ANTI BONDS FOR GOOD ROADS MEETING

HELD IN THE CITY HALL SATURDAY AFTERNOON

SPEECHES AGAINST THE MEASURE

Resolution Adopted Asking the Legislature Not to Pass the Bill That Has Been Introduced to Permit People of the Township to Vote on the Question.

Though people gathered in the city hall Saturday afternoon, to practically fill the room at the meeting called for those opposed to the bill pending in the legislature to submit to the voters of Greenville township the question of issuing bonds in an amount not exceeding $50,000 to build good roads in the township. Among those present were also advocates of the bill, but these took no part in the proceedings as it was a meeting called by opponents for action against the measure.

The meeting organized by the selection of Dr. E. A. Moye as chairman and Mr. Julius Brown as secretary.

A statement was made by Mr. A. L. Blow that he thought if petitions containing the signatures of a majority of the voters of the township were sent to our representatives in the legislature the pending bill would not be passed.

Mr. W. F. Evans stated that petitions had been and were being circulated for signatures. He read one of these petitions, following it with a speech against the bill that had been sent to the legislature, in which he criticized the action of those who had prepared the bill, and also told why this meeting was called to oppose it.

Col. Harry Skinner followed in a speech against the bill, attacking it vigorously and impugning the motives of those who fathered it. He offered a motion that the sense of the meeting be taken on the pending bill.

Mr. J. L. Evans also spoke against the bill, saying he did so in justice to himself, as having been named as one of the road trustees in the bill sent to the legislature his position might be misunderstood.

Following up the suggestion of Col. Skinner for taking sense of the meeting, Mr. W. F. Evans offered the following resolution, which was adopted, only those favoring it voting:

We, a body of the citizenship of Greenville township, Pitt county, in meeting assembled, deeming it wise and within the proprieties of a free people to meet and discuss matters of importance concerning ourselves, and our prosperity, and, feeling that upon questions of legislation and government the entire voice of the people affected by such legislation should be heard, and that no small minority should be allowed to override or rule the majority, and believing a reversion to the time honored principles of our constitution and theories of government to be healthful at this time, do present:—

1. That all elections ought to be free, that the prime object of the ballot is the determination of the desires of the people and that all qualified persons should be allowed to vote, that hindrances and stumbling blocks placed to retard a free expression of the electorate is wrong and contrary to the spirit of a free people and that frequent and unnecessary registrations as a qualification to vote constitutes an offense against our views as above expressed.

2. That while, as provided in our constitution, elections should be frequent in order that the wishes of the people may be known, yet such elections should be regular and orderly, both as to time and measures. We acquiesce in the occasional necessity for special elections by legislative enactment to decide a given proposition, and we assert that the will of the people thereupon expressed at the ballot box should abide the issue; but we recognize that a continual or automatic reference to the electorate of any given measure can make that measure apathetic to the sinking confidence of an outraged people, and we denounce as tyrannical and unjust any law which places the ballot box at the beck and call of any man or set of men.

MRS. CHERRY IN KINSTON

Delights the People with Her Dialect Entertainment.

Mrs. Ada Cherry, of Greenville, gave one of her dialect entertainments in Kinston, Friday night, and the Free Press makes the following reference to it:

Those who failed to attend the library benefit last night in the opera house missed one of the best entertainments that has been given in Kinston in many a day. Mrs. Cherry as an interpreter of the negro, proved herself a master hand and had those who knew the negro but closed their eyes they had not been able to tell but that a real "fore de war" darkey was taking. She showed not only a knowledge of the dialect, but a keen insight into the negro character that rendered her sketches all the more natural. It was really the best thing in the line that has ever been given in Kinston. One sat and wondered, as Mrs. Cherry was reading, whether one's eyes were telling the truth or not for the days of some time since with the true old character, seemed too real and closer work is truly marvelous and that of a genius.

VISITING PREACHERS SUNDAY.

Three of The Churches Have Out of Town Speakers.

The pulpits of three of the local churches were occupied Sunday by visitors, and it was an interesting day for the worshippers at all of them.

Rev. L. S. Massey, of Raleigh, editor of the Christian Advocate, preached in the Methodist church both morning and night and was heard with great pleasure. Mr. Massey also spent today here in the interest of his paper among the membership of the church.

