

"WHO IS WHO?"

NO LONGER A MYSTERY

MANY COMPETE FOR THE PRIZES

Key to The Puzzle and List of Prize Winners Given.

The page advertisement of "Who is Who?" published in The Reflector a week ago, attracted much interest among our readers, and many have been at work on the puzzle getting their answers ready to be placed in the hands of the judges today. There were twenty-six lists handed in, and out of these two gave every advertisement correctly and one other missed only one name.

The judges, Messrs. F. M. Wooten, W. S. Atkins, C. S. Forbes and A. M. Moseley, went carefully over the lists this morning. Finding that Mr. B. F. Taylor and Miss Ward Moore both had correct lists, the judges lumped the first and second prizes together and awarded these $6 each. Mrs. J. Hillary's list won the third prize of $2.

Here is the answer to the puzzle advertisements that tell you "Who is Who?":

1. The National Bank of Greenville.
2. Hines-Murphrey Company, bottling works.
3. Greenville Banking and Trust Company.

HAPPENINGS OF FEW DAYS IN AND AROUND AYDEN

INTERESTING UNION MEETING.

Election of Town Officers—Personal And Other Items.

Ayden, N. C., May 2.—Mr. E. L. Brown, Jr., who has been in the employ of the A. C. L., left Monday for Charlotte, where he will enter a business college.

The town election was held Monday, and the regular nominees were elected as follows: J. F. Barwick, mayor; W. B. Quinley, Jos. McGlohorn, John H. Coward, W. M. Edwards and J. R. Turnage, commissioners.

Mr. J. H. Ellen, of Drum Hill, has accepted a position as assistant railroad agent here.

Mr. W. F. Hart left Sunday for Morehead City, to spend a few days.

Mr. Ed. Garris left Monday for Kingston on a business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Stancill Hodges returned Sunday from Washington where they had been attending the funeral of Mr. James Hodges, his father.

Mr. C. S. Carr, of Greenville, made us a pleasant call Friday.

Our town was full of strangers Saturday and Sunday attending the union meeting at the Baptist church. We regret to note the absence of Dr. J. M. Parrott, Rev. B. W. Spilman, Mr. Upchurch, and others who were on the program. The preacher from Dover somewhat resembled Dr. Parrott, about the head (hair red) and the preacher from Grange resembled Mr. Spilman in avoirdupois. The program was well filled, all the time taken except the round table talk. Sunday afternoon on Sunday school work. Sunday night the Baraca class from Winterville entertained the congregation with a splendid program, which was highly appreciated by all present.

We were glad to have a call Saturday from our friend, Mrs. W. J.

UNIVERSITY NOTES.

Carolina Wins From Guilford—Football Schedule for 1911.

Chapel Hill, N. C., May 2.—Carolina won from Guilford Friday 3 to 2 and so doing put the championship of the South Atlantic States in such a fix that, despite Carolina's failure to appropriate it, no other college in North Carolina or Virginia will venture to claim it.

The student body held a big mass meeting Friday night to welcome the team back from its victorious Northern trip on which it defeated Virginia, LaFayette and Georgetown. Speeches were made by several members of the faculty, notably Professor "Billy" Noble and afterwards the students gathered around a huge bonfire on the campus, singing the college hymn with more feeling than at any time in the past five years.

In the annual Fresh-Soph debate between the Philanthropic and Dialectic literary societies held in Gerard hall Wednesday, the Dialectic was the winner. The Phi men were S. W. Whiting and L. B. Gunter, the Di's were G. W. Ward and J. C. Busbee. The question was: "Resolved, That the Legislature Initiative and Referendum Should be Adopted in Several States of the Union." These inter-society debates, besides their importance for the debating training they give the participants, are valuable from an educational standpoint for the whole college. They are always on some question of present day importance and go a long way to keep the University men well informed on current events.

The Yackety Yack which will be circulated in a few days is said to be, for taste in color work, arrangement and picture grouping, the finest annual the University has ever produced.

