PITT COUNTY FAIR ASSOCIATION

The Outline of Its Aims and Intentions Are Given

FAIR WILL BE HELD IN NOVEMBER

No Shows of Any Kind And No Horse Racing in Connection With It—Farmers Are Invited to Get Some Of Their Crops, Poultry and Stock Ready For Exhibition.

In the month of April a number of farmers met in the town hall at Greenville, the county seat, and discussed forming an association for the purpose of bringing together annually the farmers of our county that they might show or exhibit their products and discuss our possibilities and probabilities. That association has now become a fact, with officers elected, a board of governors and township committees. Now that all the people of our county may understand its object and meaning this article is written. It is intended between November 1st and 15th to have at Greenville an exhibition of all agricultural products—corn, cotton, tobacco, peas, peanuts, potatoes, fruits, chickens, turkeys and such other fowls as are raised in this county, hogs, cows, oxen and other farm animals. There will also be space devoted to the showing of bread, cakes, canned fruits and needlework.

Prizes will be offered in each department. While the prizes for this year will be small in money value still we hope to stimulate those who will exhibit that the value will not be in the prizes awarded, but by learning from the man who has produced the most or best, at the lowest cost to cause the others of us to strive to reach his point of productivity and lower his cost of production.

It takes a long time to conduct a crop experiment, and when Mr. A. has followed one course and Mr. B. another we want to bring them together and let each man prove himself to be a teacher to his neighbor and his countyman.

There will be no shows of any kind. The aldermen of Greenville have been requested not to issue permits to any show during this exhibition. It has not been decided yet whether the exhibition will be held one or two days. The boys corn judging contest will be on the same day. This is not a money-making proposition. The men who are pushing it are doing so for their love of their people and confidence in the development of their home county. We invite you to get ready some farm products of whatever kind you see fit to enter into the contest, be with us on that day, let's exchange ideas and experience and make it a day of pleasure only as it is a profit to ourselves, our families, our neighbors and our county.

Yours truly,
J. L. WOOTEN, President.
D. J. WHICHARD, Secretary.

MR. E. A. BALDREE DEAD.

Passed Away Saturday Afternoon of Pellagra.

At 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Mr. Elias Baldree died at the home of Mr. R. L. Little, near Winterville, where he had lived for sometime. He had been in poor health about a year, and was confined to his bed for six months.

Mr. Baldree was a deaf mute and was born March 6th, 1864, making him a little more than 47 years old at the time of his death. In April, 1906, he married Miss Lula Spivey, of Johnston county, also a deaf mute, and is survived by the wife but no children.

Mr. Baldree was a painter by trade, and a most industrious and upright man. He had a host of friends, and though unable to converse except in the sign language, he was always a congenial companion. He was a member of the Baptist church at Winterville and a devout Christian.

The burial took place Sunday afternoon in Winterville cemetery, funeral services being conducted by Rev. M. A. Adams.

If you are not in favor of good roads you ought to be.

ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS PRIZES

OFFERED BY THE STATE TO BOYS

In Corn Growing Contests—Pitt Has 17 Entered.

Raleigh, N. C., June 5, 1911.

Editor Reflector:
At the December meeting of the Board of Agriculture there was appropriated $500 for prizes to the boys of the state who made the most corn on an acre of ground. Rules and regulations governing the contest were sent to all applicants. Since then there has been subscribed by manufacturers and fertilizers about $500 more, making about $1,000 to be given to the boys who excel in growing corn. In many counties the number of boys entering the contest has been disappointing. In view of this I am going to hold my books open through the month of June, and will enroll any boy of the right age who sends in his application. There is yet a fine opportunity for some boy who has not entered to do so and win a prize. There will be about $100 worth of prizes to each Boys Corn Club district. Only 73 boys have sent in their applications from the third district, as follows: Pitt, 17; Greene, 0; Wayne, 22; Lenoir, 15; Craven, 3; Jones, 1; Carteret, 0; Onslow, 2; Duplin, 9; Pender, 3.

