MUSICAL AND ART EXHIBIT

ANOTHER NIGHT OF GRADED SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT

THE PUPILS RENDER GOOD PROGRAM

The Art Exhibit One of Much Credit, Showing Progress Made by the Pupils in That Department of the School.

Though not so large as on the previous night, there was a considerable audience at the graded school Tuesday night in attendance upon the recital by the larger pupils of the music department. Those present were more than repaid, for a splendid program was well rendered, bearing testimony to the excellent training the pupils had received.

The program was as follows:

1. Solo—Cachoucha Raff, Miss Lillie Lanier.
2. Solo—Sonata No. 12 .. Beethoven Miss Rubelle Forbes.
3. Duet—Rustic Dance .. Hoffman. Misses May Aeca Warren and Mary Hart.
4. Solo—Mazurka Caprice Wollenhaupt, Miss Gertrude Critcher.
5. Solo—Love and Roses ... Rolfe Miss Rena Smith.
6. Duet—March au Flambeaux .. Clark Misses Leota and Lucy Jenkins.
7. Solo—Grace Bohm Miss Madeline Higgs.
8. Duet—"Les Chasseurs a Cheval" Smith Misses Sallie Jackson and Fanny Spain.
9. Solo—Covenant Chapel. Richards Miss Doris Overton.
10. Solo—Fourth Mazurka ... Godard Miss Lucy Outerbridge.
11. Solo—Fantaisie Rosselen Miss Annie Leonard Tyson.
12. Solo—La Gazelle .. Wollenhaupt Miss Christine Johnston.
13. Solo—Grand March de Concert... Wollenhaupt Miss Maude Lee.

The audience listened very attentively to the performers. Every number was rendered well. Superintendent Smith stated at the close that it was the best recital that the school has yet given.

In one of the class rooms on the first floor was an exhibition of specimens of drawing by the pupils of that department. To the lover of art this exhibit was of more than passing interest. Beginning with the first work by the primary pupils, the pictures showed the progressive steps through to the higher grades. There were specimens from objects from nature and from memory, some in pencil and some in color, that were indeed creditable.

In February the teacher, Miss Kate M. Lewis, offered three prizes to encourage independent work outside of school. The prizes were to be awarded to those persons who brought in the best collection at the end of the session. The prizes were awarded by a committee to Miss Rosa Exum, of the seventh grade, she winning the first prize for the best and largest collection; the second prize was awarded to Miss Novella Exum, of the fifth grade, and the third to Miss Emily Little, of the fourth grade.

This is the fourth year the subject of drawing has been taught in the graded school. The present teacher, Miss Kate W. Lewis, has brought the work up to a high standard of efficiency in the three years in which she has been in charge of it. The graded school authorities regret to give her up. Her work has always been satisfactory. However, the Training school, at which place she has taught two days per week for the past two sessions, will require all of her time hereafter. The Training school is to be congratulated on securing Miss Lewis.

The visitors to the art exhibit were served with lemonade by the teachers in charge.

Tonight the commencement exercises will conclude with a recital by the smaller music pupils.

GOOD ADVICE TO

PEOPLE OF HIS RACE

THE COLORED GRADED SCHOOL.

Good Address By Dr. Dudley, of Greensboro.

Prof. C. M. Epps, principal of the colored graded school, held the closing exercises Tuesday night for this term. Dr. J. B. Dudley, president of the colored A. and M. College, of Greensboro, delivered the annual address. He gave to his people most helpful advice. He stated that he brought to them three wishes. His first wish was that the mothers and fathers of his race would make a greater effort to raise their boys to be more useful, that they would teach them to avoid idleness, and the pool rooms, for such makes worthless men and criminals of them. His second wish was that they would learn to keep themselves and their homes clean. He pointed out how dangerous filth is to them and their neighbors. That consumption is killing more negroes than whites, and the negroes are responsible for their losses, because they do not observe the laws of health. That the state is trying to help them, but that they must help themselves. His third wish was that they would learn to work in mechanical and agricultural pursuits; that they will be appreciated according to their worth.

