TEN MINERS KILLED IN EXPLOSION

TEN OTHERS IMPRISONED BY DEBRIS

MANY OTHERS NARROWLY ESCAPED

Explosion Caused a Heavy Fall of Slate Which Shut off Air From Imprisoned Men—One Hundred Were in Mine at Time Accident Occurred—The Rescued Were Suffering From Poisonous Gases.

By Wire to The Reflector.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 11.—Ten miners were instantly killed and ten others are imprisoned by debris as a result of explosion in a coal mine at Panama. Scores of workmen had narrow escape from death and were suffering from poisonous gases when taken to the surface of the shaft. A hundred men were at work in the mine when the disaster occurred. The explosion caused a heavy fall of slate, shutting off air from the ten imprisoned men.

OBSTRUCTING THE LAW.

Are We at the Mercy of the Lawless Element?

Editor Reflector:

The writer has information to the effect that at least one of the white defendants charged with selling liquor, has been actively trying to get men to go up into the court room and try to get on the jury and prevent a verdict of guilty against him. The existence of such condition is an obstruction to the administration of justice, and a method to deceive and embarrass the officers, and should be prevented by the law abiding citizens of the community, for such attempted obstruction of justice tends to breed lawlessness.

Also the writer has been informed that an ancient and honorable paternal spirit has been appealed to as a protection.

It is confidently believed that innocent persons cannot, under our laws, be convicted of crime, and that officers should not be imposed on and justice obstructed by any means whatsoever. F. M. WOOTEN.

This is a letter that calls for action on the part of the law abiding citizens of the community. They should give their support to the action of the local authorities in recently arresting and binding over 10 court persons charged with selling liquor, and they should see that the law is not obstructed in the manner noted above. Every person arraigned should have a fair trial. If any are innocent they should be acquitted, and if any are guilty, they should be punished. But it is not conducive to a proper administration of justice for those charged with violation of the law to undertake to exert influence upon those likely to be jurors.

CHAOS IN BRITISH POLITICS.

Laborites Making Demands for Legislation.

By Cable to The Reflector.

London, Nov. 11.—Chaotic conditions in British politics were further complicated today when a deputation of laborites presented a petition to Premier Asquith demanding legislation favorable to labor in the next session of parliament. Following so closely upon the failure of the constitutional conference new demands were added, which in all likelihood will result in the dissolution of parliament shortly after convening next week and general elections early next year, possibly before Christmas. The attitude of the laborite party, which is very strong, will be an important factor in deciding the course which the government will follow. All parties have sought to avoid holding elections next year, because it is coronation year.

ATLANTIC COAST LINE ENTERS PENN. STATION.

Opening of the Pennsylvania Railroad Station, N. Y. City.

The Atlantic Coast Line makes official announcement that all their New York trains will enter the new Pennsylvania Railroad station, seventh avenue and thirty-second street, New York, on and after November 27th, and that the West Twenty-third street ferry, and the Brooklyn Annex ferry will be discontinued on and after that date.

The "Florida and West India Limited" will leave from the new station at 10.16 a. m. and arrive 2.31 p. m. The "Palmetto Limited" will leave at 3.38 p. m. and arrive 1.50 p. m., and the "Coast Line Florida Mail" will leave 9.30 p. m. and arrive 5.59 a. m. Upon the inauguration of the "New York and Florida Special," January 9th, that train will leave New York 1.26 p. m., and arrive 4.06 p. m.

It will be seen from the foregoing, that passengers will have considerable advantages, not only from the convenience of reaching the station, which is centrally located and adjacent to street car lines, extending to all parts of the city, but in a later departure and earlier arrival at the city.

The travel to the down town station section will be provided for by trains from the Manhattan Transfer station, located near Harrison, N. J., and at which all through trains from the South will stop. They will be taken to the passenger station in Jersey City and can reach the lower Manhattan by the Hudson and Manhattan Tubes, or by ferry to Cortlandt, or Desbrosses streets, which service will be continued.