So far Wilkes is the banner corn club county in the state. The county superintendent of that county, Mr. C. C. Wright, has sent in 132 applications. If every county in the state would do as well as Wilkes, we would have more than 10,000 boys in the contest studying corn growing and laying the foundation for better and more profitable farming against the day when they shall become men and undertake the responsibilities they will then assume. What a state, agriculturally, North Carolina might become in a few years, if we had 10,000 of her boys now studying how to grow more corn and incidentally learning the foundation for better farming along all lines! Enough county pride should possess every progressive person in the district to encourage him to give the movement the benefit of his or her influence. Let the fathers and mothers of the boys in the district encourage them to enter the contest and see how much corn they can grow on an acre. The experience will be worth a great deal, even though they should not win a prize. Besides, we hope to continue this work, and if a boy fails to get a prize this year he stands a better chance of getting one next year, if he enters the contest now, than if he waits until 1912 to enter.

I shall be pleased to send blanks to any boy who wishes to enter the contest. Do not write to me to enter your name, but ask for a blank to fill out, as only those who have signed applications in my office will be considered members of the corn club. I will send with the application blank one of our Boys' Corn Club buttons.

"SAVED AT SEA."

A Sermon in Story And Song Sunday Night.

Rev. C. M. Rock and the choir gave the second of a series of sermons in story and song in the Baptist church Sunday night. The subject was "Saved at Sea," and it gave an interesting story of the wreck of a vessel near an island on which was a light house, the only person saved being a little girl, who was taken to the home of the aged light house keeper. The keeper was not a Christian, but those coming to hunt for the child led him to build his hopes upon "the Rock" instead of upon the sand. The songs were an appropriate part of the story.

IMPROVED BARBER SHOP.

Herbert Edmonds Puts In New Equipment.

Herbert Edmonds has caught the spirit of progress that prevails in Greenville, and has entirely replenished his barber shop, discarding all the old chairs and fixtures for a new outfit. He has handsome barber chairs of a new pattern with elegant finish and upholstered in green leather. The cabinet, mirrors and waiting seats for customers are also new. His shop is modernly equipped and thoroughly sanitary.

The following letters were reported through the committees appointed to look after the matters mentioned:

Greenville, N. C., June 3, 1911.

INTEREST IN MEN'S PRAYER LEAGUE

CONTINUES IN WARM WEATHER.

Good Meeting Sunday Afternoon and Splendid Talks.

Even though the afternoons are warm the attendance upon the Men's Prayer League continues good, and the meeting in the Methodist church Sunday afternoon was fully up to the usual interest. Two of the appointed leaders, Messrs. E. A. Moye and J. C. Lanier, Jr., made splendid talks on the subject "Give Your Best," emphasizing the text "What shall I render unto the Lord for all His benefits toward me?"

In the open discussion that followed the suggestion was made that the members of the league read the Ten Commandments at least once each week.

The subject for the meeting next Sunday, which will be held in the Presbyterian church, is "The Treasure House." Text, Col. 3:2 and Matt. 6:19:21. Leaders, Messrs. W. J. Brown, B. S. Warren and B. W. Mosley.

A SPORT RIGHT.

"Rings On My Fingers And Bells On My Toes."

Will Bryant, the colored chauffeur of Mr. H. A. White, was the envy of the colored population this morning. Will appeared on the street dressed in his best. His pants were rolled at the bottom a little bit higher than the regular turn, displaying bright blue socks above his low shoes, and from the bow of each shoe dangled a dollar bill. Every "coon" eyed him with envy and admiration as he passed.

Baraca Excursion.

The Baraca class of the Baptist Sunday school have already begun plans for their annual excursion, and will shortly announce the date and full particulars. Morehead City and Beaufort will likely be the point to which the excursion will be run this season.

Replying to your communication of the 20th inst., relative to securing our Star warehouse, for the purpose of holding a Pitt County Fair during 3 days in the month of November, we are pleased to grant you the use of this property, contingent upon the closing of the tobacco market during the three days, and beg leave to say also that, personally, for myself, and I am sure our organization will take great pleasure in aiding you in your efforts to secure a successful agricultural exhibit.

Elizabeth City Physician Dead—Searching Parties Out After Criminals Near New London—Man Charged With Highway Robbery in Laurinburg—Col. W. B. Rodman Attorney For N. S. Railway.

Elizabeth City.—Dr. Julian E. Wood one of Elizabeth City's most prominent citizens, passed away Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Although the venerable doctor had been in bad health for several months, following a nervous breakdown, his death was sudden and proved a great shock to a large number of friends.