The negroes should feel thankful to Dr. Dudley for his efforts to help them, and learn to follow his splendid example.

BIG ROW IN CONGRESS TODAY

OVER SUGAR TRUST INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE

REPRESENTATIVE HENRY SCORED

Other Congressmen Jump On Him For "Usurping Powers Of The House." He Comes Back At Them In The Same Spirit.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Washington, May 17.—A big row occurred in the house today because Representative Henry named on his own responsibility nine members of the committee to investigate the sugar trust. Representatives Fitzgerald, Martin, Kendall and Alexander severely criticised Representative Henry for "usurping the powers of the house." Representative Henry declared that "if the house did not like it, it could appoint another committee."

Representative Henry also said that the New York delegation tried to get members on the committee who would not be hostile to the trusts.

NORTH CAROLINA HAPPENINGS

And Briefly Stated for Our Busy Readers.

Charlotte, May 16.—At 11 o'clock this morning, the hundreds of firemen who have assembled in Charlotte to attend the 24th annual convention and tournament of the North Carolina State Firemen's Association, met in the auditorium when the convention was formally called to order by Mayor Pro Tem W. W. Pharr, who presided in his absence from the city of Mayor C. A. Bland. Most graciously did he address the assembled men and women, and as mayor of Charlotte, welcomed the visitors to the city, announcing that the gates had been thrown wide for their reception. The welcome to the several hundred firemen was further added to by President Kuester, of the Greater Charlotte Club, and by Major T. C. Guthrie, of the Charlotte Bar. Mr. Guthrie's address was exceptionally well suited to the occasion, and elicited prolonged applause.

Elizabeth City, May 16.—Next week the thirteenth Great Sun session of the Great Council of North Carolina, Improved Order of Red Men, convenes in this city, May 24, being the opening date. Chiefs from all over the state—Murphy to Manteo—will assemble in council and take the city, as it were, for in addition to the nearly hundred local Red Men the entire city will welcome this great body of fraternalists, as one.

LARGE MORTGAGE RECORDED

A large mortgage has been filed in the office of the register of deeds of Pitt county for registration. It is from the Norfolk Southern Railroad Company to the Central Trust Company, of New York, and is for $25,000,000. It covers 90 printed pages, pamphlet size, and the registration fee was $26.40.

This mortgage takes the place of and cancels one for $12,000,000 previously recorded. It is registered in every county through which the Norfolk Southern railroad passes.

CORONER HOLDS INQUEST.

But Finds Nothing To Sustain A Complaint.

A two-months-old child of Nina Donaldson, a colored woman living on Cotanch street, died under such circumstances Tuesday, that her neighbors suspected foul play. Upon complaint an inquest was held by Coroner Laughinghouse, but the investigation brought out nothing to incriminate the mother of the child. It is supposed the child smothered to death.

INTERESTING NOTES FROM THE STATE UNIVERSITY

WEARERS OF VARSITY INSIGNIA

Coming Commencement Promises to be Most Important in Years.

Chapel Hill, N. C., May 17.—The varsity insignia, the North Carolina monogram, has been awarded to the men who served on the athletic teams for the past spring. It is a safe statement that never in the athletic history of the University, has the standard of attainment of the wearers of the monogram been higher. The men who are given the sweater privilege for the first time are: Calmes, Hasty, Lindsey, Edwards, Ditherington, Duls, Page and Lee; Captain Hackney gets his third star; track, Spence, Patterson, Cobb and M. K. Blalock sweaters, and Winston, Barker, Ruffin, Parsley and Atkinson, stars; basketball, Hanes, Ritch, Smith Tillet and Long; tennis, Bailey; gymnastium, Hughes.

Chief Ball Manager W. L. Small, has appointed the following men as honorary managers of the commencement dances: Robert R. Reynolds, Asheville; Carter Dalton, Greensboro; H. P. Masten, Winston-Salem; W. P. Hill, Jr., Winston-Salem; James N. Joyner Raleigh; Hamilton C. Jones, Charlotte; J. C. B. Ehringhaus, Elizabeth City; R. D. Fames, Salisbury; John Hall Manning, Durham.

