THE SUM OF FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS

AMOUNT TO ADVERTISE SOUTH

Leading Southern Advertising Agencies Meet in Washington.

Washington, March 23rd.—Five hundred thousand dollars to advertise the South was the figure decided upon by leading advertising agencies of the Southern States who met in this city today at the call of Managing Director Dawe, of the Southern Commercial Congress, for the formulation of definite plans for the further publicity work of the congress.

This conference is the immediate outgrowth of the immense impetus given to Southern exploitation by the convention of the Southern Commercial Congress recently held in Atlanta when the president of the United States, while directing one of the sessions, personally led the raising of $30,000 in support of the general work of the congress. The only living ex-president was also participant, as was Governor Woodrow Wilson and one hundred other men nationally eminent in the fields of both statesmanship and business endeavor.

Plans were perfected for the raising of an immediate minimum fund of $100,000 a year for five years to advertise the South through the Southern Commercial Congress as the clearing house for Dixie, this educational propaganda and its advertising to appear in the leading publications throughout the country, particularly the great metropolitan dailies.

Five leading lines of exploitation will be followed: Desirable farm lands available for settlement and cultivation by the newcomers from the North seeking homes in the South industrial opportunities, manufacturing institutions, power plants, etc.; commercial opportunities in the various states of the South and the respective advantages of each; bona fide investment opportunities in the South and the reasons therefore and the comparative data concerning same.

An elaborate and systematic follow up campaign is being formulated to care for the inquiries which will come into the congress as a result of the proposed publicity.

In a resolution adopted by the advertising men present, it was given as their opinion that the plan of the Southern Commercial Congress is at once the most important and far-reaching publicity measure in the history of advertising and will have the enthusiastic support and cooperation of the entire business community of the South, financial, industrial, and otherwise.

NORTH CAROLINA FISHERIES

State Ranked Eleventh in the United States in Value of Products

Washington, March 24th.—Among the states in which commercial fishing was pursued in 1908, North Carolina ranked eleventh in the value of fishery products, according to the special census bureau report on the general census of the fishery industry of the United States for 1908, prepared by Mr. William N. Eteuart, chief statistician for manufactures, for Census Director Durand who will transmit it soon to Secretary Nagel of the department of commerce and labor.

The general summary shows that in 1908 there were 9681 persons employed; the capital invested in vessels and boats including outfit, $533,500, in apparatus of capture, $367,000, in shore and accessory property and cost, $70,000; and the total value of products was $1,776,000.

The chief fishing grounds of the state were Albermarle, Pamlico, and Core sounds, and their tributary rivers. Among the important rivers were the Cape Fear, New, Roanoke, Shallotte, Newport, North, and Neuse. Many smaller sounds and rivers also contributed to the fishing product of the state.

MEN ARE GETTING SCARCE.

New York Has 50,000 Girls Doomed To be Old Maids.

"In spite of writers who give formulas to girls how to get husbands," assuring them that every girl can win one if she makes herself attractive there are thousands of girls today who haven't a ghost of a show at matrimony. There are not enough men to go around."

This, girls is not the sentiment of the army of the unmarried but is the coldblooded statement of Dr. Jno. Jackola, who supports his statement with figures.

Dr. Jackola's mother and sisters are among the pioneer suffragists of England where women have full suffrage and where there are 100,000 more women than men in 3,000,000 population. Dr. Jackola spoke to a gathering of Mrs. Belmonts farm suffragettes and Hempstead citizens recently. He also carried his message of despair to Boston's unmarried army of suffragettes when he spoke there before the Massachusetts State suffrage association.

Mrs. Belmont's former suffragists were cast down by Dr. Jackola's statement that there are 50,000 more women than men in Greater New York alone, and that no matter what interest they had in looking forward to matrimony for thousands of them there were absolutely no hope.

"Then," added Dr. Jackola, "when you consider the big number of undesirable bachelors whom no woman of refinement would marry, your chances of matrimony are lessened still further."

Dr. Jackola compared Inex Milholland, who is studying law to help win votes for women, to Joan of Arc.

