STATE DEMOCRATIC POLITICAL PLATFORM.

ADOPTED AT THE CONVENTION IN CHARLOTTE.

Raps Payne-Aldrich Tariff Bill and Policy of G. O. P.—Declares for Public Improvements.

We, the representatives of the Democratic party in North Carolina, in convention assembled, rejoice in the call occasioned by the coming election and the opportunity thus offered to lift up again in the midst of the people of North Carolina the banner of the Democratic party as a sure standard of their rights and the un-failing guide of their progress, and we reaffirm our allegiance to the cardinal principals of Democratic government and congratulate the people of North Carolina upon the wise, progressive and economical administration of the affairs of government since the return of the Democratic party to power in this State.

We recommend to the people of North Carolina the consideration of the success with which the affairs have been administered by the Democratic officials and the clean, efficient and economical conduct of the State government from the day of the return to power of the Democratic party, and we reaffirm the declarations of our party upon the questions of the extension and improvement and up-building of the internal affairs of the State and the institutions provided by the State for the care of our citizenship, both charitable and educational, and pledge ourselves to the continuation, up-building and development thereof.

We pledge ourselves to the continued development of the internal affairs of the State; to the continuation of the policy of education which has been carried forward with such success under the Democratic administrations; to the further development of local improvements; to the maintenance of the institutions for the insane, deaf, dumb and blind; and to the extension of these institutions to meet the demands upon the State and the needs of the unfortunate who require the care and maintenance of the government.

We pledge ourselves to the continued aid and assistance of the Confederate soldier and demand that legislation shall make ample appropriations for his comfort and care.

We commend and approve this administration of Governor W. W. Kitchen and the other State officials, and commend and approve our Senators and representatives of Congress for their activity in behalf of the people of North Carolina.

Internal development and improvement tends to the up-building of any citizenship and we take pride in the progress that has been made under Democratic government in the building of roads and the extension of means of communication and transportation all over the State, and we particularly approve of the work in this behalf by the Good Roads Association of North Carolina.

We recognize the great growth and improvements of the State along material and intellectual lines under the policy of the Democratic party in the support and maintenance of the common school system of North Carolina, and the pledge of the party heretofore made of a four-months' free school in every district of the State has been fully met, and we promise the continued support and improvement of the public school system of the State and the extension of the same to the institutions of the State for higher education, to the end that these institutions may be placed upon a permanent basis of extension and maintenance consistent with the growth of the school system of the State and the increased population and demands of her citizenship, and we favor in the schools of the State a more liberal instruction in agricultural training and the encouragement and development of the agricultural interests in such schools.

The supervision and control of public service corporations is a well recognized right and we pledge ourselves to the enforcement of this right in the interest of the people of the State consistent with fair and just privilege to any person or corporation.

Private monopolies are inconsistent with the growth and development of internal affairs of the State and the liberties of the people and should not be allowed. We are opposed to illegal combinations in restraint of trade, trusts and monopolies, and favor the

CANADIAN RAILROAD STRIKE.

Traffic Completely Tied up and Not a
Freight Train is Moving

By Wire to The Reflector.

Montreal, July 20.—With 15,000 employees idle and freight completely tied up throughout the entire system as a result of the strike on the Grand Trunk Railroad, the actual combat of opposing forces began today, with efforts of the company to operate traffic. Employees of freight trains were provided with arms and instructed to protect themselves and property of the railroad. The strikers, however, are not interfering and there has been no disposition to violence.

Many strike breakers are being rushed in, but as yet there are few capable train crews and not a freight train is running, while passenger and mail are greatly behind time. The chief effort of the strikers is to get the engineers to join them. The railroad has already lost thousands of dollars in perishable freights.

AUTOMOBILISTS BREAK DOWN.

A Greenville Young Lady Was in The Party.

