NATIONAL REPUBLICAN LEAGUE.

Holding Two Days Session in New York.

By Wire to The Reflector.
New York, Sept. 30.—The opening gun in the national campaign of 1912 was fired here today when the two days convention of the Republican National League went into session. Several thousand delegates are in attendance. A feature of the convention this morning was a train load of delegates from Georgia, headed by Henry Jackson, of Atlanta, Ga., who are trying to carry Georgia for Taft in 1912. The same Southern movement was represented by delegates from North Carolina, headed by Congressman Morehead and B. Frank Mebane. Colonel Roosevelt speaks this afternoon and President Taft tomorrow.

NEW YORK DEMOCRATS.

May Nominate Dix for Governor of That State.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 30.—For Governor John A. Dix. This was the top of ticket which Charles F. Murphy, of Tammany hall, proposed to jangle through the convention. It was declared after a final conference of the leaders this forenoon that Thos. M. Osborne, had been eliminated. It was stated that his followers had promised Murphy to support Dix. "If it isn't Dix, it will be Gaynor," declared one of the leaders after the conference. The convention reassembled at one o'clock.

CHOLERA IN NAPLES.

Italian City Is Plague Ridden and Families Being Isolated

By Cable to The Reflector.
Naples, Sept. 30.—Twenty-five dead from cholera and forty new cases is the toll for the twenty-four hours in this plague ridden city. Ships are forbidden to leave their piers. Hotels are deserted and the lazzarettos are overcrowded. Soldiers are now sent into the market district with doctors to enforce people to give up the dead and dying. Many families have been constantly denying information to the authorities to prevent being isolated.

LaFollette Consults Physician.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Rochester, Minn., Sept. 30.—Senator LaFollette, accompanied by his physician, came here today to consult Dr. Mayo, a noted surgeon, regarding the ailment from which he has been suffering for several years. It is thought an operation will be performed as it is believed the senator is suffering from gallstones.

JUMPS FROM WINDOW.

Young Lady Takes Her Life in a Tragic Manner.

By Wire to The Reflector.
New York, Sept. 30.—Miss Tillie Kahlman, aged 22, jumped from the seventh story window of a tenement building this morning, and was instantly killed. The thoroughfare was crowded with men and women on their way to work. The crowds were thrown into a panic and it required the police to restore order.

White House Party Breaks Up.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Washington, Sept. 30.—President Taft's cabinet advisers who have been his guests at the White house since Monday, left for their own homes today.

Post Master at Capital.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Washington, Sept. 30.—President Taft today signed the commission of Norman A. Merritt to be post master of Washington D. C. He has been acting as post master for a year.

Opening Next Wednesday.

Mrs. I. F. Lee & Company, announce their grand fall opening on Wednesday, October 5th. They will show the most extensive line of children's hats, the handsomest French pattern hats and most exquisite untrimmed hats ever displayed here.

TRADE REPORT.

Conditions Improving as the Fall Season Approaches.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 30.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say for Richmond and vicinity: Trade conditions taken as a whole show improvements as the fall season approaches and indications are favorable for a good late fall trade in most lines, however, the high prices of practically all staple commodities have a deterrent effect on orders for future delivery in as large quantities as is customary. Dry goods and shoes are fairly active. Produce is in good demand. Naval stores are firm at recent prevailing prices. Tobacco is being marketed in large quantities in North Carolina and prices are well up to the average of recent years. In North Carolina the cotton crops are being marketed at prices ranging up to 14 cents. The quality is good and unless early frost or rains injure the later plantings an average crop is expected in this State. The old crop is well up and mills report orders as satisfactory as could be expected considering the high prices made necessary by the increased cost of raw material. The peanut crop is reported good, both in Virginia and North Carolina. Collections continue slow in most lines; retail trade shows some improvement with the approach of cooler weather.

Cotton Seed May Fetch a Dollar.

They are just monkeying with cotton seed now. We laugh when we think of how our laddies dumped cotton seed in heaps in the fields in winter time, and considered the price of eight cents a bushel for cotton seed ridiculous, but in a few years from now, when you read these lines and he who writes them is pointed out as one of the oldest inhabitants, we will talk of the time when cotton seed brought the low price of 50 cents a bushel.

Not long from now the cotton farmer can get a good big price to allow some one to haul his seed away, bring back every pound of hulls and meal these seed make—will be paid a good big price, we say, for the privilege of extracting the oil from the seed.