"Women," he said, "rich, young and beautiful like Miss Milholland, who do not marry are sacrificing their happiness, no doubt, like the martyrs of old."

Dr. Jackola gives the unmarried girls one ray of hope saying that, in his opinion, the day will come when custom will not compel a woman to wait until a man asks her to marry him.

"If the custom were established so that women might propose," he said, "I believe there would be a better understanding between the sexes."—New York American.

ITALIAN CAMORIST TRIALS PROGRESS TODAY

AN EXAMINATION POSTPONED.

Feared Confession of Traitor Would Cause Outbreak.

Vitesbo, Italy, March 24.—Abatemaggio, the betrayer of Camorra, was expected to go on the stand today, but the crown's advocate informed the court that important expert witnesses were absent and the interrogation of Abatemaggio was postponed. Many plots have been made against Abatemaggio's life and it is thought this was the real reason for postponing his examination. Extra precautions had been taken today because it was feared the presence of the Camorrist traitor upon the stand and his confession of Camorra secrets would arouse other prisoners to a frenzied outbreak beyond the control of the authorities.

Came "Back Home" To Begin Again.

Last fall Mr. Jacob Robinson, who owned a fine farm near Florendo, in this county, and who says he was doing well sold his farm, stock, household goods, etc., and emigrated to the state of Washington, to get rich quick in those widely advertised and much boasted farming lands in that section. He located at Bellingham, on the west side of the state, bought some upland, with timber on it, because it was cheaper than the valley land, and proceeded to make a home. It cost him $150 an acre to clear the land. Shortly after his arrival he saw that he was in for it and began his preparations to leave. The residents there told him he was going too soon; to stay and unload on some easterner, who would, in time, come and buy. Mr. Robinson knew of a number who had been waiting for a long time to catch a sucker and were impoverished by the wait, concluded he would get out while he had some money left.

So last week they arrived here and Mr. Robinson is looking for a farm. He says that he knew when he had enough. He says that it is a first rate country to go for one's health, but to go there and live as a farmer it would be sheer folly. Fruit grows in abundance but it is specked with the seal and unfit for market. He further says it does not pay to grow timothy hay that brings $12 a ton on $300 an acre land. The price of eggs there is high, but the hens don't lay.

Mr. Robinson's experience cost, he says, about $3,000, and he is back in old Rutherford to make back what he lost to the land sharks of the glorious state of Washington.

This experience is a true one and should give an impetus to the "back home" movement now working in the South. Those who left their homes in the Southern states should come back to see how the country has improved and how easy it is to make a living on the farms that were once red clay, worn out washed hills. Come on back, boys, come "back home."—Murfreesboro (Tenn) Home Journal.

COTTON SUIT DECIDED IN FAVOR OF PLAINTIFF

MOSELEY BROS. VS DAVENPORT.

Makes Valid a Contract for the Future Delivery of Cotton.

A case of much interest was decided in the Superior court here Thursday, in that it showed the validity of contracts made for the future delivery of cotton. As much of this kind of business has been done by farmers and cotton dealers throughout the cotton growing belt, it makes cases of this kind of more than local interest, as it will have a general hearing.

The case tried Thursday was a suit brought by Messrs Moseley Bros. against Mr. J. R. Davenport, arising out of failure to deliver cotton on a contract made between them. That the case was strongly and ably contested is shown by the array of counsel on the opposing sides, the plaintiff being represented by Messrs Moore and Long, of Greenville, and ex-Judge Jacob Battle, of Rocky Mount, and the defense by Messrs. F. G. James & Son, of Greenville and ex-Judge R. W. Winstone, of Raleigh.

The contention of the plaintiff to the action was that in the spring of 1909 they entered into contract with the defendant for 100 bales of cotton to be delivered during the month of November in the same year at the stipulated price of 10 cents per pound, basis middling. When the time came for the delivery of the cotton, it was then selling at 13 1/2 cents per pound and defendant declined to make delivery in accordance with terms of the contract.

