

BANDITS ROB SOUTHERN PACIFIC MAIL CARS.

THEY GET AWAY WITH $50,000 IN VALUE.

Take Advantage of Uncoupled Train at River Crossing, Tie the Mail Clerks and Rifle the Car.

By Wire to The Reflector.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 27.—Posses are today scouring the Levee district in search of two white bandits who last night held up four United States mail clerks on a Southern Pacific train at a crossing on the Mississippi river, and got registered mail and bullion valued at $50,000. The train is taken across the river in sections and not coupled together until the grade is ascended. When the mail and express cars were pulled away from the others the robbers boarded them, thus having plenty of time to do their work. They tied the clerks and the robbery was not discovered until the next station was reached.

CHARLES DANIEL KILLED.

Supposed to Have Been Murdered For Money.

Monday morning Charles Daniel, colored, who kept a little store near Parkers Chapel was found unconscious in the field of Ed. Laughinghouse, colored, near by. He sold drinks Sunday, it being the quarterly meeting at St. Peters, a colored church, with a large crowd present. It is said that he had money in a sack which was found near him and empty. He had been beaten over the head and face. There was blood along the road leading from his stand to near where he was found. It appeared as if he had been dragged near where he was found and thrown over the fence.

John Parker and Ashley Daniel were both arrested today, brought to jail and will be given a hearing this morning. They are charged with the crime.

STATE MOURNS FOR DR. DIXON.

Body to Lie in State in Capitol—Arrangements for Funeral not Made.

By Wire to The Reflector.

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 27.—The State capitol is draped and flags are at half mast today in honor of State Auditor B. F. Dixon, who died last night. The funeral arrangements have not been made yet, as some of the relatives will not arrive this afternoon and it is not even known whether the body will be buried here or in Shelby. The body will probably lie in state in the rotunda of the capitol tomorrow, but even this can not be known definitely until absent relatives are consulted.

NEW YORK REPUBLICANS.

Begin Their State Convention There Today.

By Wire to The Reflector.

Saratoga, Sept. 27.—The Republican State Convention of New York, was called to order shortly after noon by Chairman Woodruff, of the executive committee. The hall started filling several hours before the call to order was given. There was much cheering and enthusiasm. Both Roosevelt and Sherman received ovations as they came in and the mention of Taft's name provoked deafening applause.

BEYOND THE ALPS WAS DEATH

Aviator Paid His Life for Glory of Darling Feat.

By Cable to The Reflector.

Damodossola, Italy, Sept. 27.—George Chavez, the Peruvian aviator, who achieved the glory of being the first man to fly over the Alps, died in a hospital here at 2.30 this afternoon, from injuries received when his machine crashed to the earth with him last Friday. Both legs were broken in the fall and he was otherwise injured. His feat was the most remarkable in the history of aviation.

GOOD ROADS DELEGATES.

List Appointed to Represent North Carolina, at Oklahoma City.

Governor Kitchin has appointed the following delegates from North Carolina to the 11th National Good Roads Convention at Oklahoma City, Oct. 4th to 6th, 1910:

J. P. Sawyer, Asheville; C. W. Mitchell, Aulander; S. E. Eure, Taylor; M. W. Floyd, Lumberton; Jos. Shaw, Lumber Bridge; J. T. Wyatt, Salisbury; C. J. Harris, Hillsboro; Collier Cobb, Chapel Hill; W. J. Mercer, Mackeys Ferry; W. M. Long, Charlotte; R. F. Rives, Statesville; T. S. Collier, Castella; P. H. Haynes, Winston-Salem; H. T. Davenport, Columbia; L. H. Ross, Washington; J. A. Harrington, Ayden; F. Brock, Trenton; Dr. T. T. Ross, Nashville; G. H. Russell, Laurinburg; Frank Powell, Tarboro; B. A. Parks, Goldsboro; A. J. Connor, Richsquare; C. J. Woodson, Shelby; H. W. Horton, N. Wilkesboro.

DAUGHTERS OF CONFEDERACY.

Called Meeting to Consider Location For Monument.

