DIXIE BRIDE IN N. Y. TO "MEET MASSENBURGS"

FOUND IN PENN. R. R. STATION.

Says Her Husband Told Her If They Were Not at "Depot" Anybody Could Direct Her.

Much mystery surrounds the case of a youthful and very pretty bride from Dixie Land who was last night sent to the Almshouse on Blackwell's Island, pending an investigation by the State Board of Charities.

The youthful woman said her name was Laina Massenburg, that she was nineteen years old, a native of Kittrell, N. C., a small village of Vance county, and that she had been married in the town of her birth to the young man whose name she now bears.

The marriage, according to the girl, took place ten days ago. Then on Friday last—it may be noted that the day was not April 1—her husband told her to go to New York, and that if his relatives did not meet her at the "depot" to inquire for them and any one would direct her to their house. He himself was so busy that he could not accompany her, but he wanted her to meet his folks, and he would join her very soon.

Early Sunday morning a demure figure attired in a neat traveling dress and wearing a picture hat alighted from a train in the Pennsylvania Terminal and sat down on a bench to await the arrival of the Messenburgs. None came. The hours went by and the shades of evening fell.

The weary watcher became very hungry and finally found courage to ask a negro porter if he knew where the Massenburgs lived. The darkey showed his white teeth in a broad grin, and explained how big New York is, and how little any one knew of any one else.

The distraught girl broke down. The porter invoked the assistance of Mrs. Hess of the Travelers' Aid Society, who brought the waif to the Municipal Lodging House at No. 438, East Twenty First street. There she told Superintendent Yorke and Mrs. Hess her story.

For some reason of her own the girl would not give but scant information about her husband. She would not say what his occupation is, but admitted that she had known him for "some time." Asked if she had a marriage certificate she said not, but that her husband did.

Superintendent Yorke communicated with the State Board of Charities, and was ordered to send the girl to the almshouse and that she might be kept there pending the investigation which the board has instituted.

Kittrell is a village of only 80 inhabitants. The girl reached town with only $.75 in her purse.—New York World.

Good For Tar Heels to Know.

Mr. Joseph E. Pogue, secretary of the North Carolina State Fair, is sending out a post card announcing the dates of the next state fair, October 16th to 20th, inclusive, and makes the interesting statement that the fair has grown 200 per cent in the last three years. But this is not the only thing interesting that he notes on the post card. He gives a compilation, which should be observed and proudly viewed by every Tar Heel, making it a point to bear the data in mind. This compilation, covering 1910, is as follows:

North Carolina has a population of 2,206,287.

North Carolina has 11,216 teachers in her public schools.

North Carolina's percentage of enrolled school population is 72 per cent.

North Carolina raised 57,000,000 bushels of corn.

North Carolina raised 129,600,000 pounds of tobacco.

North Carolina raised 718,389 bales of cotton.

North Carolina raised 262,000 tons of hay.

North Carolina raised 7,433,000 bushels of wheat.

North Carolina raised 3,458,000 bushels of oats.

North Carolina assessed 366,979 horses and mules.

North Carolina assessed 683,950 cattle.

North Carolina assessed 1,190,560 hogs.

North Carolina banks have $73,465,058.88 in deposits.—Wilmington Dispatch.

NORTH CAROLINA ITEMS.

News Happenings Throughout The State.

The annual meeting of the Master Builders Exchange was held in the assembly room of the Selwyn Hotel this morning. The North Carolina branch of this organization has 80 members and among its members are the most prominent contractors and supply men in the state.—Charlotte Chronicle.

While proceeding toward Marshall Sunday night about seven thirty with Nathan and Miller Gunter, two brothers under arrest charged with retailing, Deputy Sheriff C. H. Briggs and Guard Ayers were waylaid by two brothers of the prisoners, Riley and Elisha Gunter, and both of the officers were seriously injured while the prisoners and the two assailants made their escape.—Asheville Citizen.

