

THIS MAY BRING ON SOME MORE TROUBLE

BETWEEN RUSSIA AND CHINA.

Chinese Regulars Fire Two Volleys at Russian Troops.

By Cable to The Reflector.
London, March 30.—Chinese regulars, in the III district fired on Russian troops today, according to a dispatch received here from St. Petersburg. The Russian foreign office has instructed Minister Korosvetz at Peking to demand an explanation of the Chinese government. According to the dispatch Russian troops were pursuing Chinese bandits who fled to the shelter of a Chinese army camp. When the Russians reached the camp the Chinese troops fired two volleys and the Russians withdrew. The Chinese commander subsequently apologized, declaring the action of the soldiers had been mistaken.

WILL MAKE INVESTIGATION.

Superintendent of Building Department to Probe The Fire.

By Cable to The Reflector.
New York, March 30.—Randolph P. Miller, superintendent of the New York building department which has been charged with the responsibility for the holocaust last Saturday, resumed his duties today, having arrived home from Panama last night. He said he would make a thorough investigation of the fire in the Triangle factory that caused the loss of nearly one hundred and fifty lives.

NEW SENATOR FOR IOWA.

Judge Kenyon Will Succeed Senator Dolliver.

By Cable to The Reflector.
Washington, March 30.—Judge William S. Kenyon, now assistant attorney general, will be the next senator from Iowa to fill the unexpired term of Senator J. P. Dolliver, it was announced today. After a long deadlock the caucus of Republicans decided on Judge Kenyon. Kenyon will take the place temporarily held by appointment by Lafayette Young.

NEWSPAPERS AFTER RAILROADS

For Charging Excessive Freight Rates on Paper.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Washington, March 30.—Several newspapers and publishing companies of Des Moines, Iowa, registered complaint with the inter state commerce commission today against a large number of railroads, alleging that rates on print paper from Chicago and Wisconsin cities to Des Moines were discriminative and excessive.

HORRORS OF PLAGUE.

Thousands of Deaths Occurring in Manchuria.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Washington, March 30.—Plague is decimating northern Manchuria, according to advices received from Harbin today by the state department. At the end of February 6,483 deaths had occurred in Harbin alone. In one region in Manchuria 5,000 deaths occurred in February.

Giant Coal Corporation.

By Cable to The Reflector.
Pittsburg, Pa., March 30.—Combination of twenty different companies with a capitalization of $500,000,000 is being formed here as the selling agency of the coal corporation of this section of the country. Preliminary organization has already been completed.

OPTIMISM.

Optimism is a belief in a great purpose underlying the world for good, absolutely certain to fulfill itself somewhere, somehow. That must have been what God saw when he looked upon the world and called it "good."—Phillips Brooks.

TERCENTENARY OF BIBLE.

Anniversary This Month of Profound Religious and Literary Significance

A triple significance is attached to the 300th anniversary of the King James translation, or authorized version, of the Bible, which has been and is being widely celebrated this month, through, somewhat vaguely and variously, since, as the book was never entered at Stationers' Hall for copyright, the precise date of its appearance is unknown, though it is sufficiently certain that it was in March, 1611. The first significance, at least in obviousness, is, of course, religious, meaning both spiritual and ecclesiastical. That translation and its publication undoubtedly caused a vastly wider circulation and reading of the Scriptures than had been known before or would have been attainable without it, while the uniform use of an "authorized" version, "appointed to be read in churches," strongly promoted uniformity and solidarity of faith and practice. The phenomenal development of religious organizations in the English-speaking world in the last three centuries is largely to be ascribed to the results of the work which was completed in the Jerusalem chamber 300 years ago.

No less noteworthy, in another way, has been the influence of that work upon the English language and literature. Far more than any other book that has ever existed, it established and has maintained an authoritative standard of speech. That a word is used or a construction is employed in the Bible has for generations been regarded as conclusive vindication of its legitimacy; and there are even those who go so far as to suggest, not without some color of plausibility, that the corruption of speech which lovers of pure English so often deplore has been a direct and essential consequence of the decline in Bible reading and study which has also been observed. It was a most fortunate circumstance that this version of the Scriptures was made at about the culmination of one of the most splendid eras in English literature, and thus crystallized in its imperishable and practically unchangeable form the Spencer, Shakespeare, Jonson, Sidney, Bacon, and their compeers. It is really their literature, with that of Tyndale and Coverdale, which lives in its pages rather than that of the actual translators. Macaulay well declared that it was a book "which if everything else in our language should perish would alone suffice to show the whole extent of its beauty and power."—New York Tribune.

