BUTLER'S PERFDY CLEARLY PROVEN

His Connection With "Carpet Bag Bond Syndicate" of New York

NEWS AND OBSERVER PROSECUTOR

Produces Advertisement From New York Paper With Butler's Signature Among Others Soliciting Bonds to Collect.

With its usual thoroughness which after the scalp of any one, The News and Observer published a clincher that so completely convicts Marion Butler of his connection with the syndicate to collect the repudiated carpet bag bonds from the State of North Carolina that no man who loves his state, though a Republican can but feel shame that such a man was honored by the office of United States senator from North Carolina.
Over his own signature the head of the Republican party in this state furnishes the evidence to damn himself, in an advertisement published in The New York Evening Post, in April, 1905, which the News and Observer found reproduced to the confusion of the self-convicted traitor and to his party. And this, too, just in the face of the repeted branding by Butler as an infamous lie the charge that he has now or ever has had any connection with the effort to collect the carpet bag bonds which were issued by a Republican legislature and for which the state received no benefit.

The evidence is complete and it cannot be seen how it can be refuted.
It follows:

"The collection of State bonds Repudiated in whole or in part.

The recent decision of the Supreme court of the United States, entitled 'South Dakota vs. North Carolina,' wherein the former State secured a judgment against the latter on ten bonds, par value, $10,000, amounting with interest to $27,400, (which has just been paid) has greatly enhanced the value of all other repudiated State bonds, because it has established the law and the procedure by which they can be enforced.

The undersigned committee in 1901 pooled all of one issue of North Carolina bonds and originated the plan by which the above successful result brought about, and obtained a settlement for the individual bond holders, at a little less than par, of their entire holdings of these bonds.

This committee is now ready to proceed with the collection of all other repudiated bonds of every class, of each state.

This committee has no connection with any other committee, and it knows that it alone is now in a position to avail itself of the benefits of the above mentioned decision.

Those who desire to enforce the collection of their bonds will deposit the same with the North American Trust Company, 195 Broadway, New York City, and receive receipts therefor and a contract agreement under which the undersigned committee will undertake to collect the same.

Trade Report.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 28.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say for Richmond and vicinity: Trade conditions as a whole, have a favorable appect, fall orders for seasonable commodities are well-in, though in volume not up to the average. Shoes, rubber goods and trunks continue active. Produce is in good demand, the apple crop in Virginia is reported better than in any recent year. Wholesale milliners have had a good season.
Retail trade is fair though retarded by continued warm weather. Drugs and chemicals are active. Naval stores are firm at recent prevailing prices. Collections are only fair.

BANQUET AT HOTEL LOUISE.

Several Greenville Men Respond to Toasts.

A banquet was tendered the County Superintendents of the Northeastern division of North Carolina, and several guests last evening at the Hotel Louise, by the citizens of Washington, under the auspices of the chamber of commerce. No social function of the season carried with it more pleasure and enjoyment. The banquet was given in the main dining room of the hotel. It was elaborately and attractively decorated for the occasion and the menu served by the management of the hotel was in keeping with its reputation.
Covers were provided for fifty.
Speeches were made by Hon. J. Y.
Joyner state superintendent of public instruction; Hon. Stephen C.
Bragaw Mr. Richard Neal Mr. C. J.
Parker, of Raleigh; Superintendent W. H. Ragsdale, of Greenville; President Robert H. Wright, of East Carolina Training School and Professor J. B. Smith, of the Greenville Graded School, and Mr. C. W. Wilson, of the East Carolina Training School, Greenville, and Mr. R. N. Ranson, of Nash county, besides several local speakers.

Of course, education was the principal theme discussed and it was handled by experts who have endeavored to further this great cause in North Carolina.—Washington News

Gathered From Our Exchanges Today of Events Just Happened.

