MEETING

Of County Teachers Next Saturday, February 11th.

The Teachers' Association of Pitt county will hold its February meeting next Saturday. The meeting will be held in the auditorium of the East Carolina Teachers' Training School.

The officers of the association take much pleasure in announcing the program, as it is the best one we have yet been able to arrange. It will be composed of two addresses, one by Dr. George D. Strayer, of the department of education in Teachers' College of Columbia University, New York. The other address will be by Mr. A. S. Cook, superintendent of schools, Baltimore county, Baltimore, Md.

It is very seldom that we have the opportunity of having such men as Dr. Strayer and Supt. Cook. Dr. Strayer enjoys a national reputation in the sphere of education. His books have a wide sale, and his opinions are respected and quoted throughout the United States.

Superintendent Cook, of the Baltimore county schools, is well known as one of the ablest county superintendents in America. His county is regarded as having among the best organized and managed schools in the country.

We cannot too strongly urge upon the teachers of the county the importance of this meeting. If you have never before attended a county teachers' meeting, be sure to attend the meeting next Saturday. It will be a splendid opportunity to hear two of the best educators in the United States.

We are hopeful of having all of the teachers present. Visitors will be welcome and we hope to have many of our citizens with us.

H. B. SMITH,
Pres. Pitt Co. Teachers' Association.
W. H. RAGSDALE,
County Superintendent of Schools.

Federal Aid for Good Roads

A county good-roads convention recently held in Wilkesboro adopted a somewhat original and highly interesting set of resolutions. The paper sets forth the belief that the people of western North Carolina are being unjustly discriminated against in the matter of Federal appropriations for public improvements. It is argued that the building of first-rate highways through the mountains is just as necessary and would yield as large returns as the opening, building and improving of canals along the coast. It appears to be the sense of the convention that inasmuch as the Federal government is spending huge sums upon the latter object it is no more than right that some attention be paid to the former. The resolutions conclude by memorializing congress to authorize a suitable appropriation for this purpose.

There is no little justice in the Wilkes position. The large amount spent under the authority of the rivers and harbors bills of the last two decades have come in for no little criticism on the ground that such an expenditure was not wisely applied. The successive items in these bills have been found, however, to be very useful when printed in The Congressional Record and distributed throughout districts which appeared to be slightly indifferent about sending certain Representatives back to Washington. As a consequence, to eliminate a river and harbor bill item has appeared more than once to a sympathetic committee as too much resembling the political assassination of a fellow-member.

The trouble is that the very Representatives to whom these appropriations prove so valuable are the ones who will have to pass upon the Wilkes memorial. Of course there is no good reason why an appropriation secured for good roads should not prove as effective a political asset as one for a creek. The latter form of campaign ammunition, however, is universally known—and almost universally used—while the former has its merits yet to establish.

It is doubtful whether congress at any early time will look with favor upon national aid for road-building which is done entirely within any one state. The best that the advocates of the measure can hope for is that interstate highway building may attract attention, and it will probably be found advantageous to concentrate efforts in that direction.—Charlotte Observer.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1911.

OUR WEEKLY EDITION.

In making the change in name and form of the weekly Reflector, we announced at the time that it was our purpose to make "The Weekly" an agricultural medium of merit for the farmers of this section.

We have also been fortunate in securing a lady of force as a writer, who, from inheritance and environment, is especially qualified to conduct our home department.

There are a great many farmers in the county who would add very materially to the well being of their fellow farmers by the interchange of ideas through The Carolina Home and Farm and Eastern Reflector.

TWO SIDES TO THE QUESTION.

The question of good roads is one that belongs to the people, and they should settle it among themselves according to the will of the majority.

To all great questions there are two sides, and good roads is no exception. The advocates of good roads in Greenville township have at heart the desire to promote that which is for the public good, and they want to see their township second to none

In North Carolina. They realize the great need for good roads and that nothing will more rapidly advance the prosperity of the people. They realize also that the good roads are not going to be had under the old system of a 15-cents road tax, the effects of which is lost as fast as it is expended.

Johnston county has sent a bill to the legislature asking that the question of issuing bonds in the sum of $500,000 to build good roads in the county, be submitted to a vote of the people.

When a man puts his property in his wife's name to "protect his wife and children" against those he owes, he should ask himself if he is not robbing somebody else's wife and children by the same transaction.

It is quite a slam on Kansas that only eight members of the State senate were able to repeat the Lord's prayer. Put to the same test there are plenty of men who would fall down.

The doom of the near-beer joints seems to be a foregone conclusion. If the legislature does not go a step further and shut liquor out of clubs, it will make a huge mistake.

The way sentiment is growing in that direction indicates that the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people is coming.