Raleigh, April 4.—It was learned here tonight that the name of Frank Carter, of Asheville, is being urged before Governor Kitchin for judge of the fifteenth district to succeed the late Judge J. S. Adams. Carter, who is one of the ablest lawyers of Asheville, is now a candidate before the Democratic primaries to be held April 11 for police justice. Other names will undoubtedly be presented. Ex-Judge J. D. Murphy is said to be a receptive candidate.

That the peach crop in North Carolina is not nearly so badly damaged as was at first feared following the recent cold and severe frosts is the information coming in to State Horticulturist W. M. Mutt, at the State Department of Agriculture. He says that letters from the owners of the big commercial orchards around Southern Pines are to the effect that they still have in that section from half to three-quarters of a crop, with the expectation, on this basis, that the quality of the fruit will be exceptionally good, owing to the thinning of the burden for the trees.

Deed for the historic Alexander lands in Hopewell township, near Cornelius, was today recorded, and the colored reformatory for the state is assured. The land was purchased some time ago from Mr. W. D. Book, the deal being consummated by the real estate firm of W. T. Wilkinson & Company. The Reformatory Association, which owes to a large extent its formation to the energetic efforts of Business Manager Watson, agrees to pay $10,260 for the property. There is now $3,000 on hand and this fund will be used in remodeling the present buildings on the land for the accommodation of incorrigibles who are forwarded from various courts. The lands referred to were the property of Dr. J. B. Alexander.—Charlotte News.

There is a movement on foot which, however, has not yet reached that stage that insures success, to have a farmers' co-operative oil mill at Warrenton. The plan is to let each farmer, who is a guano buyer and cotton raiser, and other farmers and business men who desire to co-operate, take stock.—Durham Sun.

The informal social meeting of Carolina Club for this month will not be held until Friday night, 21st. A large attendance is expected then and there will be a good program of music and recitations.

VISITORS WILL BE SEARCHED.

Maniac Makes Attempt at Assassination.

By Cable to The Reflector.

Rome, April 5.—After today every visitor entering the Vatican will be searched for concealed weapons. The authorities decided upon this course as a result of the outbreak of a supposed maniac, Pietro Pioncanti, in St. Petersburg yesterday, when he fired several shots at the priests conducting service. Pioncanti was again examined by police today. He admitted attempting assassination and said he had also attempted to kill the papal secretary, Merry Delval, and Cardinal Rampollo. He said he hoped his action would encourage other anti-clericals.

CROKER SCORES NEW YORK.

Says it is Too Puritanical and Lacks Freedom.

By Wire to The Reflector.
New York, April 5.—With a grand jury making investigation to find out what is the matter with New York because of the wave of crime, Richard Croker, on point of sailing for Ireland, said today that New York was too puritanical, and what is needed was more freedom. He said this was the reason so many Americans want to go to other side to get freedom denied them on this side. He said he believed in local option on racing.

HARRISON CARRIES CHICAGO

Democrats Elect Majority of City Officers.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Chicago, April 5.—Carter Harrison's plurality over C. E. Meriam, Republican candidate, is 17,132. He will be inaugurated Monday for a four year term. The big plurality was a surprise to politicians who generally regarded the race as a close one. Democrats elected a majority of board of aldermen and other city officers.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The Shortest Ever Sent at Opening of Congress.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Washington, April 5.—President Taft sent his message to congress today. He treats only reciprocity and urges the immediate adoption of the agreement for the benefit of both nations. The message contained only 578 words, the shortest ever sent by any president at the opening of congress.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Elkhart, Ind., April 5.—Engineer Page was probably fatally injured and several others were hurt when the Lake Shore fast mail, known as the Chicago paper train, crashed head on into a west bound freight today while running a mile a minute. It is not known yet whether any passengers were injured.

Chileans to Build Warships.

Washington, April 5.—The Chilean legation today received bids from American ship builders for the construction in this country of two dreadnaughts, 2100 ton battleships of the first class. The contracts will be awarded in a short time.

London Editor Dead.

By Cable to The Reflector.
London, April 5.—Charles Moberly Bell, managing director of the London Times, died today.

The Shade Tree Doctor.