A few years ago the Western grain grower had a dream of "dollar wheat." The Southern cotton farmer is sitting up and looking for the day of "dollar cotton seed." It is coming—Monroes Journal.

Gold and Silver.

The two richest colors in the world are gold and silver and one cannot go a mile out from town in any direction without getting in the midst of them. The goldenrod represents the first, the open cotton bolls the latter. Nature seems to have meant the two to go together. Wherever there is a whitened cotton field, there is a fringe along its borders of goldenrod, nature's fit framing for nature's king. What could be more emblematic of the beauty and wealth of the country than an open boll of cotton set in a bunch of goldenrod? It is a bouquet that a monarch's palace would covet. And all over the South this combination of gold and silver is to be seen in lavish profusion. It is a combination that no other country on earth is rich enough to afford. Gold and silver suggests riches. In the autumn evidence of both.—Charlotte Observer.

Special Rates to Wilson

The Norfolk Southern railroad will sell tickets at special low rates to Wilson on Monday, Oct. 3rd, on account of "The Show Girl" to be presented there that date. This attraction is direct from New York after a tremendously successful run at Lew Field's Broadway Theatre. The round trip fare from Washington is $1.00 and from Greenville 75 cents, leaving on train No. 11 and returning on No. 6. Reserve theatre tickets through the Norfolk Southern agent.

New North Carolina Industries.

The Chattanooga Tradesman reports the following new industries established in North Carolina for the week ending Sept 23th:

- Durham—$50,000 automobile company.
- Gastonia—$15,000 drug company.
- Mt. Airy—$25,000 granite company.
- Raleigh—$10,000 planing mill; $10,000 lumber company.
- Spencer—$10,000 drug company.
- Wilmington—Printing company.

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS.

Gathered From Our Exchanges Today of Events Just Happened.

Charlotte Sept. 29.—Ray Miller, a young white man engaged in painting trade, fell from a scaffold on Third street this afternoon and landed on a pile of brick. Miller was rendered unconscious and rushed to the hospital for treatment. The distance of his fall was nearly 30 feet. He is seriously, probably fatally injured.

Rev. J. T. Jenkins, who has been for more than a year a resident of Charlotte and editor of the Christian Home, published in this city, has received a unanimous call the First Baptist church of Lexington, N. C., and has accepted the same to enter upon the work as pastor in a few weeks. Mr. Jenkins has been largely in evangelistic work while connected with the editorial work of the Christian Home, and has held many most successful meetings.—Charlotte News

Yesterday morning in the city market while Mr. Sam Oppenheimer, who is a member of the market firm of M. Oppenheimer, was in the act of cleaning the electric sausage mill, he happened to an accident of catching his right hand in the mill. It was a rare presence of mind that caused Mr. Oppenheimer to use his other hand in getting his right hand from the mill. The second finger was badly mashed and lacerated so that it required several stitches. The other fingers were unhurt, though the finger named is badly bruised and mashed near the end and it may be necessary to take it off at the first joint.—Rocky Mount Record.

Beaufort, Sept. 29.—More than two million Menhaden, commonly called Fatbacks, were caught off the coast and brought to the fish mills here today. More than three million and a half of these fish have been caught in the last two days, and fishermen report that the fishing grounds are still filled with them.

The British steamer Kildale, cleared yesterday with 14,945 bales of cotton for Liverpool, England, the second of the season with the staple for foreign export. The steamer carries a much larger cargo than the Mariner, which sailed for Bremen about the middle of the month, this cargo being valued at $985,000. This is the first steamer from Wilmington to an English port this year.—Wilmington Star.

Spencer, Sept. 29.—Miss Betsey Cruise, a well known citizen near Spencer, lies unconscious at her home tonight as a result of being struck in the head by a windless yesterday afternoon. She was drawing a six gallon bucket of water when her hand slipped off the crank and she was struck a terrific blow in the forehead with the handle, her skull being fractured. She fell unconscious to the ground, eight feet distance, and her condition is hopeless.

THE COMING WINTER.

Prediction That It Will Be The Worst Since 1857.

Weather predictions are interesting hit or miss. Mr. James Abbott, of Greensboro, a man whose business keeps him out doors the year round, has been hitting it very well on what the winter's bring forth. Last September he made a bet of a suit of clothes that there would not be a fall of snow as much as three inches all winter. He won. Last week he wanted to wager a bet with the same man but he declined.

