NOTES FROM THE UNIVERSITY

STUDENTS IN THE MIDST OF EXAMINATIONS

THE ATHLETIC EVENTS TO FOLLOW

Schedule of Basket Ball Games—Valuable Acquisitions to The Library—University Faculty Rank High Among Scientists Of The Country.

Chapel Hill, N. C., Jan. 17.—At the meeting of the State Historical and Literary Association held in Raleigh January 12, Professor E. K. Graham, head of the department of English and dean of the academic school, was elected president for the coming year.

Examination began today and for the next ten days there will be little doing except "bouncing" on the part of the students. But things will liven up immediately after this period ends. The night of the last day of examinations the University will engage in the first inter-collegiate game of basket ball of her athletic history. The schedule opens with Wake Forest, and includes games with Tennessee, Charlotte and Durham Y. M. C. A.'s, Virginia Christian College, Guilford and two games with the University of Virginia, one in Chapel Hill and one in Charlottesville. The main purpose of the team this season is to get the sport established. The men are in most cases green, but they hope in spite of their inexperience, to make a creditable showing.

The ball schedule will be published during the next week. The last few days have been very warm and the players have availed themselves of an opportunity for a little preliminary practice before the examinations. Captain Hackney will call out his men for steady work just as soon as examinations close. Coach Clancey will report in Chapel Hill the first week in February.

The University library has recently made some valuable acquisitions. In December through some friend of the University, a copy of the original constitution of the Ku Klux Klan, printed in Pulaski, Tenn., in 1868, was obtained. There are only two other documents in the United States. The library has also secured a copy of the rare work, Catesby's Natural History of the Carolinas, Florida and the Bahama Islands. The work is in two large folio volumes, magnificently illustrated. It was published in London in 1754. This is the only copy of the work in North Carolina.

Dr. L. R. Wilson, librarian of the University library, was elected chairman of the library department of the Southern Educational Association at the meeting held in Chattanooga, December 27th to 29th.

Of the seven North Carolina scientists who were given a place among the one thousand best scientists in the United States, six are members of the University faculty. Making a ratio between the number of inhabitants and the number of scientists in this one thousand, Chapel Hill comes second in the list of the towns of the whole country.

FIRE IN FARMVILLE.

Two Buildings Destroyed With About $3,000 Loss.

Early Monday morning quite a serious fire visited the town of Farmville, in this county. The fire started from some unknown cause in a tin shop and destroyed two buildings belonging to S. M. Pollard, and a brick building nearby was also damaged. The total loss is about $3,000 with not over $2,000 insurance. The heroic efforts of the citizens in fighting the fire saved the business section of the town from destruction.

Snowing.

It began snowing this afternoon, and what has fallen is showing a disposition to stick. At the time we go to press the ground is looking white.

THE BALTIMORE MEETING.

More of a "Pow-Wow" Than Anything Else.

By Wire to The Reflector.

Baltimore, Jan. 17.—Striving heroically to smoke the pipe of peace, but ready to don war paint if necessary, various clans and wings of Democracy are eagerly engaged in a harmonious "pow-wow" here today with champagne and terrapin supplanting the Jeffersonian simplicity of former years. With Harmon, Clark and Bailey sounding the key note an immense mass meeting opened this afternoon. Two hundred Democrats are in attendance.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

Two Shots Fired at Premier Briand Today.

TWO MASONIC LODGES, GREENVILLE

GRAND LODGE PETITIONED FOR SECOND LODGE CHARTER

NEW LODGE TAKES AN OLD NAME

Some Masonic History in Pitt County—Sharon Was Name of First Lodge Under North Carolina Jurisdiction, But Crown Point Existed Earlier Under Jurisdiction of Massachusetts.

Masonry has had such growth in Greenville, the lodge here reaching a membership of 125 and upwards, that it has been deemed advisable to institute another lodge of that order here. To this end a petition has been prepared to forward to the grand lodge of the State asking for a charter for the new lodge, this petition being recommended by the present lodge.

