

WILMINGTON TYPHOID FEVER SITUATION

LESS THAN TWO PER CENT. ILL.
Report Is Result of Strict Health Ordinance of City.

Wilmington, N. C., July 11.—It has been learned in this city during the past few days that absurd reports are being circulated over North Carolina and also in different Southern cities relative to typhoid fever in Wilmington. These reports, in most instances, are absolutely at variance with the facts in the case. From May 1st to this date one hundred and sixty cases of typhoid fever have been reported as shown by the records in office of superintendent of health, and there is no doubt about every case being reported as a very strict ordinance was passed some time since requiring physicians to report all cases of typhoid and some ten or fifteen other cases within twenty-four hours. Of the cases in the above total, twenty-eight were treated at a local hospital and part of these were from out of the city. Something over thirty of the cases reported have been discharged and there have been only five deaths, two of these being patients at the hospital and who were brought here for treatment. This shows that the death rate as to Wilmington patients has been less than two per cent. At the present time there are about one hundred and twenty cases of typhoid in Wilmington, and when it is taken into consideration that this is a city of 26,000 as shown by the last census, the number is not considered as large by any means. For a period of two months there have been less than six cases reported for each thousand of the inhabitants. The type is very mild and some of the leading physicians say it is what is known as paratyphoid, this being a name given to the type of fever by Dr. Osler. In paratyphoid the deadly typhoid germ does not appear and patients often recover in from ten days to two weeks, and such has been the history of many of the cases here. Records show that the number of cases of fever here has been but little, if any, greater than in the other towns of the state, but the reports probably got started on account of the council under the new commission form of government passing a number of stringent ordinances affecting sanitary conditions and are seeing that the ordinances are being enforced. In other words, the health department with Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, a physician with splendid training for the work, began to clean the city up as it had never been cleaned before and compelled the observance of all sanitary laws.

Some of these reports had it that typhoid was also at Wrightsville Beach. This is absolutely untrue and in a statement just issued by Dr. W. D. McMillan, county superintendent of health, he says: "Wrightsville Beach, North Carolina, has ever been and is today entirely free from fever of any description." Water at Wrightsville Beach is secured from an artesian well 400 feet deep and analysis shows it absolutely pure.

DR. CARLYLE DEAD.

Brilliant Scholar and Leader Succumbs to Illness.

Raleigh, July 11.—Dr. John B. Carlyle, one of the best known college professors of this state, died about 2:30 o'clock this morning at his home in Wake Forest after an illness of some months. He was for 23 years professor of Latin at Wake Forest college and for several years was president of the state Baptist convention. Surviving is a widow, formerly Miss Dunn, of Tennessee, and two sons, Irving, aged 15 and Jack, aged 11.

Dr. Carlyle was one of the chief movers in raising an endowment of over $100,000 for Wake Forest, besides more than $16,000 for the Alumni building and $9,000 for another. John Bethune Carlyle was born in 1858, near the town of Lumberton, in Robeson county, North Carolina. After careful preparation, acquired mainly by his inflexible determination to secure the best education possible, he entered Wake Forest college in 1883. His career as a student was brilliant and successful. From the very beginning of his student life he acquired an acknowledged ascendancy over his fellows by his sparkling wit, and his superior mental qualifications, united with his indefatigable energy, and his scholarly conscientiousness caused all college honors to fall thick and fast upon him. His unrivaled talents as an orator were recognized throughout the whole of his college life, and there was no honor reward of his society that was not readily granted to him. To the end of his life he was always the generous helper and valued councillor of Philomathean society.

TRAIN STRUCK OPEN SWITCH
In Which Many Are Killed and Seriously Injured.

By Wire to The Reflector.
Bridgeport, Conn., July 11.—Tearing through this city at a terrific speed to make up lost time, the federal express from Washington to Boston struck an open switch on a trestle on the outskirts of the city this morning. The engine, tender, mail and baggage cars and four Pullman cars plunged to the street below in a tangled mass. Many were killed and injured.

The two rear Pullmans containing twenty-five of the St. Louis National League team were the only cars remaining on the track. Twelve bodies have been recovered. Scores of injured are in the Bridgeport hospital. Many are believed to be fatally injured. Only one of the dead have so far been identified. Most of the injured are from Washington and Philadelphia. Henry Christman, of Middleton, Virginia, is among the injured.

PROF. HAROLD BARNES AT E. C. T. T. S.