The Singletary Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy, with the co-operation of the veterans and citizens of the county, are taking steps to erect a Confederate monument in Greenville. Already there is enough money on hand to begin the work, and it is thought the balance necessary can be raised without difficulty. There will be a called meeting of the Daughters of the Confederacy, veterans, sons of veterans and interested citizens at the music store of Fineman & White on Thursday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, to discuss and select a location for the monument, and to name a date when the cornerstone shall be laid and work on the monument to begin. At this meeting designs for the monument will also be submitted. Everybody interested should attend this meeting Thursday afternoon.

Merited Commendation.

North Carolina sent a large delegation to Providence to attend the Inland Deep Waterways Association. This State was the leader in what has grown to be a mighty movement embracing every State on the Atlantic coast. The delegates from North Carolina, in the absence of and without the knowledge of Mr. Small congressman from the first North Carolina district, appointed a committee composed of James H. Chadburn, M. W. Devine, W. K. Jacobson and C. S. Vann to draw up resolutions of appreciation of Congressman Small's untiring efforts in the interest of the waterway. The Edenton Observer prints the resolutions, as follows:

Recognizing as we do the importance to the people of North Carolina of an inland waterway. And further recognizing that the Hon. John H. Small was among the first to give shape to this thought and enterprise and to bring it into workable form before the people, we, the representatives of North Carolina to the Third Annual Convention of the Deeper Waterways Association wishing to express our deep sense of appreciation of Mr. Small's untiring and effective services in bringing this project to apparent consummation, do resolve that we extend to Mr. Small our deep sense of appreciation of his persistent and effective efforts in this matter of such vital importance to our people.

These resolutions will be heartily approved by all North Carolinians, for Mr. Small has shown practical statesmanship of a high order in the leadership of this mighty project of much importance to the commerce of a dozen States.—News and Observer.

Get the Most for Your Money.

Like the best! This is especially good advice when one comes to buy a big Sunday newspaper. Aside from its many departments of news, romance, fiction, art, comedy, politics, etc., the words and music of a late song success will go free as a feature of next Sunday's New York World. The song in question is "The Gay Gossoon," made famous by Fisk O'Hara in the new Irish musical romance, "The Wearing of the Green." Add this popular song to your musical collection. But it will be best to order next Sunday's New York World from your newsdealer to-day.

DR. BENJ. F. DIXON DIED MONDAY NIGHT

ONE OF NORTH CAROLINA'S noblest sons is taken.

Gallant in War, and in Peace His Career was a Brilliant One Through to The End.

There passed away suddenly last night one of the State's best loved sons, for when the death call took from earth the spirit of Dr. Benjamin Franklin Dixon, the State Auditor, there is to be mourned the going away of a true son of North Carolina, one who served her well in war and in peace, a gallant man who has filled many high positions nobly, one in whom the State justly took pride, one whose home life and home love were truly gentle and sweet.

The end was sudden, in Rex Hospital, for though Dr. Dixon had been ill since the nineteenth of September when he was suddenly stricken with an attack of angina pectoris, he had so far recovered as to plan for his removal today to his home from Rex Hospital, the evidences being that he was on his way to recovery. Death came at 11.30 last night after Dr. Dixon had passed a comfortable and restful day, following a day of improvement on Sunday. When it was seen last night that he had suddenly taken a turn for the worse a quick telephone call summoned Dr. J. R. Rogers, but before he reached the hospital the distinguished sufferer had breathed his last, death resulting from angina pectoris.

The end came so suddenly as to be startling. Dr. Dixon had been sleeping for an hour when he awoke in excellent humor. Being told it was time to take his medicine, he laughing, said he needed none. The attendants were preparing to give him nourishment when he took a sudden cramp and in five minutes after he had awakened he died. With him was the house physician, Dr. Campbell, and two nurses. Two minutes after he died Dr. Rogers reached the hospital.

Dr. Dixon's last illness began with an attack of angina pectoris in his office at the capitol, about 10.30 on the morning of September 19, the pain being so intense that his cries of anguish were heard throughout the capitol and on the grounds. He was given opiates and as soon as possible was taken to Rex Hospital from which place, at night his condition was reported improving, the reports from day to day becoming more and more encouraging, it being expected that he would soon be restored to health. His sudden death will be a great shock to the State as it was to the city.