Dr. W. H. McGlaudin, general superintendent of the Universalist churches, preached Sunday morning in the Universalist church, and his sermon was one of beauty and eloquence.

Dr. M. L. Hooper, of Goldsboro, spoke in the Baptist church at the morning service, giving an excellent talk on "The Consecrated Life."

8. We believe that all measures or laws which are to be enacted as affecting any special community or portion of the State should be in each and every part in conformity with the desires and wishes of a majority of that people to be affected and that such proposed legislation should not be cloaked or hidden, but should be openly espoused and agitated and an opportunity be given for the free expression of opinion thereon, and that our representatives in the legislature should refrain from passing laws of a local nature framed without the knowledge of the whole people and fathered by a small faction of the community.

Believing that the bill now pending in the general assembly in regard to the roads of Greenville township, and providing for a vote on the issuance of bonds for the purpose of road building, was in its framing, and is now in its form and provisions, in conflict and contrary to the principles above expressed; therefore, be it

Resolved: First, That we call upon our representatives in the general assembly not to fasten upon this bill as above referred to, for it is the sense of this meeting that a majority of the citizens of the township are opposed to a bond issue, and that under the provisions of the said bill undue authority and advantage is given to those who desire the enactment of the proposed law.

Second, That for the defeat of said bill and its vicious and obnoxious provisions we pledge to each other our time, our labor, and our resources.

Third, That we appoint a township committee, consisting of ten, to fight the proposed bill in the legislature and at the election, if the same is called.

The appointment of the committee of ten as stated in the resolution, was deferred by the chairman, the names to be announced later, and the meeting adjourned.

LAST BONUS OFFER EXPIRES FRIDAY

LAST CHANCE TO SECURE EXTRA VOTES

MANY CLUBS CAN BE SECURED YET

Only Four Days Left in Which to Secure 50,000 Extra Votes for $20.00 Clubs on Either New or Old Subscriptions to The Daily or The Weekly.

Not a single hour should be wasted by contestants between now and 8 o'clock, p. m., Friday night, when the present offer of extra votes for old as well as new subscriptions comes to an end. This is the first and the last offer of extra votes for old business, and candidates should work accordingly.

The field for old subscriptions is extensive. Heretofore contestants have worked almost exclusively for new business, with the result that the old subscriptions have been neglected, and the amount of old business turned in has been small.

Fifty thousand extra votes will be given for every $20 worth of subscriptions, either old or new, or both, turned in between now and 8 o'clock p. m., February 10th. Each $20 worth is known as a club, and there is no limit to the number of clubs any one candidate may secure.

Get all the old subscriptions possible, but do not overlook the new. Remember that the regular scale of votes is greater on new than on old, and it counts for just as many votes under the present offer.

Much effective work can be done during the remaining days of the contest if the proper energy is put into the effort. Those who were fortunate enough to win extra votes on the first and second bonus offer should not relax their efforts now. They must continue their work to maintain their advantage. Those who did not win extra votes under the first and second offers should put forth their best efforts now and make up for lost time during the next four days.

The winners in this contest will be those who do not quit work until the last minute. The effort of the next four days will be an important factor in the final score. Do your best work while you can secure 50,000 extra votes, and don't overlook a single source that will yield a subscription. A single subscription might mean the difference between a grand prize and a district prize.

THE MEN GIVE THEIR PERSONAL TESTIMONY

Prayer League Has a Meeting Filled With Inspiring Interest.

Sunday afternoon in the Baptist church the men's prayer league had an inspiring meeting with a very large attendance. This service was of the nature of giving experience, and the number of speakers was larger than that at any previous service. "Personal Testimony" was the subject and after the leaders, Messrs. J. S. Cockrell and W. J. Peel, had spoken, several others also gave experiences from their lives. With many it was their first effort to speak in a religious meeting, and this development is one of the good things resulting from these services. It is telling on the lives of the men and through them having an effect upon the community. Another outgrowth of these services is the requests for the prayers of Christians by those who are unconverted or whose lives are not what they should be.

It is remembered that this prayer league came as a result of the meeting held here by Dr. Black in November. This and the indebtedness felt to him was referred to Sunday and a committee consisting of Messrs. A. M. Moseley, W. E. Hooker and B. S. Warren, was appointed to write a testimonial to Dr. Black expressing appreciation of his work here.

