CAROLINA YACHT CLUB RACES

THE SEASON AT WRIGHTSVILLE.

Four Hundred Guests At Dinner Sunday.

Wrightsville Beach, June 27.—The first regatta of the Carolina Yacht Club was held on Saturday with the opening of the class "A" races. The class "A" yachts, 16 in number, are owned by individual members of the club, and having been built at the same time, and being exactly the same in construction, sailing rigs, and every other particular, the event is decided by the ability of the various captains. The race is over a two leg course of eight miles, starting at the Carolina Yacht Club, and running down behind the Seashore Hotel, and up to what is known as the Inlet Buoy. Taking a flying start the boats raced up and down the channel, making record time, the eight entries finishing within 2 miles of each other. Captain E. A. Nettis, in No. 65, won the first honors, with Captain R. G. Rankin and Captain J. S. Brown in their respective yachts, making second and third places. A number of other races of the class "A" boats, as well as open races for all classes of boats belonging to the members of the club, will be held during the summer, the principal sailing event of the year being that on the Fourth of July, when the piers and gangways are lined with hundreds of interested spectators.

While the beach season is undoubtedly well opened, the popular Seashore Hotel having fed something over 400 guests at dinner, and about 425 at supper on Sunday, at the same time, with the arrival of the Pritchard Memorial excursion and the large number on the excursion from Atlanta on the 28th, it is expected that the hotels and boarding houses will be crowded to their utmost capacity, several hundred reservations having already been made at the Seashore Hotel for this period. The fare and table services at the Seashore has been the source of much pleasant comment this year, this popular hospitality having engaged a competent and experienced chef.

With the splendid surf-bathing in which several hundred participated in the lee of the ocean pier of the Seashore hotel on Sunday, the improved fare with the uniformed waiters and excellent service, conditions are open for a most delightful start at the "Little Coney of the South," and Manager Hinton, the genial and well-known proprietor of the Seashore, advises that he believes this year an unprecedented season for Wrightsville Beach.

Among the Georgia visitors who were registered at the Seashore yesterday were Mr. Claude Mayne and wife; Dr. Richardson and wife, of Atlanta; Mr. H. C. Randolph, Atlanta; Mrs. E. P. West, Miss Stewart, Miss West, of Atlanta. Other visitors are Mr. L. L. Hackney, Mr. L. M. Mayne, Mr. R. L. Tate, Mr. L. T. Henderson, of Charlotte; Mr. J. O. McFee, Mr. A. D. McCoy and wife, of Atlanta; Mrs. H. G. Smith, Misses Lucile Gorham, Mary Gorham, Gladis Smith, Mr. E. E. Gorham, Mr. Eugene Grady, of Fayetteville; and many others from various places, both far and near, among these being quite a number of guests from the "Palmetto State."

RENEWED EFFORTS

To Free Morse—Hearing Based on Habeas Corpus Petition.

Atlanta, June 26.—An effort as determined as those made before President Taft and the United States Supreme court, to free Charles W. Morse was begun Saturday morning before Judge William T. Newman, in the United States Circuit court.

The suggestion made by Morse himself that he cannot be legally confined in the Atlanta penitentiary because it requires hard labor, was urged; and far more important, the contention was made that Morse was illegally sentenced and that all of his sentence is void.

So determined in this new effort for Morse's release and so lengthy is the argument that his attorney, Mr. Arnold, presented that the case had to be postponed until Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, when the hearing will be renewed.

The hearing is based on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

A LARGE CROWD EXPECTED

To Hear Gov. Kitchin, Drs. Strayer and Brooks.

The public celebration at the Training school Friday begins at 10 o'clock a. m. Business will be suspended in town from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m., and the town people are going to hear Governor Kitchin, Dr. Strayer and Dr. Brooks speak.

We are expecting a large attendance from the country and the adjoining towns. It is going to be a history making day for Pitt county. There are about three hundred teachers now in attendance. They are an earnest, fine body of teachers. It will do us all good to see them and catch something of their spirit of service.

MAGAZINE TRUST THIS TIME.

Government Files Dissolution Suit Against Them.

By Wire to The Reflector.
New York, June 27.—The government has filed a suit of dissolution against the periodical clearing house in the U. S. Circuit court. The charges are that the magazine owners are in a trust which controls prices of subscription in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. All big magazines are in the trust.

Police Killed By Robber.

BOARD ACCEPTS KINSTON OFFER

LIBERAL OFFERS WERE MADE.

Site Finally Chosen For New State School for Feeble Minded.

