HIGH TARIFF WALL NOT NECESSARY

THE ADDRESS OF REDFIELD.

American Products Do Not Need Protection Against Foreign Labor.

(By Clyde H. Tavenner, Special Washington Correspondent of The Reflector.)

Washington, June 28.—There is one protectionist argument that will never again occupy the place in American politics that it has in the past. That is the argument that a high protection wall is necessary to enable American manufacturers to compete in home markets with foreign manufactured goods.

The reason this stock protectionist argument will never again perform the same valuable mission for the Republicans, is because of a speech in the house by W. C. Redfield, of New York, who is a manufacturer himself, and who for 18 years has been selling American manufacturers in foreign countries.

Redfield contended and proved that the difference in daily wage at home and abroad should not be the sole basis of determining the amount of protection to be applied to a given article.

He cited instance after instance in which he sold articles manufactured by $5 a day American employes in countries where labor received less than one dollar a day.

Redfield took the position that the American manufacturers did not need as much protection as they were now enjoying "to protect them from foreign competition" because they are successfully competing with foreign manufacturers in all parts of the world.

"How does it happen," demanded Redfield, "that in a quotation recently made for machinery to a mine in Japan the American price was $215 less than the English price."

"How does it happen that 720 American locomotives are running upon the Japanese railways, and upon the railways of Formosa and upon those of Manchuria? These are sold in open competition with the makers in Great Britain."

Redfield related an incident between an American salesman who recently took a large contract from the Japanese Imperial State Railways and one of the managers of the Imperial Railways shop. The Japanese official was under the impression that he could manufacture locomotives cheaper than an American plant because Japanese wages are but one-fifth of American wages. "Both men got out their cost books," said Redfield, "and they found that the fact was the labor cost for locomotives on the same specifications was three and one-half times greater in the Japanese shops than in the American shops. And this is a perfectly normal fact and not an abnormal one."

Redfield said when he was in Calcutta, India, recently, his agent pointed to a pair of American made shoes he was wearing. "I paid $5 for those shoes," said the agent. "It is the regular American $5 shoe."

Redfield said that when he returned to New York he found the same shoe selling on Broadway for $5. "I shall be glad to give names and addresses to any member who inquires in private."

Redfield gave a score of similar instances. It is impossible to do justice to his remarkable revelation in this dispatch.

Every reader of this article may secure, free of charge, a copy of the complete speech, without doubt one of the most remarkable of its kind ever made in congress, by writing Hon. James T. Lloyd, chairman, National Democratic Congressional Committee, Washington, D. C.

Progressives on Their Guard.

Progressive Republicans were conspicuous at the president's recent wedding anniversary celebration by their absence. Even Roosevelt, the man who made Taft president, was missing. The explanation is this: The progressives did not, of course, intend any slight to the president, but actually feared that if they attended the celebration the White House press bureau would send out stories to the effect that they favored Taft for re-nomination and re-election.

If a Republican approaches within shouting distance of the executive mansion these days, Mr. Taft's secretary feeds the Associated Press with the "news" said Republican is (Continued on 4th Page.)

TODAY'S EVENTS IN NATIONAL CAPITOL

INVESTIGATING COM. REPORT.

Scores Loose Method of Bookkeeping Of State Department.

By Wire to The Reflector.

Washington, June 28.—The subcommittee investigating the state department made a report today on the Day portrait scandal case, severely scoring the loose methods of bookkeeping of the department and recommending the discharge of Consul General Michael and disbursing Clerk Morrison for the disappearance of $1,600 on the Day-Rosenthal voucher.

The navy department announces Admiral Togos itinerary. He will arrive in New York August 4th, and spend seventeen days in the United States.

Penrose conferred today with President Taft, and says again that the senate will vote on the reciprocity bill before August 4th.

Ambassador Bacon informs the state department of the ratification of a new extradition treaty between the United States and France has been exchanged.

William C. Gilmore, of Arbuckle Bros., told the sugar trust investigating committee today of the trade war in 1903 between Havemeyer and Arbuckles, because Arbuckles refused to join the trust.

