Negro Killed by a Falling Scaffold in Sanford—Sad Accident in Clarkton—High Prices in 1854—Suit in Buncombe County For 500 Acres of Land—Wilson Boy Drowned.

Quite a sad accident occurred seven miles south of here Monday. Mr. Alford's eleven-year-old son had been to the store and bought ten cents worth of sugar without being authorized to do so. At noon Mr. Alford told his son he was going to whip him for it. The son left the table and did not return. After a few minutes the parents went to look for him. They called him but he did not answer. After searching the barns and not finding him, Mrs. Alford went over and looked into the well. There she saw the body floating who had rather drown himself than take a whipping.—Clarkton Journal.

The Asheville Citizen says W. H. Belk has begun suit in Buncombe Superior court against Chas. N. Vance, son of the late Senator Vance, for 500 acres of timber land in Black Mountain township, Buncombe county. The complaint sets out that the plaintiff is the owner of the land and that the defendant is in possession of it and has refused to vacate on demand of the plaintiff. It is stated that the rental value of the land in question is $100 a year and the plaintiff asks that he be given possession and damages in the sum of $500. It is further set forth that the defendant has removed timber from the land and caused other damage for which the sum of $1,000 is asked besides the cost of the action.

J. L. Kennedy, who writes from Gilreath to the Wilkesboro Chronicle, says his brother kept a store at Olin, Iredell county, from 1854 to 1859, and the following are some of the prices quoted at that date: "Linen 85c per yard, muslin 40c per yard, gingham 20c per yard, bleached domestic 16c per yard, plain domestic 12c per yard, cambrie 12c per yard, soda 12c to 13c per pound, salt 1.25 per bushel, candies 40c per pound, matches 2c per box, lead pencils 5c to 10c apiece, brown sugar 15c per pound, coffee 16c to 17c per pound, hoes 50c to 75c each, nails 7c per pound, powder 50c per pound, corn 40c per bushel, wheat 80c to $1 per bushel."

Sanford.—Early this morning, by a falling scaffold inside of the 250,000 gallon water tank being erected by J. S. Scofield Sone Company, of Macon, Ga., for the town of Sanford, Ed. Thomas, a Georgia negro, was instantly killed and George Kidd, a white employe, received a broken hip and other painful injuries. Kidd was carried to the Central Carolina hospital here and the negro's body was expressed to his Georgia home this afternoon. These men fell a distance of 27 feet, the scaffold, which was supported from the top of the tank, falling on them.

Raleigh.—The Ellington Lumber and Supply company, of Raleigh, went into voluntary bankruptcy Monday giving their liabilities at $22,891 and assets at $13,242, distributed among fifty or more creditors, many of whom are here in Raleigh. The principal stockholders are E. E. Ellington, W. E. Ellington and D. D. Ellington. The Ellingtons have been in the lumber business here for many years, and about six months ago moved into a splendidly equipped plant just opposite the state's prison on the Southern and Seaboard track.

Greensboro.—Two detectives employed by the city police department having worked in Greensboro for the past few days, succeeded Saturday night in rounding up a large number of men and women of the city whom they accuse of retailing whiskey. Several of these cases were tried in the municipal court, the testimony of the spies being the mainstay for conviction.

Albert Deans, the fourteen-year old son of Mr. J. B. Deans, of Wilson, was drowned Wednesday afternoon, while swimming in a mill pond near that town.

EXCURSION DID NOT GO.

Not Enough Crowd To Make It A Success.

The excursion which the Baraca class of Memorial Baptist Sunday school advertised to run to Morehead City and Beaufort today, was called off at the last hour this morning and the excursion did not run. Only about fifty people bought tickets here, and the committee saw that starting with so small a crowd would mean too great loss, therefore they decided it would be less loss to forfeit the guarantee deposit than to run the train. The deposit and expenses of advertising the excursion makes a loss of nearly a hundred dollars to the class, but to have gone with such a small crowd as bought tickets would have meant a much larger loss.

It is unfortunate that the excursion was not a success and throws a loss on the class. It cannot be explained why people did not want to go, as such an excursion ought to have been attractive.

The society rejected Morehead City and selected Hendersonville, and it was then necessary to change the personnel of the committee on arrangements.

