AYDEN ITEMS.

Newsy Notes From a Hasting Town
Briefly Told

Ayden, N. C. July 1
Miss Dora Hornaday, of Roxboro, is visiting Miss Ida Edwards. She has many friends here, having taught in our graded school a few years ago.

Oscar Rollins, of Winterville, has accepted a position with J.
R. Smith Co. Oscar is red headed and The Reflector knows success is written on his brow.
[Sure Mike.—Ed.]

Postmaster rescott made a business trip to Greenville yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hart are visiting relatives in Kinston this week.

Several of our townsmen went on the Baraca excursion to Raleigh yesterday.

J. Raymond Turnage has been on the sick list of late, but we are glad to see him out again, a little disfigured, but still in the ring.

Frank Moore, who has been spending a few months here left Friday for Washington, where he will cure tobacco.

J. R. Smith Co. unloaded a car of stoves, heaters, ranges and repairs yesterday.

At the last communication of Ayden lodge A. F. & A. M. Capt.
T. F. Johnson was re-elected master.

W. C. Bubmann will soon move his family from the Cox house to the McGlohon house recently vacated by Dr. C. R. Riddick.
This moving was made necessary from the fact that E. G. Cox contemplates returning to Ayden with his family. "There's no place like home."

Dr. Leighton and wife, of Albemarle, Stanley county, who have been here on a visit, returned home Wednesday. Miss Lucy Turnage accompanied them.

Rev. E. T. Phillips returned yesterday from Winterville, where he had been to conduct the funeral of Mr. John Harper.

The semi annual installation of officers I. O. O. F. will take place next Monday night. Visiting brethren cordially invited.

We hear that two daughters of Henry D. Manning, near Elm Grove church, have pelagra.
Mr. Manning is a man of limited means and humble circumstances which makes the case more serious.

Lime! Lime! Cement! and hair!

J. R. Smith Co.
Miss Minnie Ayers, of South
Ayden, who has been dangerously ill for the last week, is convalescing slowly.

Colonel Skinner Honored.

The North Carolina Bar Association, which held its annual session at the Seashore hotel, Wrightsville Beach, this week,
honored our townsman, Col.
Harry Skinner, by naming him as a member of the executive-committee of the association and appointing him a delegate from
the North Carolina Bar Association to the American Bar Association, which convenes in Chattanooga in August. The other delegates from this State are:
Hon. W. D. Pruden, of Edenton and Hon. Geo. Rountree, of Wilmington.

Pythians in New Quarters.

At their meeting Thursday night the Knights of Pythias made arrangements with the Royal Arch Masons to occupy with them the new lodge room in the Winslow building, and the Pythians will meet hereafter in the new quarters.

MISS NANCY COWARD ENTERTAINS

In Honor of the Visiting Young Ladies.

On Thursday afternoon from four to seven Miss Nancy Coward entertained a number of her friends at the home of Mr.
and Mrs. H. L. Coward, in honor of the visiting young ladies. The home was made more beautiful with decorations of potted plants and flowers. The hall library and dining room were thrown into one large reception room.

On arrival the guests were met at the front door and greeted by the hostess and Miss Pattie Bruce Wooten. Miss Lillian Burch ushered the guests into the parlor where fruit punch was served by Misses Susie Warren and Mary Smith. The guests were then received by Miss Vernessa Smith in the library where they met the guests of honor.

Progressive hearts was enjoyed from about five to six-thirty. In this contest Misses Lillian Carr and Mattie Moye
King and Miss Jeannie Whitfield, of La Grange, tied. Miss Whitfield cut the highest and was awarded a bottle of perfume.
Misses Susie Warren and Bettie
Pearl Fleming tied for the booby.
Miss Susie Warren cut the highest and was awarded a miniature powder box and puff.

After the games ices and cakes were served by Misses Pattie Wooten, Annie King,
Rubelle and Ernestine Forbes.
As the sun was setting the guests departed declaring Miss Coward an ideal hostess. The out of town guests present on this pleasant occasion were Misses Edwina Lovelace, Helen Patterson, Studie Hackney and Martha Stevens, of Wilson, Jebby Whitfield, of LaGrange;
Marie Manning, of Henderson;
Eva Gair, of Williamston;
Christine Stancil, of Hill; Mary Smith, of Windsor; Allie G. Little, of Bethel, and Miss Elizabeth Toone, of Whiteville.

ment company.

Wilmington—Woodpulp paper company.

Frank Wilson's July Sale.