New London.—For the past two days and nights a searching party has literally scoured the woods near here, trying to find two negroes who have been pillaging and robbing farm houses day and night for the past three days. The negroes are supposed to be escaped convicts from the prison at Salisbury. The searching party consisted of fifty well armed men, who are determined to capture or run the negroes out of this section. They caught sight of the negroes only once yesterday and were unable to locate them any more. The party is still on the trail and it is hoped that they will capture the robbers today.

Laurinburg.—The June term of Scotland Superior court for the trial of criminal cases will convene Monday, June 5. Judge H. M. Justice will preside. The case of chief interest will be that of Herbert Lane, a young white man, charged with highway robbery. Lane is charged with waylaying Mr. George F. Avinger, secretary and treasurer of the Scotland and Dickinson cotton mills, and robbing him of nearly $1,000. The crime was committed Saturday, while Mr. Avinger was on his way to the mills with money for the pay rolls. The evidence will be largely circumstantial.

The announcement that Col. W. B. Rodman, who for the past seven years has been division counsel for the Southern Railway Company, with supervision of all legal matters affecting the company in North Carolina, has resigned his position effective July 1, and that he will locate in Norfolk, Va., will come as a distinct surprise to his many friends in Charlotte and throughout the state. Colonel Rodman will go to Norfolk to become assistant general solicitor for the Norfolk Southern Railway and also general solicitor for the Roper Lumber Company. These two corporations are among the foremost and best known in Eastern North Carolina and the fact that Colonel Rodman has been chosen for such high offices in the two is a distinct tribute to his ability.—Charlotte Observer.

Damage approximating $5,000 was wrought by a fire at Derita yesterday morning at 3:30 o'clock. The two-story store building of Mr. W. R. Jordan, in which was located the postoffice, was entirely destroyed. The loss on stock was about $3,000, with $500 insurance. The building which was a frame affair, is a total loss. All of the mail on hand was destroyed but about $500 worth of stamps which were in an iron safe escaped the flames.—Charlotte Observer.

Town Election.

The town election for one alderman in each ward, and for a mayor for two years, has been in progress today. The election has proceeded so quietly that it could hardly be told, except about the polling places, that an election was going on. A nomination being equivalent to election, the voting is all one way without any opposition to the nominees, hence no great interest is shown.

MONDAY JUNE 5, 1911.

THE FIRST WARD.

The first ward folks of Greenville are feeling themselves. That ward used to be looked upon as an almost insignificant part of the town, but not so now. To bring about a recognition of their rights in matters municipal, the first wardites don't mind talking right out and telling what they have. And better still, their claim is well founded. Just listen at these things that are located in the first ward, and we may not even tell it all: Handsomest court house and jail in North Carolina, site for the government building which will soon be erected, municipal light and water plant, four churches, two cemeteries, two two-story office buildings and one hotel. Among the citizens of that ward are the mayor, two ex-sheriffs, two ex-superintendents of health, three doctors, and "the richest man in town." Now if any of you fellows have been disposed to speak lightly of the first ward, just speak easy hereafter.

There are dealers in Greenville who, contrary to the law, are selling cigarettes to small boys. Already some people are taking note of these violations with a view of presenting them to the grand jury if not stopped. The thing for the dealers to do is to stop it before trouble comes.

"Cold feet" brings up another ground of suit against the railroads. A case was recently tried in Jackson county, the demand set out by the plaintiff being suffering from cold feet in an insufficiently heated car. And the plaintiff got the verdict.

It was said in the press dispatches week before last that Lorimer was going to resign last week to stop further investigation. But he is yet holding on, and will likely continue to hold on until he is prized off. They will be apt to oust him this time.

A union depot costing a million dollars is to be built in Norfolk.

Making Good Wives.

The world is becoming more practical every day. The latest instance is in the house keeping contest, held in Columbia, S. C., under the auspices of the Mothers' and Teachers' Club of the Bon Air School. The nature of the contest is disclosed by the list of awards. As enumerated by the Yorkville Enquirer the prizes offered are: (1) for best results in cooking loaf bread, rolls, biscuit, corn muffins, waffles, battercakes, hominy, rice, boiled Irish potatoes, broiled steak, scrambled eggs, tea and coffee; (2) sewing plain shirtswaists, buttonholes; (3) starching and ironing; (4) bedmaking; (5) table setting.