Dr. Dixon is survived by his widow, who was Mrs. Nora Catherine Durham, widow of Hon. Plato Durham, the daughter of Dr. James W. Tracy, of King's Mountain; by two sons, Benjamin F. Dixon, Jr., and Wright T. Dixon, both of Raleigh, and one daughter, Mrs. W. L. Balthis, formerly Miss Pearl Dixon, of Gastonia. His step-sons are Messrs S. J. Durham, of Besemer City, N. C.; R. L. Durham, of Cleveland, Tenn., and Rev. Plato Durham, of Concord.

No arrangements for the funeral or the interment have yet been made. These arrangements will be completed after the arrival here of the Mrs. Balthis Rev. Plato Durham and Mrs. S. J. Durham, who are expected at 12.30 today.—News and Observer.

WHAT ADVERTISING DOES.

Crowds at Mumford's Store Gives Ample Evidence.

There is not a more liberal advertising merchant in Greenville than C. T. Mumford, and the good effects of it is shown in the crowds that visit his store. Take Monday, for instance, the occasion of his fall opening display of millinery, coat suits, wraps, etc. The Reflector had told in advance of this event, and all through the day his store was thronged with visitors. Of course it cannot be told accurately just how many people visited the store, but an idea can be had from the fact that he gave away souvenirs—one cake of toilet soap to each visitor—and when night came 609 of these souvenirs had been given away. His sixteen day special sale starting the 28th has been heralded all through the surrounding country, and if you will watch his store during this sale you will see more of the effects of liberal advertising.

UNIVERSITY NOTES.

Football team Getting in Shape for the Season.

Chapel Hill, N. C., Sept. 27.—The University of North Carolina is confident that she will put out a creditable football team this fall. There are thirteen of last year's Varsity players back and some of these may have to relinquish their places to some of the new men who are out for the team. The old men are: McLain, Garrett, Captain Thompson, Belk, Spainhour, Venable, Winston, Williams, Brown, Ruffin, Hedgepeth, Tillett and Porter. Some of the new men are Ross and Spencer, who were at the A. & M. two years ago, Abernathy, Hasty, Young and Chambers.

The schedule includes games with the University of Kentucky, V. M. L., Davidson, Wake Forest, Georgetown, V. P. I., Washington and Lee, and the University of Virginia. The success or failure of the season will depend upon the outcome of the Virginia game. Carolina has not beaten Virginia since 1905. It is hoped that this year's team will succeed in putting the University at her old place at the head of athletics of these states.

The class teams are organizing. They will be coached by Mr. Roach Stewart, a former Varsity captain, who is back in the law school. The Varsity scrub and class teams furnish healthy exercise for over 100 students. The game has been changed markedly during the past year and the most dangerous features eliminated without the interest being killed.

The coach is Dr. Brides, of Yale, an excellent gentleman and he has all the men working with good spirit.

The Philanthropic and Dialectic literary societies initiated 50 new members each Saturday night. The societies which are nearly as old as the University itself have always been strong factors in the life of the institution. They have been training camps for many of the most famous men North Carolina has ever sent out. It is an interesting fact that the address delivered by James K. Polk, who was an alumnus of the University, on his inauguration to the Presidency of the United States, coincided almost exactly in thought and in manner of expression to his inaugural speech when in his student days he had been elected president of the Dialectic society.

Circus King to Invade North.

Haag, proprietor of the Mighty Haag shows, which exhibits in Greenville on October 7th, is considered the Circus King below the Mason and Dixon line, has decided in his sixteenth transcontinental tour to go north of the Mason and Dixon line, being the first time the southern circus has ever been out of its own territory.

The invasion will be watched by jealous eyes by the big northern kings of circudom, and a big novelty is in store for the northern people as they will have a chance to see a southerner as he really and truly is in all phases of his life, as the show is managed, owned, directed and all departments are peopled by southerners only.

There will be real southern beauties riding blue ribboned Kentucky bred horses; the southern colonels be in evidence, with his wide brimmed hat, together with the "yes sah" that has made the southerner famous.