Mr. John R. Ellison, family and guests, motoring in last evening from Ocean View, had a rather trying experience. They struck the storm and running into a small river on the road, the car was flooded and stopped about fifteen miles from Suffolk. A phone message from a nearby farm brought Dr. D. L. Harrell to the rescue in his touring car. When the rescued reached Jericho in Dr. Harrell's car they found the runswollen over the bridge and unpassable. They went back and finally got in about four a. m., over another road.

Mr. Ellison says the mosquitoes were so big and so many they had to dip a handkerchief in the oil of the lamps and rub on their faces and hands to keep from being almost devoured.—Suffolk Herald.

Miss Pink Manning, of Greenville, was one of the guests referred to above. She says it was a thrilling experience the party had, but afforded them much amusement after they had reached their destination in safety.

KILLED BY TRAIN.

Mr. John Allen Corbett Run Over
Near Walstonburg.

Mr. John Allen Corbett was run over and instantly killed, Tuesday afternoon, by the 5 o'clock Norfolk Southern train near Walstonburg. Mr. Corbett was laying across the railroad track, and when seen by the engineer the train was too close upon him to be stopped, even though the emergency brakes were applied.

A quart bottle of whiskey was found beside the body. Mr. Corbett's home was near Walstonburg.

enactment of such laws as will make their existence impossible.

We condemn the unjust and unreasonable discriminations in freight rates against the towns and cities of North Carolina and in favor of the cities of other States.

We pledge ourselves to the fostering and encouragement of all legitimate enterprises and developments that may be located within the borders of this State, and in the administration of the laws no legitimate enterprise shall be injured.

We condemn and denounce the tariff policy of the Republican party as enacted in the Aldrich-Payne bill, and declare the same to be the most iniquitous tariff burden ever placed upon the United States, formulated in behalf of sectional interests and fostering the trusts and combinations of the country at the expense of the great mass of the people, and in spite of the promises of the Republican party that prosperity would follow its adoption, we call attention to the present commercial condition of the country, its idle factories, industries and unemployed operatives.

We denounce the extravagant and unbusiness like national government by the Republican party, whereby has been a useless expenditure of over $300,000,000 annually of the people's money.

We call attention to the failure of the Republican party to revise the tariff in accordance with the pledges of its platform and its promises.

We demand the enactment of a tariff for revenue only to meet the expense of a government economically administered.

SHOT DOWN IN HIS SUMMER HOME AT WINNETKA.

PRESIDENT OF MONON RAILROAD
ASSASSINATED.

Murderer Escapes Without Leaving
Clue—Climax to Reign of Crime—
Driven Residents Frenzy.

By Wire to The Reflector.

Chicago, July 20.—Ira C. Rawn, millionaire president of the Monon Railway, was shot through the heart and instantly killed in his summer home in Winnetka, early this morning, by a robber. The burglar escaped and left no clue to his identity.

Servants and women of the house were aroused by the pistol shot, and when they went down to investigate found Mr. Rawn lying on his face in the hallway. The front was open and an investigation showed that it had been prized open with a "Jimmy."

The assassination is the climax to a reign of crime that has driven residents of the fashionable North Shore suburbs almost to a stage of frenzy.

Mrs. Rawn stated that her husband heard a noise on the lower floor, and Mr. Rawn went down to learn the cause, and was shot as soon as he reached the lower floor. She was the only person awake in the house at that time, but the shot aroused others.

Mr. Rawn was 55 years old, and began his career as a telegraph operator at the age of 15, rising through various promotions until he reached the presidency of the Monon lines.

OUR BLACK JACK LETTER.

What is Going on Down in Chicod Township.

Black Jack, N. C., July 20, 1910. Eld. W. Lupton, of Grimesland, filled his regular appointment here Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Lula Mills, who is attending the E. C. T. S., at Greenville, spent Saturday and Sunday at home. She was accompanied by her friend, Miss Maggie Clark, who is also attending the training school. They returned Monday.

Mr. W. L. Clark left this morning for Baltimore, to see his son, J. H. Clark, who has been there for more than two weeks.

The Farmers' Union will meet Friday night. We hope to see a large crowd out to the meeting.

