RURAL CARRIERS MEET SOON.

Promises to Be Interesting and Well Attended Session—Features.

Rocky Point, N. C., June 28
The Rural Letter Carriers' seventh annual convention to be held at Raleigh, July 4th and 5th, promises to be the most interesting yet. There are a number of attractive features, chief among them being the presence of Fourth Assistant Postmaster General DeGraw, who will visit the North Carolina session at Raleigh, on the 4th and the South Carolina convention at Newberry, on the 5th. Gen. DeGraw is at the head of the rural free delivery system and is loved and respected by all rural carriers. I know each one in our grand old State would like to shake his hand. Postmaster Willis G. Briggs, who signs all of our checks, will make us a talk. We'd all like to grasp his hand. Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt has just written me that he will be there on the fourth and make us an illustrated lecture. You know there is no class of citizens in North Carolina more interested in good roads than the rural carriers. Dr. Pratt is doing a great work for his State just now, possibly more than any other State official. Hon. John H. Small is expected on the 5th to tell us of his rural parcels post bill that was recently introduced in congress. Clarence H. Poe, who by pen and speech is doing so much to elevate our own beloved State in a mental, moral, physical and financial way will make us a short talk on the 5th.

And the Raleigh boys are going to give us a smoker to which quite a number of the editorial profession have been invited. And an old time "spelling bee" with Webster's elementary "blueback" as text book will be a feature of the occasion. Col. Joseph Robinson, of the Goldsboro Argus, and Mr. Clarence H. Poe, will umpire the game and award prizes to him that "sets down first," and him that "stands out" the longest. The railroads will give reduced rates for the occasion from the second to the sixth of July.

The Capitol Inn will give $1.00 per day rates, which is about as cheap as you can stop at home; so brother carriers don't fail to go to "Rolly." Remember as a body. "Yo heave, oh, oh," we have a pull and a long pull, a strong pull and a pull altogether means much. And after hearing Dr. Pratt talk on good roads you will go home and entuse your people on the subject, talk good roads, act good roads and spend a few dollars showing an example and thus get a little leaven and leaven the whole State.

Cor. Secretary N. C. R. L. C.

FOR SUPERIOR COURT CLERK.

J. D. Cox Endorsed for That Position.

We as Democratic voters of Pitt county, wish to express our appreciation of our efficient clerk of Superior Court, D. C. Moore. It has been our pleasure to give him our loyal support in nominating conventions and general elections in the past, but we think it best to change at least every 12 years, provided a new man equally well qualified can be secured.

We suggest J. D. Cox as that man.

His excellent training in academy and State University; his long experience as Justice of Peace the and County Surveyor, making him so familiar with the duties of the office and the excellent character of the man especially fit him for the duties of this office.

He has always been loyal to the best interest of the Democratic party and the people of the county, having served in positions at a financial loss, so we feel that we ought to nominate him for clerk of Superior Court and no man in the county will poll a bigger vote and no county in the State have a better clerk. Let us nominate J. D. Cox.

Eating Places and Flies.

The Memphis Commercial-Apparel remarks with approval upon a new sanitary law of Mississippi to the effect that every hotel dining room and kitchen must be screened. "If any one doubts the wisdom of this legislation," continues our contemporary, "let him pause for a minute to consider the breeding places of flies and where they generally congregate the thickest. It is not in the clean places, but usually in the centers of filth. The feet of the fly are fitted with cups, which fasten and cling to whatever the insect touches, and when he flies away it is to carry the fetid matter which it has touched and in which its eggs are deposited and to carry poison elsewhere." This is sound and valid argument, beyond question. Even if the fly were not a notorious carrier of disease, especially typhoid fever, the thought of him crawling upon one's food must seem almost unendurable to any victim acquainted with his habits. There is need that he be deprived of his breeding places by intelligent sanitation, as well as that he be kept out as far as possible after he is bred. The Mississippi statute embodies a step in the right direction and affords a worthy example—an example easily followed if the traveling men concern themselves—to other States—Charlotte Observer.

CHRISTIAN-HARRISS.

Quiet Home Marriage This Morning at 8:00 O'clock.

A quiet but pretty home marriage took place at 8 o'clock this morning at the home of Mrs. Mellie Harriss, on Dickison avenue, when her daughter, Miss Lena, became the bride of Mr. E. P. Christian, of Portsmouth, Va., the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. H. Shore, pastor of the Methodist church.

The bride was attired in a handsome traveling suit of tan cloth with hat to match.

Mr. Christian is a prominent merchant of Portsmouth, and his bride is one of Greenville's very popular young ladies. They received many beautiful bridal presents.