The meeting next Sunday afternoon will be held in the Methodist church. Subject: "Sabbath Observance." Text, Ex. 20:8-11 and Isa. 58:12-14. Leaders, Messrs. E. G. Flanagan, Harry White and F. M. Wooten.

All men who want to spend an hour Sunday afternoons with interest and profit should attend these meetings.

MEETING OF PARLIAMENT.

Opened Amid Scenes of Pomp and Magnificence.

By Cable to The Reflector. London, Feb. 6.—The most vital session of parliament since granting of the Magna charter, the second of King George's reign and first opened by King George and Queen Mary in person, was opened today with mediæval pomp. All the royalist rites were observed. The processional display of nobility and military was one of magnificence. Extraordinary precautions were taken against attack by anarchists, and against attacks by suffragettes who had threatened to mob the king if he did not come out in favor of woman's suffrage. Immense throngs cheered mightily for the king and queen.

"I AM SAFE."

Says Card Supposed to be From Missing Girl.

By Wire to The Reflector. New York, Feb. 6.—Francis R. Arnold, father of Dorothy Arnold, the missing heiress, received today a postal card bearing the following message: "I am safe." It was signed Dorothy and Mr. Arnold says the handwriting is amazingly like his daughter's. The card was mailed in this city and was immediately turned over to the police. Mr. Arnold said he believed the card to have come from his daughter, but is not yet absolutely certain that it is not a hoax.

WRECKED OFF HATTERAS.

Schooner Lost But All The Crew is Saved.

By Wire to The Reflector. Portsmouth, Va., Feb. 6.—Lying four and a half miles out on southwestern side of Diamond Shoals, off Cape Hatteras, the three-masted schooner Harriet P. Kerlin, is a hopeless wreck. The crew of seven men were saved by the life saving stations. The Kerlin was bound from Norfolk to Charleston and met bad weather off the shoals.

THINK LORIMER WILL RESIGN.

But He Denies Report That He Will Do So.

By Wire to The Reflector. Washington, Feb. 6.—Senator Lorimer today denied the report that he intended to resign his seat in the senate. According to reports Lorimer is convinced the senate will vote against him and decided to get out.

The probability of Lorimer's resignation was discussed by several senators today and some believe it will be announced within a few days.

Threatened Conflict With Rebels.

By Wire to The Reflector. El Paso, Texas, Feb. 6.—Martial law was proclaimed today throughout the city of Ciudad Juarez, by Col. Robogo, leader of federal reinforcements, which arrived there last night after cutting their way through the revolutionary forces, led by General Orozco. A conflict with rebels is imminent.

Missouri Capitol Burned.

By Wire to The Reflector. Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 6.—The Missouri capitol was burned last night. The loss will be over $1,000,000 and many valuable documents were destroyed.

Cyclone in Tennessee.

By Wire to The Reflector. Selmer, Tenn., Feb. 6.—A devastating cyclone passed over this town early today. It was four hundred feet wide. Many houses were torn down, one child killed and several people injured.

TWO OLD COLORED MEN.

Father One Hundred and Five Years Old and Son Seventy-Six.

Appearing before the county commissioners today in application for aid for the elder, were two old colored men, father and son. They came from the Clay Root section of the county and were Slade Venters, who said he was 105 years of age, and his son Fred, who is now 76. The old man talked intelligently for his remarkable age, and said he is able to get about and do a little work. He was admitted to the county home. Before the Civil war both these men were slaves belonging to the late Mr. G. W. Venters.

Democratic Doctrine.

Extract from last State Democratic platform adopted at Charlotte:

"International development and improvement tends to the up-building of any citizenship and we take pride in the progress that has been made under Democratic government in the building of roads and the extension of means of communication and transportation all over the state, and we particularly approve of the work in this behalf by the good roads association of North Carolina"

Shot Stopped Prisoner.

Sunday morning Policeman G. A. Clark was taking to the lock-up a young colored man named Vernon Taft, whom he had arrested for some offense. On the way Taft made a brake to run and was striking it off lively when the officer fired a wild shot to warn him. This frightened the darkey so that he slacked his speed, and he went on to the prison without any further attempt to get away.