We had quite a large crowd out to our Sunday school Sunday. We cordially invite you to come out every Sunday.

We had one of the largest rains of the season Sunday night.

Crops are looking better, corn and cotton especially. Tobacco has commenced the second growth. Some of the farmers are not putting in any this week.

FREE FOR ALL.

Horse Race Bi-Centennial, New Bern, July 29th.

The management of the bi-centennial celebration at New Bern have arranged for a real old-time farmers' race, on Friday, July the 29th, at 11 o'clock, which will be open to all comers except race horses with liberal prizes to the first five winners.

The race will take place on the macadamized road passing the grand stand and considering the fact that there is to be no entrance fee charged and good prize money paid to winners, it is expected that a large number of trotters and pacers will be entered from all the nearby counties.

All farmers are urged to enter their favorites and contest for the prizes and everybody is invited to witness this interesting event.

BE READY FOR HIM.

Give in Your Name for Membership and Pay Your Dues.

Secretary J. B. James, of the chamber of commerce, will tomorrow begin a canvass among the business men for members and for the collection of dues. In this he should have the encouragement of every business man in the community, for all should be members of the chamber of commerce and help to carry on the good work it is doing. This work cannot be carried on without members and funds.

HON. FRANK M. WOOTEN CHOSEN AS MAYOR.

UNANIMOUS CHOICE OF THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

He Was Formerly Mayor and Made a Most Efficient Officer—Chosen to That Office

The board of aldermen held a meeting to select a mayor of Greenville to succeed Hon. H. W. Whedbee whose elevation to the Superior court bench necessitated his resignation as mayor, and Hon. F. M. Wooten was the unanimous choice of the board.

This selection meets the commendation of the town generally. Mr. Wooten was previously mayor of the town, serving in that capacity for nearly three and a half years, and he made an excellent official. He believes in public improvements and works earnestly to that end. Greenville will go forward under his administration.

FEDERATION OF LABOR WINS.

Buck Stove and Range Company Gives up The Fight.

By Wire to The Reflector.

St. Louis, July 20.—After a fight lasting over six years between the American Federation of Labor and the Buck Stove & Range Company, the labor people have won out. The stove people have capitulated, and in conference today with Samuel Gompers and other labor leaders arranging the terms of peace. The men will be organized, the shop will be put on a union basis and the federation will remove its boycott of the company products. The company also agrees not to push any of the suits against the federation.

The famous contempt case now before the Supreme court against Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison grew out of this labor war. The case, of course is not affected by this peace pact.

COMMITTEE WAS DIVIDED.

On Question of Voting Primary or Delegated Convention.

In the office of Chairman F. C. Harding today there was a meeting of the Democratic executive committee of the county, the meeting being called for the purpose of determining whether a vote primary or delegated convention should be held to select the nominees for county offices. Four members of the committee were absent, so the meeting was not a full one.

There was much discussion of the question before the committee, several speeches were made on both sides and when a vote was taken it resulted in a tie, half being for each proposition. The chairman deemed it best not to untie the vote on either side, but to try to get a meeting of the whole committee to decide the matter, so adjournment was taken until next Wednesday, 27th.

CARD FROM MAYOR WOOTEN.

Urges People of the Town to Co-operate
With Officials.

Elsewhere in this paper a legal notice of the chief of police appears, commanding all persons to clear away the grass and weeds from the sidewalks adjoining their property. While this notice is given according to the town ordinance, yet I am sure that home pride, and town pride, are sufficient. Now, that your attention is called to the unsightly and unhealthy conditions existing, to prompt you to improve the condition about your property. The street committee will use every reasonable means in its reach to have removed promptly all trash, etc., that is placed in the streets.

Also that every citizen will promptly respond to the notice given to clean up his own property and will co-operate with the town officers and workmen in their efforts to clear up the whole town, and that it may not be necessary to resort to the law to force the doing of these things, which are for the benefit of the personal health of every individual, and the appearance of your town, which the officers are servants. Obediently,
FRANK WOOTEN, Mayor.

