HE MAKES A DIGRESSION

Takes a Trip to the City to Buy Him a Shirt

BUT GETS IN THE WRONG STORE

Falls In With Boot Black And Gets Two Big Shoes Shined In The Old-Fashioned Way—Bishop Watson Wanted Some Quinine But Did Not Get It.

Hanrahan, N. C., June 17, 1911.
I must digress just here sufficient to tell the operator how much I am trying to make this copy legible and intelligible to myself or any one else. I have stuck my pencil in my mouth almost for every letter until my salivary glands have refused to secrete. So now I am using a glass of water to dip the pencil in. [And the improvement is great.—Opr].

It reminds me of a time when I first grew up. I went to Goldsboro. It was not near so large then as now, though I thought it was a large city. So I tried to put on city airs. I walked erect, took short, quick steps, carried my eyes in front, would not turn my head to look at any thing, but I did want to see the beautiful windows, Oh, so much. So I decided to muster up an excuse to go into one of the stores. I was going to stay over in the city at my aunt's that night, and take my best girl to an entertainment, provided she would consent to go. I decided to buy a shirt, and that would be an excuse to get in a store and see some of the pretty things. The next door I came to I turned at a right angle and into the store I went, my eyes still looking ahead. I know not where I would have gone or what I would have butted against had I not met a very genteel man, who said, "Good morning, sir. Is there something that I can show you?" "Yes, sir," said I, "I want to look at a nice Sunday shirt." I saw that he smiled a little, for I was watching him. Then said he, "Beg your pardon, but you will have to go a gent's furnishing store to get the desired article. This is a fancy grocery store. I will take pleasure in showing you a store that you can get what you want."

So he went clear out on the street with me and pointed out a store on the next block. I thought to myself I have done it, he knows that I am a clod-hopper. But I determined still to hide it. (I have ever been rather persistent). I had only gone a short distance when I met a tall mulatto and he said, "Hallow, countryman, when do you expect to leave the city?" I didn't even look at him, I knew that if I should stop to lay down with a dog I would get up with fleas, and I didn't know which of us would lie down if I stopped to argue. So I began to think what is it about me that they all know that I am from the country. I began to st about to find out. So I at last looked down at my feet, and my shoes were all covered in mud and dust (that was before Shinola was used or shoe polish of any kind, except Mason's blacking). Then I raised my head again and soon met a little colored boy. He said, "Mister, don't you want your shoes shined?" I nodded assent. "Take dis here seat and put your foot on dis here box." Then he turned his head and brought a deep sigh and kinder whispered, "gosh, what a foot." Then he went to work vigorously cleaning off the mud and dust. Then he began to dip his brush in the blacking box and to spit, then he'd rub and spit. About the time he had begun on the second shoe he saw another colored boot black on the other side of Walnut street and he began to becon and call to him. He came running and when he got there he said, "Look here, Jim, can't you lend me a little spit? I done used up all I had on that tother shoe. Dis here man shone did come from the country where dey has big feet." When he had finished I said, "How much do I owe you?" "Well, boss, I ingenly has 5 cents, but being as how I had to call dis fellow I think I ought to have a dime."

I gave it to him and moved on a few doors further and in I went. Here I met an 18-year-old girl, one of those gigling kind. "Is there something for you?" with a quirl to her superior lip, "Where is the gentleman clerk?" I said. Then she laugh-

TODAY'S DOINGS AT NATIONAL CAPITOL

WOOL BILL DEBATE CONTINUES.

Roosevelt Will Not Attend Taft's Wedding Anniversary.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Washington, June 17.—It was learned at the white house that former President Roosevelt will not attend President Taft's silver wedding next Monday.

The American Protective Tariff League has opened headquarters here to fight Canadian reciprocity.

Washington, June 17.—The house resumed debate on the wool schedule this morning. Representative Stephens, of Mississippi, made the first speech in favor of the bill. The debate will probably end early next week.

William Dunn, the American newspaper man accused of plotting to murder Madero, has been released from jail at Monterey, according to advices received today.

