to Drainways—Other General Matters Considered.

The board of aldermen met in regular monthly session, Thursday night, with the mayor and seven members of the board present.

The finance committee advised against undertaking any further improvements at present.

The street committee reported much work done during the past month, opening drains, hauling tilting, placing sand on the sand clay streets, and had repaired the paving on Dickinson avenue. It was ordered that an itemized bill for the paving repairs be presented to the plumber who made connections there and if he fails to pay it his license to be revoked.

F. C. Harding appeared before the board in regard to tiling a ditch near the property of M. D. Lassiter. The matter was referred to the mayor and street committee to investigate with power to take such action as they deemed best.

The mayor and aldermen, upon motion, decided to hold a conference with the county board of education this afternoon with regard to a change in the division of the public school fund as it effects the graded schools of Greenville.

S. J. Everett appeared in behalf of J. F. Brinkley to ask for an extension of a year in which to pay the town for paving and curbing, provided interest is paid on the amount. This was agreed to.

James Brown and Frank Wilson appeared in regard to a drain on Sutton Lane. This was referred to the street committee with power to act.

The chief of police was instructed to serve notice on agent of the owner of the Clark property, on Washington street, to remove the porch of building from the sidewalk in seven days from date of notice, it having been declared dangerous to the public and a nuisance.

A refund of $5 on license was made to J. W. Venters.

W. H. McGowan was refunded the tax on $50 valuation, charged against him in error.

The officers made their report for the past month.

License tax on express companies was reduced from $25 to $10.

Bills approved by the finance committee were ordered paid.

Alderman Nobles was appointed a member of the finance, street and water and lights committees.

Alderman Van Dyke was appointed a member of the sidewalks, ordinances, cemetery and property and purchasing committees.

By request of Alderman Carr and the unanimous endorsement of the board, the resignation of Alderman Flanagan previously presented to take effect at this meeting, was withdrawn.

The board took a recess until tonight at 7.30 o'clock.

GREENVILLE TOBACCO SALES.

Comparison of This Season With Last.

Secretary C. W. Harvey, of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade, furnishes us the following figures of the sales of leaf tobacco on the Greenville market:

Sales for the month of January 237,851 pounds at an average of $9.42 per hundred. For the corresponding month of last year the sales were 439,704 pounds at an average of $8.27.

For the season up to February 1st the sales were 3,013,094 pounds at an average of $11 per hundred. For the same date the previous year the sales were 10,742,410 at an average of $9.01.

These figures show a decrease in pounds the present season of 2,729,315, and an increase in price of $1.99 per hundred.

NEW ORLEANS' ANSWER.

Will Send First Ship Through Channel Dug by Uncle Sam.

New Orleans, Feb. 3.—New Orleans' answer to the world in losing the Panama exposition, is that she will send the first American manned ship of the rehabilitated American merchant marine through the Panama canal and will demand that right of the United States congress. This was the substance of a ringing resolution adopted by the New Orleans Progressive Union, the big commercial organization of the city, the moment the news was flashed from Washington that New Orleans had lost and San Francisco had won. It rediated optimism and is an example of the buoyant courage of a people who know how to lose, and who, in accepting defeat, spring forward with greater vigor and aggressive determination to let nothing quench the ardor of their enthusiasm or the faith in their destiny as the gulf gateway which, only 1300 miles distant, will dominate the Panama canal, even though the exposition is held 3300 miles away from the great channel dug by Uncle Sam.

Perfection Never Reached.

The progressive town is never satisfied. One attainment is followed by another effort. The state of perfection is never reached. There is no such thing as patriotic safety. To push on and up is the motto of all the cities which have written records of growth.—Charlotte News.

VOLCANIC ERUPTION

RENEWED WITH FURY

Twenty-Five Hundred People Have Been Killed.

Manila, Feb. 3.—The eruption of Mount Tall was renewed with terrific fury today and waves of mud and lava were scattered over the surrounding country for a distance of 20 miles. Many of the natives who were fleeing from devastated sections were overwhelmed and suffocated or burned to death. The eruption was accompanied by violent earthquake shocks, which were felt as far as Manila, but no damage was done in this city.

Later reports, however, indicate that 25000 persons have been killed.

Searching for Miss Arnold.

Philadelphia, Feb. 3.—John W. Arnold and Attorney John S. Keith, of New York, directed the search for Dorothy Arnold here today. Every policeman on the force was instructed to aid in the dragnet sifting going on. The brother and lawyer now believe the girl is alive. Every possible place is being searched.