Professor M. C. S. Noble delivered the commencement address the past week at Ayden and Pineville, and Prof. E. K. Graham at the Pikeville graded schools. Dr. Edwin Mims and other members of the faculty have been in much demand as commencement speakers all over the state, during the past two weeks.

The entire student body is in the throes of their final examinations now. The examinations will continue until Saturday, May 27, when the commencement begins with the class day exercises of the graduating class. The commencement this year, with the main address to be delivered by Governor Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, and the re-unions and conferring of degrees on all war alumni who failed to get their diplomas because they left for service, promises to be the most important in many years. The number of seniors this year is larger than at any time since the Civil war.

PEACE IN SIGHT FOR MEXICO

DE LA BARRA TEMPORARY PRESIDENT

Hostilities Will End and Traffic Be Restored—Insurrectos will Get Three Governors and Four Cabinet Members—Madero Only Candidate in Election.

The Mexican congress is to immediately issue writs of an election of officers. While Francisco De La Barra will be president till the election of a president, Madero is expected to be the only candidate for the presidency.

El Paso, Texas, May 17.—Dispatches state that formal proclamation of armistice, ending hostilities in the Mexican war is now expected to be effective in a few hours. Madero re-institutes railroad service in the disturbed territories. Diaz is to resign; the insurrectos to get four governors and three cabinet officers.

NEW SMALL POX LAW.

It Might Interest You to Read And Ponder It.

A dispatch recently sent out from Raleigh sets forth very clearly the new law concerning smallpox, and it will be of considerable interest:

"No longer is this state to place guards at the door of the houses where smallpox appears. The last legislature modified the law, placing the quarantine regulations under the board of health and cutting off the appropriation of some $100,000 which it annually cost to conduct the smallpox quarantine. Taking the position that smallpox is controllable by vaccination the state board of health in prescribing quarantine regulations and rules for whooping cough, measles, scarlet fever, yellow fever, cholera, bubonic plague, leaves off any concerning smallpox.

"On the other hand Dr. W. S. Rankin, secretary of the board of health, has had a number of pink and black posters printed with the following statement:

"Until lately the state required smallpox to be quarantined. The state board of health shall now no longer advocate or insist upon the quarantine of smallpox. The board takes this position for three reasons.

"First. Quarantine is uncertain protection; vaccination a certain protection. Quarantine works positive harm in many cases by giving people a false sense of security against the disease, thereby tempting them to forego the certain protection which vaccination would give.

"Second. Quarantine is a very expensive protection. The cost of the quarantine of smallpox to the state in recent years has approximated $100,000 annually, or enough to more than maintain the state university.

"Third. Quarantine is inequitable. By it the taxes that all contribute are used to protect a class. The majority of people, having been vaccinated, are already protected.

"Vaccination is a duty—a duty first to one's self, and second to one's community.

"We are giving this warning because the only way of attempting to handle smallpox by quarantine has caused many people to rely upon the state to protect them and have not been vaccinated. As quarantine will no longer be enforced throughout the state, those who have neglected to be vaccinated during the last five years are hereby notified of the danger their negligence in this matter exposes them to, and are urged to be vaccinated at the earliest moment.

"Remember that smallpox is the penalty of your own negligence and that you little deserve the sympathy of the public if you contract the disgraceful disease.

"The new health laws empower the chairman of the board of county

WEDNESDAY, MAY 17, 1911.

Quit telling us that they are biting until we can get time to go.

Asheville is certainly proving to be something on "moonshine."

Now you can "take 'em off" by degrees, that is a piece at the time.

When Greenville gets the hotel accommodations she ought to have, this will be a good convention town, too.

The busy bees are busy while the drones mope around the hive and grumble. There are folks just that way.

Asheville must be bidding for summer visitors in norating it around about so much booze being in the city.

With home grown strawberries and early grown vegetables in reach, the people are eating—and the doctors are calling.