Work Will Start Soon.
After you take Dr. King's New Life Pills, and you'll quickly enjoy their fine results. Constipation and indigestion vanish and fine appetite returns. They regulate stomach, liver and bowels and impart new strength and energy to the whole system. Try them. Only 25c at all druggists.

(6) lamp cleaning; (7) arrangement of flowers in vases. The contest was open to all school girls in South Carolina and there were representatives from many parts of the State. It is the most sensible character of a contest that has yet come to the knowledge of The Chronicle. It might be called an institute for the manufacturer of good wives.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Six Children and Six Dogs.

This section of North Carolina is a good stock country and times would be much better if more people would give attention to sheep raising and less time to the worthless dog industry. There are a few folks who appear to place a higher estimate upon an ordinary hound than they do upon their families. We have learned of a certain family composed of a father, mother, six children and six dogs. There are no chickens, pigs or cows on the premises and the dogs are fed and cared for whether the children have sufficient food and clothing or not. If the head of this family would substitute pigs and sheep or other stock for his dogs the problem of supplying the household with the necessaries of life would be solved and his neighbors would find life more pleasant.—Lenoir Topic.

No Need of a Trust.

Is there a paper trust? If not what head does it come under? The President of the American Paper and Pulp association testified before the senate finance committee the other day and denied that there is a paper trust, but said that the object of the association was to "educate paper manufacturers to get all they could for their product." In pursuance of that policy of education, he sent out a letter last year to the various manufacturers recommending a curtailment of production to maintain uniform prices. Suppose we accept the statement of the association's president, that there is no paper trust, it makes little difference. There is no need of one while his organization is in existence. A trust could not improve any on his methods, when it included the curtailment of output to maintain prices and the inculcation of the doctrine that the manufacturers must "get all they could for their product." His testimony makes it easy to understand why the price of print paper has advanced at an unnatural rate, and why the output has not kept pace with the growth of newspapers. White paper is an enormous item in the expense of publishing a paper.—Greensboro News.

Fine Cabarrus Wheat.

Mr. H. B. Parks brought us yesterday a lot of wheat stalks that are just a little ahead of anything that has ever been reported to us. There were 38 stalks and heads of wheat which came from one grain of wheat. These heads averaged 85 grains to the head, making 3,200 grains produced from one. The wheat was of the Fulcaster variety, and came from Mr. Parks' farm in No. 2 township, about 2 1/2 miles from the city, formerly the D. F. Cannon farm. Mr. Parks has 12 acres of this wheat, which he says will probably make 35 bushels to the acre.—Concord Tribune.

Good News for Catarrh Sufferers.

So many hundreds of catarrh victims who have taken the HYOMEI treatment, have written thanking us for publishing our method of taking the HYOMEI vapor treatment in connection with the inhaler that we gladly publish it again. The vapor treatment is especially recommended in stubborn cases of chronic catarrh of long standing, but remember that the inhaler should be used daily as usual. This treatment only takes five minutes time before going to bed. Pour a teaspoonful of HYOMEI into a bowl of boiling water, cover head and bowl with towel and breathe for several minutes the vapor that arises. You will be surprised at the result of this treatment; it makes the head feel fine and clear; you will sleep better, and that stuffed up feeling will gradually disappear. This method will break up the worst cold in the head in one night. A bottle of HYOMEI cost 50 cents at Coward & Wooten's, who guarantees it. Complete outfit, which includes the little pocket inhaler, costs $1. No stomach dosing; just breathe HYOMEI and cure catarrh and all diseases of the breathing organs. Free trial bottle by addressing Booth's Hyomei Co., Buffalo, N. Y. 5 15,25—65.

RESTORE GRAY HAIR TO NATURAL COLOR

By Common Garden Sage, a Simple Remedy For Dandruff, Falling, Faded Gray Hair.

The old idea of using sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers used to have dark, glossy hair at the age of seventy-five, while our mothers have white hair before they are fifty. Our grandmothers used to make a "sage tea" and apply it to their hair. The tea made their hair soft and glossy, and gradually restored the natural color.

