HAYTIAN GUNBOAT LOST.

Seventy Persons Lost or Drowned, Including Ten Generals.

By Cable to The Reflector.
Port Au Prince, Hayti, Oct. 26.—Seventy persons were killed or drowned when the Haytian gunboat Liberte, was lost at sea off Port de Paiz, following an explosion on board. Twenty were rescued. A storm was raging off the coast at the time of the accident and those who put off from the boat reached shore with the greatest difficulty. The gunboat was badly torn by the explosion and was left at the mercy of the battering seas. She was settling when the men deserted her. The accident occurred yesterday, news reaching the capital today. Among those drowned were ten Haytian generals, who were on their way to take command of several army divisions in the North.

PARIS AVIATOR KILLED.

Falls 175 Feet and is Terribly Crushed to Death.

By Cable to The Reflector.
Paris, Oct. 26.—Aviator Blanchard fell 175 feet today at Issy, and was instantly killed. His body was terribly crushed. He was attempting to alight. This is the thirty-fourth man killed within a year in aviation.
Another Starts for London.
Paris, Oct. 26.—Aviator Morrison started from aviation field at Issy today to make the flight to London, in the attempt to duplicate the flight of John B. Moissant, American

DR. BOOKER T. WASHINGTON.

Will Speak at Parmele, Wednesday, November 2nd.

"The Wizard of Tuskegee" will speak at Parmele, N. C., on Wednesday, November 2nd, at 5.30 p. m.
All the evening trains will arrive in time for the occasion and as the speech will be delivered at the railroad station, those who come to hear him will have time to return on outgoing trains.
This will be Dr. Washington's first visit to this section of North Carolina and the arrangement to have him speak at Parmele is merely to give many their first opportunity to see and hear him. It is hoped that the citizens will turn out en masse to hear the distinguished negro.

LABOR UNIONS ORDERED OUT

Will Act With Independents in Pennsylvania Election.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Wilkesbarre, Oct. 26.—The Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor has issued an official circular ordering all workmen affiliated with it to strike on election day and unite in independent action at polls. This means a complete suspension of labor on that day with labor forces arrayed with the independents in the state contest.

Another Flight Across Channel.

By Cable to The Reflector.
London, Oct. 26.—The English Channel was again successfully crossed today by an aeroplane on the Morning Post airship, which started from Maisons, France, at ten o'clock this morning and passed Brighton at 2.15 this afternoon for Aldershot.

Former Georgia Governor Dead.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 26.—Former Governor Allen D. Candler, died early today. He had served Georgia in many capacities and was well known over the south.

More Third Crop Apples.

Today Mr. J. R. Tucker, who lives on Greenville R. F. D. No. 3, brought The Reflector a twig containing two apples of third crop growth this year on the same tree.

DIFFERENCE IN TOBACCO.

Good Quality, Well Handled, Brings Best Price.

An ignorant man, so far as tobacco is concerned, asks the question, why, if one farmer received an average of 11 cents per pound for his tobacco, the general market average does not show 11 cents? And the funny part of the thing is that, such men pretend to advise farmers as to what is best for them etc. Now, we know of a man who received an average of nearly 30 cents per pound for his tobacco on the Winston-Salem market last week. We know of another man who received an average less than 6 cents. Now, what's the difference in prices? One man had good tobacco, marketed in good condition. The other fellow had poor tobacco, some of it being wet and damaged. That's all.—Winston-Salem Tobacco Journal.

Young Men's Day, October 29th.

State Democratic Chairman Eller has appointed October 29th as young men's day. On that day all of the Democratic speakers over the State will give special attention to young men. In response to ex-Gov. Jarvis's recent letter asking that the young men of the State to take their proper place in public service, many young men throughout the State have written letters of appreciation. These expressions have been so full of zeal and patriotism that Chairman Eller has decided to make "Young Men's Day" a State-wide event. In every county in the State some young man of high character and useful purpose is being appointed to lead the young voters in their work for the State and for the Democratic party, whose mission it is to serve the State. Hundreds of young men will cast their first vote this year. The object of the movement is to so fix the minds of these upon the duties of citizenship that they will become citizens always ready to study public questions and to vote intelligently for their country's welfare. Young men have been standard bearers in the Democratic party from the day of Jefferson down to Bryan.