One-Sided Agitation.

It is to be regretted that the child labor reform should be in the hands of those who seem to be capable of seeing but one side of the question, and who do not scruple to discredit the whole South by extreme and exaggerated representations of prevailing conditions. We believe that a 60-hour week should be adopted and we trust that mill men will agree to this. But to say that no child under 14 should under any conditions be allowed to work in a mill is absurd, and that this is the condition of so-called educators is the more surprising. An educator ought to know that the period in which a child acquires quickly the mastery of an art antedates the age of 14, and it is cruel to deprive him of the best chance for practical education which is to fit him to be a bread-winner. What sane legislation will do it not to shut the child out of the mill, but give him a chance to learn without subjecting him to long hours or long and over-taxing periods of toll. This country is beginning to suffer in some communities from the "all school and no work" sentiment. Let us mix school and work from the time a child is old enough to begin the process of education and we shall have a sturdier and more reliable citizenship.—North Carolina Christian Advocate.

It takes an awfully small man to look down on his neighbors.

And the political bee administers many a sting to proud ambition.

SWEAR OFF ON SUICIDE.

Sisters Who Have Attempted It Ten Times, Now Resolved to Live.

Newport, Ky., Feb. 2.—Mrs. Mary Salzman and her sister, Miss Elizabeth Ellswick, "swore off" trying to commit suicide again, after having within a few months tried 10 times to kill themselves. Yesterday Mrs. Salzman took arsenic with the hope that it would kill her, but recovered enough to say that no more trials will be made by either. Her sister was at her bedside nursing her.

Three times Mrs. Salzman has tried to take her life by poison. Her sister has tried seven times—two of which were attempts to drown herself in the Ohio River, and three of which were with carbolic acid. Both the sisters have had bad health and this is given for their attempts to die.

"We feel that we are bound to live, no matter how much we may try to die," said Miss Ellswick. "Therefore we are going to live and will not die except in the natural course of events and in natural ways. Our resolution has been made after we have been rescued ten times from death."

TRADE REPORT.

Trade Conditions More Favorable As Spring Approaches.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 3.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say for Richmond and vicinity: Trade conditions have a more favorable aspect as the spring season approaches. Travelers are out with spring samples and a fair volume of orders are being received. Wholesalers of dry goods are receiving satisfactory orders and anticipate filling in orders. Shoe dealers are fairly active. Manufacturers of trunks and bags report active ordering. Stock of country merchants is regarded as much depleted and from this source dealers anticipate an increased business, with the coming spring. Lumber is quiet and building operations are inactive. Drugs, chemicals and fertilizers are active. Retail trade is quiet and the usual spring reduction sales are noticed. Collections are fair.

MRS. HARRISON ARRESTED.

Though She Merely Wanted to See Face of Dead Man.

Stanford, Ky., Feb. 3.—Mrs. Amanda Harrison, who had disappeared after the grave of George B. Sauffly in Stanford cemetery was opened Monday night, was arrested today at the home of her uncle in Adair county. She was traced there by a brother of Sauffly. The tenant who drove her was also arrested. Mrs. Harrison is a widow and it is believed she was in love with the dead man and opened the grave for a look at his face.

BALTIMORE HAS ANOTHER DISASTROUS FIRE

The Old Bay Line Pier Destroyed With Heavy Loss.

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 3.—Fire destroyed the Old Bay Line pier here early today, causing $300,000 damage and threatening all shipping in the vicinity. The flames were extinguished after a hard fight. There were no fatalities during the burning of the pier.

The entire superstructure of the offices on the pier and big tower were wiped out and the main portion of the pier filled with freight was gutted. The big pier was filled with a cargo valued at thousands of dollars, including barrels of oil, which exploded one after another in rapid rotation.

WHAT THE LAW MAKERS ARE DOING

PROCEEDINGS OF THE N. C. GENERAL ASSEMBLY

NEAR-BEER GETS MORE KNOCKS

Both Senate and House Flooded With Petitions Against Its Sale—Sen- ator Cotten Offers Bill to Prevent Use of Coupons in Cigarettes and Tobacco Packages.

Senate—Thursday.

The senate had another flood of anti near-beer petitions, fifteen being presented. There were also several petitions pertaining to other matters, one of them wanting to prevent frequent changes of fashions and prohibiting cartoons in newspapers.

