DOES CIVIC ADVERTISING PAY

MR. D. M. CLARK EXPRESSES SOMETHING OF INTEREST

WHAT WESTERN CITIES ARE DOING

Greenville and Pitt County Have Opportunities of Laying Their Advantages Before The World—Much Can be Accomplished Through Advertising.

It is an undisputed fact that wherever you find a successful merchant or other business man, his success is largely the result of an extensive system of advertising. The logical deduction from this dogma is that when in possession of resources that will be beneficial to themselves if utilized by others, it is a wise policy to advertise these resources or advantages. Therefore if a municipality is located in the midst of a wealthy community, with tobacco, cotton, and other staple commodities as its products and having two competitive railroad lines and a boat line with which to handle at a low rate both farm and manufacturing products, should not the outside world be advised in some form, of these advantageous conditions?

In support of this reasoning, we will recall that our prosperous western cities that have grown so rapidly within the last few years, have adopted some plan for advertising the industrial advantages of their particular locality. It is interesting to observe what some of our more progressive cities are doing, either by private subscription or by taxation, in the way of publicity. Here are a few of the amounts that are being expended for municipal advertising: Buffalo, $100,000; Memphis, $50,000; Poughkeepsie, $50,000; Portland, Ore., $50,000; St. Paul, $15,000. Of course many other smaller cities do not outlay any thing like this much money on advertising alone, but almost all towns of any consequence in the west or middle west, have some form or system by which every asset is presented in its most favorable light to prospective investors or manufacturers seeking a change of location, and at the same time engaging the services of an expert to follow up replies to the most important inquiries, with personal visits.

The methods of obtaining this advertisement fund are different in the various cities. We will take for instance, Des Moines, Iowa, a comparatively small city, yet after an enthusiastic campaign waged by the Greater Des Moines Committee a permanent organization corresponding to our chamber of commerce, the sum of $30,000 had been privately subscribed for municipal advertising and just seven months later Des Moines was better off by several new industries. Although this method of private contribution was very successful in Des Moines, the Levenworth Times thinks the fairest way is by a moderate tax levy, so that as all share the profits they should pro rata share the expense. The Pittsburg Gazette-Times advises the citizens of Pittsburg that they should profit by the experience of their sister cities that have proven that publicity pays, and goes on to say that not one of those cities that have been benefited by advertising in the past years could offer anything like the advantages for manufacturers that are possessed by the Pittsburg district.

I hope all who know me, know me to be a booster and not a knocker. Greenville, yet I cannot refrain from comparing our own town and county, to that class of merchants who buy the most costly, up-to-date goods for their top shelves and never let the public know they have things that are attractive.

Correction in Tobacco Sale Average.

Mr. C. W. Harvey, secretary of the tobacco board of trade advises us that he made some errors in reporting the average price of sales of tobacco on the Greenville market, as published in Saturday's Reflector. The average price paid during the month of November should have been $12.07, and the average price for the entire season since August 18th to the close of November should have been $11.01.

CONGRESS MEETS.

Adjourns Through Respect to Deceased Members.

By Wire to The Reflector. Washington, Dec. 5.—Congress met today at noon and after communicating with the president, notifying him they were ready for business, adjourned until tomorrow in memory of those members who have died since the last session. Nearly all members of both houses were in their seats at the opening and the galleries were packed and large crowds were turned away. Democratic members were in good spirits. Republicans were correspondingly gloomy as they realize that the next session will be controlled by Democrats.

MRS. EDDY DEAD.

Head of Christian Science Passes Away.

By Wire to The Reflector. Boston, Dec. 5.—Surrounded by the same mystery in death that has prevailed during her life, the body of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, who died Saturday night, late head of the Christian Science, lay guarded today from the eyes of her vast army of followers in her stone mansion here. Simple funeral services will be held but details have not been arranged yet, pending the arrival of Mrs. Baker's son, Geo. W. Glover, from Grand S. D. Thousands of telegrams of sympathy have been received from all over the world. Mrs. Eddy is said to have died of pneumonia.

BLIZZARD COMING.

The Coldest Weather in Years is Predicted.