Manager W. F. Hendricks has completed the following schedule for the 1911 football team:

October 7—Wake Forest at Chapel Hill.

October 14.—Bingham (Asheville) at Chapel Hill.

October 21.—Davidson at Charlotte.

October 28.—U. S. S. Franklin at Durham or Chapel Hill.

November 4.—V. P. I. at Richmond.

November 11.—U. of S. C. at Chapel Hill.

November 18.—Washington and Lee at Norfolk.

Thanksgiving Day—University of Virginia at Richmond.

The schedule which was supervised in large part by Mr. Branch Boccock, who will coach the team, is much lighter than that of last season. The prospects are that only four or five letter men will be back. Captain Winston will lead a practically new team and many people regard this as a fortunate circumstance. The squad last fall was if anything a little too experienced. They did not catch on to the new suits of the faster game as it was played under new rules. Encouraged by the fine showing of the other athletic teams of 1911 and coached by a man who was a fine record of success behind him at V. P. I., the Carolina team for 1911 will make a fresh start and it is hoped a new record for Carolina.

Making Ice Without Ammonia.

W. M. Pruitt, of this city, has achieved quite a success and is the object of much comment through a patent he received some months ago on an ice-making machine and process which may revolutionize the whole system of ice manufacture. The essential point of his patent is that neither ammonia nor acids are used. For the past few weeks he has been demonstrating his process in Illinois, and the wonderful success attained is described in a clipping from the Springfield Journal a week ago.—Greensboro News.

Wyatt, of Morehead City. She used to be Miss Nannie Cox, a very popular school teacher of our neighbor, Winterville.

We were pleased to note the pleasant expression made of our Ayden schools by Mr. W. X. Coley in Sunday's News and Observer.

Our graded school closes a most excellent year with an address in the Disciple church Friday night, by Prof. M. C. S. Noble, of Chapel Hill.

Mr. J. F. Barwick was re-elected mayor of Ayden Monday. Mr. Barwick has held this office for several years, making us a very satisfactory officer.

Mrs. Martha E. Smith, of Buck Neck, is visiting relatives in Ayden.

THE REFLECTOR COMPANY STOCKHOLDERS MEETING

6 PER CENT DIVIDEND DECLARED

Business Made Gratifying Increase The Past Year.

The board of directors of The Reflector Company met Monday night to hear and pass upon the report of the plant for the fiscal year ended April 30th. The report showed a very gratifying growth in business during the year and that the earnings had been 10.4 per cent. A dividend of 6 per cent, payable June first, was declared. The subscription list of the daily edition increased about 33.1-3 per cent, and the weekly edition 25 per cent, and the improvement of its equipment more than 100 per cent. It has taken a year of hard work to bring about such results, and the patronage of the people has shown their appreciation of the enterprise. The paper has grown in popularity with the public as is shown in the increased subscription list. Being better equipped for job printing, there has also been a large increase in that department.

This morning the stockholders of the company met to also hear the report and to elect a board of directors for the coming year. The stockholders were likewise gratified at the showing the paper was able to make for the year, and approved what the officers and directors had done.

The entire board of directors was re-elected by unanimous vote. These are D. J. Whichard, O. L. Joyner, S. J. Everett, R. J. Cobb, C. O'H. Laughinghouse, C. W. Wilson and H. W. Whedbee.

Before adjourning the stockholders extended a vote of thanks to the president for his efforts to advance the interest of the company.

The directors met immediately after the stockholders adjourned and re-elected the following officers:

President—D. J. Whichard.

Vice-President—A. G. Cox.

Secretary and Treasurer—B. B. Sugg.

FARMING IMPLEMENTS

The Most of them Should Last 15 or 20 Years.

Even where there has been a considerable investment in improved implements, it is very rare that any thing like adequate buildings and sheds have been provided for their protection, and it is a distressingly common thing to see implements, even such expensive ones as mowers, and binders, left in the field where they were last used, until the season comes around for use again. As a consequence, there a delay in starting the next time. Some of the parts are found to have rotted or rusted so badly that they will not do their work, and a repair bill is necessary.