Among the new bills introduced were these:
Cotten of Pitt: Prevent use of coupons in cigarettes and tobacco packages.

Thorne of Nash: Encourage use of goods manufactured by independent companies and discourage use of goods made by trusts.

Thorne of Nash: Extend privilege of exchanging free transportation upon railroads in this state to other common carriers, amending section 1105 of Revised of 1905.

A number of bills passed second and third readings.

House—Thursday.

The house went the senate one better and had sixteen new petitions against the sale of near-beer.

There was also a petition from railroad employes asking that the railroad relief association be prohibited.

Among the new bills introduced were these:

Connor: To prevent frauds on merchants.

Gay: To amend the divorce law of the Revised.

Ewart: To make effective the prohibition laws of this state.

Taylor of Brunswick: To amend the Revised so as to give towns and cities power to operate and maintain waterworks and other public facilities.

How Senators Are Actually Made.

There are those who fall back upon the constitution provision and declare that the plan devised by the founders of the government is still good enough. But they forget the fact—or choose to ignore it—that our present way of electing senators is grotesquely different from that which the constitution prescribes and intends. The constitution intends, and means to prescribe, that the entire legislature, including every individual member of it, shall take part in the actual choice of a United States senator. As a matter of fact, under the existing system, a senator is usually not chosen by the legislature in any true sense. He is chosen by the party caucus of the party which has a majority of the members of the two houses of the legislature on joint ballot. It is regarded, under the present system, as virtually necessary for legislators elected in the usual way on a party ticket to enter the party caucus and to abide by the result. Thus, in the legislature has 150 members, of whom 76 are Democrats and 74 are Republicans, it is the almost invariable opinion of strict party men that the majority choice of the Democratic caucus ought to be promptly accepted by the entire legislature. Under this system, every one of the 74 Republican votes must be thrown away. They will be expended upon a complimentary vote for some Republican who cannot by any chance be elected. If the Democratic caucus should be closely divided between two candidates—the one representing, as is so frequently the case, the private choice of the machine or boss, and the other representing a decent public opinion and some regard for the traditions of statesmanship—it is nevertheless the doctrine of the party man that if the machine candidate can be forced through the caucus by a majority of a single vote, every man who has gone into the caucus must accept the result and the man must be elected in the face of an outraged public opinion. Thus 29 men would control a legislature of 150 men.—Review of Reviews.

SURPRISE MARRIAGE.

Mrs. Hattie Sullivan White Becomes Bride of Mr. J. Wesley White.

There was a marriage celebrated at the First Baptist church last night at 11 o'clock, the news of which will come as a surprise to many friends of Mrs. Hattie Sullivan White, of this city, and Mr. James Wesley White, of Greensboro, the contracting parties. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. W. O'Kelley, D. D., pastor of the church, in the presence of a few friends, among whom were the following from out of town: Capt. and Mrs. Augustus Bryan White, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Minnetree, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Grubbs, Mr. and Mrs. H. McM. White, of Greensboro; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Wooten, Mr. and Mrs. George Woodard, Mrs. Charles White, Miss Hennie Ragsdale, of Greenville, and Mr. and Mrs. B. V. Dixon, of Kinston.

Mrs. White is the daughter of the late Mr. Sullivan White of Pitt county, and since coming to Raleigh has made her home at Dr. T. M. Jordan's, on North Wilmington street.

Mr. White is the son of Capt. and Mrs. White, of Greensboro, who are mentioned in the list of those present.

Both Mr. and Mrs. White have many friends, who wish them much success and happiness. They left last night for Boston and other Northern points.—Raleigh News and Observer.

DR. COOK, THE EXPLORER, WILL YET BE VINDICATED

So Says E. B. Baldwin, a Noted Explorer.

Washington, Feb. 3.—By quoting Robert E. Peary's records to substantiate records and statements of Dr. Cook, polar explorer, E. B. Baldwin here today asserted that Dr. Cook was the first discoverer of the North Pole. Capt. Baldwin was four times a member of polar expeditions. He says Dr. Cook is a victim of circumstances and that he undoubtedly discovered the pole months before Peary did. He says Cook will yet be vindicated in the eyes of the world. He also brings charges against Peary and will endeavor to get Peary's case reopened by congress before he is promoted to rear admiral.

ABDUL HAMID INSANE.