Prayer meetings in the churches tonight.

A. C. L. IMPROVEMENTS.

Gives Its Waiting Passengers Better
Accommodations.

The Atlantic Coast-Line has just completed considerable improvements to its passenger station here. Several feet have been added to the building on the end towards Dickinson avenue, the waiting rooms have been made larger, and toilet rooms for both white and colored have been provided. The office of the ticket agent has also been made more commodious. Taken all around, the changes have made a timely improvement.

Poor Service.

As the fire truck came clanging along the street car tracks Uncle Ben stood at the corner and waved his hat. "Ding it!" he exclaimed when the truck had passed. "That wouldn't stop neither."—Buffalo Express.

CONGRESSMAN SMALL HELPING THE WORK.

SECURES ASSISTANCE OF GOVERNMENT
ROAD ENGINEERS.

Plans for Farmers Institute in Connection With Good Roads Meeting—His Letter Explains.

There is every indication that the good roads convention to be held in Greenville on the first Monday in August is to be a great occasion for Pitt county. In this connection the following letter from Congressman John H. Small, makes some timely suggestions and shows his interest in this good work:

Washington, N. C., July 18, 1910.
Mr. H. A. White,
Greenville, N. C.

Dear Mr. White:
Referring to the good roads meeting for Greenville, on Monday, August 1st, I have arranged for a road engineer from the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Mr. Lester E. Boykin, to be present in Greenville on that day and make a talk, and if your people desire me to do so, I can arrange for him to stay over another day and advise with your officials and people regarding good roads. I have definitely decided that we will also hold our farmers' meeting on that day. If it is agreeable with your committee, we will devote the forenoon to discussing farm topics exclusively, and the afternoon to the road meeting. What do you think of this? I will also be present.
Very sincerely,
JOHN H. SMALL.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Little Items too Short for a Head, but Interesting.

There will be an ice cream supper on the church lawn at Arthur on Friday night, July 22nd, for the benefit of the Free Will Baptist church.

The weather has flopped to the extreme and has given a few days remarkably cool for July.

The eagerness with which people read The Reflector makes it a good medium for the business man to talk about their goods.

The advertisers should be opening up, so to speak, and get in the minds of the people before the tobacco market opens.

Don't all come at once, but the friends of the Reflector are invited to call any afternoon after 4 o'clock and see the new machines at work. Canteleups have come to help out the breakfast proposition.

The Royal Arch Masons will have a meeting tonight for degree work.

The Reflector has room to let— for advertisements.
Special convocation of Greenville Chapter, No. 50, R. A. M., tonight at 8.30. Degree work.

If you haven't got a chance, get out and make one.

A wheel passing through sand is in effect climbing a hill but it never reaches the top.

"Uncle Joe" is after the speaker-ship again. He wants to hang on until the end.

Uncle Sam is going to keep on until he gets mixed up in the Nicaragua trouble. See if he don't.

Wilmington found three cases of small pox right among the city fire department. Ought to have turned the hose on them.

Sand and clay are our road materials. We have them all over the county and it is only a question of mixing them in the right way.

If the people do not can a lot of the surplus fruit this year they will miss an opportunity. Enough fruit ought to be put up for winter use.

We have not seen a Raleigh State Democrat since the Wake county primary in which the "insurgents" beat the "ring." Wonder if the shock killed it.

Where the largest and strongest banks exist, are likely to be the depositories for the postal savings banks to be established by the government.

Pitt county has placed herself at the head in educational progress by establishing good schools. Will she let those schools fail of their purpose by not building good highways to them?

In Wilmington one man is in the hospital and another in jail because of a fight the two had over a 25-cent bottle of whiskey. The stuff comes high, any way you look at it, the retail price being the least part of the cost.

They are still making excuses for Judge Manning. Not necessary, everybody knows how it was done and who did it. Like Wyatt, he will have the distinction of being the first man killed in battle.—High Point Enterprise.