Agricultural Awakening.

The campaign of education in farming has reached such a point that this season will witness more progress in North Carolina agriculture than any other known in the history of the state. As each year rolls around that progress will be greater and greater, for our farmers are following the latest methods and we can look for big results. With good seasons, the next fall will score the greatest crops in the history of North Carolina.

North Carolina and other southern states, as well as the United States Agricultural department, have been demonstrating agriculture to the farmers. In Georgia, for instance, the educational train of the Georgia college of agriculture, on Saturday last ended a state wide tour which began several months ago. The Atlanta Journal says this train education for the farmers "has been truly estimated to be the greatest in America."

In some western states, this method of demonstration has been followed, but it is to Georgia's credit that she carried out a scheme which reached not fewer than 350,000 people, nearly one-third of the state's white population. The train went into 120 counties and carried a full staff of skilled educators, even to the entomologist, farming object lessons, implements, machinery, etc.

What Georgia is doing in that way, North Carolina is doing by farmers' institutes and in different ways, and it only goes to show the agricultural awakening in the south.—Wilmington Star.

List Will Appear Soon.

The tax collectors, town and county, will begin the publication of the sale of property of delinquents either Saturday or Monday. Those who do not wish their names to appear in the delinquent list should pay their taxes at once.

BUCKET SHOP LAW IS UNCONSTITUTIONAL

SO SAYS THE SUPREME COURT.

Decision by Justice Wright and Indictments Dismissed.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Washington, March 30.—The anti-bucket shop law was declared unconstitutional today in a decision rendered by the Supreme court of the District of Columbia. The decision was handed down by Justice Wright and was sweeping in character, holding that it was unconstitutional because of the ambiguity of its provision. He ordered dismissal of indictments against thirteen alleged bucket shop promoters of Washington, Baltimore, St. Louis and Chicago. Nine men were arrested last May in raids by the department of justice.

STIRRING CALL TO THE PEOPLE.

A Responsibility Laid Upon Citizens and Officers Everywhere.

To the Friends of Temperance and Good Government:—The fact that North Carolina now has written upon her statute books laws, which prohibit the manufacture and sale of liquor, lays the responsibility upon citizens and officers in every community to execute these laws. Let no one believe for one minute that the lawless liquor traffic has a conscience that will lead them voluntarily to obey. The experience of all law-abiding communities teaches us that it is necessary to use the strong arm of the law and compel obedience. The way the average citizen in our country enforces law is by electing officers, who stand for enforcement, and just at this time, I want to emphasize the necessity of citizens using their franchise in the election of the right sort of officers. It is not enough that we have good laws, we must have faithful and efficient officers to make these laws effective, and the making of the officer lies with citizens.

During this spring many towns and cities will be electing their officers, and now is the time for our temperance forces to be at work. See to it that such men are nominated and elected as will guarantee the execution of law. It is the duty of every citizen to give some time and attention to the matter of government, and it shows a lack of patriotism, if not selfishness for men to be so wrapped up in personal or business affairs that they will not give some thought to the selection and election of men, who are to manage their local government.

If the enforcement of the prohibition law in your community is not what it ought to be, see that you use your influence to secure officers, who will make it good and then give an honest effort to be true to their official trust.

Animals That Like Tobacco.

They do say that there are other animals besides man that are fond of tobacco. A painter of animals has been writing on the subject. He says:

There are, to begin with, the common brown bears. They are veritable tobacco enthusiasts. Just blow tobacco smoke toward their cage and you will see how they rush toward you and with every sign of delight rub the back of the head against the portion of the grating through which the smoke passes. It is a very amusing spectacle. At one time I treated a sleeping lion to a large pinch of snuff, which I introduced into his nostrils with the aid of a wooden modeling knife. His majesty arose, sneezed with great vehemence and then lay down again to continue his nap apparently rather pleased by the interruption. All kinds of goats, deer, llamas and similar animals are passionately fond of snuff and cigars. I once gained the friendship of a very ugly guanaco by feeding him frequently with snuff. Some soldiers who later on teased the animals, and were rewarded, as usual, by his spewing all over them, remarked in my hearing: "Why, the deuce! How the beast smells of snuff!"