Brutally Murders Two of His Wives —Confined in Irons.

Salonica, Feb. 3.—Abdul Hamid, former sultan of Turkey, has gone violently insane, has killed two of his wives and is confined in irons. The murder of the two women, who were among those attending Abdul Hamid from Constantinople when he became exiled, was most brutal. The sultan was subdued only after a fierce struggle in which he was severely injured.

Independent Papers

Nobody knows how much the state owes to that small but very select circle of newspapers that speaks the truth candidly but kindly on the various subjects that come up for consideration. We recently heard an editor of a paper that has about as much courage as a rabbit, abusing another paper whose editor it worth a carload of the first named gentleman, and calling him a "knocker." Now a "knocker" is always contemptible, but knocking is one thing and taking a square and manly stand for righteousness and truth is quite another. We are tempted to call names, but we have in mind as we write a paper (and it is not a daily) that is doing as much good as a leader of public opinion as any other newspaper in North Carolina. This writer has been by no means exempt from rebuke by this fearless editor. He is not wild, intemperate and blindly partisan, but in a calm, judicial, straightforward way expresses his opinion and stands by his guns though he stands alone. The expression of that man's editorial opinion has come to mean much in North Carolina. The demagogues and the timeservers fear him as well they may. He is never malignant or bitter or abusive. He rarely indulges in personalities, but if it becomes necessary to call names he does it and nobody can misunderstand him. There are others claiming to be independent, but they manage to get on the popular side of all public questions and make a great ado about their courage. They forget that it requires no courage to jump in front of a possession and wave a flag. The man who stands by himself in defense of what he thinks is right is the brave man. We are glad that we have a few of these fine exponents of righteousness in North Carolina and we hope their tribe will increase. Independent thinking is more necessary in a newspaper office than elsewhere, and yet it is rare. But those who do think for themselves think also for multitudes of others and lead the way in those great matters affecting the civic as well as the religious life of our people.—Charley and Children

THE PEOPLE'S MONEY.

No one should question the right of any man to be opposed to issuing bonds for good roads if he wants to. It is a right every man has to think and act for himself. At the same time it is not amiss to consider if opposition to public improvements is prompted by personal or selfish motives, and if men are always consistent in their attitude toward spending the people's money. There were men opposed to issuing bonds to establish electric lights and water works in Greenville; there were some opposed to bonds to establish East Carolina Teachers' Training School; there were some opposed to bonds for building the iron bridges at Greenville and Grifton; there were some opposed to changing the county officers from a fee system to a salary basis to save the county thousands of dollars annually; there were some opposed to bonds for building the new court house and new jail; and there are some opposed to the proposition to issue bonds for good roads. As said at the outset, they have a right to their opinions, nobody questions that, but can it be said that this opposition was free from personal motives and the opponents always consistent?

The Reflector is in favor of good roads because of the benefit they will bring and the belief that no community, township or county, could make a better investment. We advocate issuing bonds to build good roads because of a belief that the burden will be lighter upon the people than by direct taxation. Another advantage of issuing bonds is that the roads can be built quickly and in time to be of benefit to the present generation, while under the system of direct taxation it will require years and years to get good roads if they could ever come at all in that way. Good roads are the need, and they are worth the cost.

Our last reference to the need of a park or public play ground for Greenville, apparently had no more effect than previous mention along the same line. It may be that the seed sown will germinate and produce fruit some time, but it may be then that the town will realize the loss arising from not acting sooner.

The Pitt County News, the new weekly paper, started here by the Pitt County Publishing Company, with Mr. J. F. Stokes editor, made its appearance today. The first number is a creditable one, neatly printed and newsy. The subscription price is $1.00 a year. We wish the new paper much success.

WHAT THE EDITORS FAVOR.

Resolutions Adopted by the Press Association.

Below is given the full text of the resolutions adopted by the North Carolina Press Association at its recent session in Winston-Salem.

Back Home Movement.

"Whereas, The needs of the State of North Carolina regarding the development of the agricultural interests are apparent, and recognizing that the interests of the State of North Carolina can be served and a greater development promoted by encouraging the citizens of North Carolina to remain in the State and encourage non-residents to return to North Carolina, and in order that a general invitation may be extended to all such, and other practical farmers, therefore,

"Be it Resolved: That the North Carolina Press Association, at its regular meeting at Winston-Salem, N. C., hereby endorses the "Back Home Movement" with the recommendation to the general assembly now in session, that it is the sense of this gathering that the best interest and future welfare of the state can best be promoted through the establishment of a State Board of Trade.