The new state school for the feeble-minded, provided for by the general assembly this year, will be located at Kinston, though magnificent offers were made the state by Lillington and Washington.

This decision was reached by the board of trustees in executive session yesterday afternoon at the state department of education, and the decision of the trustees was ratified last night by the council of state. The board of trustees had examined the sites offered—making visits to Kinston on June 22, to Washington on June 23rd, and Lillington on June 24, and had given hearings to representatives of the three towns immediately before going into executive session.

The members of the board of trustees, who made the decision yesterday, were: Dr. R. E. Austin, Albemarle; Dr. A. A. Kent, Lenoir; Dr. T. B. McBrayer, Asheville; Mr. Mark Majette, Columbia; Mr. W. A. Thompson, Aurora; Dr. J. Y. Joyner, Raleigh; Senator J. R. Bagget, Lillington; Dr. R. N. Cartwright, Fairfield, and Dr. Ira M. Hardy, of Washington.

The Kinston Proposition.

The claims of Kinston were presented by Mr. W. D. LaRoque, of that city, particularly the unusually fine health conditions, the abundant and pure water, provided by flowing artesian wells, and the city's offer of free water and electric lights for the school for five years.

The Kinston people were so anxious to get the school that they had made several propositions. The site selected, now known as the Fields place includes 927 acres. In addition to free lights and water for the five year period; the school will have a side-track to any decided point in the grounds, provided by the Norfolk Southern Railway.—News and Observer.

Dr. Hyatt Coming.

Dr. H. O. Hyatt will be at Hotel Bertha July 3rd and 4th, for treating diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat.

AT E. C. T. T. S. MONDAY NIGHT

PRES. WRIGHTS' STRONG SPEECH

The Distinct Character of Work of N. C. Schools.

Monday evenings are interesting occasions at the Training school. Last evening instead of the regular lecture by some one out of town, President Wright spoke to the teachers. He contrasted the schools of the past with those of the present, both as to their work and purposes, showing that they were once what we might denominate humanitarian and choicelying now into what we might call utilitarian. He reviewed briefly the series of schools in our North Carolina system showing how each was governed and the scope and purpose of their work. He then spoke of the special schools doing a distinct character of work, naming as such the Farm Life schools which are to be established from the appropriation made by the last legislature, and the Agricultural and Mechanical College, at Raleigh. He then forcefully emphasized the purpose for which the East Carolina Teachers' Training school was established—the training of teachers for public schools. The necessity for its establishment, the place it held in the North Carolina system of schools, and the faithful effort it was making to fulfill its mission were presented; that every one present must have felt that President Wright fully appreciates and understands the needs of our state, the object and real work of this school and that the future of the institution under his direction and guidance promises much for the educational uplift of the whole state. He said it had but one purpose—the training of teachers—and that it would be held strictly to that one purpose.

He emphasized strongly the needs of the school, the dire necessity for further enlargement and equipment, that the school might meet the demands that the people were now making upon it for trained teachers. He briefly recited what the legislature had done for all the institutions in the state at its last session and expressed the hope and belief that they would soon see the needs and make provision for greater usefulness for the institution. The student body was reminded that the work of the school would be judged as it was seen in them and they were urged to use well the opportunities they now had. President Wright is always earnest and impressive in his talks driving home the truth in every assertion. Last evening he seemed unusually forceful in presenting a number of practical, thoughtful, and timely truths to the teachers, and we dare say there was not a teacher present who did not feel that she was better equipped for and better informed as to the real needs of our public school work.

JEWELRY SMUGGLER SOUGHT.

Mrs. Helen Jenkins Held As Accessory.

By Wire to The Reflector.
New York, June 27.—Collector of Customs Leob is working to find a wealthy New Yorker who is alleged to have smuggled millions in jewels to this country. The government compels Mrs. Helen Jenkins held. Richard Parr offered her a bribe of three hundred thousand dollars to tell of the whereabouts of the sought man.

REIDSVILLE MAN CALLED TO COURT

ELDER HARDY, FOR CONTEMPT.

For Publishing Signed Statement Minister Is Called Before Recorder

Reidsville, June 26—Summons has been issued and served on Elder L. H. Hardy, requiring him to appear in the recorder's court tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock and show why he should not be judged guilty of contempt of court. The summons was issued after the appearance of Webster's Weekly, containing an article by Elder Hardy, and it is alleged that the article reflected on the court, making him liable for contempt.

The alleged offense grew out of a criticism signed by the minister, who made reference to the decision of the court in a recent blind tiger case. Elder Hardy is 58 years old, and is the pastor in charge of the Reidsville Primitive Baptist church and several churches of this denomination in Eastern Carolina. He frequently contributes to the city press.

