TERRIBLE HURRICANE SWEEPING THE COAST.

LEAVING A TRAIL OF DEATH AND DESTRUCTION.

Town After Town Cut Off From Communication—Untold Damage to Property and Great Loss of Life.

By Wire to The Reflector.

Savannah, Oct. 19.—For five hundred miles from southern points the Florida Atlantic coast has been battered by the hurricane for thirty-six hours. The storm is still raging on land and sea. The gale at times exceeds the velocity of hundred miles per hour. All communication with Savannah is cut off. The hurricane is sweeping up the coast cutting off town after town from connection, rolling a huge tidal wave over coast towns, leaving a swal of death in its wake and causing a property loss almost incalculable. Jacksonville, Brunswick, Ga., and Savannah are entirely cut off from communication with the world. Stories of untold damage to property and loss of life are coming in from all sections. Numerous boats are believed to be lost.

JUDGE LANDIS CALLS PACKERS.

They Must Enter Pleas on or Before December 10th.

By Wire to The Reflector.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—Judge Landis today ordered the nine millionaire packers to enter their pleas on or before December 10th. Attorneys May or & Miller appeared for the packers while United States District Attorney Sims and James Wilkerson appeared for the government. The packers are indicted with formation of the alleged beef trust.

WELLMAN WILL TRY AGAIN

New Balloon Will Be Built for Next Effort

By Wire to The Reflector.

New York, Oct. 19.—Wellman is planning to head another trans Atlantic expedition. This is indicated in a message from him today. His next balloon will be built along different lines from the ill fated America. It will be longer and more powerful, minus the equilibrium which caused all the trouble. Steamer bringing Wellman and crew back will arrive in New York this afternoon.

Sick Juror Delays Trial.

By Cable to The Reflector.

London, Oct. 19.—The trial of Dr. H. H. Crippen, charged with the murder of his wife, was delayed two hours today by the sudden illness of a juror. At the time the juror was stricken Inspector Dew, of Scotland Yard, was on the stand. The same mighty multitude crushed the historic court house. Crippen had a great deal to say to his counsel and apparently was not worried.

African Grosbeaks.

The social grosbeaks of South Africa live in large societies. They select a tree of considerable size and literally cover it with a grass roof, under which their common dwelling is constructed. The roof serves the double purpose of keeping off the heat and the rain, and 400 or 500 pairs of birds are known to have the same shelter. The nests in this aerial dwelling are built in regular streets and closely resemble rows of tenement houses.

A Financial Genius.

"He is a financial genius. In a restaurant the other day he spilled a cup of coffee over a fellow's gray trousers."

"And got out of paying for them, eh?"

"Why, he talked the other fellow into paying for the coffee."

The Man Behind the Message.

The value of a thing depends largely upon who says it. Words may be bullets, but character must be the powder at the back of them to give them projectile force. The man behind the message is as important as the man behind the gun.

By Comparison.

Singleton—I understand you had a pretty lively time at the club last night. Wedmore—I thought so until I got home.—Boston Transcript.

AFTER THE NEW YORK BRIBERS

Investigation Started Today—One Ex
Senator Refused to Testify

By Wire to The Reflector.

New York, Oct. 19.—The legislative investigation into the attempt to defeat the anti-race track betting bills by the use of $500,000 bribe money, began today. A sensational story of corruption is expected. Ex state Senator Benn Coger will appear at the trial. The names of many prominent city officials will be disclosed as the men who gave out money to have the bill defeated.

New York, Oct. 19.—Frank J. Gardner ex-state senator, under indictment charged with attempted bribery, baffled the legislative investigators today by refusing to answer any question on the ground that it might tend to degrade and incriminate him. Ex-State Senator Otto Foelker testified that he had been offered six thousand dollars to vote against the anti-betting bills and twelve thousand of this sum was offered by Gardner.

The Church and Advertising

The church as much as anything else, requires publicity in order to promote its best aims, to win success in the world.

