DIAZ WAS DEFIANT BUT MODIFIES ATTITUDE

TAFT IS NOT TO BE STAMPEDED

Madero's Demand that Diaz Resign Meets Derision.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Mexico City, April 21.—Excitement caused in the United States by the news that the reply of President Diaz to the demands of President Taft was of a defiant nature, brought a quick change of attitude on the part of the Mexican government. Dispatches telling of President Taft's refusal to be stamped into an unfriendly act had much to do with modifying of sentiment of President Diaz's advisers. Madero's demand that Diaz resign to prevent an attack on Juarez was greeted with decision in government circles. The statement was made that "he will not resign before the revolutionists are defeated."

D. A. R. ELECTION.

Both Sides Confident of Winning President.

Washington, April 21.—Excitement was at fever heat among the delegates of the D. A. R. when the convention met in Continental hall to hear the results of the election for president general and other officers. When the delegates met at ten o'clock it was announced it would be several hours before the result of balloting was announced. Both sides were confident.

Mrs. Scott Elected.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Washington, April 21.—Elizabeth Poe, press agent of Mrs. William C. Story's campaign, conceded the election of Mrs. Matthew T. Scott as president general of the D. A. R. by a small majority.

HARMON BOOM LAUNCHED

Ohio Delegation Starts His Campaign for Presidency.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Washington, April 21.—The formal launching of the boom of Governor Judson Harmon, of Ohio for the presidency, took place today in the rooms of Senator Pomeroy, of Ohio, in the senate office building. Senator Pomeroy sent out a call to all Democratic congressmen from Ohio to attend the meeting and discuss the outlook and devise ways and means of promoting Mr. Harmon's candidacy. The committee will probably make some public declaration today.

The Sunday School.

It has not been very long since the Sunday school was rather generally derided, and a grown man, even a member of the church, felt out of place in this department of the church work. Even yet here and there the women and children are allowed to take charge of the Sunday school and the men, from eighteen years old and up, do not deign to give it their personal presence. But the Sunday school idea has triumphed. It has become one of the most powerful factors in all the work of the church, and the brightest and strongest men among us are glad to be enrolled as scholars in the classes. Hon. John Wanamaker helped to turn the tide. Away back yonder when it was less popular to be a Sunday school scholar than it is today, he threw all his great influence and energy into the work. Today we find a man like Mr. Marshall Hudson devoting his magnificent business talent as well as his fortune to the development of the Sunday school work, and the brainiest writers of the world are glad to pour into the exposition of the lessons their best and freshest thought. The man who stands aloof from the Sunday-school today deliberately cuts himself off from perhaps the richest field of intellectual as well as moral culture. The sun is too high in the heavens for the old time sneer that the Sunday-school is the place for the woman and children and weak minded men. It has enlisted in its service the mental giants of the world—Charity and Children.

Dr. Hyatt Coming.

Dr. H. O. Hyatt will be in Greenville at Hotel Bertha May 1st and 2nd, Monday and Tuesday for the purpose of treating diseases of the eye and fitting glasses.

POULTRY RAISING

Farmers Should Engage More Generously in It.

A movement has been started in western North Carolina which should become statewide. It has for its object the promotion of poultry raising, particularly among farmers. Special effort is being made to interest young ladies on the farm in fony poultry culture, and not without success, if we may judge from reports from various sections of the mountains. From Asheville we hear that many girls in that territory are today making neat sums each month from poultry culture, and there appears to be an increasing interest in the subject.

This is a subject, or rather a source of revenue, which has, for some reason, we know not what, received too little attention in North Carolina. Other states have recognized the value of poultry raising and are making millions of dollars annually from this source. Especially is Georgia stirred up, and each of the three big daily papers in Atlanta have special departments, edited by experts, which are highly successful.

The numerous big poultry shows held throughout that state in the fall have done much to accentuate interest in the subject, and the constant preachments by the daily papers have had their influence. The result is that the 20,000 chick farms is not unusual in the empire state, and on almost every farm may be found a healthy lot of fancy chicks.

Not alone is the field open to the farmer's daughter, but to city folks as well. The fact has been demonstrated time and again that even in the crowded city, with proper care and attention poultry may be raised with profit.

The business is no longer looked upon as a sort of pastime, but is now recognized as a means of large profit. During the winter months eggs run up as high as 40 cents the dozen, and chickens bring double that amount at times of the year. The tendency is to raise only fancy stock—the kind that will lay during the winter months when eggs and chicks are high.

