WHAT IS GOING ON IN AND AROUND AYDEN

MRS. HARDY DIES SUDDENLY

Mr. J. C. Wilson Commits Suicide by Jumping in a Well.

Ayden, N. C., April 22, 1911. Mr. Aza Ellis was hitching up a young ox, Monday. The ox broke ranks and fettered up Mr. Ellis, and in the fall broke his collar bone.

We were in error in last issue. The negro child died in Dr. Mark Tedoc Frizell's office instead of Dr. Dixon's.

Mrs. Susan Hardy, wife of Mr. Jesse Hardy, was in the field Monday with her husband, and was taken with something like vertigo. She had to be carried to the house on a vehicle. The doctor was sent for and before his arrival she expired. Mrs. Hardy was the daughter of the late Mr. Frank Harris, who was drowned a few years ago by jumping in a well. She and her husband were some of the most substantial citizens of Swift Creek township, and raised a large family of industrious children. We deeply sympathize with the bereaved.

Mrs. Alfred Forbes, of Kings X Roads is visiting in town.

Little Bet daughter of Dr. Jos. Dixon fell from her father's porch banister and broke her collar bone last Thursday.

Owing to certain federal laws we will not open the clock any more, but have a plenty of bargains to give the people. J. R. Smith Co.

In a few more weeks it will be time for the annual election of aldermen, and mayor, to rule and govern the town for the ensuing year, and as a people whether in sympathy with the bond issue or not, we cannot afford to cherish a sentiment that would not be in accord with morality, education, and good government. The ensuing year will be one of even greater responsibility than ever before, in the history of our town, and we hope that no one will allow petty differences to control their actions, but elect men who, like our present board have done, will establish a good school of the people, by the people and for the people, that shall never perish from the earth.

Messrs. W. F. Hart and Edward Garris left Wednesday for Morehead City on a prospecting tour.

Miss Velma Harrington of Kinston, is in town working in the Wilson Times contest for a scholar ship at Atlantic Christian College.

Prof. M. C. S. Nobles, of the State University, will deliver the address at the closing of the graded school. Some of our farmers are through planting cotton, and ready to set tobacco.

Mr. Jesse T. Hart, sold several bales of cotton on this market Friday at the handsome price of 14 1-2 cents per pound, lot through.

The skating rink closed for the season Friday night with a pig chase.

The town authorities are having some much needed work done and still there are some other repairs that would be as great blessing.

Mr. Roy Venters was a visitor here Friday.

Mr. J. F. Barwick made a trip to Maple Cypress Thursday on his wheel.

Mr. Jesse C. Wilson, who lived with Mr. Jerome McGlowhon, near Bethany church, dressed himself and jumped in a well in the yard this morning. His wife made the alarm on finding his hat near by. Help came, and found his body in the well. He had been dead nearly half an hour when taken out. His wife said she missed some laudanum and thinks perhaps he drank it. He walked with Mr. Lorenzo McGlowhon yesterday. Mr. Wilson was a drinking man.

The young men of Ayden entertained most charmingly on Easter Monday by giving a launching party down the Neuse river. The following couples were fortunate enough to enjoy the sail:

Miss Davis with Mr. H. L. Kountz.
Miss Dawson with Mr. V. L. McCall.

Miss Powell with Mr. S. F. Noble.
Miss Nichols with Mr. Allen Cannon.
Miss Richmond with Mr. Dixie Cannon.

Miss Berry with Mr. L. E. Turnage.
Miss Lawrence with Mr. W. A. Quinerly.

Miss Bessie Lawrence with Mr. E. J. Gardner.
Miss Gaddy with Mr. R. L. Turrage.

Miss Edwards with Mr. D. B. Howell.
Miss Hunt with Mr. H. E. West.

MOORE-JACOBS.

Popular Young Couple Were Married Thursday.

A marriage of much interest to friends in this city, as well as throughout the state, occurred Thursday afternoon at St. James' church at a quarter to six o'clock, when Miss Ella Jacobs, the charming and attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Jacobs, became the bride of Mr. Thomas Jefferson Moore, formerly of Greenville, N. C., but for the past several years a resident of this city. Long before the appointed time for the ceremony, the church was nearly filled with the many admiring friends of the young couple waiting to witness another of the beautiful spring weddings that have taken place this week. The church was very tastefully decorated for the occasion with palms, ferns and amilax, the ceremony was performed by Rev. William H. Milton, D. D. rector of the church.