The fathers of this country poured out their blood and treasure to free the new land from the tyranny of monarchy and aristocracy. They succeeded, but to-day a new and deadlier form of tyranny is fastening its fangs upon our country, and threatens to turn a government dedicated to liberty and human rights into a land of oppression with all power concentrated into the hands of a few men. Taking their cue from Alexander Hamilton, who believed that the people were not fit to rule themselves, Republican leaders are to-day virtually denying the fundamental truths of equality upon which this government was founded. Under their rule a few men are acquiring all power and the masses are being reduced to a condition that abolishes the equality of opportunity. Unless the present movement is checked, the upward road that has always been open to our young men will be blocked, both in business and politics. The natural place for young men is in the Democratic party, whose purpose is to keep the road to opportunity open. The Republican party, standing for trusts, monopolies and narrowing opportunities is not the natural home of the vigorous, manly young men who ask only a free hand and a fair chance to turn the country over to the unchecked wishes of the Republican party, and the average young man can only hope to be a clerk in the ranks of the monopolies, and if he be an exceptionally able man, he may hope to rise to be head clerk. But that is all. Corporate organization and wealth are clutching into their deadly grip the opportunities of a once free land. If the men of to-day would bequeath a heritage of freedom and of opportunity to their sons, they must fight now. The Democratic party stands for the open road. It believes that the people can and should govern themselves. It believes that America needs only a fair field and an even chance, and for that it will die in the last ditch. It is the standard for the young men to enlist under, and it depends upon them to take their places and do their duty.

Quit the Business.

One of the near-beer dealers here has become disgusted with it and quit the business. That is what they all ought to do, and not wait until they are forced to quit. The latter alternative is coming to those who persist in keeping on.

STATE BOARD FAVORS TOWNS.

Hearing Before Health Officers—Ordering Sewerage.

Raleigh, Oct. 25.—The State Board of Health, after hearing lengthy and heated discussions by State Engineer Ludlow and delegations from Rocky Mount and Tarboro as to the sewerage disposal plants for those towns for the protection of the Greenville water supply, adopts a resolution authorizing the authorities of Rocky Mount and Tarboro to proceed with the installation of plants to cost about $6,000 each instead of filtration plants that the State engineer insisted on that would cost over $23,000 each. The resolution specified that the State Board of Health should have close supervision over the plants as installed and operated. Taroro is 54 miles below Rocky Mount on Tar river and Greenville is 24 miles below Tarboro. Greenville is especially concerned. All three have to get their water supply from the river and also turn their sewerage into it. Here for Tarboro making the fight for the lower priced plant were Mayor Paul Jones, T. T. Thorne, W. S. Clark and J. W. Weddell. For Rocky Mount there were T. H. Battle, Senator Bassett and Mr. Gay. Officers of both Tarboro and Rocky Mount declared they just would not undertake to install the higher priced plants demanded by the engineer.—Charlotte Observer.

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS.

Gathered From Our Exchanges Today of Events Just Happened.

Wilson, Oct. 25.—Police Officer D. C. Bissett, of Ballevs, was in Wilson this morning armed with a warrant charging Albert Langley, a teamster, with throwing a bottle from a Norfolk Southern train into a crowd at Bailey last Saturday night while the train was bringing a tremendous crowd from the state fair. The officer said that it would be proven at the trial that at every station between Bailey and Raleigh, the young man performed the same stunt. Langley will be given a hearing at Bailey next Monday morning before 'Squire Jess' Fulgham. Langley protests his innocence and says he can prove it.

Wilson Oct. 25.— This afternoon quite a commotion was caused around the court house when G. A. Bell, a near-beer dealer, was brought in under arrest on the charge of bigamy. For five weeks past, Mr. W. M. Haynes, manager of the Haynes Detective agency of Tarboro, has been on the track of Bell. He was accompanied here by Attorney W. I. Halstead, of South Mills, Camden county, N. C., who had in his possession a picture of Bell himself and his second wife with their child in the group. When Mr. Halstead identified Bell the proper papers were prepared and he was arrested by Deputy Sheriff George Mumford, and locked up awaiting the coming of an officer from Camden county to take the prisoner back where the felony was committed.

Union Prayer Meeting Tonight.

The union prayer meeting in preparation for the meeting to be held here by Dr. William Black, beginning November 13th, will be held tonight in the Christian church, conducted by Rev. Charles C. Ware.
Immediately after the prayer meeting there will be a song rehearsal. Those who will join the chorus during the meeting should be present at this rehearsal.

A Bale to The Acre.