Rush Culver, lawyer and lumberman of Lansing, Mich., told the Lorimer investigating committee today that he knew nothing about Edward Hines saying in Marquette that "It cost $100,000 to put Lorimer over."

The senate census committee agrees to report favorably the house re-appointment bill next week.

Senator Cummins offered several amendments to the reciprocity bill today and spoke at length on it. Reports of the bureau of corporations states that the investigation of the steel trust which begins next Saturday is expected to show violations of the Sherman anti-trust law enough to base criminal prosecutions.

Banks Will be Closed.

Next Tuesday, July 4th, being a legal holiday, the three banks in Greenville will be closed on that day.

PROF. BRIGGS AT E. C. T. T. S.

GAVE A SPLENDID LECTURE.

Illustrated By Illinois Schools Tuesday Morning.

At the period for devotional exercises yesterday morning the teachers had the pleasure of listening to an interesting talk by Prof. Thos. H. Briggs, who has the chair of English in the Eastern Illinois Normal school. The work of this school is like that of our institution—teacher training. President Wright in introducing Prof. Briggs said that he was a native of Raleigh, N. C., and asked him to tell us something about what they were doing at the Illinois Normal.

Prof. Briggs said he came down to see what North Carolina, Greenville and Pitt county had done in the establishment of this much-needed institution. He said he had been much interested in the school as he has read about its origin and establishment in the papers a few years ago. He expressed his delight at seeing such a plant for training teachers located here in Greenville in his native state. He said as he had gone through the magnificent building in Illinois, there being five normals in this state, he wished just such equipment for North Carolina. Some of the high school buildings out there cost as much as $250,000. This is more than this state has ever invested in buildings for teacher training, and yet we have within a million of the population of Illinois, leaving out Chicago, which has its own schools. The normal in which he is teaching cost $400,000. The legislature gives about $200,000 towards keeping it up.

The institution has about 500 or 600 students. The enrollment of the East Carolina Teachers' Training school will be over 500 this year. Illinois has been giving $2,000 a year for the past fifteen years for the library alone. In addition to this the school has another library from which students can rent all of their books at a cost to them of one dollar per year. The school also has a woman's building for social training, presided over by three splendid women. In this about twenty-five boys are allowed to board, both for the sake of the boys and the girls.

Last year the legislature gave $75,000 for another building. He stated that he did not see how anybody could run a normal school without a training school with the best of teachers in it. He then gave in detail how each pupil in their normal did three years of real practice teaching before going out to work in the schools.

He then said to the teachers present, this institution will be judged by you who go out from its walls, both as graduates and as attendants upon these summer terms. If you do better work and in this way show that training pays, then the legislature will be compelled, by public sentiment for better teachers, which you have helped to create, to give more liberally for the enlargement and equipment of this institution. "You owe it to yourselves, you owe it to this splendid school, and you owe it to the state to do your best work. It is impossible for you to pay for what you are getting here in money, but you can in better service."

All present enjoyed very much the splendid talk of Prof. Briggs and was glad to have him as a visitor to the school.

EDITOR'S MEETING IN SESSION AT LENOIR

ENJOYING THAT MOUNTAIN CITY

Wonderful Progress Noted Since They Were Here 22 Years Ago.

Lenoir, N. C., June 27.—The North Carolina editors are here holding a delightful annual session with a large attendance.

A special car for the editorial party was put on at Raleigh by the Southern Railway, and it came through to Lenoir without change. Quite a number were at Raleigh to take this car, and more were added all the way to Hickory. At that town there was a stop of some over two hours waiting for a delayed Asheville train, but the time was spent most pleasantly. A committee from the chamber of commerce met the editorial party and took them to the Huffly Hotel, where ice cream, cake, butter-milk and cigars were served.