The contention of the defendant was that the contract was only a gambling deal on cotton futures, hence was not valid and did not bind him to make actual delivery of the cotton. Every detail of the contract was gone into, fully in the trial and the case was fought warmly on both sides. When the case was given to the jury they were only a short while in reaching a decision on the issues involved. Their verdict in substance was that it was the intention of the plaintiff to receive the cotton and the intention of the defendant to deliver the cotton at the time the contract was entered into and signed, and therefore judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiff for $1,875, the difference in the price of 100 bales of cotton at 10 cents as contracted for and the selling price at the time it should have been delivered, with interest from Dec. 1st, 1909.

AN INDUSTRIOUS BOY.

Making A Reputation for Trapping Game.

Master Henry W. Brown, aged 12 years, and son of Mr. Robert Brown, who lives on Greenville R. F. D. No. 4, has made quite a reputation as a trapper. This winter he has caught 62 rabbits, 1 mink and 1 possum. He sold all his game and realized quite a nice little sum by his energy.

Robert got his boxes all fixed and set them by himself. He would get up early every morning and take a lantern along to find his boxes, take out what game there was and reset them. After going back home and getting his breakfast he walked a mile and a half to school, always getting there on time.

That boy is going to be heard from in later years.

Sin in Extravagance.

We may be permitted to quote this from a woman without fear of being crucified. Mrs. Northrup, of New York, thinks that to the finishing details there may be traced "our great national sin of extravagance" as it affects woman. The girls, she asserts, learn to spend money with utter recklessness for theatre tickets, flowers, candy, costly clothes and various kinds of amusements. The high standard of living they imbibe "prevents early marriage and breeds a spirit of discontent and idleness in young wives." Don't some of the schools other than those mentioned do the same thing? How about it?—Greensboro Record.

Earth's Uncharted Treasure.

The worthlessness of estimate of the world's supply of natural resources of different kinds is not fully comprehended by the general public. A recent illustration of the futility of attempts to measure what can not be seen has been afforded by the recent discovery of a coal at Doncaster, in Yorkshire, England.

Until last summer Doncaster was celebrated far and wide for its annual races, while in the county itself it was looked upon in the light of an important agricultural center. Suddenly and unexpectedly enormously rich beds of coal have been discovered within a radius of six miles of Doncaster. They are pronounced by the United Kingdom to contain not merely millions, but many billions of tons of the finest kind of bituminous coal, equal to the Welsh, and already twenty different coal pits are being sunk, while new boring operations are in progress. Each pit affords, roughly speaking, employment for some 4000 workers, making with their families and dependents, a total of at least 10,000. Thus twenty coal pits mean an addition to the population of Doncaster of more than 200,000.—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

STATEMENTS SENT TO ALL.

Subscribers Are Asked Please to Remit Promptly.

Our bookkeeper has just got through the list in making out statements, and they have been mailed to every subscriber of The Reflector, both daily and weekly, who owes $1 or more. Already some are responding with remittances, and we ask all others receiving statements to please do likewise without delay. It takes much time and expense to send out all these statements, and no subscriber should wait for a second one to be sent him. If errors are made in any statements, all needed for a prompt correction is to call attention to it.

The important thing now is to let us hear from you with a remittance. Our subscription books are undergoing a revision for using a printed instead of a written mailing list, and there are names that will have to be dropped unless the subscription is paid by the first of May, after which time the accounts against those dropped will be put out for collection. We hope every subscriber will save the necessity of this being done.

Trade Report.

Richmond, Va. March 23, 1911.—Bradstreet's to-morrow will say for Richmond and vicinity: Trade in general is quiet, few lines showing more than a moderate demand. Country merchants are buying in smaller quantities, evidently waiting for the development of farming operations, which however, have thus far been favored by good weather. Cotton planters are reported to be preparing for an increased acreage. The 1910 crop of tobacco is still being marketed and a good demand is noted. Dry goods and shoes are less active than at any time since the holiday season. More activity in building is noted as the spring season advances. Retail trade is quiet. Collections are only fair.