"Large parians are also extremely fond of tobacco smoke. You see I do not smoke for my pleasure alone." The man who stops to think twice may lose the prize to the fellow who thinks once and grabs.

OLD NORTH STATE NEWSY HAPPENINGS

GATHERED FROM EXCHANGES.

And Briefly Stated for Our Busy Readers.

Farmers in Richmond county began planting cotton last week. The barn of Mr. R. P. McLain, who lives about three miles from Hiddenite, Alexander county, was destroyed by fire Saturday night about nine o'clock. Five mules and all the roughness were burned with the building. No insurance. It is not known how the fire originated.

Pittsboro, March 29.—Mrs Ann Perry, widow of the late Gaston Perry, who lives about seven miles northwest of Pittsboro, in the Brown Chapel neighborhood, lost four head of horses and two sheep together with barn and all her feed stuff, by fire yesterday morning about two o'clock. The cause of the fire is unknown and there was no insurance.

Salisbury, March 29.—Notice has been given here that Governor Kitchin will be asked to pardon George Hall, a white man, who was convicted in Rowan court three years ago for complicity in the lynching of three negroes charged with the murder of five members of the family of Isaac Lyster, in Rowan county, July 13, 1907. Hall openly asserted that he was a member of the lynching party which stormed the county jail, carried the Gillispie negroes to the woods and strung them to a limb. He was given 15 years in the state prison.

Raleigh, March 29.—State Insurance Commissioner J. R. Young, today directed the chief of police of Charlotte to arrest J. J. Arlington there as the representative of the fraternal order of Owls, on the charge of having solicited membership for an unlicensed order, the Owls having no license to place their fraternal insurance in North Carolina. Indeed, the commissioner says that license would be refused if application was made, on the ground that the insurance feature is fraudulent. He says the supreme secretary of the order has admitted in official investigations that he conducts the death benefit fund for his personal benefit.

Mount Airy, March 29.—A mute negro named Gunther, who lives near this city, became enraged at his brother, a young negro, on Sunday afternoon, and ordered him to leave his house, the quarrelsome brother refusing to do so until the mute used force. He returned, however, and renewed his efforts to interrupt and worry his mute brother. Finally, the mute becoming greatly wrought-up over the bad conduct of his brother, threw a stone at him, crushing his skull. The injured man lived until this morning, when he died. The officers were promptly notified and arrested Gunther, who, it seems, was trying to make his escape.

Wilmington, March 29.—The board of directors of the East Carolina Truck and Fruit Growers' association held a meeting in this city yesterday with President William H. Springer presiding, in response to a call issued some days ago for the purpose of taking such action as was decided necessary towards winding up the affairs of the association, it appearing that dissolution was inevitable, in view of the failure of the bill in the general assembly, placing the important trucking industry under the wing of the state agricultural department, and in the absence of any further source of revenue. The situation was gone over quite thoroughly by the board of directors and it was decided that the association should not be dissolved, and plans were devised by which it is hoped to raise sufficient funds to render the same service during the rapidly approaching strawberry season as in the past. It is hoped at least to maintain an agent at South Rocky Mount.

SKETCHES OF PITT COUNTY.

A Valuable Work Published in Book Form.

A very interesting book by the above name has just been published by Mr. Henry T. King, of Greenville. It embraces the history of Pitt county from 1704 to 1910, showing its early settlement and progress, with sketches of prominent citizens, past and present. The book is written in an entertaining style and has many good illustrations. Mr. King has done his people a great service in compiling this history of the county and publishing it so it can be preserved to future generations. He has a limited number of copies for sale and every true lover of his county should have one.

Those Statements Again.

Nearly every mail is bringing some responses to the statements recently sent out to all Reflector subscribers owing $1 or more, but they are not coming in fast as they should. Attention is again called to it in the hope of getting all subscribers to make a prompt remittance and not wait for another statement to be sent. There are some whose names will have to be dropped after May 1st, unless they pay before that time, and the accounts against those dropped will be put out for collection. We hope none will make it necessary for this to be done. Surely every subscriber ought to pay promptly for his paper.

New Telephone Directory.

What Worry Does.