There has prevailed, and is in much less degree today, a sentiment that the church in advertising its merits as a place for people to attend, was transgressing upon its sanctity. Never was graver error, for the Master's instructions to His followers was publicity to the world, and it was when the church fell into more or less secrecy, failed to avail itself of means to attract, that it lost its force to bring man within its walls. The church notice of services, day, hour and place, has brought in many a man, who otherwise would not have gone to a religious service. The publication of a song service, of some distinguished singer, or quartet, often a sacred instrumental concert has brought in men and women who would not have come, if they had not been thus publicly attracted.

The voice from the pulpit will fall in large measure, unless there be the outside notice calling attention to what the pulpit has to declare to a starving multitude, hungry for divine food. It is the church publicity, its advertising that brings in those who may come to scoff, but finding that the church is honest and sincere in its advertising, will remain to pray.—New Bern Sun.

A CHEERFUL FACE.

Next to the sunlight of heaven is a cheerful face. There is no mistaking it. The bright eye, the unclouded brow, the sunny smile—all tell of that which dwells within. Who has not felt its electrifying influence? One glance at this face lifts us out of the mists and shadows into the beautiful realms of hope. One cheerful face in the household will keep everything warm and light within. Ah, there is a world of magic in the cheerful face!

HAPPENINGS THROUGHOUT NORTH CAROLINA.

CREAM OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE EXCHANGES.

Miss Lucy Joyner Dying in Washington Hospital—Flying Machine Seen Passing Over Pomona.

Greensboro, Oct. 18.—Mr. Andrew Joyner left tonight for Washington, N. C., upon the receipt of a telegram announcing that his oldest sister, Miss Lucy Joyner, who is in a hospital there is dying.

Soaring high above the earth with the speed of the wind, a heavier than air machine, supposedly a biplane, sailed over Pomona yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock and greatly disturbed the tranquility of that little suburban village. They saw it coming, it was over them and it disappeared leaving only a thin trail of gasoline smoke across the sky to tell where it had been.—Greensboro News

The Leech as a Barometer.

A leech confined in a glass jar of water will prove an excellent weather prophet. If the weather is to continue fine the leech lies motionless at the bottom of the vial and rolled together in a spiral form. If it is to rain, either before or after noon, it is found to have crept up to the top of its lodging and there remains till the weather is settled. If we are to have wind the prisoner wriggles through his limpid habitation with amazing swiftness and seldom rests till it begins to blow hard. If a remarkable storm of thunder and rain is to succeed the leech gives itself up to violent throes and convulsive motions. In frost, as in clear summer weather, it lies constantly at the bottom, and in snow, as in rainy weather, it pitches its dwelling on the very mouth of the jar.

Her First Poem.

She was one of those soft eyed maidens, sweetly innocent, shy and gentle. She was unaccustomed to newspaper offices, but, being ambitious, she managed to find enough courage to try winning an editor's sympathy, sympathy to be expressed by the acceptance of her poem.

"I have here," she said demurely, "a little verse I've composed. I really don't know what you'll think of it. You may not like it at all, but it's my first—that is, the first I've ever written for a newspaper—and I'd be very pleased indeed if you honestly thought it was good."

The editor kept at his work, now and then scowling, but not at the young woman especially.

"It's about a maiden tripping o'er the lea," she continued.

"What was the trouble?" asked the man behind the paper. "Couldn't she lift her feet?"—Philadelphia Times.

Slightly Mixed.

He wasn't good at conundrums, but when his turn came to ask one at a little social party he thought he could remember a good one he had heard. It was the old riddle:

"Why is a woman like the ivy?"

The answer, of course, is the gallant explanation:

"Because the more you're ruined the closer she sticks."

But he got it mixed and asked:

"Why is the ivy like a woman?"

None of the ladies present could give an appropriate reply, so he himself ventured this maladroit solution:

"Because the closer it clings the more you're ruined."