POSTMASTER GENERAL IS RIGHT

The Reflector is not able to see the justness of the contentions of the magazines of the country against the proposition of the postmaster general to slightly increase the rate of postage charged for transmitting magazines through the mails. After reading much on both sides of the question we have come to the conclusion that the postmaster general is right. The government carries what is termed second-class matter through the mails at a heavy loss, and this loss is largely caused by the magazines. The government is carrying these magazines for 1 cent a pound while the cost for doing so is 9 cents a pound, yet the proposed increase in charge was only placed at 4 cents (still 5 cents below cost) and even that rate to apply only to the advertising sections of the magazines in excess of 4,000 pounds.

The cost to handle newspapers in the mails is nothing like the cost of handling magazines. The contention of the magazines that this proposed small increase of postage on their advertising pages would ruin their business, cannot be supported by facts. It is well known that the magazines charge enormous rates for advertising, running up into the hundreds and thousands of dollars for a page in a single issue, and if any class of publications can afford to pay more postage it is certainly the magazines.

Newspapers are publications of general information and education to the public, and for that reason the government handles them at a low rate of postage, while the magazines have no news features, but their reading matter is mainly stories and pictorial matter intended for entertainment and not for information, and they are made up largely of advertising pages. It would be no more unreasonable to carry novels and other books through the mails at second-class rates than it is to carry some of the magazines, for the latter are books and not newspapers. Carrying the magazines at a loss of $60,000,000 a year, as the post office department shows by its figures, is simply giving them that much subsidy.

NEED OF A PARK.

The Durham Sun is trying to prevail upon its city to buy the old court house site there and convert it into a park, and argues how, from every standpoint it would pay the city to do so. Durham is many times larger than Greenville, yet as the years went by has neglected the matter of making provision for a park of public play ground until now the folly

Has Millions of Friends.

How would you like to number your friends by millions as Bucklen's Arnica Salve does? Its astounding cures in the past forty years made them. Its best Salve in the world for sores, ulcers, eczema, burns, boils, scalds, cuts, corns, sore eyes, sprains, swellings, bruises, old sores. Has no equal for piles. 25c at all druggists.

of such neglect is very evident. We have tried time and time again to make such an impression upon the minds of the people of Greenville, but they go right on neglecting it, yet some day will realize their mistake.

HOME FOLKS MUST ACT.

If you wait for the other fellow to come in and build up the town, you are likely to keep on waiting. The old saying is that "all things come to him who waits," but Greenville has waited long enough. It is time for the home folks to quit waiting and get active themselves. If the town is to have manufacturing enterprises the home folks must go after them. Outsiders are not going to bring them to us unsolicited.

A Greensboro negro has invented a new one. He threw a beer bottle at his sweetheart, which she dodged and the tale he told the magistrate was that he just did it playfully in an effort to knock out a tooth that was aching and hurting her. The magistrate did not think Jim had license to extract teeth that way, so let him go out to work thirty days on the roads.

Greenville is a good town, but that fact alone is not going to make business. If the business men want trade, they must do something to get it. People do not go to a town to trade just for sentiment, but go where the best inducements are offered them. Greenville is in position to offer inducements, but this day and time people must be shown.

President Taft called the Japanese ambassador in conference to assure him that the mobilization of United States troops on the Mexican border was intended as no affront of Japan.

If you buy ground in Greenville there need be no fear that you will have to sell it at less than it cost you. Property here is a safe investment.

The Mt. Olive Tribune, a bright and newsy weekly paper, and one that works earnestly for its town and section, has entered its eighth year.

Until you do your share in pushing Greenville forward, you have no right to complain of anybody else.

Spring fever is not as good for the growth of a town as hustling grip.

Catarrh, A Surely Dangerous Disease

Thousands of people allow catarrh to slowly undermine the whole system until a serious disease develops—sometimes consumption.

People who have catarrh should use every effort to get rid of it, but should above all adopt a sensible method.

Stomach dosing, sprays and douches won't cure catarrh because it is a germ disease, and the germs must be destroyed before the disease can be conquered.

HYOMEI is the one sensible cure for catarrh because it reaches every fold, crevice and nook in the mucous membrane and gets where the germs are. You breathe HYOMEI and as it passes over the inflamed membrane its soothing influence heals the soreness and destroys the germs.

