TWO YEARS' RECORD OF STATE PRISON

UNDER MANAGEMENT OF SUPT.
J. J. LAUGHINGHOUSE

LARGE INCREASE IN THE RECEIPTS

General Improvement About Prison and State Farms—Comparison of Different Camps Shows Better Health Record of Those in East Than Those in West.

Superintendent J. J. Laughinghouse in his report to the governor of the State prison, reviews the work of the institution since he assumed control on April 7, 1909, and gives itemized statements of receipts and disbursements. He reports that his inventory of December 31st, 1910, showed "a large appreciation of the State's property by substitution of young fine mules and horses for the old worn-out stock and the latest improved farming implements for old and out of date implements that were discarded by all practical farmers a decade ago."

In his report he states that he does not take into account articles produced and consumed on the farm, as these values balance themselves, that the number of convicts has gradually decreased for the past ten years, because of chain-gangs in many counties, only the diseased and infirm coming from these and that if this system continues that in a few years the prison population will be decreed. The receipts, he states, "show the fact that we have earned and paid into the treasury over double the amounts of any preceding two years, we at the same time show an increase in expenditures," that "this was inevitable when we consider the run-down condition of the stock and buildings" that improved kind of agricultural implements have saved during the cultivating season $100 a day. In detail he gives the improvements in buildings and stock, and tells of about $10,000 worth of time, in repairing the upper dike on the State farm to reclaim 3,000 acres of valuable land.

The health condition on the farm and at the camps as given by the physicians is reported and it is stated that with 400 prisoners at the farm on Roanoke river in Halifax county, a permanently located camp, where over half the prison population is kept, averaging 350 to 400, that there were four deaths in the past two years, one a man 75 years old, and no case of typhoid fever in that time. From S. J. Busbee's camp in Eastern North Carolina, where there are 75 men, there were no deaths in 1909, one in 1910. From W. L. Chaffins railroad camp in eastern North Carolina, with 75 to 80 men, there were no deaths from sickness in two years. From D. H. Carter's railroad camp in Hyde county, there were no deaths in 1909, one in 1910; that of an old man of 70 years whose death was from heart trouble, a few minutes after eating a hearty meal. At the railroad camp in Elkin in Western North Carolina, with 75 men generally, there was one death in 1909 and one in 1910. As to this camp in Western North Carolina, Superintendent Laughinghouse says there were more deaths and more losses from sickness than at camps in any other part of the State, which goes to show the healthy conditions in Eastern North Carolina.

In regard to the health conditions, from the report of Dr. F. M. Register, physician to State farm, the following is taken: "Our health record has been so good for the last two years that I must call your special attention to it" and tells of the interest of the officials in health conditions, that in the past two years there were four deaths out of nearly 400 prisoners, none among sixty or more employees and no typhoid fever that he attributes "this record of health to driven pumps, thereby getting pure water, good food, sanitary surroundings, regular hours, and last but not least, everything thoroughly screened from flies and mosquitoes" and that "I believe that the eastern part of the State will compare with any other part, if people will use driven pumps and thoroughly screen their premises." The malaria, he says, is in a great measure preventable and ascribes the greater part of past sickness to malaria. He gives

Notes From Our Hurling Neighbor—What Its People are Doing.

Winterville, N. S., Jan. 25.—Rev. Robert Carroway, of Ayden, filled his regular appointment here Sunday. He preached a fine sermon to large audiences Sunday and Sunday night.

Mr. Sam. Whitehurst, from near Falkland, entered school yesterday. Miss Helen Smith, of Falkland, who has been sick with measles, returned to school Monday.

Rev. C. T. Upchurch, pastor of the Baptist church at Kinston, will lecture in the W. H. S. auditorium February 3, 1911. All are cordially invited to come out and hear him. Mr. J. T. Currie, of Enfield, entered school yesterday.

Rev. M. A. Adams is holding a meeting at Fremont this week.

high praise to the conduct of the State farm, and adds that there is not used among all the sick an average of a quart of whiskey or brandy in a year, that he finds "temperance in a malarial country is very conducive to good health." This year there will be no extra expense for driven wells or for screening.