Dr. Snow, of London, the distinguished opponent of vivisection, now in New York, says that worry is the most frequent cause of cancer. In time past this affliction, which is becoming increasingly prevalent, has been attributed to the excessive consumption of meat, to fish and even to eggs. If worry predisposes humanity to such a source as this, in addition to all the other ills for which it is held responsible, it is plain that the earth has few evils so great or so general.

Where contagion and heredity slay their thousands, worry kills its hundreds of thousands. Worry leads straight to insanity. It prepares the way for consumption and kidney trouble. It shatters the nervous system and thus is the forerunner of a hundred complaints which lower vitality produce suffering, and result in untimely death. If mankind could have had the full benefit of the wonderful discoveries of the past century of more, with none of the drawbacks of increasing worry, the average of life would be much greater than it is.—New York World.

THE STRAWBERRY.

The North Carolina Crop Comes On Just at The Right Time.

During the past few days we have had several cold waves and more or less frost but the cold snap of early in the month nipped such strawberry blooms as had developed and therefore brought vegetation and blooming to a standstill. As a result, the recent cold waves with their accompanying frosts, though they were slight, practically had nothing to kill and have, therefore, worked little or no harm to the strawberry growers. Fortunately the vines are almost uniformly well strawed and are more effectually protected against such possible damage. As a matter of fact we are rather persuaded to believe that the cold waves that we have had during the past few days are going to prove a blessing to the strawberry and vegetable industry, in that we believe such seasons will have a tendency to kill out the insects and possibly drive away the much dreaded strawberry weevil. The strawberry weevil has come to be as great a pest to the fruit and vegetable industry as the cotton boll weevil is to the cotton farmers. If, therefore, the cold weather should succeed in eradicating this pest then it will have been a blessing in disguise.

One of the greatest blessings and peculiar advantages to the strawberry industry of this territory is the fact that our berries mature at about that season of the year when the warm spring like weather gives us the first touch of summer and sharpens the appetites for this delicious fruit. Strawberries in January and February or a mid the snowstorms and freezes of March are but of little more than a "fad" and people usually eat them during such seasons more to say that they were eating strawberries than for the good they were getting out of them. But with the North Carolina crop it is different. We come along at about the right season and psychological moment and capture both the appetite and nature when practically everybody wants something of the kind and are willing to pay the price. But for these conditions the voluminous crop shipped out of this territory would never find a market.—Carolina Fruit and Truckers' Journal.

The Kinston man who went to bed with $150 in money under his head, to be aroused later by his house being on fire and the building and money all lost, is another warning that banks are the proper places to keep money for safety. Not only is the money safe in the bank, but interest is paid on time deposits.

The New Bern Sun says "all the candidates now wear a smile." Then the smile in New Bern must be very large, judging from the number of candidates that include a big part of the population.

And the great state of New York, with millions to spend for other things, did not carry a cent of insurance on its magnificent capitol. Maybe it will not miss the $7,000,000 damage done by the fire.

If Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, does not mend his way, he will spend all the money he won in the fight with Jeffries paying himself out of jail.

To bring on the senatorial campaign this early, with the time of election nearly two years away, is going to cost the candidates some money.

Truckers' Journal reports that the plantings of field lettuce this season have been increased so the acreage is greater at this time than possibly ever before in the history of the industry. "This," says the authority quoted, "will come somewhat as a surprise to many people but such nevertheless is a fact. Bed lettuce acreage is about up to the normal of last year, but the field lettuce growers seem to have taken fresh courage from last year's prices and crop and without letting the 'right hand know what the left hand was doing,' continued to increase their plantings until the acreage around here is something immense. This crop will not begin to move to any appreciable extent before April and May, the season having much to do with its maturity." It is further stated that the Wrightsboro Truck Growers' Association shipped out their first carload last week, the average price of which was around $1.50 per basket. Shipments North are now made daily in carload and less than carloads and the latest quotations are all the way from $1.50 to $1.10. The Florida and South Carolina lettuce crops, however, are at the height of their movement and this makes competition with North Carolina stock very keen. The lettuce crop distributes annually several hundred thousand dollars among the growers immediately around Wilmington.—Charlotte Chronicle.

American Interest in Mexico.