A complete HYOMEI outfit costs $1. This consists of a bottle of HYOMEI and a hard rubber inhaler. Pour a few drops of HYOMEI into the inhaler, and breathe it a few minutes each day, that's all you have to do. It is guaranteed by Coward & Wooten and druggists everywhere to cure catarrh, coughs, colds and sore throat or money back. Extra bottle of HYOMEI costs 50 cents. Free trial sample on request from Booth's Hyomei Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

History That is History.

Fascinating as it is for its present day interests, however, Peking is even richer in historic interest. And by historic in China is not meant any matter of the last half-hour, such as Columbus' discovery of America or the landing at Plymouth Rock; these things to the Chinaman are so modern as to belong rather in the category of recent newspaper sensations. If he wishes something historic, he goes back three or four thousand years. For example, a friend of mine, at a little social gathering in New England some time ago, heard a young Chinese student make a talk on his country. Incidentally he was asked about a particular Chinese custom. "Yes," he answered, "that is our custom now, since we changed. But it has not always been so. We did the other way up to four or five centuries before Christ." Whereupon the audience, amazed at the utterly casual mention of an event two thousand years old as if it were a happening of yesterday, roared with laughter, which the young Chinaman was utterly unable to understand. When Christ was born, Peking (or what is now Peking, then bearing another name), having centuries before grown into eminence, had been destroyed, rebuilt, and was then entering upon its second youth. About the time of the last Caesars, it fell into the hands of the Tartars who gave place to the Mongols after 1215. It was during the reign of the Mongol Emperor, Kublai Kahn, that Marco Polo visited his capital, then called Cambulac. Seventy-three years before Columbus discovered America, Nankou, built the great wall that surrounds the Tartar City to this day—forty feet high, wide enough on top for four or five carriages to drive abreast, and thirteen miles around.—Clarence Poe, in Progressive Farmer.

Troubles With the Tower.

Among the engravings that adorned the walls of a Toledo woman's home was one big one of the leaning tower of Pisa.

One morning, shortly after the advent of a new maid, the mistress of the house noticed that the picture of the tower hung crooked. She straightened it, and said nothing of the matter to the new servant, who had evidently shifted it while dusting.

The next day the picture was again crooked, the same thing happened the next day and the next. Finally, one morning, chancing to be in the room where the picture was, the mistress said to the maid as she dusted:

"Mary, you've hung that picture of the tower crooked. Just look at it!"

"That's what I say, mum," returned the domestic. "Look at it! The only way I can get that blamed tower to hang straight is to hang the picture crooked."—Lippincott's.

The Proof That Greenville Readers Cannot Deny.

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of time? Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills cure permanently.

Home endorsement should prove undoubtedly the merit of this remedy. Years ago your friends and neighbors testified to the relief they had derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They now confirm their testimonials. They say time has completed the test.

Mrs. T. S. Norman, 911 Evans St., Greenville, N. C., says: "I gladly give Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement, as they have proven of greater benefit to me than any other remedy I have ever used. I suffered from a dull ache through the small of my back. There was also a soreness across my kidneys and I was hardly able to get around on account of sharp, darting pains through my joints. Upon arising in the morning, I felt tired and languid and had but little ambition or energy. Since using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Wooten's Drug Store, the backache and pains have disappeared, I do not suffer from backache and that tired, languid feeling has been removed."

Had Premonition of Boy's Death.

A report from Waynesville says that Marlon Smathers, living on a rural mail route in Haywood county, received a telegram Monday stating that his son, Talley Smathers, who went to the West some months ago, was crushed to death in Washington State Saturday by a log skidder. A strange coincidence is that Mrs. Smathers, the young man's mother, had a "presentment" some days ago that her son would meet with some horrible accident, and feeling sure that the news would come, she asked the mail carrier to bring any mail for her to the house to keep her from walking to the mail box. The body will be brought back to Haywood county for burial.—Monroe Journal.

NEWSPAPER PRESS FOR SALE.