Examining Witnesses in Lorimer Investigation — Assurances of No Danger in New York Cholera Scare — President Taft Cables Congratulations to King George.

Washington, June 22.—The finance committee reported the wool and farmers' free list bill adversely when the senate met. Senator Gore made a speech defending his action last night in forcing the committee to report the wool bill.

Senator McCumber introduced a bill to amend the pure food and drug act in accordance with President Taft's message yesterday.

Albert J. Hopkins and ex-Governor Richard Yates today began testimony before the Lorimer investigating committee.

President Taft cabled coronations felicitations to King George.

Apostle Joseph F. Smith wired Senator Hardwick that he will come to testify before the sugar investigation committee.

Charles P. Warren, president of the Michigan Sugar Refining Company, resumed his testimony before the sugar committee. When questioned by Senator Hardwick he said he was summoned to Washington by then secretary of war, Taft, to talk about the Philippine sugar concessions. He declared Taft never mentioned to him the sugar tariff, though Hardwick tried to draw this out.

Geo. W. Hinman, editor of the Chicago Inter-Ocean, told the Lorimer investigating committee he did not believe any of the $100,000 corruption fund was raised.

NEED OF OUR INDUSTRIES.

Emancipation From Dependence And Reliance on Their Own Resources.

The policy of protection was adopted at a time when consideration was given only to a growing domestic market, in which most lines of manufacturing production the demand greatly exceeded the means of supplying it. The purpose was to stimulate the development of home industries by protecting this market against the competition of old established industries in other countries and to enable them to get profits which would attract capital for them. This necessarily meant high prices and a tax upon industries native to the country which could not develop without help and bear the cost of fostering the infants into growth. There was an excuse for this policy during the stage of multiplying and diversifying the industries of a young and growing country, which needed to do more at home for supplying the varied wants of its people and to depend less upon the labor and capital of other countries.

But the infant industry era passed through a long enough period of importing foreign capital and labor instead of their products and accumulating capital and skill of its own, and now the excessive profits go to fattening trusts and enriching the few who control industrial operations, instead of building up needed industries and diffusing general benefits. Protection is not needed for its original purpose, and is serving an entirely different purpose, which is not for the country's good. Most of the industries of the United States are grown and able to take care of themselves, and in many lines they have been stimulated to a production which far exceeds the domestic demand in average times.

American industries have had too much pap and stimulant and have a tendency to be flabby and inert in the midst of the world's greatest opportunities. The brain and brawn and spirit of matured energy are what they want now to meet competition at home and abroad with equal sturdiness.—New York Journal of Commerce.

IN BUILDING AND LOAN

The Home Association, of Greenville, Ranks High.

Mr. H. A. White, secretary and treasurer of the Home Building and Loan Association, returned Wednesday afternoon from New Bern, where he had been attending the meeting of the State League of Building and Loan Associations. He said the high rank the Home takes in comparison with other associations made him feel prouder than ever of Greenville. It was the expression of building and loan experts that our association ranks with the best.

Crops Good Elsewhere.

"I was in Anson, Richmond, Hoke, Cumberland, Robeson and Scotland last week," said Mr. T. J. W. Broom yesterday, "and corn is exceptionally fine, and lots of it there, but cotton is spotted. On some fields you see cotton knee high and just coming up in another. In these counties the farmers are praying for dry weather. They have been wet two weeks and the grass is about to take them. I find that in the eastern part of the county there has been more moisture than in the other sections of the county. If we get rain this week crops will grow very fast.—Monroe Journal.

Bandits Rob Mail Train.

By Wire to The Reflector. Memphis, Tenn., June 23.—A posse is hunting three masked men who held up an Illinois Central train last night, taking all mail sacks.

BAPTIST ALLIANCE OF THE WORLD

GREAT PHILADELPHIA MEETING.

Four Thousand Delegates Representing Forty-Six Nations.

Philadelphia, June 22, 1911.

Editor Reflector: I am here attending the World's Alliance. It is a great meeting. Nearly four thousand are present representing forty-six nations. It is the greatest denominational missionary meeting of the world. The singing is soul-stirring. All formality is thrown to the winds and we worship in song. Everybody sings, and sings with his whole soul.