Mr. R. B. Ross is here today. He comes from Wyoming, Ohio, and is engaged in the scientific doctoring of trees. His profession is that of a practical and scientific forester and conservationist. This is a profession that is young yet. It is practically a new thing in the South, although it has been going on for some time in the North and West, where the people have learned to appreciate trees. They are so beautiful and plentiful in this city that they are seldom appreciated for what they are really worth.—High Point Enterprise.

Unfortunately a good many doctors refuse to let well enough alone.

BARACAS ARE DOING A GREAT AND GOOD WORK

METHODIST CLASS OFFICERS.

The Blues Delightfully Entertain The Reds.

The Methodist Baraca class with a large attendance last Sunday morning, elected the following officers for the ensuing term of six months:

President—H. E. Austin.
Vice-president—D. M. Clark.
Secretary—Adrian Brown.
Assistant Secretary—K. W. Cobb.
Treasurer—A. C. Holloman.
Teacher—Rev. J. H. Shore.
Assistant Teacher—Wiley Brown.
Press Reporter—J. B. James.

Following close on the election of officers, the Blue team on Monday night entertained the Reds at an excellent banquet held in the Sunday school room of the church.

While waiting for the guests to all arrive Mr. A. B. Ellington rendered some very fine selections on his large phonograph, which were greatly enjoyed by every one. This was followed by the meeting coming to order with Mr. G. E. Harris in the chair, presiding as captain of the Blues. Besides some excellent and complimentary, as well as amusing, side talks by Mr. Harris, Mr. J. B. James, ex-president of the class, spoke very appropriately on the "Importance of attending to the little things in life," and gave several apt illustrations that forcibly impressed his point upon the audience. Mr. James has made the class an excellent president, and although we have to release him from these obligations, it makes us glad to know that his good work will still go on.

After some remarks by Mr. Harris that made every one feel good, Mr. Austin, the successor of Mr. James, was called upon for a speech on "Class Organization." To this Mr. Austin responded, in his usual delightful way, creating much amusement by his jokes, and finally closing with a tribute to the high standard of success that had been obtained by the class, and pleading that every one co-operate with him in making its regular attendance still larger, and in doing a greater good than it has ever done. Prof. Austin is just the man the class needs, and by selecting such a man as president the class is doing itself much credit.

Mr. D. M. Clark, the newly elected vice president, was next called on and delivered an earnest, thoughtful address on "The History and Purposes of the Baraca Organization." Mr. Clark's deep interest in the moral, as well as the material interest of the community, is well known and that his speech touched responsive chord in the hearts of his hearers, was shown by the enthusiastic applause it received.

After the speech-making was over, delightful refreshments were served, while Mr. Ellington's phonograph reproduced the voices of a fine quartette, very similar to some of those heard in the choirs of our churches. The banquet was a great success and afforded the participants much pleasure. The Red team will have to do great things next month to keep up with the pace the Blues have set.

Those skeptics who do not believe the church and its strongest arm—the Baraca—is doing a great work, should come out to some of these meetings and be convinced that the Baraca organization is indeed a blessing, and well deserves that name.

Venters Cross Roads Items.

Venters Cross Roads, N. C., April 5.—Mr. Marshall Hardee and Miss Bertha Stokes were in our town Sunday.

There was quite a large crowd at the baptism near Mrs. Nancy Hardee's Sunday.

Mr. Willie Wilson taken a trip up near Greenville Sunday. We think those trips means something besides fun.

Quite a large number of our boys went to Ayden Saturday.

Hope Fire Company, Attention! You are hereby commanded by the chief of the fire department to meet at 8 o'clock. Business of importance. April 5th.

J. C. TYSON, Foreman.

PERSONAL MENTION.

The People Who Come and Go on Our Trains.

Mr. J. W. Ferrell, of Washington, was here today.

Miss Susie Barnhill went to Stantonburg today.

Ex-Gov. T. J. Jarvis went to Kinston Tuesday evening.

Maj. and Mrs. H. Harding and Misses Bessie and Eliza Harding went to Washington Tuesday evening to attend the funeral of Mrs. Martha Tripp, a sister of Maj. Harding.

