

EAST CAROLINA TEACHERS TRAINING SCHOOL NOTES

HAPPENINGS AROUND CAMPUS.

Y. W. C. A. Officers—Faculty for the Summer Course.

Saturday evening, April 8th, the music departments gave an informal musical in the auditorium. The music was especially good and the program was well rendered.

Mr. H. E. Austin spoke to the Beaufort County Teachers' Association at Washington, Saturday, April 1st.

Mr. C. W. Wilson attended the Wayne county commencement at Goldsboro, Friday, March 31st.

The singing class from the Oxford Orphanage gave a concert in the auditorium Saturday evening, March 25th.

Recently on Sunday evenings the services of the Y. W. C. A. have been conducted by pastors from the churches in Greenville—Mr. C. M. Rock, of the Baptist church, and Mr. J. H. Shore, of the Methodist church.

On Saturday evening, April 1st, the young men of the Jarvis Memorial Literary Society, gave a public debate. The query was, "Resolved, That Women Should Have the Right of Suffrage in North Carolina." The affirmative was ably supported by Messrs. Rowe and Harper, and the negative by Messrs. Rawls and Linton. The judges, Messrs. F. C. Harding, H. B. Smith and F. M. Wooten, decided that the negative won and that Mr. Harper had the best speech.

Sunday evening, April 2nd, the Y. W. C. A. had its annual service for the installation of new officers. President Wright conducted the service and made a remarkably clear and impressive talk, defining the spirit that had characterized the association and outlining the mission. The outgoing president, Miss Pattie Dowell, made an excellent talk in resigning her office to Miss Agnes Smith. Miss Smith then graciously accepted the office and its responsibilities.

The officers for the coming year are as follows:

Miss Agnes Smith, president.
Miss Minnie B. Dail, vice-president.
Miss Willie G. Day, secretary.
Miss Ruth Dowell, treasurer.

The following are the names of the faculty for the summer course, which begins June 1st:

Mr. H. E. Austin, science.
Mr. R. L. Meadows, english.
Miss Sallie J. Davis, history.
Miss Muffly, music.
Miss Pugh, household economics.
Dr. Strayer, of Columbia University, school administration.
Mr. Barnes, Teachers College, pedagogy.
Mr. H. P. Harding, Charlotte, latin.
Miss Miriam McFayden, Clarkton, primary methods.
Miss Estelle Davis, Washington, mathematics.

ANOTHER COTTON CASE.

Jury Renders Verdict for The Plaintiff.

At Tarboro Wednesday, in the Superior court, there was tried a cotton contract case similar to the one at the last term of court here, in which the defendant had failed to deliver cotton because of advance in price and pleaded the gambling act. The defendant was represented by ex-Gov. Aycock who ably presented that side, but the jury was of the opinion that the defendant should live up to his contract and rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff.

IN MEMORY OF JEFFERSON.

Bill to Appropriate $100,000 For A Monument.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Washington, April 13.—This being the anniversary of Thomas Jefferson's birth, Senator Bacon, of Georgia, today offered in the senate and had passed under unanimous consent, a bill to appropriate $100,000 for the erection of a monument in Washington to the memory of Jefferson.

Bankrupt Stock Sale.

The way people were eager for the bargains at the Central Mercantile store today, shows that they know what bargains are. The bankrupt sale is now in full swing and you should not wait to come if you want some of these bargains.

BRIBERY INVESTIGATION.

More Than a Hundred Witnesses Summoned.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Springfield, Ill. April 13.—The state capitol was crowded today when the Helm investigating committee resumed its hearing in the Lorimer bribery charges. Edward Tilden, who was named by Clarence Funk, as treasurer of the $100,000 fund, was on hand ready to testify. So far 125 witnesses have been summoned. These include Edward Hines who solicited a subscription from Funk and Cyrus McCormick, president of the Harvesting Co. Six Chicago bankers who are thought to know something about the money transactions have also been summoned.

MORE ADVICE.

How College Training Helps the Farmer.

In estimating the value of the education to be obtained at an agricultural college, or putting it in another way, in deciding whether the scientific facts relating to agricultural practice, which are taught at the colleges or by books are of value to the man working the land, whose opinions should be regarded as of most value? Those who have learned these scientific truths, or those who have not? Is the unfavorable opinion of those who have not had an agricultural education of more value than favorable opinion of those who have actually been to an agricultural college, or acquired a knowledge of the sciences of agriculture in some other way? We have never heard a man who had obtained an agricultural education discredit its value, and this single fact is worth more than all the sneers of ten thousand so-called practical men who know nothing of that which they hold in contempt.