Those who will take their demit from the old lodge to institute the new one held a preliminary meeting, Monday afternoon, to recommend a name and the first officers of the new lodge to embody in the petition to the grand lodge for a charter. The name chosen was Sharon Lodge, and the officers recommended are as follows:

Henry Harding, worshipful master.
F. D. Foxhall, senior warden.
W. L. Brown, junior warden.
E. E. Griffin, secretary.
J. N. Hart, treasurer.

The reason that the name Sharon was selected for the new lodge, is because there is some tradition about the name, it having been the name of the first lodge instituted in Pitt county under the jurisdiction of North Carolina. Old Sharon lodge, like some others existing in the South at the time, went down during the civil war, and when Masonry was revived in Greenville after the war, the lodge then took the name of Greenville Lodge, No. 284, and has since continued by that name.

While old Sharon lodge was the first instituted in Pitt county under the grand jurisdiction of North Carolina, it is a matter of history that a lodge existed in the county many years earlier, in fact prior to the revolutionary period. A lodge, said to be even the first that existed in North Carolina, was at Crown Point, Pitt county, which was instituted under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts, and while records of that lodge were lost during the revolutionary war, the present grand lodge of North Carolina has records showing that Crown Point Lodge paid its dues to grand lodge of Massachusetts for the years 1767-68.

General Assembly Asked to Make Appropriation for Monument to Southern Women at Richmond—Victim at Wilmington Only 15 Years Old—Big Fire at Sanford.

Wilmington, Jan. 16.—Matthew Connor, a young white man, has been arrested and lodged in jail here in default of $1,000 bond on a warrant charging bigamy. It is charged that Connor married Miss Emma Ward, of Columbus county, when he was a wife and three children living at Abbottsburg, near Wilmington. Alleged wife No. 2 is only 15 years of age. Connor was arrested at Belgado, a suburb. The trial is set for Thursday and it is expected that Mrs. Connor No. 1 and her children will be here. After Connor was lodged in jail upon a warrant, another warrant was received from Columbus county and an effort was made to have the man carried to Columbus, but the local magistrate refused to recognize the second warrant. A deputy sheriff served the second warrant, however upon Connor.

The fire started on the second floor of the building and had made considerable headway when discovered.

Sixteen alleged blind tigers were arrested at Louisburg yesterday, and fourteen were tried and convicted before the mayor. They were sentenced to terms from 30 to 90 days on the roads, or given the privilege of paying fines of $25 and costs.—Raleigh News and Observer.

SUBMARINE BOAT SINKS.

Rescuers Trying to Save The Boat's Crew.

By Cable to The Reflector.
Kiel, Germany, Jan. 17.—A German submarine torpedo boat went to the bottom suddenly in the bay today, when its machinery became disabled. Divers immediately began work to rescue the crew who were penned like rats in a trap below the surface of the water. All tugs in the harbor were called to the scene and the utmost effort is made to throw a chain about the submarine and haul it to the surface.

There was air enough in the tank to keep the crew alive for several hours, and they kept in constant communication with rescuers directing work of divers about the craft.

The only new bills of general importance introduced were: Reinhart of Lincoln: Providing punishment for making false statements to obtain credit.

House—Monday.

The house held a longer session and put in considerable work, again catching up with the calendar. Among the bills of general interest introduced were:

McGill: For the erection of a woman's building at the Soldier's home.

Pethel: To protect women from drunkenness of midwives or practitioners.

Pethel: To encourage sheep raising and protect game.

Bethel: To provide for ex-Confederate soldiers.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 17, 1911.

Price is a penny.

Congress is not doing enough to attract attention.

Some people have the nerve to keep on trying to come back.—Wilmington Star.

But it is not those who promise to pay. They try not to come.

We want to see Greenville the best town in Eastern North Carolina. Her people can make it so if they will, but to do so they must show some interest in steps taken for that purpose.

Good roads that can be traveled in bad weather as well as in good weather, are worth a mint of money to the people of any country. The delays, the damage and the loss on account of bad roads is a big tax on the farmers. The tax is ten times heavier than a bond tax.—Wilmington Star.

Yet there are some people so afraid of bonds that they had rather go on paying the heavy tax bad roads impose on them than to pay a little interest and have good roads.