"It is Further Resolved: That the general assembly of North Carolina be and are hereby requested to take such steps and make such appropriations as may, in their judgment, be considered wise and expedient to follow this end at as early a date as may be found practicable.

"It is Further Resolved: That a copy of these resolutions be printed and placed in the hands of each senator and representative of North Carolina during the present session of the general assembly, and that the press of the state be requested to publish same in their columns.

Resources and Health.

The following resolution in regard to public health and natural resources was introduced by Mr. H. B. Gunter:

"Resolved by the North Carolina Press Association, that hearty endorsement be given to every movement looking to the conservation of the natural resources of the state.

"That we recognize the greatest of all natural resources to be the vital assets of the state—the life and health of its people.

"That we heartily endorse every activity looking toward the promotion of the public health, and express our confidence in the active efforts of the State Board of Health to this end.

"That it is the sense of this association in convention, assembled at Winston-Salem, that greater financial support should be given by the State to this important function of its governmental affairs, that the State Board of Health may be enabled to more actively and effectively pursue its work in promoting and preserving the life and health, as well as the physical efficiency of our people.

Good Roads.

The association went on record for good roads in the following resolution introduced by Mr. Varner.

Resolved: That it is the sense of this meeting that the best use that can be made of the state convicts is in the construction of public roads, and the counties desiring same should have the first right to use them for the purpose, provided they pay to the state a stipulated amount per day for each convict, the state to bear all expenses of maintenance, care and guarding of the convicts; counties that do not maintain chain gangs shall have preference in leasing the prisoners.

"It is further resolved that it is the sense of this meeting that the state should give to the counties composing the state assistance in the mutual construction of their roads, and should appropriate out of the general treasury for the purpose at least $250,000 annually, the said amount to be apportioned among the counties; provided the said counties raise twice the amount allotted by the state; and provided, further, that such moneys apportioned by the state to the counties, and that raised by the counties to meet the state allotment, shall be spent in the construction of public roads, whose location and plans and specifications for construction are approved by the state highway engineer."

Appreciation.

Resolved, That we, the members of this association, at the close of this interesting and profitable session, desire to express our appreciation of the liberal and open-handed hospitality accorded us by the people of the Twin City of Winston-Salem on this occasion.

"Our thanks are especially tendered to the Board of Trade, the press of the city, the social clubs, the places of amusement, the institutions of learning, the manufacturing plants, and business enterprises, which have contributed to our entertainment and comfort while here.

"The enterprise, push and progress of this splendid city has been a revelation to many of us, and we congratulate her citizens upon the success that is crowning their efforts along all lines and wish for them continued prosperity.

"Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this association and that a copy be furnished to each of the papers of this thriving Twin-City, whose generous hospitality we have so much enjoyed."

What a power for good would all the clergymen in the rural districts be if they had added to their theological training a course of study at an agricultural college. They would make the greatest uplifting force for their neighborhoods by showing their parishers how to farm better. And farming better, they would make more money and pay their preacher better.—Raleigh Progressive Farmer.

Measles.
Measles is the most "catchable" of all the contagious diseases, says the Youth's Companion, but it is pretty well conceded that it can only be caught from a person who has it. It is not carried by the well. This being the case, its control should not be difficult. Every child who develops a somewhat violent attack of coryza, with running eyes and all the usual symptoms of cold in the head, should be isolated for a day or two and watched for the development of the characteristic eruption. When this comes out it is certain the child has not a "cold," but has measles, and its isolation should be continued until the eruption has entirely ended.

The Small Farm.

In speaking of the changes that have been wrought in the agricultural conditions of Texas—of the passing of the all-cotton policy, The Baltimore Sun says that of late years the Texas farmer has become wiser, and now he is among the thriftiest of his tribe. He has learned that Texas soil will produce wheat and corn in abundance, that hog culture is a paying proposition, that there is big money in raising vegetables for his own table and for the market as well, that fruit can be produced at a profit, and that the way to make cotton a real money crop is to raise on the same farm all the food for the family and all the provender for the stock engaged in doing work. The result is that peaches are being shipped out by the trainloads in season, that pears and figs are being extensively cultivated and that orange orchards are being set out over thousands of acres in the southern section. Last year the State marketed 19,490 carloads of truck, netting the producers $8,936,700 and the Bermuda onion crop has not yet been reported, but it is thought it will swell the receipts to $15,000,000. Within a few months land has been sold at $1,000 an acre that a few years ago was held at $2.50. It has been planted in oranges, and it is calculated that the orchards will yield in a few years $800 to $1,000 profit an acre annually. While these things are being done the cotton that brings in from one hundred millions to two hundred millions annually, and much more of this amount is profit than if the small farming had not been adopted. Even if the cotton farmer himself fails to raise and is compelled to buy his supplies, he can buy from his neighbors, thus keeping the money in the State and saving the freight bill that he used to pay for hauling.