LECTURE HIGHLY APPRECIATED.
"Two Western Poets—An Evening With Field and Riley."

No audience that has assembled in the auditorium of the Training school was ever more delighted than the one gathered there last evening. The occasion was a lecture by Prof. Harold Barnes, of Gerard College, Philadelphia. His subject was: "Two Western Poets—An Evening With Field and Riley." In the final part of his lecture Prof. Barnes discussed briefly reading under the following heads:

1. Reading—Why teach to read?
2. Reading and literature symbolizes all the thought and emotions of man.
3. It is of various kinds.
4. Various selections call for various methods of interpretation and expression. All are not read the same way.
5. Great necessity for interpretation on the part of the teacher.
6. Value of distinct articulation, enunciation, etc.
7. Remaining too long on the study of a reading lesson or literary production—its effect.
8. Supplementary reading—its uses and value.
9. The old Friday afternoon exercises.
10. Value of being a good reader.
11. Illustrations of different types.
12. The teacher should be a good strong talker. Should know how to dramatize, etc.

Prof. Barnes gave much valuable information upon this important subject and every teacher present will be able to teach reading much more intelligently now than she has ever done heretofore. Following this splendid discussion of reading and expression Mr. Barnes gave a magnificent living, present illustration of the truth that reading means something when properly done, as he read and interpreted as finely as we have ever heard the following poems from Field and Riley:

- "The Duel."
- "Intry-Minty."
- "The Sugar Plum Tree."
- "Wyunkin, Blynkin and Nod."
- "Pittypat and Tippytoe."
- "Jest 'Fore Christmas."
- "Seein' Things at Night."
- "The Singing in God's Acre."
- "Sometime Time."
- "Little Boy Blue."
- "Little Orphan Annie."
- "Dat Little Boy of Mine."
- "When the Frost is on the Pumpkin."
- "Nothin' to Say."
- "Out at Old Aunt Mary's."

NEWS THAT IS OF INTEREST TO TAR HEELS

GATHERED FROM EXCHANGES.
And Briefly Told For The Reflector's Busy Readers.

During the recent drought the dust nuisance in this city became almost unbearable on Main street. Volumes of dust, laden probably with all sorts of microbes and unhealthy germs, had to be breathed in by the citizens. No matter what resort the merchants had to go in screening against the pesky fly, the abominable dust had to be endured. But now, thanks to one of our most public-spirited citizens, Mr. F. E. Creelman, a large quantity of the Standard Oil Company's best asphalt oil will be used on the street and applied from curb to curb—the city will co-operate in this laudable work and is through the generosity of the street railway company, the city has received a cash donation of $500 to be applied to the beautifying of the new city park.—High Point Item.

News reached the Courier Office yesterday morning that Mr. S. H. Queen, of Addie, N. C., an old and highly respected citizen of that neighborhood, had been killed by an infuriated bull. Mr. and Mrs. Queen live alone, their children being married off, and it is supposed that Mr. Queen had gone to the cow lot to tie the animal, or in some way to arrange for the safety of his wife who has to do the milking. He was found in the corner of the lot with his brains knocked out.—Waynesville Courier.

E. E. Whitehead has been bound over to the Superior Court in a $500 bond at High Point on the charge of representing, without license, the Standard Home Company of Birmingham, Ala. The Commissioner, J. R. Young, has refused to license the company on account of disapproval of its business methods and system.

GETS INCREASE IN SALARY.

$4,000,000 For Benefit of 40,000 Rural Postmen.

Washington, July 11.—The 40,000-odd rural free delivery carriers in the United States are to receive salary increases as a result of an order issued today by Postmaster General Hitchcock. The order provides for the disbursement during the current fiscal year of $4,000,000, which will mean an increase of $100 over the present salary of $900 for all carriers on standard routes, with proportionate increases in shorter routes.

Congress provided last session for the expenditure of this extra $4,000,000 but left it to the discretion of the postmaster general as to how much of it should be expended. Mr. Hitchcock decided today to authorize the expenditures of the full amount.

His desire to compensate the carriers for any additional burden which may be placed on them if the parcel posts system he has recommended for rural routes is approved by congress, was the important consideration, Mr. Hitchcock declared today, which led him to make the authorization.

The rural delivery system was started fifteen years ago with 83 carriers, who were paid only $200 a year. Only 1 there were 41,562 carriers, their aggregate salary being $35,793,000.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES

What Was Found In Charlotte Last Monday.