The summons which has been served on him has created the most intense interest in this city, and there will undoubtedly be a large crowd at the trial. Friends of the minister went to Greensboro and employed Hon. A. L. Brooks to appear for him.

In the event of a conviction an appeal can be taken to the Supreme court. It is understood that the defendant will ask no quarters and fight the case to the end.

Weyman Drops From Race.

Utrecht, Holland, June 27.—As a result of various misfortunes, Chas. T. Welman, the only American contestant in the circuit of Europe air race, withdrew today, giving up a chance of winning ninety-four thousand dollars.

TODAY'S EVENTS IN NATIONAL CAPITOL

PROPHET SMITH A WITNESS.

Before Sugar Trust Investigating Committee.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Washington, June 27.—Prophet Joseph Smith, witness today before the sugar trust investigating committee, testified the interest—the Mormon church holds in Havemeyer and Utah sugar companies.

Prophet Joseph Smith described before the sugar trust investigating committee today the consolidation of the Utah-Idaho Sugar Company with the Havemeyer interests. He said the church held about 48,000 shares in the Utah-Idaho Company, which is held in his name as trustee. Funk told of how he was shadowed by detectives.

President Taft sent for Champ Clark this morning and asked him not to push any tariff legislation this session except reciprocity. It is reported that Clark refused and informed Taft that the Democrats intended to carry out the tariff reform at this session of congress if possible.

It is reported that the Republican leaders have decided to recommend Sherman for vice presidency.

C. B. Walfrom, of New York, has been appointed by President Taft as joint special ambassador with Congressman Bartholdt to present a replica of the Von Steuben statue to the German people September 7th.

With the Root amendment disposed of the senate today began a final disposition of the reciprocity measure. A vote will probably be taken before August 1st.

Clarence S. Funk resumed testimony before the Lorimer investigating committee today.

Mistakes of Nature.

Washington, June 27.—Dr. A. K. Fisher, chief of the economic division of the Biological Survey of the Department of Agriculture, holds that the house cat and the English sparrow have no place in the economy of nature and ought to be exterminated. The sparrow drives away useful birds, and cats, the professor says, will not catch rats or mice except in rare instances.

EFFICIENCY OF ROADS LARGE SAVINGS

2,150,000 MILES IN UNITED STATES

Such Is Import of Important Paper by U. S. Office of Public Roads.

Between half a billion and a billion dollars would be saved annually in the United States if every state would improve its main highways to the highest point of efficiency.

Calculations just made by the United States office of public roads show that to effect this enormous saving throughout the country it will be necessary to improve only about twenty per cent. of the roads.

There are now about 2,150,000 miles of road in the United States. Two hundred thousand miles or about 9 per cent. are improved in some manner. To bring the number of miles up to 20 per cent. it will be necessary to improve 250,000 more miles. While this task may seem stupendous it is estimated that it can be accomplished by a probable average expenditure of $7,000 a mile, or $1,750,000,000 for a fairly complete system. Were each state to put $4,000,000 into the improvement of its roads, the work could be accomplished in a very short time.

"A complete system of roads," said Logan Waller Page, director of the United States office of public roads in discussing the road movement that is sweeping over the country, "is an economic necessity. A few figures will illustrate the stupendous saving that could be made.

"There are, for instance, nearly half a million automobiles in the United States at the present time; their value, roughly estimated is close to three quarters of a billion dollars. There are, in addition, 21,040,000 horses and 4,123,000 mules, the number is growing steadily despite the advent of motor vehicles. The value of the horses is about $2,276,363,000,000.

"Then take the pleasure vehicles. They number 907,000, with a value of $61,500,000. Then take the wagons used for commercial purposes. They number 576,300, the total value being $31,480,000. The wear and tear on these vehicles as a result of bad roads is nearly twenty-five per cent. A complete system of improved highway would cut this loss in half.

"The great saving in transportation of all kinds of produce, including those of the mills as well of those of the soil, would amount to many millions of dollars annually. In the case of the corn crop of the south alone, no less than $7,200,000 would be saved in transportation despite the fact that most of the corn there is for home consumption.

"Wherever a new road is built or an old one improved the value of the nearby land rises automatically. This increases to pay for the improvement. The profit from the country from this source would be almost inestimable. In fact it is a very conservative estimate that the saving throughout the country, from all sources, as a result of the improvement of twenty per cent. of the roads, would be somewhere between half a million and a billion dollars every year. And this saving could be accomplished by an expenditure of $2,000,000 in each state the first year and a much smaller sum each year thereafter for maintenance." The whole thing depends, of course, upon systematization and all the states working together, but it would seem that the era of road building that has begun is tending towards these results."