Dr. Clifford, of London, is a general favorite. While he is not altogether an orthodox Baptist, he deserves great honor for his great fights for separation of church and state in England. He is ably backed by Lloyd George.

S. Matthews, of Chicago, made a great speech on "Social Christianity" and J. Moffat Logan, of England, reached a height in his speech on "No Authoritative Creed." We begin the discussion of world wide evangelization today. North Carolina has about one hundred and fifty here.

M. A. ADAMS.

Found Out His Man.

A Southerner who was visiting St. Louis wandered into the dining room of the hotel and, seeing a negro servant who had all the importance of an army officer standing near the door asked him who the "head nigger" was around here. The negro stretched himself to his full height and pompously replied that "there ain't no niggers in St. Louis, sah. We is all gentlemen of color."

"Well" said the Southerner, drawing a $100 bill from his pocket and fingering it, "I expect to be at this hotel for some time and want to make sure that I will be taken care of." "Oh, sah," said the negro, whose eyes were popping from his head, "did you want to know who the head nigger waiter is? That's me."—Allentown Call.

Just now the days are at their greatest length.

KING GEORGE V AND QUEEN MARY

They Were Crowned Today Amid Impositing Ceremonies

ENGLAND AND HER KING AND QUEEN

The Representatives of The United States Given Prominent Place in The Procession—The President's Brother, Charles P. Taft, and J. P. Morgan Also Witness Ceremony.

By Cable to The Reflector. London, June 23.—King George V. and Queen Mary were crowned today in Westminster Abbey. The crown was placed on the king's head by the archbishop of Canterbury. They drove through the streets to Abbey, cheered by hundreds of thousands of spectators. Drizzling rain and showers marred the day somewhat.

The ceremony was passed off according to schedule. Modern London has never known such a day of excitement, all business was suspended. The procession from Buckingham Palace was picturesque. The King and Queen were escorted by Royal Life-Guards, Lord Roberts, Lord Kitchener and hundreds of peers and nobility.

Hon. John Hays Hammond, the United States representative, occupied a prominent position in the procession. When the king and queen arrived at the Abbey they were met at the west door by the great officers of state and escorted to the nave, where the oath was taken. Charles P. Taft and J. P. Morgan occupied seats with the diplomatic corps.

No Muzzle For Newspapers.

At the recent session of the Illinois legislature to prohibit the newspapers of that state from publishing detailed accounts of crimes for offenses against the laws. The pretension was that such publication tended to promote crime, but this was palpably a cloak for the real purpose of some of those who voted for it, which was to muzzle the press and prevent exposure of their own misdeeds in office. The measure was passed by both houses, smarting under the exposure of the jackpot Lorimer and other scandals. The newspapers paid little attention to it because it was so crudely drawn that it could not have stood the test of judicial interpretation, regardless of its constitutionality. The sequence shows that they were right. Governor Deneen promptly vetoed the bill as soon as it was laid before him, denouncing it as an unwarranted interference with the liberty of the press. Further, he pointed out that the publication of the news sought to be prohibited was often an aid to the police in the detection of crime as well as a spur to the exercise of their best efforts in securing the apprehension and punishment of offenders.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

THURSDAY, JUNE 22, 1911.

King George has at last got his crown.

Down this way we almost forget when the Fourth of July comes.

The whacks at Senator Lorimer indicate that they will strike his seat this time.

Raleigh seems to be a good place to hunt a fortune, at least for the fortune tellers.

From what we see in exchanges, Pitt county was up with any of them on the first cotton blossom.

President Taft is talking about going back to private life in time not to take it is a surprise if they beat him to it next time.

It is a fool burglar who wastes time breaking into a house where there is nothing to take away.

Georgia is about to come on with a meeting of the legislature. It will take plenty of ice to keep the solons cool.

Ringed hammers, buzzing saws and turning wheels have a sound like something doing. We need more of that kind of noise in Greenville.

Show your interest in the progress of the community by attending the meeting of the chamber of commerce in the city hall at 8:30 o'clock Friday night.

The secretary of the Kansas State Board of Health, has found out that flies will not go into a house painted blue. That is a boost for the manufacturers of blue paint.

Now comes a Chicago judge who says "the man that can't cook shouldn't think of getting married." That would rule out a lot of times, for some cannot even get anything to cook, much less to cook it.