The bride had as her maid of honor, her cousin, Miss Florrie Grant, of Wilmington, the first bridesmaid was Miss Helen Clark, of Wilmington. The other bridesmaids were, Miss Alice Davis, Miss Bessie Loder, Miss Anna Grant and Miss Julia Post, of Wilmington; Miss Nannie Parrish, of Rocky Mount; Miss Annie Fenner, of Raleigh; Miss Nannie Walker, of Winston-Salem, and Miss Nannie Biggs, of Williamston, N. C. The best man, a brother of the groom was Mr. Andrew J. Moore, and the groomsmen were, Messrs. Joe. N. Jacobs, a brother of the bride; J. Burt James, of Greenville, N. C.; Walter Wilson, of Greenville; A. M. McKoy, W. R. McMurrin, Frank Holloway, W. E. Hooker, Herbert O'Neil and R. H. Grant, Jr. Little Miss Carrie McLean Taylor and Master Frederick Fetter were ribbon children.

The bride was beautifully gowned in white satin crepe and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and orchids. Several of the bridesmaids wore lilac marquisette over lilac messaline and carried shower bouquets of lilacs, and others wore white chiffon over white messaline, and carried shower bouquets of ferns.

After the wedding the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride where an informal reception was held. Mr. Moore and his bride departed on the evening train for a honeymoon trip to the northern cities. They will be absent for about ten days.

The bride is one of the city's most attractive young ladies and has a host of friends in Wilmington and throughout the state. Mr. Moore holds a responsible position with the Murchison National Bank and is held in the highest esteem.—Wilmington Star.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Person returned Friday evening from Kentucky where they have been several months.

Urging Reciprocity.

Washington, April 21.—President Taft today summoned about twenty house members to the white house and urged them to pass reciprocity bill today.

More things seem to be lost than found.

When you put your foot in it don't kick.

Chaperones, Dr. & Mrs. M. M. Saul

About nine o'clock the party left Ayden in buggies for a drive of eight miles to Grifton, where the launch awaited them. After a beautiful sail of fifteen miles down the river, the seine beach was reached and all landed to enjoy a fish fry.

Rowing and fishing added much to the pleasure of the day. At a late hour the launch set sail for the home-ward trip, and tired but happy party voted the young men most delightful hosts.

THREE ARE KILLED IN AN OIL EXPLOSION

3 OTHERS DYING, MANY INJURED.

Burning Oil Sets Fire to Neighboring Buildings.

St. Louis, April 22.—Three persons are dead, four are dying and many others are injured as a result of an explosion this morning at the plant of the Bell Oil Co. in north St. Louis, near the Wabash railroad tracks. An inspector was drawing samples of oil when the tank exploded. He was thrown thirty feet but was only slightly hurt. Part of the building fell on the electric wires and poles were ignited by the burning oil. Six houses were set fire while the bodies of the victims lay in the street overturned in blazing oil.

The Optimist's Creed.

I believe in my country in its limitless possibilities, and in my own capabilities as reflected in my own business.

I believe that every field of human effort that ever beckoned man, still beckons; that every business that ever was worth while, is still worth while; that every chance that ever was, still is; that any man who amounts to a pinch of stuff can yet air-castle his ambition, dare to dream of and ultimately attain the Mount McKinley heights.

I believe that life is one continuous chain of various links, each link an opportunity, and he succeeds most who prepares for them, and if necessary creates them, and then strikes while the iron is hot.

I believe that there are cities yet to be built, oceans yet to be spanned, mountains yet to be levelled, new blessings yet to be unfolded to mankind, and new advancement yet to be made in every line of human endeavor.

I believe that fear-thought is the rock on which have foundered more men and more business than any one thing in the whole sea of existence.

I believe that the world lets, the pessimist go on "pessimizing" and passes on to where the sunshine is.

I believe the world is benefitted by those whose elasticity of mind is great enough to stretch over all achievement and see where improvement can be made on the edges—and then does it.

I believe the wish bone is only fit to make bone dust with which to fertilize the grass which grows in the yards of the indolent.

I believe in the genius of the twentieth century man and woman, whose limits are the infinity of space and whose activities only cease in this world by the beginning of life in the next.

I believe in the sacredness of work in the divinity of dreaming, in the audacity of endeavor.

I believe that I will be thankful that there are so many men in this world that believe as I believe.—Merchants Journal.