A large advertisement in this paper calls attention to the special July sale that begins tomorrow at Frank Wilson's store.
The prices he is quoting shows that he is determined to move out the goods. Not only are the men interested in this sale, but the ladies will find something to interest them also, for in our "Busy Shoppers" column will be found items calling attention to the wash pants for boys, and other things that save work for the mothers. You should take advantage of this July sale.

The Reflector does job work.

WHAT CENSUS WILL SHOW.

States That Have Made Largest Gain
in Population.

Washington, D. C., June 29.
—The Southern Commercial Congress estimates that the census of 1910 will show the Southern States, including Missouri and Oklahoma, to have made a gain in population since the census of 1900 of 21 per cent, or from 26, 774,677 to 32,415,297. The gain of all other states of the Union together is estimated to have been 18 1/2 per cent during the same period.

The five states of the South which will appear to have made the greatest numerical gain in population in ten years are, in the order named, Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri, Georgia, Alabama. Oklahoma gained more than 1,251,000 in population.
The order of the Southern States in the totals of population will probably appear in the census of 1910 as follows: Texas, Missouri, Georgia, Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina, Alabama, Virginia, Mississippi, Oklahoma,
Louisiana, South Carolina, Arkansas, Maryland, West Virginia, Florida.

The five states to make the greatest proportionate gain in the same period will be, in the order named, Oklahoma, Florida, Texas, West Virginia, Louisiana.
Omitting Oklahoma, whose proportionate growth is due to its development within twenty-one years from an Indian reservation, the states of the South will rank as follows for percentage of increase: Florida, Texas, West Virginia, Louisiana, Georgia,
Alabama, Mississippi, Virginia,
North Carolina, South Carolina,
Arkansas, Missouri, Kentucky,
Tennessee, Maryland.

The above calculations are based upon provisional estimates of the Census Bureau, supplumenting mortality statistics for 1908, just issued.

Congressional Convention.

The Democratic congressional convention of the first congressional district of North Carolina, is hereby called to meet in Ed-

A PROFITABLE POULTRY RANCH.

Spokane woman has kept an accurate record for one year of her one-acre poultry ranch. She began with 170 white Leghorn hens. During the year she sold 22,979 eggs at an average of 35 cents a dozen, a total of $802.37; hatched and raised 1,300 chickens from which she sold 640 broilers at fifty cents each, making $320. At the end of the year she had 540 pullets and twenty cockerels, for which she could get on the local market for breeding purposes, $590. Her total was therefore, $1,562.37. Her expenses were $502.71. The profits of the acre for the year were $1,059-66.—The Designer, for July.

She Explained.

Shortly before Napoleon III. appropriated the vacant throne of France he one day asked a great lady to explain the difference between "an accident" and "a mistake."
"If," she said, "you were to fall into the Seine, that would be an accident; if they pulled you out again, that would be a misfortune."

Jeffries has been giving the governor of Nevada a few ring stunts by way of appreciation of being allowed to fight at Reno.

The Anderson Mail is still athirst for information concerning why a man who can get out a good newspaper will run such a newspaper in North Carolina. None are so blind as those who will not see, but we refer the query to The Wilmington Dispatch and The Greenville Reflector, as their patience is longer than ours. Meanwhile we call The Mail's attention to the fact that just one hundred percent of the newspapers of North Carolina are more or less good. —Charlotte Observer.

Columbus county has solved the currency question once and for all. A law obtains in that favored section requiring the county commissioners to pay 25 cents for each hawk or owl bill presented to them for redemption, and The Whiteville News Reporter relates that the articles named are circulating at face value. With its financial situation safe from the manipulation of speculators we predict an era of unprecedented prosperity for the imperial county which is named for the great discoverer. —Charlotte Observer.

A man in Massachusetts is boasting of a baby ten months old that can swing on a trapeze and lift heavy weights. That's going some, but all right just as long as he doesn't insist on the kid challenging the winner of the Jeffries Johnson fight. —Wilmington Dispatch.

The prosperity of a town is not guarded by the wealth of its inhabitants, but by the uniformity, with which they pull together when any important undertaking is to be accomplished. A man with a thousand dollars at his command and a love for town in his heart, can do more for the building up and improving of it than the millionaire who locks up his capital and snaps his fingers at home progress. —Gaffney, S. C. Ledger.

The eyes of the world are on the South, beginning at Wilmington and taking in eastern North Carolina first. The reason that people want to come to eastern North Carolina is because of its incomparable climate winter and summer, its fertile and productive lands and its nearness to markets supplying 30,000,000 consumers, all reached in 24 hours after refrigerator trains loaded with produce leave Wilmington, Oh, you Wilmington! —Wilmington Star

DO IT NOW

People Should not wait until it is too late.