However, he made this prediction, and I'm standing by it to wit: That the coming winter will be the worst since 1857. This will do as a starter, for this was the worst winter ever, with snow on top of snow each from one to four feet deep on a level. Mr. Abbott puts down that there will be at least six snows of six inches deep each before the birds sing again next spring. This is quite enough, but six snows only six inches deep will not compare with the winter of '57. However, it is hoped it will not be any worse than six inches, even if there should be six snows.—Greensboro Record.

Attractive Windows.

At Mr. C. S. Forbes' store are two attractive windows, one advertising the "Walk Over" shoe and the other Hart, Schaffner & Marx clothing. The arrangement of the windows is most artistic and reflects credit in this enterprising store.

HONOR OF MISS BENNETT.

Kitchen Shower Given by Mrs. A. H. Motley at Reidsville.

Saturday afternoon from 4.30 to 6.30, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Motley, on East Market street, Mrs. F. T. Preddy entertained with a "Kitchen Shower" complimentary to Miss Lillie M. Bennett, whose marriage to Mr. E. W. Harvey, of Greenville, N. C., takes place tomorrow.

The color scheme was yellow and white, and the house was handsomely decorated from "kitchen to parlor," with the season's yellow flowers, golden rod predominating, while everywhere were pinned yellow and white hearts. The effect was charming.

One of the first duties assigned to the guests was the writing of a recipe for the bride for use in after life. The prize, a key ring was won by Miss Annie Womack and was in turn bestowed upon the guest of honor, The "booby," a miniature coffee pot, was won by Miss Ida Womack.

A delightful two-course luncheon, consisting of chicken salad, tomatoes with mayonaise, pepper sandwiches, olives, sherry cream and cake, and mints, was served by Misses Susie Stokes, Marion and Myrtle Oliver. The guests wrote original toasts to the groom and these were read aloud. These toasts were gushingly sentimental, full of good advice to the absent one, and provoked no end of merriment.

All sorts of useful things for the kitchen had been sent the day previous and these were brought into the parlor in a large market basket and presented to Miss Bennett, who with her own hands untied the wrappings. Little Miss Margaret Oliver presented each of the guests with souvenirs, miniature knives, forks and spoons, with fortunes attached.

Mrs. Preddy was assisted in receiving by Miss Bennett and Mrs. A. H. Motley.

Miss Bennett was the recipient of many hearty congratulations and wishes for a blissful wedded life. Mrs. Preddy has added no little to the coming event.—Reidsville Weekly, 27th.

Mr. Harvey and Miss Bennett were married in Reidsville, the home of the bride, on Wednesday, and reached Greenville on the midnight train that night. Both are very popular here and have the best wishes of a host of friends. Miss Bennett has been a teacher in Greenville graded school for the last few years. Mr. Harvey is a member of the firm of the Greenville Ice and Coal Company.

CONFEDERATE MONUMENT.

Daughters of Confederacy Appoint Monument Committee.

The Singletary Chapter of the Daughters of Confederacy held a meeting in the music store of Fine-man & White, Thursday, afternoon, to look at designs of a Confederate Monument and discuss means of completing the raising of sufficient funds to erect a monument in Greenville. At this meeting a monument committee was appointed consisting of the following: Mrs. J. G. Moye, chairman, Mesdames J. L. Little, F. G. James, R. J. Cobb, L. C. Arthur, and T. A. Person.

In this laudable enterprise the ladies should have the co-operation not only of all Confederate veterans of the county, but also of the citizens generally. Pitt county has long failed to honor her heroes of the Confederacy with the erection of a monument, and the movement now to perform that neglected duty should be carried to early completion. Another meeting for that purpose will be held in a short while.

Mr. A. S. Blount, of Suffolk Marble Works, had monument designs at the meeting Thursday, and the chapter made a selection and gave him the exclusive contract for the monument. It is to be of Confederate gray granite and the design selected is a handsome one.

Wanted in Kinston Too.

The sheriff of Pitt county brought to the jail in this city for safe keeping, Wednesday evening, four prisoners. When they were placed in jail Sheriff Nunn recognized one of them as Robert Barrow, a negro who escaped from the county road force in this county in June. Barrow was doing time for stealing a cow and was sentenced to 18 months. His trouble at Greenville was selling booze.—Kinston Free Press.