As might have been expected with the approach of summer feeling weather, congressmen are getting summer resorts in their heads and there is talk of early adjournment.

At this time much is being said by the press throughout the state and country on questions of health. The reader can do nothing better for himself and family, than to give due heed to all articles of so important a nature.

It is said that good schools and good roads are close companions. If the roads of Pitt county were on a par with her schools, they would be something worth bragging about. But with the educational progress the county is making, the good roads will be sure to follow. An enlightened people will not be content with poor highways.

With three candidates for mayor of Greenville already in the field, it is likely that a primary will have to be held to determine which shall be the nominee. There also being a possibility, with three candidates, that neither of them will get a majority of the votes cast at the first primary and a second one may be necessary, it would be well for the candidates to get together and ask for a primary to be held the latter part of next week. Then if a nomination falls in that primary there would be time to call and hold another before the election.

Only a Working Principle.

The Greenville Reflector, interested in the difficult question of determining the line of demarcation between drunkenness and sobriety, submits the following: "When a man can't lie flat on his back on a perfectly level surface without holding on, he's drunk." This particular definition is excellent so far as it goes, but it by no means goes far enough. There have been citizens lying as flat on their backs as the topography of their environments would allow who were not holding on to anything—not even the consciousness of their surroundings—and yet who were undeniably in a sad state of intoxication. On the other hand, there have been citizens flat on their backs, holding on with might and main—to the man on top of them—who, however belligerent, could not be considered drunk. Thus The Reflector's definition by no means covers the outlying districts of the problem to which it refers. As an active working principle, however, it may be counted upon to give approximately accurate results.—Charlotte Observer.

"Stop My Paper."

The highest duty of an editor is to battle with wrong. This, of course, brings him in conflict with wrong doers and they are apt to show their spite in various ways. It is quite common for the thin skinned or wounded to rush into the office and shout "Stop my paper!" This class is pointedly shown up in the following fashion: A certain man hit his toe against a pebble, and fell headlong to the ground. He was vexed, and under influence of anger and self-sufficiency he kicked mother earth right saucily. With imperturbable gravity, he looked to see the earth itself dissolve and come to naught. But the earth remained, and only his poor foot was injured in the encounter. This is the way of man. An article in the newspaper touches him in a weak spot, and forthwith he sends to stop his paper. With great complacency he looks, to see the crash, when he finds he only hit his toe against a world that does not perpetually feel the shock, and injures no one but himself.

No sensible editor expects to please everybody. Such an editor lays no claim to infallibility, and may at times even fall into error. But an outspoken, independent journal, aiming to support the right and attack the wrong, is such a power for good in any community that well-balanced minds will look over little faults in view of the greater benefits conferred. An editor who is afraid to speak out on public questions for fears of offending somebody, may have an easy time of it; but he will never amount to much as a leader of opinion. Thoughtful people will generally honor independence; and for every subscriber lost in battling for the right he will likely find two to take the place. This is according to the law of compensation.—Ossining Republican.

The South as Peace-Maker.

No one can read the Department of Agriculture's statement of farm crops by states for 1910 without fully realizing that southern agriculture now grows much faster than western and is at last, after many years of difficult adjustment to new but far sounder conditions, coming again into its own. No state in or near the cotton belt failed to improve its rank except Louisiana; and this one exception is undoubtedly due to conditions created by the boll weevil. Louisiana had almost quit raising cotton for the time being, and had not done much more than offset the loss with other crops. Under the circumstances her showing is as good as that of Texas, which has had time for adjustment to boll weevil conditions and which now takes first place by a large margin from Illinois. South Carolina's leap from twenty-first to thirteenth among American States, in contrast with Kansas' drop to tenth, is the most impressive exhibit of all. North Carolina's gain of 18.3 per cent, or from twenty-second to eighteenth place, was much larger than Texas made and was in fact, the fourth largest in a fast-gaining south.