BUNKER HILL ANNIVERSARY

All Boston Celebrating the Anniversary.

ed right in my face, and said, "Men don't clerk here." Then I looked and saw all kinds of fancy hats with feathers and ribbon on them. So I eased out and made for my aunt's. Since then I saw Bishop Watson, of blessed memory, go into a drug store and wanted quinine, but he gave it the correct pronunciation as if spelled "kenine" and the clerk told the bishop he did not have it. Rather than embarrass the clerk in the least, the bishop said "I am sorry." He spoke a few other kind words and walked out. He saw the quinine on the shelves but would suffer rather than wound in the least the feeling of a man.

COAST LINE LEAGUE OPENED FRIDAY

Greenville Takes First Victory From Ayden, 2 to 0

KINSTON-GRIFTON TIE 11 INNINGS

Greenville Game A Fine One, The Teams Being Nearly Evenly Matched—Large And Enthusiastic Attendance—Juvenile Battery Makes Debut.

The Coast Line Base Ball League opened Friday with games between Grifton and Kinston, at Kinston, and between Ayden and Greenville, at Greenville.

The Kinston game reached the end of the ninth inning with a tie score of 4 runs for each team. Two more innings were played without a score when the game had to be called off on account of darkness.

About 600 enthusiastic rooters gathered in the park here to witness the opening contest between Greenville and Ayden. They went expecting to see good ball, and were not disappointed. The game showed the two teams to be nearly evenly matched, there being such good playing on both sides as to make the result uncertain and keep the crowd watching every point.

It was a few minutes to 4 o'clock when Umpire Turnage called the game and announced that Greenville's first battery would be Skinner and Dail. Then the two bright little fellows, Master Charles Skinner in a suit of white, and Master Haywood Dail in a regulation suit of green, took their positions and passed the first ball. The grand stand gave them a rousing ovation.

Then on came the game in earnest, the plays by innings being as follows:

First Inning.

Greenville.—James went out via Renn to Graham. Lanier picked out one that suited him and drove the ball over Parker's head for two bases. Forbes got in the way of one of McCall's wide pitches and was hit, going to the first. The heavy hitting Lutterloh flied out to center field and Lanier was caught off second for the third out.

Ayden.—Renn was hit by pitched ball and stole second when Floyd struck out. Darden tightened up and struck out Dean. Graham flied out to Lanier.

Second Inning.

Greenville.—Jordan hit safe, the ball taking a bad bound past Summerell, which netted the runner two bases. Smith advanced Jordan to third on an out McCall to Graham. Riddick scored Jordan by driving a clean single through short-stop and stole second on the next ball pitched. Lipscomb sacrificed Riddick to third. Darden struck out.

Ayden.—McCall out to James. Bert made one of the star plays of the game by going out into short left field robbing McCall of what looked to be a safe hit. Turnage struck out. Darden took care of Parker's weak tap to pitcher.

Third Inning.

Greenville.—James flied out to McLawhorn. Lanier went out Renn to Graham. Forbes was hit by pitched ball and Lanier ran for him. Lanier stole second. Lutterloh hit center field fence for two bases scoring Lanier. Lutterloh advanced to third on a wild throw. Jordan flied out to Parker.

Ayden.—Summerell made first on a slow infield tap that Lutterloh failed to get. Summerell stole second while McLawhorn was striking out. Renn failed to deliver, missing three fast ones. Floyd was hit by pitched ball and Dean struck out, making three strike outs in this inning.

Fourth Inning.

Greenville.—Smith hit for a clean single through the infield. Riddick forced Smith at second. Riddick again stole second on the first ball pitched. Lipscomb flied out to Parker. Riddick attempted to steal third and was called out, this decision being off color.

Ayden.—Graham hit safe to right and McCall sacrificed him to second. Turnage helped the runner around to third on a neat sacrifice, but Parker couldn't get the necessary poke that would have scored Graham.

THE HAPPENINGS AROUND WINTERVILLE

MASONS ELECT NEW OFFICERS.

Personal Mention, News And Business Notes.

Winterville, N. C., June 17.—Mr. H. Langston left Thursday for Montreat and from there he will go and attend the International Baptist Convention.

Go to see Harrington, Barber and Company for your land plaster. They have a car load for peanuts.

Several Ayden people came over Wednesday evening and at a special service at the Baptist church two were baptised.

Mr. M. B. Bryan, who is keeping books in Raleigh, spent Thursday evening here with Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Bryan and others.