Miss Emma Hardy left this morning for Philadelphia, to enter a college of art.

Mr. A. J. Outterbride went to Hobbart today.

Mrs. Hattie Skinner went to Kellord today.

Mrs. O. C. Calhoun went to Suffolk today.

Mr. J. S. Stump went to Tarboro today.

Elder J. M. Barfield, of the Ayden Free Will Baptist, was here today.

HIGSON DAMAGE SUIT.

Judgment by Default Affirmed by the Supreme Court.

A year or two ago Mr. W. B. Higson had a suit against the North River Fire Insurance Company, of New York, for the loss of a steamboat by fire. In the case, charges and reflections against Mr. Higson, led a suit by him against that company for $25,000 damages. Judgment by default was had in the Superior court here, which the company appealed. The Supreme court has confirmed the judgment by default, and now it comes back to the Superior court for final settlement.

Says It Pays.

Mr. W. M. Pugh, manager of the Greenville Lumber & Veneer Co., called up The Reflector this morning to say that advertising pays. He put a small ad. in Thursday that his company wanted pine and gum logs, he hardly reached his office this morning before offers of logs were coming in. The Reflector "delivers the goods" when people let their wants be known through this paper.

Card of Thanks.

Ayden, N. C., Sept. 30, 1910.
Editor Reflector:

Please allow me space in the Daily as I wish to sincerely thank each and every one, who came to my rescue and so faithfully and heroically assisted myself and Bro. J. M. Dixon in saving our residences from the flames last Sunday night, when my stables and storage houses were burned.

J. J. STOKES.

As Complete as Large Papers.

A subscriber to The Daily Reflector who lives in a distant town, in sending a check for renewal, takes occasion to compliment the paper on its improved appearance. He says that it now looks as well as the city papers, and that he has compared its telegraphic service with other and large papers and finds, that in point of news, it is as complete as any.

Pulley & Bowen's Opening.

On next Wednesday, October 5th, Pulley & Bowen will have their fall opening display of reasonable millinery, as well as new styles in coat suits and dress goods. They cordially invite all the ladies to visit their store that day, as the display will be worth seeing. They also have several notes in our "Bargain Column" that you should not fail to read.

Washington Court Postponed.

Witnesses for the Federal court at Washington, N. C., to have begun October 18th, have been notified that term will not be held and that they need not appear, but they must appear at Elizabeth City court October 11th. New Bern being so much nearer many witnesses would prefer going there if they could.

Mrs. Joyner's Millinery Opening.

I will have my fall millinery opening on Tuesday and Wednesday, October 4th and 5th. I will have on display the fashionable pattern hats and all the latest styles in the ladies' millinery. The public is cordially invited to attend.

A FEW FOXHALL SALES.

He Makes Prices at the Star Warehouse.

Today F. D. Foxhall, at the Star warehouse branch of the Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Company, sold on his floor 23,286 pounds of tobacco at the remarkably high average of $14.33 for the entire sale. This is the high water mark of any sale this season, and shows what Foxhall can do for the farmers. Some of the individual sales were as follows:

For Jesse Barrington—188 at 15 3-4, 170 at 15, 132 at 17, 122 at 21, 84 at 31, 68 at 33, 36 at 41, 12 at 40, 88 at 36, 24 at 30, 46 at 33, 22 at 34, 50 at 39. Average, $24.50.

For Walter Mills—36 at 40, 38 at 45, 72 at 34, 66 at 32, 60 at 26, 22 at 27, 16 at 19. Average, $32.80.

For White & Jackson—138 at 16 3-4, 104 at 12 3-4, 66 at 16, 154 at 23, 116 at 31, 8 at 40, 73 at 36. Average $22.31.

For D. C. Jackson—40 at 14, 160 at 18, 126 at 26, 58 at 33, 42 at 33, 24 at 40, 142 at 11 1-4, 8 at 25. Average, $21.29.

How long since you quit talking for Greenville? Get back on the habit and keep it going

The committee favored Sherman, but the convention favored Roosevelt, which goes to show that a committee cannot always boss the party

With the good season for making hay, there ought to be enough of it in Pitt county this winter to cut off the usual large importations from the West.

Mr. Roosevelt seems to have whipped out the Shermanites from start to finish in the New York Republican State convention.