A Rare Treat at The Amuzu Theatre.

A large and appreciative audience greeted The Lewis Comedy and Dramatic Playlet Company last night. To merely say that they are good, would be hardly doing them justice. Mrs. Lewis is an accomplished actress and musician, possessed of a splendid voice, plus the knowledge of using same, as also a very magnetic stage presence. As for Mr. Lewis, he seems to be a veteran in the profession, and last, but by no means the least, sweet and angelic six-year-old little Arletta. She is a wonder, the pet of the theatre-going public, as also her little brother, "Billy." These artists, we are informed, will remain with us the remainder of this week, changing their acts "every night." The picture programs are extraordinarily fine this week. Dr. Schaffer, our show man, is to be congratulated upon his clever management in giving us a genuine high class show at the exceedingly small sum of 15 cents.

Cost of Bad Roads.

Wagon road in the United States, 2,151,570 miles; improved (faced with gravel or something better), 176,429 miles; percentage of improved roads 8.2.

Each year 265,000,000 tons of farm and forest products are hauled to market or to railway stations over American roads. This hauling costs $432,000,000, or 23 per cent, a mile. It costs about 10 cents a ton per mile to haul freight over an improved road. Thus, if all our roads were improved, it would mean a saving of $200,000,000 a year in hauling alone.

It will cost fully $3,000,000,000 to put all the mud roads in America in fair shape—to make them merely good gravel roads. Three billion dollars in 15 years would settle the bill.

This country of ours is the richest in the world, yet the poorest, most tax-burdened country in Europe can boast better roads than we. Odd, isn't it?—Cincinnati Post.

Sees It Coming.

California, Kansas, Oregon and Nevada have adopted woman suffrage within the past few months. They have the fun right of suffrage. The time will come when woman suffrage will prevail in practically all the states in the union if the women do not abstain the right so as to make it distasteful.—Washington (N. C.) Progress.

Building and Loan.

At the monthly meeting of the directors of the Home Building and Loan Association, held Tuesday afternoon, the report of the secretary showed that up to March 31st the association had made loans amounting to more than $80,000. The association will be five years old the first of May, and the work it has done for Greenville in these years speaks for itself.

Jurors For May Court.

The board of county commissioners have drawn the following jurors for the May term of Superior court: H. H. Stanley, Charles McLawhorn, J. T. Little, J. B. Hardee, J. C. Galloway, H. J. Williams, A. J. Hardee, H. S. Lyon, S. A. Jenkins, J. H. Dixon, M. O. Gardner, J. E. Cash, F. E. Randolph, D. F. Thomas, James Moore, I. S. Fleming, G. E. Moore, Hardy E. Evans.

Shirt Waist Sale.

The ladies of the Methodist church will have a shirt waist sale on Monday, 10th, in the building next door to the county offices. Ladies who are making waists for this sale are requested to send them to Mrs. F. G. James as soon as possible.

The Coronation Bible.

When a King is formally crowned, it is probable that, in connection with the ceremonies attending the coronation, there will be used an old manuscript copy of a part of the Bible in Latin, now preserved in the Cottonian library. This volume has been employed at the coronations of British sovereigns for a period going back 30 years before the "Stone of Destiny" was brought from Scone to Westminster by Edward I, in other words, this use of the Bible in question dates back to the year 1000.

It is a quarto of 217 leaves, containing the four gospels, and seems, from the style of the writing and the illuminations, which are extremely beautiful, to have been made about the end of the ninth century.

It narrowly escaped destruction in the fire at Ashburnham house in 1731, of which event it bears evidence in its crumpled leaves and signed margins. It is said that the son of Edward the Elder, Athelstan the Glorious, who was King of the West Saxons from 925 to 940, owned this Bible and gave it to the Church of Dover.—From the Continent.

Mule's Strange Death.