The appalling death-rate from kidney disease is due in most cases to the fact that the little kidney troubles are usually neglected until they become serious. The slight symptoms give place to chronic disorders and the sufferer goes gradually into the grasp of diabetes, dropsy, Bright's disease, gravel or some other serious form of kidney complaint.

If you suffer from backache, headaches, dizzy spells; if the kidneys secrete irregularly of passage and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. Help the kidneys at once.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney disorders—they cure where others fail. Over one hundred thousand people have recommended them. Here is one of many cases in this vicinity.

Romulus S. Butler, 219 Harvey st., Washington, N. C., says: "I am well pleased with the results that followed the use of Doan's Kidney Pills in my case and highly recommend them to other kidney sufferers. I was subject to dull pains in my back, accompanied by sharp twinges through my loins. Doan's Kidney Pills removed my trouble and benefited me in every way."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

TRY THIS FOR CATARRH

Get a Hyomel (pronounced High-ome) outfit to-day.

Pour a few drops from the bottle into the inhaler that comes with each outfit, and breathe it in 4 or 5 times a day.

Immediately you will know that Hyomel soothes and heals the inflamed and irritated membrane.

But Hyomel does more than soothe and heal, it kills the germs, those persevering pests, that are at the root of all catarrhal conditions.

"Last year I suffered terribly with catarrh. I used one bottle of Hyomel and my catarrh was better."—Miss Helen McNair, Loyalton, Cal.

A complete Hyomel outfit, including a bottle of Hyomel, a hard rubber pocket inhaler, and simple directions for use, costs only $1.00. If you now own a Hyomel inhaler, you can get an extra bottle of Hyomel for only 50 cents at Coward & Wooten's.

Guaranteed to cure catarrh, croup, asthma and sore throat, or money back.

CANTON'S EXECUTIONER

He Slices Off a Head With One Blow of His Big Sword.

The public executioner of Canton, China, takes pride in his office. He knows nothing of the electric chair, nor the hangman's noose, nor the guillotine. The criminal condemned to death in the Celestial empire gets short shrift.

Frequently he is one of a lot who are led to the place of execution. One of them kneels down, ducking his head well forward. The executioner, who is armed with a two handed double edged flat sword, takes his place near him. The weapon is raised, descends, and the condemned man's head falls. Then the next steps up for the same summary treatment.

A New York man who made a trip around the world met and photographed the executioner of Canton.

"I was going about sightseeing in Canton with an Australian friend and a Chinese interpreter," he said. "We had got into a sort of courtyard where there was a lot of pottery piled up when the guide ducked behind me.

"What is the matter?" I asked him.

"That tall man is the executioner," replied the guide, motioning toward a big Chinese who was approaching.

"I looked him over with interest. He was about three inches shorter than my Australian friend, who was six feet six inches, and his expression was of great sternness. He looked to be in the neighborhood of sixty. It was with difficulty that I could get the guide to accost him.

"He turned out to be quite affable and readily consented to get his sword and pose for me. The weapon weighed between ten and twelve pounds and had a razor edge. He showed us how he did his work.

"The guide asked him how many heads he had chopped off and told us that he said 300,000. I think the guide meant 30,000, which is a huge number, but then there have been a great many executions in Canton.

"Does it ever take more than one stroke?" I asked him through the interpreter.

"The executioner smiled and looked at his trusty blade.

"Oh, no; only one," he replied. "only one."—New York Sun.

Black Bordered Paper.

Black edged note paper for mourning has one peculiarity in these days, when machinery does or is supposed to do everything better than the human hand. The black border, whether deep or narrow, is inked on to each sheet of paper separately and by hand, for, said a stationer, no machine has been invented to give a satisfactory edging of black to writing paper. The work is consequently all done by girls. A piece of cardboard is placed on the paper, which it covers save for a narrow border all around. A brush laden with black ink is run along the edges of the guide card, and the sheet of paper receives its mourning border. It is a cumbersome process to describe, but to see it is to marvel at the speed and unerring accuracy of the workers.—London Chronicle.

Foiled Them.

A late party was being held, and as it was a splendid night the cabbies waiting for fares did not expect to get many. One of the veteran cabbies, however, was struck with a brilliant idea. He obtained a couple of buckets of water, which he carefully upset over the pavement in front of the hall. Then he took up a position near the door holding a borrowed umbrella, which he had also carefully wetted. That fixed things up beautifully. As soon as the visitors reached the door there was a scramble for cabs, and every cabby present got a job.—London Tit-Bits.