The report on an investigation carried on last May of the weights and measure conditions in Charlotte by the bureau of standards, has been received by Mayor C. A. Bland and in its 17 pages of facts, there is much interesting reading.

In the report it is said there is power invested in the board of aldermen, regarding the regulation of weights and measures within the city limits, but that the board has never exercised the power vested in it.

The county has a standard keeper, whose apparatus is very incomplete and his sealer's record sheet is in a deplorable condition. "The weights and measures were found scattered about in the rear room of a gun shop and apparently no care had been given them in years"

"In general our investigation shows that the supervision of the weights and measures of the city of Charlotte is very insufficient and characterized by great laxness"

While 26.3 per cent. of the beam scales tested were incorrect by more than 3 per cent., 40 per cent. of the computing and 57.1 per cent. of the spring dial scales were in error more than this amount. Of the 41 counter scales tested and over which commodities were sold 36.6 per cent. were incorrect. A number of scales which were in favor of the dealer so much as an ounce in one pound, were reported to have been tested by the county standard keeper.

Of the 99 weights tested, only 64.6 per cent. were correct within 1.2 per cent. Of the remainder 35.4 per cent. incorrect weights, 51.4 per cent. were light in weight. Some of the errors were more than 9 per cent., a very poor showing for this class of apparatus.

Not only were 55.5 per cent. of the dry measures tested found incorrect by more than 3 per cent., but all of those found incorrect were short. These figures, however, do not indicate the correct percentage of dry measures short for the general practice here is to measure dry beans and sometimes green beans and cranberries by liquid measures. The liquid measure when used for measuring dry commodities deliver 14 per cent. and upward less than the correct amount.

In some cases the bottomless type of measure was found in use and since this type generally delivers 12 per cent. or more less than the correct amount of the larger dry commodities, the consumers of this city suffer further from short weights by its use in the market.

Great carelessness characterizes the scale of liquid commodities. Nearly all of the brands of print butter found in the Charlotte market and examined, averaged light in weight. These shortages were in most cases not large and four out of the seven brands of regular brands of regular print butter examined were in error less than 1 per cent.

Of the 20 packages of commodities put up by local stores and found in several different stores, one-half were full weight and the other half underweight. The average error of all of these packages was only 7 per cent and the maximum error only 4.2 per cent. underweight.

In the summary the following is found:
"It seems certain that an enactment by the state and rigid enforcement of such laws as are advocated by the National Conference of Weights and Measures, could not fail to bring order to the present chaotic state of the weights and measures in this city and others of the state of North Carolina.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Hurt In Wreck.

While backing into a switch near Lynchburg, the Kinston-Carolina work train this morning ran over a cow, which threw the car off the track. The car was filled with workmen going out to their work, and these were jammed together in one end of the car by the accident. TUESDAY, JULY 11 1911.

The Simmons and Cummins changes of the free list bill are having a hard time. From all reports the senate won't stand for them and will vote them down today. It seems to us that if any merchandise or commodities are admitted free, all should be. Democracy advocates free trade, and why not have it? Lots of Democrats and Republicans both are beating the devil around this, the same bush. Interests is the cause of the inconsistency, and when we vote we should be mighty sure we are voting for clean, strong men.

There are five candidates in the Georgia senatorial contest and the first ballot is being taken today. Governor Hoke Smith and Senator Ferrell are thought to be in the lead, one of whom will probably be elected in a second ballot, as it is expected the first vote will be too close to get a majority.

North Carolina is going to have it just as bad. Wonder if all those fellows are after this one particular job just for the name there is in it, or—well, there is so much of the other you may guess.

Miss Hoffman, of western North Carolina of "missionary infamy" is brought before the public again by the editor of the Cleveland (N. C.) Star, who, while at the press convention week before last, discovered how she managed to do the trick of deceiving the northern would-be philanthropists to fill her coffers, a full account of which is published in this paper.

The typhoid fever reports from Wilmington have done that city no little damage, and it appears there was little cause for any such alarm as has been broadcast during the past two weeks by calamity howlers.

Manufacturers' Record published the figures for 10 Southern States and the District of Columbia, showing an increase in capital in the five years of 44.3 per cent, and in the value of products of 35.6 per cent. The figures for Tennessee and Texas, which have since been announced, account for the increase in these percentages of progress.