Harrington, Barber and Company have for sale 50,000 good, red heart shingles.

Miss Jeannette and Mr. C. T. Cox spent Thursday evening with Miss Lizzie Cox near Cox's Mill. They report a good time and a dusty ride.

If you want a nice-buggy spread, see A. W. Ange and Company.

Messrs. Heber McLawhorn, R. L. Abbott, Eugene Cannon and F. F. Cox attended the game of ball at Greenville yesterday.

Harrington, Barber and Company can supply your wants in paints, oils. They have all colors.

A party of our young people gave Mrs. J. D. Cox, in South Winterville, a storm party last night. The party rendered music and everyone enjoyed it.

A nice lot of pants at A. W. Ange and Co.'s.

Prof. F. C. Nye and Misses Mimie and Dora Cox, Kate, Lula and Mamie Chapman all have been attending the E. C. T. S. this week. They are also helping out the railroad by all going and returning every day.

Harrington, Barber and Company have a large lot of timber on hand and it will pay you to see them and give your orders for flooring, ceiling and turned work.

Mr. J. F. Stokes, of Greenville, and Mr. Tom Gardner, of Grifton, were both in town yesterday talking insurance.

The A. G. Cox Manufacturing Company have been receiving orders for their supplies to be shipped to South Carolina Jan. 1, 1912. It is a good plan to place orders in time.

Mr. Ernest Cox made a trip to Kinston Thursday night.

If you need feed that will keep your horse fat, try some of the A. G. Cox best prepared peavine and oat hay.

Mr. Wade McCotter, of Grifton, was in town yesterday evening.

A car load of best wire fence just received. A. G. Cox Manufacturing Company.

Mr. J. W. Harper has moved into the Kittrell home and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Rollins will move into the house vacated by Mr. Harper.

Masons Elect Officers.

On Thursday, June 15th, was a great day for our Masons here, it being their day for the annual communication, also work in the second and third degrees. About 50 of their number assembled in the morning, preparatory to completing their work in the third degree and electing officers. How good and how great it is to live and dwell in unity, for a more pleasant communication was never held by a band of about 50 brothers. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

E. W. Braxton, W. M.
E. F. Tucker, S. W.
A. G. Cox, J. W.
R. F. Harrington, Sec.
R. H. Hunsucker, Treas.

After the meeting they called for labor to refreshment, and nice barbecue and lemonade was spread in plenty.

A CHEERFUL FARMER.

Makes Fine Crop of Oats And Other Crops Are Good.

Stokes, N. C., June 16, 1911.

Editor Reflector:
I have just finished cutting a fine crop of oats today. I made 1,408 bundles to the acre.

My wheat is fine, will finish cutting this week.

My corn and cotton is nice also, but it is very dry here.

We had a nice little shower Monday night, which we felt very proud of.

SUMMER TERM TRAINING SCHOOL

It Has An Unusually Strong Faculty-- Large Number in Attendance

SPLENDID WORK FOR TEACHERS

Observation Class For Principals And Superintendents Gives Practical Demonstration In Organization, Administration And Supervision Of Schools—Special Lectures By Prominent Educators.

The summer term at East Carolina Teachers' Training School, which began June 6th and will continue for eight weeks, has an unusually strong faculty, the regular teachers being reinforced by some of the most prominent educators of the country.

All of the subjects taught in the public schools of the state are being taught in this summer term, and in addition to these are courses in Latin, Pedagogy, Chemistry, School Management and Household Economics. The state adopted texts are used.

A special course in Administration and Supervision for school principals county and city superintendents is being conducted by Dr. Geo. D. Strayer, of Columbia University, which is almost invaluable to those having the superintendency of teachers. In connection with this is observation of a group of children taught by Miss Margaret Blow, one of the graduates of the school. Dr. Strayer takes his class of principals and superintendents into this department and practically demonstrates the organization, administration and supervision of a school. By this means the principals and superintendents get valuable ideas for instructing the teachers under them in organizing and directing their schools.

A series of lectures on topics of especial interest to teachers will also be given by distinguished educators. Already Dr. J. T. Gibbs and Dr. Strayer have given most helpful lectures, and will be followed by others during the term.