Too Long in Power.

President Diaz, of Mexico, has been in power for thirty-five years. In 1876 he drove Sebastian Lerdo from office and assumed the government himself. He was then a rebel, as much so as Madero is today.

Thirty-five years of power has alienated Diaz from the principles which he maintained when he led a revolution. That is the effect of power. It makes a man selfish, autocratic, conservative.

With power comes corruption. Men have bought concessions in Mexico. It has been profitable on both sides—the purchaser to bribe and the officials to receive bribes.

Mexico is a republic but in name only. It is essentially despotic. Elections there are a farce. On the plantations little boys and girls, eleven years of age, begin work at three in the morning and labor until sundown. Boys are beaten by cruel overseers. Women are abused.

It is time for new men and new ideas to control Mexico. That country has need for more humanity, for more justice.

People have a right to throw off a burdensome and unjust rule. Diaz availed himself of that right thirty-five years ago. Madero has the same right now.—Winston-Salem Sentinel.

Dr. Hyatt Coming.

Dr. H. O. Hyatt will be in Greenville at Hotel Bertha May 1st and 2nd, Monday and Tuesday for the purpose of treating diseases of the eye and fitting glasses.

EIGHTEEN THOUSAND CASES

Of Hookworm Disease Treated in North Carolina.

The rapidity with which a knowledge of the cause, harm, cure and prevention of hookworm disease has spread among our people stands without a parallel in the history of preventable diseases. Only a year or two ago there was found quite commonly skepticism concerning the existence of such a disease; but practically all the doubters have now had opportunities for seeing the worms, the sufferers, their recoveries after treatment, and are now actively lending their support to the eradication of the disease.

The quarterly report of Dr. Jno. A. Ferrell, the State director of the hookworm campaign for the three months ending March 31, shows that up to date the physicians of the State have reported treating 18,000 cases of hookworm disease, and that more than 500 of the active physicians of the State are treating the disease. Moreover, it shows that the laboratory of hygiene has examined since the work began 18,000 specimens of feces for the eggs of the hookworm which indicate the infection.

To prevent the further spread of hookworm disease, typhoid fever and other disease similarly spread a waive for better sanitary conditions is rapidly spreading. "Clean-up week" and the compulsory use of sanitary toilets are measures being inaugurated in many towns and villages. Quite a number of county and city boards of education have ordered the installation of sanitary toilets at the schools.

During the past twelve months there have been distributed approximately 200,000 pieces of stock literature on the subject which include a leaflet on hookworm disease, an illustrated pamphlet on plans and specifications for sanitary toilets. These are sent free on request to the Hookworm Commission, North Carolina Board of Health, Raleigh, N. C.

The campaign in a broad sense, is one for better sanitary conditions in the South, an aggressive warfare not against one, but against many diseases. "The success of the campaign," says Wm. H. Glasson, in the April South Atlantic Quarterly, "must lessen the heavy burden of sickness, bring new vigor to great numbers of people, and accomplish the saving of thousands of lives."

BOYS HAVE GOOD DEBATE

Decision of Judges in Favor of the Negative.

Friday night in the graded school auditorium the Henry Grady Debating society had its last debate of the present school term. The query for discussion was "Resolved, That the United States should enter upon the policy of gradually reducing the army and navy."

The affirmative was represented by Ferrall Burch, Ben Taylor, David Moore and Spruill Spain, and the negative by Walter Bruce Warren, Milton Pugh, Adrian Brown and David Whichard.

The boys all made excellent speeches that did them great credit, and while the judges, Rev. C. M. Rock, Mayor F. M. Wooten and Mr. A. B. Ellington, declared the contest a close one, their decision was in favor of the negative.

Four members of the society are in the senior class this year, and as they will graduate from the school at the close of the session, they selected Ben Taylor as their spokesman, who in behalf of the society, presented superintendent Smith a handsome shaving set. The presentation speech was truly a splendid one, and superintendent Smith's reply in acceptance showed much feeling and appreciation.

A Distinguished Visitor.

Pitt county at present has a distinguished visitor in the person of Gen. W. G. LeDuc, of Hasting, Minn., who came in Friday evening to visit Senator R. R. Cotten, at Cottontale. Though now about 90 years of age, Gen. LeDuc is remarkably well preserved and a brilliant conversationalist. He was a general in the Federal army, and was a member of President Hayes' cabinet during the latter's term from 1876 to 1880.