The Sun quite properly arrives at the conclusion that the lesson learned by Texas should be learned by every Southern State. No matter what the money crop of the section may be, the profit to be derived from it will be much enhanced if the farmer will raise at home the provender needed for his stock and as much as possible of the food consumed by his family and those whom he may employ. Diversified farming is a wealth-maker in any section which will admit of diversification.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Its easier to borrow from a new friend than it is to pay back what you owe an old one.

Educational Progress Demands It

Even if adopted and put into effect we do not know what the Spanish resolution, introduced yesterday in the house and which has for its object the investigation of the salaries paid by the state of North Carolina to its employes, will accomplish, but it would probably be enlightening. If it will have any effect in showing up matters so that it will appeal effectively for increased salaries for the school teachers of the state it will be productive of great good in that particular sphere alone. The teachers of North Carolina, as the teachers of perhaps many other states, are poorly paid; too inadequately paid. The salary is such as not to either induce young men and young women to fit themselves to be teachers, or to retain good teachers in service. In these days a young woman who is capable of being a teacher can get much more money in an office, either doing clerical or stenographic work, and she will be certain, too, of a position the year round. Salaries of $40 to $50 per month to a young woman teacher for eight or nine months out of the year (they do not get that much, nor have employment for so long each year) is not only small in comparison with the service rendered, not only diminutive alongside the cost of living these days, but is tiny by reason of the fact that office work can be obtained for anywhere from $10 per week to sixty and seven by five dollars per month, and for twelve months in the year. Lots of young women who are not capable of being teachers are drawing $10 per week for doing office work, or filling stenographers' places. The salaries that young men, who are capable of being teachers, can get outside of teachers' positions are much larger. So it can be seen that the matter is not only one of justice to the teachers, but one of importance to the educational advancement of the state.—Wilmington Dispatch.

No community can make a better investment than to build a few miles of good road. It will be an education that will bear fruit in the making of many more miles in the near future. To judge the real progress and civilization of any people by the character of their public highways will not generally lead to any serious mistake.—Raleigh Progressive Farmer.

THE DOCTOR'S QUESTION.

Much Sickness Due to Bowel Disorders.

A doctor's first question when consulted by a patient is, "Are your bowels regular?" He knows that 98 per cent of illness is attended with inactive bowels and torpid liver, and that this condition must be removed gently and thoroughly before health can be restored.

Retall Orderlies are a positive, pleasant and safe remedy for constipation and bowel disorders in general. We are so certain of their great curative value that we promise to return the purchaser's money in every case when they fail to produce entire satisfaction.

Retall Orderlies are eaten like candy, they act quietly, and have a soothing, strengthening, healing influence on the entire intestinal tract. They do not purge, gripe, cause nausea, flatulence, excessive looseness, diarrhoea or other annoying effect. They are especially good for children, weak persons or old folks. Two sizes, 25c. and 10c. Sold only at our store--The Rexall Store.

Good Roads and Incomes.

In the educational campaign which is now being conducted in favor of good roads the very freest discussion of ways and means of attaining the desired end should be invited. The issue of bonds for road purposes by any particular county is a subject which should be discussed with reference to local circumstances and not along the lines of glittering generalities. Advocates and opponents of such issues are rendering important public service when they give their neighbors the results of careful observation and sound reasoning. In this connection an interesting communication appeared recently in the Lumberton Robesonian from the pen of a citizen who appears to endorse the plan of the rural letter carriers' association, which contemplates the division of the road into short sections to be let to responsible bidders to maintain in first-class condition. The Robesonian's correspondent prefers this plan to that which calls for bonds, believing that such oversight would result in better roads and vastly less disturbance of labor.