Mr. Haag also claims to have the finest sixteen head of Kentucky mules which are world wide renowned, and will be of great interest to horsemen of this section. Taking it all in all a great treat is in store for the public wherever the Mighty Haag shows exhibit.

THE STATE FAIR.

And Home Coming Jubilee, October 17th to 22nd.

In this issue will be found an advertisement of the next State fair, to be held in Raleigh during the week beginning October 17th. This is the fiftieth anniversary of the fair, and in connection with it will be a home-coming jubilee, during which all North Carolinians who have gone to other states will be invited to visit their home state and see their home people once more.

The premium list for exhibits at the fair is most complete and liberal, and this is going to insure large and attractive exhibits of the varied resources of the state. Everybody who can should plan to spend at least a day at the coming fair. The railroads will give special low rates.

HAPPENINGS THROUGHOUT NORTH CAROLINA.

CREAM OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE EXCHANGES.

Recently there have been imported into this country a number of Angora goats and some of the farmers will go in for raising them for their valuable skins.—Kinston Free Press.

Saturday night between seven and eight o'clock a hurried message was sent to the city hall, stating that another Saturday night murder had been committed in the negro portion of the town. In a very short while the officers of the law were on the scene. The tragedy occurred on Smith street, in a locality called Smithtown. The parties concerned were Joe Credle and his wife. It was learned that some time ago Credle and his better half had some words and a quarrel regarding family affairs. The husband left this city for several weeks, returning Saturday night from Kinston, went to his home finding his wife there, the old spark of jealousy kindled up and almost resulted in murder.—New Bern Sun.

With 9,991 bales of new crop cotton for Bremen, Germany, the British steamer Mariner, Captain Morrison, cleared yesterday, the first of the season, with the staple for foreign export from this port. The cargo is valued at $680,000 and vessel and cargo are by Messrs Alexander Sprunt & Son. Two other steamers, the Killdale and Hillbrook, are in the compress docks to receive cargoes and the first named will be ready to clear within the next few days. The receipts of the staple at the port this week have been heavy, ranging between 2,000 and 3,000 bales daily.—Wilmington Star.

Lenoir, Sept. 26.—Our town was thrown into a fit of excitement this morning when it was learned that Mr. E. B. Blackmore, a prominent young attorney of this place, had committed suicide in his room at the Wautaga House last night or early this morning. It was not discovered until the chambermaid went to his room and found the door securely fastened. When an effort was made to arouse him and to no avail a physician was called. When the doctor failed to arouse him by calling he went to a window and gained entrance. Everything was still and on the bed lay the lifeless form of the unfortunate young man cold in death, with his head toward the foot-bar. On the washstand in the opposite corner of the room was an ounce vial labelled carbolic acid and it was empty. At his feet lay a razor closed up and there were no signs of his having cut himself. It is supposed he intended to cut his throat with the razor, but after drinking the deadly drug the pain was so great that he was seized with a convulsion and died.

Mr. W. C. Harmer, of the Old Fork section, was seriously injured Monday by getting his hand in his gin while ginning cotton. He was taken to the Laurinburg Hospital, where it was found necessary to amputate the arm.—Maxton Scottish Chief.

School Overrun.

There are now so many pupils in the graded school that they have to be handled in installments—that is in the lower grades some of them have to be taken at certain hours and then dismissed for others to take their places. This means that there must be more room for the school, as the town and attendance have cutgrown the present building.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1910.

When Congressman Pou meets wants—to be—Congressman Cooley in joint debate, it will be Po(u) Cooley.

The Sunday issues of the Charlotte News are just covering that paper with glory. The last one was a fashion number of 28 pages, and it certainly set the pace.

Greenville is not going to reform herself just so. If you want to see anything done you must take hold and help do it.

We note that the dramatic success "The Other Woman," is playing North Carolina. How 'bout it, Which?—Wilmington Dispatch.

She hasn't come around this way yet. When she comes we'll let you know.

Marion Butler is the keynote of Republican campaign speakers. Instead of discussing issues, their speeches are mainly eulogies of Butler. North Carolina has not had a more dangerous man to the interest of the State than Butler. The people should beware of him and his followers.