Charlotte, Oct. 27.—C. W. Quarster, a showman on the midway, at the Mecklenburg fair, charged with engaging in the "white slave" traffic, and enticing from her home a young girl, Maud McClelland, of Baltimore, was brought before Commissioner Cobb for a preliminary hearing this afternoon, but the government asked for time to prepare its case, and the hearing will come off November 3, fixing bond of $1,000, in default of which Quarster went to jail.

Washington Oct. 27.—News reached this city of quite a fire at Leech-ville, this county, last night. The saw mill, dry kilns, etc., belonging to Mr.
J. E. Wilkinson, of Belhaven, were totally destroyed by fire, the origin of which is unknown. The lumber burned was the property of Mr. W.
H. Wilkinson, of Leechville, who was operating the plant under a lease.
The total loss will aggregate more than $8,000, with no insurance. The fire was first discovered between 1 and 2 o'clock in the dry kiln.

CURTISS RULED OUT.

And There is Kicking in the Aviation Contest.

Aviation Field Belmont Park, N.
Y., Oct. 28.—General dissatisfaction prevailed among American aviators today over the fact that Glenn H.
Curtiss was practically thrown out of the team selected to take part in the international cup race, scheduled for tomorrow. Curtiss won the international cup last year and brought it to this country, but the committee that selected the team for this year left him out selecting Brookins, Drexell and Hamilton. The intention was to select men by elimination contests, but the winds have been too high. A good crowd of spectators turned out early today, but the wind was too high for much flying.

AN IMPORTANT MEETING.

Third Annual Convention of North Carolina Drainage Association.

The third annual convention of the North Carolina Drainage Association will be held at Wilmington, N.
C., November 21, 22 and 23, 1910.
Since the last convention which was held at New Bern in 1909, interest in the drainage of swamp and overflowed lands has steadily increased and applications for many new drainage districts have been made. This is true not only of eastern North Carolina, but of the Piedmont region where a number of surveys have been made in regard to the reclamation of overflowed lands.

A very attractive program for the convention is being arranged and among the speakers are Governor W.
C. Kitchin, Hon. John H. Small, congressman from the first congressional district, Hon. John M. Morehead, congressman from the fifth congressional district, Hon. C. G. Elliott, of the office of drainage investigations, U. S. Department of Agriculture, J.
O. Wright, drainage engineer for the State of Florida, E. T. Lamb, president of Norfolk Southern Railway Company, W. J. Craig, of the Atlantic Coast Line, Hugh MacRae, member of the North Carolina geological board, Lawrence Brett, drainage engineer, Hon. Geo. R. McLeod, of Lumberton, Hon. O. L. Clark, of Bladen county, Senator F. M. Simmons, Joseph Hyde Pratt, State geologist, Joseph A. Brown, of Columbus county, and S. S. Mann, of Hyde county.

It is expected that the representatives of the various drainage districts that have been organized will be present to state what has been done in their respective districts and the results that they expect to accomplish.

Bomb Exploded in Building They Occupy.

By Wire to The Reflector.
New York, Oct. 28.—Four Irish families were initiated into some of the outer mysteries of the Italian black hand society early today, when a bomb was touched off in the hallway of a three-story tenement. The building was badly damaged, but no one was hurt. The building is occupied by Irish, but owned by an Italian, and it is thought the bomb was meant for him.

A Call for a Mass Meeting of the Citizens of Greenville

The time is at hand, in our opinion, when the people of Greenville should speak out in favor of the enforcement of law, and cleaner government. We hall with delight, the efforts the mayor and aldermen and policemen are making to stamp out all lawlessness and establish civic righteousness in our town. To this end we call a public meeting of citizens of Greenville to be held in the town hall, Friday, October 28, 1910, at 7:30 o'clock, p. m., and we earnestly appeal to all law-abiding citizens to meet with us to discuss the situation and take such action as may seem adequate and proper.

Notes of Recent and Coming Events
About The School.

Greenville, N. C., Oct. 28.—Five of the boys have organized themselves into a glee club, under the direction of Miss Muffly. They meet regularly and will soon be a helpful factor in the music of the school.
The Y. W. C. A. held its regular Sunday night service last Sunday evening in the auditorium. Miss Graham made a very interesting talk on "Personal Influence."