LET THE PEOPLE DECIDE.

There is no fairer nor more satisfactory way of settling a public question than by submitting it to a vote of the people. In this way better than any other every man can for himself express his own views according to the dictates of his own conscience. The man who is afraid to trust the electorate for a decision, is either right in his own views or has little faith in his fellow man.

Just now the question of issuing bonds for the building of good roads is receiving much attention from the people of Greenville township, and a bill, the purport of which is to submit the question to a vote of the people of the township, has been sent to the general assembly. Advocates of the measure held a meeting two weeks ago to consider the nature of the bill best suited to the purpose, and after discussing the matter thoroughly adopted the bill that has since been published and sent to the legislature. Those opposed to the measure have likewise held a meeting and thoroughly thrashed over their side of the question and adopted a resolution against it.

Of course there are two sides to every question, and all people are not expected to look at it alike. Some take one view and some another, and sometime they let their spirit of argument get the better of their judgment. But when a question comes to all the people for decision, it should be settled in accordance with the will of the majority. If a majority of the people want to build roads in the township through the means of a bond issue, they can so express themselves by their votes, while if a majority are opposed to this, they can likewise express it by their votes, and that decides the matter. Therefore we can see no harm in the people being allowed to vote on this matter and settle it for themselves. If the people want the bill to become a law they can adopt it, if they do not want it to become a law they can reject it.

When you make up your mind that the other man has as much right to his opinion as you have to yours, then you are thinking along the proper line.

Strange as it may sound, the lower berths in sleeping cars are now higher than the upper berths.

What is Lost by Burning the Cotton Stalks.

Dr. B. W. Kilgore, State Chemist, of North Carolina, states that: "The roots, stems, bolls and leaves corresponding to (or which produce) five hundred pounds of lint cotton, are around 3,145 pounds, or more than one and one-half tons containing 67.7 pounds of nitrogen, 26.5 pounds of phosphoric acid, 50.3 pounds of potash, and 59.3 pounds of lime; or the equivalent of five tons of good manure."

These figures are the results of actual weighing and analyzing, and not guess-work.

North Carolina, or the parts of it where these tests were made, is pretty well toward the northern limit of the cotton belt and the proportion of roots, stems, bolls and leaves, to lint produced, is smaller than in more southern portions of the cotton belt. Hence it would seem quite probable that the figures obtained in North Carolina are under, rather than over, the average for the cotton belt. If this be true, and we have no reason to doubt it, the acre of land which produces a 500-pound bale of cotton also produces, on an average, approximately one and one-half tons of humus-forming material which is destroyed when the stalks are burned. This is the greatest need of southern soils, even the supposedly rich Mississippi Delta soils showing large increase in crops from the addition of humus-forming materials. In addition to this, keeping in mind that the next greatest need of Southern soils is nitrogen, it must not be forgotten that when the stalks which produce 500 pounds of lint are burned, there is a complete loss of 67.7 pounds of nitrogen, which at 18 cents a pound is worth $12.18.

Fire has ever been the bane of Southern agriculture, and every scientific fact and all intelligent experience dictates that it must cease. We must use the implements and team force necessary to plow under all the vegetable matter that can not be used for feeding live stock; for without humus, Southern soils are poor, while with it, they will produce most abundantly.—Progressive Farmer.

The Near Beer Evil.

Quite recently in review of the near-beer situation in the State. The Chronicle took the ground that its worst feature is the fact that country roads, rather than policed towns, are the favored localities for the operation of the business. In the cities and towns where heavy license tax is imposed and the business in under official supervision these near-beer shops are productive of the minimum amount of harm. In the country districts they cannot be other than a very serious menace to the morals, safety and peace of the community. The affair out on a public road near Concord, Saturday night, in which murder was committed, is a case in point. Citizens who ought to have been at home with their families, were there in vicious carousal and the proceedings and the tragic termination were entirely similar to some of the old bar room days. The slaying of the Cabarrus county man will settle its business a little bit more expeditiously, perhaps, than otherwise might have been the case.

It is conceivable how some sort of a compromise might be made for the regulation of near-beer traffic in territory under police supervision, but that the legislature will permit it to go on unlicensed and untrammelled in country districts is not to be thought of. Out in the country (Mecklenburg an exception) and in the suburbs of town, some shack is to be seen with its front ornamented with a near-beer sign. The State should have riddance of these places and there need be no fear that the legislature will fail in its duty.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Origin of Chinese Plague.