Oh, you are away off in your history. Judge Ward went down several days ahead of him.

Charlotte police officers who have been in the service for years and made close observations, come forward with the statement that the moon affects drunkenness. They say there is more drinking and more arrests for drunkenness when the moon is full than at any other time.

Congressman John H. Small, Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt and Mr. H. B. Varner, editor of Good Roads, have written that they will be in Greenville at the good roads convention on the first Monday in August. The committee is also waiting to hear from other prominent speakers who have been invited. So you see it is going to be a big day, and every man in Pitt county should be here.

In a recent case in Wake county Superior court where a man charged with selling liquor set up the defense that he merely loaned it to a friend and expected to be paid back in kind, Judge Cooke charged the jury to return a verdict of guilty, on the ground that the mere loaning of whiskey is a sale. The case was appealed to the Superior court, and if the ruling of Judge Cooke is sustained, you can't lend any more booze to your neighbor.

Some of the big fellows who hold government positions long enough to "learn the ropes," turn out to be the worst crooks. James N. Huston, a former treasurer of the United States after his term in office, organized in Washington City what is known as the National Trust Company, a concern supposed to guarantee stocks and to make them find a ready sale. Now there are indictments against Huston and some of his associates on the charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, and petitions are filed to annul the charter of the company.

THE YOUTH OF THE TOWNS.

One of the perils of our country is the lack of Bible training in our towns and cities. We are told that hundreds and thousands of children, foreign born or of foreign parents, in our cities, never go to the Sabbath school, and are growing up without are a knowledge of the Word. Yet what we are to be as a nation in coming years turns upon the moral forces of our towns and cities. To the truthful man the danger from this source is appalling, unless the minds of the rising generations of the cities are brought in touch with the inspired word. Shall we rear the present generation of youth on newspapers, theatres, and moving pictures or on the Bible? and further says that he cannot help asking parents of this generation on which of these two sources of influence do they want to rear their boys and girls? Our streets are crowded with children who are going to seek either one or the other. A generation is growing up that knows nothing of the Bible. They do not recognize commonest references to it in public speech. They get nothing in its place. Yet it is the Bible that has procured our civilization. The great, good men of today were reared on it. One fears very much for a generation that does not know it.—Presbyterian Standard.

MORE EDITORIALS.

President Shipman should see to it that at the next meeting of the press association some one should read a paper on the importance of more editorial work on the part of the editors of the weekly and semi-weekly papers of the State. Some of the papers published by the ablest men in the State come out week after week with merely an editorial paragraph and sometimes with none at all. In urging more attention to editorial work on part of the State editors, we do not mean that they should discuss the affairs of nation and State, to the sacrifice of time to the business end of the paper, but to make up a good local page, which they usually do, and follow that with editorial articles reflecting the sentiment of the community on local issues. The opinion of the press is held in much importance these days, and the editor is looked to somewhat in the nature of a guide. The Monroe and Wadesboro papers let all the world know how the near-beer proposition is regarded in their towns. From reading the editorial pages of the papers in the sixth congressional district, one can get a pretty good idea as to how the cat is hoping down there. But only too often we pick up a paper expecting to find some editorial expression on some matter of interest concerning its community, only to be disappointed. And this, too, in papers whose editors have the ability to write corking good stuff every week, if they would only do it. More editors, gentlemen—more talk to your readers.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Periodically we hear it suggested that our judicial system should be revised so that ten jurymen out of the twelve on a case could bring in a verdict, thus preventing the lone man, who of course, has more sense than the twelve, from hanging the jury. It's a good idea, but it will never be done. It would curtail the business of the attorney. He is in the business for work and how is he to get it if a case is to be disposed of in this way, with no chance to hang the jury?—Greensboro Record.

A FRIENDLY DRAGON.

Making the Acquaintance of a Motorcar in China.

In Manchuria a motorcar is naturally a fantastic if not a dangerous invention in the eyes of the natives. When Signor Scarfoglio and his party stopped their machine at one of the villages for a supply of water for the radiator the inhabitants fled in terror and watched the strangers from half closed windows.