The girls have organized a basket ball team, with Miss Pugh as referee and Misses Jamie Kerr and Mattie Ruffin captains.

President R. H. Wright made a speech yesterday at a meeting of the North Eastern division of the county superintendents, which met at Washington. Mr. C. W. Wilson also attended this meeting.

The students are looking forward to the Halloween party to be given Monday night by the Y. W. C. A.
The Jarvis Memorial Literary Society has been re-organized with S.
F. Linton, president, J. F. Rawls, vice president and L. A. Harper, secretary.
Very interesting debates are held every Monday night. Mr. L. R. Meadows, of the English department, is of great assistance to them. The young men have entered into this work with zeal and have made a good beginning.
They have subscribed for magazines and papers $47.85.

On Saturday, October 22nd, Misses Jenkins, Graham, McKinney, Davis and Bishop entertained the faculty and officers in honor of Misses Dabney, Pugh, and Muffly, the new members of the faculty. Their new quarters, the east wing of the boys' dormitory, was artistically decorated with cut flowers and potted plants.
At 10:30 the lights in the buildings went off but the guests remained for over an hour in the dim light furnished by the lights on the ground in the telling of ghost stories and spook tales.

promises had been suggested, and that

STATE OF ILLINOIS WINS.

Railroad Company Must Pay Its Back Taxes.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Springfield, Ill., Oct. 28.—In its great battle to recover millions of money in back taxes from the Illinois Central Railway Company, the state today won first blood when the Supreme court reversed and remanded the decision of the Circuit court.
The result is that the railroad company will have to pay the State about $2,000,000 a year, instead of $1,000-000 as at present.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Little Items too Short for a Head, but Interesting.

Red Men meet tonight.
Attend the mass meeting in the city hall tonight.

Do your duty, go register.
It will be cold, you won't have long to wait.

Don't forget to register.
It was an ugly morning, but the weather grew pretty by noon.

No frost has been reported here yet, but look out for it in the morning.

Which Side Are You On?

There are just two sides to the question of civic righteousness in Greenville—for and against. Every citizen of the town is on one of the sides. Those who favor ridding the town of blind tigers, and who want to support the officers in their efforts to do this, will show it by their presence at the mass meeting in the city hall tonight. The man who encourages blind tigers and tries to shield them from punishment, is helping a very unworthy cause.

Colored Man Loses Hand.

Heber Tyson, a colored man employed at the plant of the Greenville Lumber & Veneer Company, lost the thumb and all fingers of his left hand by striking his hand against a rip saw. The teeth of the saw caught below the base of the thumb and cut diagonally across his hand, leaving only the stub.

Choir Practice.

There will be choir practice at the Christian church tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Every member is requested to be present.

The Baptist choir will meet at the church at 7 o'clock tonight for practice. Members are requested to be on time.

One Man Overlooked.

In the list of names of blind tiger defendants published yesterday, one name W. B. Higson, white, was overlooked. There were three cases against him. He was given a hearing before Mayor Wooten this morning and bound over to Superior court.

Warehouse Closes.

The tobacco warehouse at Washington has closed for the season, the crop being so near sold that it did not justify keeping the house there open longer. For the same reason most of the smaller markets may have to close earlier this season than usual.

smoke if he didn't keep them from wanting to do it.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1910.

All the big speakers in New York are taking a whack at T. R.

On with the pursuit after blind tigers until they are run out of Greenville.

When Roosevelt makes a speech, he talks more Rooseveltism than anything else.

They keep on "breaking the record" in aviation, and also killing aviators.

Sarah Barnhardt is about to give us another farewell. Goodbye, Sarah, if you call it gone.

"Mecklenburg has the most autos," says a headline. Nothing unusual about that since Charlotte has the most people.

Do not overlook that tomorrow is the last day on which registration books will be open for the coming election.