The plague which is causing such consternation in China is attributed to the incaution of Chinese trappers, who have been engaged this winter in hunting an animal known as the hanta, to which Mongolians have heretofore given a wide berth. The creature is variously known as the hanta of bartigen, the former being the Chinese designation of the latter the Russian. It resembles the marmot, but is larger. It is trapped for its skin, for which there is said to be a profitable market in America. The hanta is reputed to carry the germs of plague of a pneumonic type, and the trappers who have exposed themselves not only to handling the skins, but also by eating of the flesh of the hanta, were the first victims of the disease which is now creating a reign of terror.

The disease made its first appearance in Manchuria and has spread southward. It is conveyed by contact. Its bacillus is reported to resemble that of the bubonic plague. So deadly is it proving that the declaration is made that there is no authenticated instance of the recovery of any person afflicted. Vaccine and Yersin, serum have been used without effect. Past Assistant Surgeon William D. Owens, of the American Legation guard, is quoted as saying: "We are vaccinating soldiers and others with Haffkine's prophylactic lymph, which is supposed to give six months' comparative immunity, but we have considerable doubt of its efficiency when applied to this type." There will be uneasiness in this country, owing to the report that the skins of the hanta are shipped here; but it is well to remember that in the process of curing the skins the bacillus which causes the disease is probably killed.—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

Preserve Youth and Beauty.

Parasian Sage, the quick acting hair restorer, is now for sale in Greenville, at the drug store of Coward & Wooten, and is sold with a rigid guarantee at 50 cents a large bottle.

Parasian Sage has an immense sale, and here are the reasons:

It is safe and harmless.
It cures dandruff in two weeks, by killing the dandruff germ.

It stops falling hair.

It promptly stops itching of the scalp.

It makes the hair soft and luxuriant.

It gives life and beauty to the hair.

It is not sticky or greasy.

It is the best, the most pleasant and invigorating hair dressing made.

Going Entirely Too Far.

A large part of the movement for a Federal income tax derives its impetus from the desire to make the trust magnates pay their part of the taxes. The fact, however, that the trust magnates cheerfully evade personal taxation now and would continue to evade it under an income-tax law. It would be a real remedy to utilize the new corporation tax and similar methods that the trusts and combinations may become subject to effective control. On the other hand, a personal income tax introduces the Federal tax-collector into the citizen's private business and ultimately into his home. It tends to create a condition not very remotely resembling that which existed in the British tax-collector's day. Even now the collector and assessor of Federal taxes is ubiquitous, and his notices, while he does not intend them to be so, are imperious to the point of insolence.

Let a direct Federal tax on personal incomes be levied and the barrier of constitutional protection against many evils is broken down. We could not view any income-tax amendment without serious misgivings; when asked to support one which authorizes the Federal government to tax "all incomes from whatever source derived" the case becomes absolutely clear.—Charlotte Observer.

PROTECT YOUR FAMILY with a BANK ACCOUNT.

PHILIP AMOUR, the great multi-millionaire Meat King first saved one hundred dollar from his earnings on the farm. He went from New York to California, there he got $5 a day for digging ditches. He still SAVED—saved a few thousand dollars. The first saving was the seed from which his vast fortune grew.

DESTROYS SLEEP.

Many Greenville People Testify to This.

You can't sleep at night, with aches and pains of a bad back.

When you have to get up from urinary troubles.

All on account of the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills bring peaceful slumber.

They are for:

They are for kidney ills.

Mrs. James Garris, 12th street, Greenville, N. C., says: "I am pleased to add my endorsement to the many already given in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills. For a long time I was troubled by my kidneys and I suffered intensely from backache and pains in my shoulders. Headaches and dizzy spells bothered me and I rested so poorly that when I got up in the morning, I was in no fit condition to begin my work. When I read of Doan's Kidney Pills, I immediately got a supply from the John L. Wooten Drug Co., and to my delight, they did me a world of good. I can rest much better at night and my back and kidneys do not bother me."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Too Many Laws.