Monday night the first session of the convention was called to order by President M. L. Shipman, in the auditorium of Davenport College. Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Pickard, of the Methodist church. In happy words Mayor McCall presented the "key to the city" to the association (and it was a huge gilt one nearly 2 feet long) and introduced Lieutenant Governor W. C. Newland, who delivered the address of welcome. In his address Gov. Newland paid a handsome tribute to the press of North Carolina and the work it is doing to upbuild the state. He said he knew the editors had been welcomed to many cities and towns in the state, but none of these were more from the heart than that Lenoir extended. The response to this welcome was made by Mr. Josephus Daniels, of Raleigh, and both the welcome and response were of a high order.

At the conclusion of the session envelopes containing post card views and cold drink checks were distributed with the compliments of the Lenoir board of trade.

This morning the editorial party were given a drive out to Hibriten mountain and the trip and magnificent scenery were greatly enjoyed. The people of Lenoir are leaving nothing undone that can add to the pleasure of their guests.

The work of the convention began with the session this afternoon.

Twenty-two years ago the North Carolina Press Association held its annual convention here. Those here now who were at the former meeting (though there are not many of the old-timers) see that marvelous changes have taken place. It was then only a small town, but its people were awake to their opportunities, and now it is a thriving, progressive mountain city. It has numerous large manufacturing enterprises, a splendid college for girls, excellent graded schools, fine streets, concrete sidewalks, handsome business buildings and edifices for worship, and a people whose progressive spirit and hospitality are unsurpassed. It is backed by a good country and the climate and scenery are superb. This is indeed a beautiful city.

WILMINGTON MAN MURDERED WIFE

A MOST HORRIBLE TRAGEDY

In Which Mrs. L. M. Sandlin Is Victim Of Maddened Husband.

Wilmington, N. C., June 27.—L. M. Sandlin, an ex-merchant who has recently been conducting a dairy in this city, and who separated from his wife about two weeks ago, this evening went to the home of his wife and after a few words struck her and as she rushed from the room fired three bullets at her, all taking effect and causing death instantly. She fell across the door leading into the front porch and her husband stepped over her body into the porch, placed the pistol to his head and fired, but the bullet, it was learned, when he was later carried to the hospital, only went through the bone of the skull and the wound is not regarded as dangerous. Sandlin made a statement immediately after the shooting that he had done what he intended to do. Mrs. Sandlin had been married twice and leaves nine children.

Few people trouble themselves to generate enthusiasm for things in which they have no interest. Every once in so often the straight and narrow path seems to pitch over a precipice. Our idea of an indulgent husband is one who doesn't think that his wife talks too much.

Fight In Schultz Store.

Tuesday afternoon, about 6:30 o'clock, Mr. B. D. Beach whipped a negro boy by the name of Brown pretty badly in the store of Mr. S. M. Schultz, where he is clerk. The negro is the one who shot Mr. Beach some time ago, while on the river bridge, with a 22-calibre rifle, for which he was sent to the county roads for a term. Since coming off the roads the boy has been picking at Mr. Beach, who had become tired of it when he thrashed him decently. No weapon was used and the negro only suffered bruises. Mr. Beach's hands were skinned somewhat by the blows he struck the negro.

Harvard Confident of Winning.

NEWS THAT IS OF IN- TEREST TO TAR HEELS

GATHERED FROM EXCHANGES.

And Briefly Told for The Reflector's Busy Readers.

A gift of $50,000 from Dr. A. R. Ledoux, former state chemist of North Carolina, was announced by Dr. Francis P. Venable, president of the University, at a meeting of the executive committee of the board of trustees in the office of Governor Kitchin yesterday afternoon. The gift was made for the purpose of endowing a fellowship in chemistry, to be known as the "Ledoux Fellowship." Dr. Ledoux, as former state chemist, resided at Chapel Hill, and it was there he formed such friendly ties with the University that he remembered the institution and its work after being called to a larger service in New York City. The income will be used in the support of a student.

Scotland Neck.—This community was shocked yesterday morning when a telephone message was received from Shield's Commissary, a few miles from here, that Mr. L. E. Barnhall had taken laudanum and was in a precarious condition. A physician, Dr. O. F. Smith, was summoned and hurried to the bedside of the unfortunate young man, but the deadly poison had done its work, and the efforts of the physician were futile death resulting about ten o'clock yesterday morning.