A mule, falling dead, on lower Middle street caused a little excitement down there yesterday morning. From what could be learned the animal belonged to someone in James City. It had been taken ill Sunday and finding no relief, the owner turned it loose and it wandered over to the city. When first seen yesterday morning, the mule was walking around the vacant lot, not acting strangely at all. When all at once it reared up on its hind legs and fell dead without another struggle. It was rather a good looking beast, so its death was somewhat a mystery.—New Bern Journal.

Way to Keep Money at Home.

Mr. J. B. Duke and associates have obtained an interest in a High Point concern manufacturing electric cars, and the inference is that this company, will supply the needs of the interurban railway in which Mr. Duke is the prime mover. That is the way to keep money at home, and that is the way to make the south prosperous.—Columbia, (S. C.) Recorder.

Samuel Birch, of Bechtow, Wis., had a most narrow escape from losing his leg, as no doctor could heal the frightful sore that developed, but at last Buckler's "African Salve" cured it completely. Open-Air Schools.

The old Greek custom of teaching children in the open air and of letting them imbibe sunshine along with knowledge is being revived in the United States.

Since January 1, 1907, six hundred open-air schools have been established in this country.

According to an announcement made in a recent bulletin issued by the National Association for the study and prevention of tuberculosis.

The original purpose of such schools was the care of children who have weak lungs or who are afflicted with tuberculosis.

In this particular field substantial good has been accomplished. It is not improbable, however, that eventually the open-air school will be employed for many other classes of weakly children or even for robust children.

Dr. H. Gulick is quoted in the current issue of the Literary Digest as saying:

"Ten or more years ago, my attention was called to the astonishing and unfortunate condition of the throats and tonsils of school children and the number of children who had adenoids. This led through a series of investigations to a general study of the air which we breathe in buildings. This air we all know is somehow or other, is not as good for us, even under the best conditions of ventilation, as the open air. For example, children in open-air schools systematically show greater increases in the number of red corpuscles during the school term than during vacation."

It is thus evident that the open-air school is by no means a fad, or even an experiment, but that it is justified by thorough-going scientific records. Numbers of children have been cured of diseases of the throat, many have been saved from tuberculosis, and practically all those taught in the open air have developed a higher degree of mental alertness.

The National Association for the study and prevention of tuberculosis estimates that there should be one open-air school for every twenty-five thousand of the population, particularly in cities.

Her Name Not Taken Off.

Forty-seven years ago, on April 13, 1864, Abraham Lincoln paused in the cares of civil war to pen a personal letter to the Postmaster-General, asking that official to employ Miss Susan Dugger, a belle of Carlisle, Ill. who was the sole support of her brother, a soldier crippled at Shiloh. Miss Dugger got a position and preserved the letter carefully.

Secretary MacVeagh after reading the same letter, the paper of which has turned yellow with age, and the ink dim, ordered that Miss Dugger's name be not dropped from the treasury's list of employees though she has now been ill more than a year. When an employee has been absent without pay that length of time it is customary to strike the name from the rolls. She is now seventy years old.

Miss Dugger was long ago transferred from the post office to the treasury and became an expert in detecting counterfeit money.—N. Y. World.

Victor Herbert, the Composer.

Mr. Herbert has had a varied and an interesting career. He comes of a distinctly artistic ancestry, being the grandson of Samuel Lover, of Dublin, Ireland, a man who won a reputation in three arts. Moreover, at the birth a Gypsy fortune teller had startling things to say of his future fame as a composer, and he would indeed be a man of little spirit who refused to live up to such a romantic circumstance. At the age of seven the young Herbert was taken to Germany, where he shortly afterwards developed with phenomenal rapidity as a cellist, subsequently making a successful concert tour of Europe.

Being offered a position in the Royal Court Orchestra at Stuttgart, Herbert took up his residence there, and pursued his studies in competition with Max Seifritz. During this period he composed his well-known cello concerto, and, in rapid succession, many other works of serious caliber. In 1886 Mr. Herbert and his wife, who was the prima-donna at the Royal theatre, accepted engagement at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York.

Among the other posts held by Mr. Herbert was that of assistant conductor to Anton Seidl and afterwards to Theodore Thomas, conductor of the 22d Regiment Band, succeeding Patrick Gilmore and conductor of the Pittsburgh Orchestra.