A Scrap.

This afternoon about three-thirty o'clock there was some excitement on East Third street caused by a little altercation between Messrs. Donnell Gilliam and Gus Hyman. No damage was done though to either of the combatants, except Hyman's loss of a hat. Mr. Hyman passed the lie to Mr. Gilliam over some minor matters, which caused the fight.

Dr. T. G. Basnight, Formerly of Stokes, Locates Here.

Dr. T. G. Basnight, who for several years has been located at Stokes practicing medicine, has returned from Baltimore where he has been since February taking a post-graduate course in surgery and general medicine, and is here planning to make Greenville his future home, where he will practice his profession. Dr. Basnight is well known in Pitt county, especially on the north side of the river and his return to Pitt county is welcomed. We gladly welcome him in our town.

NEWS THAT IS OF INTEREST TO TAR HEELS

GATHERED FROM EXCHANGES.

And Briefly Told for The Reflector's Busy Readers.

Winston-Salem.—The one paramount topic in Winston-Salem is the order of the post office department closing the post office from midnight Saturday until midnight Sunday, the same being in response to a petition gotten up by the ministerial union, but which is not what they had expected, apparently, for the president and secretary of the ministers' union has issued a card, saying that the responsibility for the rigid general order rests with the local post office authorities, since the most that the union had contemplated was the closing of the general delivery window.

Wilson.—The news comes from Kenly that last Friday night Mr. Will Williams awoke by the crying of his baby who was sleeping with his wife in an adjoining room from the one he occupied. He called his wife but no response. He made a light and found his loved one stark and stiff beside his child. It is a singular coincidence—his brother in Elm City, lost his wife about four years ago in the same manner. It is indeed a sad death. Mr. Williams is left with no one to help him look after eight small children.

The state building commission of which Mr. Ashley Horne is chairman and Mr. W. E. Springer is secretary, met this afternoon with the architects for the purpose of designating the rooms in the building to be occupied by the various state offices. The insurance department will not be required to vacate for sixty days yet and after July 1, when the property purchased for the site will be paid for this department will not be required to pay rent for its quarters.—Raleigh Evening Times.

Nashville.—Arthur Toney, a well-known negro at Spring Hope, was drowned in Tar river Friday. The boat in which he was, capsized, and he was unable to get to land. It is thought the party of negroes were drinking. Toney, who ran a pressing club at Spring Hope, was recently convicted of retailing and fined $100 and costs.

NOTES OF TRAVEL.

(By the Editor).

It is a strenuous stunt after going to bed at 1 o'clock a. m. to get up in time to dress, lunch and catch a train at 3:25 a. m., as was our experience Monday morning, and it made the day seem about forty hours long. But such things come in the life of a busy man, and night trains are a great convenience just the same.

A while before reaching Farmville the train came to a stop. Conductor Keys stepped off to see what had happened when the engineer called out, "There is a white man by the track back there at the crossing, and we may have hit him." "Run back and let's investigate," ordered the conductor. There was a back of a few hundred yards to the crossing, and after a little search the man, a forlorn looking tramp, was found crouched among some bushes in a ditch beside the road bed, his hat on the opposite side of the track. "Did we hit you?" asked the conductor. "No, sir, never touched me," the tramp said, without moving except to look up. He had probably had a close call. "Let's be going," added the captain, and off pulled the train.

Pitt county shows the best crops seen on the road, with Wilson a close second.

Just east of Zebulon on a telegraph pole was noticed the sign "Jeff." We looked out to see if his companion, "Mutt," was around, but he was not in evidence. Guess "Jeff" got ahead of him once more.

There has been more rain up Raleighwards than down our way, but crops are no comparison.

ALL TWELVE MONTHS, FAT ONES.

The redistribution of coin begins in Eastern North Carolina just as soon as early truck and fruits begin to move, and then the life of an Eastern North Carolina farmer is one thing right after another while reaching after all sorts of money for his strawberries, early potatoes, tobacco, cotton, peanuts and prosperity fall crops. About ten months in the year a farmer in the Nation's Garden Spot is harvesting products that bring ready cash, while the other two months are spent in rejoicing that he lives in a land upon which the earth's richest blessings have been poured.—Wilmington Star.

Still a great many of us down here don't appreciate it well enough to curb the habit of grumbling. One can hear just as many poor mouth stories in this section as in any other place in the world, when we have every blessing possible under the sun to thank God for. East North Carolina is indeed the Nation's Garden Spot.