The escapes in 1909 were 28 with 19 recaptured. In 1910 there were 12 escapes and 6 recaptures, this decrease being ascribed to the influence of improved guns and target practice and orders that all guards should be discharged who failed to stop a man with fair chance with these guns. Seven men were killed, and the twelve who escaped is reported as the lowest number in the history of the State's prison. It is reported that there has not been one instance of abuse or ill use of prisoners.

"The present management took charge of the State's prison April 7th, 1909. Then the books showed $60,650.28 to the prison's credit. The law requires a biennial report, therefore we have to go back to January 1909, when we found $8,356.70 to the prison's credit.

"The entire receipts, including the $68,356.70, adds up $586,044.62. Take from this our disbursements, $367,544.40, leaves $218,500.22; add to this $50,000 for necessary buildings, farming implements of the most improved kinds, the difference in old and young mules and repair of dykes that will enable us to reclaim 3,000 acres of fine bottom land that will make 10 barrels of corn per acre; to this add $11,756.98, the amount paid out of the State's prison earnings for 1909 for the maintenance of the Dangerous Insane Department and $677.32 paid out for the installation of the electric chair, $1,000 all appropriated by the legislature, and you have $281,363.62; subtract from this what we found in the treasurer's office to our credit January 1st, 1909, $68,356.70, and you have, including permanent improvements, left $213,006.92 as the prison's earnings for 1909 and 1910.

"We have now an abundance of long forage, 2,000 barrels of corn. We have made 3,700 bushels of wheat, raised a great abundance of vegetables of all kinds; fattened 40,000 pounds of meat, but these crops raised and consumed balance themselves and are not counted. Large amounts paid out for buildings, improved farming implements, mules and horses, should not be considered as an expense like feed and provisions which are consumed, but should be counted as assets and considered as permanent improvements; which will be very valuable and pay for themselves in producing next and succeeding crops, as well as preserving and extending the life and service of the live stock and the durability of the implements and machinery used on the farm.

"I feel that I have been conservative in my estimate of unsold crops; cotton we put at fourteen when it is selling today at fourteen and a half, and peanuts at $1.00 when they are selling today at $1.10; cotton seed we put at full value because they have been sold."

He has since sold the crop of peanuts at $1.18 per bushel, which is much higher than their value was estimated at the time of making his report.

CORNER STONE OF NEW COURT HOUSE

WILL BE LAID THURSDAY, JAN.
26TH, 1911

ARTICLES TO BE DEPOSITED IN IT

Laying of Corner Stone to be Attended by no Exercises—Work on Both Court House and Jail Progressing Well—Will be Creditable Buildings.

Tomorrow, January 26th, 1911, there will take place an incident that will be of interest to all the people of Pitt county. It will be the laying of the corner stone of the new court house now being built. The laying of this corner stone is only to be a quiet affair, not attended by any exercises whatever.

It is gratifying to note here the progress that has been made on the new court house and the new jail since the work started a few months ago, and that the court house has advanced far enough to be ready for the corner stone to be placed in position. The walls of the basement are finished and the first story walls are a little more than 8 feet above the first floor, and the reinforced concrete floor of this story is in. This makes approximately about one-third of the building done, while the jail, being a smaller building, has progressed faster and is about half finished up to this time. They will both be buildings of which the county may well be proud. The court house is to be a fire-proof structure throughout, and the work so far done shows that it will be a handsome building.

The contractors for both the court house and jail are the Central Carolina Construction Company, of Greensboro, the contract price being $74,984. Mr. E. W. Foster is superintending the work for the construction company and Mr. J. A. Case is inspector for the county, the whole being at all times under the supervision of the board of county commissioners and the building committee selected to act with them.