An average American is subject to some sixteen thousand laws. How many of them are you familiar with? The law says that ignorance of the law excuses no one. But most lawyers and judges are ignorant of hundreds of them.

Lawyers not only make laws but they make a living from the breaking of them—mostly by others, but sometimes by themselves. Lawyers that are also judges have been known to prosper through the misinterpretation of laws.

We legislate too much and generally to many incompetent men get into law-making bodies. The masses are burdened with laws; many of which ought to be revised or abrogated.

People suffer from unwise legislation. Therefore let us have wise men in the halls of congress and in the state legislatures.

The worst legislation is that which is placed on the statute books by mercenary motives, such as the sugar and the wool schedules in the Payne-

Aldrich tariff bill. To be sure, life and business have grown to be very complex, and we must have new laws on account of automobiles and aeroplanes and electricity. But let us get rid of the useless and absurd laws that weigh upon the books.—Winston Sentinel.

Express Company Bill.

The bill drawn and adopted by the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce, at its meeting Tuesday afternoon, imposing a penalty against express companies collecting express charges on prepaid packages, seems abundantly justified in the experience of all who have had any considerable dealings with such transportation companies. The amount are usually so small that the consignee does not feel justified in prosecuting claims for reimbursement and there seems to be no excuse for the general practice of erroneous waybilling. Of all persons, firms and corporations, it would seem that the express companies, which usually manage to declare mammoth dividends at the end of each year, could afford to maintain as perfectly an organization of employees as the postoffice department or many other public service corporations at the hands of which the public would not suffer for a moment such treatment. The express company cannot complain of rates, for be it known that when it is labeled "by express" the consignee generally feels it.—Wilmington Star.

FOR AGED PEOPLE.

Old Folks Should Be Careful in Their Selection of Regulative Medicine.

We have a safe, dependable and altogether ideal remedy that is particularly adapted to the requirements of aged people and persons of weak constitutions who suffer from constipation or other bowel disorders. We are so certain that it will relieve these complaints and give absolute satisfaction in every particular that we offer it with our personal guarantee that it shall cost the user nothing if it fails to substantiate our claims. This remedy is called Rexall Orderlies.

Rexall Orderlies have a soothing, healing, strengthening, tonic and regenerative action upon the bowels. They remove all irritation, dryness, soreness and weakness. They restore the bowels and associate organs to more vigorous and healthy activity. They are eaten like candy, may be taken at any time without inconvenience, do not cause any griping, nausea, diarrhoea, excessive looseness, flatulence or other disagreeable effect. Price 25c. and 10c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store.

Grower's Happest Year.

It is pointed out that cotton prices now are almost exactly what they were early in the crop season, last October. They have varied less than during any like period on record, holding always near the price for middling cotton in New York, of fifteen cents. The Southern grower has sold gradually and with that excellent judgment otherwise which it long seemed almost impossible for him to attain. "When cotton comes into sight," says a writer in The New York Journal of Commerce, "it has usually been sold at least once. There had been only 1,697,000 bales brought into sight before the price moved up to the level it has held so long. At the end of last week the into-sight amounted to 9,617,000 bales, so that it is safe to say that almost 8,000,000 bales of cotton—or about two-thirds of the entire crop—have been sold at practically the same price. Never before have 8,000,000 bales of cotton been sold at such a high average price. The price since early in October has held very close to 15 cents a pound. At 15 cents a pound, a bale of cotton is worth $75, and 8,000,000 bales would be worth $600,000,000. That $600,000,000 worth of cotton should change hands at practically one price is something that is indeed most unusual." The remainder of the crop is expected to sell at the same price, which would mean about $900,000,000 received for the lint alone.

The year 1910-11 will go down in Southern cotton history as one of ideal market conditions—conditions which seemed almost as far off as the skies less than a decade ago. Constant hammering by the press, organization, diversification (partly forced by the boll weevil) and increasing demand for farm products, of every kind at good prices have brought about the change. The farmer, better informed than before and much better fortified financially, will hold what he has gained. There may not be another such nearly perfect season from the market standpoint, but there will never again be such conditions as existed before.—Charlotte Observer.

The funniest thing about some people is the fact that they think they are funny.

Hanging to your own money first and next to other people's is being a genius at finance.

Ignorance always seems to think that the knowledge which disagrees with it is just prejudice.