Wilmington.—Andrew Keith, a negro employed at the Navassa factory of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company, several miles above the city on the Cape Fear, was drowned at the factory yesterday.

Judgment, Mr. Umpire.

All over the country at this season the cry goes up of "Judgment, Mr. Umpire!" In athletic sports everywhere in the world the demand in hotly contested points is for a decision. It is fundamental that some man must judge through his powers of observation. Even in the vacant-lot baseball game, where there is no appointed umpire, the runner holds or relinquishes first because of the judgment of some youngster, who cries out his conviction and gains a consensus of yells which outweigh in earnestness those of the other side. This interesting process may be observed any afternoon in baseball season. Sometimes a close decision is made almost without debate. A prompt judgment by a leader, not always the same one, however, is usually to be found to settle the matter at once. It may be observed that in affairs more serious than baseball or other sports everything depends upon the accuracy of observation and the correctness of judgment of somebody; so that this cry for a decision becomes important.—Columbia State.

KEEP COOL IF YOU CAN.

They are having some warm discussions in Atlanta as to whether a gentleman should wear his coat in public or not. One gentleman was refused admission to a motion picture theatre there because he did not wear the conventional coat. Wearing a coat doesn't always make a gentleman, neither does going without one detract from his gentlemanliness. We stretch that word gentleman too much anyway. If a man is dressed neatly, in shirt and trousers, no matter whether he wears a coat or not, he should not be considered ungentlemanly on account of dress, no more than the girl who wears shirt-waist and skirt and not a coat suit should be considered unladylike on that account.

Friday, 30th, the date for the celebration of the anniversary of the breaking of ground for the buildings of East Carolina Teachers' Training school, is nearly here, and we again call it to the attention of the people of Pitt county that they should not miss these exercises. Governor Kitchin will be here to make an address, and other prominent speakers will be present.

The regular editors being away at the press convention puts a different appearance on most of the papers coming to our table. Being editor is a hard job for most of us, but at the same time, the regular editor being away gives us a chance to see that we are not for the job, or the job is not for us, one of the two.

Those dealers who are operating what are called "wheels of fortunes" in their stores, should take note of the action of the grand jury of Guilford county Superior court in finding bills of indictment against several druggists in Greensboro for operating these wheels.

The dome they are putting on the new court house reminds us of the boy who has just returned from college, wearing a cap about as big as a quarter to display his fine head.

California physicians are blaming the newspapers of the country for many of the suicides that occur. They say the publicity given to these lead to others.

Champ Clark is not letting President Taft dictate to him a bit. He says he is going to doctor this tariff question if he can.

Don't you reckon Taft felt a little cheap when Clark informed him that he was on the job as speaker?

Building And Loan.

Judging from reports submitted at the recent meeting of the state building and loan association the work is rapidly growing throughout the state. Rapid increases in membership of established associations has been shown in many places, and several towns have organized associations. The value of the building and loan association to a town cannot be over estimated. The Catawba County News comments interestingly upon a statement made by one of the speakers at the recent meeting:

"A speaker at the state meeting of the building and loan men in New Bern this week made the point that while building and loan appeals principally to those who desire to build homes, it ought also to appeal to the men with money, for it offers them a safe investment at a paying rate of interest, and at the same time the man who invests his money has the satisfaction of knowing that he is helping his town to grow and is thereby enhancing the value of his own property.

"The same speaker appealed to the state association to work for the investors, declaring that they are needed in the association. He urged that the men of small savings, through the association, could make good money by building homes with his savings, selling them to others and repeating the operation at a profit, always.

"The building and loan association, therefore, helps all classes of citizens. It helps the homeless man to own a home; it offers an opportunity to save and an education in saving to the small wage earner; it gives the man of large means a chance to help others without loss to himself, to build up his town and to increase the worth of his own property, for no community can receive a benefit without every individual in it being benefited in some degree."—Charlotte News.

Freedom and Independence.