Mr. J. J. Turnage brought a couple of bales of cotton here today to sell. He has eleven acres planted in the staple and has sold nine bales and will sell two more. Mr. Jim Davenport says if all the farmers would do this well and cotton continued to sell at the present price they could tell J. D. Rockefeller to go to H— with all his money.

Bumper Tobacco Sale.

The tobacco warehouses had one of the biggest days of the season on Tuesday. There was about 200,000 pounds on the floors, and even with such a large break, prices were so good that the farmers were all pleased. Greenville leads all the time on selling tobacco.

Very best butter 40 cents per pound at J. P. & J. G. Moyer's.

FUNERAL OF MR. ZENO BROWN.

Body Rests in Cherry Hill Cemetery.

On the afternoon of Monday, October 24th, at half past three o'clock, the funeral services of the late Mr. Zeno Brown, were conducted in St. Paul's Episcopal church, Greenville, N. C.
The remains of Mr. Brown reached home Sunday evening, being accompanied from Florida, the place of his death, by his friend, Mr. Lester Savage.

The burial services were conducted by the Rev. B. F. Huske, former rector of St. Paul's church.

During the service the choir sang "Lead Kindly Light," and "Rock of Ages," "Abide With Me," was sung at the grave after the body was laid to rest.

The flowers with which the grave was covered were beautiful and in great abundance, and were expressive of the deep sympathy of a great number of friends. A large concourse of people attended the funeral, and it was evident that the heart of the entire community was deeply touched by the sad death of this estimable young man.

Zeno Brown was industrious and faithful, highly esteemed by the firm for which he worked, and beloved by a large circle of friends.

The following were the pall bearers Messrs. John Shelburn, Bascom Wilson, Walter Barnhill, Norman Warren, A. L. Blow, Jr., James Anderson, and L. L. Savage.

The relatives who had come from a distance on account of the death of Mr. Brown were Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Jenkins, of Charlotte; Mr. and Mrs. John Perder and Mr. Cotten, of Tarboro.

Eochdale Items.

Rochdale, N. C., Oct. 26.—Messrs. Leon and Johnnie Tyson, of Renston were in our section Thursday night, visiting relatives.

Our section was represented at three Sunday schools Sunday evening. Some went to the Allen school house, some to the Nichols school house, and some to Arthur.

Mr. A. J. Flanagan, of Farmville, came over Monday morning and took Misses Martha Belle and Jessie Smith over here to visit relatives for a few days.

Miss Myrtle Flanagan, of Farmville, is visiting at Mr. Mills Smith's this week.

We want everybody to remember the bazaar at Smith's school house, Friday night, and come and help a good cause. It is to help build the Christian church at Arthur.

Death of Mrs. W. H. Gould.

On Friday, October 21, 1910, the blessed Lord removed from our midst our dear beloved sister, Mrs. Hennie Gould, wife of Mr. W. H. Gould, who died with heart trouble. Our neighborhood has lost a dear friend. Reedy Branch church has lost a faithful member. But the Lord knoweth all things best. She leaves a husband and four children, mother, brother, sister and friends to mourn for her. God bless the family and help them to live nearer to Thee, so as to meet their mother and wife in heaven.
A FRIEND.

If there is not frost in the morning it is going to miss a good chance.

She was well known throughout eastern North Carolina, and had many friends and admirers in Greenville and Pitt county, where she taught school a number of years ago before she went to Chocowinity to teach in a boy's school. She was a lovable character, a Christian of a lifetime, being a member of the Protestant Episcopal church, and her old friends and associates will be grieved to learn of her death.

BALLOON STILL MISSING.

Searches Baffled in Efforts to Locate Lost Men.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Ottawa, Oct. 26.—Searchers for the missing balloon, America 11, and its occupants, Allon Hawley and Angus Post, were still baffled today in their search. Absolutely nothing has been found to indicate the locality in which they may be found. An expedition will soon start from Quebec to search for the men. About the only hope is that when they came down they fell in with Canadian hunters, there being lots of these in the woods at this season.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1910.

The pumpkin is getting ready for Hallowe'en.

Greenville is not worrying much over what the census will give her. We are all here, whether counted or not.

Again we emphasize the fact that Saturday 29th, is the last day of registration for the coming election. See that your own name and the names of your neighbors are on the books.

The Charlotte News has got up an aviation for Charlotte at an early day. Here's hoping Patton will not venture up in one of the things but will make all his observations either from the ground floor or the top of the sky scraper.