Passengers to and from Brooklyn will transfer in Pennsylvania station, to and from Flatbush avenue, Brooklyn, via the tubes under the East river, thereby saving much time and annoyance.

The location of the station appeals directly to the hotel guests, the shopper, the amusement seeker, the business man, the professional man and every class of travel to and from New York, over the Atlantic Coast Line, as the station is in the very heart of the hotel district, and only one block from Broadway, two blocks from Fifth avenue and one block from the center of the retail dry goods section, which is supposed to be the busiest part of New York City.

Seven Dwellings Destroyed by Fire in Goldsboro—Gaston County Convict Camp Burned—$75,000 Fire at Monroe—Rich Square Farmer Gathers Potatoes Weighing Nine Pounds.

Mr. William C. Worrell, a young farmer of Rich Square, carried a sweet potato to the drug store a few days ago that weighed nine pounds that was grown by him on his farm. This is the largest we have heard of. Two years ago Mr. Worrell made 3,300 pounds of peanuts, the large bunch variety, to the acre, which we believe beats the record in this section for peanuts.—Rich Square Times Bessemer City, Nov. 9.—At the Gaston county convict camp, 4 miles west of here, at noon today, the camp with all its contents was destroyed by fire. Dennis Harrelson, a night guard, of Cherryville, who was sleeping in the building, was burned to death.

Monroe, Nov. 9.—The biggest fire in this town's history occurred at 1 o'clock this morning when the cotton platform caught fire from some unknown cause and between 800 and 900 bales of cotton, the platform and weigher's stand, and four freight cars were entirely destroyed. The total loss is placed at $75,000, and it is not known how much is covered by insurance.

The State Board of Health is out again in a bulletin on Mr. Mosquito. If the people would practice what the board of health preaches, there would be an end of disease in North Carolina. The latest bulletin gives further proof that Mr. Mosquito spreads malaria and concludes with these words:

We have not exhausted, by any means the examples of the effect of mosquito extermination on the prevalence of malaria, but in view of the fact that not a single example of mosquito extermination without malaria reduction can be cited, we consider it unnecessary to occupy the reader's time further with such superabundance of evidence.

The board of health, truthfully says the Greensboro Telegram, has given abundant evidence. The jury is just obliged to find the mosquito guilty of the charge. Nothing remains but for the mosquito to be sentenced to final and complete banishment. Down with the mosquito! —Salisbury Post.

Judge Ward, of Elizabeth City, who holds the next term of Greene Superior court, has written Sheriff Warren that court will not open until Tuesday morning at 10 a. m., December 6th. Owing to the meeting of the North Carolina Methodist Conference in Elizabeth City he will be unable to leave home in time to reach Snow Hill Monday morning.—Snow Hill Standard-Laconic.

Goldsboro, Nov. 10.—Fire this afternoon in the northern part of the city destroyed seven dwelling houses and for a while threatened to make a clean sweep of two blocks. The inhabitants of the several houses were heavy losers, as the flames spread so rapidly and the heat was so intense that it was with great difficulty they succeeded in removing what few articles they did save.

Garment Strikers Resume Work.

By Wire to The Reflector.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—More than 8,000 girl members of the striking garment workers' union of this city returned to work in shops which signed the agreement submitted by the union. It was announced that many of the larger shops would sign the scale before Monday. It is expected all strikers will be back at work by that time.

UNION PRAYER SERVICES.

Last Meeting Will be Held Tonight in Preparation for Black Meeting.

There was another good attendance at the union prayer services in the Methodist church last night, in preparation for the Black meeting. Prof. Meadows conducted this service and made an interesting talk on "Personal Work in Meetings." He emphasized this with several strong points.

The last of the preparatory union services will be held tonight, conducted by Rev. J. H. Shore.

Mr. Burr will arrive this evening and there will be a song rehearsal after the service tonight.

Dr. Black will arrive Saturday evening and preach the first sermon of the meeting Sunday morning.

TOBACCO SALES FOR THE MONTH OF OCTOBER.

Greenville Leads All Other Markets in Price.