This remarkable showing is largely due to the high price of cotton, but let us remember that cotton would never have brought such a price had not the Southern farmer learned to raise, and had he not been provided by manufacturing developments with a market for various other crops.—Charlotte Observer.

ROYAL Baking Powder Economy

The manufacturers of Royal Baking Powder have always declined to produce a cheap baking powder at the sacrifice of quality.

Royal Baking Powder is made from pure grape cream of tartar, and is the embodiment of all the excellence possible to be attained in the highest class baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder costs only a fair price, and is more economical at its price than any other leavening agent, because of the superlative quality and absolute wholesomeness of the food it makes.

Mixtures made in imitation of baking powders, but containing alum, are frequently distributed from door to door, or given away in grocery stores. Such mixtures are dangerous to use in food. In England, France, Germany and some sections of the United States their sale is prohibited by law. Alum is a dangerous mineral acid, and all physicians condemn baking powders containing it.

The label of alum baking powders must show the ingredients.

CHILDREN'S HAIR.

Keep It Free From Dandruff And It Will Grow Lovely.

"Being the best hair dressing for men and women, Parisian Sage is also best for children. Try it once and see how clean and healthy it keeps the scalp."

"My daughter used Parisian Sage on her children's hair, and it is as good as you recommend it to be."—Hannah Anderson, 1021 Divine St., Columbia, S. C.

Here is what a North Dakota woman says:

"Parisian Sage certainly has done my hair a lot of good, and will highly recommend it as a very good tonic for the hair. Have used various kinds of tonics and have found Parisian Sage the best. I have my hair free from dandruff now, and it has a healthy luster and has an even color. It used to be streaky. Many of my friends are using it and they speak highly of it."—Mrs. Anna Rooney, 161 Second St., N. Fargo, S. D.

Always bear in mind that there is nothing for the hair that can compare with Parisian Sage. There are many imitations but none of them are guaranteed to eradicate dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks, or money back.

The Reflector Want Ads Bring Results—Try One

Our Contest

this week is a little different, in that we are hiding a longer sentence and only a portion each day for six days, among the various advertisements. Look everywhere, even in the Bargain column adlets. To more equalize the chances of winning the prizes and to make it more interesting generally we will skip every third word in the sentence, leaving the others to be guessed or supplied. Three Prizes will be given as before:—First prize, one year subscription to The Daily Reflector or three years' subscription to The Carolina Home and Farm and Eastern Reflector; Second prize, six months subscription to daily or the equivalent on weekly subscription as above; Third prize, five pound box of candy from A. B. Ellington & Co.

The hidden sentence will consist of words which will answer the following question: Why should merchants and business men use The Daily Reflector as an advertising medium and which are the good days on which to use space to insure the ad. being read?

Remember, the answer contains 25 words in two sentences, of which 8 are to be guessed or supplied.

Social and Personal.

The Candidate.

Father, who travels so late at night? Hush, my child, that's a candidate. He's a fit subject of human woes. Early he comes and late he goes; He goes to the field where the farmer's at work, He worries the merchant, he worries the clerk.

To the blacksmith while his anvil rings, He calls, and this is the song he sings:

"Howdy! Howdy! Howdy you do? How's your folks and how are you?"

But, father, why can't he work like you,

Has he nothing at home to do? My son, whenever a man is down, No cash at home, no credit in town, Too stupid to preach, too proud to beg,

Too honest to steal, too lazy to dig, Then over his horse his leg he flings, And to the dear farmer this song he sings:

"Howdy! Howdy! Howdy do? How's your folks and how are you?"

How This Man's Music Stopped Business at the Hotel.

Hamlet, May 15.—The other night a well dressed gentleman stepped up to "Bill" Lassiter, popular night clerk at the Seaboard Hotel and asked him if there was any objection to a free concert in the hotel lobby with no hat to pass around. The genial clerk readily assented. The stanger opened a stylish traveling bag and drew out an old accordeon.

Then began such a burst of music as the natives have not heard for many a day. Songs, merry and sad. Imitation of church music, two steps from the masters and the rag timers.