Will the Greenville Reflector kindly tell us what is a "spool gown?"—Charlotte News.

Yep It's one of those kind that the wearer just winds around with 75 or 80 yards of ribbon, when there is not a masculine right arm handy to go around it.

From the places where fairs are held come reports of people getting their pockets picked of good sums. The man who goes to a fair or a circus, or in any jostling crowd, with a wad of money in his pocket and loses it, pays the penalty of his carelessness.

When the New York Herald makes a prediction everybody takes notice, for that paper is a wise forecaster of elections. It says the Democrats are going to elect a governor of New York and make large gains all over the country. The Republicans are preparing to take their medicine.

The Greenville Reflector deplors the loss of the supply of rations Wellman had provided for his across the ocean flight "in these times of high priced living." No need to worry about that, old man; the farmers are raising plenty more stuff all the time.—Greensboro News.

Yes, the farmers are raising it all right, but how about it when a fellow has not got the price?

The Greenville Reflector publicity invites The Wilmington Dispatch to visit Pitt county for the purpose of inspecting the bewitching array which gives that section of North Carolina such just cause for pride. Query: What makes The Reflector think that The Dispatch is qualified as a judge of feminine loveliness? Had it been The Hendersonville Herald, 'twould have been another story.—Charlotte Observer.

No, sir; Cowan is the man for that job. Cause why? He's ni-red headed, and has already shown his good judgment in making a selection.

The big corn yields being reported in various parts of the State are enough to allow me to shout it means good times ahead for North Carolina, and that our people are going to "come back" to the dignity of having their barns at home instead of in the West. Every time we think of what Mr. John F. Evans, leader of the local farm demonstration work, is doing for the farmers of Pitt county in getting them to strike out for larger and better crops, it makes us feel good. And those boys in the corn growing contest who are showing a yield of 60 to 90 bushels to the acre, we feel like taking off our hat and hurrahing for every one of them.

Press is Powerful.

The press sways the world. It is the great lever by which human minds are moved; the moulder of public opinion; the elevating and enabling power that lifts us, work-worn and weary though we may be, out of the time deepened rusts of conservatism, and places us fairly and squarely upon the even and upward track of advanced thought and feeling.

Every element that has contributed to the growth and prosperity of a beautiful city, and helped to place her in the envied positions she occupies among the chief cities of a nation, becomes a subject of pride to her citizens, and of interest not only to them, but also to the great multitude who are connected with her by social ties or business relations. And among the agencies that have brought about this result, none has been more powerful than her press. This is the golden age of the press. Long live the newspapers: verily, they sway the world—Orange (Va.) Observer.

Acorns Caused It.

There is a sort of malady this fall among cows in the Reems creek country caused by the eating of acorns, it is said. The cows go dry, or give down a thin, watery liquid instead of milk, and in some cases die. Robert Weaver lost a cow yesterday on this account and has two more that almost died but which will probably get well. The three had been sick for over a week. There have been two or three other cases in the same community.

According to those who have made note of the sickness it is caused by eating acorns, and is somewhat rare, being noticed more frequently in those years when there is an abundant fall of acorns in the flat woods or wherever the cows run in pasture.

The best "cow doctors" could do nothing to relieve the cows, the only thing to do being to let them alone. It is supposed that after the acorns are eaten in excess, fermentation sets up in such a degree that the cow is poisoned by carbonic acid gas absorption. The people are very much concerned about the matter and in some cases are not letting their cows run in the woods.—Asheville Gazette-News.

Long Distance Weather Prophet.

Every year as autumn begins to approach some fellow publishes some startling weather prognostications. This has been repeated year after year since our earliest recollection. Time and again these weather prophets have seen their predictions fall of fulfillment. But they are plucky. They never give up. Their energy and persistence is to be commended even if their predictions do miss oftener than they hit. The public—well, it just likes to be fooled and it sticks to the weather prophets because they fool them more than anybody else. Nobody takes a long-distance weather prophet seriously, but he is good to have around, just for amusement if nothing else.—Elkin Times.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL.

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Greenville People Know How to Save It.

Many Greenville people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger when all diseases and aches and pains due to weak kidneys can be quickly and permanently cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. The following statement leaves no ground for doubt.