The figures were delayed this time but Secretary C. W. Harvey, of the Tobacco Board of Trade, furnishes us the following report of the Greenville market:

Sales for the month of October 1,889,603 pounds at an average price of $12.18 per hundred. The total sales for the season up to October 31st were 5,631,747 pounds. This is a decrease of 996,623 pounds from last year, when the market sold 6,628,370 pounds up to October 31st, but this decrease is partially explained in the market opening this year two weeks later than last year.

The Reflector has been keeping tabs on some of the neighboring markets and finds from the Times that the average of the Wilson market for October was $11.99 per hundred, and from The Free Press that the average of the Kinston market was $10.75 per hundred. These figures show that Greenville paid 19 cents per hundred pounds more than Wilson and $1.43 per hundred more than Kinston. This difference means much to the farmers, and it bears out our oft repeated claim that Greenville is the best market in the State.

Teachers' Meeting.

The teachers' meeting tomorrow promises to be one of the best held here. The program is practical and timely, and those who are to do the work assigned them on this program is sufficient guarantee that it is to be a fine meeting. Everybody is invited to all these meetings and it is hoped that a large number will take advantage of the opportunity to attend.

The session will begin promptly at 10.30 a. m.

MEXICANS AND AMERICANS FIGHTING

TROUBLE ALL ALONG THE MEX- ICAN BORDERS

RANGERS ARE SENT SOUTHWARD

Shots Fired at Number of Places in Texas—Lawless Element Are Using Frontier Along the Rio Grande as a Skirmish Ground—Actual Hostilities Expected—Trouble Has Been Brewing for Some Time.

By Wire to The Reflector.

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 11.—Clashes between Americans and Mexicans are occurring all along the Mexican border today, according to reports from various points. At a number of places in Texas shots were fired. The frontier along the Rio Grande was a skirmish ground which offered the lawless element a possibility for much violence in a condition of border warfare. Rangers were moved southward today so as to be on the ground in case actual hostilities were inaugurated.

Will Hold a Mass Meeting to Boycott Everything American.

Mexico City, Nov. 11.—Mexico City with soldiers parading the streets is quiet today on the surface, but there is a great undercurrent of feeling against Americans, and a big mass meeting is planned for Sunday, at which a boycott of all things American will be inaugurated. 230 persons are under arrest as a result of outbreaks, and students who were primarily responsible are kept in close confinement and not allowed to hold communication with their fellows.

Good Ways to Invest Money.

I believe that money spent by any bright, earnest farm boy for a textbook on agriculture, or for any good book that will teach him things he needs to know, is money invested just as truly as if he had put it into live stock or machinery or fertilizers; and in many cases it will bring him far bigger returns than will almost any other investment. Certainly money and time put into schooling—at the rural public school, at the high school or at the college—are money and time well spent. I believe it should be the ambition of every boy to go to college. Every boy will get to go, of course, but the nearer he comes to going the better. If he only prepares himself to enter a good college, he has done much. And if a boy starts out early with the determination to go, he can pretty nearly do it. Boys have worked and saved their money for years for that one purpose, and when they finally succeeded in completing the course, have found themselves able to earn two or three times as much as they could before. No money is better spent, even from a purely business standpoint than that spent for an education.

Indeed, getting an education—and by "education" I mean not merely the knowledge gathered from your school books, but the preparation for your life work and for right living—should be a boy's main object in life. According to whether or not he prepares in his youth to do the work that men have to do is he likely to succeed or fail when he becomes a man. Therefore, count the money—as well as the time and thought—you put into the training of your mind or the development of your body, as an investment on which you will realize in after life. Anything that will make you more efficient in your work or give you higher ideals of life, is well worth paying for—in fact, something you can not afford to fail to invest in.—M., in Raleigh Progressive Farmer and Gazette.

The Pouter.