Having placed an order for a new fast newspaper and book press, to be installed the middle of April, we have a newspaper press that will be sold at a bargain for delivery May 1st.
It is a Monona Leverless Press, large enough to print four 6-column pages, or two 9-column pages and has steam fixtures so that it can be run either by hand or power. Been in use six years.
It is a splendid press for a weekly paper and is in good condition to do many years good service. We used a press from the same factory for 17 years before installing this one, printing a daily paper with small circulation about 10 years of that time. Its speed, 800 an hour, is too slow for a daily paper with the present circulation of The Reflector, and for that reason we are having to displace it with a faster press.
Any one interested and wanting a good press for a weekly newspaper, can see this press at work every day in the Reflector building, before our new press is installed. Any one who cannot come to see it at work and examine it, can get particulars by addressing

Don't Carry Water

You need never carry another pail of water or even go out of the house on stormy days. Put running water in your home—in the kitchen—bathroom—toilet—and have an adequate supply in the barn for watering stock—washing carriages, harness—for the lawn garden—or for protection against fire—bedsides. A makes this possible. It eliminates the unsightly elevated water tank that freezes in winter—or dries out in summer. In your cellar or buried in the ground it cannot freeze, and it solves the water problem forever. A complete system costs $45.00 upwards and you can install it yourself, if you like.

Let us show you how a Leader Water System in your home will save you money—in doctor's bills, and add to your own comfort and satisfaction at the same time.

A Leader Water System suited to the needs of your home will never get out of order or need repairs. A few minutes attention each day is all that the apparatus requires.

A Fierce Night Alarm.
Is the hoarse, startling cough of a child, suddenly attacked by croup. Often it aroused Lewis Chamblin, of Manchester, O., (R. R. No. 2.) for their four children were greatly subject to croup. "Sometimes in severe attacks" he wrote, "we were afraid they would die, but since we proved what a certain remedy Dr. King's New Discovery is, we have no fear. We rely on it for croup and for coughs, colds or any throat or lung trouble." So do thousands of others. So may you. Asthma, hay fever, lagrippe, whooping cough, hemorrhages fly before it. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Sold by all druggists.

West's Example in Old States.
That the systematic campaign of development in the West has set a good example to the East and South is evident in the frequent allusions to what we are doing by the press of those older sections. This we may count one of the rich by products of our effort. Next to opening up to settlement and cultivation the great stretches of our own fertile fields, nothing could be more desirable than that we get our neighbors back in the older States to develop some of their latent resources. It does not detract from our movement in the least, but rather helps it, for enterprises to be set to work in the East and South to induce young men to take up land and cast their fortunes there. In the language of a magnanimous sea captain, "There is honor (land and men) enough for all."

The West is so big and great that it will take years and years for it to begin to fill up, but that does not make it parsimonious or hesitant about its future. Its future is certain—people are coming to the West simply because they will not be kept away. They need no encouragement from Horace Greeleys to get them to come. They know that out here they find superior climate, soil and opportunities, and therefore, they continue to come as fast as they can arrange to do so.—Omaha Bee.

It sometimes happens that a pessimist is married man who can't forget it.

There is said to be happiness among some savage tribes where money is unknown.

Attacks School Principal.
A severe attack on school principal, Chas. B. Allen, of Sylvania, Ga., is thus told by him. "For more than three years," he writes, "I suffered indescribable torture from rheumatism liver and stomach trouble and diseased kidneys. All remedies failed till I used Electric Bitters, but four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me completely." Such results are common. Thousands bless them for curing stomach trouble, female complaints, kidney disorders, biliousness and for new health and vigor. Try them. Only 50c at all druggists.

Peculiar Divorce Suit in Winston.
A peculiar suit came up for trial yesterday in the Superior court when W. Luther Vance, through his father, Mr. John S. Vance, applied for the annulment of the marriage of Luther Vance with May Davis, in Asheville, which was contracted within a day's acquaintance of the parties, in March, 1910, and at the time when application had been made for the commitment of Luther Vance to the asylum at Morganton.