If you cultivate strange bedfellows you're liable to schatch for a living.

MADERO CONSENTS TO PEACE ARMISTICE

THE NEGOTIATIONS HAVE BEGUN

Washington Agent of Insurrectos Thinks Peace is in Sight.

Washington, April 22.—Dr. Yescuse Gomez, confidential agent of the Mexican insurrectos here, received a dispatch this morning from Francisco I. Madero chief of the rebel forces, consenting to an armistice and authorizing his diplomatic agent to open negotiations with the Mexican government. Dr. Gomez immediately telegraphed the news to Senor Debarra minister of foreign affairs at Mexico City. Dr. Gomez was elated and believes peace is in sight. Preliminary negotiations will be conducted in Washington and the final ones probably will take place here.

CARS JUMP THE TRACK.

An Old Man Sees the Accident and Drops Dead.

New York, April 22.—Two rear cars jumped the track on the Long Island railway today and several passengers hurt. The train was just pulling into the Flat Bush station. There were 1000 passengers on the train. An old man, unidentified, was standing on the station platform, saw the accident and dropped dead from heart failure.

NORTH CAROLINA BOYS WIN

Take Two Best Out of Three From Virginians.

The third or deciding game of baseball between the Universities of North Carolina and Virginia was played at Charlottesville, Va., Friday, resulting in 1 to 0 in favor of the Tar Heels. This was two out of the three games won by North Carolina.

Bad Boys.

Every safeguard that the public can devise is thrown around the young boy. No one but a brute likes to see him go to the bad. But there are all too many instances where, do what you will, on the part of parents, Sunday schools and other organizations for good, the boy persists in running amuck. Boys from 12 to 18 years of age in this town—many of them—on the road to be seen round town at all hours of the night Petty thievery is laid to their doors and it has, in a few instances, been established, but the aggrieved parties as a general thing, will not prosecute.

Around the city are some young chaps who are vertiable gamblers; they throw dice, play craps and resort to all kinds of devices to get money. Strange to say in most of the instances the boys are not drinkers; they just seem to be wild over gambling and when they see what they deem a good chance, they break into some establishment, but in every case only money is taken, though costly articles may be in plain view. In many of these cases we know that the parents of some of these boys have done everything possible to reform them without success. The strangest thing about it is that the parents are among the best people in town, the fathers being men who when young sowed very few wild oats, showing that these bad habits have been acquired by associates.

The Jackson Training School is the place for them, but the place is full and running over. And so it is that they will no doubt keep on in their downward course and the next thing will be the workhouse, the county roads, then the penitentiary.—Greensboro Record.

No Time for Wrangling.

When the democratic party, is for the first time in many years just entered into control of one branch of congress it is to be regretted that a quarrel should begin between men of the same party, and more is the shame that they are from the same state, and that state is North Carolina. On the question or reciprocity democrats have different opinions, and to each should be given the right to do what to him seems best for the country. Gudge is not the guardian of Kitchin nor is Kitchin the guardian of Simmons. All of them are expected to do for the good of the country as a whole, and North Carolina in particular. Would God the whole trio could be persuaded to lay aside self and self's interest and for a while consider the cause of the people.—Littleton Reporter.

SATURDAY, APRIL 22, 1911.

The would-be suffragettes got an idea of running for office and voting in the D. A. R. convention.

The Democrats, as is usually the case when good prospects of victory come up, have again gone to scrapping among themselves.

Congressman Webb has also taken a fall out of Congressman Kitchin for the latter's attack on his North Carolina colleagues in his recent speech.

We cannot help from thinking that the man who reads a newspaper and does not pay for it, has somewhat of a mean feeling every time he looks at it.

Keep it in mind that the good roads sentiment is coming on, and after a while you will have an opportunity of voting on the question of issuing bonds to build good roads in Greenville township.

The Henderson Gold Leaf in its new appearance is almost unrecognizable. The new folks in charge are making a mighty good paper of the Gold Leaf, but it is hard to lose sight, or at least recollection, of the way Thad Manning fixed it for years.

The Reflector is spending much money in the equipment of its plant so as to be in better position to work for the advancement of Greenville and Pitt county. The people have always stood by the paper in its efforts and the more patronage they give us the more we can help to advance their interests. We want every citizen to feel a pride in the paper and its plant. All that it amounts to is through your help.

Microbes and Cats.