North Carolina is sad today beyond expression over the death of Dr. B. F. Dixon, State auditor, which occurred suddenly Monday night in Raleigh. He was one of the State's most useful men and best beloved citizens. Not only was he a gallant soldier in time of war, but in the following days of peace he gave his best service to the upbuilding of his State and promoting her educational interests.

Whenever you strike a Republican and a discussion comes up as to those fraudulent bonds that the State legislature repudiated, you can tell from his expressions that he is in favor of paying the bonds. Thus can be seen the influence that Marion Butler is exerting over the Republicans, and just as sure as they could get control they would bankrupt the State. It is time every thinking man should be pondering these things.

"Evidences of the fact that this is indeed to be a Democratic year are lying," says the Winston Sentinel. "Every day something is happening to give encouragement to those who are working for a Democratic victory. If the leaders will display wisdom at this crisis in the party's affairs and take advantage of the present situation a great Democratic victory will be achieved. Never was the necessity for leadership of a high order more manifest. If such a quality of leadership is displayed in the Democratic party throughout the nation all will be well."

Where Cost Doesn't Count.
"I hear you are going to quit the grocery business," said the customer. "Is it true?"
"It is," answered the grocer. "I'm tired of hearing men complain about high prices and growl about the expense of living."
"What are you going to do?" queried the customer.
"I'm going to start a saloon," answered the grocer.—Chicago News.

Hold for Twenty Cents.

Senator E. D. Smith, of South Carolina, in an interview, advises cotton growers of the South to combine and hold their cotton for 20 cents a pound. He also severely criticised the framers of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law, and censured Attorney General Wickensham for his prosecution of the so-called cotton pool.

He said in regard to holding cotton: "I shall not attempt to dictate to the farmers of the South what they shall do, but under the circumstances, I would be delighted to see them combine and hold their cotton from the market wherever it is possible for them to do so until it shall bring such price placed upon manufacturing articles by virtue of the tariff. My honest conviction is that 20 cents a pound for the present crop is none too high, in view of the supply, the cost of production, the comparative value of cotton with other textile with the artificial prices that now obtain on the manufactured goods."—Charlotte News.

Ambitious young men who do not mind hard work in order to make a success in life should be reminded often that the farm promises more now to them than anything else. If preparation is made for the work the emoluments are far beyond those held out by any of the professions. At one time in the history of the state there was practically no inducement for the young men to go to the farm, but in a very short time a revolution has taken place and there is an opportunity which has never been presented before. If a young man desires wealth, happiness and independence as well as surroundings that are conducive to good health—and all that may be expected in any avocation—the farm now offers it to him. It will be difficult for the town boy to see these advantages all at once, but he can be made to see them and as they are so great the way should be pointed out to him. As to the country boy who has left the farm, he will find his way back if present conditions keep up.—High Point Interprise.

Losses Suffered by The G. O. P.

Eugene N. Foss, Democrat, was elected to congress from Massachusetts on March 22, 1910, by a plurality of 5,640.

James S. Havens, Democrat, was elected to congress from New York over Boss Aldridge in April 1910, by a plurality of 5,831.

C. C. Atkinson, Democrat, was elected to congress from Missouri on February 1, 1910, by a plurality of 3,778, the Democratic majority in 1908 being only 1,995.

United States Senator Julius B. Burrows, standpat Republican, was defeated in the Michigan primaries by Representative Charles E. Townsend, progressive Republican.

Standpat Republican senators who have announced their retirement, are Eugene Hale, of Maine; Nelson W. Aldrich, of Rhode Island; Frank Flint, of California; Samuel H. Piles, of Washington.

Regular machine Republican representatives in congress who have been defeated for re-nomination, are: Duncan McKinley, James McLachlan of California; John A. T. Hull, of Iowa, Charles S. Cott, James M. Miller William A. Calderhead and William A. Reeder, of Kansas; Ralph D. Cole, of Ohio; William H. Stafford, of Wisconsin; Joseph Sibley, machine Republican, forced to retire from ticket in Pennsylvania after nomination for congress.