The following extracts from Hopkins, "Story of the Soil," are put in the mouth of a practical farm boy who had attended an agricultural college:

"I did not go to college to learn practical farming, if we mean by that the common practice of agriculture. I already knew what we call practical farming; that is, how to do the ordinary farm work, including such operations as plowing, planting, cultivating and harvesting; but it seems to me that this sort of practical farming has resulted in practical ruin for the most of our lands. The fact is, there is a side to agriculture that I knew almost nothing about as a so-called practical farmer, and I am coming to believe that what we commonly call practical farming, is often the most impractical farming. "As I said, I did not go to the agricultural college to learn the practice or the art of farming; I went to learn the science of agriculture; but, as a matter of fact, I found that the college professor knew about as much of practical agriculture as I did, and a great deal of science that I did not know."

Learning the facts and principles underlying agricultural operations never took anything away from the most practical men, but has always helped them, as all who have had the experience will testify.—Progressive Farmer.

Favorable Report.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Washington, April 13.—At the first full meeting today of the new ways and means committee of the house, the Democratic reciprocity bill and measures containing the former free list, were favorably reported.

Washington, April 13.—On the free list bill report was ordered by a strict party vote, 14 Democrats favoring and 7 Republicans voting against the proposition of free trade. There was no division on the Canadian reciprocity bill.

Johnson Buried in New York.

By Wire to The Reflector.
New York, April 13.—The body of Tom L. Johnson was laid to rest here today in Greenwood cemetery. The service was short and simple. At the station when the train arrived, many floral designs were placed on the casket.

Lake Seamen Strike.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Chicago, April 13.—The Lake Seamen's Union today ordered a general strike on the great lakes. It will affect 10,000 men.

OLD NORTH STATE

NEWSY HAPPENINGS

GATHERED FROM EXCHANGES.

And Briefly Stated for Our Busy Readers.

Winston-Salem, April 12.—John Holton, the 13-year-old son of District Attorney Holton, is in the Twin City hospital with a crushed skull, the result of being hit with a rock by a negro boy this afternoon, and his condition is regarded as very serious. Young Holton was in a wagon with another boy, Austin Newsom, who had for some time been worrying the negro, and today the negro threw at him, hitting Holton instead. Young Holton, in October, 1909, was accidentally shot by his brother, Frank, the wound being so serious that his leg was amputated, and for a while his life was despaired of.

Charlotte, April 12.—A. C. Hutchison, a prominent cotton mill and yarn commission man of Charlotte, committed suicide, by shooting, at Alta Vista, Va., this morning, firing a bullet through his right temple. Recent ill health is given as the probable cause of the rash act.

Reidsville, April 12.—H. C. Harris, junior member of the firm of Robert Harris and Brothers, Reidsville's pioneer tobacco manufacturers, died here last night at the age of 60 years.

AS TO COLORED NURSES.

Charlotte Citizen Calls Attention to Incident of Gross Neglect.

"The matter in which the majority of colored nurses neglect their charge is something awful," declared a well-known Charlotte citizen to an Observer man a day or two ago. "And the fearsome feature about it is that the mothers seldom know anything about it and the babies themselves are absolutely helpless. Yesterday I came up South Tryon street and in front of McCausland's store was a baby carriage and in it a rosy-cheeked, chubby child. There was no nurse anywhere in sight and the wind was blowing savagely. It was a raw, chilly day and the coverlet in the carriage had fallen down. The child was exposed in such fashion that it is a wonder that it did not catch pneumonia. An aged lady came up at the moment and seeing the child's plight, drew the covers about it and wrapped it up as snug as could be. I looked again for the nurse but she could not be found. By this time another gentleman had come up and announced his determination of rolling the carriage inside the store and out of the cold, which he did. This incident should be a lesson to mothers. There is no way of estimating how many deaths are due to careless and indifferent attention on the part of ignorant nurses.—Charlotte Observer.

Greenville's Department Store.

In their new advertisement today, J. R. & J. G. Moyer called attention to their seasonable goods. Theirs is the only department store in Greenville that carries everything you may want. They always have the right goods, their prices are right, and their customers are always assured of satisfaction.

Base Ball at Raleigh.

On next Monday, 17th, there will take place in Raleigh the intercollegiate track meet and base ball game between A. and M. and Wake Forest Colleges. The Norfolk Southern will sell special low round trip tickets for this occasion, the fare from Greenville being $2.85.