In support of this contention it is argued that increased value of farm lands may be a burden rather than an assistance to the agricultural proprietor. "As to the increased valuation of farmers' land, taxes are high enough now and if the value is doubled will not the tax be doubled? If a farm is now valued at $1,000 and the value is increased to $2,000 will not the owner have to pay tax on $2,000? Will the doubling of the valuation increase the production any? Such an increase in valuation will increase taxes but not income."

This argument overlooks the fact that income may be increased by a diminution of expenses as well as by an actual increase in the crops. Pushed to its logical extreme it would offer a barrier to all improvements which might increase taxable values. The crops raised upon the farm may not vary greatly in size whether its money value is $1,000 or $2,000 but cost of production and cost of marketing will influence net income quite as materially as the number of bushels raised. With modern highways, we believe that such an increase in taxable values would result in benefit to the farmer rather than the contrary. The initial cost of raising the crop would be lowered by the greater facility with which his necessary traveling would be done. His net profit from its sales would be enhanced by the lessening of the expense of marketing.--Charlotte Observer.

South Honored: Now Give It Justice.

The immediate confirmation by the senate of the nomination to the head of the national Supreme court of Mr. Justice White, who has long been a distinguished member of that body is a gratifying act of co-ordination between President Taft and the senate.

While it touches every Southern heart, it seems to be a special act of recognition by the president and the senate of the South as a competent and constituent part of this great nation. It seems to be a sort of declaration that it is not only the proper thing that the South should pay taxes for the support of the general government, and that the South's sons should rally by the hundred thousand to the defense of the common country as they did in the war with Spain, and as they would by the million if there were war with any great foreign power, but that it is also just and right that the South should have some share in the public honors and benefits dispensed by the national government.

It is time that ours should cease to be a sectional government when it comes to conferring honors and handing out public bounties, and while the promotion of Justice White is really a grand benefit to this country and its jurisprudence, we of the South recognize it as an expression of executive and senatorial favor of the Southern States. We rejoice that we can express our acknowledgments for the honor, but we beg the government, the nation, not to stop there. Add to this honor also the substantial view of placing the impress of the nation's seal upon the South's greatest city, as the location for the national and international celebration of the completion of the Panama canal.

New Orleans will rise to every demand of the occasion and do honor to our great republic and its people and show the world that it will bear its part worthily in illustrating American power and enterprise with any in the nation.

If the solid South is ever to be broken it will not be by any act or exploit of the South, but by a proper declaration and demonstration by the North that the South is no longer required to stand guard over its rights and safety, but that it is to share and share alike with the balance of the nation. The South is to be won by justice and open hearts and hands, and not by forcing its people to distrust every movement of the powerful Northern section, and to stand for defense.

It is for the North to break the solid South by extending to it justice and confidence. There is no other way.--New Orleans Picayune.

NEW YORK AND CHICAGO MARKETS

By Wire to The Reflector.

Cotton.

New York, Feb. 3.--The pressure of a move of liquidation was responsible for a break in prices shortly after the opening of the cotton market, prices falling off from 8 to 12 joints. May suffered the heaviest loss. Much of the early news was brisk including weak cables. Following the call there was a slight rally, but not sufficient to change the undertone.

Opening-- February... 14.45 March... 14.54 April... 14.60 May... 14.72 July... 14.70

Stocks.

New York, Feb. 3.--An increased demand for stocks brought about by early fractional declines, caused the Wall street market to become suddenly strong and active, and in most every instance stocks moved up, many of them recovering their losses. Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, Reading, Southern Pacific, St. Paul and Lehigh Valley, all advanced. Erie stocks were also strong.

Grain.

Chicago, Feb. 3.--The wheat market was flat, ruling weak and business small. Corn and oats were both off, provisions and hogs higher. Opening-- May wheat... 96 3-8 Corn... 50 Oats... 33 Pork... 18.40

The "Herd Laddie."

Some discussion is taking place over the birthplace of Wylie, the famous "Herd Laddie," probably the greatest checker player that the world has known: According to one authority, the late Mr. J. Hedley, who wrote a biographical sketch of Mr. Wylie's career in 1883, he was born in Piershill Barracks, Edinburgh, or "Joek's Lodge," as it was known locally, in the year 1822. His father was a sergeant in the celebrated Scottish regiment of horse, "the Scots Greys," and this regiment was stationed in the above barracks shortly after their memorable engagement at Waterloo, and remained there for a number of years. --London Graphic.