Between 1904 and 1909 the increases in Tennessee were from $102,439,000 to $167,924,000, or 64 per cent in capital; from $137,969,000 to $180,130,000, or 31 per cent in value of products, and from 60,572 to 73,841, or 20 per cent, in the average number of wage-earners. In Texas in the same period the increases were from $115,665,000 to $216,876,000, or 87 per cent in capital; from $150,528,000 to $272,896,000, or 81 per cent in the value of products, and from 49,966 to 70,229, or 43 per cent in the average number of wage-earners. The capital invested in factories in the 12 Southern States and the District of Columbia in 1909 was $1,067,582,000 greater than such capital in the whole South in 1900, and the value of factory products was $913,552,000 greater than such value in the whole South in 1900.—Manufacturers' Record.

How We are Slandered for the Dollar

When we were over at Lenoir the other day we learned how Miss Hollman stirred up some of the Northern people about the pitiful (?) condition of the "mountain whites." Most readers remember the sensation she caused and the lengthy newspaper articles that were written on both sides. This Miss Hollman was a northern woman who went to the mountain districts of western North Carolina where some of the biggest hearted people of the south live. There she opened a school and after it had been running for some time she had a tacky party. All the children were asked to come dressed in the tackiest clothes they could find. When she got them there, she had a picture made of the group. Some time later she had a swell dress affair. Everybody came in their Sunday best, then she had another picture made of the group. These two pictures she sent back North as a sort of "before and after taking" her dose of civilization. The pictures were such a contrast, that sympathetic people of the North thought she was doing a great and worthy work and gave liberally to the cause. Then she began writing newspaper articles, telling her Northern friends that the mountain whites of the South lived in the most pitiful environment and asking aid to educate them. Her articles were highly exaggerated, of course, but she got what she wanted—big donations from the North. She had misrepresented the good people of our mountain districts, got money under false pretense and swindled her Northern friends. And this in the name of charity.—Cleveland Star.

NORTH CAROLINA IN 1781.

Gov. Nash's Letter Describing Conditions at That Time.

An interesting letter from Abner Nash, Governor of North Carolina and member of the constitutional congress, to Gen. Nathaniel Greene, Granville county, May 24, 1781, brought $26 at auction in Philadelphia a few days ago. Nash, whose autograph is rare, gives in the letter an account of the deplorable condition of affairs in his state at that trying period, when Gen. Greene was trying to defeat the British forces under Lord Cornwallis. Nash writes:

"All my endeavors to raise the militia, even to obstruct the march of Lord Cornwallis through this state, proved in vain. I was myself in their front most of the way, but able to effect nothing. They have now passed over Roanoke into Virginia, where the joined enemy are greatly an overmatch for the Marquis, (Lafayette.) His force is not only small, but he mentions in the letter of the 15th that he knows nothing of the Pennsylvania troops.

"The Virginia militia are for the present fresh and spirited, and I hope they will prove of great support to the Marquis. Our militia, especially of the lower parts, are good for nothing. I congratulate you, sir, on your success against the enemy to the southward, their being compelled by the judicious methods you took to abandon their strong posts in the heart of the country.

"The Marquis is very public spirited and disinterested. He wishes me to have much more at heart the reinforcing you than himself. Great numbers have taken protection on parole of Lord Cornwallis on his march through the country, and parties of robbers, commanded by officers of his commissioning, are ranging through the country committing murder, robberies, and every species of enormity. Could you permit Gen. Summer to remain a while to assist in punishing the guilty and in recovering Wilmington to this poor distressed, and wretched country."

In the course of nine months Gen. Greene recovered from the British the three Southern states, North Carolina and South Carolina, Georgia, and, at the close of 1781, had all of the enemy's forces below Virginia hemmed within the cities of Charleston and Savannah.

The South's Supremacy in Cotton

The purchase of 9,000 acres of Mississippi cotton lands by a Holland syndicate, in connection with the previous acquisitions of 32,000 acres by Lancashire milling interests, is an international trade symptom of great interest. It indicates a recognition by British and Continental manufacturers of the futility of their efforts to become independent of the American supply by fostering cotton-growing in Africa and the East. King Cotton's throne is to stay in the South.—New York World.