The News would love to see more interest taken in the subject in Mecklenburg county and in the city.

Mr. Loring Brown, who edits the poultry department of the Atlanta Journal, offered an article yesterday which should be read carefully. In a small California town over one and one half million dollars are derived annually from egg production. Mr. Brown thinks that what was done in California can be repeated in Georgia, and we may add that North Carolina has an equally good chance with the western state. Read this and substitute the name North Carolina where he mentions Georgia:

"There is a plan on foot now to establish an incubator factory at Smyrna the coming winter, which will keep thousands of dollars in Georgia, and make employment for many high class laborers, especially good cabinet makers. This will, of course, eventually advertise this locality more than anything that could possibly be done in the poultry line, as the machines will be scattered over the entire world.

"The land is, at present, cheap but is fast increasing in value. It takes only a small amount to keep a large number of fowls, and many a workingman can add much to his income, by the efforts of his family and with his assistance, by adding poultry on his home lot.

"Food products of every kind, especially meat and eggs are becoming higher and higher every year and we will never see these products cheap again that could so easily be raised at home, so I predict for Smyrna, in the course of the next few years, a great future. It will only take time to develop its possibilities, as it did Petaluma.

"About one and a quarter million dollars per year is brought into the small town of Petaluma, Cal., for eggs alone to say nothing of the poultry that is marketed. Most of the inhabitants there have from one to five acres of land. They have nice orchards and good gardens. They live at home and board at the same place, and are perfectly satisfied with the results they are now obtaining from their egg output, and I hope soon to see the day come when Smyrna can be placed in the same class with Petaluma, as to products and rank as a poultry center.

"There is no reason why we should not have a good packing plant for cold storage located in Smyrna, where

AS SEEN BY 'UNCLE ZACK'

Pleased With the Services in Baptist Church.

It was the pleasure of the editor to be present at one of the most impressive services at the Baptist church in Greenville on Sunday night last it has ever been our pleasure to attend. It was the rendering in story and song of "Love Triumphant" a story of the cross, depicting the scenes in Jerusalem during the last week of the life of our Saviour, in which the life and suffering of a blind beggar boy, Tor, were depicted, and of his receiving his sight at the hands of the Master closing with the resurrection. The reading was done by the pastor, Rev. C. M. Rock, whose full round baritone voice suited the story, and made it all the more effective. The singing by the choir, interspersing the story was well done being made up of solos, quartets and choruses, in fact they were all rendered smoothly, plainly and sweetly, fitting the story perfectly. The pleasant thing about the whole service, reading and singing, there was no trills or frills to it, for one could understand every word of it. Often during the service one could hear the sob and see the heaving of the breast and tear-stained cheek as the story proceeded. Mr. Rock has done the people of Greenville a great kindness in giving this gospel service in story and song. Others will be given soon.—Farmville Enterprise.

MR. KING ACCEPTS CALL.

To Pastorate of Greenville Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Robert King, a graduate student of Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Va., has accepted the call of the Greenville Presbyterian church to serve as pastor during his vacation. Mr. King conducted services in Greenville a short time ago. He preached two splendid sermons, and impressed all who heard him as being an unusually strong man. The Presbyterians are greatly pleased to know that Mr. King is to serve them this summer.

ENTRANCED THE STRANGER

Greenville Women the Prettiest He Had Seen.

On a recent afternoon a number of ladies who had been attending a social function were passing a certain corner on the way to their respective homes. A stranger catching a view of the procession, asked "where did all those pretty women come from?" When told that they all belonged right here and were the kind Greenville grows, he declared they were the handsomest bunch he had ever seen together, and he had seen lots of them.

Grifton Graded School.

The commencement of Grifton graded school will be on Thursday and Friday, April 27th and 28th. The address will be at 11 o'clock on Friday, by Dr. Wm. I. Crawford, professor of Philosophy of Trinity college. Friday afternoon there will be a ball game between Grifton and Hookerton.

All of the small producers could send their output, or carry even a small amount and know that they can readily turn it into cash. This plant, by having a great number (even getting a few from various parties) could assort, classify and pack the best products in such a way as they could be shipped to the best market that would pay the fanciest prices for the goods as classed. We are not dependent upon Atlanta alone, as the Florida markets and also eastern markets are eager and are willing to pay profitable prices for anything in this line that can possibly be produced.