That auditorium is troubling Charlotte again. What the city ought to do is take it over and put a stop to the possibility of losing it.

Greene and Gaynor are also soon to "come back."

DESTROYS SLEEP.

Many Greenville People Testify to This.

You can't sleep at night, With aches and pains of a bad back, When you have to get up from urinary troubles.

Doan's Kidney Pills bring peaceful slumber. They are for: They are for kidney ills. Mrs. James Garris, 12th street, Greenville, N. C., says: "I am pleased to add my endorsement to the many already given in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills."

Good Roads.

Here are some facts we commend to our farmer friends:

Bad road-making costs us directly $40,000,000 a year. Indirectly through unnecessary cost of transportation, bad road making costs us approximately $250,000,000 a year.

It costs the American farmer two or three times as much to haul his truck to market as it does the farmer of Europe, where roads are good.

In France the highways carry one and a third times as much freight as do the railroads.

In America it is just the other way. The railroads carry three times as much produce as do the public roads.

Farmers, it is for you to become advocates of what will benefit you. Be persistent advocates of good roads. And speak to your neighbors about the matter.

The above suggestions and good advice is given by the Winston Sentinel. The great need of our farmers today is better roads, and the farmer who is opposed to good roads, even at any cost, is simply standing in his own light.—Salisbury Post.

THIRTY YEARS OF SUCCESS.

The Rexall Store Offers a Remedy For Catarrh—The Medicine Costs Nothing if it Fails.

When a medicine effects a successful treatment in a very large majority of cases, and when we offer that medicine on our own personal guarantee that it will cost the user nothing if it does not completely relieve catarrh, it is only reasonable that people should believe us, or at least put our claim to a practical test when we take all the risk.

We receive more good reports about Rexall Mucu-Tone than we do of all other catarrh remedies sold in our store, and if more people only knew what a thoroughly dependable remedy Rexall Mucu-Tone is, it would be the only catarrh remedy we would have any demand for.

Rexall Mucu-Tone is quickly absorbed and by its therapeutic effect tends to disinfect and cleanse the entire mucous membrane tract, to destroy and remove the parasites which injure the membrane tissues, to soothe the irritation and heal the soreness, stop the mucous discharge, build up strong, healthy tissue and relieve the blood and system of diseased matter.

We urge you to try Rexall Mucu-Tone, beginning a treatment today. At any time you are not satisfied, simply come and tell us, and we will quickly return your money without question or quibble.

How Willie Won the Prize.

Little Willie, having only one eye, did not like to attend school. One afternoon he stayed home, and his mother sent him to the store for a loaf of bread. On the way back he stopped at the school. The school examiners were there to award a prize of five dollars in gold to the smartest boy or girl in the class. Just as Willie entered, the teacher held up one finger. Then Willie held up two fingers. This time she held up three fingers, and Willie held up his fist. She held up an apple, and Willie held up the loaf of bread. She called him to the desk and gave him the $5.

The examiners inquired of the teacher why she had awarded the prize to Willie. She replied: "I held up one finger, meaning there is one Supreme Being. He held up two, meaning the starting of the race, Adam and Eve. I held up three fingers, meaning Faith, Hope and Charity. He held up his fist, meaning in Unity there is Strength. I held up an apple, meaning the downfall of man. He held up the bread, meaning the Staff of Life. Thus I gave him the prize."

When Willie's mother wanted to know where he got the money, he replied:

"I stopped at school and the teacher held up one finger, meaning I had only one eye. I held up two fingers, meaning that I could see as much with two eyes as she could with two. She held up three fingers, meaning between the two is us, we only had three eyes. This made me so mad that I shook my fist at her. She picked up an apple, and was just going to throw it at me, when I held up the loaf of bread. She got scared and gave me the five dollars."—Irene Trimm, in National Weekly.

BALDHEAD CLUB.

One is Being Organized in a Western City.

Perhaps this report is a joke, but one thing is certain a baldhead is no joke to the man who wears it.

A club of baldheads formed in every city in America would be a good thing if its members could be induced to parade hatless, through the main streets of the city.

The writer would suggest that some of the members carry banners with inscriptions of such a character as to warn those who still have hair, that baldness is unnecessary; that in nearly every case it is the result of carelessness.

Banners inscribed as follows would be appropriate:

"We let the dandruff germ do it."
"The time to save the hair is when you have hair to save."

"When we were young, the dandruff germs worked every blessed minute. They dug our hair out by the roots, and now we aren't in it."

The best banner of all would be this, "We didn't use Parasian Sage."—Coward & Wooten sells Parasian Sage for 50 cents a large bottle, so do live druggists everywhere. It is guaranteed to stop falling hair, itching scalp and to destroy dandruff germs and remove dandruff in two weeks, or money back.