By Wire to The Reflector. Washington Dec. 5.—A heavy snow fall is sweeping east from the great lakes to the Atlantic States. The weather bureau predicts that the storm will be followed by intense cold weather. In several states on the Canadian border the temperature is below zero. During the next two or three days the Dakotas will experience the coldest weather in years. Heavy snow fall began here about eight o'clock.

CENSUS FIGURES.

Population of North Carolina and Several Leading Counties.

By Wire to The Reflector. Washington, Dec. 5.—The population of North Carolina is 2,362,287, a gain of 16.5 per cent over the population of 1,893,810 in 1900. Under the present apportionment this would give North Carolina one additional congressman. The population of some of the leading counties are Guilford 60,497; Mecklenburg 67,031; Wake 63,229; Pitt 36,340; Cumberland 35,284; New Hanover 32,037.

Male Suffragette Jailed.

By Cable to The Reflector. London, Dec. 5.—The first male suffragette ever arraigned in the vote for women campaign was before the police court today charged with attempting to horsewhip home Secretary Churchill. His name is Hugh Franklin and he was found guilty of assault and given six weeks in jail.

Sow a Fall Crop of Wheat and Oats.

The time is at hand for the sowing of small grain. We know it is the intention of our farmers to sow more this fall than ever before. The only question is to get them at it in time. We know it is important to pick out the cotton; but it is equally as important to sow your wheat and oats. A few days difference in time of sowing often makes a great difference in the yield, so when the time comes put in your grain. Three years ago it was difficult to secure good seed of either wheat or oats as they were scarce. Now, you can get the best seed and at reasonable prices. So there is no excuse for any one not having a fine wheat and oat field this winter. All over the South in every community you can hear of record yields of corn being made. We want it to be this way with wheat and oats next summer. The corn crop is the farmer's salvation this fall and let the grain crop pay the same next year. Southern Cultivator.

The object of these meetings is to develop Christian life and work in the men of the community. So far the attendance has been about thirty, but there ought to be fully a hundred men present at every meeting. A motion was made Sunday evening, for President Wilson to appoint an invitation committee whose duty shall be to get more men to attend the meetings. This committee will be announced soon.

THE THIRD FIRE.

Like The Other Two There Was no Damage of Consequence.

On Saturday evening Greenville it in reality had the third fire within a week, but like the two preceding it was not of much consequence. It occurred in a house occupied by colored people nearly opposite the Star warehouse on Ninth street, and was caused by taking a lighted lamp without a chimney up stairs in the "jump" from which some straw was ignited. The fire was put out with no damage to the building.

Those who had been anticipating with dread the third fire, now breathe easier that it came without doing a damage. Nevertheless every body should not fail to exercise care against fire.

A Sure Way to Be Happy.

Herbert Spencer says that every creature is happy when he is fully using his powers, says Mrs. Durton Chance in The Delineator for November. To have something to do that in the doing broadens and develops our powers, is the only way to be happy. Parents so often try to shield their children by doing everything for them. What a mistake it is! It is just such children who grow up indifferent, self-sufficient and morally lazy.

By individual effort alone the character grows and in the act of growth only is it possible to know contentment. To enjoy this growth it is necessary to have some keen interests in your life, whatever they may be. Try to see into the mysteries of nature, even if at first it is hard to overcome the sluggishness of your mind.

Resolve firmly that while you study some one thing seriously you will continually be enlarging your interest by obtaining a superficial knowledge of many things. By a superficial knowledge I mean enough knowledge to have your interest stimulated so that you can be an intelligent listener on many subjects outside those in which you are trying to perfect yourself.

It is usually mental laziness, with a determined wish to avoid giving personal energy, that combines to make the kind of ignorance people choose to call indifference.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1910.

And it is congress once more.

The State board of canvassers found the Democratic majority to be 46,514.

And congress must sit still long enough to listen to it.

The esteemed Congressional Record will soon be coming along again to help kindle the fires.

Charlotte and Wilmington are the only places in the State that the census bureau have thought enough to mention so far. But it got the two best.

The thing is coming nearer home. Both the Atlantic Coast Line and Seaboard Air Line railroads have been indicted for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Because one minister out of the large membership of the North Carolina conference went wrong, don't everybody try to throw a brick at him.

