

ASTORIA BEGINS ITS CELEBRATION

ONE HUNDREDTH ANNIVERSARY.

Pacific Coast of Expedition Sent from New York by John Jacob Astor.

ASTORIA, August 10.—In commemoration of the 10th anniversary of the arrival on the Pacific coast of the expedition sent from New York by John Jacob Astor, the United States-Army and Navy, the State of Oregon and the city of Astoria joined today in the formal inauguration of what promises to be one of the biggest celebrations of its kind ever in this part of the country. The celebration will continue an entire month.

Soldiers and sailors, business men, school children, Indians, public officials and other representatives of all the States embraced in what was formerly known as the "Oregon country" will participate in fetes, pageants demonstrations on land and water, historical parades, memorial exercises and monument unveilings—all in commemoration of the transformation within a century of "an undiscovered country," peopled by a few hundred roving Indians, into prosperous States with millions of white inhabitants, the building of railways, irrigation works, towns and cities; the development of complex and highly differentiated industries, the conversion of vast areas of unproductive plains into gardens, orchards and grain fields; the creation of hundreds of millions of wealth.

The various shows, and there is a different one scheduled for every day of the celebration, will be held in the open forest among the hills which lie back of Astoria. One of the features will be a reproduction of the old fort and settlement founded by the men of the original Astor expedition. Indians of the Northwest will take part in a historical pageant and in other festivities.

One of the features of the celebration will be the holding of the big meet of the Pacific Coast Amateur Association, which will take place August 25 and 26. A rowing regatta will be another of the attractions. A convention of the Oregon Development League is expected to attract hundreds of visitors. A band tournament will bring together brass bands from all over the Northwest, in addition to an Indian band made up of members of the tribes which inhabit the reaches of the Columbia River. August 28 will be known as Astor Day, on which occasion a statue of John Jacob Astor will be unveiled with appropriate exercises.

The settlement of Astoria by the Astor expedition, which the celebration is to commemorate, was the first permanent settlement in the far Northwest and gave the United States its strongest claim to the Oregon country. Though the British took possession of the Astoria fort in the war of 1812 and renamed the place Fort George, the place restored to the United States after the treaty of peace with American claims of settlement unimpaired.

John Jacob Astor was the driving force in exploration and settlement of the new country and the men who did more than any one else to save to the Union the territory now embraced in the States of Oregon, Washington and Idaho. Measured by the conditions of a century ago and those of today, the project of Astor far surpasses those of any latter day captain of trade, transportation or finance. He planned a real winning of the West, a peaceful conquest of a great region to which the nation's title was doubtful, the establishment of a long chain of trading stations that would blaze the way for civilized man and open the door of opportunity for countless millions, and beyond the West itself he reached out to give America the trade of China and practically the control of the Pacific.

A fine ship, the Tonquin, was equipped for the Astor expedition for the far Northwest, and on September 8, 1810, she sailed from New York. After many perilous adventures in the hazardous voyage around Cape Horn and up the Pacific coast the ship arrived off the mouth of the Columbia River on March 22, 1811. The weather was tempestuous and eight days elapsed before an entrance was gained to the mouth of the river. At last, after much delay and trouble, the Tonquin got inside, and on April 12 a site was selected on a small bay for the establishing of the station which was to be

GAIETY THEATRE.

The Attendance at The Gaiety Theatre Continues To Grow Larger.

The attendance at the Gaiety Theatre appears to grow larger and every available seat is occupied each night, eager to witness the high class pictures they still are exhibiting.

All seem to be well pleased with the daily motion picture bill these people are giving the Greenville people.

The only objectionable feature of this place of amusement is that their seating capacity is too small, however, this will be eliminated in about one week, when their chairs arrive for their new building.

Their new quarters they expect to occupy is now completed and is quite an improvement over the old one.

Their opening date has not been announced. However, they expect to give out this information shortly.

the company's headquarters on the Pacific.

A fortified post was built, the Stars and Stripes were raised and the settlement was named Astoria. Had the Americans made their settlement but a few months later, the British, who had several expeditions in the field, would have planted the first claims of occupation in large part of the region of Oregon and Washington and probably would have retained it as their own.

A GAME WITH CLASS.

Singles And Marrieds Tie For Ten Innings.