A close friend of Hon. Locke Craig has given out the statement that he will certainly be a candidate for the nomination of governor before the next Democratic State convention. He ought to be given a clear field, for no man is more entitled to it than Mr. Craig.

Mysterious Pellagra.

Possibly the most pressing problem which confronts the medical profession in the two Carolinas today is the proper treatment of that mysterious affliction known as pellagra. In the search for such a treatment, the doctors endeavor first to discover the cause of the ailment. Thus far the origin of pellagra has baffled discovery, although several hypotheses have been put forward, the best known tracing the disease from the use of inferior or spoiled corn. Unable for the present definitely to locate the cause of pellagra, the profession is by no means confining its attention to that point, but is learning as rapidly as possible what may be found out about the diagnosis and alleviative treatment. Not until the origin of the scourge is known, however, will the physicians be in a position to fight the trouble successfully.

Not a great many months ago the mention of pellagra was an occasion for laughter. When the announcement was first made that the South-Atlantic States were afflicted with the disease which for nearly two centuries had proven so fatal in southern Europe, very little attention was paid. Careful study by public health officials has changed this attitude to a great degree by producing evidence which admits no shadow of a doubt and the farther the investigation has been carried the more serious is the situation seen to be. A recent bulletin of the North Carolina state board of health presents figures showing that the annual death rate within the state from pellagra cannot be much less than 1,000. This figure goes to show that the medical profession did not go upon a wild goose chase in taking up the serious study of the disease.

The bulletin just mentioned calls attention to another feature of the pellagra agitation the importance of which can scarcely be exaggerated. Some protests from influential quarters have been heard, urging that the publication of the facts about pellagra will have a tendency to hurt the state, by giving people elsewhere the idea that North Carolina is unhealthy, and consequently that any investigation attended with publicity is inexpedient. While this view is plausible at first blush, it is quite untenable in the face of 1,000 deaths a year from a cause about which so little is known. The spread of information is the main weapon in the fight against tuberculosis; it will be the main weapon in any contest against pellagra. The two things which the situation imperatively demand are first that the scientific aspect of the disease shall be thoroughly studied by experts, and second that such of their results as bear directly upon general sanitation be given the greatest possible publicity.—Charlotte Observer.

The White Man in the Tropics.

When completed the Panama canal will be the greatest physical triumph in the history of the human race. Its measures of success as a commercial project time will demonstrate. The greatest good, however, which has come with the construction of this canal has been the opportunity it gave the medical profession to prove in a way that would attract the attention of the civilized world that the white man could live and work in the tropics and maintain his health at the same efficiency as at work in the temperate zone.

Dr. William C. Gorges in a recent report shows that the annual death rate of over eight thousand white Americans connected with the commission was four in 1,000, while by comparison the death rate in a population such as New York would be fifteen in 1,000. He may well claim that such a mortality ratio as this among North Americans living in Panama demonstrates a sanitary revolution showing what can be done in the tropics by special care and especial effort by a population entirely unaccustomed.

In certain newspapers where sensational articles are wont to appear criticism has been made of the great expense which the work of sanitation has entailed upon the government. In a careful analysis and presentation of the actual facts in the management of the sanitation department of the Isthmian canal zone the physician in charge shows beyond the possibility of successful contradiction that the necessary sanitation for the protection of the health and life in the tropics can be so economically done that it is within the reach of any community.—New York Sun.

How to Protect America.

We cannot long prosper behind the wall of a monopoly tariff. A recent congress appropriated $55,000,000 to open rivers and harbors for the stimulation of trade. The same congress raised the tariff to discourage trade. When were we right and when were we wrong? The real way to success lies in making better American goods cheaper than they can be made elsewhere, and the cotton manufacturer of Charlotte at that could beat the world so much higher is the efficiency of labor in America. It is true that you pay your operators 30 to 40 per cent more than they do abroad, but this is true of all business. The farmer hand in America gets ten times as much as the farm hand in India, yet the American farmer competes with the world successfully.

If you really want to protect American labor, keep out these pauper laborers, who are coming over here forty-six per cent of the population of Rhode Island is foreign born.—Senator Gore.

A Sorry Spectacle.

The sympathy which Mr. Grant is now appealing for he was never inclined to accord to others. Did he show any sympathy to the Widow Reed when he secretly filed charges against her at Washington? Was he inclined to be sympathetic when the poor woman, almost on bended knees, begged that she be allowed to retain her position? Not much. And yet this man, who wars upon woman, is crying with a lusty voice for sympathy!