Love Your Work.

You may rest assured that if you do not feel yourself growing in your work and your life broadening and deepening; if your task is not a perpetual tonic, you have not found your place. If your work is drudgery to you; if you are always longing for the lunch hour, or the closing hour, to release you from the work that bores, you may be sure that you have not found the right niche. Unless you can go to a task with much greater delight than when you leave, it belongs to some other person.—Durham Sun.

We have just received a copy of the Manufacturers Record Annual Blue Book for 1911. It is full of interesting facts and figures on the Southern states and should be read by every Southerner. The object of the book is to give a full and correct history of the Southern states and district of Columbia and the work makes a splendid reference volume. A copy can be obtained from the publishers, at Baltimore for 25 cents.

Advertising a Section.

This is pre-eminently a day of advertising. Whatever a man has, whether it be a stock of groceries or a desire for political honors, he sets forth his possession by means of the most possible publicity. It is natural, therefore, that this proven method of obtaining results should have been suggested in connection with the problem of the building up of this section. Cities have long advertised; the adoption of slogans is one of their many channels. But the idea referred to contemplates a publicity campaign covering considerably wider ground and aiming to reach people in all sections of the country.

The "back-home" movement is to be pushed with great energy, various allroads co-operating in the work. This movement, however, is but a phase of a general one. The item about Jerry Moore's phenomenal corn ere has been copied from ocean to ocean and has given not only South Carolina but this entire section invaluable publicity. Young Moore himself is this week accompanying a delegation from Columbia which is raising heaven and earth to secure the next National Corn Exposition for that city. We hope very much that this effort will be successful; but in any case the expedition will serve to put the advantages under discussion before the minds of hundreds of people from all quarters of the United States, and it is to be expected that these folks will not be silent when they get back to their widely-separated homes.

There is advertising and advertising. Take as an example of another kind the publicity which Adams county, Ohio, and Vermillion county, Illinois have recently received. The two names are in people's mouths everywhere, but the talk is not of any value to its subjects. Yet a conservative observer, certainly at this distance, should hesitate to condemn unreservedly either community. Such situations have an inevitable tendency to exaggeration. The facts may be as stated and yet the proportion very much out of focus are represented in the dispatches. With due discrimination which shall exclude this undesirable mention, every means whereby a community can get its name before the great public is to be sought. It is likely that there are many as yet undiscovered means which might be utilized by this section. —Charlotte Observer.

Tredson to One's Conscience.

Here is something from the Greensboro Daily News that is well worth pondering over:

"We heard several members of the legislature say they were opposed to the income tax amendment; but they voted for it because it was the party program. Partisanship fits too tight when it prevents a man doing what he believes is honest and right."

Rather a serious charge made by our contemporary, and its deductions are also rather serious. We know nothing of the former, but, in our opinion, our friend is unequivocally right in the latter. We believe in a legislator, or a congressman or any other individual standing by his pledges, and standing up for his party, but we can't conceive of any man feeling right in his own mind in voting for some measure he does not believe is right. This does not apply to the man who makes promises, or who stands on a platform, which has explicit planks relative to different matters because a man who would make such promises and stand on such a platform when he thinks another way would vote anyway he pleased without regard to right and wrong and with no attention to his conscience, although his conscience must prick him sorely in the days that follow. But it does apply to all one who views new matters, not

TAX NOTICE.

All persons owing taxes for the year 1910 are notified that they must come forward and settle. I must collect these taxes, as I cannot afford to extend courtesies. The State requires me to settle with the treasurer by the first of January, which time has already passed, and I must insist on prompt settlement from those who are yet delinquent. L. W. TUCKER, Tax Collector. 14-2m.

"Any'ing," replied the henchman. So he was put to calling trains in the station.

explicitly specified before hand, in a mortisan light. There are many matters that come-up before legislatures and before congress upon which party lines are tightly drawn, merely because of antagonism, and when such is done the interest of the people suffers. Whatever promises Democratic legislators made to their constituents, whatever the Democratic platform stands for Democratic legislators should try to fulfill, and the same applies to Republican legislators, but on other questions--and there are numerous ones-- political capital should not be tried for. What all Tar Heels should desire, without regard to drawing party lines, should be the advancement of the Old North State.--Wilmington Dispatch.