There is base ball and base ball, and then some, but no game has been pulled off in the Greenville park that gave so much real amusement to the grand stand and blockers as that on Wednesday afternoon when the singles and marrieds met on the diamond, and after a contest through ten innings quit off with even honors in a score of 9 to 9. There was class about this game and it was interesting from start to finish. Every player was a favorite, the fans having no rooters, except the lads and lasses rooted a little harder for the singles, and the paters and maters for the marrieds. But nobody cared specially how the game went, and every good stunt from any quarter got its meed of applause. There was much that was good, too, a number of the plays being such as would have done credit to leaguers.

The line-up of the respective sides was as follows:

Singles: Hooker, p.; Blow, c.; Hutchings, 1b.; Anderson, 2b.; Brown, 3b.; Randolph, ss.; Savage, rf.; Dupree, lf.; Burch, cf.; Vick, cf.; Laughinghouse, lf.
Married: Moore, p.; Bowling, c.; Dall, 1b.; Forbes, 2b.; Overton, ss.; Warren, 3b.; Evans, rf.; Flanagan, lf.; Staton, cf.

It will be noticed in this list that the marrieds were allowed to borrow a battery, Moore and Bowling, from the singles, but in exchange for this the singles were allowed to play a benedict, Laughinghouse.

It was a little past 4 o'clock when Umpire "Sol" Hooker, of Yankee Hall farm, gave the command to "play ball." And let it be said here that his decisions all through were the real article and some of the professionals might well take lessons from him. There was no kicking or calling back and only once, down near the finish was he routed, and that was when "Uncle Sam" thought the ump. needed a little cooling and went after him with a dipper of water.

The singles went to the bat first. Hutchings got a hit to first. Anderson also hit to first and scored Hutchings, but was put out stealing second. Randolph took his base on balls. Hooker made it safe to the first sack and Blow died on the way to it but he scored Randolph. Laughinghouse put the side out, but the singles felt jubilant over two runs in the first.

The marrieds came up with Dall at the bat. He hit right down to first "by the book," but was nabbed while trying to steal second, which wasn't in the book. Overton followed, but fanned. Flanagan put a stamp on the sphere and got special delivery to first. Bowling banged a good one for first on which "Uncle Sam" trotted around the home plate and opened the general delivery window to the grand stand. Moore patted it for first, made second on a fumble and (Continued on Third Page).

ANOTHER WRITER FROM HANRAHAN

TALKS OF THINGS DOWN THERE.

Says Our Regular Correspondent Don't See What Is Going On.

HANRAHAN, N. C., Aug. 10, 1911. Editor Reflector:

I really believe that there is something within almost every person that makes us want to see our names in print, or we want to see something in print that we have written. This earnest desire has been denied me, for it really seems that I can't say or do anything that is worthy of notice. If I go to the city the reporter never sees me, and if I stay home and plow your correspondent from this place takes no notice of it.

If I speak in opposition to building good roads and the one who we all think writes from this place hears me, he will say, "Well, what was land worth here before the railroad was built, and what is it worth today?" and I am bound to admit that it is worth ten fold more than it was before the railroad was built. Then he says "How much easier it is for horses to carry a load on good roads than over such as we have today, and who will have the taxes to pay?" Then I am bound to admit that those who own the property will have the burden to bear and that their property will be more than doubled in value if good roads are secured, and I, who don't own any property, will not have half as much burden to bear as I have now in meeting on the roads pretending to work, when really little good is done. But there are a few who can't exactly see things as I am beginning to see them now.

I tell you the honest truth, Mr. Editor, I did say some right rough things about that Training school, and for a while I thought your correspondent from this place would do more towards pleasing the people if he had said things hard about it, and I told him so, but he never says very much unless you get him wound up and then he just defends a principal that he knows is right if the world were to oppose him. When I gave him my idea about that Training school he just showed me the great benefit it is to every lady, and especially to the children that are growing up to be trained for life's work by giving them competent teachers. So I have come over on that side and that is why I am asking space of you.