United States Deputy Marshal, B. F. Smith, U. S. Deputy Collector, J. E. Cameron and Deputy Sheriff Geo. Gray, after some hours of search, located, captured and destroyed a 90-gallon capacity whiskey still near the Duplin-Lenoir line, a mile south of Pink Hill, in the early hours this morning. The still was located in the Barbara Loftin place on Panther branch, and it was equipped to make rum. There were 12 fermenters and 250 gallons of spent beer, all of which, with the still, were cut up and destroyed. Three men, supposed to be implicated in the ownership and operation of the still, were detained by the deputy marshal and ordered for a preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner, A. J. Loftin next Thursday. The still was not in operation at the time the officers raided it, but the spent beer indicated that it had only been a short time since it had been operated.—Kinston Free Press.

School of Courtesy.

The Illinois Central Railroad will establish a "school of courtesy" throughout every branch of their system. That will be a real service to the road, for polite employes make an enterprise popular. It is very discouraging for a patron of a road to ask a question of an employe and get a rude, mubling or smart-alecky answer, which is frequently the case. It makes no difference how high or how low a man's employment is, it is as much his duty to be courteous as it is to be honest. No one has any more right to treat a man rudely than he has to hit him. And especially has a traveler on railroad or trolley a right to gentle treatment, for he is forced to go that way and very often is compelled to ask for information. It is the sign of a low brow and bad breeding to answer a polite question in a crabbed and chusty manner. But that is often done.—Ohio State Journal.

Yeggmen Shoot Sheriff.

Asheville, N. C., July 10.—The station of the Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio Railroad at Marion junction was dynamited early today and practically wrecked the iron safe having been demolished, the window blown out and the roof torn off. Only $4 was in the safe at the time and this was taken by the robbers. Sheriff Mashburn, of Marion, started in pursuit of the robbers with bloodhounds but they eluded the pursuers.

Tonight when a Southern freight train pulled into Old Fort, N. C., three men were seen to alight. Sheriff Mashburn, who had come to Old Fort in pursuit attempted to talk with the men when one of them ran and commenced firing. The sheriff was shot in the ankle and painfully injured. A posse took up the pursuit and one of them, an unknown boy, was shot in the arm. The robbers escaped to the mountains followed by the posse.

The Philosophy of Life.

Did it ever occur to you that a man's life is full of crosses and temptations? He comes into the world without his consent and goes out against his will and the trip between is exceedingly rocky. The rule of contraries is one of the features of the trip. When he is little the big girls kiss him, when he is poor he is a bad manager, if he is rich he is dishonest. If he needs credit he can't get it, if he is prosperous everyone wants to do him a favor. If he is in politics it is for the graft, if he is out of politics he is no good to his country. If he doesn't give to charity he is a stingy cuss, if he does it's for show. If he is actively religious he is a hypocrite, if he takes no interest in religion he is a hardened sinner. If he gives affection he is a soft specimen, if he lives to an old age he missed his calling.—Exchange.

Arrested for Murder After 50 Years.

Daniel W. Byers, a farmer of Greenville, Tex., was arrested a few days ago charged with the murder of L. L. Harris, at Honham, Tex., 50 years ago. Byers is seventy-nine years old. There is only one witness living, George W. Donohoe, of Fort Smith, Ark. Since the killing which was the result of an impromptu duel, Byers has been at large. His whereabouts were only recently discovered by the sheriff. He was for many years a resident of South Texas. He has reared a family since the killing and become one of the leading men of his community.

In a free and easy community there is always something doing.

SOME INSURANCE FIGURES.

North Carolina Got $3,500,000—Some Pitt County Payments.
From the Insurance Press is gathered the facts that life insurance organizations of the United States and Canada distributed $563,440,000 in 1910. The various claims paid were $381,440,000 and the dividends and payments $182,000,000.
For policy holders who were able to hold their protection throughout the year dividend payments were increased largely. The record of dividends paid by the companies that reported in New York showed an increase to the amount of $10,839,572, compared with $9,195,734 for increase in 1909 and $7,730,107 for increase in 1908. Several millions of dollars of dividends were applied for the purchase of annuities and paid-up additions to insurance carried.
According to that record a notable feature of the transactions was that the amount of the dividend distributions ($72,874,538) was $17,470 in excess of the amount of disbursements for surrendered, lapsed and purchased policies ($72,857,068).