I advance to parley, waving a ruble over my head, he writes in "Round the World In a Motorcar," and at last one man ventures to approach. He takes two or three steps toward me, with his eyes fixed on the ruble. At last by means of a hundred complicated gestures, he is made to understand that the money is not merely a reward for his arrival, but that we require some water.

He turns to the silent crowd and in a voice full of anger and fury hurls at them a stream of violent invective. The men listen with bowed heads as the tempest passes over them. Then some ten or twenty hurry off, and an instant later there is a row of pails beside the car. The chief, for he certainly is a chief, regards me with a smile full of satisfaction and points to my pocket, where the ruble has disappeared, and to his own, in which it would find a grateful resting place.

When Haaga takes from one of the pails the small quantity of water that he requires the people become more courageous and approach the car, with their little eyes wide open with astonishment. They are led by a youth who appears to enjoy much authority in the land. The crowd listens with patient attention to his vivacious discourse, which is punctuated by eloquent and convincing arm play. He evidently explains the mysterious dragon.

Gradually the young Manchurian approaches the tires and with grim resolution touches them with a finger. The crowd is struck dumb with admiration. He takes another step and fingers the lamps. Something like a shiver passes over the crowd. A third step and he touches the radiator, but unfortunately for him it was still hot, and the experimental scientist burned his hand.

The crowd flees like a herd of surprised antelopes. Soon, however, they return under the persuasions of the more courageous experimenter and themselves touch the pneumatics, which fill them with wonder, make grimaces before the lenses of the lamps, which turn their images upside down, and finally one by one conscientiously burn their fingers on the radiator.

"It's the Cut."

An aged country rector who had an old tailor as his clerk, returning from his church one Sunday with the latter, thus addressed him:

"Thomas, I cannot think how it is that our church should be getting thinner, for I am sure I preach as well as ever I did and ought to have far more experience than I had when I first came among you."

"Indeed," replied Thomas. "I'll tell you what: old parsons nowadays are just like old tailors, for I'm sure I sew as well as ever I did in my life, and the cloth is the same, but it's the cut, sir. It's the new cut."—Pearson's Weekly.

Flower of the Air.

There is a plant in Chile and a similar one in Japan called the "flower of the air." It is so called because it appears to have no root and is never fixed to the earth. It twines round a dry tree or sterile rock. Each shoot produces two or three flowers like a lily—white, transparent and odoriferous. It is capable of being transported 600 to 700 miles and vegetates as it travels suspended on a twig.

CRYING FOR HELP.

Lots of It in Greenville, But Daily Growing Less.

The kidneys cry for help. Not an organ in the whole body so delicately constructed.

Not one, so important to health.

The kidneys are the filters of the blood.

When they fail the blood becomes foul and poisonous.

There can be no health where there is poisoned blood.

Backache is one of the first indications of kidney trouble.

It is the kidney's cry for help. Heed it.

Doan's Kidney Pills is what is wanted.

Are just what overworked kidneys need.

They strengthen and invigorate the kidneys; help them to do their work; never fail to cure any case of kidney disease.

Mrs. B. Pittman, Walnut street, Tarboro, N. C., says: "For some time I had not been feeling well and thought that my kidneys might be disordered, as my back was very weak and the passages of the kidney secretions were irregular. My husband got me a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and since using them, my back has become stronger and my kidneys have been normal. I am now feeling much better in every way and therefore am willing to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

CATARRH CAN QUICKLY BE CURED.

A bottle of Hyomei, a hard rubber pocket inhaler, that will last a lifetime, and simple instructions for curing catarrh make a Hyomei outfit.

Into the inhaler you pour a few drops of magical Hyomei (pronounce it High-o-me).

This is absorbed by the antiseptic gauze within and now you are ready to breathe it over the germ infested membrane where it will speedily begin its work of killing catarrh germs. Hyomei is made of Australian eucalyptol combined with other antiseptics and is very pleasant to breathe.