In their labor of beating the bushes for any possible "issue" that may aid them in the campaign of 1912 the Democrats in congress have stirred up the ghost of anti-imperialism and will evidently implore support on the ground that the Philippine Islands must not be enslaved longer than July, 1920, but on or before that time political independence shall be granted them. The glory of this achievement is invited to rest upon the brow of Representative Cline.

This confession of political freedom with political independence is one of the most interesting and persistent of modern fallacies, although evidence of its error are all about us. If it were true, of course, there could be no freedom in Canada or Australia, which are still parts of the British dominions, or in Texas and Hawaii which are incorporated in the American empire at their own request, or in Alaska and Porto Rico, which were purchased by us from their parent powers.

The doctrine that political independence is the right of an empire's isolated sections was settled once for all in American practice by the Civil War, when seceding states were kept in by force of arms. Such compulsory union is not incompatible with freedom as our Southern people now know very well.—Indianapolis Star.

Will Soon Be Void.

Sometime between 12 o'clock next Friday night and Saturday's dawn North Carolina puts on firmly the near-beer and beerine lid. According to the state wide law passed by the last session of the legislature after June 30 so-called "blind tigers" will not be privileged to lurk behind near-beer, fly-specked, cobwebbed, frosted windows. A sale of near-beer or beerine on or after July 1 will be a violation of the law, and the punishment will be dealt out according to the offense.

The special privilege tax issued by the government to near-beer sellers also expires on June 30. In order to sell near-beer this tax will have to be taken out as heretofore as far as Uncle Sam's part of the law is concerned, but as in the case of blind tigers the sellers of near-beer cannot secure selling privileges from the city nor state that will permit the sale of such drinks.—Asheville Citizen.

Starting a Poultry Business.

If you are a novice and wish to venture into the poultry business, don't get the idea that you must start with a number of different varieties. Not long since, a young man visited my yards with a view of gaining some information along poultry lines. One of his questions was, "Can't a man make considerably more with a number of breeds?" Possibly more amateur breeders consult themselves upon this one question than most any other one thing. It is a fact that there are a number of breeders that are making a fortune, so to speak, from the results of breeding a number of varieties. But remember that men who make a success with more than one variety are very rare. To make a success of breeding a number of varieties requires a great amount of natural business ability as well as a thorough knowledge of mating and handling thoroughbred poultry.—Industrious Hen.

Social and Personal.

A Prayer.

Across the miles to you, dear heart, Comes love and faith each day from me,
And though we now must be apart
I guard you by my earnest plea;
I always pray this little prayer,
God keep you safely everywhere.

Today I may not touch your hand,
Nor look upon your dear, strong face,
But, Ah, you know and understand
The words that fly across the space,
And there is ever just this prayer,
God keep you safely everywhere.

The thought of you makes time seem bright,
It helps me through the long, long day,
And in the quiet hours of night
I think of you, so far away;
Then e'er I sleep I pray this prayer,
God keep you safely everywhere.

With arms outstretched I turn my eyes
Out to the world where still you roam,
Each day I wait the glad surprise That brings you back to me and home;
While always for you is this prayer,
God keep you safely everywhere.

Wants Extra Session.

The Fayetteville Observer, Major
E. J. Hale's paper, is urging a special session of the legislature to enact a primary law. Reciting the fact that a little over a year ago in a meeting of the Democratic state executive committee, a proposition to have the committee recommend that the state convention endorse the legalized primary received but four votes, Major Hale is of the opinion that much progress has been made since that time and that but few would dare now to oppose the legalized primary.

THE HAPPENINGS AROUND WINTERVILLE

BANK CLOSSES NEXT TUESDAY.

Personal and Other Items of Interest Of That Community.

Winterville, N. C., June 28.—Rev. M. A. Adams returned Saturday, after attending the International Baptist Alliance at Philadelphia.

See Harrington, Barber and Company for your land plaster, it is an excellent dressing for peanuts.

Mr. J. E. Greene, our clever railroad agent, spent Sunday in Rober-sonville.

The A. G. Cox Manufacturing Company have one thousand tobacco trucks for sale. Your truck is ready for you, come and get it.

Messrs. C. T. and Herbert Cox,
Misses Jeannette Cox and Esther
Johnson attended church at Rountrees Sunday.