The couple left on the 8:30 A. C. L. train for Portsmouth. Greenville parts with the bride with reluctance, but the good wishes of every one go with her.

RECORD ON OIL INSPECTION BILL.

Oxford, N. C., June 27, 1910.

MR. EDITOR:—Replying further to the criticisms of Judge Graham by friends of Mr. Lee, who seem to base their candidate's claim entirely upon geographical lines, I think I have satisfied all reasonable men that the West would be well represented on the Corporation Commission in the person of Mr. H. C. Brown, of Surry county.

Now as to capacity as a public servant, and especially as a legislator, we would be glad for Mr. Lee's friends to explain his position on several public questions. First, I see from the files of the News and Observer, March 5th and 6th, 1909, that the bill to establish inspection of oil in this state, and prevent imposition of adulterated oils, upon our people, was introduced by Hon. R. L. Doughton, of Alleghany, and strenuously opposed by Mr. W. T. Lee, of Haywood, both before the committee and on the floor of the house. He said, among other things, it would be of no practical benefit, but would breed a horde of office holders, appointed by one man, who would unduly pry into the business of the merchants, would cripple or drive out all the independent companies and raise the price of oil to the consumer.

The attorneys for the independent companies, Representative Lee, and Mr. J. H. Pou, attorney for the Standard Oil Company, all opposed the bill, but Judge Graham and fifty-nine other Democrats voted for the bill, while Mr. Lee and fourteen other Democrats and sixteen Republicans voted against it.

What has been the result? Only ten inspectors have been appointed, one from each congressional district, by the member of the board of agriculture from that district, the quality of oil has vastly improved; the price of oil has decreased 1 1/2 cents per gallon; the number of independent oil companies in the state has increased from four to fifteen; and the state has received, in eleven months, since the law went into operation, $22,500 over and above all expenses of executing the law, as will be shown by the books in the office of Hon. B. R. Lacy, State treasurer. Judge Graham voted aye. Mr. Lee voted no.

This will give the people some idea of the point of view from which the two candidates view the responsibility of the corporations to the people and the right of the State to exercise supervision over them. More anon.

The Raleigh papers that helped to make the split are now saying let us unite. Such is politics.

Uncle Joe Cannon goes home saying he has no ill will toward anybody. Time to cool off must have done him good.

The recorder and chief of police of Charlotte had a scrap over the primary, and the latter is looking for another job.

Some are asking what the chamber of commerce has on tap for the meeting next Monday night. The way to find out for sure is to be on hand.

The travelers, the editors, the doctors, the bankers and now the lawyers at Wrightsville. But none of them got ahead of the editors on a good time.

"Charlotte is going to give the State convention a farewell shake this time," says the Raleigh Times. Must think the conventions are coming back to Raleigh.

The West has not yet become sufficiently civilized for train robberies to cease. Three bandits recently held up a train in Utah and robbed every one of the more than a hundred passengers.

Major Whichard, of the Greenville Reflector, informs the Salisbury Post and the Concord Tribune that they can't make any breach between him and ourselves. That sounds like the Major is getting "skeered" but anyhow, bless the Major's natty soul, no one could make such a breach even with an extra large sized charge of dynamite. —Wilmington Dispatch.

That's what we allowed, though not "skeered" a bit. Knew Cowan too well.

The Greenville Reflector announces that henceforth it is to be published by The Reflector Company, incorporated, of which Editor D. J. Whichard is president, and adds: "No special change is to be made in the appearance of The Reflector until about the first of July, and after that time the paper will speak for itself." Here's hoping The Reflector will continue to expand in influence during the next 25 years as it has done during the similar period which it has recently completed under Editor Whichard's guidance. —Charlotte Observer.

The Greenville Reflector has been incorporated under the name of the Greenville Reflector Company, and the paper will be enlarged and improved. The Reflector is now and always has been a good paper, but Greenville is a live, growing town and The Reflector in making improvements is but keeping pace with the town it has helped to build. There will be no change in editorship or management, and that is most gratifying, for Mr. Whichard is the right man in the right place. —Raleigh Times.

If Mayor Gaynor within a few months of his inauguration is saving New York City at the rate of $1,700,000 annually wouldn't he be a mighty good man for the job of saving Uncle Sam the $300,000,000 or more which annually goes to waste, as Senator Aldrich himself says, in administering the government? —Charlotte Observer.

DO IT NOW

People should not wait until it is too late.

The appalling death-rate from kidney disease is due in most cases to the fact that the little kidney troubles are usually neglected until they become serious. The slight symptoms give place to chronic disorders and the sufferer goes gradually into the grasp of diabetes, dropsy, Bright's disease, gravel or some other serious form of kidney complaint.