The attendance at the summer term has already reached 247—the largest number of students that have been here at any one time before—and others are registering almost daily. All the dormitories of the school are full and homes in the town available to boarders are filled.

President R. H. Wright and the strong faculty united with him, are in this school doing a work for the teachers of Eastern North Carolina the value of which cannot be measured in dollars and cents. It will tell for years to come in the betterment of the public schools through more efficient teachers, and thus the greater educational uplift of all the people.

On Friday, 30th inst., the anniversary of the breaking of ground for the erection of buildings for the school will be celebrated with appropriate exercises. Governor W. W. Kitchin and other prominent men will be here to speak on that occasion.

GRAND LODGE PYTHIANS.

Eastern North Carolina Gets Several Officers.

The Grand Lodge Knights of Pythias of North Carolina have just held a good meeting in Asheville, the representatives from Greenville being Messrs. A. B. Ellington and J. S. Mooring.

It is noticed from the proceedings of the meeting that the eastern section of the state is recognized for a good share of the grand lodge officers. Mr. Walker Taylor, of Wilmington, was elected Grand Vice Chancellor; Mr. C. C. McLean, of Greensboro, Grand Chancellor; Rev. R. B. Owen, of Rocky Mount, Grand Prelate; Mr. W. T. Hollowell, of Goldsboro, Grand Keeper of Records and Seal; Mr. R. S. McCain, of Henderson, on the judiciary committee; Mr. L. J. Mewborn of Kinston, on the credentials committee, and Mr. A. B. Ellington, of Greenville, on the finance committee.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to extend to the people of Greenville my heartiest thanks for their kind attention to my wife during my absence, and especially during her recent illness.

LET'S HAVE A "HOME COMING."

The Reflector offers the suggestion of making the week in which the county fair will be held next November, a "Home Coming" week also. The "Back Home" movement is being discussed now all over the South, and it is a good thing to agitate. There are many Pitt countians scattered throughout various parts of North Carolina and in other states, and it would not be a bad idea to invite all whose addresses can be obtained to pay their native county a visit. Some of them might be induced to return and again make their home among us, but even if this should not be the case, it would no doubt be a pleasure to many, as well as to their relatives here and the folks who know them, to have them visit their home county and see what we are doing.

We throw out this suggestion to the governing board and township committees of the Pitt County Fair Association, that at their next meeting here on the first Friday in July they can consider the matter of having a "Home Coming" in connection with the fair. At the same time suggestions from any citizen of the county would be in order and the columns of The Reflector are open to any who desire to express themselves. Let's start a "Home Coming" movement right now.

If the eastern section of the state had her natural advantages backed up by the good roads enthusiasm that the western section possesses, you would see this section lead the world in advancement. We have the best farms, the most productive lands, and the finest climate, and if we had good roads there would be no holding us back.

Not A Dead Letter.

Recent seizures of whiskey—in Mooresville, Asheville and Hendersonville, in particular—would seem to indicate a belief has gone abroad that the prohibition law in this state is a thing that can now be defied and little or no attention paid to the defiance. That, or there is a general and almost an open movement in contempt of the law. Again, it has been published that some of the near-beer dealers will take out government license and continue business, replacing near-beer with a new article manufactured for the purpose. Their protestations that they will handle nothing contrary to the law, is plainly negated in their application for Federal revenue license. If they intend to operate within the prohibition law, they have no need of a revenue license. But we were going to say that those who think they may see a laxity in the enforcement of the prohibition law of the state are going to find themselves mistaken. The very boldness of recent operations will tend to a crusade that will result in a general clean-up in the state. The prohibition law in North Carolina is by no means a dead letter. True, the penalty does not amount to much more than confiscation and a fine, but continued violations will have but one result, and that will be the imposition of penalties of sufficient severity to put a stop to the blind tiger traffic.—Charlotte Chronicle.

"Uncle Joe."

Uncle Joe Cannon says: "One reason why I am against the parcels post is because it is in the interest of strangers. We know the local merchant and the commercial traveler. They belong to our churches and to our clubs. They help make our civilization. But we do not know the mail-order houses."

