JOHN H. SMALL BACK TO CONGRESS AGAIN.

NAMED AT EDENTON FOR CONGRESS BY ACCLAMATION.

For Seventh Time the Democracy of First District Places This Honor Upon This Worthy Representative.

The Democratic congressional convention of the first district of North Carolina, met Wednesday afternoon at Edenton, and was called to order at 3.15 o'clock p. m., by Dr. A. L. Pendleton, of Pasquotank county, chairman of the district executive committee. T. J. Markham, of Pasquotank, was required to act as temporary secretary.

The attendance upon the convention was large, the roll call of counties showing all but Hertford, Hyde, and Tyrell being represented.

Chairman Pendleton named F. C. Harding, of Pitt county, as temporary chairman of the convention and appointed J. H. LeRoy, of Pasquotank and J. F. Tayloe of Beaufort to escort the temporary chairman to the chair. Mr. Harding made a brief but telling speech, and declared the convention ready to proceed to permanent organization.

On motion the temporary organization was made permanent, D. J. Whichard, of Pitt, and H. L. Starr, of Chowan, being added as assistant secretaries.

There was a motion that the roll of counties be called for the naming members of the different committees. W. D. Pruden stated that he saw no need of naming a committee on platform and resolutions, as it is usual to adopt the utterances of our national and state conventions as a platform. H. S. Ward, of Beaufort, made a speech against this motion, but it carried. He also offered the motion, which was carried, that the platform of the national and state conventions of 1908 be adopted as the platform of this convention.

The following from the different counties were named as executive committee for the district:

Beaufort, J. F. Tayloe; Camden, S. E. Overby; Chowan, J. N. Pender; Currituck, W. H. Towe; Dare, W. J. Griffin; Gates, W. T. Cross; Hertford, W. P. Shaw; Hyde, F. S. Spencer; Martin, C. H. Godwin; Pasquotank, T. B. Wilson; Perquimans, T. E. Winslow; Pitt R. W. King; Washington, S. B. Spruill; Tyrell, J. S. Spruill.

The members of the executive committee retired and elected W. T. Cross of Gates, chairman of the committee.

The chairman then declared the nomination of a candidate for congress in order. As the roll of counties was called all passed until Pitt was reached, when S. J. Everett came forward and in an eloquent speech that pointed to the faithful service and worth of our present congressman, Hon. John H. Small, amid applause presented him for nomination. Seconding speeches were made by W. T. Cross, Gates and W. L. Cahoon, of Pasquotank.

The chairman appointed W. D. Pruden, of Chowan and L. S. Blades, of Pasquotank, to wait upon Mr. Small and notify him of his nomination and escort him before the convention. Mr. Small was given an ovation when he entered and he made a string speech of acceptance, expressing his thanks that this honor had been placed upon him for the seventh time. In his speech of characteristic ability he pointed out the fundamental principles of Democracy, and the opportunity of the party in controlling the next congress and also carrying the next national convention.

Just prior to the adjournment of the convention there was a warm discussion of a resolution offered by Mr. E. F. Aydtlett, of Pasquotank. This resolution pointed out that the United States engineers had recommended the government purchasing the Chesapeake and Albemarle canal to make a part of the inland waterway, and wanted the convention to request our congressman to use his influence to get the government to also purchase the Dismal Swamp canal and open it as a free through fare. Mr. H. S. Ward, of Beaufort, strongly opposed the resolution, and a motion to table it brought the discussion to an end.

A resolution was adopted thanking Dr. A. L. Pendleton for the work he had done during the last two years as chairman of the district executive committee.

[The foregoing report should have appeared in yesterday's paper, but when the editor got back home from Edenton, the printers were already so loaded up with copy that it had to be left over for today.]

MR. MORRILL WITHDRAWS FROM THE RACE.

MR. WHEDBEE'S NOMINATION DOUBLY ASSURED.

Will Now Get One-Half Instead of One-Third in Carteret County and His Election Assured.

A telephone message from Snow Hill Thursday announced the withdrawal of Hon. L. V. Morrill, from the race for the nomination for judge of this district. Mr. Morrill stated that as he had been satisfied that Hon. H. W. Whedbee has more than enough instructed votes from the various counties covering the district to nominate him on the first ballot, he withdraws his name from consideration by the judicial convention at Morehead City on the 9th; and that he has notified the delegates from his home county, Greene, which were instructed for him, not to present his name to the convention. He also desires to thank his friends of this district for the support they have given him.