The Charlotte auditorium is in the light again. This time the sheriff is after it for three years' taxes. That auditorium is one thing the "Queen City" folks ought to chip in for and free from debt.

Senator Tillman, of South Carolina is showing his sticking qualities. When asked by a reporter if he was going to retire, he said "I shall not retire until they bury me. I have no idea of quitting the game."

In adopting the report of the committee on temperance, the North Carolina conference at Elizabeth City urged that legislative action be taken against the near-beer saloons and against inter-state shipment of intoxicants. These are questions that should be agitated until laws are passed correcting them.

Helping Others.

The turmoil of political battles has ceased and it is to be hoped the bitterness of the late campaign may never be seen or heard of again. Let men in both political parties remember now and forever that life is too short to follow the lead of men whose only stock in trade is abuse of others. It is foolish to permit ourselves to be worked up to a high pitch by those who have only one thing for their stock in trade, and that is to arouse a spirit of bitterness against the opposition party, or against those inside their own party lines, who will never vote or collar others.

We all should live for others, as well as for ourselves. The welfare of others should have our concern and solicitude. The joy and happiness of our friends should be our joy and happiness.

People with warm blood and active brains stand by their hopes, thoughts and aspirations.

The newspaper writer should speak from his heart as well as from his intellect, and his conscience should be his sole guide.

A newspaper which does not have courage and convictions is of little benefit to its readers. Of late years the newspapers have been the leaders in the battles for reform. All good causes have opposition and to stand up for the right means war.

The plunderers who want the tools in places of power and responsibility never cease fighting to accomplish their ends and purposes.

It means sacrifice and loss to any man who dares to drive from the corrupt and groveling politicians who respect neither property nor the good name of those whose purpose in life is to keep putrid politics from obtaining the ascendancy.

Story of Mr. Griggs and His Squirrel.

A few days ago Mr. Ad. Griggs, a well known citizen of Guilford township, who lives near the South Carolina line, saw a large squirrel run into a hollow in a tree. He happened to have a tow sack with him and this he placed over the entrance to the hollow. He then went on the tree and the squirrel, not suspecting the trick that was being played on him, ran into the sack and became a captive.

Mr. Griggs carried the squirrel home and that night decided to have some fun with it. He moved all the furniture out of room in his dining and, after placing two lighted lamps on the floor turned the squirrel loose. The animal, as soon as it gained his liberty made for the lamps and turned them over and put them out, after which it jumped on a little son of Mr. Griggs, who was in the room at the time and bit him. The boy knocked the squirrel away after which the infuriated animal attacked Mr. Griggs and bit him on the leg, body, arms and face. The room all this time was in total darkness and they do say the way Mr. Griggs yelled for a light was a caution. Soon his cries were answered by a member of the family running into the room with a lamp, after which he got a walking stick and proceeded at once to brain the squirrel.—Wadesboro Messenger and Intelligencer.

According to a Baltimore physician ten minutes of worry is more enervating than a week of work, and thereupon he freely advises everybody not to worry. Lots of us would like to take the Baltimore sage's advice, but what we would like for him to tell us more especially is how to keep from worrying about how to meet expenses.—Wilmington Star.

WHEN HER BACK ACHES.

A Woman Finds All Her Energy and Ambition Slipping Away.

Greenville women know the aches and pains that come when the kidneys fail to make life a burden. Backache, hip pains, headaches, dizzy spells, distressing urinary troubles, a tell of sick kidneys and warn you of the stealthy approach of diabetes, dropsy and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills permanently cure all these disorders. Here's proof of it in a Greenville woman's words:

Miss Susan Kainsaul, 503 N. Fifth St., Greenville, N. C., says: "For some time I suffered from dull, nagging backaches and distressing pains through my loins. My kidneys were very weak and caused me great annoyance. My back pained me severely when first arising in the morning. I was so lame and sore I could scarcely get around. I at length procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Wooten's drug store and through their use I was entirely relieved. The fact that my kidneys have given me trouble since then, leads me to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills very highly."