If you suffer from backache, headaches, dizzy spells; if the kidneys secrete irregularly or the kidneys are unnatural in appearance, do not delay. Help the kidneys at once.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney disorders—they cure where others fail. Over one hundred thousand people have recommended them. Here is one of many cases in this vicinity.

Romulus S. Butler, 219 Harvey st., Washington, N. C., says: "I am well pleased with the results that followed the use of Doan's Kidney Pills in my case and highly recommend them to other kidney sufferers. I was subject to dull pains in my back, accompanied by sharp twinges through my loins. Doan's Kidney Pills removed my trouble and benefited me in every way."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo New York, sole agents for the United States.

NASAL CATARRH

Henry L. Britton Says it is Easy to Get Rid of.

"My head, nose and glands leading to my eyes and nose were stopped up and swollen, I tried several so-called catarrh cures, but Hyomel, used thoroughly did the curing. There is nothing too good to say in favor of Hyomel. It cured my nasal catarrh." —Henry L. Britton, Frost St., Eaton Rapids, Mich.

Hyomel (pronounced High-o-me) cures catarrh, because it gets where the germs are, and destroys them. It is made of Australian eucalyptus, mixed with other healing antiseptics. When breathed over the irritated and inflamed membrane, it gives relief in two minutes.

Used regularly for a few weeks it will build up and heal the germ-infested membrane and drive out catarrh.

If you own a small Hyomel pocket inhaler, you can get a bottle of Hyomel at Coward & Wooten's for only 50 cents. If you do not own a Hyomel inhaler, ask for a complete outfit, the price is $1.00. It is guaranteed to cure catarrh, coughs, colds, croup or sore throat or money back.

CURE FOR LOSS OF MEMORY.

Case of an American Woman Married Abroad and an Accent.

"Nothing disgusts me more," said a woman who goes abroad every summer, "than to meet in Europe Americans who seem to be ashamed of their own language. I have often come across them, but a woman I met in Carlsbad last year took the palm. "She was introduced to me as the Countess Komoffsky or some name that sounded like that. She married a Russian or a Pole about three years before, and so far as I can gather she had hardly been any nearer Europe than a New York table d'hote before that time. She looked American, but her English was all broken into bits. She did not even say 'the,' but pronounced 'it ze.' She had great difficulty in recollecting phrases, and the result at times was a lot of French. "Next morning I was breakfasting in the Kaiserpark with a party of shawl wrapped Americans who had drunk the requisite number of glasses from the Sprudel or the Marktbrunnen and had walked out according to prescription. One of those at the table was a New York physician who is none the less popular because he is frank in speech almost to brutality and will not stand for affectation. The countess came along and was invited to join the party. The doctor, it turned out, had known her since she was a child. "Somebody asked her a question, and she started to reply with that accent of hers. I saw the doctor flinch. Then she made another remark in half French. The doctor said something that sounded like a swear. Then he blurted out: "For heaven's sake, Maria Smith, you don't mean to say that three years in Europe have made you forget your native tongue? "There was a hush, and then some of the women in the party smiled, but when the countess next spoke it was in purest United States.—New York Sun.

Hard to Check.

It was the young hubby's first tour through the big department store. "What room is that?" he asked innocently when they reached the second floor. "Why, that is where they check babies," elucidated his wife. And then young hubby looked at the struggling infant in his arms and the buttons and pins it had dislocated and said simply: "I wish they'd try to check this one."—Chicago News.

ROSE TO THE OCCASION.

It Was the Chance of a Lifetime, and She Made the Most of It. The burglar hesitated. Back of him was a sheer drop of twenty-five feet to the ground. In front of him was a determined woman, grasping in her hand a huge revolver. She covered him steadily. "I won't shoot," she said, "if you will remain still." She advanced upon him and, poking the muzzle of the gun in his face, reached into his pocket and pulled out his revolver. "Come in." The burglar obediently stepped inside the room. All his courage was gone. "Sit down," said the woman. He sat down. She got a huge ball of heavy cord from her bureau and spent the next twenty minutes in tying him up. Then she pointed out of the window. "Is that your wagon out there behind the barn?" "Yes, ma'am." "Thought you would carry away my silver in it?" "Yes, ma'am." The woman called her husband, who had been hiding behind the baby's crib in the next room. "Here, John," she said, "take some of this furniture out." John came in and got to work. The burglar watched with curious eyes. Suddenly his face blanched. He looked out of the window and saw in the light of the moon what John was carrying. "What are you doing to me?" he asked. The woman began cutting his cords. "I'm going to load you up with all of the old eyeglasses that we have had in the house for these many years," she said merrily—"all the furniture presented to us at Christmas by kind hearted relatives, all the prizes we have taken at card parties, all the family portraits—everything that we have been simply dying to get rid of."—L.L.C.