So far as can be ascertained of the laying of the corner stone, the list of articles that will be deposited in it is as follows: A piece of material from the first court house the county ever had, the old building now on the farm of Mr. John Forbes about 3 miles from town; a piece of material from the third court house that stood over Evans street in front of the present site and was destroyed by fire in 1858; a piece of material from the fourth court house that was destroyed by fire in 1910; photographs of the last court house, also of the new steel bridge across Tar river and of East Carolina Teachers Training School, and of Greenville graded school; the names of the board of county commissioners, J. P. Quinerly, D. J. Holland, B. M. Lewis, J. J. May, and W. E. Proctor; names of the building committee, J. L. Wooten, J. G. Moyer, and D. C. Moore; a copy of the resolution adopted by the commissioners authorizing the erection of the buildings; copies of The Daily Reflector of February 24th, 1910, containing an account of the burning of the court house and jail, of December 8th, 1910, containing a copy of the advertisement by the board of commissioners for the sale of the bonds, of Jan. 11th, 1911, containing a report of the meeting of the commissioners at which the sale of the bonds to the amount of $75,000 was awarded to Woodin, McNear & Moore of Chicago, for $77,525, and also a copy of the paper containing this article.

Some other articles of historic or county interest may be added to the list at the time of laying the corner stone, if so they will be mentioned later.

The second court house the county had was a frame building on brick pillars that stood on the square opposite the present court house site, but a piece of material of that old building could not be obtained, as it was torn down about the time of the building of the third court house, which was about 75 years ago.

STATE PRISON REPORT.

In our news columns today appear some extracts from the report of Supt. J. J. Laughinghouse of his management of the State prison and farms as recently made to the governor. The excellent showing of this report further bears out the statement The Reflector has made before, that it was in keeping with "the eternal fitness of things" when Governor Kitchin appointed Capt. J. J. Laughinghouse to this position. There is nothing like having the right man in the right place when results are wanted.

When Governor Fowle was in office he selected Mr. Faison, a cotton buyer and soldier, as superintendent. He could buy cotton and drill soldiers all right, but knew nothing about the management of big farms.

In Governor Carr's administration that followed, Mr. Leazer, a school teacher, was superintendent, and you can imagine how much he was qualified to manage a prison and several big farms worked by convicts.

Then came the Russell regime, when Mr. Day, an attorney, took charge of the prison and farms, and he sunk $227,000 for the State inside of four years.

Democratic days came back again with Governor Aycock when Mr. Mann, another lawyer, came to the superintendency. Governor Glenn kept the same superintendent through his administration, and in the eight years that Mr. Mann served he turned the tide and made $324,000 for the State.

Then came Governor Kitchin who selected Capt. Laughinghouse, a farmer, as he wanted a man who knew his business, and in less than two years, or to be exact from April 7th, 1909, to December 31st, 1910, this farmer superintendent turned out a profit of $213,000, the largest on record.

In commenting upon this last superintendent, the Raleigh News and Observer says:

When Governor Kitchin became governor he called another capable board of directors into control of the prison and selected Capt. J. J. Laughinghouse as superintendent and other capable officers were named to assist in the operation of the prison. The result has been that the prison was never better managed, the surplus has increased, and with good farming and better prices for products Capt. Laughinghouse has made the best report, showing larger earnings, than in any period of the management of the State prison. This is gratifying, not only to the administration, but likewise to the people of the whole State. Capt. Laughinghouse has made money as a farmer in Pitt for himself. By the exercise of wise judgment and with his large experiences he has done the same thing for the State, and deserves the highest commendation, as do the directors and all the officials and employees.

Along the same line the Raleigh Times says:

The report within itself shows the wisdom of placing men in charge of the various institutions and departments of the state qualified to fill that particular work. In this case Governor Kitchin selected a man who knew how to manage big farms on a big scale and knew how to handle men successfully. The result shows for itself.

Another thing The Reflector wants to emphasize as brought out in the report of Supt. Laughinghouse, is the comparison of health conditions surrounding the camps in the eastern and western sections. It shows that better health prevailed and fewer deaths occurred in the eastern than in the west. In sending out the convicts from the central prison to different farms and camps no regard was had as to the section of the State from which they came, but they were sent wherever they were needed to work. This part of the report is sufficient to refute the idea some people have that the eastern section of the State is unhealthy. In fact, it is the best and healthiest part of the State.