Rulers Leaving Mexico.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Galveston, Tex., April 13.—A dispatch from Vera Cruz, Mexico, states that Vice President Carral sailed for Europe yesterday and that President Diaz will soon send his family abroad.

Spring is Here.

Taft & VanDyke tell you in their advertisement that spring is here, and that for new carpets, matting, and other things for the floor, they are the people to go to.

No, Cordelia, it doesn't necessarily mean that a young man means business because he calls every Sunday night. Perhaps the lid is on and he has nowhere else to loaf.

Families are very useful for making other troubles seem light.

PERSONAL MENTION.

The People Who Come and Go on Our Trains.

Mrs. O. L. Joyner went to Winston-Salem Wednesday to spend Easter. Prof. H. B. Smith attended the Presbytery in Tarboro Wednesday.

Mr. S. M. Schultz spent Wednesday in Rocky Mount. Mrs. W. H. Dail, jr., returned from Washington Wednesday evening.

Miss Maude Anderson returned from Raleigh Wednesday evening.

Mrs. J. H. Barnhill went to Bethel Wednesday evening.

Mr. J. L. Horne went to Wilson this morning.

Mr. N. S. Fulford and little daughter, of Washington, came in this morning.

"AN ORIGINAL IDEA."

In The City Hall Next Monday Night.

Mr. Francis Labadie has gained a position so peculiarly his own, and has achieved a success so brilliant, that in announcing his appearance in selections, by the most eminent authors, from both classic and modern literary fields, his management feels justified in anticipating for him a continued cordial reception.

He possesses a natural humor that dances and sparkles through his lighter efforts like sunshine, while in the classics, nature's fine endowments lend life vigor and color to his work. His selections cover a wide range, from the delicate and airy humorous sketches, to the intense and powerful dramatic scenes from Shakespeare.

Mr. Labadie's repertoire includes "Hamlet," "Merchant of Venice," "Othello," "Macbeth," "Julius Caesar," "Richelieu," "The Rivals," "Damon and Pythias," "An Original Idea," and others.

Mr. Labadie will appear in the city hall auditorium on Monday night, 17th, for the benefit of the Civic League of Greenville. There should not be a vacant seat in the hall.

Once More.

We just have to remind you of it again. Have you sent your remittance in response to that statement of what you owe The Reflector on subscription? If not, please attend to it as soon as you read this. Suppose you had to ask for your supper as many times as we are having to ask some of you to pay the paper what you owe it.

Meeting for Friday.

The meeting for Friday afternoon, of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Baptist church, will be held with Mrs. J. A. Cash, led by Mrs. S. J. Everett. This will be the closing service of the week of prayer which the society has been observing for missions. The members will take their offerings to this meeting.

Representative Here.

Mr. A. V. Wolf representative of the J. R. Watkins Company, of Baltimore, is here for a few days at Hotel Bertha. Those of our readers who have answered the advertisement of this company can call on Mr. Wolf at the hotel in reference to representing the company in this territory.

The King Clothier.

Frank Wilson, the king clothier, has a large advertisement in this paper to tell of what he has in stock for the men who want to be correctly attired for Easter. He makes a close study of men's apparel and keeps right up with the styles. Read the ad. and then go to the store and see for yourself.

"An Original Idea."

Francis Labadie will present "An Original Idea" in the city hall Monday night, 17th, for the benefit of the Civic League of Greenville. It is an entertainment you should not miss. Tickets are on sale at Coward & Wooten's, Ricks Bros., and Moyer's Pharmacy.

Attractive Window Displays.

Greenville merchants are abreast with the times in making window displays. Hart & Hadley have a window decorated with ice cream freezers and another with sporting goods that is most suggestive of the season.

Having once acquired the habit, love is as necessary to a woman as tobacco is to a man.

AN INSOLENT NEGRO DRAWS GUN ON SHERIFF

WHEN LATTER GOES FOR TAXES
Officer Surprises Him and Brings Him To Jail.

Wednesday Sheriff S. I. Dudley was out in Belvoir township and went to the home of Allen Tyson, colored, to collect his taxes due for last year. The colored man told the sheriff his taxes were already paid and that he had the receipt. He went in his house and got a receipt, but it was for the year 1909. The sheriff explain to him that the receipt he had was for 1909, but that his taxes for 1910 were not paid and must be paid.