The necessity for these repairs not only involves a delay in doing the work, but an additional expense. So well is this habit of neglecting the implements understood by many manufacturers that they can well afford to sell the original implement at cost, knowing that they will soon reap a rich reward in the profits from the sale repairs. Of all the leaks on our Southern farms this is one for which there can be the least excuse and which can be most readily remedied. The most of the farm implements on the market today are well made of the most lasting material and in the main should last from 15 to 20 years if given even moderate care. The first step toward giving this care should be the providing of ample sheds and houses to protect them from the weather when not in use.—D. N. Barrow, in Progressive Farmer.

Righteous Indignation.

"So you want a divorce, do you?" said the lawyer, peeping over his glasses at the worried little man in front of him.

"Yes sir. I've stood just about all I can. My wife's turned suffragette and she is never at home."

"It's a pretty serious thing to break up a family, you know. Don't you think you had better try to make the best of it for awhile? Perhaps it is only a passing fad."

"That's what I have been doing, but there are some things a man can't stand. I don't mind the cooking and I haven't kicked on washing the dishes, but I do draw the line at running pink ribbons in my night-shirt to try to fool the children."

BASE BALL MONDAY.

Greenville Defeats Tarboro in Score 6 to 5.

The Tarboro high school ball team, accompanied by a number of rooters, came down Monday to play a game with the Greenville high school boys. The game was called at 2:30 p. m., but owing to a lot of contention on the part of the visitors as to who should play on the home team, about an hour was lost.

When they did "play ball" the game went through with vim and interest, there being good playing on the part of both teams. The score was as follows:

	R. H. E.
Tarboro001 100 300—5 6 9

SHOCK CURES DEAF MUTE.

Speech and Hearing Restored to Boy Run Over by Auto.

An accident that nearly caused the death of 5-year-old Lester Cohen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Moe Cohen, of 976 Tinton avenue, the Bronx, restored to the child his power of speech and sense of hearing, by which he was totally deprived by sickness three years ago.

Lester, while running after his elder brother, Joseph, who had started for school, fell under a delivery automobile truck driven by Frank Bluff. The wheels, both front and rear, on one side of the machine passed over the child before the operator could stop. Bluff had shouted a warning, but the child's deafness prevented him from hearing.

Scores of children witnessed the accident, and by the time the boy had been carried senseless to the sidewalk his mother arrived and carried him home. Restoratives soon brought the boy to consciousness, and he screamed, "Oh, mama!"

"He can talk," exclaimed the mother in astonishment. "Lester, can you hear me?" she asked.

"Yes, mama; I can hear you," he replied. "Am I going to die?" and he relapsed into unconsciousness.

Dr. Isaac Rich and Dr. J. M. Parmenter called and said the boy had sustained internal injuries and a possible fracture of the skull.

"If," said Dr. Parmenter, "this child was deaf and dumb, the shock has undoubtedly restored both speech and hearing, and on his entire recovery he will be in possession of all his senses. Such cases are rare."

"I will give $1,000 to charity," said Mr. Cohen, "if Lester's speech and hearing are permanently restored. He was 2 years old when he had spinal meningitis, which left him so sorely afflicted. Since then I have spent a fortune employing the most eminent specialists of this country and Europe, but in vain. It may be that wagon wheels have done what the doctors failed to accomplish."

Mr. Cohen is a diamond broker in Maiden lane.—New York American.

Congratulations to the Greenville Reflector. That paper is so prosperous it had to install a new and faster press to serve its patrons.—Greensboro News.

As large and as great a county as is Pitt, and as much cotton as she raises, she has not a single cotton mill within her borders. "These things ought not so to be."

It is two months away, but perhaps not too far to suggest that Greenville might do a good thing in having a Fourth of July celebration of some kind. It would not be bad to bring a large crowd of people here on that day and have something to amuse them when they come.