Your correspondent has not been saying enough about the progress our community is making. Sir, for fifteen years I have known this community, and there was not even a Sunday school in it and now for nearly two years, without an intermission for summer or winter, we have had a Sunday school that would do credit to any community. And still your regular correspondent says nothing about it. We all think that the one who writes from here is the superintendent of the Sunday school. So I guess that is the reason he never mentions the work that is being done along this line. But I am a looker-on, so I tell you, it would do you good to come some Sunday at 4 p. m., and see what a Sunday school we country people can have because we are all united on this one thing. Get in your automobile and come some Sunday afternoon. I don't believe it would scare us much, and if it did, we had as well begin to get used to it, for soon we will see them everywhere, even at Hanrahan. But our house is too small to hold our congregation or the children that attend school here and must be enlarged. So we sent the "Bigone" (everybody in this community knows that is W. S. McLawhorn) up to see the board of education to see if they could enlarge it for us, but they said they had let us have all that they could when they built the neat house that we have. Our people, one and all, say that we must have a larger house, so they are just chipping in work, material and some money, and we are going to enlarge any way. Now, if any one who reads this feels desirous of helping in a worthy cause, just send your contribution to the postmaster or to W. S. McLawhorn, or to the "Bigone," Hanrahan, N. C., and it will be thankfully received and rightly applied towards enlarging our house. We just must have more house.

Now, Mr. Editor, we wrote you once before, and because we couldn't write

YOUTHS CHARGED WITH MURDER

Immediately After The Crime They Visited Birmingham.

GADSDEN, Ala., Aug. 10.—Luther Thompson, Joseph Saulsberry, Wiley Goforth and C. F. Curvin, each of whom belongs to a respectable family in this section, were given a preliminary hearing today on the charge of murdering Nicholas Shentzen, the German hermit miner who was robbed and killed at Altoona several weeks ago. The murder was one of the most atrocious in the history of this country. The victim was beaten to death the night before he had intended leaving for his old home in Germany. The body, decapitated, was hidden under his cabin where it was found the following day. Immediately after the murder the four youths suspected of the crime visited Birmingham and are said to have spent considerable money. Within a day or two they disappeared. Two of the quartette were found in Shelby county and the other two were arrested in Arkansas.

Meet To Discuss Contest Rules.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 10.—Representatives of the leading automobile concerns of the country are in the city for the annual meeting of the Manufacturers' Contest Association, which began today and will continue over tomorrow. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the rules to be recommended to the contest board of the American Automobile Association for use during the coming year. The principal subjects slated for consideration are the reduction, elimination or the establishment of a new method for determining the weight limits in stock car events and the important matter of regulating competition on half and one mile dirt tracks built originally for other than automobile use.

Preacher and Pitcher.

Rev. R. V. Lancaster, better known as "Dick," who is supplying the Kinston Presbyterian church this summer, is an enthusiastic base ballist, and plays in the box for Kinston in the games on the home field. He pitched one of the games there when Greenville played in Kinston. Mr. Lancaster was a school mate of Rev. Robert King, pastor of Greenville Presbyterian church, and will preach for him next Sunday morning and night.

Storm Troubles Lights.

Wednesday night during the storm a limb dropped across the main primary line of the electric light wires and short circuited them. The trouble was located and cleared as soon as possible, the lights being out less than an hour. The storm also caused trouble with the arc circuit which could not be located and repaired until today.

Carnival at Long Branch.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Aug. 10.—The annual August carnival was inaugurated auspiciously today with the coronation of the carnival queen, which event was followed by the firemen's parade and prize contests. Governor Wilson is to be here tomorrow to review the children's parade.

Letter Carriers at Quebec.

QUEBEC, Aug. 10.—The Federal Letter Carriers' Association met in Quebec for its annual convention today with delegates present from nearly every section of Canada. W. W. Burrows, of Winnipeg, is presiding over the sessions, which will last several days.

Storm Wednesday Evening.

That was an ugly looking storm that struck this section about supper time Wednesday evening, and for a while seemed to threaten damage. The cloud was heavy and the wind blew a gale for a short time. A nice rain followed. We have heard of no damage of consequence being done by the wind.

PITT COUNTY FARMERS EDUCATIONAL MEETING

DISCUSS INTERESTING MATTERS

Large Attendance of Farmers From All Sections.

A large number of farmers from all sections of the county were here today to attend the educational institute that had been arranged by Congressman John H. Small. Owing to the lack of sufficiently large hall for such a crowd, the auditorium of the Training school was kindly tendered for the use of the farmers and the meeting was held there.

The meeting was called to order by Senator R. R. Cotten and Congressman Small spoke first on the purpose of these educational meetings for farmers and the benefit to be derived from them.