A Queer Old Word.
"Trug," according to Dr. Wright's Dialect Dictionary, is used to denote various measures in different parts of England. In Yorkshire it means an oblong wooden trough for milk; also a milking pail. In Cumberland it is a wooden box used for carrying coal or peat—in fact, an overgrown or exaggerated coal scuttle. In Oxfordshire it is a kind of basket used by gardeners, and in several counties a "trug" is a measure of which three go to make up two bushels; hence "trug corn" or wheat signifies a measure of wheat allowed to a clergyman as a kind of tithe. "Trug corn" was payable at Leominster as late as 1806.—London Standard.

Brought to the Point.
Mr. Popinjay (falling on his knees)— Miss Perkins, I can no longer resist the passionate impulse to appeal to you on the momentous subject that is fraught for me with the issues of life and death. And yet I am overawed at my presumption when I take into consideration the celestial glamour of your personal charms, the dazzling luster of your intellectual attainments, the exquisite, the adorable—Miss Perkins—Excuse me, Mr. Popin-jay, but there are times when eloquence is rather out of place. If you wish to pop the question pop it and be done with it.
The question was duly popped.—Exchange.

A Peculiarity of Carrots.
Although carrots are among the most commonly cooked vegetables in various forms—stewed, boiled, puree, soups and introduced into ragouts, brulses and mirepoix—yet they are among the least digestible of vegetables; but, strange to say, notwithstanding their indigestibility, so far as regards form and substance, they are not known to cause any digestive derangement.
The great affection which cooks and their masters have for carrots can only be explained by their color, which makes an impression on the eye, and their flavor and sweetness, which speak to the palate.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Art Today.
"She is being fitted for the stage."
"Studying hard, I presume?"
"Oh, no; just being fitted with the necessary gowns."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Kisses at Auction.

That's the interesting title of one of the very best songs of the season—the one that has made a marked "hit" in Klaw & Erlanger's production of "The Bachelor Belles," the great show now playing in New York City at the Grand Opera House, the one in which the famous dancer Adeline Genes is stirring.

It is this very song—the words and music complete—that goes free as a special feature of next Sunday's New York World by special arrangement with the music publishers, Remick & Co.

No music collection is complete without this "leader." Get it! But to do so it will be well to order next Sunday's New York World from your newsdealer in advance.

Close of Market for Holidays.

The Greenville tobacco market will close for the Christmas holidays on Wednesday, December 21st, and will resume sales again on Monday, January 9th. Farmers and others having business with the market should make a note of these dates.

MONEY in Bank is safe from careless handling; in your pocket it is not.

The Commission Plan

Two gentlemen at Asheville are quarrelling over who first discovered a commission form of government or cities. Asheville is discussing the plan and this caused the dispute.

What does it amount to? This paper advocates a plan which is exactly the commission plan, long before it was ever thought of, the idea coming from watching the work of the board county commissioners, but we are not bragging about it and for a good reason—Greensboro might adopt it, it incompetent men at the helm and would be the biggest failure ever.

The plan is all right, but its success depends wholly on the men chosen. Because he is a good fellow, an honest man and all that has little to do with his fitness; it is a question of "know how." If he is not thus fitted he will be a perfect failure. The own owns no man anything. If we ever get far enough along to begin to think about selecting the candidates every man who announces himself should be viewed with suspicion. Some of the best men in this town—would be failures. The very best men can be found. The thing to do is to get them.

All this, however, is by the way;
the thing to do is to keep at work and get the people to see that by spending money can be saved.
It's not an easy job but it can be done, because it is done every day in the business world. A man who works for nothing is going to do nothing, or as near to it as he can,
and get along. The time is drawing near for "object lessons;" a time for "showing" the brethren from Missouri. And it is going to be a big job—Greensboro Record.

It has become the general opinion that the work of the next general assembly will be comparatively light, but a careful study of the proposed bills of statewide interest will prove that such will not be the case.
Among the more important measures that will come up are: State-wide primary redistricting of the state and congressional legislative districts appropriation for improvement of roads, anti-trust law, creation of three or more new counties, providing for new state administrative building, and increased appropriation for state institutions. Many other bills of importance are being talked of and doubtless when the general assembly meets it will be faced by some of the most important questions that have ever come up before a general assembly in this state. The legislator who thinks there will be very little important legislation at the next session is likely to find several surprises before the 60 days are over.