Do you want to see your section prosper, and are you willing to take part in a movement looking to greater progress? If so, attend the meeting of the chamber of commerce in the city hall at 8:30 o'clock Friday night. It will not look like Greenville is interested if only a few of her citizens are present.

Under the law passed by the last legislature, near beer stands must close the first of July. In some instances dealers have procured Federal licenses and will make an effort to continue the business. The officers ought to go right after all who undertake to thus evade the state law, and see that the law is rigidly enforced.

CHILDREN WHO ARE SICKLY

Mothers who value their own comfort and feel the welfare of their children, should never be without a box of Mother Gray's Sweet Powders for children, for use throughout the season. They break up colds, cure feverishness, constipation, teething disorders, headache and stomach troubles. These powders never fail. Sold by all drug stores, 25 cents. Don't accept any substitute. A trial package free to any mother who will address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

Because a train gets wrecked now and then and kills somebody, people do not lose faith in trains and stop riding on them. And because an occasional cashier loots and wrecks a bank, is no reason for people to lose faith in banks. There are plenty of trains that carry their passengers safely, and there are plenty of banks that are safe institutions.

The Nation's Garden Spot.

That is what the Wilmington Star very properly terms the trucking region of the eastern section of this state. In proof, as one instance, it says: "On account of the scarcity of pocket change, we regret to state that $25,000 is about all that State Senator W. S. Cobb, of Lumber Bridge, will get for his Irish potato crop this season. Owing to the dry weather he will ship only 5,000 barrels, which is a short crop. However, the price is $5 a barrel compared with $2.50 last year, which will make his crop bring him as much as 10,000 barrels last year." It is true, as the Star says, that when Eastern North Carolina farmers and truckers get out and tickle the earth and begin to gather in more than a million dollars' worth of strawberries, and many millions worth of early truck, potatoes and peanuts, tobacco, cotton, corn and other wearisome freight, it makes trouble for the railroads. The railroads are compelled to run out more locomotives, put on more trains, employ more men and get a move on them, so they can take all these North Carolina money crops to about 30,000,000 hungry Northerners and Canadians, who depend on the happy and thrifty North Carolina growers for the good things of this life.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Crop Outlook Good.

The farming class is the largest and the most important class of business men in the world, and we rejoice with them in the splendid crop outlook. Some forms of industrial prosperity may hang upon the decisions of a stern bench of judges, but the farmer neither fears the judicial form nor courts the judicial smile. The Sherman law has no terrors for him when he gazes over the golden harvest fields and the luxuriant corn and cotton fields. The size of his harvest does not depend upon the interpretation of the obscure wording of musty statutes. The corn may grow as tall as it pleases without any danger that it will be prosecuted for restraint of trade. In this connection the June crop report of the department of agriculture contains matter for general rejoicing, for it foreshadows the greatest wheat crop this country has ever seen, a splendid corn crop and a bountiful harvest generally. Bumper crops, besides furnishing assurance that the country is in no danger of famine, help in the maintenance of confidence and, therefore, are a direct factor in the business situation, irrespective of the range of rices in the wheat pit.—Greensboro News.

HIS TROUBLE NOT OF HEART

Real Facts in Regard To F. R. Huffman's Illness. Relief Obtained By Curing His Stomach Ailments.

Waynesville, N. C.—Mr. F. R. Huffman, of this city, says: "I suffered dreadfully with what I thought was heart trouble, and tried various medicines in vain."

After other remedies had failed, Theford's Black-Draught restored me to health. I would not feel safe without Black-Draught in the house. I consider it worth its weight in gold.

It cured my indigestion, and by this means I was restored to health. I can not express my gratitude for its benefits."

Good health depends on the condition of your digestion. Poor digestion and good health do not go together.

Theford's Black-Draught will thoroughly cleanse and set in order your digestive system.

It has done this for others, during the past 70 years, and is today the most popular vegetable liver remedy on the market. Try it. Insist on Theford's. Price 25c.

SAGE TEA WILL DARKEN THE HAIR

Restore Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color.

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great-grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull faded or streaked appearance they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair, with wonderfully beneficial effect.