Right here, the old man showed his mettle. The Saturday Evening Post, in a sarcastic way, finds pleasure in citing that Uncle Joe is talking for his "express friends." The students of the mercantile world, being without great love for the express companies, are willing to believe that he was hobnobbing with the voters, if he had any "hob's" at all.—The Merchants Journal.

"Sure," answered the savage old bachelor. "Mush would be a great deal more appropriate."

MRS. MCGILL BROKE DOWN

Gives the Real Facts In Regard to Her Case and Tells How She Suffered.

Jonesboro, Ark.—"I suffered a complete break down in health, some time ago," writes Mrs. A. McGill, from this place. "I was very weak and could not do any work. I tried different remedies, but they did me no good. One day, I got a bottle of Cardui. It did me so much good, I was surprised, and took some more.

Before I took Cardui, I had headache and backache, and sometimes I would cry for hours. Now I am over all that, and can do all kinds of housework. I think it is the greatest medicine on earth."

In the past fifty years, thousands of ladies have written, like Mrs. McGill, to tell of the benefit received from Cardui.

Such testimony, from earnest women, surely indicates the great value of this tonic remedy, for diseases peculiar to women. Are you a sufferer? Yes? Cardui is the medicine you need. We urge you to try it.

President Rebukes Army Officers

President Taft today created something of a sensation when he rebuked Col. Joseph Garrard, commanding the cavalry post at Fort Myers, Va., for disapproving Private Frank Bloom's effort for promotion because of Bloom's Jewish parentage. Colonel Garrard's endorsement characterized Jews as not "desirable social associates," and President Taft immediately directed the Secretary of War to investigate the matter. The president stamped the expressions as those of narrow race prejudice. He also said it was hard to deal with the matter "with patience that had better not be written." The War Department pointed out that there have been many Jews among the army officers.

Notwithstanding the President's inquiry directed to the Secretary of War as to what should be done to discipline Colonel Garrard, the incident has been practically closed with the rebuke. The department decided that there was no ground for a court martial; an officer being at liberty to express his actual belief as to the availability of any candidate from the ranks. It was concluded that the President's purpose would be best served by the publication of the correspondence and with the delivery of a copy to Colonel Garrard, with a letter from the secretary of war duly admonishing him not to repeat the endorsement.

The case of young Bloom, who is a private in battery "F" Third Field Artillery, now on duty on the Mexican border, was brought to President Taft's attention by Simon Wolf, a prominent lawyer of this city. Several years ago Bloom was urged for appointment to West Point President Roosevelt, not being in a position at the time to make the appointment, suggested to Bloom that he enlist and, "like a true American, fight his way up from the ranks." Bloom took the advice, entered the army, where he is said to have made a good record, and recently took his first examination for promotion. It is said that Bloom failed in this examination, but, in view of the prejudice brought about by Colonel Garrard's endorsement, Bloom will be allowed a final examination in September.—Washington Dispatch.

DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR STOPPED

Harmless, Old-Fashioned Remedy Brings Back Color to Gray Hair and Makes it Grow.

How many old-fashioned remedies are being used, which goes to show that it is hard to improve some of our grandmothers' old-time, tried remedies. For instance, for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy nothing equals our grandmothers' "sage tea." Although, by the addition of sulphur and other ingredients, this old-fashioned brew has been made more effective as a scalp tonic and color restorer.

Nowadays, when our hair comes out or gets faded or gray, instead of going to the garden or garret for herbs and making the "tea" ourselves, we simply go to the nearest drug store and ask for a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy.

Druggists are authorized to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agent, Moyer's Pharmacy.

A MOVING APPEAL.

A Statement of a Case, Several Direct Questions and an Invocation.

On the back of the card handed around by The Moorsville Enterprise, Editor Harry P. Deaton hands this out to "Our Delinquents:"

The editor sits in his easy chair, Awaiting the dollars to come, His force has quit, His rent is due, And his credit is on the bum.

O, Lord! How long will the battle last?

How long will he have to wait? For subscriptions due, From your neighbor and you, Which for years has been charged on his slate?

Don't your heart a warning tell? When you see his face, And hear his voice, Like the wail of a soul from hell?

Don't you see his babies, shabby and cold Their faces pinched and blue? When they might be warm; Well fed—well clad, With the money that's due from you.