It was William MacDonald, of the Bostonians, who first turned the composer's attention to light opera, in which field he was made so phenomenal a record. Among his twenty or more successful light operas are "The Serenade," "The Wizard of the Nile," "The Fortune Teller," "The Ameer," "It Happened in Nordland," "Babes in Toyland," "Mlle. Modiste," and "The Red Mill." A symphonic poem, "Hero and Leander" is one of his more serious compositions, which number choruses, cantatas, orchestral pieces and suits, and other works—American Opera on American Themes in the Review of Reviews.

Saved His Mother's Life.

"Four doctors had given me up," writes Mrs. Laura Gaines, of Avoca, La., "and my children and all my friends were looking for me to die, when my son insisted that I use Electric Bitters. I did so, and they have done me a world of good. I will always praise them." Electric Bitters is a priceless blessing to women troubled with fainting and dizzy spells, backache, headache, weakness, debility, constipation or kidney disorders. Use them and gain new health strength and vigor. They're guaranteed to satisfy or money refunded. Only 50 cents at all druggists.

BIRD AND MOUSE WIN CASE.

Predict Good Fortune For Judge And Master Goes Free.

The talk of the average parrakeet always has appealed to Magistrate House. For years he has welcomed it as a relief from the arguments of countless lawyerettes who appear before him in squadron formation several times a day. He has been known to stop an absolutely strange parrakeet on the street just to hear its views on current topics. They do say that Magistrate House has a speaking acquaintance with more parrakeets than any other magistrate. But, of course, this is only hearsay and wouldn't be admitted as evidence in any court.

Welcome, interest, and satisfaction were written in every fold of the magistrate's countenance when Police man Chester A. Petterson brought George Feldman, of 304 Watkins street, with one parrakeet and one mouse, into the Jefferson Market court yesterday. Feldman was represented as having fallen so far below the place of human probity as to sell-fortunes in the street without a license. Magistrate House couldn't see the prisoner on account of the parrakeet, which nestled on his arm, and he asked what the bird had to do with it. It was plain from his tone that no matter what happened to the prisoner the bird would escape.

"How do you tell fortunes with birds?" he asked. Feldman proceeded to exemplify. He spread out a tray filled with little pink and white envelopes, and suggested that the parrakeet tell the magistrate's fortune. The bird hopped up with its beak a white envelope and offered it to the magistrate. The court opened it and found a message of hope, career, and optimism, which made him smile like a section of watermelon.

"I knew those birds were all right," he remarked. Then a small black mouse was produced from Feldman's pocket and asked to verify the bird's prediction. The mouse ran about the tray and picked up a pink envelope, which was handed to Magistrate House. This also contained an optimistic report. "That's enough," said the jurist. "You are discharged. Only get a license so you won't have any more trouble."—New York Herald

Midnight in The Ozarks.

And yet sleepless Hiram Scanton, of Clay City, Ill., coughed and coughed. He was in the mountains on the advice of five doctors, who said he had consumption, but found no help in the climate, and started home, hearing of Dr. King's New Discovery, he began to use it. "I believe it saved my life," he writes, "for it made a new man of me, so that I can now do good work again." For all lung diseases, coughs, colds, the grippe, asthma, croup, whoopingcough, hay fever, hemorrhages, hoarseness or quinsy, its the best known remedy. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

No "Cries" in Berlin.

There are no Berlin "cries." News papers are sold almost in silence by spectated men who look like professors. Handbills—most of them inviting to cafes of the cheaper kind—are offered at street corners by old gentlemen who might easily pose for deacons of the church. No piano organs play in the central streets; no hucksters bawl their wares. The only sound in the city is the clatter of the horses' hoofs on the clean asphalt and, of course, the gridding of electric trams on their endless journey round the city. But most everywhere, too, one hears the noise of hammer and chisel where workmen are raising new palaces.—Progress Magazine.

The Achievements of Diaz.