It is guaranteed to cure catarrh, bronchitis, sore throat, croup, coughs and colds, or money back. It cleans out a stuffed up head in a few minutes.

Sold by druggists everywhere, and by Coward and Wooten. Complete outfit $1. And remember that extra bottles if afterwards needed cost only 50 cents. Breathe it, that's all.

To break up cold in head or chest in a few minutes, pour a teaspoonful of Hyomei into a bowl of boiling water, cover head and bowl with towel and breathe the vapor.

A MARY ANDERSON POSE.

Falling Robes That Resulted in a Most Graceful Attitude.

Harry Furniss tells a story of Mary Anderson's initial season in London. "Her first appearance was as Perdita," he says in the Strand Magazine, "and I thought her the most charming figure I had ever seen on the stage."

"She kindly posed for me after a performance at the Lyceum, and when she asked me the position I would like her to take I mentioned one she had assumed in the second act, in which she stood holding the drapery in her hand, which was resting on her hip. 'Do you really mean that?' she asked. 'Yes; that attitude struck me as the most artistic of all your graceful movements.' 'Well,' she said, 'as a matter of fact, my robes had come unfastened and were falling off, and I was holding them on, but I shall now purposely make them slip in the same way.' And that pose was repeated nightly during the run of the play.

"On the first night at the Lyceum she was moved in the great scene by the rough, picturesque lover, played on that occasion by handsome Jack Barnes. As she rose to her feet it was perceived, to the delight of us all, but to the discomfort of the actors, that Mr. Barnes' wig had caught in the shoulder clasp of Perdita and rose from his head with her and furthermore refused to be detached for some time.

"Even this popular actress could not escape the chaff of the gods. She was playing Galatea in Sir W. S. Gilbert's play—and a charming Galatea she made—when, in the critical scene in which she appeals to the gods to enable her to bring Pygmalion and Cynisca together again, the actress held up her arms and, unconsciously looking up at the gallery, cried out: 'The gods will help me!'

"To Miss Anderson's surprise, all the occupants of the gallery, as if by prearrangement, called out with one voice, 'We will!'

THE BIGGEST SMUGGLERS.

They Are Not the Society People Who Get the Advertising.

"Society people are supposed to be the biggest offenders," said a treasury official, "but it is simply that they get more publicity. We had a Harlem butcher who smuggled in $1,000 worth of jewels and then got trapped because he took an orange from the table after lunch. He put the orange in his pocket, and the bulge drew the inspector's attention. He was searched and the jewels found.

"There was, too," he continued reminiscently, "a noted musician who goes back and forth every year to Paris and who bought a Stradivarius violin one year. He sold his old one and brought the famous Strad back in his own case, covered as it was with custom stamps. Naturally the inspectors passed it, but the musician boasted of his violin, and a dealer who went to see it heard the story of its purchase and notified us.

"There was a man from Naples who came in with his shirt fairly lined with jewels, and there are the Syrians who smuggle in faxes and handkerchiefs, and there are the manufacturers who declare half or three-quarters in and smuggle the rest.

"There are automobile men who bring their machines in with faked certificates of value, and there are buyers of cheap jewelry who bring in great cases of plated brooches and bracelets, etc., with magnificent sapphires, rubies and even diamonds set in with bits of glass, and these necessitate weeks of work for the jewel experts in the appraiser's stores."—Washington Times.

HOW WORDS CHANGE.

A Knave Was Once a Lad and a Villain Only a Peasant.

In the New York panic of 1857 a Frenchman declared that he should lose all his "propriety." It sounds like something to laugh at. Nevertheless "property" and "propriety" have the same French derivation. Words have a knack of shifting not only from their sources, but also out of their own original meanings.

We quote an anecdote as a short diverting story. Etymologically it means something as yet unpublished.

To prevent, which is now to hinder, meant in its Latin original to anticipate.

A girl was anciently a young person of either sex.

Mountebank was the term applied of old to the patent medicine vendor who mounted a bench to proclaim his wares. It is from the Italian.