At this the colored man became very insolent and cursed the sheriff. Mr. Dudley told the negro it was useless to go on that way about it, that the taxes must be paid or he would have to levy on enough of his household effects to cover what was due. At this the negro ran into his house, came back to the door with a double barrel gun in his hands, and said: "Now, come on, d—n you, and I'll kill you." "No, I'm not coming," the sheriff replied, as he turned and walked off toward his buggy which had been left at a house in the neighborhood.

After the sheriff had gone the negro seemed to realize he had made a mistake, put down his gun and going on to where the sheriff was apologized for the language he had used. Sheriff Dudley watched for his opportunity, and covering Allen with his gun said: "You made me change my mind just now about going into your house, but now I am going to make you change yours; I am going to carry you to town and put you in jail."

Allen was a much surprised negro at the turn the affair took, and put up a lot of begging as he was being tied and put in the buggy to be brought to jail. He will hardly be drawing a gun on any more officers who go to his house to collect his taxes.

SHOOTS NEGRO ON HIGHWAY.

Assailant Said He Thought He Was Shooting The Sheriff.

A few nights ago some negroes were engaged in a crap game in the shanty near the north end of the river bridge that was once used as a market. Another negro named Price was on his way home from town, and when about opposite the shanty, Fred Dixon, one of the crap shooters, opened fire on him with a pistol, striking him in the arm. Price's outcry disclosed his identity when Dixon went to him and apologized for the shooting, saying he thought he was shooting the sheriff as they were there waiting for him to go by.

AMERICAN ARRESTED IN SPAIN.

Runs Over a Child With His Automobile.

By Wire to The Reflector.

Washington, April 13.—Former Lieutenant Governor Willard, of Virginia, is under arrest at Burgos, Spain, charged with running over a child in his automobile, according to advices received by the state department today. The department, instructed by President Taft, telegraphed the American embassy at Madrid to see that Willard receives a fair trial by the Burgos authorities if one is held.

BUSTED COTTON FIRM.

Now Up Against Imprisonment for Fraud.

By Wire to The Reflector.

Aberdeen, Miss., April 13.—Judge Niles, of the central district court, today sentenced J. H. Miller, of the suspended cotton firm of Steele, Miller & Company, to seven years imprisonment and a fine of $7,000, Miller, in conjunction with L. C. Steele and C. H. Lind, was convicted of circulating bogus bills of lading. These latter two will be sentenced later.

WAR ON LOAN SHARKS.

Bank is Proposed for Rescue of Borrowers.

The people of Atlanta are now offered a definite and permanent remedy for the loan-shark evil. A number of business-minded citizens with the community's good at heart, have devised a plan whereby wage earners, when overtaken by emergencies, such as often befall them, may borrow small sums at a legal rate of interest and repay the loans in small installments. In its results, this plan will be broadly philanthropic, though in its methods it will be strictly business like. It will prove a source of continual good to the city and of liberal profit to its investors.

These two aspects of the plan are especially notable—its advantage to the Atlanta public as well as to the individual in need and the opportunity it presents in the way of a sound investment.

The evils that spring from the so-called loan-shark system do not end with the men and women who are actually victimized but they are visited, in the long run, upon the entire community. They constitute a vital civic problem that particularly concerns the employer of labor, the merchant and business interests at large. The fact is any condition of affairs that weakens or works an injustice upon any portion of a community hurts the community as a whole.

It, therefore, becomes the public's duty and public's opportunity to support this plan to end the abuse of the loan-shark system.—Atlanta Journal.

Polltiness in Business.

Polltiness is regarded as one of the virtues. It is not generally enough recognized as an important business asset. "I'll never go into that store again," declared a gentleman as he came from a store where the salesman had been discourteous. The proprietor may wonder why his trade falls off while that of his neighbor increases. He may think he does not advertise enough, or cut prices enough; but the customer who was driven away came to him first because of his advertising and then went to his rival and paid more money for the desired article, for no other reason than that he wanted polite treatment. The latter merchant had a business asset which was of more value to his trade than the display advertisements and cut prices of his neighbor.—Christian Herald.

THE MEN WHO COUNT.