The Reflector is gratified at its record for the fiscal year ended April 30th. In that year the subscription list of the daily increased about 33 1-3 per cent, and the weekly about 25 per cent, and the business was much larger than in any previous year. At the same time the equipment of the plant has been increased more than 100 per cent, and it is now in position to handle much more work than formerly. We believe the people will appreciate having such a well equipped printing plant here, and will give us work to support it. The ambition of The Reflector is to be of all the service possible to the community and to give the people a paper in which they will feel a pride as their home paper. It is not yet what it wants to be, but is doing its best to serve its patrons well and be of use to the public. We feel grateful to every one who has given us any patronage whatever, and hope to merit their confidence and support at all times.

EASTERN FARMERS AHEAD

In the Report of Farming Conditions in the State.

"I've been from Mecklenburg to Halifax counties this spring," said Mr. T. J. W. Broom, who is directing demonstration work for the State Department of Agriculture, "and have found that the Eastern counties are a great deal more advanced in their work than this upper section. In the east the farmers have plowed pretty much all the winter, the weather being favorable, and their work is well advanced. In some counties the corn is up large enough to work, as it was planted in March. In Mecklenburg, Cabarrus, Rowan, Davidson and those west of these have suffered greatly from rain, and the farmers have done scarcely no work. Of course, those who plowed last fall and in the early winter are in better shape.

"The general idea is for better preparation and better fertilization. While the cotton acreage will not be increased, the better methods will result in a bigger crop at less expense if the conditions are favorable.

"Everywhere I go this one truth holds true: Where a farm is found on which deep plowing is practiced, crops are rotated and plenty of legumes put in the soil, there is found a prosperous farmer, who is making from one to two bales of cotton per acre and from fifty to one hundred bushels of corn.

"One thing that is going to make a revolution in agriculture is tile drainage. Where it is practiced crops have often been doubled the first year. And I do not know of any place where it could be more profitably adopted than in Union county. Dr. Knapp said that tile draining 30 inches deep was equal to plowing 30 inches deep, and he wanted to see some man tile-drain some of the red hills of Georgia. He said that it was a sure preventive of washing.

"Wherever I go I find general improvements and the people everywhere are talking of the contrast between the present and even ten years ago. Farmers are better off, have more, live better, take more interest in their work and are more hopeful and happy in every way. Science and thinking and knowledge are making a profession of agriculture, and the farmer who refuses to adopt the progressive methods will simply be lost in the shuffle. The world will not and indeed cannot pay a man for simply being a farmer, but it can pay and will pay him for the results he achieves, that is for being a good farmer."—Monroe Journal.

Happy Days in Dixie

There is more rejoicing in the Democratic camp. Two more North Carolinians have gone to work—D. McMatheson, of Taylorville, to be messenger at one of the doors of the house and W. E. Hooks, of Fremont, has a position in the house filing room. Representative Doughton placed one and Representative Faison the other. Mr. McMatheson was here during the Cleveland rule. He will hold the place while the extra session lasts. Mr. Hooks is a nephew of Governor Aycock.—Washington Dispatch to the Raleigh Times.

MY DOCTOR MIGHTY FINE

Mrs. Hattie Cain of Carrsville Thinks all the More of Her Doctor Since He Advised Her to Take Cardui.

Carrsville, Ky.—"My doctor," writes Mrs. Hattie Cain, "who advised me to take Cardui, for my troubles, is a mighty fine doctor, and I say God bless Cardui and the people who make it.

"Before I took Cardui, I suffered with female troubles for sixteen years. I would have to send for a doctor every three months, and oh! how dreadfully I suffered!

"I would cramp and have convulsions and it looked like I would die. At last I took Cardui and oh! what a surprise! I found it was the medicine for me!

"From the first bottle, I began to mend and now I am well, can do more work, can walk and go where I please and it don't hurt me, and I owe it all to Cardui."

Cardui helps sick women back to health. It has been doing this for over 50 years. It is not a laxative, or a heart or kidney medicine—it is a woman's medicine.