Spoiled It For Him.

Mr. Clarke's butler had asked for a night off, for the purpose, as he explained, of attending a ball in the village. The next day Mr. Clarke asked him how he had enjoyed himself.

"Oh, pretty good, sir, thank you," was the response. "It would have been better if it hadn't a-been for the women. I can't abide women at a ball."—New York Press.

A Beautiful Thought.

A little girl absorbed in gazing at the starry skies being asked of what she was thinking said, "I was thinking if the wrong side of heaven is so glorious what must the right side be!"

A Threat.

Immature Conductor (to clarinet player)—See here, Mr. Schlag, why don't you follow my beat? Veteran Clarinet (solemnly)—If you don't look owd I will!—Puck.

A Surprise.

Gertie—I want to give my sweetheart a surprise on his birthday. Can you suggest something? Arabel—Well, you might tell him your age.

Bad men excuse their faults; good men will leave them.—Johnson.

Reading Lesson No. 7 for 2nd Grade.

How doth the busy split-log drag
Improve each passing day?
Is it by filling up the holes,
And knocking bumps away?
That, it seems, was the intent,
When the drag was bought;
But resting idly in the barn
Its work will count for naught.
Get busy, Mr. Aldermen,
And bring the log drag out.
To fix the streets; and then the folks
Will all, your praises shout.

THE REPUBLICAN EX. COM

R. C. Flanagan, Chairman.

G. W. Prescott, Secretary.

At one time the poets, which were the newspaper men of that day, put all of Greece and Asia to sword about an apple. Public sentiment has undergone little change since, judging from some of the results of wild talk and excitement growing out of newspaper discussion. The most important department of any community is its newspaper department wisely and judiciously conducted and on the other hand there is nothing that will bring a community into disrepute more than to tolerate an ignoramus or designing head of this department. There are towns well known only and through their good newspapers and the good that is done in this direction is incalculable. This being true it is the duty of every good citizen to uphold and encourage the local papers that are doing their duty. A paper rightly conducted is the guardian as well as the mouthpiece of the community and should therefore have the support of those who have at heart the best interests of all.—High Point Enterprise.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 19, 1910.

The Democrats will wind Butler up in a spoolgown and lay him away.

Wellman did not get there, but he will "come back."

The census returns is developing that some cities were padding while the counting was going on. None of these were in North Carolina.

If Wellman did not go very far on his ocean balloon trip, we bet he got enough out of it for a long string of newspaper articles.

The question now is, which is going to be the next biggest town in the state.—Durham Herald.

Raleigh can answer that question for you.

Talk about girls that are pretty girls, if that would be red headed editor of the Wilmington Dispatch would just come this way we'd show him some.

Wellman made such a fine start on his attempt to cross the ocean in a balloon, that it really aroused some faith in the fellow. He may try it again, and here is hoping him better success.

When Walter Wellman started out for that balloon trip across the ocean he took along enough rations to last his crew for fifty days. Pity that all that lump of rations went to feed the fishes in this time of high priced eating.

In Raleigh they got up a badge with the words "Ask Me," intending that they should be worn by those of whom questions for information might be asked by visitors to the fair. The Times intimates that when the badges were ready for distribution the old maids of the city made a rush for them.

Gov. Aycock Replies

In his speech at Laurinburg on the 14th Governor Charles B. Aycock replied to circular letters from Iredell Mearns, late Democrat now Republican candidate for congress in the Sixth district, and Chairman Morehead, asking him if he had said that the Republicans were listening with favor to the holders of fraudulent tax bonds. In reply he says:

"But if the Republicans are seriously seeking proof that the bondholders are contributing, or will contribute to their campaign fund, some weighty reasons can be given for believing that this is true. In first place, the bonds were issued by the Republicans when they were in power in North Carolina. As soon as the Democratic party came into full power it repudiated the bonds and submitted an amendment to the constitution to the people forbidding the payment of the same unless the people voted on the question. It is clear, therefore, that the bondholders do not expect the Democratic party to pay these bonds unless the people order them paid, and this is the position which the Democratic party took in 1879 and has maintained ever since. The only hope, therefore, of the bondholders to secure favorable action in regard to their bonds is in the Republican party.