A special meeting of the chamber of commerce of Greenville is called in the city hall on Thursday night, 19th, at 8 o'clock. While the object of this meeting primarily is to discuss good roads for Greenville township, there are other important matters that will be presented for consideration. Every man in the community should try to be present for that night and attend, and try to do his share in the good work of the chamber.

The pardoning power. The pardoning power vested in the governor of a State entails a tremendous responsibility. Rare indeed is the case of the man sentenced to capital punishment who lacks one or more friends to plead for executive clemency. Again the problems arising in cases where the penalty is a prison sentence are many and complex. In all appeals the governor must consider on the one hand the necessity of tempering justice with mercy and on the other the equal necessity of protecting society. In whatever fashion a State executive may deem fit to exercise the pardoning function, he is practically certain to reap criticism as the principal reward of his efforts.

In several commonwealths the device of a board of pardons has been adopted. To this body are referred all appeals and it is its duty to institute a thorough investigation, the reports being advisory and not binding upon the governor, upon whom still rests the ultimate responsibility. The New York Times just at present is advocating the establishment of such a board in that State, moved there by the fact that Governor Horace White, who filled out the last three months of Governor Hughes' term, restored to citizenship no less than 75 men convicted of crime. The Asheville Citizen noting this position of The Times suggests that the same action would be beneficial to North Carolina.

We believe The Citizen's suggestion to point in the right direction. The governor of North Carolina is a busy official and it stands to reason that however much attention he may devote to the subject of pardons, more could be given by a board constituted for this special purpose. The Asheville Citizen has recommended the establishment of a board of pardon whose duty is to be the recommending of paroles for those inmates of the penitentiary whose conduct and record merit such action. Would it not be feasible to combine these functions, giving the same body supervision over the cognate matters of pardon and parole.—Charlotte Observer.

As to the Pardoning Board.
The proposition so often discussed to establish a state board of pardons to consider all applications that may be made by the friends and relatives of persons imprisoned in this state for any crime meets with the approval of some people, and we have no doubt would have no opposition from the executive himself should it come before the legislature. It is no easy matter to imagine the responsibility and describe the feelings of kind-hearted executives who are appealed to by wives and mothers of condemned criminals to exercise clemency in their behalf or to release from prison some poor unfortunate who, however richly he may have deserved his fate, is the sole dependence of a family which is suffering because the law demands retribution for crime he has committed. While on the other hand it is not fair to any executive that he should have to listen to all these pleas and it is too much to expect that a kind-hearted gentleman, who has no shred of cruelty in his make-up, can always see his duty clearly through mists of sympathetic tears, or who is just a little inclined to be deaf to the voice of that duty when some aged mother pleads with him for her son's life. The plan would lift from the shoulders of the Governor a burden of responsibility which should never have been placed there in the first place.—Wilmington Star.

WONDERFUL REMEDY.

That's What is Said of MI-O-NA and guaranteed by Coward & Wooten

Stephen Wylie, of Lansing, Michigan, writes:
"For over three years I suffered much pain and annoyance from stomach disease. I had no help from my digestive organs. My food would stay in my stomach and ferment, causing gas and a dizzy headache. I doctored and used every remedy that I heard of, but it remained for MI-O-NA to cure me entirely. Before I had used three boxes, my appetite and digestive organs became all right. It is a wonderful remedy."
MI-O-NA stomach tablets are small and easy to swallow. They stop the most painful stomach distress in 10 minutes. They drive out sourness and gas and make the stomach clean and sweet.

They are sold by Coward & Wooten under a guarantee to cure any case of indigestion, or money back. They put vigor and vitality into people run down by indigestion. Sold by Coward & Wooten, and leading druggists everywhere, at 50 cents a large box.

Coming Home.

A man who left the South about forty years ago and who has been successful in his vocation, was heard to remark: "I don't regret having left the South, the opportunity may have been here for me, but I couldn't see it at that time, but now the South is developing so rapidly that I can see more opportunities here than in any other section of the country. My boys are back at my old home and they are making money under more favorable conditions than I ever experienced."

