, 1910, the Supreme Ruler of the universe summoned our brother, Stephen C. Wooten, to pay the debt which by nature we all sooner or later have to pay, therefore be it resolved by the Baraca class of the Methodist Sunday school:

1. That in his death the Baraca class has lost a useful and faithful member.

2. That the community has lost a good and useful citizen, one who was liberal minded and always kind and sympathetic in his dealings with his fellow citizens.

3. That we extend to his parents and relatives our deepest sympathy.

4. That these resolutions be spread on the minutes of the Baraca class, a copy be sent to his parents and a copy sent to The Reflector for publication.

Fine Address.

Prof. J. H. Highsmith, of Wake Forest college, delighted a large congregation in Memorial Baptist church here Sunday morning in his address on the "The Higher Life." The speaker said that every person created by God had a mission in life, and that mission should be sought out and properly filled. If men would seek their true mission there would be fewer failures in life resulting from trying to follow the wrong calling, endeavoring to do that for which one is not fitted.

Prof. Highsmith also sang a solo that was much enjoyed.

Sunday night he conducted service at East Carolina Teachers' Training school.

FOR WILCOX'S PARDON.

Mother of the Slayer of Nellie Cropsey Pleading for Her Son's Release.

Elizabeth City, May 13.—The petition which was started some weeks ago asking the governor to pardon James Wilcox is still being circulated and it is understood is being freely signed by the ladies of the city. Jim's mother is soliciting names to the petition and pleads for her son as only a mother can. There is the greatest sympathy for this loyal mother and there are not many mothers or other ladies who can refuse her request and it is expected that when the canvass has been completed that the petition will carry a formidable array of names signed thereto.

Wilcox was convicted in Superior court here in 1902 of murdering Nellie Cropsey, to whom he had been paying ardent attention for several years, and sentenced to be hanged. Appeal was made to the Supreme court, which granted a new trial on technicalities as brought out by Wilcox's able counsel. The second trial was removed to Perquimans county, adjoining Pasquotank county, where a great legal battle was fought, when Wilcox was convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to the penitentiary for 30 years. He finally was placed in the State penitentiary in 1903. The trial of this case was one of the most sensational ever known in the South and attracted much attention throughout the country.

Wilcox is said to have made a model prisoner for the past few years and is now given every consideration in the power of the penitentiary authorities. He and Dewey, the defaulting bank cashier of New Bern, have charge of the electric light plant at the penitentiary and are said to have become experts in this line of work.

The outcome from the petition will be watched with a great deal of interest by all citizens of Elizabeth City and a great many throughout the State and elsewhere who followed the testimony of the sensational trial.

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas it has pleased Almighty God to take from our midst our beloved brother, D. D. Gardner, we bow with humble submission to His holy will, and pray that while we have lost a member in the Baraca class of Jarvis Memorial Sunday school, we may be led by this dispensation of God's allwise providence to nobler and higher works of humanity and love.

Be it resolved, 1st. That while Brother Gardner was unable to attend the Baraca class regularly for some time, we who survive him may profit by his life, and shed a tear over his memory.

Resolved 2nd. That we sympathize with his bereft family who are now mourning his decease.

Resolved 3rd. That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Baraca class of Jarvis Memorial M. E. church South and also a copy be sent the bereaved family and that a copy be sent to The Reflector for publication.

SHOOTING SATURDAY NIGHT.

One Negro Badly Wounded Another With Pistol Ball.

Saturday night there was a shooting scrape down on Pitt and Front streets, near the river bridge, in which Leon Patrick, colored, was shot and badly wounded by John James, colored. There had been previous trouble between the two men, and Saturday night Patrick armed himself and went to the home of James. Patrick used threats and ugly language in front of James' house, when the latter fired at him once through a window. This shot did not strike Patrick, but James went to his door and fired a second shot which struck Patrick in the lower bowels, inflicting a serious wound.

After the shooting James went in hiding and had not been found up to this morning.

The Neglected School House.

The beautiful should exist in the school life of the child. The school building and grounds should portray the artistic and beautiful. Those things which adorn the tasty home should embellish the school property—the lawns, terraces, walks, trees and flowers. Within should be neatness and refinement. A neglected school house is a terrible demoralizer. Place a child at a mutilated desk, put in his hands torn and soiled books and we find almost irresistible temptation to continue the destruction with knife and pencil. Place the same child in a neat, clean room with suitable and beautiful furniture and we immediately remove the temptation for destruction.—Waxhaw Enterprise.