The Citizen does not believe that it is necessary to warn the voters of the rural districts against being imposed upon by such cheap tricks as Mr. Grant is now employing. He seeks to play upon the minds of his auditors by wearing a self-assumed halo of martyrdom. We believe that the farmer has already seen through Mr. Grant's thin veneer, and that his little "sympathy racket" is well nigh exploded.—Asheville Citizen.

Cured.

The following is a Chinese joke:
In a certain house there was a baby that annoyed every one by its continual squalling. At last a physician was called in. He administered a bolus of the soothing virtues of which he had a high opinion and offered to pass the night in the house to observe the effects of his remedy. After a few hours, bearing no noise, he exclaimed: "Good! The child is cured!" "Yes," replied the attendant, "the child has indeed stopped crying, but the mother has begun to mourn."

CATARRH GERMS.

Move Out When Hyomei Moves In. No stomach desing. HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-me) is made from the highest grade of eucalyptus, taken from the eucalyptus forest of Australia, and combined with the excellent antiseptics employed in the Listerian system.

In inland Australia the atmosphere is so impregnated with balsam thrown out by the eucalyptus trees that germs cannot live, and in consequence catarrh and consumption are unknown.

Breathe HYOMEI and get the very same pleasant, healing, germ-killing, air as you would get in the eucalyptus forests and kill the germs.

HYOMEI is sold by Coward & Wooten and druggists everywhere, at $1.00 a complete outfit.

An outfit consists of a bottle of HYOMEI, a hard rubber pocket inhaler and simple instructions for use. KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL.
Health is Worth Saving, and Some Greenville People Know How to Save It.

Many Greenville people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger when all diseases and aches and pains due to weak kidneys can be quickly and permanently cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. The following statement leaves no ground for doubt.
Mrs. S. A. Simmons, 504 Heritage St., Kinston, N. C., says: "I found Doan's Kidney Pills to be an effective remedy for kidney trouble and headache. My back pained me for a long time and my kidneys were much disordered. I happened to read about Doan's Kidney Pills, and procuring a box, I began using them. They benefited me in every way and I am now free from backache and am able to rest well; in fact, I feel better in every way. I am glad to give Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement."
For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Twice Declined.
The invitation list of the governor general of Canada is made out strictly in accordance with precedent, but is not kept up to date always, the aid who has to send the invitations out—generally an Englishman or a Scotchman—not always being an courtant with changes on the list. The late Sir Antoine Dorion, chief justice of Quebec, was once invited to some function, as was proper, but Lady Dorion, who was dead, was invited likewise. Sir Antoine accepted for himself, but declined for her ladyship, on the ground that she was in the cemetery. The next year, however, the same mistake was made, so the old judge wrote back to the aid-de-camp in waiting: "Sir Antoine Dorion accepts, etc., but, her ladyship being still in St. Anne's cemetery, Sir Antoine is compelled again to decline the invitation for her."

A New Game.
William is the only son of a plous minister, and, though he is only three and a half years of age, his father considers it quite time he learned properly to observe grace on coming to the table. His parents have more than once endeavored to explain to him the reasons for his so doing, but the little boy regards it as no more than an amusing game.

The other afternoon his older sister made another attempt to interest him in this duty. All were seated at dinner, and on the first words of the grace William's small head dropped in his hands in apparent reverence. His sister, secretly pleased with her success, stole a glance at him, when, to the consternation of the family, he sprang up, shouting gleefully: "Oh, Sis, you're it! I saw you peep!" —Woman's Home Companion.

Barred Them Out.
A proprietor of a cotton mill in England who is something of a philosopher posted up on the factory gates the following notice: "No cigars or good looking men admitted!"

When asked for an explanation he said: "I'll tell you. The one will set a flame agoing among my cottons and the other among the girls. I won't admit such inflammable and dangerous things into my establishment at any risk!"

The Ink That Homer Used.
Ink of various hues was used by the ancient Romans, that of a purple tint being considered the exclusive fluid for the execution of all royal writings, as it was distinctively the royal color. It is said that Homer's works were written in letters of gold on a roll 120 feet in length, formed of the intestines of serpents, but we are left in ignorance as to the method of preparing this ink.