Giving
All the world is akin. Man to man, man to breast, man to material things, in that every thing which can be reduced to an atom is a part of the great works of the universe. In that every invisible, intangible influence is acting and is acted upon by every other force in existence. Whether conscious or not of these relations they exert their influence on human beings daily.

The strong, robust individual exhales a radiant glow which permeates the atmosphere of his being. The intelligent giant effects with his personality an uplifting power. The beautiful and graceful are to lighten the toils of daily routine work. The sick and weakling make us feel the pangs of sympathy.

Sadder days will come, maybe not for us, but for those who may be dear to us. The helpless and dependent are a burden we wish to bear, and to take control of. Homes are built for the blind, for the cripple, for the homeless and orphans. Widows and fatherless are provided for. Though not sufficiently it seems, yet gladly the pennies and dimes go from the more fortunate to help fallen man.

As every good gift should be fully enjoyed, as every sentiment that goes with it should be fully realized, also ought our giving be done with discretion.

Many cities have formed associated charities which make it a business proposition, the aiding of the poor, is it for Durham alone to take the risk of being negligent on this score?

The widow's mite, the rich man's million will relieve the hungry and cloth the cold backs. But, it may occur to some that often money given for these purposes is being diverted into less worth channels. And in our town we are offered hats, and boxes, and pitiful faces toward which to throw our gifts.

There are none wholly bad, there are none wholly good; there are degrees of both. Who are the deserving, who the criminally negligent, and justly condemned?

What is the business sense of promiscuous donations of the spontaneous giving? Are the pearls thrown to the swine, or for the purposes intended are they being used?

Because a man has lost an eye does not bid fair that he will be adjudged incapable of earning a livelihood. That man has become crippled by the loss of a limb does not justify his posing as a helpless, dependent individual. Hundreds of less fortunate little folks are earning by toil and long hours their keep in our mills. They assist those of their families in filling the larder.

For a strong man such a calling as public begging is a disgrace, and he should be forced to yield his remaining strength to build up our great city. There is no excuse for permitting these false intruders' stay in our midst. Clear the main thoroughfares of them.

It is a disgrace to be without employment in a town where manufacturing goes on, as in this. Every man gets work, if he wants it. We are taxed by county and state to support the really worthy. Not a man but what is glad to assist in this way. It is done in a businesslike way, each paying according to his estate and income.

Charity begins at home in this case, and ought to end here. Roaming, roving, tramping muscle needs but an opportunity to gain a living: we will give it to them. Every case ought to be investigated, labeled, and licensed to a corner. And their past, their present and their future good behavior guaranteed. Each church has its poor; each society, and fraternal organization its duties.

If the county home is not large enough for the deserving, organize some plan to build greater resting places for the young, the old the despairing hungry ones. Help them to get on their feet; if they recover strength, see that they work for their bread.

There is a way. Others are working the plans; humanity is relieved, and every cent goes for the purpose of helping the helpless.—Durham Sun.

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreadful disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by all Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Rather Ambiguous.

The famous epitaph placed on the monument over her husband's grave by a woman up in Maine, 'Rest in peace until I join you,' has almost a duplicate in a sign on the door of a doctor's office in a Cleveland office building. This sign reads, 'Do not absolutely abandon hope until you have seen me.'

THE MONUMENT FUND.

School Children Asked to Assist the Daughters of Confederacy.

Request has been made of us to give each school child one of the "mille of pennies" strips, and ask the children to return the strips filled with pennies. The pennies will be turned over to the treasurer of the monument fund. In accordance with the request, each child in the graded school will be given one of the strips today, and be asked to return the strips on May 11th.