Thousands of young Southern men left home because there was no money here forty years ago. A virgin soil, great forests, splendid climate, in fact, every natural resource abound but it could not be developed then. As these men are reaching old age they are sending their young men back home, where time and conditions have wrought such wonderful changes that enterprise and capital pay the largest dividends.

We welcome them back to the home of their fathers and brothers. We have longed for our own stock, blood of our blood and bone of our bone. We need them. This land of promise, the home of civil government, needs to be restored to its former prestige in wealth and power.—Merchants' Journal.

Many teachers were here today attending the meeting of the association.

The great weather gives good opportunity for out door work.

delicately perfumed hair dressing, and besides curing dandruff, your drug-

Good Courage.

There is nothing more important and necessary to success in life than good courage. The cheerful, perserv-ing, energetic, undiscouraged man is the one who wins every time. The man who says, "I can't" never gets anywhere.

Let no valuable time be wasted in envying the man of millions. Everybody cannot be a capitalist. There must be laborers, and the laborers must realize and accept the fact that if there were no great fortunes, the whole vast system of political economics would speedily go to ruin.

And, on the other hand, capitalists must bear in mind that without labor wealth could not be developed, and progress would stop at its very inception. Envy is at the root of un-doubtful evils. And envy—the lowest and most of all human passions—the no business in the breast of an honest man. It should be a matter for rejoicing that prosperity is abroad in the land. No man's path to progress should lie across the shipwreck of any fellowman's hope and aspirations.
Courage makes a man the peer of kings. It lifts him above worldly disasters. It keeps him true to his purpose, loyal to his convictions, and earnest and untiring in his labors.
It says to Doubt, there is no such word as fail. Disappointment that discourages is impossible, for courage shall in the end prevail over everything adverse, and victory shall crown patient and persistent endeavor.

Do not set down in idleness because the right opportunity does not lie ready to your hand. Work at what offers, and work faithfully, and in the meantime be on the lookout for the opportunity you long for. Do not allow any would-be philosopher of a pessimistic turn to dishearten you by the kind of cheap talk which would have you believe that all the best positions in the world are filled, and that there is no longer any chance for the sarnest and willing worker. Look for your chance, and when you have found it put your trademark upon it, and stick to it.

Persistent effort wins. Faith can remove mountains. Seas have been converted into dry land, continents have been reclaimed from the wilderness, deserts have been transformed into fertile fields, the ocean has been made the medium by which the Far East speaks to the Far West, and the people of the sailing surface have been brought within a few days distance of each other by courage and effort.

No good thing is brought forth from the storehouse of Nature without labor. Work is God's own law and method. Be glad that it can be yours, also make the most of the powers you have, and don't waste time in vain and weak replinings.

And no matter what befalls, cultivate a cheerful, happy spirit, and in so doing you not only make your chances of success tenfold greater, but you are the means of putting new hope and vigor into many a de-

MHI Building Record.

According to a summary of mill construction in this country, during the last six months, made by The American Wool and Cotton Reporter, it was not a bad season for mill building, even through a season of marked depression for cotton manufacturing.
The summary of this textile journal shows that 126 new mills were proposed or built during the last six months of 1910, which is a decrease of 87, as compared with the first six months of 1910. New mill construction in Massachusetts, as a result, takes second place in the standing with 14 new mills constructed during the last six months, and with Pennsylvania leading with 17 new mills.
The statistics show that during the year of 1910 a total of 339 new mills were either built or proposed, of which almost 65 per cent were Northern mills and slightly more than 35 per cent Southern mills. Of the new mills constructed during the year, 44 per cent were cotton, 18 per cent woolen, 23 per cent knit goods, and the remainder or 15 per cent, miscellaneous mills. The number of new mills constructed during the last six months is less than the number constructed during any other similar period since 1907, when the same number was proposed or built. During the first six months a great deal of construction work has been going on among the mills, and many improvements and replacements have been made during the year of depression through which the textile industry has recently passed. In this work of improvement, Massachusetts holds the lead with 60, as it did for the first six months, with 65.—Charlotte Chronicle.