The prices of many things may go up but pencils, pen and ink remain about stationery.—Durham Sun.

A paper weight will have to be put on that to hold it down.

THE NEW SPEAKER

Why Champ Clark's Elevation to Power Means to Congress

As a member of the house, Champ Clark early demonstrated special aptitude for tariff studies. When John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, became democratic leader, he made Clark, his first lieutenant and leader of the minority of the Ways and Means committee. From this Clark naturally succeeded to the democratic leadership when Williams was elected to the senate; and now, in turn, he is to come into the speakership, "the second greatest office under government."

When Champ Clark is sworn as speaker, next December, he will be the fortieth speaker of the national house. He will come to the position at a time when the political situation will give it a significance it has seldom compassed.

The house is in crisis of its parliamentary development. For years there has been growing misgiving as to whether the popular branch was making the full contribution to national affairs that ought to be expected from it. The senate has overshadowed it in power and prestige. Under a succession of speakers armed with almost dictatorial authority, the house has become less and less a free moral agent, more and more a mere reflection of the mind and purpose of its presiding officer.

Champ Clark, in the speaker's chair, will be the exponent of the new purpose of democratizing the house. The place he will take in history will largely depend on the success with which he shall carry forward the purpose of restoring the house to its proper participation in legislation. In proportion as he shall be willing to be shorn of the petty powers of parliamentary dictatorship, he will gather himself the vastly greater and more effective authority of big, broad, true leadership.—The Munsey.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO.

Their Increasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

T. R. Moore, 918 Evans St., Greenville, N. C., says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, for I have used them with the greatest benefit. I was troubled with lameness in my back and my kidneys did not do their work as they should. I got Doan's Kidney Pills from the John L. Wooden Drug Co., and I had not used them long before I received relief. I can say that this remedy acts just as represented.

Don't you then Feel awful glad You put in That little ad.?

THE REFLECTOR COMPANY.

Set of Ware FREE!

If you call at our store during our MAJESTIC DEMONSTRATION WEEK and allow us to show you the many advantages and superior qualities of the Great MAJESTIC RANGE, and will purchase one at the regular price, we will give you FREE the beautiful and useful Souvenir Set of Ware illustrated in this advertisement. This ware is made to match the quality of the Majestic Ranges, and we know all ladies will see the beauty and utility of this set, especially the first three pieces, which are entirely new and cannot be had alone by purchase, except at a very high price. The Prices of Majestic Ranges are the same, but we give the set FREE with each Majestic Range bought during the Demonstration week only.

Reasons Why the Great Majestic You Should Buy

- 1st.—It has the reputation of being the best range money can buy.
 - 2nd.—It not only has the reputation but IS the BEST range made, and we will prove this to you if you will let us.
 - 3rd.—It is constructed of malleable iron, material you can't beat, and of Charcoal iron, material that resists rust 300 per cent greater than steel riveted together air tight. No heat escapes or cold air enters the range, thus uses very little fuel to do perfect work.
 - 4th.—The reservoir alone is worth the price of range over any other reservoir made. It boils 15 gallons of water; is heated like a tea kettle, with pocket against left hand lining, and is movable and sets 'on frame, hence cannot wear out. When water gets too hot it can be moved away from fire.
- MAJESTIC RANGES use less fuel; heat more water—and, heat it hotter; costs practically nothing for repairs; lasts three times as long; bakes better; easier to keep clean and gives better satisfaction than any other range on the market. If you know positively that the above statements are true, wouldn't you buy a Majestic at once?
- COME IN DEMONSTRATION WEEK AND WE'LL PROVE IT TO YOU.

Husbands as Property.

Considerable satisfaction will be felt by mankind generally at the argument advanced by a married woman in a suit involving another woman that "a husband is properly to a wife and a family, and to win him away is nothing short of stealing."