Graduating Exercises Tonight.

The graduating exercises of the class of 1910 of the Greenville graded schools will take place in the auditorium of the Training school tonight at 8:30 o'clock. Prof. E. C. Brooks, the commencement orator, will arrive on the Norfolk Southern train. Everything is in readiness, and the outlook is for an interesting exercises and a well-filled auditorium. Prof. Brooks is a native Pitt county boy, being the son of Mr. Jno. Z. Brooks, of Grifton. He has won high distinction among the educators of North Carolina. He is a good speaker and his address will be well worth hearing.

The exercises will begin promptly at 8.30 o'clock.

To White Teachers of Pitt County.

The Board of Education of this county has adopted the summer course for teachers at the East Carolina Teachers' Training school, beginning on May 24th, as the teachers institute for this county. Under the law you are compelled to take this course of study or you will not be eligible to teach in this or any other county in North Carolina during the next year. I would advise that you be present at the beginning of the term.

BANK OF GREENVILLE.

Annual Meeting of Stockholders—Directors and Officers Re-elected.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of Greenville was held today with a large attendance. The reports of the officers were read showing the work of the bank since its capital stock was increased to $50,000, ten-and-a-half months ago, and there were many expressions of gratification at the fine results shown. A cash dividend of 6 per cent was paid to the stockholders out of the earnings, and a balance of nearly $3,000 passed to the undivided profits.

The following directors were re-elected: R. L. Davis, J. A. Andrews, W. E. Proctor, R. W. King, J. R. Moye, J. G. Moye, R. R. Fleming, S. T. Hooker, R. A. Fountain, B. W. Moseley, W. B. Wilson and James L. Little. Immediately after the stockholders adjourned, the directors held a meeting and re-elected the following officers:

R. L. Davis, president;
J. A. Andrews, vice president.
James L. Little, cashier.
H. D. Bateman, assistant cashier.
B. L. Wilson, assistant bookkeeper.

Gifts for Graduation.

Fashionable novelties, pretty things to wear and to carry, such as jewelry, neckwear, handkerchiefs and the variety of other dress accessories, are the graduation gifts that a girl is sure to be pleased to receive. Very often such things are of the nature of luxuries to the recipient. Her graduation may be the first occasion of a girl's receiving opera glasses, for instance, or a pearl necklace. Such gifts would then be very welcome.

Other accessories, however, such as fine stockings, fine handkerchiefs, hatpins, parasols and attractive little silk bags, though they will be additions to things she already possesses, no girl ever has too many of, and novel features in them will add to their attractiveness. A fan that is one of the season's novelties has alternate rows of pink and white gauze. Anything of this sort makes a charming gift. Fashions in parasols, similarly, appeal to the feminine heart strongly. There are novel parasol shapes this year, as well as novel material to make them of.

The vanity chain is a new device for carrying about in a very unsuspecting-looking way the little vanity furnishings that are so useful. The receptacle that looks like a lorgnette holds a tiny mirror and powder-puff.—The Designer for June.

MONDAY, MAY 16, 1910.

A political ring exists more in imagination than reality.

While the cost of living is high, it is no cheaper to die.

It does not take the comet to supply either gas or hot air, as a plenty of these can be run up with any day.

When you count up the time wasted and money spent in trying to get an office, there is not much pay in running after one.

With all his faults, T. Roosevelt is just about the biggest man in the whole country. The president himself could not command more attention on a trip abroad.

The general conference at Asheville sat down on the suggestion to exclude users of tobacco from the ministry. Most preachers, and some other folks, too, have to deny themselves so many things that they should be allowed to use a little tobacco if they want to.

The second Wake county mass meeting was pulled off in Raleigh Saturday without opposition from the opponents. There was a large attendance and a full county ticket was selected to recommend to the county primary for nomination. Now if the primary rejects the recommendation of the mass meeting we wonder what the outcome will be.

The Pay Plan.