"In the next place, Senator Butler was of counsel for Schaefer Brothers in the collection of the bonds held by them against the State of North Carolina, and he engineered the transfer $10,000 of these bonds to the State of South Dakota in order that suit might be brought in the name of that State against North Carolina. He succeeded in that suit. It is but fair that I should state that the Schaefer and South Dakota bonds were not among the fraudulent special tax bonds, but the point is, that Senator Butler, while still holding the Senatorship for North Carolina, was employed by Schaefer Bros. to overturn a settlement and compromise which had been offered by the State of North Carolina and accepted by all the other bondholders except Schaefer Bros. In his sworn testimony in the trial of the case, he declares that he was employed by Schaefer Bros. in January, 1901. At that time he was Senator from North Carolina and was employed to overturn the settled and long-continued policy of this State, which was to carry out the compromise of 1879 by which these bonds were to be paid at the rate of 25c on the dollar. As soon as this suit was decided in favor of the State of South Dakota, the holders of special tax bonds became extremely active. They have gathered up these bonds from the four corners of the earth, have appointed a committee and put them in charge of the collection of the bonds, and are now actively engaged in a propaganda for the payment of the bonds, sending out circulars and publishing newspaper articles, urging the State to settle these bonds. Just at the time of their unusual activity in asserting their right to collect these bonds, Senator Butler becomes again prominent in North Carolina politics. He not only becomes prominent, but is the head of the Republican party. According to his own statement, he was for a long time the manager of Morehead's candidacy for the chairmanship. While he was still managing Morehead's candidacy, the Greensboro News used this language about him: 'Who made Mr. Butler a man of means? Whence comes the boodle for the expensive campaign he has been waging "so assiduously" since January last? Are these irrepressible bondholders behind him? Are they expecting legislation favorable to their contention in the event Mr. Butler's astute campaign results in a Republican legislature?' These are the questions of the Republican organ. They are not my questions—they are not my assertions. That paper has now the same management and the same editorial control which it had when these questions were asked. You are familiar with that form of rhetorical question which is the highest form of assertion. 'Is the Lord's hand waxed short?' is the most pathetic way of asserting that His hand is not shortened, and while the Greensboro News was perhaps not familiar with the scripture when it asked its question about Butler, its question is the most emphatic assertion that the bondholders were behind Butler. If we can not believe Republicans when they tell on one another, when can we believe them, and if we make assertions against their party, based on their testimony about one another, who is to blame, we or they?"

Hugo and Garibaldi.

Visitors to Guernsey are sometimes able to see Hauteville, where Victor Hugo, the French poet, lived and died. In his house is a handsomely furnished room, which was specially prepared by Victor Hugo for Garibaldi, who had promised to be his guest. Everything which Victor Hugo thought Garibaldi would appreciate was placed in this room. But Garibaldi changed his plans and never visited Hauteville. Today the room has a pathetic interest, prepared for the guest who never came.—Sunday at Home.

Good Way to Use Hyomei for Catarrh.

Besides breathing through the inhaler a few times a day, many catarrh sufferers write that they find inhaling HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-me) from a bowl of steaming water each night before retiring a great aid in curing stubborn cases. Try it; it's very simple; gives quick relief and makes you breathe easier. Fill a bowl half full of boiling water; pour into the water a teaspoonful of HYOMEI, cover head and bowl with a towel, and breathe through nose and mouth the pleasant, medicated, antiseptic and healing vapor that arises. This method relieves that stiffness at once, and makes your head feel fine. You can get a bottle of HYOMEI at druggists everywhere or at Coward & Wooten's for only 50 cents. Ask for extra bottle HYOMEI Inhaler. But bear in mind that a HYOMEI outfit which includes inhaler and bottle of HYOMEI costs $1.00. But, as stated before, if you already own an inhaler a bottle of HYOMEI costs but 50 cents. HYOMEI is guaranteed by Coward & Wooten and druggists everywhere to cure catarrh, sore throat, coughs, colds, asthma and croup, or money back. Try it on that generous basis.