The cause is a most worthy one, and while I know parents are often begged by children for pennies till they feel that a fortune would be needed to give every time the little ones want a penny or a nickel, yet I trust the people will encourage the children in this matter. We ought to have a Confederate monument in Greenville; to this I believe everyone will agree. The monument ought to be built by all the people, not by a few. And the children ought to contribute their share of effort and money towards it. The lesson they learn, and the veneration aroused in their hearts, for those who wore the gray through the long struggle, is worth far more than the pennies for which request is made. I hope our people will take this view of the matter, and that the children will be encouraged in their efforts for the monument.

H. B. SMITH,
Superintendent of Schools.

Civic Education.

In Philadelphia, a City Club has been formed which is intended to advance civic education without reference to politics. The Record, of that city, thinks it is unfortunate that to the majority of the people in our cities, municipal affairs mean only politics. Good government remains a side issue. The only question is what party shall hold the offices, and as a consequence there is no room for the development of the sentiment which makes for intelligent municipal development and the moral uplift. It is with a view to counteract this tendency that Philadelphia's City Club has been organized. It is not in politics. It cares nothing for party candidates or party measures. Its sole aim is to interest the people in the betterment of the city, to awaken interest in civic problems and thus to promote a demand for enlightened and progressive administration. Endorsing the City Club idea, The Pittsburg Dispatch says that "a movement thus conducted, without selfish motives and with the evident purpose of serving the best interests of the people, ought to be sure of success, and it is obviously worthy of emulation." Any organization that will steer clear of politics can do good for its town. In Charlotte, the women of the civic section have given the politicians a jolt and the result has been distinctly beneficial.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Between Gentlemen.

One day the old Southerner walked into a banker's office. The Southerner was a typical gentleman of the old school—suave, courteous to the point of punctiliousness, and honorable to a degree of martyrdom.

"What can I do for you?" asked the banker.

"Well" replied the Southerner, "somewhat more than 35 years ago I lent a man down south some money—not a very big sum. I told him that whenever I should need it I would let him know, and he could pay me the money. I need some money now so I shall let him know, and I would like to have you transact the business for me."

"My good friend," replied the banker, "you have no claim on that money. You can't hold that man to that loan. You say it has been 35 years since you lent it to him? The statute of limitations has run against that loan years and years ago."

"Sir," replied the Southerner, "the man to whom I lent that money is a gentleman. The statute of limitations never runs against a gentleman."

So the banker sent for the money, and within a reasonable time thereafter the money came. There was a courtly gentleman at the other end of the transaction also.

Rights of The Wife.

An important case recently decided is De Brauwere vs. De Brauwere (60 Misc. 472), where the late Justice Whitney held that an abandoned wife who has expended her own money for necessities for herself and the children of the marriage may recover the amount so expended in an action directly against the husband.

It is, however, only the logical extension of doctrine long recognized by the law, namely that the wife has the irrevocable right to pledge her husband's credit for necessities in case he fails to supply her therewith, and further, that she may in such case even borrow money on his credit and expend it for necessities, and that the lender may recover the amount so lent and expended from the husband.

These rules were, however, inadequate to meet the needs of the wife in many cases because oftentimes the delinquent husband had no credit which she could pledge; and even if she had credit, or she could procure assistance from friends, she was placed in the position of a suppliant for favor.

The De Brauwere case, by extending the doctrine of subrogation to the wife herself, has placed her in a position of independence, where she can draw upon her own resources, if she has such for necessities, or purchase them with her own earnings and compel the husband to reimburse her—Bench and Bar.

The Etiquette of Tips.

John Henry William Rehm, who with Henry Hanginsen, another Chicago waiter, will pass the summer of tips paid him, gave the following precepts on tipping. He plans to follow them in giving his own money away:

When dining alone, 10 cents.
When dining with a woman, 25 cts.
When entertaining a party, 50 cents or more.

When in doubt, 10 per cent. of the bill Deduct accordingly when the waiter refuses to smile.

Never offer a tip until after service is over.

Be liberal, but don't overdo it.

Rehm will take his wife and two daughters on the trip. They will sail on the Lusitana in the best quarters available, and for three months will "do" Europe in style.