The Southern Baptist Convention is always attended by a great throng. In fact it is too well attended. The business of the body is never satisfactory because of the vast multitude that always crowds the hall. Every delegate pays his way. There are no free rations. All the committee have to do is to point out good hotels to enquirers. There are no selfish demands for better accommodations on the part of people who were never used to anything at home. No orders come in for rooms with bath, or for homes on car line or for a number of other things that a guest has no right in the world to demand. We wish this pay plan would become general. Our Baptist State Convention would do well to adopt it. Our churches ought to pay the expenses of their pastors to the convention, and a layman who cannot pay three or four dollars for his board during the session of the convention would better stay at home. It is too much to ask of any community to provide for 500 or 1,000 people for three days when a few dollars from the delegates would cover the whole thing. It is becoming harder and harder to get a place to hold the convention, and after awhile we are liable to find ourselves without an invitation at all; and then we will begin with shame to do what we should have done without compulsion. We hope somebody at Hendersonville will introduce a resolution to adopt the pay plan. We would like to vote for it. If it fails to carry we are no worse off than before but better, for it will be as seed sown that will finally bear fruit. Let us cease thrusting ourselves on unwilling communities that are too polite to complain.—Thomasville Charity and Children.

One reason why our salaries are too small for our needs is because of the increased number of sellers of things that tempt us to part with our money. The overproduction of good things to eat and costly things to wear has outgrown our ability to supply our wants. Eating and wearing, keeping up with the procession and getting in the swim is a burden on us ladies and gentlemen whose ideas and desires have expanded out of all proportion to our opportunities for meeting expenses.—Wilmington Star

Talk about the profit in farming, how does a crop of alfalfa worth $18 000 strike you? A farmer in Prince George county, Va., has been working the crop for all it is worth and this year, it is said, will almost double his output of last year. And he does not own a great big farm either; it is of the average size; he simply knows how. What is more astonishing, it is said that alfalfa will not do well unless on upland while in this case the land is not far above sea level.—Greensboro Record.

FAIR EXCHANGE

A New Back for an Old One.
How it can be in Greenville
The back aches at times with a dull, indelible feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the joints are so lame to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the bad back for a new and stronger one. Greenville residents would do well to profit by the following example: Joseph Savage, Church street, Lenoir, N. C., says: "For some time my kidneys were disordered, the passages of the kidney secretions being scanty and at times painful. I had pains in my loins and if I stooped suddenly, sharp twinges caught me across the back, making it hard for me to straighten. After trying a number of remedies without finding relief, I procured Doan's Kidney Pills and began their use. They removed the aches and pains and regulated the passages of the kidney secretions. I am pleased to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills in return for the benefit I have derived from their use."
For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

HE WON THE CROWN.

The Ancient Story of the "Bloody Hand of Ulster."

The emblem of the Ulster steamship line is a huge red hand, from the wrist of which is flowing drops of blood. An official of one of the vessels of the line gave this explanation of the queer device:

"It was in the early days of Ireland, when James I. was king and when Ireland was divided into four provinces, that the king of Ulster died. He had two sons, who were devoted to each other and who at the time of their father's death were on the Isle of Aaron, Scotland. In those days the eldest son did not always succeed the father on the throne.

"They were brave lads, these two sons of the old king, and upon learning of the death of their father each planned to race across the channel and be the first to place his hand upon the soil of Antrim and thus become king of all the north.

"With eight men each they started off from Mullantry. On nearing the shores of the Isles the youngest prince, whose name was Nell, seeing that his brother was in a fair way to become king, drew his sword, placed his left hand on the side of the boat and cut it off at the wrist.

"Quickly seizing the dripping hand, he threw it on shore and thus won the crown. Since that time, it is told, the bloody hand of Ulster has led to victory on many a hard fought field as emblem on the shields of the young king and his followers. Ulster's name, whether in trade or war or sport or on a steamship line, is known by this sign."—Philadelphia North American.

PROVED HIS WORDS.

Still, the Philosopher Didn't Like It When Death Called.

A certain philosopher was in the habit of saying whenever he heard that an old friend had passed away: "Ah, well, death comes to us all! It is no new thing. It is what we must expect. Pass me the butter, my dear. Yes, death comes to all, and my friend's time had come."

Now, Death overheard these philosophical remarks at different times, and one day he showed himself to the philosopher.

"I am Death," said he simply. "Go away!" said the man in a panic. "I am not ready for you."

"Yes, but it is one of your favorite truisms that Death comes to all, and I am but proving your words."

"Go away! You are dreadful!" "No more dreadful than I always am. But why have you changed so? You have never feared the death that has come to your friends. I never heard you sigh when I carried off your old companions. You have always said, 'It is the way of all flesh.' Shall I make an exception in favor of your flesh?"