"I do not believe that, today, on a week's notice any customer in Georgia could possibly buy from a producer one thousand table eggs, or one hundred dressed chickens—either broilers or fryers. These orders are now going to Morristown, Tenn., and some of the western packers. The field is open in Georgia, and absolutely unworked. Why should we let this good opportunity pass out of our hands? If others can make it profitable, there are men in Georgia who certainly can do as well; and I hope that Smyrna or some other live town near Atlanta will get busy on the lines above mentioned."—Charlotte News.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS

GATHERED FROM EXCHANGES.

And Briefly Stated for Our Busy Readers.

Robersonville, April 20.—Governor W. W. Kitchen has been secured to make the commencement address for the Robersonville high school, on April 28. The address will be delivered at 2:30 p. m. in one of the tobacco warehouses here, where preparations are being made to accommodate the large crowd expected on that occasion.

While on his way home from school, Fred, the youngest son of Mr. W. A. Darden, fell from a bicycle breaking his left arm just above the wrist. In some way the handlebar had worked loose and while crossing a small bridge the wheel suddenly swerved, throwing the rider with the above results.—Snow Hill Standard-Laconic.

Edenton, April 20.—W. W. Savage, about 70 years old, from Savage, a siding of the Norfolk Southern Railroad, Suffolk division, dropped dead at about four o'clock today, at the passenger station.

TIME TO BE CAUTIOUS.

Suspicious of Bill for Reciprocity With Canada.

Ayden, N. C., April 20, 1911. Editor Reflector:

I have been gathering information as best I can on this reciprocity with Canada. I have seen pictures of Uncle Sam sitting right close up to Miss Canada a just opening and pouring out great love for her, telling of the great future for her if she will just wed him, etc. I'll not follow this strain further, but just say the boys up at Washington had better be careful about passing legislations brought forward and legislation brought forward and fostered by a Republican president I'm kind of suspicious of it. It may prove to be a "Trojan Horse" stuffed full of pitfalls for the Democratic party in the future. Mr. Simmons' idea of hitching on to the reciprocity bill, an amendment carrying considerable reduction of the tariff on farm machinery, such as is largely used in the great North West, is not a bad one at all. Then, too, it seems to be the very way to get this tariff reduction, the Democrats refusing to vote for reciprocity if the insurgents and Republicans refuse to vote for this tariff reduction.

W. A. Darden.

She Changed.

An Oregon swain and his lady fair, after having been engaged for four years were on their way to the minister's Saturday to get married, when the bride-to-be discovered a hole in her right stocking just above the shoe top. By the time the two reached the parsonage she had decided that the hole would show when she knelt before the minister.

In spite of the protests of the groom-about-to-be she bade him and the minister wait until she could go home and change her stockings. She hadn't been home more than five minutes before she telephoned that he need not wait any longer. She said that while changing her stockings she also changed her mind and had determined not to marry.

As we mortals fatuously say of mortal affairs, what a fortunate thing for this youth was the discovery of that hole in the bridal stocking. He need not expect to find a lady who does not now and then exercise woman's prerogative, to be sure; but this one is one of those violent exercisers.—Asheville Gazette-News.

Canned Goods.

Kentucky is a blue-grass country. This means principally the raising of horses and other live-stock. North Carolina is essentially a flower, fruit and vegetable country. It transpires that all these crops may, in our modern times, be much enhanced in value by processes of selection, storage, canning and preserving. It has been frequently pointed out in this paper that provisions ought to be made for the proper selection and storage of the apple crop. Such care would materially extend the market season, and would much enhance the value of the crop. With proper facilities for keeping flowers cool, the market for these could be very materially extended, but perhaps the largest field of extending interest is in canned fruit and vegetables. The whole area of the state from the mountains to the sea, in both soil and climate, is adapted to the raising of one or more kinds of vegetables and fruits. With proper modern facilities for preparing these for market, the crop could be enormously increased in amount and in the accruing profits. The ordinary cook-stove in the household is a good canning factory. For a few dollars additional equipment put in it would materially extend the output and improve the economy of putting up fruits and vegetables. The capital stock for a really large canning factory is not large, say $6,000. It is mostly a question of knowledge, skill and energy, yet great values might be brought out of the business if once well developed throughout the state.

STUFFED BALLOT BOX

When There Was Only One Candidate.

New Orleans, April 21.—Twelve officials who served in the recent judicial election were sentenced to eight months each today for ballot box stuffing. There was only one candidate in the field, but the faction putting this man forward had stuffed the boxes, according to allegations of the state in order "to make a good showing."