Nowadays we don't have to resort to old-time, tiresome methods of gathering the herbs and making the tea. This is done by skilful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of sulphur, another fine scalp remedy.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special agent Moye's Pharmacy.

THE WONDERFUL BIBLE.

Library of 66 Different Books Written by 40 or 50 Writers.

The Bible is not a book. It is a library of 66 different books written in its present form by 40 or 50 different writers, but contributed by many more. Its earliest book—the book of the Covenant, contained in the present Book of Exodus was written ten or twelve centuries before Christ; the Gospel of John, one of the latest, was written at the close of the first, or the beginning of the second century after Christ. Thus for not less than 1,000 or 1,200 years was this library in process of formation. It contains all that is best in the literature of an ancient people which has survived the wrecks of time. In it are found history, biography, law, both political and ecclesiastical, fiction, poetry, drama, political ethics, practical theology, art, music and science are conspicuously absent, as is philosophy, except in the latter portion of the New Testament, where it is philosophy used for practical purposes and applied to practical problems.

To specify more in detail: Genesis contains the prehistoric traditions of this people rewritten by an unknown prophet, probably as an introduction to the collection; the next four books are a collection of the laws of the people as they were gradually formed during a period of centuries of their national life; the books of history which follow are compilations from pre-existing materials, and it is possible now to distinguish to some extent these materials—the difference between two chief sources of the compilation coming out clearly in the parallel-but-independent narrative of Kings and Chronicles: Job is what Prof. Genung has well called it, an "epic of the inner life;" the Psalms are a collection of religious songs, some of which were used in the temple service, others for private devotion; Proverbs and Ecclesiastes are books of Ethical culture, which almost entirely ignore both the theological doctrines and the ecclesiastical institutions of the people; the Song of Solomon is a love drama, one of the earliest as it is one of the most beautiful in the world's literature, and the prophetic books which follow are collections of addresses which may be compared to the political addresses of the modern moral reformers and the sermons of the modern practical preachers.

The New Testament contains four biographies of Jesus of Nazareth, largely compiled from previous oral and documentary material; a history of the beginning of the apostolic churches; letters from evangelists to the infant churches, and a book of dream literature written to encourage faith and hope in the church in a period of bitter persecution.—Lyman Abbott, in The Outlook.

It is no indication that your way is worse. A man will make more excuses for being fired than his boss does for firing him.

There Were Seven Men.

There were seven men, and one was a fool,
And one was the boss of a country school;
The third was a man with a wondrous brain,
The fourth was a crook, the fifth insane.
The sixth was a preacher, the seventh a knave,
And they all were bound for the self-same grave.

The fool, as Time whirled its weary way,
Became professor, honored and gray;
The schoolmaster worked from his low position
And became a national politician;
The brainy chap lost his mind; the crook
Became a priest, with his cowl and Book—
And the crazy man recovered his mind
While the knave took to saving his fellow-kind;
And only one struck to his trade of the seven—
The preacher kept preaching of Hell and Heaven.

There were seven men, there were seven minds,
There were seven humans of seven kinds;
And none who had known in their early days
These men who traveled their seven ways,
Would have thought that the crook would a parson be.
Or the knave would take up humanity.
But you never can tell—and the moral is here;
Don't accept things always as they appear,
For under the gristle and skin and bone
Is something that works in a way of its own—
And you never may know the saint from the knave
This side of the edge of the common grave.

The Campaign For One-Cent Letter Postage Will Be Hot.

The association in favor of one-cent letter postage, with headquarters at Cleveland, O., consists of hundreds of members located in nearly every state in the union. For the most part they are prominent heads of large manufacturing establishments and mercantile concerns. Next winter, it is said, that "Letters, and telegrams will pour into Washington by the hundreds from men whom the legislators can not afford to ignore. Delegations will back them up. In this thoroughly business-like manner the officers of the association expect to conduct their campaign. To enable them to bring the necessary pressure to bear when needed, the officers of the association are now busily engaged in building up the membership. Business men particularly are being interested in the saving they will realize when a one-cent letter rate is inaugurated."

It is expected that the demand for one-cent letter postage, which is certain to be made in congress next winter, will be used as a lever to increase postage rate on second class matter, though the friends of the measure do not now, as formerly, openly advocate such increase; but the logic of the situation is, if they succeed in obtaining a reduction in the letter postage rate the magazines will be expected to make up all or part of the accruing postal deficiencies.