Evidence showed that the plaintiff was taken to the asylum for the insane the day after the marriage and is an inmate of that institution now, and that the woman was of bad character at the time of the alleged marriage. The jury found for the plaintiff, and the marriage was in consequence declared annulled.

Vance was an inmate of a sanatorium in Asheville at the time of the marriage. He got away one day, found the woman and married her.—Winston Journal.

Town Boosting.

We are greatly interested in a recent form of activity on the part of the secretary of the Greater Charlotte Club. The special function of this officer is to look after every movement which is making for the improvement and progress of this city, and it is in direct line with this idea that Secretary Worwith is making trips to the smaller communities to address business men upon the general subject of town-boosting. He was in Lenoir last week and brings back most satisfactory reports of the aggressiveness observable there. Now if Lenoir and other towns within reach of this city progress, some of the benefits accruing will certainly react upon Charlotte's advance. The more commercial organizations established in North Carolina, the greater will be the progress of all the communities in the State.

No one can follow the news sent in from all over the State without being forcibly impressed with the headway this idea of town-boosting has made. It is not confined to any one section. Elizabeth City has a splendid organization; Wadesboro, Rockingham, Lumberton and other central Carolina communities are being pushed by enthusiastic bodies of business men. In the far west Canton is the most recent addition to the roll, preliminary steps in this direction having been taken there the latter part of last week. The list might be almost indefinitely extended.

The content of this boosting may well come in for remark. The object of these busy men who are devoting their time and means to local progress is not to create the impression that their community is the twentieth-century Utopia. Facts—simple unadorned facts—are what they desire to put before the public at large. The benefit gained from one satisfied newcomer, outweighs anything to be gotten from a hundred visitors who are disappointed after actual inspection of the town. This conservatism and directness of statement eliminates the danger of an unsubstantial "boom" in which excitement and hysteria are only too likely to be mistaken for growth. The North Carolina towns are aiming not so much at rapidity as at permanence in their advance, and it would be hard to conceive of a more encouraging sign.—Charlotte Observer.

Bill to Prevent Fraud on Merchants

Through the special efforts of the Salisbury Merchants' Association a bill entitled, "An act to prevent fraud on merchants," was passed by the general assembly of North Carolina, recently adjourned. It is an important measure and everybody should know its intent. The following is a copy of the act.

"Section 1. That if any person with intent to cheat and defraud shall solicit and obtain from any merchant any article of wearing apparel without paying for the same in advance and shall thereafter, upon demand, refuse or fail to return same to such merchant in unused and undamaged condition, or to pay for the same, such person so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Evidence that a person has solicited a merchant to deliver to him any article of wearing apparel for examination or approval, and has obtained the same upon such examination and thereafter upon demand has refused or failed to return the same to such merchant in unused and undamaged con-

How to Tell if Your Hair is Diseased
Even if you have a luxuriant head of hair you may want to know whether it is in a healthy condition or not. 98 per cent of the people need a hair tonic.

Pull a hair out of your head; if the bulb at the end of the root is white and shrunken, it proves that the hair is diseased, and requires prompt treatment if its loss would be avoided. If the bulb is pink and full, the hair is healthy.

We want every one whose hair requires treatment to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We promise that it shall not cost anything if it does not give satisfactory results. It is designed to overcome dandruff, relieve scalp irritation, to stimulate the hair roots, tighten the hair already in the head, grow hair and cure baldness.

It is because of what Rexall "93" Hair Tonic has done and our sincere faith in its goodness that we want you to try it at our risk. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store.

A Crime of Society.

Andrew Toth left prison in Pittsburgh Saturday after 20 years of confinement for a crime he did not commit. His attitude on leaving jail was one of devout gratitude that he was at last freed and cleared. It would not have been strange if he had been, instead, embittered by the great sin society committed against him. For 20 years every morning he had hoped for justice, and every evening had gone to his prison cot again a wronged and disappointed man.