So it is the husband and not the wife that is the "human chattel." The admission controverts the theory upheld through generations of feminist protest against the serfdom imposed by man on his domestic partner through unequal marriage laws. The honest confession that the contrary is the case has been secured at last, but at a cost of feminine consistency which may be expected to bring its proper rebuke from every woman's club in the land. The fair plaintiff to secure her own ends has proved false to one of the cherished principles of her sex.

But the truth is out. It is man who is the chattel, possession of whom is gained by the marriage ceremony and the right, title and interest to whom has been established in suits for non-support or for abandonment during marriage as well as in alimony proceedings afterward. His status as matrimonial property has, to be sure, long been a matter of court record. But it is gratifying to have the courts upheld by the higher feminine opinion: "All the more interest for that reason will attach to the outcome of the present action to have husbands made subject to the laws which safeguard other forms of property."—New York World.

The Shrew.

The shrew was originally the shrew mouse, which, when her young were helpless, would fight desperately in their defense, and so well known was the courage of this little animal, which would even go out of its way to seek an enemy at times when the nest needed protection, that the word became applied to a woman who was ever ready to seek a quarrel.

If This Medicine Does Not Benefit You Pay Nothing.

A physician who made a specialty of stomach troubles, particularly dyspepsia, after years of study perfected the formula from which Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are made.

Our experience with Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets leads us to believe them to be the greatest remedy known for the relief of acute indigestion and chronic dyspepsia. Their ingredients are soothing and healing to the inflamed membranes of the stomach. They are rich in pepsin, one of the greatest digestive aids known to medicine. The relief they afford is almost immediate. Their use with persistence and regularity for a short time brings about a cessation of the pains caused by stomach disorders.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets will insure healthy appetite, aid digestion and promote nutrition. As evidence of our sincere faith in Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, we ask you to try them at our risk. If they do not give you entire satisfaction, we will return you the money you paid us for them, without question or formality. They come in three sizes, prices 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain them only at--The Rexall Store.

Majestic Range Demonstration.

By reference to the large advertisement on another page it will be seen that there is to be a demonstration of the Majestic Range, at the store of Hart & Hadley, during the week beginning January 30th. There is not a superior range to the Majestic, as all who visit this demonstration will learn. Purchasers of a range during this exhibit will be given free a handsome set of the ware mentioned in the advertisement. Do not fail to attend this demonstration.

One of Lee's "Niggers."

Rev. William Mc Lee, colored, of Culpeper county, Virginia, is here soliciting contributions for his church which was destroyed by fire some time ago. He is building a new $4,000 church, and lacks only about $200 having enough to complete it. He calls himself "one of Lee's niggers" and declares that he is not ashamed to acknowledge his old master, who was one of the best men that ever lived. Lee says he is 76 years old, but he does not look it.

Edwards-Norville.

A beautiful home wedding occurred last Thursday evening, January 19, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Norville, when their daughter Ella, was happily united in holy bonds of wedlock, to Mr. James Edwards. Rev. Amos Crisp, of the Baptist church, officiating. The parlor was most artistically decorated for the occasion.

The guests were received in the hall by Mr. and Mrs. Mark Norville. The bride wore a beautiful dress of white satin trimmed with pearls. The bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of the wedding march, sweetly rendered by Miss Emma Brown, changed to "Nearer My God to Thee" during the ceremony. Miss Marie Strickland with Mr. C. K. Edwards, Miss Mary Nobles with Mr. Willis Moseley, Miss Minnie Langley with Mr. Sam. Smith, Miss Mollie Langley with Mr. S. Denis, Miss Marguerite Edwards, Mr. Hardy Norville, the groom with his best man, Mr. Wiley Norville, the bride with her maid of honor, Miss Lorena Dixon.

The bride is one of Edgecombe's most popular young ladies, while the groom is one of Edgecombe's progressive farmers.

We wish to congratulate them and may their lives be one of bliss and happiness forever. S.

Prosecuting Attorney Says She Deserves no Sympathy.