Mrs. S. A. Simmons, 504 Heritage St., Kinston, N. C., says: "I found Doan's Kidney Pills to be an effective remedy for kidney trouble and headache. My back pained me for a long time and my kidneys were much disordered. I happened to read about Doan's Kidney Pills, and procuring a box, I began using them. They benefited me in every way and I am now free from backache and am able to rest well; in fact, I feel better in every way. I am glad to give Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

"BACK TO THE FARM"

XII.—Rural Education—Secondary Schools.

By C. V. GREGORY.

(Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.)

In the past the 97 per cent of the rural boys and girls who never attended college have scarcely received their share of attention. The college has been developing leaders, but the rank and file have been neglected. Only recently has the need of industrial education for the great mass of the people been recognized.

Now that the necessity is seen steps are being taken to meet it. It was thought at first that the country boy could obtain all the education he needed in a city high school. That idea is fast being outgrown. The city high school was not created to meet the needs of the country boy, and it contains little that appeals to him. High school principals have too long arranged their courses of study for the 3 per cent of their pupils who will go to college, ignoring the needs of the other 97 per cent.

Hard as this system was on the boy in town, it was harder still on the country boy. There was nothing in the high school course that was connected even remotely with his life on the farm. Most of his time was given to mathematics, Latin, German, etc., with perhaps a little music and art thrown in. The mathematics were a help in developing his mind and teaching him to think. The Latin and German were of little value except to the 3 per cent who expected to enter college. The music probably was given by a teacher who couldn't sing half so well as the meadow larks at home and the art by one who couldn't draw a cow or a pig to save his life.

The worst part of the high school from the farm boy's standpoint was the attitude toward work in general and farm work in particular. The boys and girls were encouraged to prepare for college in order that they might get through life more easily, though perhaps they were not told so in so many words. The teachers talked of the farm as a good place to come from perhaps, but carried the idea that farming was not a worthy calling for a boy, with ambition. Everlasting the stars and learned pointed away from the farm and toward the city. Not only was the farm boy denied any knowledge of the farm, but he was taught to see the bright side of every other calling and the dark side of his own. It was little wonder that he left the farm at the end of his high school course.

The high schools are coming to pay vastly more respect to the 97 per cent of their pupils. They are realizing the truth of the statement that the education which increased a boy's wants without increasing his earning capacity is a failure. Courses in carpentry, shop work and mechanics have been put in. The whole attitude of the high school is changing, and more attention is being paid to preparing students for life than to preparing them for college. The students are being taught that it is an honor to work with their hands. The girls are being taught domestic science and home economics. In short, the high school has seen its opportunity and is grasping it.

In all this development the country boy has been left out. The atmosphere of the high school is still that of the city. A few have attempted to teach agriculture, and some have succeeded. It has become plain, however, that a school located on a block of land in the heart of a city cannot hope to teach agriculture with the greatest degree of success. With that realization has come the secondary agricultural school. Such schools are all too few as yet, but their numbers are increasing rapidly as the demand for them grows. Some are supported by the counties, some by the states and some privately. Some of the denominational and preparatory schools have been very successful in teaching agriculture. Georgia has eleven district agricultural schools that are doing a great work in educating the rank and file of the future farmers of the state. Minnesota and Nebraska have schools of agriculture, in connection with their agricultural colleges. These are doing good work, but they are reaching only a small proportion of the farm boys and girls. One such school to a state is not enough. The ideal secondary school is located away from the heart of the city. It has a liberal piece of land in connection with it. To be successful it must be surrounded by enough of a farm to give it a rural flavor. As a rule these secondary schools are doing their work well. They have ruthlessly cut out the classics and the dead languages. They have substituted studies that help to fit the boys and girls for life on the farm. A large share of the study of books is done away with and the study of living things substituted. The schools are well equipped with laboratories. The student works with corn, scoring, planting and testing. Judging corn is as fascinating a game as ever a boy engaged in. Even more interesting is the stock judging.

Few of the schools can afford to keep a complete line of live stock, but neighboring farmers are always ready to supply the deficiency. Then there are the machinery laboratories, where the boys learn some of the simpler principles of mechanics as applied to farm machinery. It puts a boy on his mettle to be turned loose on a pile of castings and told to put them together to form a binder. The intricacies of a gasoline engine keep him working after hours. The study of the growth of plants is the place of the study of classified botany. The boy learns the names of the different weeds and how to tell their seeds apart. He learns their habits and the best ways of combating them. He makes a collection of insects and learns which ones are harmful and which innocent.