The interests of American citizens in the other countries are very small compared to those in Mexico. For half a century Americans have been investing in Mexico, until at the present time there is a billion dollars of American money in railroads, mines, forests, and ranches south of the Rio Grande. American capital has been encouraged by President Diaz, and the lives of American citizens have been protected by the strong government he has maintained. Liberal concessions have been granted, but, while they have encouraged Americans to locate and invest in Mexico, they have also created a condition which will tend to increase our problem when Diaz is no more. The liberal policy toward Americans has created a barrier to them by the classes which have been kept down and ruled by the iron hand of the dictator-President. They only await the time when they will have the opportunity to destroy the government which Diaz has built up, so also the Americans would be favored.

Revolutionists, even if this feeling against Americans did not exist, are no respectors of the property rights of foreigners. The money and other property owned by Americans will be as useful to them as if belonging to the government. Revolutionists take no thought of the day of reckoning; success by any means is their aim—"Uncle Sam on Police Duty."

Mrs. Shepherd Was in Bad Shape When She Could Not Stand on Her Feet.

Durham, N. C.—"I am a farmer's wife," writes Mrs. J. M. Shepherd, of this city, "and have a heap to do."
"Four months ago I could not stand on my feet, to do anything much, but at this time I do the most of my work. I took Cardui and it did me more good than all the doctors."

"You don't know half how I thank you for the Cardui Home Treatment. I wish that all women who suffer from womanly trouble would treat themselves as I have. Ladies can easily treat themselves at home, with Cardui, the woman's tonic. It is easy to take, and so gentle in its action, that it cannot do anything but good."

Being composed exclusively of vegetable ingredients, Cardui cannot lay up trouble in your system, as mineral drugs often do. Its ingredients having no harsh, medicinal effects, and being non-poisonous and perfectly harmless, Cardui is absolutely safe for young and old.

Ask your druggist. He will tell you to try Cardui.

Don't Overdo.

This is the time of year when the housewife insists on doing a week's work in one day, without counting the cost to herself, because there is so much to do. A woman is worth more than the work and she will find that she is held at just the valuation she puts upon herself. Let the work spread out for several days rather than break down under the burden. Let the children help, but do not overtax their young strength. Get all the help from the gude man that he will allow, and see that he allows a good deal; if he cannot do enough, let him set the hired man to work, or see that you have a woman who is willing to do her share. A woman cannot afford to wreck her nervous system by overdoing, or doing useless things.—Ex.

LAND SALE

By virtue of a decree of the Superior court of Pitt county made in Special Proceeding No. 1588, entitled Hugh Sheppard and others, against Mrs. D. J. Whichard and others, the undersigned commissioners will sell before the court house door in Greenville on Thursday, April the 20th, at 12 o'clock noon, the following described real estate:

That property situate in the town of Greenville lying on both sides of Sutton lane; one lot known as the home place of the late Hugh A. Sutton and wife, adjoining the lands of Mc. G. Ernul and others, and one other lot known as the small house and lot in front of the above described property and running through to Evans street, adjoining the lots of W. H. Ragsdale and others; both lots being conveyed in a deed from J. J. Perkins to Elizabeth P. Sutton, which deed appears of record in the office of the register of deeds of Pitt county in Book Q-Q page 39; said two lots containing about one acre.

Said property will be sold first in several building lots and afterwards offered as a whole. Plots of the property can be seen by application to either of the commissioners.

Don't Carry Water
You need never carry another pail of water or even go out of the house on stormy days. Put running water in your home—in the kitchen—bathroom—toilet—and have an adequate supply in the barn for watering stock—washing carriages, harness—for the lawn, garden—or for protection against fire—besides. A makes this possible. It eliminates the unsightly elevated water tank that freezes in winter—or dries out in summer. The compressed air in a Leader's Shock and does all the work. In your cellar or buried in the ground it cannot freeze, and it solves the water problem forever. A complete system costs $40.00 upwards and you can install it yourself, if you like.

Let us show you how a Leader Water System in your home will save you money—in doctor's bills, and add to your own comfort and satisfaction at the same time.

A Leader Water System suited to the needs of your home will never get out of order or need repairs. A few minutes attention each day is all that the apparatus requires.

A bank draft is cheaper than a post office or an express order, and there is less red tape to it.

A bank account not only gives you a safe place to keep your money, but it is also a great convenience. Besides every check you draw is a legal receipt for the debt you pay.