Mr. A. G. Smith, of the government agricultural department, was introduced and spoke on the subject of "Drainage." He especially pointed out the need of lands being well drained, the expense attached to open ditches and the far greater advantage it would be in the saving of both time and expense by a good system of under drainage. Every farm can and should have a complete system of drainage. It is a problem the farmers must work out for themselves without looking for the government to drain their lands for them. A neighborhood or district drainage outlet, with a system of tiling emptying in to this, was recommended as providing the best drainage for the farm.

The farmers manifested much interest in what Mr. Smith said on this important subject.

Prof. C. L. Goodwin was next introduced and spoke on the control of fertility and products. He showed that conditions are largely in the hands of the farmers and they can largely increase the yield of their crops by the proper soil fertility. The root of a plant is its most important part, therefore is entitled to most attention. The work of making a crop should be done in the soil down where the roots of the plant must develop and give sustenance to that which comes above ground.

The soil must be well supplied with plant food if the plant is to produce bountifully. The roots of the plant must have air and water and humus must be retained in the soil, and these can be largely controlled by the method of cultivation and the proper use of cover crops. This address was also exceedingly interesting.

This afternoon there was an address by Prof. I. O. Schaub on farm demonstration work, followed by Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt on good roads and the organization of a county good roads association. Owing to the lateness of the hour of the afternoon meeting fuller reference to it cannot be made today.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 10, 1911.

The home players really give us the most fun.

The tax assessment shows that Pitt county has kept pace with the gainers in valuations.

Durham county is to have a system of road drags throughout the county. Can't Pitt do the same?

The Durham Sun is kind in letting the people know it will be cool enough by next Christmas.

For a fact we believe the folk, more especially the team backers, will be glad when the ball season is over.

Wouldn't you like to see some enthusiastic rooting for factories in Greenville as there is for base ball?

For every man trying to build there are two trying to tear down. Get on the building side, brother, it will pay you better. A knocker never gets rich.

The Launderers Association of North and South Carolina selected Charlotte as their place of meeting next year. They are not looking for a scarcity of water in that city then.

Another meeting of the Durham county commissioners and no settlement of the court house matter yet. Those people will learn after a while that houses don't grow, if that's what they are waiting for, they have to be built.

The Southern Express Company has taken exception to the tax assessment placed upon it by the corporation commission of North Carolina. As much tax as the express company levies upon the people, it should not object to paying a little tax itself. There is not a company doing business that is more able to pay taxes.

There is probably less factional feeling in Greenville than in any town in the state. The people here are too broadminded for such and for this reason are strong when they try to accomplish anything. We need more factories bad in the town to furnish employment the year round to workers. It would be an asset to the entire community to have them. Can't we get together and devise some means of securing something of the kind? Perhaps we could start a co-operative factory of some kind.

Greenville has lots to be proud of, but there is one thing that every mothers son living here ought to be ashamed of, and that is we have so few manufactories when we have such a resource as the surrounding country for raw products. Do you remember the parable of the talents? Well, it is as true today as it was in ancient times that if you do not add to the talent God gives it will be taken from you and given to the one who has the most. Greenville as a body should get busy to improve its talent by establishing factories. We can do it.

Truck Farms and Dairies.

There is hardly a town in the South that is not holding out big money-making chances for any man that will run a good truck farm or a good dairy. Perhaps there is most money in a spotlessly clean high-class dairy, considering the extra money that really superior milk, cream and butter command, but there is good money in vegetables also, if one serves customers with dependable regularity and promptness. "Why, my customers, it seems, would meet me half way into town if there were no other way to get my vegetables," one Progressive Farmer reader said to us last week.—Progressive Farmer.

It is positively inconceivable why a tiller of the soil should persist in scratching over a hundred or two acres of land deriving therefrom twenty, thirty or fifty dollars an acre when he could stir his stumps a little more industriously over a half or a fourth of the area and quadruple the productiveness and the profit.

There is easy money, ready money, and big money in trucking, for people will eat—generally too much—and are willing to pay something extra for fresh, choice vegetables. That sanitary and appetizing dairy products command a premium goes without saying. Poultry also is in the same class with the truck garden and the dairy, always in demand at prices which ought to make the producer rather ashamed to take the money.—Charlotte Observer.

Warning to Parents.