Often the man who is worth much in dollars is not worth a cent to the community in which he lives, and just as frequently the fellow who is not worth a penny, outside of his salary, which he has to hand out soon after his pay envelope is passed over to him, is worth much to the community in actual work and in enthusiasm. But there are many of the latter class, however, who are absolutely worthless, besides they are pessimistical and discontented. In other words, they have a grouch. So this calibre of man, is a drawback to the community in which he lives and he should either get out of the shadows, or get out of the town. No man should want to live in a town which he doesn't care a rap for, which he thinks is no good, and certainly the town would be better off without him. But as damaging as this type, the man who has money and poses before people as a successful man of affairs and yet is so stingy as not to help build up his town is not much better. There are lots of folks in every town who have money, but never move save to clip coupons and they always desire to shout, or have lackies shout about their greatness. Such kind may be enjoying himself and be happy under the influence of "where ignorance is bliss, etc.," but the people at large are not paying him tribute, and his supposed friends, who go in that disguise by reason of his money, are thinking, deep down in their hearts, what a travesty he is on success and what a skinflint he is as a benefactor. The man, who has money and yet does not help build up his town is a mighty poor sort of man. Give to a town the poor man who is enthusiastic any day, because in time he will, perhaps, accumulate money and when he does he will benefit his community in a financial way. The rich man who will invest his money in manufacturing enterprises, or who is willing to lose a few thousand dollars (in all probability he wouldn't feel the loss) on some public project is the man who counts for his community and who will be appreciated. The other brand is simply a bluff, and he may well enjoy his own conceit, because he is not enjoying the good opinion of others.—Wilmington Dispatch.

The above fits some folks in Greenville so precisely that it sounds just like it was written for them.

The owners of the shirt waist factory in New York in which so many girls recently lost their lives, have been indicted for manslaughter. Money will help them escape punishment, except the expense of standing trial and lawyers for defense.

Another summer is nearly here without Greenville getting interested in having a pavilion, bath houses and a pleasure resort on the river front. The river would afford much recreation if it was taken advantage of.

If the issuing of bonds to build good roads in Greenville township is carried in the election, you will pay no more road tax than at present and will have good roads. If the bonds are defeated you will pay just as much tax but have no good roads.

For a time it looked like the matter of issuing bonds to erect a graded school building in Ayden would be defeated in the election, but the result shows that the people of that town have enterprise of the right kind.

If they carry the investigation further there will no doubt be found many others hanging on to salaries for doing nothing, who could be prized off with great benefit to the government.

If those park strips between the concrete pavements and curb line were sown in grass flow, they would be pretty spots a little later. Cannot the property owners or somebody get interested in beautifying these strips?

Some of these days you are going to hear bigger things about Greenville than you have ever heard yet. The town is getting close to the point of making more big strides forward.

With work in progress on the new court house and jail, two new office buildings, a ball park and several residences, it looks like something is going in Greenville.

Mr. Bryan is keeping his eye on it just the same, and if he does not try for it himself he is going to see how it goes.

A WEAK WOMAN AND HER STORY

In Floral, Ark., Lives a Lady Who Feels That Her Strength Was Restored by Cardui.

Floral, Ark.—"I must speak a good word for Cardui," writes Mrs. Viola Baker, of this place.
"About a month ago I was in very bad health. I was so weak and nervous that I was not able to do my housework.
"My husband bought me one bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic. I took it according to directions and now I am in good health.
"I think Cardui is a fine tonic for weak women."

And you are not the only lady who thinks so, Mrs. Baker.
Thousands, like you, have written to tell of the wonderful benefit Cardui has been to them.
Cardui contains no minerals, or other powerful drugs. It contains no glycerin or other mawkish-lasting ingredients.
It is just a pure, natural extract, of natural vegetable herbs, that have been found to regulate the womanly functions and strengthen the female system.
All druggists sell Cardui.
See yours about it.

A popular man is one who is liberal with his money and stingy with his advice.

a bank draft is cheaper than a post office or an express order and there is less red tape to it.

A bank account not only gives you a safe place to keep your money, but it is also a great convenience. Besides every check you draw is a legal receipt for the debt you pay.

SAGE AND SULPHUR

Made Her Look Twenty Years Younger

READ MRS. HERRICK'S SWORN STATEMENT

STATE OF NEW YORK } ss.: ROCHESTER, N. Y.
COUNTY OF MONROE }

Nancy A. Herrick, being duly sworn, deposes and says: When I was a girl I had a head of heavy, long, dark brown hair which was the envy of my friends and which attracted the attention and remarks of strangers, but as I grew older it commenced to come out. When my hair was quite thin and gray, I was induced by the many good reports I had heard of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur to try a bottle; and you can imagine my satisfaction when I found my hair was fast coming back to its natural condition. I continued to use Sage and Sulphur until my hair was as heavy, dark and smooth as when I was a girl of sixteen. It is now four years since I began using Sage and Sulphur and my hair is in splendid condition.