If they keep showing up things on them, T. Roosevelt should be made president and M. Butler vice-president of a national annanias club.

Greenville has sounded the note to abolish blind tigers. Let this movement have the earnest support of every law abiding citizen of the town.

They always have to get up some excuse when they see a big defeat staring them in the face. The Greensboro News says "Democrats are preparing to steal the election"

The successful raid of blind tigers that has just been made should not stop on the first round. Keep the work going on until Greenville is entirely rid of this evil.

The law-abiding citizens of Greenville will have the opportunity tonight to show their colors in a stand for civic righteousness. It is the duty of all such citizens to attend the mass meeting in the city hall.

Because she wanted her wedding to be different from others a New York woman had three dogs, clad in bridal dress, to act as bridesmaids. It was different all right, but we pity the man in the case.

The Cause of Malaria.

From 1650 until within recent years people believed malaria was due to the breathing of air laden with moisture and the odor of decaying vegetation. As this kind of air is invariably associated with swamps, malaria for some time, has been recognized as a disease of low, marshy countries. The word malaria, is a combination of the two Indian words, mal and aria which mean bad air.

In the nineties of the last century a party of Englishmen, people living where malaria is unknown, selected the most malarious spot in the world, the Roman Campagna, for an interesting experiment, the results of which are absolutely incompatible with the old idea regarding the cause of the disease. In that malarious region, where nearly everybody suffered from the disease, these Englishmen had erected, within a few feet of each other, two cheap cottages. One, provided with double swinging doors and closely screened, was mosquito proof; the other, without screens was perfectly open to the mosquitoes. The party of Englishmen divided into two groups one group inhabiting the mosquito-proof house, the other group the un-screened house. Both groups were fed from the same kitchen, drank from the same well, and breathed the same air. The group living in the screened house remained perfectly well; the group living in the un-screened house all had malaria.

Sir Patrick Mason, an English expert on malaria, had mosquitoes bite Italians suffering with malaria, and transferred these mosquitoes in cages to England, where the hungry insects were permitted to bite Sir Patrick's son and another man. Within sixteen days, the time required for malaria to develop after infection, both of these gentlemen who had never been exposed to malaria, became ill with the disease.

An Italian expert on malaria, named Grassi, discovered a form of the disease peculiar to certain species of birds. By confining mosquitoes in cages with birds with this disease and afterwards transferring the mosquitoes to new cages with healthy birds, he could reproduce the disease.

Ross, another English authority, with the aid of the microscope, traced the malaria germ, specked into the insect's body in biting, into the walls of the mosquito's stomach, where it underwent a regular series of changes, thence to the salivary glands of the insect, whence it was ejected into the unfortunate next bitten.

All this evidence makes out a clear case against the mosquito as the carrier of malaria. If this is correct, the destruction of this insect should invariably be followed by the decrease or complete eradication of malaria. This final evidence, the conclusive evidence of actual results, will be furnished in next week's article.—State Board of Health Bulletin.

Breaking-up Year.

This has been aptly described by The Philadelphia Press as a breaking-up year. It truthfully observes that not since the contest over free silver in 1896 have there been so many public changes in party allegiance. The Press says the breaking-up is plain in New Jersey. It is clear in the West. The Republican primaries in New Hampshire showed this as plainly as the Democratic victory in Maine. Like breaking-up came in 1876, in the Tilden-Hayes campaign; in 1884, when Grover Cleveland was elected for the first time and in 1896 when free silver was defeated. But there is this difference. This breaking-up is not on old issues as they were in the past, but on new ones. As instanced by The Press, a fresh division appears in public affairs and those who believe with Taft and Roosevelt, that far-reaching legislation is needed on corporate questions are on one side, and those who with John A. Dix, the New York Democrat, believe that enough has been done, are on the other. Even Woodrow Wilson only proposes State reforms. He urges that existing law is sufficient in the Federal regulation of corporations and urges tariff revision and low duties as a remedy for the trusts.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Why Bixby Doesn't Go.