Of all the lamentable things to be observed in Gaffney during the course of a day, there is nothing that makes a greater impression upon us than the fact that the very young boys of the town, between the ages of 10 and 20 years of age, are rapidly becoming criminals. And this state of affairs is not so much the fault of the boys themselves, although they are, of course, to blame, but the greater responsibility rests upon the shoulders of the parents.

There is a number of stores in the city where these boys collect, mostly about 15 years of age. They appear there early in the morning, in fact just after breakfast and with the exception of a few minutes intermission for dinner they may be found there until a late hour in the evening, oftentimes 11 o'clock and probably later. They absorb more filth and dirt on the street than their parents imagine exists. It is almost impossible for one unacquainted with the conditions to have any clear conception of the enormous amount of filth that can penetrate a boy's brain at some of their "hang-outs" in town.

This condition is not at all overdrawn. A condition such as described, only possibly worse, really does

WHAT SAVED HER LIFE

Mrs. Martin Tells About a Painful Experience that Might Have Ended Seriously.

Rivesville, W. Va.—Mrs. Dora Martin, in a letter from Rivesville, writes: "For three years, I suffered with womanly troubles, and had pains in my back and side. I was nervous and could not sleep at night.

The doctor could not help me. He said I would have to be operated on before I could get better. I thought I would try using Cardui.

Now, I am entirely well. I am sure Cardui saved my life. I will never be without Cardui in my home. I recommend it to my friends."

For fifty years, Cardui has been relieving pain and distress caused by womanly trouble. It will surely help you. It goes to the spot—reaches the trouble—relieves the symptoms, and drives away the cause.

If you suffer from any symptoms of womanly trouble, take Cardui. Your druggist sells and recommends it. Get a bottle from him today.

exist. And as has been stated, the parents are responsible. No doubt if asked, some time during the day or evening, as to the whereabouts of their boy they would be unable to say. Fighting, lying and associating with evil and immoral companions, what will their ultimate end be? That is perfectly obvious. Stealing, drinking and then a term of years in the reformatory or penitentiary. Parents, put your boy to work. Take him off the street. If you can't find employment for him elsewhere, get him in the back yard and introduce him to the wood pile and axe. If not that, something at least that will keep him at home and away from the conditions just described. This is a true statement of facts. You believe it. Do something about it.—Gaffney (S. C.) Ledger.

SAGE TEA WILL DARKEN THE HAIR

Restore Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color.

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great-grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull faded or streaked appearance they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair, with wonderfully beneficial effect.

Nowadays we don't have to resort to old-time, tiresome methods of gathering the herbs and making the tea. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of sulphur, another fine scalp remedy.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special agent Moye's Pharmacy.

How He Got The Name.

A negro was in town a few days ago with a load of hay, and forgetting the party's name whom the hay was for, made some inquiry to see if he could in any way get at the name again. He was questioned in the matter, and being asked what the name sounded like, replied, "It was something like Christmas, Thanksgiving, or the Fourth of July," whereupon his questioner replied "It must have been Holiday." "Yes, sir, date it," rippled the darkey.

Drought Killed Trees.

One of the effects of the drought of 1911 just becoming apparent is the number of trees showing dead brown leaves. Almost every piece of woodland to be seen is spotted with these trees. The oak seems to have been less able to stand the drought than any other variety of tree. The destruction of the trees from this cause is said to have been heavier in Anson than in any other county in the state, though Cabarrus lost heavily.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Shower Baths For Horses.

Just off Broadway, in a cross street not far below Thirty-fourth, a private citizen has set up for the comfort of horses three free shower baths. A part of the watering outfit here established consists of three zinc tubs kept constantly filled from which horses drink and there are also buckets that drivers can use to water horses across the street.

Water is supplied for the tubs and for the shower baths from a pipe laid along the curb. The shower baths, spaced about fifteen feet apart, have each an upright pipe standard rising to a height of about eight feet, with a pipe arm four feet in length projecting at a right angle from the top, and which can be swung around horizontally, the arm having at its outer end a sunflower sprinkler.—New York Sun.

CRIPS AND DUST FROM THE DIAMOND

gave Bowling chance to reach home. Forbes danced up and made a drive that brought Moore in while he landed on first and stole second. Staton worked his passage to first, but Forbes took too much risk and stopped the inning with three runs for his side.