At any rate, there will be the liveliest kind of a fight next winter in which one-cent letter postage and a parcels post will both figure to an extent that they never have done before. I believe that a parcels post law is bound to pass, to be followed, before many years, by one-cent letter rate. Just how the magazines will fare depends upon whether their publishers are alive to the issue that will be raised. At present they appear to be asleep, a fact that does not afford a very cheerful outlook for the future.—Farm Journal.

Choice of Career.

An English father consulted a friend as to what career he ought to select for his son, a boy of 10.

The friend thought the matter over for a bit and then advised the father as follows:

"Lock your boy in a room where there is a Bible on the table, an apple and some pieces of money. After a quarter of an hour open the door noiselessly and see what the boy is doing. If he is reading the Bible make him a ceryman; if his attention is concentrated on the apple make him a farmer, and if he is amusing himself by counting the money it's plain that he is meant to be a financier."

The experiment was tried, and when the friend inquired what the result was the father replied:

"I found him sitting on the Bible, he had pocketed the money and was eating the apple."

"Make him a member of parliament, then, was the advice of the friend.—London Globe.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

The Pipe of Old and To-day

The pipes of the North American Indians were admirably sculptured, generally of porphyry, in the form of human head or body, or of some birds or beast. The tubes were often 26 inches to 3 feet in length, tastefully ornamented with beads and the bright plmage of birds.

The pipe is one of the most ancient instruments of human enjoyment. The use of the pipe has been traced among all the primitive people with the exception of the Australians. But modern civilized races owe the pipe and their tobacco as well to America, whence they were introduced into England, it is commonly believed, by Sir Walter Raleigh.

After many centuries the pipe is reintroduced into America from England. A few years ago it was in this country the badge of poverty and horn-handed toil. Today few smokers are too rich or luxurious to disdain the pipe. The bulldog briar-root pipe is as commonly seen between the teeth of the young American as the young Englishman.

Everybody is familiar with the Indian calumet, or peace pipe, which was the heirloom of the people, carefully cherished and decorated with all the splendor of savage taste by the women, who vied with each other in rendering it as showy as possible; but the war pipe is not so well known. This consists of a real tomahawk, and was smoked through the reed handle, the tobacco being placed in a small receptacle above the hatchet head, while the smoke was drawn through the handle perforated for that purpose through its entire length.—Southern Tobacco Journal.

ANCIENT OATHS.

The Hippocratic Oath That The Doctors Take.

There are several famous ancient oaths, of which the best known are the Athenian oath, taken by young citizens, and the Hippocratic oath, taken by young physicians entering the profession. The latter oath was administered to the graduates at the eighty-sixth annual commencement of the Jefferson Medical College, in Philadelphia. This was the first time it has been administered in the history of the college. One hundred and seventeen men received degrees and, standing, bowed their heads in assent to the oath, which is:

You do solemnly swear, each man by whatever he holds most sacred; That you will be loyal to the profession of medicine and just and generous to its members.

That you will lead your lives and practice your art in uprightness and honor.

That in whatsoever house you shall enter, it shall be for the good of the sick to the utmost of your power, you holding yourself aloof from wrong, from corruption, from the tempting of others to vice.

That you will exercise your art solely for the cure of your patients, and will give no drug, perform no operation for a criminal purpose, even if solicited; far less suggest it. That whatsoever you shall see or hear of the lives of men which is not fitting to be spoken, you will keep inviolably secret.

These things do you swear? Let each man bow his head in sign of acquiescence.

And now, if you shall be true to this, your oath, may prosperity and good repute be ever yours; the opposite, if you shall prove yourselves forsworn.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

WHAT IS REST

Eminent Specialists Show Value of Exercise and Dangers of Fatigue.

That no consumptive can hope for a cure of his disease without following the most rigid routine with regard to rest is the conclusion of four interesting articles in the Journal of the Outdoor Life for June, by Professor Frederic S. Lee of Columbia University, New York, Drs. Lawson Brown and F. H. Heise of the Adirondack Cottage Sanitarium, Trudeau, N. Y., Dr. Joseph H. Pratt of Boston, and Will M. Ross of Stevens Point, Wis.