Good Way to Use Hyomei for Catarrh.

Besides breathing through the inhaler a few times a day, many catarrh sufferers write that they find inhaling HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-me) from a bowl of steaming water each night before retiring a great aid in curing stubborn cases.

Try it; it's very simple; gives quick relief and makes you breathe easier.

Fill a bowl half full of boiling water; pour into the water a teaspoonful of HYOMEI, cover head and bowl with a towel, and breathe through nose and mouth the pleasant, medicated, antiseptic and healing vapor that arises.

This method relieves that stiffness at once, and makes your head feel fine.

You can get a bottle of HYOMEI at druggists everywhere or at Coward & Wooten's for only 50 cents. Ask for extra bottle HYOMEI Inhalant.

But bear in mind that a HYOMEI outfit which includes Inhaler and bottle of HYOMEI costs $1.00.

But, as stated before, if you already own an inhaler a bottle of HYOMEI costs but 50 cents.

HYOMEI is guaranteed by Coward & Wooten and druggists everywhere to cure catarrh, sore throat, coughs, colds, asthma and croup, or money back. Try it on that generous basis.

FUN IN THE HOME.

Make Life There Joyous and Bar Out Business Worries.

Whatever your lot in life, keep joy with you, says Orison Sweet Marden in Success Magazine. It is a great healer. Sorrow, worry, jealousy, envy, bad temper, create friction and grind away the delicate human machinery so that the brain loses its cunning. Half the misery in the world would be avoided if the people would make a business of having plenty of fun at home instead of running everywhere else in search of it. "Now For Rest and Fun." "No Business Troubles Allowed Here." These are good home building mottoes. When you have had a perplexing day, when things have gone wrong with you and you go home at night exhausted, discouraged, blue, instead of making your home miserable by going over your troubles and trials just bury them. Instead of dragging them home and making yourself and your family unhappy with them and spoiling the whole evening, just lock everything that is disagreeable in your office. Just resolve that your home shall be a place for bright pictures and pleasant memories, kindly feelings toward everybody and "a corking good time" generally. If you do this you will be surprised to see how your vocation or business wrinkles will be ironed out in the morning and how the crooked things will be straightened.

THE COTTON GIN.

Whitney Got the Idea From the Work of an Old Negro.

Ell Whitney, the inventor of the cotton gin, got the germ of his great idea from seeing through the interstices of a but an old negro work a hand saw among the freshly picked cotton stored within.

The teeth of the saw tore the lint from the seed easily and quickly, and young Whitney (he was barely thirteen at the time) realized at once that a machine working a number of similar saws simultaneously would revolutionize the cotton growing industry.

He said nothing to anybody, but set to work building models and experimenting. His difficulties were enormous, for he not only had to make his own wheels, cogs, etc., but he had also first to forge his own tools and even to manufacture the paint wherewith to color his many plans and drawings.

But he succeeded in the end, and, though the outbreak of war and other hindrances prevented the invention from being actually placed upon the market until many years afterward, the first complete cotton gin ever constructed was built from those very models and plans and with scarcely a single alteration.

The Springbok.

A peculiarity of that most beautiful of South African antelopes the springbok is that it always leaps over human tracks. It is at once exceedingly shy and marvelously active, and the reason for this strange antic is its intense suspicion of any possible enemies, among whom it has come to recognize man as the most dangerous. It is not only with human tracks that the springbok goes through this performance, for it does the same with the tracks of lions or even when it gets wind of a lion. The leap is exceedingly graceful, and the animal covers from twelve to fifteen feet at each bound. It drops on all four feet at once and immediately rises again, making a clear spring without any run. Its usual gait when not pursued is a light sprightly trot. The springbok usually travels with its nose to the ground, as if constantly on the lookout for the scent of enemies.

A Mole's Nest.