The American people know but little of what is actually taking place in the republic to the southward. They have, however, learned, during the past few years, to distrust or, at least, to discount both the rosy reports of the Mexican government as to social and economic conditions and the gruesome tales of the opponents of the Diaz regime concerning "barbarons" Mexico. From time to time this magazine has called attention to the solid, practical, economic and industrial achievements of President Diaz in modernizing his country. We have also noted the abuses that have grown up in the government consequent upon the advancing age of Diaz, and the inability of his associates to administer national affairs with his vigor and skill. A wise and benevolent despotism may be one of the best of human governments. The fatal defect is that the qualities of the benevolent despot cannot be transmitted to his successor. With the end of the despotism always comes trouble. If Diaz has anywhere shown a want of wisdom during his long "reign," it has been in his failure to prepare for a succession and to make his people ready to accept it when inevitable.—American Review of Reviews.

Those "Hog Potatoes".

The other day The Record had something to say about a new hog food discovered down about Wilmington and now comes the Charlotte Chronicle with this—"The papers say this about the discovery, at Wrightsville, by Captain G. Westbrook, of a new article of food for hogs. He took a sample he had dug up to the agricultural editor of The Wilmington Star and as neither knew what it was, they gave it the name of 'hog potato'. The youth who edits The Maxton Scottish Chief, after reading about it, threw his paper down in disgust. He was farmer enough to see at once that the alleged hog potato was nothing but a plain, ordinary, old-fashioned artichoke." The "youth" of the Maxton paper must be mistaken. If it is the artichoke grown in this section it would have long ago killed the hogs with tummy ache. Besides, a hog has more sense than a man about some things. Take a lot of hogs around a still house and let them get drunk on the swill that sometimes contains liquor and never can you get a hog to taste it again. If this new food makes a hog sick or hurts him in any way he won't eat more of it. The Maxton editor must be mistaken.—Greensboro Record.

Never Out of Work.

The busiest little things ever made are Dr. King's New Life Pills. Every pill is a sugar coated globule of health, that changes weakness into strength, languor into energy, brain fog into mental power; curing constipation, headache, chills, dyspepsia, malaria. Only 25 cents at all druggists.

Foreign Papers in China.

Foreign newspapers and printing offices that cater to foreign trade might all be interested in American-made type, but those which publish and print for the native could have no interest at present, as Chinese character type is used exclusively for this purpose and only founders who are in a position to supply full sets of such characters or matrices can hope to take any part in that portion of the trade. In former years one of the local foreign firms was equipped for this work, but at present Japan gets the bulk of the business. Chinese and Japanese employ the same characters, and type foundries in Japan can turn out fonts for China when manufacturing for native use. They also have the advantage of being neighbors and in intimate touch with the Chinese and their language, thus realizing just what is necessary to constitute a full set of characters. Chinese, like other languages, requires, in ordinary printing, more of one character and less of others, and I am told that when a font is supplied by the Japanese it is made up with peculiar regard to the vagaries of the language.—Consular Reports.

IT IS CURABLE.

NEWSPAPER PRESS FOR SALE.

Having placed an order for a new fast newspaper and book press, to be installed the middle of April, we have a newspaper press that will be sold at a bargain for delivery May 1st.

It is a Monona Leverless Press, large enough to print four 6-column pages, or two 9-column pages and has steam fixtures so that it can be run either by hand or power. Been in use six years.

It is a splendid press for a weekly paper and is in good condition to do many years good service. We used a press from the same factory for 17 years before installing this one, printing a daily paper with small circulation about 10 years of that time. Its speed, 800 an hour, is too slow for a daily paper with the present circulation of The Reflector, and for that reason we are having to displace it with a faster press.

Any one interested and wanting a good press for a weekly newspaper, can see this press at work every day in the Reflector building, before our new press is installed. Any one who cannot come to see it at work and examine it, can get particulars by addressing

The Reflector Company,
 Greenville, N. C.

MARSHALL A HUDSON

TO SPEAK IN AYDEN

PITT CO. LEADS ALL SECTIONS.

A Bunch of Interesting Items from The Town South of Us.