Guests stopped, bags in hand, and forgot that they were hungry. The waiters deserted the kitchen and the manager was too much engrossed to notice that they had ceased their labors. The lobby soon filled and overflowed to the ladies' parlor. The tired traveling man thought of home and babies as the strong tenor voice rang out the homely melodies. Then the singer sang a comic snatch and a big hearted drummer led the cheering. Now the song was of "baby days" and a tear glistened in the shoe salesman's eye as he said: "I'd give a thousand dollars to be able to sing like that."

"Atlanta and Birmingham train. All out for Atlanta and Birmingham" cried the porter and the accordeon sought its case and the singer sought his train. The spell bound crowd still lingered. The reporter recovered and climbed the steps of 41 as she was pulling out.

"Ben Chadwick of Westfield, Mass.," delegate to the sixteenth convention of the American Federation of Musicians and Music Publishers. He had only been advertising, but he left a happy streak behind him all the same.

To The Voters of Greenville.

At the solicitation of several prominent business men and many personal friends, I have consented to become a candidate for mayor, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, and take this means of announcing my candidacy and soliciting your support. 5 15—tfd J. B. JAMES.

To The Voters of Greenville.

I take this method of announcing myself a candidate for mayor, subject to the action of the Democratic voters of the town. As has been the custom heretofore, and as there is more than one candidate for the nomination, I suggest the holding of a voting primary to decide upon the nominee. In announcing my candidacy, I wish to state that I have no special interests to serve, and am no particular person's candidate, and if nominated and elected, will do all that I can for a more economical administration of the town's affairs, and to serve all the people to the best of my ability. 5 15—tfd W. F. EVANS.

To The Voters of Greenville.

I respectfully announce myself a candidate for the office of mayor of Greenville, subject to the will of the Democratic primary. I have retired from the drug business that I may live more in the open air and purpose, if elected, to devote myself to the detailed discharge of the duties of the office.

My past record as an officer is known to you. I have used my best efforts to enforce the laws, and if elected, shall continue to do so. Gratefully, 5 15—tfd FRANK M. WOOTEN.

SEEKING THE SOUTH POLE

Norway, Great Britain, Australia and Japan Hope for Antarctic Glory.

The sailing of the German Antarctic expedition marks another important step in the international campaign to reach the South Pole. Two expeditions are already within the Antarctic circle and two more are contemplating the invasion. Of the former, Capt. Amundsen, of Norway, is presumably actually struggling across the polar ice fields, while Capt. Scott, of Great Britain, the successor of the gallant Shackleton, is preparing upon Antarctic shore for a poleward dash. Of the other two, the Japanese expedition, as we recently suggested got off too late in the season and had to turn back, to try again in our fall and the Antarctic spring, while the other hailing from Australia, is constructing an airship with which to navigate the Antarctic heavens. The fifth expedition, from Germany, will be far behind the two now in the field in point of time, but it will be led by a singularly efficient and successful explorer, and it will follow in the track of Shackleton.

Dr. Nansen has just written to the London Times a welcome letter in explanation—we would not say in defense—of Capt. Amundsen's course. There are those who thought that the Norwegian explorer acted strangely in setting out ostensibly for the North Pole by way of Cape Horn and Bear-in Strait and then making instead of a dash for the South Pole, and deeming him guilty of sharp practice and of a breach of ethics. Dr. Nansen tells us that Capt. Amundsen did mean to go to the North Pole, but when he was in the midst of his preparations news came of Cook's claim and of Peary's achievement. He realized that his hope for adventure had been forestalled. He could get no further support in America nor any subvention, from the Norwegian government for seeking a goal which had already been reached. So with such means as had already been placed at his disposal he decided to make an Antarctic venture. He did not until he had got as far as Madeira, last August, tell even his financial patrons his intention, fearing that they would not approve it.