Trying to Prove It.
Angry Father—Great Scott! What are you doing, Johnny? Why, confound it, you've got my new watch all to pieces! Johnny—Yes, dad. Teacher told us today that a good watch ought to have at least 170 parts, so I thought I'd see if yours was a good one.

Preparing Her.
"I hope madame is not superstitious?"
"No, my girl. Why?"
"Because I have just broken the large mirror in the parlor." —Paris Rire.

Match Sticks.
Certain kinds of matches are shaved with the grain from sawed blocks. Others are cut both ways by saws. In still further varieties the blocks are boiled to make them cut easily. By some machines a boiled or steamed log is revolved on its own axis, and a shaving the thickness of a match is cut round and round. This shaving is at the same time cut into lengths and split into match sticks. It may be said that there is hardly a limit to the varieties of methods employed. Round matches are made by forcing them through dies.—Harper's Weekly.

Emmet's Presence of Mind.
A story is told of Robert Emmet which proves his secretive power and resolution. He was fond of studying chemistry, and one night late, after the family had gone to bed, he swallowed a large quantity of corrosive sublimate in mistake for some acid cooling powder. He immediately discovered his mistake and knew that death must shortly ensue unless he instantly swallowed the only antidote, chalk. Timid men would have torn at the bell, roused all the family and sent for a stomach pump. Emmet called no one, made no noise, but, stealing down stairs and unlocking the front door, went into the stable, scraped some chalk which he knew to be there and took sufficient doses of it to neutralize the poison.

Queen Elizabeth's Amulet.
Queen Elizabeth during her last illness wore around her neck a charm made of gold which had been bequeathed to her by an old woman in Wales, who declared that so long as the queen wore it she would never be ill. The amulet, as was generally the case, proved of no avail, and Elizabeth, notwithstanding her faith in the charm, not only sickened, but died. During the plague in London people wore amulets to keep off the dread destroyer. Amulets of arsenic were worn near the heart. Quills of quicksilver were hung around the neck and also the powder of toads.

No Swelling at All.
"I see not one ripple on the water. All is calmness," said the little German lady, looking out dreamily over the quiet sea. "I had crossed the ocean when it was calm like this all the way over."
"Do you mean that there was no swell even in midocean?" asked her companion, who had never crossed at all.
"No, no swelling at all," was the reply.—New York Press.

Wherein They Differ.

WISE AND FOOLISH VIRGINS
Matthew 25:1-13—October 2

"Be ye therefore ready also; for the Son of man cometh at an hour when ye think not."
—Luke 12:40.

THE Great Teacher in today's Study tells us further about his glorious Messianic Kingdom and concerning those who will be accounted worthy to share it with him—as his Bride. This parable has not been of general application all through this Gospel Age. It applies merely at the close of the Age—at the present time, we believe. It does not take into consideration the world, nor even the nominal Church, but solely, only, the true Church, the Virgin class. The word "virgin" signifies pure, and in using this term the Lord implies that he is referring only to those who have been justified, by faith and consecration, because by nature none are pure; none are holy; none are virgins.

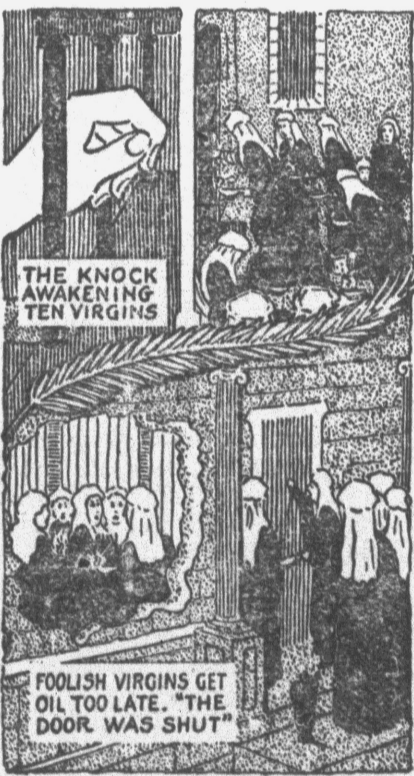

Five Wise—Five Foolish

One of the special lessons of the parable is to show that amongst the pure, the wise, the consecrated people of God, there are two classes. For a time these will be all together—unseparated. But in the fulfilling of this parable certain circumstances and conditions and truths will develop and separate these two classes of saints, virgins.