Ayden, N. C., April 5.—Mr. J. J. Stokes' faithful dray horse violated the speed limit Saturday, by running away, knocking a few posts from the front shelter of Tripp, Hart & Co.

Prof. E. C. Books will speak here Thursday night in the Methodist church. There is a treat in store for all who hear him. His equal is hard to find and his superior as a statesman and educator is yet to show up.

Mr. Joe J. Lawrence tells us he heard a Contentnea farmer and stock raiser say that he had corn that would produce an ear of corn for each blade of fodder. This is prolific some.

Mr. Sam Jones has just returned from a visit to the fertile lands of Virginia, and seemed well pleased with the hospitality accorded him, but said there was nothing to compare with the opportunities that Pitt county afforded in farming lands.

Mr. J. M. C. Nelson returned last week from a prospecting trip to Jacksonville and other points in Florida, and told us that land had recently advanced from 40 to 60 per cent. in the community he visited.

Robt. Dawson, a worthy colored man, is sick with pneumonia and his wife and several children have just recovered from the same malady.

Mrs. F. T. Carr and daughter, of Willow Green, spent Saturday in Ghent, visiting Mrs. C. A. Blount.

Mr. Joe Williams, of Greenville, spent Sunday here.

We have a letter from relatives down in Florida, stating that the storms this winter have badly damaged the young peach and fig orchards. They are now feasting on garden peas, Irish potatoes, beans and other vegetables, also says she enjoys the Ayden column in The Reflector as she once lived in our town, and likes to hear from the home folks.

Mr. J. B. Patrick has moved his part of the stock of merchandise of L. H. Worthington & Co. to the brick store of Henry Stokes on Lee street. Sheheen, the Assyrian, has moved back in the original hive of Assyrians, on West avenue.

Mr. Exum Dail, has been appointed delegate to represent the Odd Fellows lodge here at the Grand Lodge to be held next May in Winston-Salem.

Hardware, a full line, mill supplies, oil, paints, lime and cement, windows and doors, car of nails.—J. R. Smith Company.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of Ayden was held today and declared a handsome dividend. This institution is well officered and is a great benefactor to the community, as well as to the stockholders.

Mr. Jesse Cannon has been appointed tax collector for Contentnea township.

Marshall A. Hudson, of Syracuse, New York, will speak in Ayden Friday night, April 7th, at the Methodist church. Mr. Hudson is the founder of the Baraca movement and one of the most successful organizers and leaders of men in his age. Probably no other man has ever initiated a movement of this kind that has accomplished so much in so short a time. The people of Ayden and of Pitt county are indeed fortunate to have an opportunity to hear him. There will be no charge for the lecture and a hearty welcome is given to the public.

The board of education met yesterday and made a deed to the commissioners of the town of Ayden and their successors in office, for the present Ayden graded school property, provided that the bonds are carried at the election on the 11th of April. The Ayden graded school will be conducted entirely by local government. The deed is now in the hands of the Bank of Ayden awaiting the results of the election.

Notice.

To the Property Owners of Greenville:

Your attention is hereby called to chapter 12, section 6, of the ordinances of the town of Greenville. This March 31, 1911.

SAGE TEA WILL DARKEN THE HAIR

Restore Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color.

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great-grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull faded or streaked appearance they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair, with wonderfully beneficial effect.

Nowadays we don't have to resort to old-time, tiresome methods of gathering the herbs and making the tea. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of sulphur, another fine scalp remedy.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special agent Moye's Pharmacy.

Things That Are Going on in Our Neighbor Town.

Winterville, N. C., April 5.—The Baraca class of Winterville Baptist church was entertained by an excellent program arranged by the social committee, last Saturday night. Several good speeches were made by the members. After the speeches ice cream and cake were served. All present seemed to enjoy it and showed a new spirit in the Baraca movement.

Don't forget the straw hats and slippers at A. W. Ange & Co.'s. Miss Olivia Early, of Oak City, who has been visiting her sister, Miss Fannie Early, a student at Winterville High school, returned home Monday evening.