One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it, especially as it had to be made every two or three days, on account of souring quickly. This objection has been overcome, and by asking any first-class druggist for Wyth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy the public can get a superior preparation of sage, with the admixture of sulphur, another valuable remedy for hair and scalp troubles. Daily use of this preparation will not only quickly restore the color of the hair, but will also stop the hair from falling out and make it grow.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agent, Moye's Pharmacy.

ASK $160,000,000 FROM U. S.

University to Honor Jewish Banker Who Aided in Revolution.

A movement has been broached by the Federation of Jewish Organizations of this state to secure from the United States government about $660,000, with compound interest from 1776 or about $160,000,000, which, it is claimed, is due the heirs of Haym Salomon, the Polish Jew banker and patriot of New York and Philadelphia, who during the American Revolution helped finance the Federal cause.

The federation wants congress to pass an act creating the Haym Solomon National University in Washington, D. C., with this money, and to set the movement afoot will hold a mass-meeting Sunday evening, June 11, in the synagogue Kehal Jeshurun, 177 East Eighty-fifth street.

They have invited to speak Governor Dix, ex-President Elliot, of Harvard; Governor Wilson, of New Jersey; ex-Supreme Court Justice William N. Cohen, Congressmen H. M. Goldfogle and William Sulzer, Louis Marshall George Sulzberger, of Philadelphia; Mayor Gaynor and Edward Lauterbach.

Louis Friedman, of the federation, issued a statement last night telling of the intention of the organization. In it he says:

"A blot has been resting on the American nation for over 135 years—the ingratitude of ignoring the services of the greatest patriots of the revolutionary period, who financed and backed the government in freedom's cause, the great Polish Jew, Haym Soloman, of New York and Philadelphia, banker and patriot. The proposed university is to be the clearing house of the intellect of American universities and colleges; of research work in all branches of human thought that are at present philanthropically carried out by some of our tainted money philanthropists"—New York American.

Clouds dimly lighted, gathering slowly;
The star of peace at watch above the crest—
Oh, holy, holy, holy!

We know, O Lord, so little what is best;
Wingless, we move so slowly;
But in thy calm all-knowledge let us rest—
Oh, holy, holy, holy!
—By John Charles McNeil.

A Charming Woman

Is one who is lovely in face, form, mind and temper. But it's hard for a woman to be charming without health. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation and kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. But Electric Bitters always prove a godsend to women who want health, beauty and friends. They regulate stomach, liver and kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion, and perfect health. Try them. 50c at all druggists.

Home.
What is the home that we dream of—
That poets have pictured as such?
Is it the work of the builder,
Or is it the infinite touch?
Is it that cot built by fancy
Whence all our desire have led?
Oh, is it that which we have fashioned
With sheltering roof overhead?

What is the home that we dream of—
Is it merely to shelter us here?
Now as I hark, through the gloaming
The answer comes sweet to me ear,
Patter of feet on the stairway,
The music of childish delights,
Soft spoken prayers, through the silence
The lip of their whispered good-nights.

Books, my good friends and companions,
Look down upon me from their shelves—
Each shares the home with its master,
And all loving children themselves;
Comforts far more than I merit
Surround me to cheer and bless—
Lo, as an end of my musing
I sense a soft, loving caress.

What is the home that we dream of?
A mansion and cot are the same—
Builders but fashion the body,
'Tis love makes the heart and the flame—
Love and the prattle of children,
The patter of feet in the hall,
Happiness, some one to share it,
And tenderness over it all.
—John D. Wells.

NEGRO GIRL STEALS DIAMOND RING

BELONGED TO MRS. J. S. TUNSTALL

Girl Arrested But Ring Has Not Been Recovered.

On Saturday Mrs. J. S. Tunstall missed a handsome diamond ring, valued at about $175, from a jewel case on the bureau in her room. Suspicion at once rested upon a colored girl, Caroline Wilks, who worked about the house and had been sent to the room the day before.

An officer was notified, and the girl, learning that she was suspected, left town. She was arrested Saturday night about four miles in the country and was brought to the lock-up. She confessed taking the ring, but could not, or at least did not, make a true statement of what had been done with it. Several different statements were made as to where she had hid the ring, but a search at these places failed to disclose it.

The girl is only about 14 years of age, and it is probable she turned the ring over to some older person who advised her to tell stories about it.