"Yes, for I am not ready." "But I am. Your time has come. Do not repine. Your friends will go on buttering their toast. They will take it as philosophically as you have taken every other death."

And the philosopher and Death departed on a long journey together.—Charles Battell Loomis.

About Sneezing.

Hospital nurses when assisting at a delicate operation have their own way of suppressing a cough or a sneeze. The operator's attention must not be distracted for a moment. Coughs and sneezes, too, spread germs on surfaces carefully rendered antiseptic. So every nurse soon learns to press her finger hard on the upper lip immediately below the nose when she feels a cough or a sneeze coming on. A pressure in the neighborhood of the ear, too, or a hard pressure on the roof of the mouth will nip a cough in the bud. And the will has great power to control a cough or a sneeze.

There was a French surgeon who used to say whenever he entered the wards of the hospital, "The first patient who coughs gets no food today." This method was usually successful.—Chicago News.

What Came Up.

A young man wishing to have a bit of fun at a farmer's expense passed a few remarks about his cattle and his garden and then said he had set some lettuce and cabbage which had not grown up.

Then the farmer said: "Oh, that's nothing! I set some carrot seeds, and what do you think came up?"

"Don't know," replied the young man.

Farmer—Why, old Brown's donkey, and ate the lot.—Newark Star.

The Turnip.

The turnip is supposed to be a native of Asia and Europe. It has been cultivated for centuries. The wild East Indian turnip is said to be remotely kin to the edible turnip. It is the size of a walnut and first tasted is sweetish, but in a moment the taster's tongue feels as though it were pricked by a hundred hot needles, and he feels like expectorating for hours after. It is the country boy's favorite medium for a joke on the visiting town boy.

Work and Worry.

"Do you think worry kills more people than work?"

"I'm sure of it," replied the sarcastic scientist.

"Why?"

"Because so many people find it easier than work and devote their time to it."—Washington Star.

AUCTION SALE

OF

Valuable Business Lots GREENVILLE, N. CAR.

Mr. B. E. Parham has placed in my hands for sale his splendid

Warehouse Property

All of this property except the warehouse site will be divided into lots and sold at public auction on the premises on

TUESDAY, MAY 26, 1910

Beginning at 11 O'clock, A. M.

This property is situated between the Atlantic Coast Line and Norfolk Southern depots, and is in the business centre of that part of Greenville known as Tobacco Town. It consists of 6 lots fronting on Dickinson avenue which has concrete sidewalks and paved street; 3 lots on Ninth street which is a sand clay street and the main thoroughfare of Tobacco Town; 6 lots fronting on Tenth street which is the broadest street in Greenville and leads direct to the Atlantic Coast Line depot. A railroad siding can be extended across Tenth street into this property which makes it very valuable for heavy traffic.

To give an idea of the demand for places of business in this locality, Higgs Brothers have recently built a brick block containing five handsome stores just in front of this property and they were occupied as soon as finished, and there is now a demand for more.

This is a rare opportunity to buy a business site, for this property is absolutely a safe and paying investment.

Remember the date of sale, Tuesday, May 24, 1910.

Malay Weapons. The national Malay weapon, the creese, is said to have been invented by a Javanese monarch of the fourteenth century. Its varieties are said to exceed a hundred, and there are in Javanese no fewer than fifty names for them. It varies in size from the two foot wavy blade of Sulu down to a mere toothpick. But the peculiarity is that the weapon is never ground, but kept rough and sawlike in edge by scouring with lime juice or the juice of an unripe pineapple, sometimes mixed with arsenic, and it is on this account that creese wounds are so dangerous. Old specimens are so eaten away by this practice that the blade seems formed from a bunch of wires roughly welded up. Such creeses are highly valued, and some of the ancient ones, heirlooms of chiefs, with grotesquely carved and inlaid hilts and sheaths, are almost unobtainable.

The Little Things That Tell. A south side mother was dressing for a tea the other afternoon when the front door bell rang. She instructed the maid that if the visitor appeared to be about to make a formal call to say she was not at home. But the mother had not counted on the five-year-old daughter playing in the front yard. The maid, seeing a woman dressed as if for calling, obeyed instructions. "She is not at home," the maid said. "Why, she is, too, Minnie," came a sharp interruption from the child on the lawn. "I saw her lower the curtain just now." "Perhaps she just came in," the maid responded weakly. "I'll see." The situation was saved by the fact that the visitor was the mother's sister, whom the maid did not know.—Kansas City Star.