We would say that Capt. Amundsen might have some explanations to make to his backers to reconcile them to his going South on the money which they gave him for going North. But we have no doubt that they would approve his change of plans; indeed, that they have already done so. When they subscribed to the fund the North Pole was still unconquered. Surely they would rather pay for an attempt at the unattained than for another at that which has been attained. At any rate, it is with them alone that the Norse adventurer has to settle. If they do not condemn him, nobody should. Of course, there is no prohibition against anybody's going to the Antarctic regions at any time. No explorer and no nation has any monopoly of adventure there. And it will be observed that Capt. Amundsen has scrupulously selected a route as remote as possible from that which he knew to have been chosen by Capt. Scott. The rivalry between the two expeditions is therefore entirely fair and friendly, and only creditable results are to be expected.—New York

GRAY HAIR MAKES

YOU LOOK OLD

A Simple Remedy Brings Back The Natural Color—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

How often one hears the expression, "She is gray and beginning to look old." It is true that gray hair usually denotes age and is always associated with age. You never hear one referred to as having gray hair and looking young.

The hair is generally the index of age. If your hair is gray, you can't blame your friends for referring to you as looking old. You can't retain a youthful appearance if you allow your hair to grow gray. Many persons of middle age jeopardize their future simply by allowing the gray hair to become manifest. If your hair has become faded or gray, try Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation which a chemist by the name of Weyth devised a few years ago. It is simple, inexpensive and practical, and will banish the gray hairs in a few days. It is also guaranteed to remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.

It is a pleasant dressing for the hair, and after using it a few days itching and dryness of the scalp entirely disappears.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agent, MOYER'S PHARMACY.

How One Crop Was "Ruined."

Last year the writer was given a temporary shock by a friendly reader of the Progressive Farmer in the following way: Meeting our friend on a train one day, we were greeted by the statement, "Well Doctor, you were the cause of me ruining 10 acres of corn this spring." We asked how this happened, and the explanation was that the farmer having 10 acres of corn, which was nicely up, a negro hand was directed to take the smoothing harrow and run cross-wise the rows, giving the crop a good harrowing. At about the time the work was being finished the owner, on going to the field, was disgusted to find his field of corn, as he thought, completely ruined. He and the negro agreed that it would have to be planted over, but bad weather or other work prevented the replanting for several days, when the farmer got out his planter and seed and went to the field to replant. Here our friend stopped his narrative and on being asked to continue the story, said: "Well, we didn't replant that field, but put the planter and seed back in the barn and hitched to the harrow and ran it over the balance of the crop that was in suitable condition for harrowing."—Tait Butler, in Progressive Farmer.

Do Ghost Haunt Swamp?

No, never. Its foolish to fear a fancied evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes, bayous, and lowlands. These are the malaria germs that cause ague, chills, and fever, weakness, aches in the bones and muscles and may induce deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters destroys and casts out these vicious germs from the blood. "Three bottles drove all the malaria from my system," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. C. "and I've had fine health ever since." Use this safe, sure remedy, only 50c at all druggists.

Saved Child From Death. "After our child had suffered from severe bronchial trouble for a year," wrote G. T. Richardson, of Richardson's Mills, Ala., "we feared it had consumption. It had a bad cough all the time. We tried many remedies without avail, and doctor's medicine seemed as useless. WHAT IS GOING ON ALL AROUND AYDEN

THE TOWN FILLED FULL OF FOLKS

An Old Newspaper Affords Interesting Comparison.

Ayden, N. C., May 17.—Ayden is alive with my folks, your folks, and all the neighbors' folks, and five hundred folks I never saw before. All seem to be having a good time from their appearance.

We are glad that our Hanrahan quill driver has aroused up again. We surely enjoy reading his articles and wonder why he lay dormant so long.