HE GETS BACK TO HILLSBORO

THERE SEES AN IDEAL WOMAN.

One Who Lives, Moves And Does Things.

Hanrahan, N. C., June 5.—It was Friday and just 1:53 p. m., when the whistle blew a long blast and the porter called out, "Hillsboro!" As soon as the train came to a stop, I with suit case in hand, stepped off and into the waiting room deposited it. Then I took a northwardly direction up a rocky street hedged on either side by stately oaks, or I suppose they were oaks. I was not observing streets or trees very closely then, my mind being intent on something besides.

Two blocks from the depot on the east side of the street stood a quaint old house, such as only Hillsboro has. In front was a porch with a trellis from end to end save the doorway, and that was arched with a semi hoop. The trellis and arch were covered with variegated roses and sweet peas. Just back of this stood a woman. She was neatly dressed, though not gaudily. She was not beautiful, not even pretty as many see beauty. She was about 5 feet tall, weight 170, rather out of proportion for a symmetrical or graceful form. Her tresses were more red than auburn, large ears, prominent nose broad mouth which when she laughed exposed a well kept set of broad and irregular teeth, her face more round than long with freckles not very thinly scattered here and there, her hands rather short and not well tapered and not as soft and white as the foam that floats on the ocean wave. She could drive the team afield. She could mow the grass, rake the hay and stack it, too, if the hired help would not stay. She gracefully mounted on her charger, for she was graceful on horseback. With her well trained shepherd dog she could each day just before the shadows were too fast falling drive the well kept flock of sheep to their fold. She could hurdle each named Jersey and command that each go to her own stall, and in perfect quietude they would obey. Then she could scientifically collect and measure each one's food and give it in the proper proportion to get the best results. She could prepare and cook a meal fit for a lord on earth. She could cut, fit and make her own dresses neat enough for a princess to wear. Yes, she could do this and more. She could comment on the complicated political problems of the day. She could discuss the needed reform movements of that time. She could charm you with quotation after quotation from the best books and standard magazines. She never wasted a precious moment reading trash. She could quote almost verbatim a series of sermons that she had heard Sam Jones preach, but she never made a dunce of herself attempting to mimic him. No, she was not a preacher in the sense that she took to the pulpit and tried to make the world and the church believe that she was a great power by trying to mimic someone else, but her life was a sermon more forceful than many a pulpit oratorical display that has the sound of great beauty but not spirit of the lowly Master. She did things in her own inimitable way in the fear of God and Him only, even doing what she conscientiously believed to be her duty. That done the world might think or say as it choose.

She had but little regard for that class who for lack of better principles or training only think and say evil of those who prove a great mission, that of trying to elevate humanity, especially their own sex. She had, indeed, the one brightest gem that adorns the female sex, that of true modesty, but she was as far from that false article called or practised by some as modesty, as is the heavens above the earth.

She would not hesitate at any time to get to a fallen woman if by so doing she could lift her up. If necessary, she would not hesitate to lay hold of a drunken sot and pull him out of the gutter, if by so doing she could hope to alleviate his suffering or help him to a better life. But every one, be he dude with sparkling diamonds, with flippant words and a contracted upper extremity of the spinal cord, or be he polished with ever so enticing words, when in her presence he well knew that only thus far can I go and no further.

This is a real woman, one that lives moves and does things, and not one created in my shallow mind. Several of our "F. F. G's" know her well, and a number of Kinston's best people have heard her laugh and seen her broad teeth. Here the curtain falls. (To Be Continued.)

I Buy At Home.

Because my interests are here.
Because the community that is good enough for me to live in, is good enough for me to buy in.
Because I believe in transacting business with my friends.
Because I want to see the goods.
Because I want to get what I buy when I pay for it.
Because my home dealer "carries" me when I run short.
Because the man I buy from stands back of the goods.
Because I sell what I produce here at home.
Because the man I buy from pays his part of the town, county and the state taxes.
Because the man I buy from gives value received always.
Because the man I buy from helps to support my school, my church, my lodge, my home.
Because when ill luck, misfortune or bereavement comes, the man I buy from is here with the kindly greeting, his words of cheer, and his pocket-book, if needs be.
Here I live and here I buy.—Exchange.