Yes, Bury Him.

Bury the croaker out in the wood in a beautiful hole in the ground, where the woodpecker pecks and the bumblebee bums and the straddlebug straddles around. He is no good to the city push, too unpractical, stingy and dead; but he wants the whole earth, and all of its crust, and the stars that shine overhead. Then hustle him off to the bumblebees' roost and bury him deep in the ground; he's of no use here, get him out of the way and make room for the man that is sound—Ex.

DO YOU KEEP A BANK ACCOUNT?

YOU SHOULD FOR THE REASONS:

- Money in Bank is safe from fire and burglars; in your home it is not.
- Money in Bank is safe from careless handling; in your pocket it is not.
- Money paid by check guarantees to you a permanent receipt; cash handed out does not.
- Money in Bank is a starter towards economy, always ready for use, or to be added to.

The Silo for Dairymen.

Says H. E. McNatt, of the dairy department of the University of Missouri:

This is the time of year when the dairyman or dairy farmers, who owns a silo likes to talk about silage. Good silage comes as near being June pasture in January, as any feed with which the dairyman is familiar. Its succulent or juicy nature especially fit it for stimulating the milk flow, and keeping the cow in vigorous health.

Probably the most important rule in the profitable dairy is to keep the cows' milk flowing as freely as possible after the flow has once been started by parturition or calf-birth. To do this demands right feeding and good care. Silage is almost necessary to right feeding. Silage is a cheap feed to put up, and valuable to use. It is grown on the farm. This fact is of importance in this day of high-priced feeds.

Read what a few Missouri dairymen have recently said about silos and silage.

Messrs. J. R. White & Son, near Aurora, Missouri, say: "We consider silage one of the best feeds we ever used to keep up the milk flow in winter. Since we began feeding silage we have never had a cow off feed and we are feeding a cow all she will eat."

Mr. John Hosmer, proprietor of the well known Hosmer farm near Marshfield, Mo., has to say: "Have a silo by all means. If intending to get into the dairy business and don't plan a silo, stay out. If dairying and are not figuring on a silo, get out. For in either case, the modern dairy methods of the fellow who has and uses the silo will put you out." Shepard Brothers, of Hughesville, Mo., say this: "A silo is one of the very best things a man can invest his money in if he is in the dairy business. You can get more feed for less money out of a silo than any other way we know.—Baltimore Sun

Two Bills.

It seems that there are two bills for the regulation of land titles under the Torrens system, now in the committee, at Raleigh. One of these is that fathered by Mr. Cotten and endorsed by the bankers and Farmers' Union. The other is a bill advocated by the lawyers. We are not familiar with the provisions of the lawyers' bill, but it is reasonable to suppose that it is not in harmony with the Cotten bill. Sentiment all over the state is unanimous for the Torrens system. The legislator who may be seeking popularity would find it thrust upon him were he to take up this measure and put it through. That this popular movement has not yet developed a vigorous champion is a matter for surprise. In the meantime, the public would no doubt be pleased to have some light on the main points of these two bills. It would be particularly interesting to learn what the lawyers are driving at.—Charlotte Observer.

A Change of Name.

There is a North Carolina Agricultural and Mechanical College at Greensboro. This is for the colored race. There is a North Carolina Agricultural and Mechanical College at Raleigh. This is for the white race. A proposition will go before the legislature for a change in the name of one or the other of these institutions. It is a good move. The Chronicle would suggest that the Greensboro institution be allowed to retain its name. Its scope is more nearly confined to agriculture and mechanic arts. The scope of the Raleigh institution has been broadened and tends more to mechanic and electrical engineering. It is suggested that its name be changed to the North Carolina Institute of Agriculture and Engineering. That would come nearer covering the case than the old name.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Perhaps you may be kind to your wife's relations by declining to visit them.

About Pensions.

In 1870 the United States paid for pensions $29,351,488. Forty years later the amount is $159,974,056.

Why should the pensions increase when most of the veterans are dead? Are the men in congress unmindful of the burdens upon tax-payers?

Surely Uncle Sam has been grateful enough to those who bled for the Union on the Northern side. Why burden the South as well by increased appropriations?

Adding 45 or 50 millions a year to the pension roll is to loot the treasury and make the cost of government unnecessarily expensive.

It is time for economy in national administration. And it is the duty of senators and congressmen to legislate for the masses, and in the interest of lessened burdens.

Stop this riot of pension extravagance. Call a halt upon the burdens of taxation.

All who believe that War is a great evil and always to be avoided when possible—all who believe that differences between nations should be settled by an international court of arbitration, have here in these pension burdens a first-rate argument in their favor.—Winston Sentinel.