If Morse, the ice king, has his way about it, he will always, as long as he stays in prison, let the people know he is there. He is now making a renewed effort to get released from his sentence on the ground that his detention in the Atlanta prison is illegal. His contention being that his sentence did not include hard labor, which he is now required to do, and that his offense is punishable only by imprisonment.

"The way of the transgressor is hard." There are no soft berths in the Atlanta prison it seems, so Mr. Morse wants to get out! It is pathetic that this man should have to work like other folks, when he "took" only the small sum of a few million dollars from his creditors.

About the most disgusting thing that comes before us is the patent one-side country newspaper. How any man claiming to be capable of managing a print shop can be so short sighted as to be unable to see he is competing against his own interests in the business when he uses a patent sheet we can't see for the life of us, and lots of our good old friends are falling into this error. Take our advice, brother, and stop it. It adds nothing good to your paper, and does a great deal of harm to your business. If you can't print both sides of your sheet and pay for your stock, settle up and quit the business. It will pay you better in the long run.

The Greenville merchant should feel ashamed to have to admit he is so slothful when he looks in the papers coming to him from other towns and sees such live and business getting advertisements as appear in most of them, when he is doing nothing along that line himself.

Can't the new board of aldermen do something in the way of getting our town in shape to have free mail delivery established. We are entitled to it and will have it as soon as the sidewalks are put in condition and the houses properly numbered. Get busy.

Shelby produces more inventors than any other town in the state, but we have never seen one of their inventions. Is it because they are reported for advertising purposes, as the Hendersonville booze catcher was? A cotton seed separator is their latest.

Poor Lorimer. If close inspection or frequent investigation purifies or elevates one above wrong he ought to be "way up" after he gets through with this investigation—his third degree.

How about a trolleyless car line for Greenville? It would pay alright. Let's try it.

Compassion is a great virtue—one that should be acquired if you do not possess it.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

SAGE TEA WILL DARKEN THE HAIR
Restore Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color.

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great-grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull faded or streaked appearance they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair, with wonderfully beneficial effect.

Nowadays we don't have to resort to old-time, tiresome methods of gathering the herbs and making the tea. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of sulphur, another fine scalp remedy.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special agent Moye's Pharmacy.

Protect The Partridge.

This is the season when the partridge nests and the young quail should be protected. The small boy, black and white, and the roving dog are the worst enemies of the partridge. The farmer will be justified in larruping the former and in shooting the latter. A law applying to some counties, if it does not apply to the state, requires the confinement of bird dogs during the summer season and it is a law that should be enforced. As showing what a great friend Bob White is to the farmer, the Progressive Farmer quotes from a recent article in the Youth's Companion that in a single day one quail has eaten 12,500 plantain seeds. Other records are: 12,000 pigeonweed seeds, and 1,000 of crabgrass at a meal. When it comes to insects his appetite is equally good. One quail eats 5,000 plant lice in a day. At another time the same bird devoured 568 mosquitoes in the same hours and then quit because the supply gave out. They eat all sorts of injurious insects, too, potato beetles, cutworms, Hessian flies, boll weevils, chinch bugs, codling moths, grasshoppers—just anything that comes handy, it seems. It is hard even to conceive of the vast number of injurious insects a covey of quail will consume in the course of a year. The destruction of every one of these insects, too, is a positive benefit to the farmer, and for this reason alone one should always hesitate before killing a quail, or indeed, a bird of any kind unless positively known to be injurious. Scientists tell us, and they are doubtless right about it, that if it were not for the birds it would be a matter of only a few years until the insects and creeping things would have the upper hand of us. The crops would disappear from our fields, and men everywhere would be in danger of starvation simply because they would be unable to combat the countless multitudes of insects which would devour and destroy the plants upon which men depend for food.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Facing Powder.
Miss Buchanan was rallying her cousin, an officer, on his courage and rashly said:
"Now, Mr. Harry, do you really mean to tell me you can walk up to the cannon's mouth without fear?"
"Yes," was the prompt reply, "or s Buchanan's either."
And he at once did it!—London Tit.

HER FRIEND'S GOOD ADVICE

The Results Made This Newburg Lady Glad She Followed Suggestion.