The Mosquito Family.
The mosquito family is a large one,
as might be suspected. The experts have captured, identified and classified no less than 125 different species. In addition to the simon pure mosquito, there are any number of counterfeits.
Scores of them are so closely allied to the real thing in looks, buzz and other characteristics as to be mistaken by the amateur for a member of the original family.

Lord Stanley and the Scot.

The antipathy which Dr. Johnson bore to Scotland was not singular or unprecedented. Lord Stanley came plainly dressed to request a private audience of King James I. A gayly dressed Scotchman refused him admittance into the king's closet. The king, hearing an altercation between the two, came out and inquired the cause.
"My liege," said Lord Stanley, "this gay countryman of yours has refused me admittance to your presence."

"Cousin," said the king, "how shall I punish him? Shall I send him to the Tower?"

"Oh, no, my liege," replied Lord Stanley, "inflict a severer punishment;
send him back to Scotland."

ROYAL

STANDARD TYPEWRITER

The Royal represents economy in more ways than one:

It costs less to keep in order, because it STAYS in order--doesn't waste time by breaking down on a busy day. It turns out MORE work, because it is easier to understand, easier to operate, and capable of unlimited speed. It does BETTER work, and lasts LONGER, because it is simpler, has fewer working parts, and they are made of better material's.

A Royal in your office will soon save its own cost.

PRICE, $65.00--The right price to pay for a high-grade typewriter

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL.

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Greenville People Know How to Save It.

Many Greenville people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger when all diseases and aches and pains due to weak kidneys can be quickly and permanently cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. The following statement leaves no ground for doubt.

Mrs. S. A. Simmons, 504 Heritage
St., Kinston, N. C., says: "I found Doan's Kidney Pills to be an effective remedy for kidney trouble and headache. My back pained me for a long time and my kidneys were much dis-ordered. I happened to read about Doan's Kidney Pills, and procuring a box, I began using them. They benefitted me in every way and I am now free from backache and am able to rest well; in fact, I feel better in every way. I am glad to give Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N.
Y., sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Took Him at His Word.

In the year of 1083 the forces of King Alfonso VI. attacked the Moors and drove them out of Madrid. In this connection there is a legend that the Segovians, who were allies of Alfonso, had been checked by the snows in the mountain passes of Fuenfria and were therefore late in overtaking the main body of the army, which had sat down before Madrid. "Sire," they inquired of the king, "where shall we camp?" "Inside the city," returned Alfonso with a sneer, being angry with them because of their tardiness. They took the king at his word, carried the walls, and the next morning the banner of Segovia was floating from a turret of the gate of Guadalajara.

Bogey.

Stranger—I say, my lad, what is considered a good score on these links? Caddie—Well, sir, most of the gents here tries to do it in a few strokes as they can, but it generally takes a few more.—Scottish American.

Animals and Climbing.

Bears can climb well if little, but the grizzly and other large species stay mainly on the ground. A bear always climbs down a tree backward, as does the domestic cat until she has nearly reached the ground, when she turns and jumps, but most wildcats run down a trunk head first, even the heavy leopard being a more skillful climber than the light house cat. The tiger and lion, however, do not climb, for no discoverable reason unless it be that they fear falling on account of their weight.

Hugging a Delusion.

Willie—Father, what does hugging a delusion mean? Father—Well, my boy, young Mr. Strong is an instance. He thinks your sister Clara is only twenty-two!

'Tis far better to love and be poor than be rich with an empty heart.—Lewis Morris.