He is dealing with life, the kind of life that he has known ever since he was old enough to know anything. At last he is learning the answers to that big "why" that has bothered him ever since he could walk. He has found the objection that is suited to his needs and his inclinations. It is an education in the ways of nature rather than in the ways of man. It is an education that is fitting him to live the life that he knows most about.

He may not care much about college. His mind may falter at geometrical propositions and quadratic equations. But he can understand the proposition of soil fertility and crop rotation. He can work out the equation of profit and loss in raising calves. The greatest mission of any form of education is to teach people how to live. Not only must it teach them how to live well, but it will be successful directly in proportion to the number it reaches. The professional colleges have had to encompass themselves with severe restrictions in order that their professions might not become overcrowded. With agricultural education there is no such fear.

The danger is not in getting too much. The problem is to get enough. Secondary agricultural education has been phenomenally successful because it teaches people the things they want to know. They do not take such education on the general theory that it is good for them. They can see for themselves that it is good. They can see it in the increased corn yields grown by the boys who have been graduated from such a school to the farm. They can see it from the improved stock that takes the place of the bony specimens with which he once would have been satisfied. They can see it in the pride with which he keeps up his fences and his barns.

The girl is given a large place in the secondary school as the boy. She is taught the art and the science of homemaking. She gets a truer and saner view of life than would be possible in a city school. She has a greater sense of its responsibilities and a fuller appreciation of its pleasures.

While the first aim of the secondary agricultural school is to teach the boy to wring increased profits from the soil and the girl to use these profits in building up a better home, its function does not end there. The cultural side of the student's education is not neglected. He is given something of English, for an understanding of his native tongue and an ability to use it well are essential to a farmer who would be considered educated. He is given something of history, for no study can so broaden and deepen the springs of human thought as history. He is given public speaking and learns to talk well. Dame Fortune holds many good things in reserve for the man who can talk.

CATARH GERMS.

Move Out When Hyomei Moves In. No stomach dosing. HYOMEI (pronounced "High-o-me") is made from the highest grade of eucalyptus, taken from the eucalyptus forest of Australia, and combined with the excellent antiseptics employed in the Listerian system.

In inland Australia the atmosphere is so impregnated with balsam thrown out by the eucalyptus trees that germs cannot live, and in consequence catarrh and consumption are unknown. Breathe HYOMEI and get the very same pleasant, healing, germ-killing, air as you would get in the eucalyptus forests and kill the germs.

HYOMEI is sold by Coward & Wooten and druggists everywhere, at $1.00 a complete outfit.

An outfit consists of a bottle of HYOMEI, a hard rubber pocket inhaler and simple instructions for use. The inhaler will last a lifetime, but bear in mind if you need another bottle of HYOMEI you can get it at druggists for only 50c at any time. Guaranteed to cure catarrh, croup and throat troubles, or money back. Trial sample of Hyomei free to readers of The Reflector. Address Booth's Hyomei Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

LAND SALE.

This week there is going on at the hardware store of Carr & Atkins an exhibit of the Malleable range, and many people are visiting the store to see the merits of this useful household article. Mr. C. C. Peters, of South Bend, Ind., is here conducting the exhibition and giving interesting talks on the construction and merits of the Malleable range. Visitors are also served with a very delightful luncheon, the menu being as follows:

- Tarbell Cheese Straws
- Kingan's Morning Glory Breakfast
Strips
- Mixed Spiced Pickles
- Dunlop Beaten Biscuits
- Strawberry Creamery Butter
- Assorted Cafe. Consumers Drip Coffee
- English Cup Tea.

chants more, but many merchants,
since meat, butter, and provisions
have been so high, try to substitute cheaper and inferior goods, charging you the same price they ask for Kingan's. If you want the best ask for Kingan's Pure Government inspected Meats, and see that you get them.

KINGAN & CO. pack Morgan & Gray
Shoulders" and "F. F. V." Hams.
Kingan's main packing plant is located at Belfast, Ireland. So you see you get the Genuine English Cured Shoulders only when you buy Kin-an's "Morgan & Gray" English cured Shoulders. There are many imitations, but none other genuine. "F.
F. V." Country Hams are smoked in Richmond, Va., by Virginia people.
This ham cannot even be imitated by other meat packers. But some grocers try to sell inferior hams to you, claiming them to be as good as "F. F. V." Country Hams, knowing they are not. Do not let your grocer send you inferior meats because they cost him less, and charge you Kingan prices. If your grocer is honest he will tell you no meats sold on this market are as good as Kingan's.
ASK HIM.