Newburg, Ala.—"For more than a year," writes Myrtle Cothrum, of this place, "I suffered with terrible pains in my back and head. I had a hollow complexion, and my face was covered with pimples. Our family doctor only gave me temporary relief. A friend of mine advised me to try Cardui, so I began taking it, at once, and with the best results, for I was cured after taking two bottles. My mother and my aunt have also used Cardui and were greatly benefited. I shall always praise Cardui to sick and suffering women."
Cardui is a purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, tonic remedy for women, and will benefit young and old. Its ingredients are mild herbs, having a gentle, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.
Cardui has helped a million women back to health and strength. Have you tried it? If not, please do. It may be just what you need.

Social and Personal.

Be strong.

We are not here to play, to dream, to drift.

We have hard work to do, and loads to lift.

Shun not the struggle; face it. 'Tis God's gift.

Be strong!

Say not the days are evil—who's to blame?

And fold the hands and acquiesce—O shame!

Stand up, speak out, and bravely, in God's name.

Be strong!

It matters not how deep entrenched the wrong,

How hard the battle goes, the day, how long.

Faint not, fight on! Tomorrow comes the song.

—Maltbie Davenport Babcock.

Mrs. M. A. Shields is visiting her daughters, Mrs. S. J. Everett, and Mrs. E. B. Higgs, in Greenville. She is accompanied by her daughter, Miss Susie Shields.—Scotland Neck Corral Evening Times.

Miss Hattie Smith, who has been at Farmville for a few days to instruct the operators there in telephony, is back at her post on the local telephone exchange. It sounds good to hear her "number?"

Rev. R. V. Hope, minister of Washington, N. C., Christian church, was in the city last night and this morning visiting friends.

Mr. W. H. Cox, of Kinston, was here today.

Mr. H. B. Hardy, of the Raleigh News and Observer, is in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiggs left on the Eastern Carolina train for Norfolk followed by the good wishes of their many friends.

Dr. D. L. James leaves this afternoon for Morehead City to attend a meeting of the North Carolina Dental Society, which will convene Wednesday night.

Wiggs-Bynum.

Farmville, N. C., June 26.—A quiet wedding, but one that was marked by a pretty simplicity, was that of Miss Mary A. Bynum and Mr. John F. Wiggs, this morning at seven o'clock at the Episcopal church. The ceremony was impressively performed by Mr. Griffith, rector of the church, and only the relatives and a few friends were present.

The bride wore a pretty traveling suit of tan with a becoming hat in the same shade. She is a charming young woman and has a host of friends. Mr. Wiggs is a prosperous young man, formerly of Raleigh, but for sometime he has made his home at Farmville, where he holds a responsible position with the Farmville Cotton Oil Company.

Young Lady Sick.

Miss Eugenia Herring, of Dunn, arrived here Thursday to attend the E. C. T. S. summer term, stopping at Mrs. S. T. Hooker's. Friday she was taken sick, and has been confined in bed since. Her sister, Miss Vera Herring, arrived yesterday evening and will take her home this afternoon.

Ladies' Aid Society Wednesday Afternoon.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian church will hold their regular meeting at the residence of Mrs. J. A. Lang, at 5 o'clock, p. m., tomorrow. All the members are urged to attend, and visitors will be welcomed.

Men Snuff Dippers.

Is there as much snuff used now as in former years? The editor of The Charlotte Chronicle thinks no; the editor of the Statesville Landmark thinks yes, and also thinks that The Chronicle man is much mistaken. It is cited that one concern cleared eight million dollars last year on snuff. The Landmark thinks that the only difference is that snuff-dippers are not as open about it as formerly. The editor of the Raleigh Times also takes issue with the Chronicle on the kind of "bresh" used by the dippers, saying that it is a black gum twig instead of a sweet gum, which latter would make no better snuff mop than a corn stalk, says The Times. The Chronicle hits the habit stiffly, and in truth, dipping snuff is a pretty tough habit, but bad as it is among women, it is worse still for a man to dip, and The News knows of men who sneak their snuff boxes and mops along with them. Among them is a justice of the peace who loves to while away the hours with the powdered weed.—Catawba County News.

HOW TO SUPPRESS THE HOUSE FLIES

EXPERIMENT STATION BULLETIN

How They Breed And Methods of Destroying Them.

That the housefly in any community can be largely suppressed by united effort on the part of those who are interested can not be denied by any one who understands the situation.

The fly is not only disagreeable but is a menace to health. Typhoid fever and cholera infantum, and probably other intestinal diseases are often carried to victims by flies.

Steps should be taken in every community to commence a vigorous fight against this pest and it seems advisable to let every one become well informed about the breeding of flies, and the methods of preventing them. Poisoning and trapping flies is also of great importance.

Life History and Breeding Places of Houseflies.