Among common animals few have been less studied in their life history than the mole. Mr. Lionel E. Adams says that under the "fortress" which the mole constructs above the surface of the ground will always be found a series of tunnels running out beneath the adjacent field. A curious feature almost invariably found is a perpendicular run penetrating about a foot below the bottom of the nest and then turning upward to meet another run. A mole is never found in his nest, although it may yet be warm from his body when opened. Guided by smell and hearing, a mole frequently locates the nest of a partridge or pheasant above his run and, penetrating it from below, eats the eggs. The adult mole is practically blind, but there are embryonic indications that the power of sight in the race has deteriorated.

A Japanese Peculiarity.

"When a Japanese servant is rebuked or scolded," says a traveler, "he must smile like a Cheshire cat. The etiquette in smiles is very misleading at first. I often used to think that Taki, my riksha boy, meant to be impertinent when he insisted on smiling when I was angry at him. But when he told me of the death of his little child with a burst of laughter I knew that this was only one of the curious details of etiquette in this tosy ruyv land."

One Definition.

"Papa," asked a little boy, "what is a legal blank?" "A legal blank, Johnny," replied his father, "is a lawyer who never gets a case."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Useless Question.

"They have named the baby after Uncle Belshazzar." "Has Uncle Belshazzar money?" "Do you suppose they liked the name?"—Hillsburg Post.

MUTILATED CURRENCY.

Often Used in Attempts to Cheat the Treasury Department.

Many efforts are made to cheat Uncle Sam through the redemption division of the treasury department, which division has to do with redeeming partly destroyed government currency. Once a man in a western state sent in half of a ten dollar bill, accompanied by an affidavit to the effect that while on a spree he had used the other half to light a cigar. The half he forwarded was nicely charred along the inner edge, and the story would have been accepted by treasury officials had it not been that within twenty-four hours there was received from a bank in the same state the other half of the note.

The theory of treasury officials was that while more or less intoxicated the man had struggled for possession of the bill with some one who had wrested half of it from him; that the despoiler had turned the half into the bank and received five dollars for it; that the intoxicated man, recovering his senses, had found the other half in his pocket and, not wishing to lose his money, had conceived the plan of singeing the edge of the note and claiming that the other half had been destroyed. So he committed perjury in an attempt to rob the government of $5.

A man in Cleveland sent an affidavit to the treasury department, accompanying the singed half of two twenty-dollar bills and one ten-dollar bill. This affidavit was typewritten and in perfect form. It set forth that the deponent was a commercial traveler; that after returning from a journey he had been cleaning out his traveling bag when inadvertently he had thrown into the fire an envelope containing $50 in bills; that in accordance with section so and so he would like to have the money restored to him, etc.

The clerk who brought this document to the officials commented on its lucidity and completeness, but to one of these the story seemed unnatural, and he ordered that the claim be held up for awhile.

Twenty-four hours later a big shipment of mutilated currency came from a subtreasury in the west. The official who had ordered the claim held up asked whether there were any half notes in this shipment. In four or five minutes a clerk brought him the missing halves of the bills the Cleveland man had sent in.

The attempt to defraud was plain. The matter was at once put into the hands of the secret service division, and a man was sent west to investigate. The man who had made the affidavit confessed at once. He had cut the bills in halves and for one-half of them obtained $25. The other half he singed and attached to his affidavit. The gross profit of the swindle could not have been more than $25, and for that trifling sum the man forfeited his liberty for a year and a half.—Washington Star.

Calais and Its Lighthouse.

Calais is rather an untidy place for a French town. The Place d'Armes, where the tower of the Hotel de Ville has remained since the fifteenth century, is the center spot. Here Calais meets its friends and has its cafe noir. In the square, towering out of the roofs of surrounding houses and dwarfing them, is the old watchtower. Since 1848 it has been superseded as a lighthouse by the magnificent one at present in use. Never shall I forget the effect of this lighthouse as I stood under it that night. The revolving spokes of light cast away into filmy space in all directions, looked like the ribs of a huge umbrella being turned by the white handle, which was the lighthouse tower. So tall is this that its revolving light can be seen from a distance of twenty miles at sea.—Wide World.