A great many good people make themselves unhappy and other people, too, by pouting. They imagine they are dreadfully imposed upon read into the actions of other people all sorts of wrong motives. They have a grievance all the time and do not forget to tell it to every passerby. One of the mean things the pouter finds to pout about is the infrequency with which the pastor visits them. They measure the merit of the pastor by the number of visits he makes them every year. No matter if these good people are in perfect health, and others about the sick and suffering, the pastor must drop everything and pay regular visits to them or they are mad about it and tell it to everybody they can corner. We do not believe it is the duty of the pastor to humor these whims and we do believe it is the duty of the church to put its disapproval on the silly exactions these sensitive souls demand. A lot of so-called pastor-visiting is a sweet delusion anyhow. No grown man with good sense will run his legs off to listen to the light gossip of ladies who have too much leisure for their own good. We admire the honest and industrious housewife who said that with all her household duties claiming her attention she didn't have time to bother with her pastor during the week. Can the imagination conceive of the Apostle Paul sitting in a parlor and idling twenty or thirty minutes away for the sake of satisfying the vanity of a sister and thus keep her from talking about him? If there is any service the pastor can render of course he ought to go, and if he is what he ought to be will go, but we are not talking about that. We are referring to that other class of visits that mean not a thing in the real world but a few minutes of social chat which too often refers to persons rather than to things, and then to take his hat in his hand and bow himself out of the front door. We are very sorry for the preacher who has much of this kind of work to do, and the less of it he does the better for him and the person upon whom he calls.—Charity and Children.

Discredited.

many other errors that have helped to lose him the confidence of the people. One of these in his position in the Ballinger matter, not so much that he stood by his secretary of the Interior, but that he tried to fool the people with regard to the true facts in the case by mis-dating a report of the matter so as to make them think he had read it, when in fact he had not done so. Then his treatment of the western insurgents, in trying to force them to vote for measures they did not approve of by withholding patronage from them was another thing that cannot be excused. No president ever came into office enjoying the confidence of the people as fully as he. But his administration is already a failure beyond redemption and he will go out of office discredited and repudiated in the nation as he was Tuesday repudiated by the people of his own city and state.—Raleigh Times.

He honors North Carolina and deserves all that is coming to him.—Washington News.

The State insurance department does not convict men for arson every time, but it keeps them scared and has a different effect on others. This is shown by the decreasing number of fires of a supposed incendiary origin over the state. It is a most difficult job to secure evidence in cases of arson. A man who does not go about such nefarious work with the greatest secrecy is a fool. Even then convictions are often secured.—Greensboro Record.

Why don't the choirs of the churches sing more of the songs that the people understand and enjoy—something that touches the chords of the heart, a soul-lifter so to speak? There are songs that make you feel better; make you feel like you wanted to be good to all the world. There are others that do not have this effect in fact they have the opposite. From a scientific point some songs are all right, but we always did like to hear a tune—not scientific noise.—Greensboro Record.

MONEY TALKS

HERE'S ANOTHER MONEY TALK. IF YOU PUT YOUR MONEY in the BANK YOU WILL HAVE IT WHEN YOU NEED IT. You keep your horse in a good stable, why not keep your money in a bank where fire nor burglars cannot harm it.

MAYER ROTHSCHILD, born in Frankfort, Germany, in 1743, and founder of the Great Rothschild fortune—the greatest on earth—peddled from house to house when a boy.

He saved his money. Economy and INTEREST, at a low rate, made this great fortune.

We pay interest at 4 per cent. on time Certificates.

Have Beautiful Hair.

Many women do not realize that attractions they possess because they do not give proper attention to the hair.

The women of Paris are famed for their beauty, not because their facial features are superior to those of other women, but because they know how to keep young by supplying vigor, luster and strength to the hair.

Three years ago Parasian Sage could hardly be obtained in America. But now this delightful hair tonic and dressing can be had in every town in America. Coward & Wooten sells it for 50 cents a large bottle, and guarantee it to grow beautiful luxuriant hair; to turn dull, lifeless hair into lustrous hair; to stop falling hair; to stop itching of the scalp. Ask for Parasian Sage.

No Paprika in Her Bones.