Flies originate largely from the horse, cow and mule stables. Cow manure will breed flies in great numbers, in spite of many reports to the contrary. In and around such places the flies lay their eggs. Fully ninety-five per cent. of all the flies develop in the stable manure. Garbage piles, heaps of decaying vegetable matter, and any accumulation of filth may breed flies.

The eggs hatch in less than twenty-four hours into small, white, wriggling maggots.

The maggot stage of the flies lasts only five days in warm weather. Full grown maggots are about one-third inch long, with body pointed at the head end.

The full grown maggot changes to a reddish-brown pupa stage, about one-fifth inch long, which lives about five days, and then transforms to the adult winged fly.

A generation of houseflies, from egg to adult, may develop in ten or eleven days. This shows that if the stable manure is hauled out once a week, flies will not have time to mature.

Fully fifteen generations of houseflies mature during the summer.

Each female fly will lay about one hundred and twenty eggs, and this fact serves to account for the great numbers of flies where the breeding places are not done away with in a community.

Flies do not usually travel over a few hundred yards from their breeding places, so that it is entirely practicable, by united effort on the part of those who are interested, to do away with most of the houseflies in any community.

Poisoning Flies With Formalin.

There are several more or less successful fly poisons, such as Seibert's Poison Fly Paper, but the writer has had best success with Formalin. This costs only fifty cents a pint, and is used by placing one tablespoonful in a half pint cup of one-half each of milk and water. This should be exposed in plates, and it is well to put a piece of bread in the middle of the mixture to furnish more surface on which the flies can light and feed.

This formalin solution seems to attract the flies and kills them quickly. The writer recently poisoned over forty thousand (about 4 quarts of flies) in less than twenty-four hours in a calf barn where the flies were very numerous. In this manner thousands of flies are killed before they have deposited eggs.

When attempting to poison flies around dwelling houses it is best to expose the formalin poison mixture outside as well as inside the houses. Use it on the front and back porches where the flies are waiting to enter whenever the doors are opened.

We can never succeed in permanently lessening the fly nuisance by simply poisoning or trapping the flies, but when we attempt to prevent the breeding places, the work of poisoning the adult flies will be of great assistance.

Every citizen who is interested in the health and welfare of his family should determine where the flies are breeding and should not be suspicious of his neighbor's premises until he has made a careful search for the breeding places of flies on his own place.

R. I. SMITH, Entomologist.

Three Good Things.

Says The Statesville Landmark: "A citizen who travels much about the country says he finds the sentiment in Iredeil almost unanimous for a dog law and for salaries for country officers. There is no doubt that the majority of the Iredeil people favor these two measures and they should keep the sentiment alive and express themselves when the time comes." And the Torrens system for registering land titles. Don't forget that, The Chronicle's candidates for the next legislature have got to speak out on the dog and the title. We are not so much concerned about the fee.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Why The Spider Was There.

When Mark Twain, in his early days, was editor of a Missouri paper, a superstitious subscriber wrote to him saying that he had found a spider in his paper, and asking him whether that was a sign of good luck or bad. The humorist wrote him this answer and printed it:
"Old Subscriber: Finding a spider in your paper was neither good luck nor bad luck for you. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant is not advertising, so that he can go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

NEW YORK AND CHICAGO MARKETS

Cotton.
New York, June 27.—The cotton market opened strong today, six to ten points higher. July was up 7; August 7; October 6; December 7; March 7.
Opening—
July .. 14.47
August .. 14.45
September .. 13.50
October .. 13.13

Stocks.
New York, June 27.—The stock market was dull today. Many issues at the opening were unchanged. Reading was up 1-8; and few others showed fractional advances. Curb trading was irregular.

Grain.
Chicago, June 27.—The grain market opened as follows:
July wheat .. 89
September corn .. 58 3-4
Closing—
July wheat .. 90 7-8
July corn .. 57 3-4

Young Men.
Remember, son, that the world is older than you are by several years; that for thousands of years it has been so full of smarter, better and younger men than yourself, that their feet stuck out of the dormer windows, but when they died the old globe went joggling along, and not one person in ten millions went to the funeral or even heard of their death. Be as smart as you can, of course. Know as much as you can without blowing the packing out of your cylinder heads. Shed the light of your wisdom abroad; but don't dazzle people with it. And don't imagine a thing is so, simply because you say it is so. Don't be too sorry for your father because he knows so much less than you do. The world has great need of young men, but no greater need than the young men have of it. Your clothes fit you better than your father's fit him—they cost more money, they are more stylish; your moustache is neater, the cut of your hair is better, and you are prettier, oh, far prettier than "Pa." But, stop a moment, young man, and reflect. The old gentleman gets the biggest salary, and his homely, scrambling signature on the business end of a check will drain more money out of the bank in five minutes than perhaps your handsome autograph can do during the balance of your mortal life. Young men are useful, and they are also ornamental, and we all like them, and it would be impossible to successfully engineer a picnic without them—but they are no novelties, son—oh, no, nothing of the kind—they have been here before. Don't be so modest as to shut yourself clear out, but don't be so fresh that you will have to be put away in cooler to keep from spoiling. Don't be afraid that your merit will not be discovered. People all over the world are looking for you, and if you are worth finding, they will find you.—The Solicitor.