Toth was not even present when Michael Quinn was killed in the Edgar Thomson steel works 20 years ago. He was later pointed out as the murderer by a fellow-workman who in a sulky fit sought that easy way of "getting even" with him. It was easy to find out at the time whether he had been in the mill or not, but no one took the trouble properly to defend the poor immigrant who knew no English and had no friends. Society was offended by the murder; here was an accused man; to prison he went, and stayed until a dying man's conscience at last revealed the truth.

Such a revelation shakes public faith in the administration of justice far more than the evil delays and misplaced leniency of which just complaint is heard. It is the law that until he is proved guilty an accused man must be held innocent. Toth was never proved guilty; he was "railroaded," and if it all the sudden wealth of all the millionaires of Pittsburgh were rolled upon him in a great golden flood it could not right the wrong done him.—New York World.

Newspaper Whiskey Advertising.

The coming out of the Greensboro News, in its public declaration that no longer will it accept whiskey advertising, is a progressive move that its proprietors will never regret. As the News says, it does not take the step for any applause but for the better reason that of a correct position in a prohibition community and State. Refusing to accept whiskey advertising need not indicate fanaticism or prudery. To accept whiskey advertising is not a sign of business sagacity, because it is a way to make "easy money" by forcing those who have a contra band article to pay a high price for the introduction of their goods by allowing display advertising in territory where the law forbids the manufacture and sale of these goods.

The prohibition law of North Carolina was enacted and voted for by a large majority thus emphasizing the will of the people of this Commonwealth. The fact of a minority vote in no way lessens the force and integrity of this State's prohibition law, and this being true it is the duty of every citizen to uphold this law. Laws are laws for every one to observe, and the prohibition law, particularly by its great majority vote would seem to call for a stronger upholding than many of the laws that are but legislative enactments. If public sentiment expressed at the polls means anything the prohibition law calls for a united maintenance by every one.

In this upholding of the prohibition or any law, what influence should be first and always in front but the news paper? The whiskey ad like the near beer saloon is but making the prohibition law, an evasion that no self-respecting newspaper can countenance in its columns, much less endorse by its acceptance and publication.—New Bern Journal.

Not so Slow After All.

During a conversation between an Irishman and a Jew, the Irishman asked how it was that the Jews were so wise.

"Because," said the Jew, "we eat a certain kind of fish," and he offered to sell one for $10.

After paying his money, the Irishman received a small dried fish. He bit into it, then exclaimed: "Why, this is only a smoked herring."

"See?" said the Jew. "You are getting wise already."—Lippincott's.

A Wise Suggestion.

There has been talk of changing the ten commandments, which moves the Ohio State Journal to suggest an addition to them as doing no harm. They are:

Eleventh—Thou shalt not combine with thy neighbor to raise the price of food and raiment for this is an iniquity.

Twelfth—Thou shalt not have two prices for moving goods to and fro throughout the land, for that is a robbery to thy friends, for this is an abomination.

Thirteenth—Thou shalt not practice to deceive those who sit at the receipt of customers, nor prevaricate to the tax gatherer regarding thy wealth.

Fourteenth—Thou shalt not take any of the people's money for which thou hast not returned a full equivalent in work or material.

Anything wrong with these? Striked us they are mighty good, but perhaps like the others, little attention would be paid to them.—Greensboro Record.

Lawyers Up Front

Senator William Pierson Fiero, of Catskill, N. Y., was seated with others about the enormous fireplace in Keeler's hotel, Albany, N. Y., on a cold night, when he told this story:

"I remember, 30 years ago, when I was a lawyer, there were about 15 or 18 of us—all lawyers—seated about a fireplace much like this. It was a raw wet to the hide, came in, tried to get was not room left. The nearest accommodations and was told there other place was a mile away. Shivering, the stranger looked at the fire, but we formed such a solid line about it that he could not get near it. Finally one of the lawyers, in a spirit of frivolity, turned to him and said: "My friend, are you a traveler?"

"I am, sir. I have been all over the world." "You don't say so! Been in Germany, Egypt, Japan and all the countries in Africa and Asia?" "All of them—been everywhere." "Ever been in hell?" "Oh, yes; been there twice." "How did you find things there?" "Oh, much the same as here—lawyers all next to the fire."—New York Herald.