Trade Report

Richmond, April 21.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say for Richmond and vicinity: Trade conditions are irregular, some lines showing fair activity while others are dull. Taken as a whole, conditions are not up to the average of last year. In North Carolina the cotton mill industry is quiet. Many mills are either closed down or working on short time. The principal cause of the dullness in cotton goods being in the inability of the millers to procure prices for their finished product in proportion to the high cost of the raw material. The lumber industry is quiet, orders being small for the season of the year, this is partly due to inactivity in building generally and partly to the agitation of the Canadian reciprocity. Iron and metals are quiet. Drugs and chemicals are active and manufacturers of agricultural fertilizers report an active season. Farmers in North Carolina are preparing for an increased acreage of cotton. In some sections planting has commenced. Owing to the late spring farming operations generally are backward. The between season quietude exists in the wholesale shoe and dry goods market. Manufacturers of ciders and vinegars report fair sales. Retail trade is quiet and collections are only fair.

Eastern North Carolina is taking on the strawberry hue.

Are you looking longingly at your dog? That dollar tax is coming on him.

The county that has good schools and good roads will make the most progress.

English experiments have proven that the breath can be held nine minutes. We had rather keep ours going.

Uncle Sam is having trouble enough on the Mexican border for Hobson to afford to keep quiet with that Japan racket.

Congressman Gudger borrowed fifteen minutes from Congressman Underwood and took a fall out of Congressman Kitchin.

Dr. Cook, of North Pole notoriety, has "come back" and says he is going to figure in newspaper copy some more. That will not be hard for him to do.

As you may need it to shut off either a shower or sunshine, or both, before you get back, it is not a bad idea to take an umbrella along these days, if you have one.

There is some consolation in the Mexican names being a little easier to pronounce than were those that came from the seat of trouble between Japan and Russia.

In New York city the authorities are investigating the bakeries, and from reports the majority of them are cesspools of filth a menace to health. It is a wonder they do not breed cholera and every other dangerous disease. If people generally could see prepared what they eat, they might do less eating.

Neither the hobble nor the harem skirts are to have smooth sailing in Florida. A member of the legislature of that state introduced a bill making it a misdemeanor for a woman to wear either of these garbs in public. It was referred to the committee on Indian affairs and war records. Very appropriate reference.

working of the Almighty and the papers publish "resolutions of respect" in which it is said, "Whereas God in his wisdom has seen fit to remove from our midst" etc. Beyond the working of his natural laws God had nothing to do with the tragedy. It is ourselves who are to blame, and it is up to us to do what we can to prevent disease. Now is the season for a general cleaning up. Mosquito, breeding water, fly breeding filth and all sorts of trash should be done away with and disinfectants such as lime, it being more easily secured and handled, should be scattered liberally—Catawba County News.

The Road To Ruin.

No government that is subject to sway by the popular impulses of the hour can long escape that lapse into the most cruel and unbridled of all tyrannies which marked the closing eras of the Grecian and Roman republics and precipitated their downfall. The dominion of the mob, like the progress of a flood, expands its force in defiance of normal restraints, and, by destroying the landmarks of law and order, inevitably prepares the way for a despotism more tolerable because less capricious, more durable because it rules by rule and in self-interest can not allow one class of its subjects to become more powerful than another.

The man who framed the institutions of which the federal constitution is the chart were scholars and statesmen. Profoundly versed in political history, they knew the rock on which all previous attempts to perpetuate government of, by and for the people had been wrecked. None of them, of whatever political school, Jefferson and Madison no more than Hamilton or Adams, contemplated for a moment the establishment of a pure democracy. They differed as to the degree and methods of ensuring deliberation in the making of laws and of impartiality in enforcing them, but they all agreed as to the necessity of creating agencies through which the popular will should be expressed; they devised the senate as a check upon what might be the ill-considered response of the house of representatives to ephemeral waves of popular passion, and at the apex of the system of checks and balances they placed a judiciary clothed with authority to test all legislative acts by their conformity to the limitations imposed by the constitution; all this that the impetuous and imprudent voice of the majority might not override the rights and interests of the minority.

All constitutions are surrenders by the people to elective instrumentalities of a portion of the powers naturally belonging to them. This surrender is made in recognition of the fact that so a regularity, vitality, consistency and economy of government can be obtained, never reached, not attainable, by a more direct system of democracy. Demagoguery was always king in every country where statutes were ordained and magistrates made and unmade by assemblies in the forum or at the market place. "Crucify him," was the cry of the rabble at Jerusalem when the appointed judge could find no guilt in the prisoner on trial. Next day the verdict would have been different of the most eager of those thirsters for innocent blood.