Cannon Democrats defeated for re-nomination are: Leonidas Livingston, William M. Howard, of Georgia.

Other results:
The Republicans carried Vermont by the smallest majority since 1872.

LaFollette, progressive, was re-nominated for senator from Wisconsin by a majority of 40,000 over his standpat opponent.

Bass, progressive Republican candidate for governor, carried the New Hampshire primaries by a vote nearly double that of the regular machine candidate.

Thomas Leary was elected to the Vermont legislature, the first Democrat from Crittenden county in fifty-two years.—New York World.

To this may be added the defeat of the Taft candidate in the state of Washington and the nomination of Representative Poindexter to be United States senator.

Mr. Eller Sees Victory.

A Winston telegram to the Charlotte Observer says:

"State Chairman A. H. Eller was here on a brief business trip today, returning to Raleigh tonight. He expressed the greatest confidence in a sweeping victory for the Democratic party in state and county. He said he believed that the insurgency of Republicans who were disgusted with the failure of their party to live up to its pledges would result in many of the rank and file turning to the Democratic party. Marion Butler's entry into active political activity would be instrumental, he declared, in giving the biggest Democratic majority that will have been cast in many years in North Carolina."

Whistler as a Horseman.
Boggs, a cadet cavalry officer at West Point academy, was an assistant in the riding hall. On one occasion he overheard Whistler, who thoroughly disliked to ride, objecting strenuously to the horse brought for his use. The horse, he argued, was too heavily built and much too large for a man of his size. Whistler, with much vehemence, urged the man next him to "swap." The man with whom he wished to exchange horses was of muscular build and a "pretty generous size" and his horse a lightweight animal, so it seemed to Whistler that it would be a "most fitting exchange."
"Oh, don't swap! Don't you swap, Mr. Whistler!" cried the dragoon. "Yours is a war horse, sir!"
"A war horse!" exclaimed Whistler. "That settles it. I certainly don't want him."
"Yes, you do, sir," reiterated the man. "He's a war horse, I tell you, for he'd rather die than run."—Century.

Among Those Present.
Commenting with light irony on the pretensions of a certain nouveau riche, a contributor to Paris Figaro questions whether men of this type are any sillier than those of a past generation who belonged to well known families of long descent.
"There was one of the family of Croy," this contributor writes, "who was fond of showing an old painting of Noah entering the ark and crying out:
"Sauvez les papiers de la maison de Croy!" (Save the records of the house of Croy)"

Corrected His Error.
With the Germans the absentminded college professor is a stock source of witticisms.
One of these deeply absorbed gentlemen, sitting on a rear seat, thought he knew a person sitting in front and was about to speak to him when the stranger by chance turning a little, the professor saw that he was mistaken.
Nevertheless, touching him on the shoulder, he remarked politely:
"You will excuse me, but you are not the person I thought you were."

About Face.
Miss Prude—I just heard that Mr. Upton had an accident—in fact, that he broke his—ah—er—limb, you know. Do you know how it happened, Mr. Jones?
Mr. Jones—Why—er—he was gathering apples, you see, and he fell from the—aw—er—that is, the leg of the tree.—Ladies' Home Journal.

A Possible Remedy.
"The ocean doesn't seem to agree with you," consoled the ship's doctor, who had prescribed everything conceivable.
"Perhaps it would," moaned the other. "I haven't tried it yet."—Puck.

Talent Recognized.
"Jeppers doesn't appear to have the slightest idea of practical politics."
"Yes," answered Senator Sorghum; "his assumption of ignorance on the subject proves him a most astute politician."—Washington Star.

Eating Time.
Friend—So, you dined at a way station. What did you have for dinner?
Traveler—Twenty minutes.—Kansas City Journal.

Justice is the bread of nations. They are always famishing for it.—Jordan.