Paradise in oriental tongues meant only a royal ark.

Astonished means literally thunderstruck, coming from "attonare."

A knave was once merely a lad and a villain only a peasant.

To be silly was in its ancient sense to be blessed.

To be officious was to be courtously ready to do kindly office.

If a man was facetious, in the early English, he was but urbane.

An idiot was a private citizen as distinguished from an officeholder.

Frontispiece, if considered from its Latin source, is not a picture in the front of a book, but the front view of something. The Latin word is frontispicium.

Beldam is not an abusive term in its French source, but means a fair lady.

Shamefaced comes from a good Anglo-Saxon term which means not one exhibiting shame, but one protected by shame, being therefore innocent and modest.—New York World.

The Flower Harvests of Grasse.

When Catherine de' Medici sent her skilled physician Patis to Grasse with orders that he was to found a laboratory for the distilling of the perfumes of flowers she could not have chosen a better situation. Grasse and the hamlets that surround it are a paradise for growing flowers, so sunny are they and so well protected from the mistral. Tier upon tier of terraced beds are cut out upon the mountain side. Countless patches of gardens lie in the plains below. They are always full of flowers more or less in bloom. Jasmine, tuberose, roses, mimosa, jonquils, hyacinths, carnations, orange flowers and many other things are grown in masses not for ornament or pleasure, but solely for their scent. The first harvest of the year is that of violets. Then follow hyacinths and jonquils, roses and orange blossoms, pinks, carnations and mignonette, jasmine and, lastly, cassia and tuberose.—Wide World Magazine.

Had to Give It Up.

"When can you spare the time for our marriage, Marion?" the betrothed man asked.

The woman consulted her engagement book. "Three o'clock next Friday afternoon," she replied.

"Oh, that will be out of the question!" he cried protestingly. "There's a special meeting of the Glitter Gold company that I must attend at that time."

"Well, it's the only time I have," she told him, with an air of easy resignation. "Every other hour for the next two years is filled up."

The man jerked his shoulders irritably. "I guess we'll have to call our little matter off, then," he said. "It seems to be inevitable," she agreed indifferently.

And so they parted.—Chicago News.

Careful Upbringing.

While having dinner at a friend's home one evening little George refused, with self-conscious dignity, several unwholesome dishes which William, his tiny host, devoured with relish.

Finally, when William began to eat a huge slice of fruit cake, George eyed him wistfully for a long time. Then, leaning his head on his hand, with a sigh, he said:

"Oh, dear; I wish my stomach wasn't being brunged up' c'orrectly!"—Woman's Home Companion.

A Snake in His Hair.

The hair of the Indian yogi or religious mendicant owing to long years of neglect becomes matted together in a fashion more easy to imagine than to describe and certainly not be brushed out. It is of very great length and when all owed to hang down trails on the ground. One night one of these yogis was sleeping under a tree when a snake wormed its way into his tangled coiffure, and he had quite a difficult task to get rid of it in the morning.—World Wide Magazine.

By Wire to The Reflector.

New York, July 20.—Price movements in early trading today were mixed, some issues making fractional gains while others yielded more moderate selling. This irregularity prevailed in both industrials and railway groups. Amalgamated moved up 1/2, while Smelting dropped 1/4. Fractional advances in Northern Pacific and Atchison were offset by small declines in Union Pacific and Reading. The volume of business was light and after the first few minutes the drift of prices was downward.

New York, July 20.—The opening of the local cotton market today was rather disappointing in view of the steady cables. October sold off to 12.95, but a lot of bidding around the pit of this level discouraged the room bears and a covering movement set in that soon ran up to 13.02, July to 16.07, with August up to 15.33. Opening: July 16.00; August offered 15.40; September 13.62; October 13.00 bid.

Chicago, July 20.—Russian news was again unfavorable and wheat was 1/2c higher at Chicago. Corn strong, oats fractionally higher, provisions slow in sympathy with hogs.