Professor Lee, writing on the subject "The Physiology of Exercise and Rest," shows by experiments on dissected frogs the way in which exercise tires the muscles and, in fact, all the organs of the body. He says: "There is no known antidote to fatigue, unless it be rest, with all that rest implies. Sleep allows the reparative process of rest to be performed most quickly and completely. A moderate degree of fatigue, or even a considerable degree when not too often incurred, is not detrimental to a healthy body and is even to be advertised. The healthy body is provided with great recuperative powers and does not rapidly succumb to even excessive demands on its energy. But it should be allowed the proper condition for recuperation, and that condition is adequate rest. There is danger when the fatigue of one day's labor is not eliminated before the next day's work is begun. The effects may then be cumulative, the tissues may be in a continued state of depression, and the need may be disastrous."

Drs. Brown and Heise in an article on "Properly Regulated Rest and Exercise in Pulmonary Tuberculosis," hold that the action of the poisonous germs of the disease on the body is very similar to that of over exercise. The poisonous irritation caused by the germs gives the organs and tissues of the body a double load to carry. They emphasize the importance of rest in the treatment of tuberculosis, but also insist that properly regulated exercise is very necessary. They state their conclusions thus:

"Exercise when properly regulated and systematically graded is an important factor in the treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis. Through it the patient is in many cases returned to home and family with lessened chances of future relapse. At the same time part of his earning capacity is restored and he is consequently financially less dependent upon others, relieving him of much worry, expense and hardship."

Dr. Pratt, who was founder of the first Church Tuberculosis in the United States in the Emmanuel Church in Boston, claims that in the treatment of tuberculosis absolute rest, often in bed, must be extended over a period of months, before the consumptive should take and exercise. He says, "Prolonged rest in bed out of doors yields better results than any other method of treating pulmonary tuberculosis. Patients will have a better appetite and take more food without discomfort and gain weight and strength faster than patients with active disease who are allowed to exercise. Complications are much less frequent. When used in the incipient stage recovery is more rapid and surer."

Mr. Ross who is himself a cured consumptive, and a writer of considerable prominence, holds that unless resting becomes a business to the tuberculosis patient, he might as well give up his fight for health. "The period of infection with tuberculosis," he says, "is not a vacation. It is a twenty-four-hour-a-day job. True it is a period of idleness, but one intelligent, directed idleness. The day's work should consist of rest; rest should be the only business on hand. The light exercise, or hour of reading should be considered as the reward of a good day's work, like the evening of flipped ease to the tired business man at the end of the day. This recreation, however should be considered only as an incidental result of the patient's work, not the main object."

Struck by Lightning.
A lady riding in a train found herself seated by the side of an old man who was exceedingly deaf.
"Ma'am," said she in a high tone, "did you ever try electricity?"
"What did you say, miss?"
"I asked if you ever tried electricity for your deafness?"
"Oh, yes, indeed, I did; it's only last summer I got struck by lightning, but I don't see as it done me a bit of."

Old and Young.
"Well, well, that's a funny thing."
"What is?"
"Miss Passay was an old maid before she married, and now that her husband is dead she has become a young widow."—Catholic Standard and Times.

SENSE OF HUMOR.
A sense of humor preserves all who have it from extremes. It warns away from the confines of the petty and ridiculous and produces very often the same tolerant effects as magnanimity, revealing through laughter that reasonable line of thought which was obscured by logic.

One Man Cannot Do It All.

The Nashville Graphic knows something about what it takes to build up a town. The Graphic says: "It is little use for the local editor to waste his lungs and sprain his spine in trying to boom his town when the citizens all stand around with their hands in their pockets and indifferently wait for something to turn up. If the capitalist or business man do not put their shoulders to the wheel and do a little boosting it is useless for the editor to try and boom things. He can write "boom" articles till he gets bald headed, but if the citizens themselves do not take hold and push, the town will forever stick in the mud. Of what use is it for the local paper to suggest improvements and new enterprises if the suggestions are never acted upon? One man cannot boom a town. It requires the concerted action of the citizens. When one man shoulders a town and attempts to carry it there are always a lot of cranky kickers ready to jump on top of the load. Unity of action is what knocks."