Hindu Juggling.
The Hindu jugglers and acrobats are the most skillful in the world. One of the latest stories told of them is about a performer who went through many wonderful feats perched on the top of a single bamboo stick about fifteen feet in height. The top of the stick was tied to a girdle around his waist, and a leg rest was provided by a cushion a few feet down the pole. Perched on this slender stick he hopped and danced about in the liveliest way, accompanied by the tapping of a drum. It would be considered a skillful feat to walk about with ease on a pair of stilts fifteen feet in height, but this Hindu showed a marvelous power of equilibrium on a single stick. He did other things even more wonderful. For example, he balanced a light stick on his nose and a heavy one on his chin and then threw the heavy one into the air with his head and caught it on the end of a light one. While balancing the two sticks thus, end on end, he made one revolve in one direction and the other in the opposite direction.

"Grey" and "Gray."
What is the difference, if any, between "grey" and "gray," aside from the matter of spelling?
The editor of the Oxford Dictionary some years ago made extended inquiry as to usage and found that opinions in London varied. Replies to his questions showed that in Great Britain the form grey is the more frequent in use, despite the authority of Dr. Johnson and later lexicographers, who give the preference to gray. Many correspondents said that they used the two forms with a difference of meaning or application, the distinction most generally recognized being that grey denotes a more delicate or lighter tint than gray. Others considered the difference to be that gray is a warmer color or that it has a mixture of red or brown. Another group held that grey has more of sentiment, gray more of color, which may mean that grey is a suggestion rather than a positive outline.

WORTH WEIGHT IN GOLD

Lady Learned About Cardui, The Woman's Tonic and is Now Enthusiastic in its Praise.

Mount Pleasant, Tenn.—"Cardui is all you claim for it, and more," writes Mrs. M. E. Rail, of this place.

"I was a great sufferer for 2 years and was very weak, but I learned about Cardui, and decided to try it. Now I am in perfect health.

"My daughter, when changing into womanhood, got in very bad health. I gave her Cardui and now she enjoys good health.

"Cardui is worth its weight in gold. I recommend it for young and old."

Being composed exclusively of harmless vegetable ingredients, with a mild and gentle medicinal action, Cardui is the best medicine for weak, sick girls and women.

It has no harsh, powerful, near-poisonous action, like some of the strong minerals and drugs, but helps nature to perform a cure in a natural easy way.

Try Cardui.

REVENUE CUTTERS.

Varied Duties of These Life Savers of the Seas.

No men in the employ of Uncle Sam render more efficient service than do those of the revenue cutter service. The term "revenue," which would indicate that their duties were restricted to those pertaining to the proper enforcement of the revenue laws, can give but a faint notion of the varied duties of this splendid corps of men. As a matter of fact, revenue cutters are the life savers of the seas. They patrol the coasts on regular beats, on the watch for vessels in distress. They must suppress mutinies, prevent smuggling and illicit seal hunting; they must examine ships' papers, enforce quarantine regulations, supply lighthouses and in general do all kinds of police work. Then, too, they have been dubbed "the messenger boys of the seas."

Alexander Hamilton was the father of the revenue cutter service, for it was under his administration of the treasury department that, in 1791, ten cutters were built and put in commission under rules of his own devising. In time of peace the cutters are under the supervision of the treasury department, but in times of war they are transferred to that of the navy department. Since the war of 1812 they have always rendered excellent service in the event of armed hostilities. Every one remembers the remarkable work done by the McCulloch, under Dewey, at the battle of Manila Bay.—New York Press.

A GEM OF POESY.

Maybe It Was the Heat That Made It Burst Into Being.

Stewart Edward White, William Kent and myself were hunting mountain sheep in the ranges of Mexican California. Perhaps because the savage heat of the desert which we were crossing had somewhat gone to our brains we fell to making poetry upon various aspects of desert life. White rhapsodized upon the tarantula; Kent dithyrambed over the pack mule; I sang the dispraises of the jack rabbit. Finally White, who was cook for the day, offered a special prize of duff with raisins (the last remnant of our store) for the premier verse to be turned out before sunset. At noon we met up with a wandering prospector, who introduced himself as J. Noel Benson, native son of California, and observed upon learning of our literary efforts that he was some poet himself. On being invited to enter the list he retired to the top of a mesa, where the thermometer was something like 110 in the absence of shade, and after half an hour of self communion returned with the following gem of poesy:

THE GNAT.

The gnat he is a noisome mite,
He loves to buzz. He loves to bite.
He crawls upon you when you're hot,
I love the naughty gnat—nit—not!