A Hungarian restaurant in New York became famous for its culinary triumphs, and many visitors to the city became acquainted there with the mysterious dishes produced in Hungarian kitchens. In one of these parties several years ago was a young matron from the far west, who, anxious to extend her culinary knowledge and seeing how her husband relished one of the courses of the meal, asked the head waiter for the recipe for the dish. "I can give it to you, madam," was the courteous reply, "but you can't make it."
"And why not?" asked the sightseer. "Because you must be Hungarian. It might come right for an Austrian, but an American never. You must have paprika in your bones." And, taking that high ground, the request was refused.—New York Tribune.

Across the Hall.

"Say, Snibbs, let me use your phone, will you?"

"Sure. What's the matter with yours?"

"It's all right. I want to telephone to my wife that I'm going to bring a man from out of town to dinner."

"Well?"

"He's sitting in my room now, and I hate to have him watch my face when my wife tells me what she thinks of the proposition."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

An Essay on Man.

What a chimera, then, is man! What a novelty, what a monster, what a chaos, what a subject of contradiction, what a prodigy! A judge of all things, a feeble worm of the earth, depository of the truth, cloaca of uncertainty and error, the glory and the shame of the universe.—Pascal.

A Chance to Make Money.

A young man who had been out of employment for some time and to whom money had become a stranger stood on the Walnut street bridge over the Schuylkill gazing down at the water.

Suicide was in his mind, but he was afraid to seek death by drowning and only contemplated it when he realized that he had no money to purchase poison, a rope or something of the sort.

As he was standing there a well dressed man accosted him.

"Young man, do you want to earn $4?" he said.

"Four dollars!" gasped the unfortunate, to whom the sum sounded like a million. "Lead me to it," he said.

"Come along," said the stranger as he led the way across the bridge.

The young man followed, a new hope gleaming from his eyes.

The stranger led the way to a room on a side street off Walnut.

"Here we are," he said.

"Well, how am I going to earn those $4?" asked the young man.

"Well, you see, I'm a little hard up for cash," said the stranger, "and I'm going to sell you a pair of five dollar shoes for a dollar!"—Philadelphia Press.

Meteors.

Swift meteors become visible at an average height of eighty-four miles and disappear at fifty-six miles, while the very slow meteors come in sight at about sixty-five miles and fade away at thirty-eight miles. Of the very slow meteors those that become visible at the greatest heights come twenty miles nearer the earth than those of very low radiant.

COMFORTING WORDS.

Many a Greenville Household Finds Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Greenville readers:

David R. Willis, East Main Street, Washington, N. C. says: "I have no hesitation in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills as they have given me entire satisfaction. I suffered from disordered kidneys, the secretions from these organs being too frequent in passage, especially at night. I also had dull pains through my back, accompanied by sharp twinges in my loins. Doan's Kidney Pills were highly recommended, and I at last secured a box. They relieved the backache, disposed of the pains in my loins and regulated the passages of the kidney secretions. Whenever I feel that my kidneys are disordered, I at once use Doan's Kidney Pills and they give me immediate relief." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., N. York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—a 1 take no other.

Comforting.

"I like church." "Why?" "Well, it's comforting to see one man keep so many women quiet an hour."—Widow.

By Wire to The Reflector.
New York, Nov. 11.—Losses and gains in prices were about equally divided during early trading, though trading was active in most stocks.
Substantial fractional gains were scored in some stocks while others dropped almost a point. Shortly after the opening a firmer tone prevailed and prices began to move upward. Early losses in most instances being wiped out and gains substituted.

New York, Nov. 11.—Cotton reached 15 cents this morning when May, influenced by firm cables and heavy buying, advanced 12 points. The market opened active. Steady and reduced estimates of the crop in Indiana was another factor. Buying was good. Opening: November 14.50; December 14.75; January 14.65;
February 14.74; March 14.80.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Wheat opened oats steady at outset but turned easy with other gains. Opening: December wheat 90; corn 46 5-8; oats May

Little Pitchers.
In a certain small town there are two young women whose favorite occupation has been to discuss the affairs of their neighbors. Having met for that purpose one afternoon, they found themselves blocked in the indulgence of their pastime by the presence of the small daughter of the hostess. A slight indisposition of some sort prevented sending the child out of doors, so they were forced to put up with her presence, doing their best, however, to nullify it.