By Wire to The Reflector. Wheeling, W. Va., Jan. 25.--While she was being pictured as a character deserving neither sympathy nor pity in the scathing argument of prosecuting attorney J. B. Handlan, in summing up address today, Mrs. Schenck broke down and cried. The prosecutor ridiculed the plea for sympathy, declaring that the woman who would subject her children to such conditions as during her automobile rides with Phillips could not ask for sympathy.

THE ANTIQUATED SEAL.

A Very Small Thing to Which Great Importance is Given Sometimes.

A most absurd thing connected with legal business is the little piece of red, green or blue paper or daub of sealing wax which we often place at the end of the signature to a deed will or other important document.

It is a very small thing in size, but one to which a great deal of importance is frequently given. It is a relic of antiquity and no plausible excuse can be invented for continuing its use.

Some of the more progressive States have practically abolished its use by legislation, which deprives it of any technical legal significance. In others, however, it is still used with all seriousness and solemnity and an almost magical value is given to it by dignified judges that it little less than ridiculous.

A man died years ago leaving part of his estate to another to enjoy while he lived, with the privilege of devising it at his death to others whom he might select by a writing under his "hand and seal." A writing was executed so devising the property, but it was contested by others claiming the property upon the technical ground that the paper contained no seal after the signature, and the devise was therefore void.

A wise Philadelphia judge closely scrutinized the signature and after carefully listening to the arguments of lawyers decided that at the end of the signature there was an extra scroll or flourish made with the pen with which the signature was made and that this was sufficient in law to constitute a seal.--Case and Comment.

Dr. Hyatt Coming.

Dr. H. O. Hyatt will be in Greenville at Hotel Bertha, February 6th and 7th, Monday and Tuesday, for the purpose of treating diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat and fitting glasses. 1 30--2tw

NEW YORK AND CHICAGO MARKETS

By Wire to The Reflector.

Cotton. New York, Jan. 25.--Cotton opened steady, supported by bullish cables from Liverpool. Prices ruled firm. Opening: January, 14.69; March, 14.84; May, 15.04.

New York, Jan. 25.--Cotton closing: January, 14.60; February, 14.65; March, 14.70; May, 14.94.

Stocks. New York, Jan. 25.--Activity prevailed during early trading on stock market and practically the entire list moved up fractionally. Standard railroad stocks were leaders in the upward movement. Steel was firm and higher. Consolidated Gas moved up fractionally.

Grain. Chicago, Jan. 25.--Grain closing: May wheat, 98 7-8; corn, 50 5-8; oats, 34 3-4.

Contempt Case Again. By Wire to The Reflector.

Washington, Jan. 25.--The question of whether Samuel Gompers, Frank Morrison and John Mitchell shall occupy cells for contempt is nearing its answer. Arguments in the case will be heard tomorrow, before the Supreme court.

Error in Date. Through an oversight not discovered until too late for correction an error in the date is made in Hart & Hadley's advertisement of the Majestic Range demonstration next week. The date should be 30th, instead of 25th, as stated in the advertisement on third page. Keep this in mind that the demonstration begins on the 30th and continues a week.

Trespassing on Railroads

In the year 1909, the last for which Interstate Commerce Commission statistics are available, there were nearly five thousand persons killed on railroads in the United States who were trespassers on the right-of-way of the transportation companies. The total number of persons killed on the various lines was 8,722; therefore, the number of fatal accidents to trespassers was considerably more than 50 per cent of the entire number of railroad fatalities. In addition, there were 5,785 trespassers injured.

It is not surprising, in view of these facts, that the Pennsylvania Railroad company, which operates one of the largest systems in the country, should use active efforts to stop the practice of trespassing upon its right-of-way and other property. It has recently made public interesting figures concerning accidents to trespassers on its lines during the last eleven years, showing from 1900 to 1907, inclusive, an alarming growth in the number of fatal accidents, for, while there were 513 trespassers killed on the Pennsylvania system in 1900, there were 916 killed in 1907, or very nearly 400 more, almost 77 per cent.--Manufacturer's Record.