Besides showing increase of the amount paid, the record accounted for $9,836,494 of dividends due and unpaid, including amounts left on deposit, an increase of $1,641,829, compared with $1,361,864 for increase in 1909. Dividends declared on or apportioned to annual and deferred dividend policies in 1910, payable in 1911, amounted to $72,648,141, an increase of $6,015,647 over declared dividends for 1910. The amounts set apart, calculated or provisionally ascertained upon deferred dividend policies had a total of $272,939,437, an increase of $5,580,103 for the year.

Business insurance boomed, the amounts of new insurance ranging from $100,000 to $1,000,000. The appreciation of life insurance for the protection of business interests has increased notably in the past three years. Chief executives and managers of departments of corporations, on whose energy and experience successful transactions depend, have taken insurance against the contingencies of financial loss and interruption of operations in the event of death.
Life insurance for the individual capitalizes unearned income; for the corporation or partnership it capitalizes productive value in affairs less sentimental than those of the home.
In amount of beneficiaries paid New York state heads the list with $69,500,000, with Pennsylvania and Illinois following. New York City heads the list of cities with $36,446,750, with Philadelphia ($14,073,000) and Chicago ($13,243,500) next. The total payments for North Carolina were $3,500,000. Married Folk, Take Notice.
A friend of ours has compiled a list of domestic irritations. Here are a few of them:

- It is irritating to her to find his cigar stumps in her flower pots.
- To have him go and wash up just when dinner is announced.
- To have him sit on a tilted chair, or lay his head on the sofa cushions.
- To have him draw designs on her fresh tablecloth while waiting for his meals.
- It is irritating to him to find no salt or pepper in the shakers.
- To jump out of the bathtub and find no towels at hand.
- To be caught under the chin by the clothesline when passing through the kitchen in the dark.
- To have hot coffee placed before him when he has 30 seconds to catch the train, and cold coffee when he has all the time there is.—Boston Transcript.

Hatch Will Have A New Store

HATCH is to open another 5 and 10c Store here at an early day. He has leased from Mr. W. H. Harrington the store at present occupied by B. G. and J. R. Abe-Younis and one occupied by the Central Barber shop adjoining. These two are to be thrown in to one with an entire new front, and Hatch says it will be the largest and best 5 and 10c Store in Eastern North Carolina. The present occupants will vacate by the first of August, and the work of remodeling will begin.

Six Months' Failures.
During the first six months of 1911 there were reported to R. G. Dunn and Co. 7,061 failures, an increase over the corresponding period of 1910 of 673, but though greater in number the business defaults of the year showed reduced aggregate liabilities, these amounting in the first half of 1911 to $103,698,334 as compared with $112,239,306 in 1910. The increase in number of defaults extended to every section of the country.
In both number and amount the total of the Southern States makes a fairly satisfactory comparison with last year, there being only a slight increase in either particular, the number in this section being 1,720 as against 1,204, while the liabilities reported were $16,542,290 and $16,157,436, respectively. A fact worthy of mention, however, is the marked improvement shown by the second quarter over the first three months of the year, in the latter period 775 failures being reported involving $9,542,279, against 491 during the former for only $6,686,228.

Vaccinate Against Typhoid.
Dr. A. K. Tayloe, a member of the military medical reserve and one of the best known young surgeons in North Carolina, will one night next week inoculate the several organizations of the National Guard in Kinston with the new typhoid anti-toxin, which is being given to the army and National Guard by the war department. Dr. Tayloe is attached to the medical department of the Third North Carolina infantry and was an observer at the recent Texas manoeuvres. He says that over 20,000 men were inoculated on the border, and that not a single case of typhoid developed, with the exception of a civilian who had not had the treatment.

Boys Set Fire to Barn.
Two of Prof. C. A. Weiss' boys about 8 and 10 years old, at Conever last Friday went into the loft of the cow stable to experiment with a new lamp the professor had recently bought and warned them not to handle. Either from matches used in lighting the lamp or from an explosion, the straw was set on fire. The oldest boy beat a hasty retreat to the house for help, but the younger tried to put out the fire and stuck to the fight till his hands and face were pretty badly burned. When Professor Weiss reached the scene, the younger boy was sliding down the steps and the flames right after him. The building was entirely consumed.—Newton Enterprise.

Cloud Took Refuge in Barn.
During the thunder storm last Monday morning Mr. Woodlief Clark was struck and instantly killed by lightning. He and another young man were at work on the farm when the cloud came up and took refuge in an unoccupied house. Mr. Clark was sitting in a window when struck. No one else was hurt. His neck and arm were burned and his shoes torn from his feet.—Littleton Reporter.