Something eatable was produced and an absorbing new game invented which she could play quite by herself, so they breathed freely and began.

The talk at length reached a point involving the latest scandal of the neighborhood and the retelling of some inside information which must not become public property. A hurried look at the child on the floor found her apparently so occupied with her game that it seemed quite safe to go on if one observed a decent discretion.
Voices were accordingly lowered and direct allusion veiled, but when the matter had been thrashed out to their satisfaction the child raised her eyes and remarked with deliberation and emphasis:

"I hear, I know, I understand, and I'll blab!"—New York Times.

Books and Their Care.
Books on shelves may be seriously injured if packed too tightly. When quickly pulled out for use the top of the book is likely to come off. Moreover, the constant pressure, if too great, will loosen the whole back in time and the friction in putting upon and taking from the shelf marks the covers. On the other hand, a reasonable amount of lateral pressure is necessary. If placed on the shelves too loosely the leaves tend to open and admit dust, dampness and consequent mildew. In the case of heavy volumes the weight of the leaves will be found resting on the shelves if the books are placed too loosely. This is likely to make the backs concave.
Badly painted shelves are another source of injury to books. Care should be taken when paint or varnish is used that the surface is perfectly smooth, hard and dry when the books are put in place and that the surface will remain so during variation of temperature or humidity.—House Beautiful.

The Olfactory Test.
It may appear a whimsical theory that the successful grocery store can be detected by its odors, and yet there is this much truth in it—namely, that the grocery store which greets the nostrils with a certain glorious combination of odors of coffee, tea and spices is almost always a paying investment.
—Ideal Grocer.

Secrets of Comfort.
Though sometimes small evils, like invisible insects, inflict pain and a single hair may stop a vast machine, yet the chief secret of comfort lies in not suffering trifles to vex one and in presently cultivating an undergrowth of small pleasures, since very few great ones, alas, are let on long leases.

The Practical Man.
Our idea of a practical man is one who would rather have a ten cent cigar given to him than a five cent named for him.—Dallas News.

Truth is of no value unless it is explained in conduct.

MARLBOROUGH'S NOTE

A Scrap of Paper Treasured by the Great Duke's Heirs.

A scrap of paper that carries one back to the very atmosphere of a great decisive battle in the world's history is among the historical treasures of Blenheim House. On the paper are a dozen lines scribbled in pencill. They were written by the Duke of Marlborough at the close of the fierce struggle at Blenheim.

The tumult of battle was rolling westward, where French and Bavarians were in disorderly retreat, with Marlborough's cavalry riding fiercely in their rear. The slopes of the hill and the marshy plain were strewn with 30,000 killed and wounded.

But Marlborough, with the excitement of the great fight yet strong within him, pulled up his horse on one of the little rustic bridges across the Schwanbuch and scribbled these dozen lines to his wife in London to tell her of the great event.

Apparently the duke borrowed the scrap of paper from some member of his staff, for on the back of it are the faded items of a tavern bill. He used the parapet of the bridge for a writing desk. He had been seventeen hours in the saddle, most of that time riding in the very heart of one of the greatest battles in all history, yet the letters are firm in shape, a curious testimony to that serenely unshakable temperament that was Marlborough's most striking characteristic.—New York Herald.

AN INSOLENT FOP.

Beau Brummel's Impertinence and a Brewer's Tart Retort.

Beau Brummel, the famous English fop, was as notorious for his insolence as for his fine feathers. At the Pavillion, at Brighton, he ordered the footman to empty his snuffbox into the fire because a bishop had taken a pinch unasked. A man whom he had met at dinner offered him a lift in his carriage to Lady Jersey's ball. "Thank you exceedingly," said the beau, "but how are you to go? You would not like to get up behind, and I cannot be seen in the same carriage with you."
He made no secret of his humble birth and when asked about his parents declared that "the poor old creatures both cut their throats years ago eating peas with a knife."