The parable shows all the virgins as sleeping, waiting for the coming of the Bridegroom. Apparently, there is no difference; but really there is a difference—the wise had a larger supply of oil than had the foolish. Then came an announcement of the presence of the Bridegroom and a call to go forth to meet him. This implies that something from the prophetic Word at the appropriate time will call the attention of all the Virgin class to the presence of Messiah. But at the Second Advent it will be as it was at the First Advent, when John said to Jesus, "Behold there standeth one among you whom ye know not." We are not to expect the Second Coming of Christ in the flesh, but as a spirit being.

We are to remember that the Scriptures outline two distinct features connected with the Second Coming. First will come the parousia or "presence" of the Lord, recognizable only by the Wise and Foolish Virgins. In his parousia or "presence" he will test and prove his Church, dividing them into wise and foolish virgin classes—the wise virgins to become the Bride class and the foolish virgins to become the class who will experience a second grade of salvation—coming up out of great tribulation and becoming the Bridesmaids, so to speak, "the virgins, the Bride's Companions, who follow after her" (Psalm xlv, 14). These will attain great blessings in spiritual life, but fail to gain the prize of joint-heirship with the Lord in his Throne, in his Kingdom.

Later on will come the manifestation of Christ with his Church, in power and great glory, in the setting up of his Messianic Kingdom and in the overthrow of everything contrary to it. Concerning this manifestation we read, "When he shall appear, etc. also (the Bride class), will appear with him in glory."—Col. iii, 4.

It will be in the time of the presence, the parousia, of the Son of man, for the gathering of the "elect," that all the Virgins will be awakened by the message of the Truth. Some will be able to appreciate, others will not be able to appreciate his presence. The latter will need to "go and buy" the oil, the wisdom, the understanding, of the Divine Word. It will cost some of them considerable of self-sacrifice and humiliation to learn their lessons. Such as obtain the oil in time will join the party that will go in with the Bridegroom to the marriage feast. Then the door to that High Calling will close forever.

Thank God that it is not as we once supposed—that the door of mercy is to close, shutting out the foolish Virgins of the Church, together with the whole world of mankind; and, as we once supposed, shutting them into eternal torment. The parable merely shows that the closed door will exclude any others from coming into the Bride class, to be joint-heirs with Messiah in his Kingdom. The door will close because the full number elected and predestinated to this high honor will have attained the necessary character-likeness of Christ and will have stood the necessary testings.

As no one of the Jewish priests could ever serve as High Priest if he had a superfluous finger or toe, it is thus shown in the type that the antitypical High Priest, the Messiah, will have only a definite, fixed number of members in his Body—neither one too few nor one too many. Later the foolish Virgins came to the door, but found it forever shut. They lost the great prize. They were foolish in that they did not give attention to getting the oil in time; foolish also in that they cared too much for the things of this present life; but they were Virgins, nevertheless. They finally got the oil, which represents the holy Spirit, but too late! The door was shut! They could not be of the Bride class. The Master answered, I know you not. I could not recognize you as my Bride.

In view of this the Lord exhorts that his consecrated followers of the Church or Virgin class be constantly on the alert, because they know neither the day nor the hour of the Master's coming and of the invitation to go in to the wedding. The parable shows, however, that although the time of the Master's coming could not be known in the past, nevertheless, it would be known to all of the Virgin class "in due time." It will be announced, as indicated in the cry. The cry will be so loud that all of the Virgins will hear it, even though the world will have no knowledge of it. The Master merely wished us to understand that the great event would not be foretold in advance.

The parable does not show how the foolish Virgins, excluded from the wedding and from membership in the Bride class, will be treated. Other Scriptures, however, show that this foolish virgin class will share with the world in a great time of trouble, which will then come to every nation. In that time of trouble these foolish virgins will suffer severely and "Wash their robes and make them white in the blood of the Lamb," and thereafter be accounted worthy to "serve God in his Temple," though not worthy to be of the Temple. They will be accounted worthy to serve before the Throne, though not worthy to sit in the Throne. They will be accounted worthy to have palms of victory, but not be accounted worthy of crowns of glory. The lesson to God's people is to Awaken, to hearken, to have our lamps, the Word of God, trimmed and burning, and to have oil, the holy Spirit, in our vessels—to be living in an attitude of full consecration to God (Revelation vii, 9, 14, 15).