Theories About Drowned Bodies.

It was a popular theory in days gone by that the body of a drowned man would float the ninth day. Sir Thomas Browne alludes to it as believed in his time, and in his "Pseudodoxia Epidemica" there is a discussion on this fanciful notion. It was also believed that the spirits of those drowned at sea were doomed to wander for a hundred years owing to the rites of burial having never been properly bestowed upon their bodies.—London Notes and Queries.

London's Big Ben.

Big Ben, the famous London bell which strikes a discordant tune, derives its name from Sir Benjamin Hall, who was first commissioner of works at the time the bell was cast. It weighs thirteen tons and on a calm day floods London with a wave of sound. Discordant or melodious, however, Big Ben will always remain the standard time-keeper for Londoners, who regulate their watches by it.

In Doubt.
Editor—Look here, what sort of writing is this in your story?
Reporter—What's wrong with it, sir?
Editor—You say in your account of this party where they had fun with a bashful guest, "As his intended partner swept past gracefully the others brushed by to scour the place for the timid victims of the game, who had lost courage and dusted." Say, are you writing about a social party or a housecleaning exhibition?—New York Journal.

TYPHOID PREVENTIVE AT LAST. FOR BUSY SHOPPERS.

It would appear from Paris dispatches that a long step, at least, has been made toward the discovery of an effective anti-typhoid vaccine. Typhoid bacilli steeped in a weak solution of water and common salt, with an admixture of ether enable animals to withstand the subsequent typhoid inoculation easily. It has also been shown that the blood of persons thus vaccinated possesses anti-typhoid properties in a high degree, killing the bacilli speedily. For some fifteen years past an anti-typhoid vaccine has been used, with on the whole, satisfactory results. During the Boer war it very materially reduced the death rate from sickness in those British regions where it was used. Since that time its use in the armies of the world has become fairly extensive. Not long ago an entire regiment of the United States army was vaccinated at Chattanooga. Physicians experienced in the use of this vaccine declare that they have never known serious results to follow its judicious administration. It may, however, cause slight sickness of a temporary nature. The chief objections against it so far have been this possible consequence and the fact that its effectiveness can be relied upon for a brief period only. If the Paris discovery results in an anti-typhoid vaccine indisputably suitable for general use, a great benefit will have been conferred by the discoverer upon mankind.—Charlotte Observer.

A SEASONABLE WORD.

Editor Clarence H. Poe may usually be counted upon to say the right thing at the right time, and a case in point is the address he delivered before the great gathering of teachers at Asheville last week upon the topic of "Adopting Education to Rural Conditions." He took occasion to sound a warning against shaping our graded school courses too exclusively with reference to the city schools and city pupils, to the lamentable neglect of the rural community's needs and development. "You have taught boys all about Greek roots and Latin roots," he exclaimed, "but you have taught them nothing about corn roots. You have taught them all about Greek chariots only to be run over by the Twentieth Century automobile. More and more is the tendency nowadays to make education lead to culture by training along lines which will produce practical efficiency in the pupil's life work. A large percentage of the school children now enrolled in North Carolina must devote themselves to its farms, if the State's present progress is to be maintained and its opportunities utilized. It is gratifying reflection that our educational authorities are realizing this fact in an ever-increasing degree. Mr. Poe's argument, addressed as it was to the teachers of the State in convention assembled, cannot fail to prove an incentive to an even more careful consideration of the question in all its bearings by the members of the profession, which, after all, must be looked to for action in the premises.—Charlotte Observer.

FARMERS AND THE AUTO.

The number of automobiles owned by farmers is growing rapidly. Out of 10,000 autos in Iowa 5,000 are owned by farmers. Kansas farmers spent $6,200,000 for automobiles during 1909 and 2,750,000 in 1908. In one Nebraska town of 800 population forty autos were sold last year to farmers near the town and retired farmers in the town. Careful estimate of the number of automobiles owned by farmers in the entire United States is 76,000. The farmer with an auto can take his family for an evening call, or lecture, without using his horses. He can go to church on Sunday more regularly; he can visit distant relatives and friends more frequently; he can go to town oftener and more quickly. There are 48,000,000 people on farms and in towns of less than 4,000 in this country. This means that over half of our population is practically in the country. About 25,000,000 of these are young people, and they are just as keen for pleasure as young people anywhere else. Ten or fifteen years ago farmers bought organs for their daughters and buggies for their sons. A great many of them are today buying autos for the whole family.