This frank and manly action on the part of Mr. Morrill assures a still larger majority for Mr. Whedbee over his remaining opponent, Judge D. L. Ward, in that he will receive one-half of the vote in Carteret county instead of one-third as previously instructed for each of the three candidates, with a possibility of a good share of Greene county's vote.

Notwithstanding Mr. Whedbee's nomination is more than assured, it does not relieve the delegates of Pitt county from the necessity of attending the convention, and a large crowd should go down Saturday morning. The Norfolk Southern railroad will run a special train for the convention, starting from Farmville at 6 o'clock, a. m. and passing Greenville at 6.29, and return that night. Those who go have the privilege of returning either on the special train Saturday night or on the excursion train Sunday night. It will be a delightful trip to the seashore, and at the same time give people all over the district an opportunity of meeting each other.

FRIDAY, JULY 8, 1910.

The judicial convention at Morehead City comes next, and after Saturday you can call him Judge Harry Whedbee.

Now comes forward President Jordan, of Leland Stanford University, who says that for brutality and destruction of the best in a man's youth football is in the same class with pugilism. He is pretty near correct in his comparison.

A noted physician has stated that the Oriental lives on a meagre diet because he cannot afford anything better. The same reason can be assigned for some other people not having better eating and more of it.

Greenville has the opportunity of being the best town in all Eastern North Carolina. It will not be many years before she occupies that rank. For a town her size she has already made that distinction.

On Monday, the 11th, the board of county commissioners will open bids for the construction of the new court house and new jail for Pitt county. Before the contract is let the Reflector again calls attention to a suggestion recently made in the paper that the interior of the court house should be provided with niches for mural tablets upon which to perpetuate the history of the county. There is no more appropriate place for preserving our county's fame for future generations.

Everybody speaks of Greenville as having the greatest future of any town in Eastern North Carolina, and it is true. The feeling is in the air that this town must go forward, and the spirit of improvement is taking hold of the people in earnest. Hardly a day goes by but what one hears discussed some plans for development, and some thing is going to come out of these. Any who have been contemplating making investments in Greenville will find no better time to act than right now.

Several of the congressional districts of the State have just held their convention. In the first Hon. John H. Small was renominated by acclamation and was also Hon. Claude Kitchin in the second. In the third Dr. J. M. Faison was nominated after a heated contest that continued through 477 ballots. In the fourth Hon. E. W. Fou was renominated by acclamation. In the fifth the convention is in a deadlock.

BETS ON COTTON UNLAWFUL.

A New York cotton exchange firm having sued a telegraph company for damages due to an error in the transmission of a message, The New York State court of appeals holds thus: "A man may lawfully sell goods or stocks for future delivery, even though he has none in his possession, if he really intends and agrees to deliver them at the appointed time. Such a transaction constitutes a valid contract, which is enforceable in the courts. But a man may not, under the guise of such contract, enter into a naked speculation upon the rise or fall of prices, in which there is to be no delivery and no payment except such as may be necessary to provide for differences arising purely from market fluctuations." In other words, the whole issue hinges upon intention to make actual delivery. The brokerage firm order was for sale of twenty thousand bales at 12.70 cents a pound, and the telegraph company's error led to a sale at 12.07 cents a pound, the damages alleged were $27,565. In the court below there was a refusal to charge that delivery or intention to deliver must be provided by the plaintiff. This decision has now been reversed. Upon retrial below the question of intention or non-intention to deliver—a question of fact for the jury—will be fought out.

Any one who has the slightest acquaintance with the cotton trade knows that occasions when single orders to sell twenty thousand bales of cotton are given with the intention of delivering them may be termed vanishingly rare. Doubtless the telegraph company can show with the utmost ease that there was no such intention in the case at hand. So with the vast bulk of cotton-exchange transactions, delivery may be contemplated as a possible contingency, but it can be mathematically demonstrated that in the case of the average transaction this contingency is very remote. The New York cotton exchange sells the entire crop many times over—on paper—every year. Transactions are primarily on paper basis and are cleared like so many bank checks every business day. "Settlement of differences between buyer and seller seldom means that any real cotton will pass. In short, it is essentially a betting game, with its results framed therefor however much the producers and consumers of real cotton may and do protest. The New York State court of appeals holds that such bets are unlawful, in the sense that they are outside the protection of the law. If the Scott bill, which passed the national House of Representatives before adjournment had also passed the Senate and run the veto gauntlet, they would now be specifically forbidden under penalties. It would seem almost certain that the era of unrestricted gambling in cotton contracts cannot continue long.—Charlotte Observer.

DO IT NOW

People Should not wait until it is too late.