"A waiter should receive $50 a week in tips," said Rehm in telling of his experiences as a Chicago waiter. "Sometimes when politics is on a waiter can get as much as $10 a day, but other times it runs nearer $5, but it isn't so much getting the tips as saving them that counts."

Rehm did not disclose the amount of his savings, but he admitted he had three cottages in Michigan, another cottage in Edgewater, besides the one in which he lives, and some city bonds.—New York Tribune.

W. K. KELLOGG TROPHY GOES TO ILLS. MAN

BEST EAR IN 3,125,713,600 BU

R. A. James, of Charleston, Ill., is The 1910 Winner of The $1,000 Cup—Grows Best Ear in the 3,125,713,600 Bushels of Last Year's Bumper Crop.

R. A. James, of Charleston, Ill., has the proud distinction of having grown the best ear of corn in all the 1,125,713,600 bushels of last year's bumper crop. At the National Corn Show just held at Columbus, Ohio, this gentleman was awarded the W. K. Kellogg National Corn Trophy, donated in 1909 by W. K. Kellogg, president of the Kellogg Toasted Corn Flake Co., of Battle Creek, Michigan.

Form 1
The W. K. Kellogg National Corn Trophy

Thousands of ears of corn from all parts of the country and of all varieties were entered in the competition. The selection of the grand champion Sweepstakes and the award of the Kellogg trophy were made on general points of superiority.

The ear of corn grown by Mr.

Form 2
R. A. James, Winner of W. K. Kellogg National Corn Trophy for 1910

James is of Reid's Yellow Dent variety. It is 10 inches long, 7 1/2 inches in circumference, and has 20 rows of kernels, 6 to the inch in the row, average 5-8 of an inch in depth, and 5-16 of an inch in width. It is indeed a very correct type of yellow dent corn.

Mr. James, the winner, is a vigorous farmer about 40 years of age, and of pleasing personality, a man who has given careful study to corn culture, and who has achieved his success as a grand champion winner only by years of hard work and painstaking seed selection and careful breeding from season to season.

Illinois growers are especially elated over the result for the season that this is the first time in four years that the honors have been wrested from the state Indiana. Last year's champion ear, the first winner of the Kellogg trophy, was grown by Mr. Fred C. Palin, of Newton, Ind. It was also Reid's Yellow Dent variety, crossed with Alexander Gold Standard. Last year's prize winner is the most perfectly formed ear of the two, though it requires a careful judge to distinguish the points of superiority.

The trophy awarded to Mr. James was made by Tiffany, of New York, for Mr. W. K. Kellogg, at a cost of Chicago, May 2.—A scramble of shorts to cover May, coupled with better cables, caused a rapid bulge in wheat opening. Trade was moderate. Oats were 1-8 to 1-4 higher with fair trade. Provisions were better with an advance of 1-8 in price of hogs at the yards.

Mr. C. L. Wilkinson, Gen'l Agent, Standard Accident Insurance Co., Greenville, N. C.

Dear Sir:
I beg to acknowledge receipt of check for $11.66 by the Standard Accident and Health Insurance Company, covering one week's sickness. Just five days after the claim was made I received the above check. I consider a policy in the Standard Accident Insurance Company to be a good policy, inasmuch as the accident and health and monthly indemnities are $50, with annual premium of $18.

I beg to remain,

$1,000. It is made of Sterling silver, bronze and enamels, and is a truly artistic creation. It stands 30 inches in height. Mr. Kellogg's interest in corn growing can be understood when it is stated that the Kellogg Toasted Corn Flake Co., of which he is president, has an output requiring 10,000 bushels of corn a day, raw product, for its manufacture. A peculiar feature is that while the Kellogg product is made exclusively from selected white corn, the Kellogg trophy has been won, each time by a yellow corn exhibit. The trophy is offered for annual competition until won twice by the same grower.

Form 3
World's Best Ear of Corn for 1910

The National Corn Show at which the award was made, was an event of tremendous magnitude. At one of the sessions President Taft was present and delivered an address.