Oh, God! Up there in Your realms of light

In justice and love arrayed, Don't let the delinquent Pass the gate, Until his subscription's paid.

Mrs. F. G. James returned this morning from Goldsboro, where she attended the Hooker-Davis wedding. Mr. Donell Gillam returned Friday from Goldsboro.

Mr. Jack Riddick left this morning for Scotland Neck.

Mr. W. L. Hall left this morning for Speed.

Miss Eula Cox left this morning for New Bern to spend two weeks, and from there will go to Columbia University, New York.

Messrs. John Shelburn and Cecil Cobb left this morning for Morehead City to attend the opening ball tonight at the Atlantic Hotel.

Messrs. H. Skinner, Julius Brown and F. G. James left this morning for New Bern, to attend court there.

Mrs. J. S. Tunstall, left this morning for Morehead City.

Mrs. A. J. Outterbridge returned Friday from Whitakers, where she was called by the death of Mrs. A. W. Outterbridge. She was accompanied by her grand-daughter, little Miss Mary Louise Outterbridge.

Rev. C. C. Ware, returned this afternoon from Washington.

Dr. Strayer Monday Night.

Dr. George D. Strayer, of Columbia University, will deliver a lecture in the Training school auditorium next Monday night at 8:30. Subject, "Teaching as a Profession." Friends of the school are cordially invited.

COAST LINE LEAGUE OPENS FRIDAY

Fifth Inning.

Greenville.—Darden went out to Floyd. James got first by being hit by pitched ball. Lanier got four wide ones and Forbes was struck for the third time, filling the bases with one out. Right here Greenville lost the best opportunity it had to put the game on ice. McCall tightened up and struck out Lutterloh, who was trying to slug the ball to the Training School. Everybody got mixed on this play as the catcher muffed the ball, Lutterloh running to first and James trying to score from third was forced out. Lutterloh should have been called out at the home plate. Jordan followed Lutterloh's example, trying to slug, and he struck out. With these batteries up Greenville should have had one or two additional runs scored.

Ayden.—Summerell out Riddick to Jordan. Jordan made a great one-hand catch as Riddick threw wild. McLawhorn struck out and Renn went out Smith to Jordan.

Sixth Inning.

Greenville.—Smith out Renn to Graham. Riddick was hit on the elbow taking first and again going down on the first pitched ball, stole second. Lipscomb struck out. Darden out McCall to Graham.

Ayden.—Floyd struck out. Dean hit clean through short. Graham fouled out to Jordan. McCall hit a slow one along the third base line and Darden, by quick work, got it and threw to first. Darden made the throw without recovering his balance.

Seventh Inning.

Greenville.—James grounded to Renn who threw perfectly to first. Graham let the ball go through his hands, James making first. Lanier flied to center who muffed the ball, both running safe. Forbes forced James at third. Lutterloh sacrificed Lanier taking third. Jordan struck out.

Ayden.—Turnage out Darden to Jordan. Parker struck out and Summerell went out Lutterloh to Jordan.

Eighth Inning.

Greenville.—Smith flied out to Parker in left. Riddick out McCall to Graham. Lipscomb flied out to Parker.

Ayden.—Little, who took McLawhorn's field, was out James to Jordan. Renn was safe on Smith's low throw to Jordan. Floyd fouled out to Forbes in left field and Dean struck out.

Ninth Inning.

Greenville.—Darden out Turnage to Graham. James flied out to Parker and Lanier grounded out Floyd to Graham.

Ayden.—Graham was out on a fly to Forbes. McCall hit safe to left. Turnage sacrificed advancing McCall. Mr. Parker ended the game by s-t-r-i-k-i-n-g-o-u-t.

A Scandal Spotted.

"My husband didn't get home until 2 o'clock this morning," remarked the lady with the weary eyes. "Indeed!" exclaimed the other lady, delightedly anticipating the narration of a family rift. "And what did he say in explanation?" "Nothing. I came home with him. We had been to a theater and to a late supper afterward."—London Answers.

SENTIMENT AND BUSINESS

Interior Markets On Present And Future Indications.