The Constitution of the United States takes note of the political experience and epitomizes the political wisdom of the ages. In nothing did its framers more strikingly provide and provide against the dangers to which republics are subject than in the care they took that the machinery for the making of laws should be adjusted against too ready response to a clamor not backed by the sober second thought of the people. The sovereignty of the people is not denied; frequent elections at stated periods are stipulated through which their matured judgment as to men and measures may be rendered with an emphasis never falling of ultimate effect; and in the self-enacted chart of their liberties there is no clause more potential for their preservation than that which appeals from their impulses to their convictions.

The solons of the present day and generation assume to a ken far beyond that of the fathers. We hear that the country has outgrown the constitution; that civilization and industry and commerce have taken on new phases, and present new problems; that expansion of territory and increase of population call for a departure from the basic principles through observance of which the country has prospered in a measure hitherto unknown among nations; so the jackdaws are pecking at, and the jacklegs in statecraft would be tinkering with, and the jacksnaps in poli-

NORFOLK SOUTHERN RAILROAD AND
NORFOLK AND WASHINGTON SEABOARD CO.

TO
Including attractive side trips, to Virginia Beach, Mount Vernon and Arlington.

Prof. Frank M. Harper, Supt., Raleigh, Schools, will take a party of students of the Senior Grades of the Raleigh Public schools to Washington, D. C., for an Educational Tour on May 29. Prof. Harper will not restrict his party to any locality, but invites any one of good character to join.

The purpose of the Tour is Educational—a trip to no other place is as instructive and interesting as to the beautiful City of Washington, the seat of our National Government. The Congress will be in (extraordinary) session.

Interesting features of the program will be a reception at the White House, by President Taft, and a visit to the Capitol of the United States; where the North Carolina Senators and Representatives will welcome the party.

A side trip will be made to Mount Vernon the Home of our first President.

Still another equally interesting side trip will be to Arlington, the home of the great Southern Chieftain—General Robert Edward Lee.

The journey up and down the historic Potomac River on the palatial new steamer, "Southland," of the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company, will be one delight after another. The entire trip will be full of interest.

Write Prof. Frank M. Harper, Raleigh for illustrated booklet giving complete details of the trip, or call upon any agent of the Norfolk Southern Railroad.

Saved His Mother's Life.

"Four doctors had given me up," writes Mrs. Laura Gaines, of Avoca, La., "and my children and all my friends were looking for me to die, when my son insisted that I use Electric Bitters. I did so, and they have done me a world of good. I will always praise them." Electric Bitters is a priceless blessing to women troubled with fainting and dizzy spells, backache, headache, weakness, debility, constipation or kidney disorders. Use them and gain new health strength and vigor. They're guaranteed to satisfy or money refunded. Only 50 cents at all druggists.

Are Kicking in Time

We don't know how the new plan for assessing land is going to work, but the valuation of real estate in Union county is high enough, and if those who have been appointed to look after this important matter have hearts that are not made of stone, we don't believe they are going to raise the valuation. Taxes ought to be equalized—that is every man should pay according to his worth, but the poor fellow who has but little property is taxed as heavily as he is able to bear. In Union county the situation is an ideal one. The average farmer has his own home and no land to speculate on, and he ought not to be taxed to death—Our Home, Marshville.

Midnight in The Ozarks.

And yet sleepless Hiram Scranton, of Clay City, Ill., coughed and coughed. He was in the mountains on the advice of five doctors, who said he had consumption, but found no help in the climate, and started home, hearing of Dr. King's New Discovery, he began to use it. "I believe it saved my life," he writes, "for it made a new man of me, so that I can now do good work again." For all lung diseases, coughs, colds la grippe, asthma, croup, whoopingcough, hay fever, hemorrhages, hoarseness or quinsy, its the best known remedy. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

The Celt in Mexico.

Of prominent Irish families who are now quite as much Mexican as Hibernian we have the Greens, Lynches, Louergans, O'Gormans, Morans, Morrises, Braniffs, Knights, Whites, Kellys, O'Relllys, Hopes, Wilsons, etc. Some of the Irish families are descended from the famous colony of exiles from the Emerald Isle who settled in Cadix, Spain, in the eighteenth century.—Mexican Herald.