THE CROSSTIE.

The Cheapest Thing on the Market To-Day.

Do you know what is the cheapest thing sold on the market today, a thing the price of which has not at all followed the upward tendency of the price of things? Well, with the exception of a newspaper which is published at a dollar a year and a good premium thrown in, it is a cross-tie. That sells lower than anything else on the market, taking into consideration the value of the tree as it stands in the forest and the work done on the timber before it is ready to be put on the market. Just take a look at a first-class cross-tie, a splendid piece of post oak or white oak timber, clear of knots and other defects, a stick of timber large enough to make good plank of--think of the labor it took to fell the timber, to score and hew it on two sides and strip it of the bark on the other two sides, and the heaving must not be roughly done, either, and then take into consideration that that cross-tie was hauled anywhere from five to ten miles to the railroad, eight of them making a good load, and was sold for only 35 cents, or three dollars and eighty cents for the whole load. Notwithstanding the scarcity of timber, notwithstanding the fact that everything else is going up in price, a cross-tie can be bought now for just about what it could when the railroad was built through this section nearly forty years ago.--Monroe Enquirer.

ROBBER CATARRH.

Steals Energy and Will Power From Its Victims.

Catarrh robs its victims of energy--some physicians say of will power. That may be the reason why thousands of catarrh sufferers haven't ambition enough to accept this fair and square offer by Coward & Wooten makes without any whys and wherefores or red tape of any kind.

Coward & Wooten guarantees HYOMEI to cure catarrh, acute or chronic, or money back, and that offer is open to every reader of The Reflector.

HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-me) is the purest Australian Eucalyptus combined with Thymol and other germ killing antiseptics.

Pour a few drops into the smallest pocket HYOMEI inhaler and then breathe it into the lungs over the inflamed membrane infested with catarrh germs.

It is pleasant to use--it kills the germs, soothes the sore membrane, and cures catarrh; if it doesn't your money back.

A bottle of HYOMEI costs 50 cents at Coward & Wooten's and druggists everywhere. A complete outfit, which includes a bottle of HYOMEI, a hard rubber inhaler and simple instructions for use costs $1.00.

A western millionaire attributes his success to the fact that he listened to his wife. Most married men have to, anyway.

And some wives are willing to do all the quarreling if their husbands will do all the making up.

NEW YORK AND CHICAGO MARKETS

By Wire to The Reflector.

Cotton.
New York, Feb. 6.--There was a break of 8 to 20 points in cotton at the opening today, due to heavy liquidation and prices made a new low level for the present movement. Cables were uneasy, telling of heavy liquidations in Liverpool. After the call there was a rally here.

Opening--
February 14.51
March 14.46
May 14.46
July 14.45

Stocks.
New York, Feb. 6.--Persistent buying, mostly by outsiders, sent prices of most stocks to new high records for the year. For the first time in many days commission houses were active buyers. The market opened brisk and at higher prices. Union Pacific and Steel common were leaders in the upward trend. The other railroad stocks, especially St. Paul, were exceptionally strong.

Grain.
Chicago, Feb. 6.--The wheat market opened steady to a shade higher, but eased off a trifle later on lack of demand. Corn started a shade higher, oats unchanged, provisions firmer.

Opening--
May wheat 95 7-8
Corn 51 1-4
oats 33 1-8

AMUZU TONIGHT

1st Reel
"THE REVEREND JOHN WRIGHT"
--From Missouri.

Should be seen by "everybody," particularly those that question the good work of the pulpit. Rev. John Wright is unquestionably a living example of the many sacrifices and unlimited amount of noble work that the clergy performs daily.

2nd Reel
ADVENTURES OF A MILLIONAIRE
--Drama.

This is a "peach" or as they say in New York a "Peacherino." Jack Stanley decides to go slumming the rest must be seen to be appreciated as to how the other fellow gets his lady-love, etc. The ladies in the audience will be carried away with the exquisite staging and rich and dazzling costumes.

3rd Reel
THE AMERICAN AND THE QUEEN.

For the benefit of those not having seen this grand production and by special request we will repeat this film as a third reel. If you lack in patriotism, this film will undoubtedly instill more or less of it into you and make you feel prouder than ever before of your citizenship of the grandest country on earth.