The chief point of reassurance in the business situation is what people call "sentiment." That has certainly become more cheerful since the oil and tobacco decisions were rendered by the United States Supreme Court. It has helped to remove a great deal of pessimistic talk, and brought in more buying orders for all kinds of merchandise. This increases in sales is also due to distributors having allowed their stocks to run down to such a point that the small increase in the demand necessitated replenishing. Purchases of fall goods have been enlarged, they now compare favorably with last year's showing at this time; and with any trustworthy assurance that the corn crop will come through in good shape, enlarged. Railroads, however, are still pursuing a conservative policy in making purchases, and until they come into the market as extensive buyers, no great activity, such as was seen in previous years, is to be anticipated.

But the railroads have not bought sufficient equipments in the last year to keep their supply of rolling stock up to requirements of their growing business and the annual using up of cars, and they will be compelled to buy pretty freely hereafter from time to time. With the big steel corporations cutting prices, one recalls old times when every manufacturer made his own prices, and the field was open for competition by everybody. That time seems long ago, for business is nowadays run on a different plan, concentration among manufacturers confining price cutting to the few. Just what bearing this has on the deliberation of railroads and other consumers, as to entering the market, is debatable.—Chicago Evening Post.

THEY KNEW "SUNNY JIM"

Sharpers Sold Vice-President Books And He Paid.

The book agent approached respectfully the desk of James S. Sherman, the vice-president of the United States, saying:

"This set of books is for you, free of charge. There are a few celebrated men to whom we wish to give a set, thus affording you pleasure and giving the books valuable advertisement. Please sign this receipt. Mr. Sherman signed and smiled. The books were handsome.

Three months later another agent appeared, asking payment for the books.

"But they were presented to me" objected the vice-president.

"In return for this receipt and promise to pay," explained the agent smoothly, producing the paper Sherman had signed. The vice-president sighed, made out his check for the required amount, said something about being stung, and was about to hand the check over. On second thought, he drew back, and wrote on it this indorsement:

"This check is in full payment for a set of books which are not worth a darn, but the money is cheerfully paid in acknowledgement of the smooth way in which a gentlemanly book agent came it over your Uncle Jim."—Popular Magazine.

Our Flags.

We began under the Spanish flag. Then the Cabots planted the English flag.

We have even had the Venetian flag of St. Mark's.

Naturally the British colors have been most in evidence.

1775 flags began to multiply in our very unsatisfied midst.

The flag of Bunker Hill was blue with the cross of St. George and a pine tree.

A lettered flag raised at Boston in June, 1775, was red, "An Appeal to Heaven."

A white crescent was on the blue flag carried in South Carolina in September, 1775.

John Paul Jones raised the standard of the first American flag, the yellow rattlesnake flag, inscribed "Don't Tread on Me."

After independence was declared we needed a new flag and the one with 13 stripes and 13 bars was adopted.

We have not been the only ones to adopt the eagle, which has been a favorite motto with many nations, including Persia, Russia and Germany.

—Charlotte News.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they can reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. Sold by Druggists, or J. C. HENNEY, & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A Double Crop Experiment.

We had a field of rather light gravelly land, mostly bottom and old creek bed, the soil was rather thin for a good corn crop. We would expect in an ordinary season 25 or 30 bushels from it or even less. We prepared the land as we would for corn, using a moderate amount of stable manure, about 5 or 6 loads (two-horse) mixed with about a half ton of ground phosphate rock, raw, spread on with a manure spreader, before plowing. After thoroughly disking and harrowing we planted the field in 3 1-2 foot rows, alternating row of corn with a row of Mammoth soy beans, using two single corn planters running side by side, one containing beans and the other corn.

Owing to excessive wet weather in the spring the crop was very much neglected, it being impossible to cultivate it properly. We ran over it once with spring-tooth weeder, once with double-shovels, and once with fourteen-tooth, one-horse cultivator. This was all the attention the crop had until harvesting, except to chop some weeds with hand hoes when the field was too wet to work with horse-power. The corn and beans were ready for harvest at the same time.