Good Scheme.

"It's a shame," commented the friend of the restaurant proprietor. "What's a shame?" asked the restaurant proprietor. "Why, that you have to give that pretty waitress all the tough steaks for the patrons at her tables." "Oh, I pay her extra for that. You see, she is so pretty not one man would kick if the steaks were so tough they pulled his teeth out."—Chicago News.

THE FUEGIANS.

They Are Stunted and Misshapen as Well as Hideously Ugly.

At the two extremes of the American continent dwell the most wretched races of beings—the Eskimos at the north and the Fuegians at the south. Of the two the Fuegians appear to be the lowest in the civilized scale, their general aspect being wretched and degraded.

Their hideously ugly faces express the grossest stupidity, and their persons are both stunted and misshapen. The average height of the men does not exceed five feet two inches, that of the women four feet eight inches, and owing to their habit of standing in a stooping attitude they look even less than their actual height.

But, although they are veritable pygmies in stature, yet their bodies are exceedingly large, and their general appearance is such as might result from tacking on to the trunk of a giant the arms and legs of a child.

Their color appears to be a copper bronze, but as nearly all are begrimed with smoke it is difficult to specify their precise hue. The very young children are light brown in color with the exception of the palms of the hands and the soles of the feet, which are of a dirty yellow.

The heads of the adults are covered with coarse black hair which falls in lank masses to the neck behind and on each side of the face, but is cut away from before the eyes.

The forehead is low and retreating, the nose broad, flat and furnished with immense nostrils, and the mouth is very wide, with thick, protruding lips, the upper one being very much elongated.

The eyes are small and placed somewhat obliquely, the iris is invariably black in color, and the white of the eye has a distinctly yellowish tinge. Moreover, owing apparently to the irritation produced by the smoke of the fires over which they are so constantly crouching, they are very generally bleary eyed.

The teeth, although very much discolored, are, as a rule, regular and sound. The men have naturally only a few black bristles scattered over the upper lip and chin. These, however, are carefully extracted from time to time by means of two mussel shells, and very frequently the hair of the eyebrows is removed by a similar process. The males appear to pay no attention whatever to the dressing of their hair, but the women are somewhat more particular and may frequently be seen employing in its arrangement the toothed jaw of a porpoise in lieu of a comb.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

THE ALBATROSS.

The Largest Sea Bird Having the Power of Flight.

The albatross, that wanderer of the seas so often referred to in prose and poem, is nevertheless a stranger to the average person and by some is even considered a myth. In Coleridge's "The Rime of the Ancient Mariner" the albatross plays a leading part, and one sorrows for the poor bird, which, after following the ship for weeks, is pitilessly shot down by a mariner.

The albatross is the largest sea bird having the power of flight and is closely allied to the gull, petrel and Mother Carey's chicken. It has a tremendous stretch of wing, averaging from ten to twelve feet. The wings are, however, extremely narrow, being about nine inches in breadth. The body is about four feet in length, and the weight is from fifteen to eighteen pounds, a comparatively light weight when one considers the extreme length of wing. The albatross is possessed of a peculiarly long, oddly shaped bill, which gives it a strange appearance. The nostrils open from round, horizontal tubes on each side of the bill, but at its base.

This great bird is generally met with in southern seas, although it is occasionally seen on our Pacific coast. On the Atlantic side it is rarely found as far north as Tampa bay.

Its food consists of cuttlefish, jellyfish and scraps thrown from passing ships. It is a greedy bird and at times gorges itself to such an extent that it is unable to rise from the water.

Its power of flight is, however, the most remarkable thing about the albatross. It spends its life, with the exception of a few weeks given each year to nesting, entirely at sea and is on the wing practically all the time. Furthermore, it does not progress by flapping its wings, as most birds do, but seems to soar at will, rarely if ever giving a stroke of the wing, seeming to need no impetus.—St. Nicholas.

Odd Hair Styles.

Some of the New Hebrides people do their hair up in a bunch on the top of the head and stain it yellow, while the inhabitants of the Ombai islands pass it all through a tube so as to make a kind of plume. The Marquesas chief's favorite method is to shave all the head except two patches, one over each temple, where he cultivates two horns of hair. No doubt this is to render him more a thing of terror to his enemies than admiration to his friends. His reason for shaving the rest of the head is to allow more space for tattooing, as if all the available skin of the body were not enough.

For Constable.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Constable of Greenville township, subject to the action of the Democratic primary of the township.
Albert M. Allen.