A Chicago man has organized to kill off the cats. He is a doctor and gives as a reason for his murderous intent that the cat's whiskers are the roosting places of numerous unsightly and terrifying microbes, ready to pounce upon their victim at the first chance. In order to expedit the massacre of the felines the doctor has invented a sort of gibbet trap, which is said to terminate the cat in the most painless manner. The doctor is now being assailed on every side, especially by the women who have taken the cat tribe to heart.

We do not expect this man's microbes scare will result in the death of a single cat. People are getting tired of microbe scares. There are too many of them. If they run from all the microbes discovered they will keep on the run. A person should know how to live—how to keep clean pure, temperate, brave, hopeful, and then snap his fingers at the microbes, especially those in the cat's whiskers.—Ohio State Journal.

They all Know How.

There are plenty of fellows who really know just about as much about running a newspaper as a pig does about steering an airship, and yet they seem to think themselves fully qualified to give "points" to a State press convention. Every well informed person knows that it requires some practical knowledge of anything before one is qualified to give advice on that particular subject. We wonder what a good lawyer would think if a half-dozen or more fellows having no practical knowledge of the law whatever would take the liberty to call around at his office every day and tell him how he ought to manage his law practice? What would the medical doctor think if everybody in the community felt at perfect liberty just any old time to insinuate to him that he is a dull scholar and a back number anyway, and if he would practice medicine thus and so he might amount to something after awhile? What would the banker or the merchant think if people who do not know even the first principles of banking or the mercantile business were always butting in to give them advice on how to conduct a successful and up-to-date bank or store? They would all feel just like the newspaper man feels under similar circumstances. Just keep this one fact in mind: it requires just about as much brains, careful training and long experience to be a successful newspaper man as it does to be successful in any other profession or calling in the world, and if a fellow doesn't want to find his name down on the newspaper man's list of "Smart Apecks", he had better not get too gay in the matter of giving advice or making suggestions as to how a newspaper should be conducted.—Henderson Gold Leaf.

Why Washington Women Fly.

A man observer has found out why Washington society women are taking such an active interest in aviation. Many have dived deeply into the lore of aeronautics and several of the more daring even have been tempted aloft. The reason is because the feminine students of flying wish to wear the strikingly becoming costume which Gladys Hinckley has devised for herself and her sisters who soar. Miss Hinckley, when she practices flights from the speedway is dressed in a gown of pale lavender corduroy, fitted tightly. The waist, also of corduroy, is made with what is known as "peasant sleeves" and has a Dutch neck. The hat is as effective as it is novel, but after all, it is the boots which take the eye of the women and make them desire to never get offetaointh tT rydiw b play at aeroplaning, even if they never get off the ground. The boots are of soft leather and lace to the knee. The skirt is short enough, so the footgear is by no means hidden. Many of the aviation enthusiasts are planning to have machines sent to their summer homes and in the fall is slated to have a meet in which debutantes and matrons will complete.—New York Press.

POPULATION OF NORTH CAROLINA

Detailed Figured Announced by Census Director Durand.

1910 AND 1900 COMPARED

Gains and Losses Shown in a Decade by the Various Cities, Towns, Villages and Townships Throughout the State—Total Population is 2,206,287, as Against 1,983,810 Ten Years Ago.

North Carolina's position in the front ranks of the southern states in regards to population has been greatly strengthened during the decade from 1900 to 1910.

Detailed population statistics of the state has just been issued by Census Director E. Dana Durand at Washington. They give the figures for every minor civil division and incorporated city.

The total population of the state is 2,206,287 for 1910, as against 1,983,810 in 1900, an increase of 302,477.

Unlike some of the northern and middle western states, the movement from the farming districts to the cities is not nearly as pronounced in this state.

The cities almost without exception show decided increases, in some instances as high as 100 per cent. Charlotte, with a population of 11,567 in 1890 and 18,091 in 1900, is returned with 34,014 in 1910, an increase in ten years of 59.23. Wilmington had 20,976 in 1900 and now has 25,748, while Raleigh shows an increase of approximately 50 per cent, having 19,218 in 1910, as compared with 13,643 in 1900. Asheville is another city that prospered, having a population of 18,762, as against 14,694 ten years ago.

Durham, with 6679 people in 1900, is returned with 18,241 in 1910, an increase of nearly 200 per cent.

The census returns indicate that North Carolina is forging to the front as a manufacturing and mercantile state, while it is losing little as an agricultural state.