In the center of the field we cut one row of corn by hand, then a mower went in and cut the two rows of beans next to the corn. This made a road for the corn binder; as the binder went up and down the field a mower followed, taking the next row of beans. When the entire field was cut we shocked the corn in large shocks, raked the beans with the horse rake and stacked them on the racks. These racks were made with four poles, about 2 inches in diameter at the butt, 7 feet long, a staple 1 inch from the top with a piece of baling wire running through them held them together. A staple 18 inches from the ground with a wire loop 2 inches long sustained four smaller staples about 6 feet in length to hold the beans up from the ground placing a forkful of beans on each corner, then following around and around until the stack was complete at the top. The crop was the best we raised last year, having thick, uniform medium stalks and two to three good ears to each. The beans were the largest I have ever seen of this variety, standing 3 to 5 feet high. We realized fully 25 bushels of fine corn and more than a ton of very finest hay per acre, and at least ten very large shocks of corn fodder, which was shredded later, making a large quantity of very fine feed.—Tilten Worden, in Raleigh Progressive Farmer.

Better Banking.

Within the past month two bank cashiers in North Carolina have taken their own lives, and in both instances the direct cause was due to shortage in their accounts. Bank Examiner J. Kemp Doughton, by his strict methods, will eventually weed out the undesirable among the banking institutions and thus place every state bank as a whole upon a higher plane. The legacy of a cashier gone wrong may fall heavy upon his family, but the time must come when men who are entrusted with the funds of others will realize that in the end they must pay a big price for any pleasure that is derived in using funds that do not belong to them.—Durham Sun.

From the Scaffold to the Coronation.

It is reported that Mr. John Hays Hammond, appointed special ambassador for the United States to attend the coronation of King George, will pay a rent of $10,000 a week for a magnificent residence in which to give entertainments during the coronation period. Some twelve years ago Mr. Hammond was tried and sentenced to be hanged for taking part in the Jameson raid in the Transvaal. The Transvaal is now a part of the British empire, after a fight for their liberties by the Boers which won for them the admiration of all lovers of freedom. Great Britain, prompted by the late King Edward, dealt generously with the conquered Boers, and they now enjoy self-government as part of united South Africa. Doubtless the Boers do not harbor any hard feelings against Mr. Hammond, and might even be willing to sit, as guests, at his luxurious banquets. So there is nothing especially unfitting about the appointment to a post which simply involves spending money lavishly, wearing plush knee-breeches, and not eating peas with your knife.

At the same time it is worth recalling that we have had some eminent representatives at the court of St. James who did not pay $10,000 a week for a house.—Henry Hann, in May Columbia.

Greenville took the victory in the opening game.

Darden's pitching was the delight of the grand stand.

Forbes for Greenville and Parker for Ayden were both wizzards in left field.

Lutterloh could not park the ball this time, though he came near it once. Ayden's McCall was too swift.

While Greenville did the crowing, it was by a narrow margin.

Say what you will about the score, but Ayden has a fine team.

Greenville sees that when she goes to Ayden she has got to work for what she gets.

Greenville's juvenile battery, Skinner and Dall, were something cunning.

A Rare Gem.

Many a man has the desire and the courage to throw himself into the breach, but is often deterred by incapacity to think quickly; to rapidly realize and act promptly. This applies in different ways. Some men are strong in speech-making, but weak in debate. Others are tepid at debate, but hot at repartee. It can be carried further, until the stage of excitement is reached. Many a man who would almost look calmly down the muzzle of a pistol, in the hand of an enemy, or who would grapple with a marauder, becomes a weakling when some extraordinary emergency of excitement pops up. Very few people are able to think quickly at unforeseen critical stages, and lucky is the man who can combine coolness and quick thought with resolution and courage. Fortunate, very often, it is for others, too. One of these rarities transpired in New York Sunday. People flocking out of a church were horrified to behold a man far above their heads, writhing in agony, as he was held by a live wire. Terror swept through the crowd, and the usefulness of many, rated as intellectual giants and whose courage no one had ever doubted, nor can doubt now, seemed paralyzed. One among the number, however, was endowed with the power to think quickly, and he was intrepid enough to act. Running to an automobile he grabbed up a rubber mat. Then he ascended the telegraph pole, by means of the spikes on the side, and using the rubber mat as a protection for his hands he succeeded in tearing the man, fettered by the heavily charged wire, from his perilous, agonizing position, and brought him safely to the ground. The action of the rescuer was one of the rarest of gems off the cushion of "presence of mind" in the casket of fearlessness.—Wilmington