Yes, a few years make many changes, and in some cases much improvement. While looking through our sanctum we per chance found a copy of the "Ayden Journal," a paper published in Ayden by Messrs. A. L. Harrington and Dr. J. W. Taylor, dated March 15, 1898, and we copy the produce market as it appeared, so our readers can see the improvement in 13 years: Eggs, 8 cents per dozen; new corn, 40 cents per bushel; peanuts, fancy, 40 cents per bushel; chickens, old, 20 cents each; fodder, $1 per hundred; beeswax, 20 cents per pound; good shingles, $3 per thousand; middling cotton, 5 1-4 cents per pound. Today eggs are worth 12 1-2 cents; corn, $1; peanuts, $1.40; chickens, old, 45 cents; fodder, $1.25; beeswax, 25 cents; shingles, $4.50, and middling cotton 15 1-4 cents per pound. Mr. Harrington, one of the editors, is now a wholesale grocer in Kinston, while Mr. Taylor is an optician in Greensboro, both doing well and getting rich. This goes to prove that oft times small beginnings result in great things. In the same issue we note a lot of adds. That reminds this scribe of old times, such as Geo. H. Leggett, Dr. C. T. Case & Sons, Tucker, McGlohorn & Co., Cobb, Cannon & Co., Miss Annie L. Lee, Smith, Taylor & James, Turner, Tripp & Co., W. F. Hart & Co., and W. H. Dew. The latter is the only one but what has changed the style of his firm, gone out of business, died or moved away.

Mr. J. T. Grimsley, an ex-revenue officer of Snow Hill, is visiting the family of Mr. Joe Lawrence.

The 12-months-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Mooring, died here Sunday from the effect of measles, was buried Monday near Ballard's Cross Roads.

Mrs. Lydia Gardner returned Monday from Middlesex, where she had been visiting relatives.

Miss Viola Gaskins left Saturday to make her home at Middlesex, her father having moved there some months ago.

Rev. Mr. Mathews, an Episcopal evangelist from England, began a series of meetings in the Episcopal church here Tuesday night. Sunday he will speak to men only, on the subject "The Wreck of Human Lives." His first service was very good, on "The Prodigal Son." Service at 10:30 a. m. and at 8 p. m. each day until close of the meeting. It is a treat

WAITING FOR THE OWNERS.

Unclaimed Money in Uncle Sam's Vaults.

Stacked in one of the corners of the steel-ribbed vaults of the United States Treasury, $300,000 in gold coin is going begging. The government cannot give it away, yet none of the rightful owners can be induced to take it. It represents unclaimed interests on the public debt. Some where, in nooks and crannies and out-of-the-way places, are the government's interest checks for the money which have not been cashed. Some of them never will be presented, others may be brought around in time, and some are being held by cautious investors.

From time to time the treasury attempts to call in the checks, and the vagaries of human nature are shown. One citizen has more than $80,000 waiting for him, and holds the checks for it. He was invited recently to cash it, and he made a trip to Washington to tell the treasury officials the checks were his property; he would cash them when he pleased, or burn them if he wished. If he does the latter his money will be held in the vaults until congress, perhaps, might dispose of it. The treasury can do nothing but keep it.

The contractor who laid the first pavement upon Pennsylvania avenue, from the capitol to the White House, has $21,000 waiting for him. It has been there many years, but the treasurer never has been able to find the rightful payee, as the contractor failed and his affairs became involved in litigation, which never has been settled.

The amounts of this seemingly ownerless fund ranges from thousands down to a few cents. The smaller amounts are all held for those who owned government securities at some time or other, and probably have forgotten to collect their latest interest. Washington Dispatch.

Senate A Place of Peril.

The United States senate is a practically good thing for the doctors. Being a senator is one of the most wearing jobs that a man could well find. If the truth be told about it the reason so many senators have died in the last few months is that being a senator is a deadly occupation.

During the last weeks of the tariff session a census of the senate was made by two of its members, who reported that only half its members were regularly under the care of physicians. Bad nerves, bad stomachs, loss of sleep overworked, close confinement in offices and ill-ventilated senate chamber constituted the basis of the trouble. The average senator rises to big responsibilities, important committee places, etc., at about the age when other men are laying down the most enormous demands on their time. The burdens come less able easily to bear them. But there will continue to be plenty of comfortably fixed old gentlemen apply for the toga just the same.—Washington Times.

Theories are all right until you try to make them do practical stunts.