Once at least Brummel met his match. He was playing hazard at Brooks, when a well known alderman, a brewer, was one of the party.
"Come, Mashtub," said Brummel, who was the caster, "what's your bet?"
"Twenty-five guineas," was the reply.
"Well, then, have at the mayor's pony," said Brummel, who proceeded to cast and by a run of luck won the stake twelve times in succession. Pocketing the money, he thanked the brewer and promised that in future he would drink no one's porter but his. "I wish, sir," replied the brewer, "that every other backguard in London would tell me the same."

Rolling Cigars.

It is common to hear men complain of poorly made cigars, but it is not always because a cigar is indifferently or badly made that the wrapper curls up and comes off. Much oftener this comes from the cigar having been rolled by a maker's left hand and later smoked from the hand of a right handed man. All cigarmakers must use both hands equally well, and economy both in time and material is the prevailing rule in tobacco factories.
When a piece of tobacco is cut for the wrapper it is cut on the bias and rolled from left to right on the filler, and at the same time and by the other hand the remaining pieces are used, being necessarily rolled in the opposite way.
For this reason, the man who holds a cigar in his right hand, which always gives a few twists during the course of a smoke, rubs the wrapper the wrong way, and easily enough it becomes loosened.—Chicago Tribune.

Magna Charta and the Bill of Rights.
Historically speaking, there is a big difference between the Magna Charta and the bill of rights. The first was obtained by the barons from King John at Runnymede in June, 1215, the other by the lords and commons from the Prince and Princess of Orange in 1688-89.

Magna Charta will ever remain the greatest landmark in the constitutional history of England, but next to the great charter wrong from John by the barons must stand the bill of rights that was so graciously conceded to by King William.—New York American.

A Bird's Barbed Wire Fences.

There may be seen along the roadsides in Central America a brown wren about the size of a canary which builds a nest out of all proportion to its apparent needs. It selects a small tree with horizontal branches growing close together. Across two of the branches it lays sticks fastened together with tough fiber until a platform about six feet long by two feet wide has been constructed. On the end of this platform nearest the tree trunk it then builds a huge dome shaped nest a foot or so high with thick sides of interwoven thorns. A covered passageway is then made from the nest to the end of the platform in as crooked a manner as possible. Across the outer end, as well as at short intervals along the inside of this tunnel, are placed cunning little fences of thorns with just space enough for the owners to pass through. On going out this opening is closed by the owner by placing thorns across the gateway, and thus the safety of the eggs or young is assured.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Penknives.

Nowadays we use penknives principally for sharpening pencils. There was a time, however, when they were used primarily for doing something else. They used to be just what their name would indicate—they were "penknives." The ancients used pens made of goose quills, just as our forefathers did up to about a hundred years ago. The quill pen was made by hand, of course, and whenever the point of one would break or lose its elasticity it was up to the penman to put a new point or "nib" on the quill.
This was done with a small knife, and hence we have the word that has outlived the quill pen a hundred years—"penknife." In the olden times the penknife was a necessary accessory of the writing desk. When the clasp-knife came in the smaller sizes took their name from the little desk knife, while the bigger ones were called "jackknives," "jack" signifying anything masculine or big and strong.—

Saw It In a Dream.

For many years ivory manufacturers were trying to devise a machine for turning out a billiard ball as nearly perfect as possible and at the same time avoiding waste. Among those who strove to perfect such a machine was Mr. John Carter of the firm of John Carter & Son, well known ivory manufacturers of half a century ago, whose premises will stand in Bishopsgate. One night after Mr. Carter had been striving to solve the problem for some time he suddenly awoke his wife by shouting out, "I have got it!" and rushed downstairs into his study, where he made a drawing of the last knife, for the want of which he had been so long waiting in order to complete his machine. It appears that he had fallen asleep and dreamed about the machine, and in the dream the solution of the difficulty was revealed to him.—London Standard.