The duff was awarded to him without protest from the other contestants.—Success Magazine.

How Leap Year Started.

Hampson, in his "Medii Oevi Kalendarium," quotes the following quaint tradition from an old Saxon treatise: "Some assert that the bissextus or leap day comes through this, that Joshua prayed to God that the sun might stand still for one day's length that he might sweep the heathen from the land that God had granted him and his followers. It is true that the sun did stand still for one day's length over the city of Gabaon, but the day went forward in the same manner as other days. And the bissextus is not through that, as some do think."

In France and some parts of Spain and Portugal there exists a tradition known as "the ghost of leap year." Believers in this say that a marvelous monster annually appears on leap day and disarranges human affairs for the remainder of the year.

A Royal Apology.

King Edward VII. was never at a loss for a quick, suitable answer. One day he was coming around a street corner on one of his periodical walks in London when he collided with a very stout person, who, being near-sighted, did not recognize the king took him by the lapel of his coat and gave him a tongue lashing.

"Do you know, sir," finished the irate man, "that I am a member of the London council?"

"In that case I beg your pardon," replied the king, "for I am only the king of Great Britain."

Just the Other Way.

Rudyard Kipling was once visiting at a country house at which Miss Dorothy Drew, the famous granddaughter of Mr. Gladstone, then a little girl, was also staying. She was sent out into the garden with the distinguished author.

Later on, when the other grownups joined them, little Miss Dorothy was asked, "I hope you didn't bore Mr. Kipling?"

"No, but he bored me frightfully," was the unexpected and resigned reply.

Wait a Bit.

Guest—Look here. How long am I going to have to wait for that half portion of duck I ordered? Waiter—Till somebody orders the other half. We can't go out and kill half a duck.—Toledo Blade.

Flirtation.

"What really constitutes flirtation?" asked the young man of the woman of the world.

"Attention without intention," replied the experienced one.—Scraps.

At The Amuzu Theatre.

The management of the Amuzu Theatre are certainly giving its patrons a good little show. Last week they had on vaudeville feature the Merkel sisters, who delighted every body who saw them; this week commencing Monday night the remarkable Woods family are "on the boards"

THE FOUR WOODS

Playing at The Amuzu Theatre This Week.

The last named are a wonderful lot. There are four in the family and everyone is a musician from the little girl, who is about five years old, up. They play anything—even playing paus and their dog's tail. The Dog is alright, too. He is about the prettiest ever seen here.

Wednesday the Day.

At the home of Mrs. Roy T. Evans, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock all the personal property of the late Roy T. Evans will be sold to the highest bidders. If you are looking for bargains, don't fail to attend this sale. 9 27.

What is an Ide?

"What is an ide?" It is a natural pitfall for modern generations. Even Bulwer Lytton allowed one of his Roman characters to say, "It stands fixed for the ninth ide of August," although he must have known that "ides" is a plural without a singular. Why the Romans called the 15th of March, May, July, October and the 13th of every other month the ides they do not seem to have known for certain themselves. Some thought it meant the halfway day of the month, from an Etruscan word meaning "to divide," but modern philology, digging into Sanskrit, has suggested that it means the bright time of the month, full moon.—London Notes and Queries.

By Wire to The Reflector.

New York, Sept. 27.—Cotton opened today two points lower to three points higher. Fifteen minutes after the market opened it was steady with a good volume of outside buying orders. Opening: September offered 13.35; October 13.31; December 13.13; January 13.31; March 13.42.

New York, Sept. 27.—Trading was practically at a standstill during the first few minutes following the opening of the stock market today, awaiting development in the political situation. Steady tone prevailed in the first half hour, but trading was very light. Reading was a prominent factor, but failed to continue its marked advance of yesterday. Fractional gains and losses were about evenly divided among industrials and railroads. Union Pacific scored a gain of 1-8 but fell back.

Chicago, Sept. 27.—Wheat opened today about one cent off. Corn and oats were both lower, provisions about steady. Opening: Wheat, December, 99 1-8; corn 51 1-8; oats 34 1-8; pork January 17.70.

Honest Genius.