Champ Clark's Chances.
Washington, June 27.—Edwin M. Clendening, general secretary of Kansas City Commercial Club, while in Washington last week declared that from his observation of the sentiment among the Democrats of Missouri, "no matter what supporters of former Governor Folk may think or do, the delegation from the state, I believe, will be for Speaker Champ Clark for president in the Democratic national convention. Clark's friends are rallying to his support because of the mixup in his home state. Clendening said: "Regardless of politics, the people of Missouri have a just pride in Speaker Clark, though I am not a Democrat, I am confident that the big majority of the voters of that party favor Clark for president rather than Folk."

Uncle Sam To Sell Milk.
Washington, June 27.—The Department of Agriculture will soon be operating a 500-acre dairy farm at Beltsville, near Washington. Crops are already in on 400 acres and bids were opened June 21 for the construction of concrete stables. The milk will be sold in Washington, the farm will be made self-supporting, and the land, which is rather poor, will be brought to a high state of fertility.

Family skeletons will soon be on exhibition at the bathing beaches. No doubt ants and bugs have the time of their lives at a school picnic. Many who attempt to drown sorrow merely irrigate it.

5 or 6 doses "666" will cure any case of Chills and Fever. Price, 25c. 5 20—3m 3 20

ANOTHER INVENTION.

Mr. W. J. Hogue is Granted a Patent On a Cotton Seed Separator.

Shelby, June 26.—Mr. W. J. Hogue received a telegram the other day from Washington, saying he had been granted a patent on a cotton seed separator, which he recently invented. The machine is designed to remove the faulty and unproductive seed from the good seed and will be a great convenience to farmers in planting. Mr. Hogue has been working on the model for eight years and now he has it perfected so it will do most satisfactory work. He is a practical farmer himself and his ideas were put into the machine. Mr. John B. Clay, formerly of this county, but now of Hickory, did the mechanical part of the construction and the patent is granted to both of them jointly.

The machine measures 14 inches in width and two and a half feet in length. It is turned by hand and can separate about 50 bushels a day. The faulty and undeveloped seed are worked through a sieve by means of a drag chain. Mr. Hogue had a specimen of the work on the streets yesterday and the farmers who saw what it could do were high in their praise and think it will be a great convenience in getting a good stand of cotton and the best yield.

Now since the patent is granted, the inventors are looking toward its manufacture and sale. They expect to give the contract for making the machine to a local machine shop or foundry.

Passing of Historic Boston Edifice.

Boston, June 26.—The old court house of Boston, whose walls often echoed with the eloquence of men like Rufus Choate and Benjamin F. Butler was disposed of at public auction today, preparatory to being torn down to make room for a new structure. The structure was erected in 1837 on the site of an older court house in which Captain Kidd was confined while awaiting trial. In the newer court house many celebrated trials took place, including that of Prof. John White Webster for the murder of Dr. George Parkerson, and many years later of Jesse Pomeroy, convicted of the murder of little children.

What Is Now Ill Bred.

It is no longer well bred to talk about ill health. It is true that we are still hindered with relics of the days when one's health and ills were the most interesting topic of conversation. We still perfunctorily ask "How do you do?" But we have only pity or disgust for the person who really answers that question if she is not well. The woman who habitually pours out upon the unwilling ears of her friends the disagreeable tale of her headaches, her backaches, her worries or other ills; the woman whose greatest satisfaction seems to be to tell, in gruesome detail, every step of an operation either upon herself or some one else—these women are slowly but surely being isolated by the bar of social exclusion, and either ignored or avoided. We know for a certainty now that the physis contagion which one person can spread by suggestions with reference to disease is as real as the contagion from measles, mumps or scarlet fever. Modern society has reorganized this physis contagion, and is demanding that our conversation shall be clean and wholesome on subjects of health. To talk otherwise has become of ill breeding. This is an epoch-making change in the character of human conversation, and it has occurred within the memory of many of us.—Ladies Home Journal.