In the single's second Brown struck out. Vick lamed it for first, stole second and came in on a passed ball. Savage went out catcher to first, and Hutchings fled over in right to "Little Willie" who nabbed it and called a halt.

For the marrieds Warren and Evans both fanned and Dail went out second to first, retiring the side with the game standing even.

The singles drew a blank in the third by Anderson, Randolph and Hooker going down in quick succession. The marrieds had better luck. Overton went out short to first. Flanagan labeled another one for first and got to second on one that slipped through. Bowling sacrificed and gave "U. S." another home delivery. Moore hit for first and stole second. Forbes sallied it down to first according to Queen's quality, scoring Moore, but got picked up again while trying to walk over to second.

In the fourth and fifth both sides put blanks on the score board. Dupree took Savage's place for the singles in fifth but his first up was to fly out.

In the sixth Hooker got across the plate giving the singles one more. Laughinghouse succeeded Hooker in the box, and gave the marrieds another cypher. Blanks came again in the seventh.

In the eighth Randolph and Hooker both got home, giving the singles two more. In the married's half Flanagan was bumped by pitcher, stole second and was scored by a good bunt from Bowling.

In the ninth there were blanks again leaving the score 6 to 6, so the game had to be continued.

In the tenth things got extra lively. Dupree for the singles slipped one under Warren and made first but died on the way to second. Randolph hit safe for first, Hooker ditto. Blow swatted a two-bagger, scoring Randolph. Laughinghouse fanned, but Brown made a swipe that brought in Hooker and Blow, this inning netting three runs.

The marrieds came up looking henpecked. Overton touched one over to third who got it back to first ahead of him. Flanagan gave one to the pitcher and could not beat it to first. Two out looked bad for the benedicts. Here by consent the leaguers, who were spectators, were allowed to come to the rescue. Utley took the bat, but Laughinghouse would not give him a strike, making him take the base on balls. He was a good sprinter and easily stole second and third, and came across on a hit by Lutterloh. Smith banged away and scored Lut, when Billings got up for a three-base hit and landed Smith. This making the score even again White fled out and the game was called.

Score by innings: Singles . . . . .210 001 020 3—9 Marrieds . . . . .302 000 010 3—9 Hits and errors were too numerous to keep tab on, but the game was great. Fly catching by Staton and Evans was a feature.

SAVING A DOLLAR A WEEK.

Deposited in a Savings Bank for Twenty Years, It Will Have Increased to $1,612.

"It is mighty hard," said an unfortunate workman some time ago to the writer, "to save up a thousand dollars by laying aside a dollar or two a week and then to take it out of the savings bank and lose it to a get-rich-quick swindler, as I have just done." This poor fellow could work and save, but he had not had even a kindergarten education in finance, else his story would have been different. He had never given a thought to interest, and so was absolutely ignorant of growth through compound interest, and of course had never heard of that wonderful process of accumulation known as "progressive compound interest".

One dollar deposited in a savings bank that pays four per cent. will amount to $2.19 in twenty years. This is simple compound interest. Now if you deposit one dollar every year for twenty years, or $20 in all, the sum to your credit will have grown to $30.97. Any wage-earner can put by one dollar a week. That money deposited in a savings bank for twenty years will have increased to $1,612. A deposit of five dollars a week will have grown to $8,000, and this at four per cent. will be $320 a year. There is no secret, no mystery about this. It is clear as the cloudless sun and the method is just as clear and honest.—Christian Herald.

PITT COUNTY TAXABLES.

Assessed Valuation of Real and Personal Property.

Below is published a table showing the tax assessment of the various townships of Pitt county for the year 1911, and a comparison with the year 1910. It gives the number of polls listed in each township, the number of acres of land and value per acre, total assessment of real and personal property, increase over last year, and the number of dogs listed in each township.

Some of the townships show a small falling off in polls and a decrease of 38 in the entire county. Farmville township shows the highest valuation per acre of land, $12.55, and Belvoir the lowest, $6.03. The average for the county is $8.86.

Chicod has the largest number of dogs, 668, Greenville coming second with 596, the total number listed in the county being 3,957.

While the table shows an increased assessment of real and personal property amounting to $1,612,491, it does not include corporations which will swell the increase to probably above $2,250,000, making a total taxable valuation in the county of about $11,000,000.