Sworn to before me this 14th day of July, 1902.

the antediluvian jokes of his tailor. He is a wise man who laughs at Newspaper as a Salesman.

The majority of retail store customers, before starting out on shopping trips, study the newspaper advertising. This habit is a great time saver.

The shopper escapes fruitless visits to many stores and needless bothering of clerks by learning in advance where she is likely to find what she wants. She gives very little attention to the places that fail to inform her as to their offerings. Many women, too, have become personally acquainted with the store people, dislike to enter their places of business unless they feel fairly sure of buying. They avoid this embarrassment by learning in advance where they can probably supply their needs.

Thus it is the many sales are practically made before the buyer leaves her home. It has been proved over and over again that the trade will pass stores with a main street location that fail to advertise to hunt up poorly located shops on back streets that are well advertised. A man might as well close his shutters in business hours as to fail to meet his competitors in their field where they are doing the heart of business--the newspaper advertisement--Tokaika Capital.

A BUNCH OF NEWS HAPPENINGS IN AYDEN

TEAM PREPARING BALL PARK.

Base Ball Team at Work--Schools Preparing for Commencement.

Ayden, N. C.; April 13.--Mrs. Laker, of Norfolk, better known in Ayden as Miss Mary Love Gray, is visiting her uncle, Capt. D. G. Berry, in Ghent.

The team are at work on their base ball grounds leveling up and blowing up the stumps, and will soon start on the bulwark and grand stand.

Mrs. Geo. Hart and Miss Grimsely, of Snow Hill, are visiting Mrs. W. F. Hart.

Mrs. E. A. Depeau died at her home on Lee street Tuesday evening. She had only been sick a few days with pneumonia. Amid all the assistance that kind neighbors and loving hands could do, she laid down the cross and took up the crown. The remains were taken to Norfolk Wednesday morning, the funeral to be held in the church of the Sacred Hearts. Mr. D. G. Berry accompanied the grief stricken husband, Mr. and Mrs. Depeau made their home here a little more than a year ago, and during their stay made many warm friends. The deceased was from the state of Pennsylvania, while her husband was born in the province of Quebec, Canada.

Mr. John O. Cox has moved his family to New Bern and has sold his farm recently bought of Mr. Frank Cox, to Mr. Richard Harris.

Mr. Lorenzo McLawhorn is finishing his large and handsome residence near the graded school building.

Mr. L. L. Kittrell is preparing timber to erect a large residence on the Winfield park property. What a pity the town did not see fit to buy this beautiful plat of two acres, well shaded, nicely located, and make a permanent park.

The condition of Mr. J. J. Smith is still very critical. His death is expected any moment.

People come to Ayden and don't you forget it. Just happen here on Saturday and you would think it was circus day, but really it is not. It is just the country people here buying their supplies.

The Ayden Lumber Company are expected to begin operating their mill again in a few days.

Messrs. J. C. Noble and Edwin Tripp left Tuesday morning for Charleston. Mr. Nobles will engage in the insurance business and has the best wishes of his home town. Mr. Tripp will return to Ayden.

At the bond election Tuesday there were 57 votes against and 80 for bonds. We hope our good people will remember that all men are created equal, and all have rights to respect. Now let us make it unanimous, and erect a suitable building that we can feel proud of, and that will prove a great blessing to generations yet unborn. The 11th day of April, 1911, will mark an epoch in our path of progress for coming years.

King Edward tapped Warren Throver in the forehead with an axe last Sunday evening, and then took leg ball among the tall timbers. Both are colored.

We now have two drug stores that our town and community can appreciate.

Mr. W. A. Darden was hauling his cotton Tuesday and Wednesday and our cotton exchange had the appearance of harvesting time.

Mr. John Hatton sold a bird dog Wednesday for $25. This shows that this is a thriving country and money plentiful some where.

Found--A brooch. Owner can have same by identifying it and paying for this notice.

The wood work on the hotel at St. Abram's spring is nearly completed.

The low water in Contentnea creek has caused a great many of our farmers to haul their fertilizers up in Greene from Ayden, as the boats could not run.

We think the peach and pear crop is a total failure, but from all indications we will have an abundant apple crop and huckleberries.

The ladies of the Christian church are practicing the children for an Easter entertainment in their church Sunday night. The public is cordially invited.

Prof. Koonce and his able teachers are preparing the children for a commencement. Prof. M. C. S. Noble, of Chapel Hill, will deliver the annual address in the Imperial Tobacco warehouse. Our school has done splendid work this year and the patrons would be glad to have Prof. Koonce and his teachers again another year.