Mrs. J. L. Rollins is spending a few days with her parents near Kinston.
Messrs. Harrington, Barber and Company have marked their summer goods 'way down in price. It is an excellent opportunity for you to get a bargain.

Mr. J. A. Jarrell, of Grifton, spent Sunday with friends near here.

A new lot of bed spreads and felt mattresses just arrived at A. W. Ange and Co.'s.

Mr. F. A. Edmondson, of Stantons-burg, spent Sunday in town.

In order to reduce our stock of shoes and hats, we have greatly reduced the price. Come and get some of the bargains. Harrington, Barber and Company.

Misses Helen Wooten, Mary Beddard and Minnie Williams, who are attending the E. C. T. T. S. spent Sunday and Monday with Miss Mamie Chapman.

Mr. Eugene Cannon, better known as "Pistol," the clever bookkeeper for
the A. G. Cox Manufacturing Company, spent Sunday at home, near Rountrees.

Don't forget the cheap hamburg, lace and lawn at A. W. Ange and Co.'s.

Mr. Wade McCotter, of Grifton, was in town Tuesday.

Messrs. Heber McLawhorn, Roy
T. Cox and R. L. Abbott went over to Ayden yesterday to see Greenville fix up the boys.

We are turning out some very good flour at our mill now. Bring on your wheat, also corn and get it ground any day. Harrington, Barber and Company.

Mr. J. S. Ross, of Ayden, was in our town yesterday.

Laughing Cox and Miss Esther Johnson drove over to Ayden yesterday evening and reported a nice drive and time.

Miss Clyde Johnson, of Ayden, is spending a few days with Miss Dorothy Johnson.

Next Tuesday, July 4th, being a legal holiday, the Bank of Winterville will be closed on that day, but open next day as usual.

Taken up with my hogs—one spotted pig, weight about 25 pounds. Owner can get same by paying cost. David McLawhorn, R. F. D., Winterville,
N. C.

What has become of our Ayden correspondent? The writer likes to see the Ayden news, but for some reason or another has been unable to see it.
[He is evidently taking a vacation.
We would be glad to hear from him,
too.—Ed].

A Charming Woman

Is one who is lovely in face, form, mind and temper. But its hard for a woman to be charming without health.
A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation and kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Put Electric Bitters always prove a godsend to women who want health, beauty and friends.
They regulate stomach, liver and kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion.

Under estimates do not cause such great loss as over estimates.

strong for the re-nomination of the president.

As the genuine progressives are opposed to Taft's re-nomination, they are not disposed to take any chances of being misrepresented.

Popular Elections Endangered.

The resolution providing for the election of United States senators by the direct vote of the people, failed to receive the concurrence of the house, because of the senate amendment retaining federal control over elections. This amendment, which would probably have defeated ratification by the necessary three-fourths of the states, even had the house accepted it, was tacked on the resolution by Bristown, of Kansas, Lorimer, of Illinois, Guggenheim, of Colorado, and the solid delegation of special privilege servers in the senate.

Railways Overpaid.

Postmaster General Hitchcock at last confesses that the government is overpaying the railroads for the hauling of the mails to the extent of about $9,000,000 a year.

James Manahan, who represents the railway mail clerks in their campaign to prevent the postmaster general from putting into effect his policy of economizing by overworking the mail clerks, declares the railroads are being overpaid to the extent of not less than $25,000,000 a year.

Democrats in congress have for years contended that such a state of affairs existed, but the Republicans refused to investigate.

Republicans Still Divided.

A statement to the effect that Theodore Roosevelt and all of the progressives save possibly LaFollette, would support President Taft for a re-nomination, was recently given out by the White House press bureau and printed in all parts of the country.

This untruthful report made the progressives angry clear through, with the result that if they ever had any idea of supporting Taft for a re-nomination, they have abandoned it and will support LaFollette. The only progressive who is avowedly for Taft now is Kenyon, of Iowa, who while still posing as an insurgent in his home state, is apparently rapidly developing into a reactionary in Washington.