Helping Him Along.

"What is all this straw doing in the roadway? Somebody sick?" asked the man passing. "Easy!" said the man at the gate, holding up a warning finger. "There's a young man calling on my daughter tonight who has been coming to see her for six years. He's very easily frightened. We hope he's going to propose tonight, and we are taking every precaution against his being startled!"—Yonkers Statesman.

The Barefoot Burglar.

"Have you seen the barefoot burglar?" asks the Florida Times-Union. We have. We caught her in the act yesterday morning, the three-year-old miscreant, as she stole up to our bed, stole a kiss, shook her tousled head and said, "If you don't get up, dad, you won't get any bre'fes!"—Allentown (Pa.) Democrat.

Unselfish.

Mrs. Backbay—Why are you leaving us, Bridget? Boston Cook—Me reasons are philanthropic. I want to give some warm else a chance at the joys of living with yez.—Harper's Bazaar.

A Family Jar.

Neighbor—What is all that row? Willie—Ma's canning fruit, and pa's a food inspector, and he's trying to tell her how she ought to do it.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Her Sick Friend.

"I didn't get to bed until midnight." "Sitting up with a sick friend?" "Well, yes, with a lovesick friend," answered the girl.—Kansas City Journal.

Hygiene can prevent more crime than any law.—Munsterburg.

OVERTAXID.

Hundreds of Greenville Readers Know What It Means.

The kidneys are overtaxed;
Have too much to do.
They tell about it in many aches and pains—

Backache, headache, sideache, Early symptoms of kidney ills.
Urinary troubles, diabetes, Bright's disease follow.

A Greenville citizen tells here the way to keep the kidneys well.

Mrs. J. S. Stokes, Twelfth and Evans Sts., Greenville, N. C., says:
"For some time I suffered severely from kidney and bladder complaint. I had bearing-down pains through my abdomen, and sharp, shooting twinges across my loins. There was a tender spot over my kidneys and at times my limbs pained intensely. I finally read of Doan's Kidney Pills and was so much impressed that I procured a supply at Wooten's drug store and began their use. They soon relieved the pains in my sides and limbs, and restored my kidneys to a normal condition. At present I am feeling in every way, and I give Doan's Kidney Pills the credit for this great improvement."

Good News from Youth's Compa- nion.

We have to make the Youth's Companion larger to get in all the good things that Companion readers ought to have. The added amount would take four hundred pages of standard magazine size and print; but we have kept the price just the same—1.75 for the fifty-two weeks of 1911, and all the issues for the rest of this car free from the time you send in our subscription.

We would like to tell you what is in store for Companion readers next year. We cannot do it here though; there is not room. But send us your address on a postal card, and we will send you the beautiful prospectus of the Companion for 1911, announcing many new features, together with ample copies of the paper.

We think you will agree, when you have read them, that there is no other paper that gives quite so much of such a high quality as The Companion.

The new subscriber receives a gift of The Companion's Art Calendar for 1911, reproducing in twelve colors and a beautiful water-color garden scene.

Engine off Track.

The engine of the Norfolk Southern freight train got off the track at the "Y" this morning, but no damage was done. The engine was got back on the track in a short while and no trains were delayed.

Artificial Flowers.

It was in Italy that a demand for artificial flowers first arose. This was due primarily to a caprice of fashion which demanded that during festivals blossoms in and out of their seasons should be worn and also to the fact that their color and freshness were stable. Later on, in the middle ages, the artificial so far superseded the natural that both men and women decked their heads with imitation flowers of cambric, paper, glass and metal.

Spiteful.

At a local picture show a painter hung a notice under his highly prized landscape, "Do not touch with canes or umbrellas." Some one who was not an admirer of his works added to the notice, "Take an ax!"

Disagreeable Economy.

Husband—You are not economical.
Wife—Well, if you don't call a woman economical who saves her wedding dress for a possible second marriage