The appalling death-rate from kidney disease is due in most cases to the fact that the little kidney troubles are usually neglected until they become serious. The slight symptoms give place to chronic disorders and the sufferer goes gradually into the grasp of diabetes, dropsy, Bright's disease, gravel or some other serious form of kidney complaint.

If you suffer from backache, headaches, dizzy spells; if the kidneys secrete irregularly of passage and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. Help the kidneys at once.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney disorders—they cure where others fail. Over one hundred thousand people have recommended them. Here is one of many cases in this vicinity.

Romulus S. Butler, 219 Harvey st., Washington, N. C., says: "I am well pleased with the results that followed the use of Doan's Kidney Pills in my case and highly recommend them to other kidney sufferers. I was subject to dull pains in my back, accompanied by sharp twinges through my loins. Doan's Kidney Pills removed my trouble and benefited me in every way."

SYRIAN DIVERS.

Wonderful Feats These Experts Perform in Deep Water.

Perhaps there are no more expert divers than those of the Syrian coast, who, it is claimed, employ no other apparatus than a heavy stone for a sinker and a light line whereby they come up "hand over hand." Once certain American naval officers whose vessels were making a somewhat protracted stay at Beirut were enabled to witness an interesting exhibition of the skill and endurance of these divers. It should be stated that the vessels lay in sixteen or eighteen fathoms of water. A midshipman on duty at the gangway one day raised his sword belt too high, and the blade, slipping from its scabbard, went circling to the bottom of the sea. The water at the spot was between 90 and 100 feet deep. A diver being summoned, the point at which the sword had fallen was indicated. The Syrian stepped in his little boat, pumped his lungs full of air, seized his sinker, disappeared in the water and brought up the sword almost immediately.

Another day a boat load of coal was swamped beside the ship and sank to the bottom. Other divers came, located the coal and the boat, and, descending time after time in ninety feet of water, they placed the coal in bags and succeeded in saving both the coal and the boat. Officers timed these divers frequently and found that they remained under water as long as one minute and fifty-five seconds.

The most interesting and startling feat performed during the American officers' stay was accomplished when a collier snapped its cable and dropped its anchor and forty fathoms of chain in twenty fathoms of water. After being directed to where the anchor and chain lay the diver summoned divested himself of his clothing, went through his pumping process and disappeared in over 110 feet of water. One minute went by; then a second was called off, when the officers began to get nervous. But it was not until two minutes and fifteen seconds had elapsed that the diver came crawling up the rope greatly exhausted.

He had found the chain, though, had attached the grapple and the rope and had succeeded in recovering both anchor and chain at the first dive. It seemed to the officers unbelievable that any human could withstand the pressure of the water at such depths, not to speak of the excessive variations of pressure involved in the descent and ascent of more than 100 feet within two minutes and fifteen seconds. — Chicago Tribune.

The Origin of Venice.

The "queen of the Adriatic" was born of the troubles caused by the invasion of the famous or infamous Attila, the Hun, who, about the middle of the fifth century, overran and devastated so much of Europe. In consequence of the ravages of this "scourge of God," who was probably one of the most cruel and remorseless men ever known, fugitives from various regions of Italy sought a refuge among the islands which skirt the northern coast of the Adriatic, which were then but the haunts of fishermen and sea birds. There was born Venice, the "glory of the west," whose history was to be written upon the waves for more than a thousand years. It was during the century between 450 and 550 that the "most entrancing city in the world" may be said to have been founded.

A Witty Suggestion.

At the time when Thaddeus Stevens was a representative in congress a member of the house who was noted for his uncertain course on all questions and who confessed that he never investigated a point under discussion without finding himself neutral asked one day for leave of absence.

"Mr. Speaker," said Stevens, "I do not rise to object, but to suggest that the honorable member need not ask this favor, for he can easily pair off with himself."

TRY THIS FOR CATARRH

Get a Hyomel (pronounced High-ome) outfit to-day. Pour a few drops from the bottle into the inhaler that comes with each outfit, and breathe it in 4 or 5 times a day. Immediately you will know that Hyomel soothes and heals the inflamed and irritated membrane. But Hyomel does more than soothe and heal, it kills the germs, those persevering pests, that are at the root of all catarrhal conditions. "Last year I suffered terribly with catarrh. I used one bottle of Hyomel and my catarrh was better."—Miss Helen McNair, Loyalton, Cal. A complete Hyomel outfit, including a bottle of Hyomel, a hard rubber pocket inhaler and simple directions for use, costs only $1.00. If you now own a Hyomel Inhaler, you can get an extra bottle of Hyomel for only 50 cents at Coward & Wooten's. Guaranteed to cure catarrh, croup, asthma and sore throat, or money back.
