MORE ABOUT THE SEVEN SPRINGS

A PLACE OF NATURAL BEAUTY.
Prophecy For The Great Highway Across The Continent.

HANRAHAN, N. C., Aug. 12, 1911.

If my visions could upward soar,
Till I should view heavens brightest shore;
Then God's love I could not explore,
His mercy endureth for evermore.

One who has been through the thrall tenfold worse than death, haggard, worn, depressed, and ever feeling that surely the hand of God was laid heavily upon them, (for we often accuse a kind Providence of things that are due to our own gross ignorance or neglect), and then as we grow older and realize how through His mysterious ways God often brings an obscure boy through hardships and suffering to lead the way to that source of help that has not only blessed us but will continue to bless untold numbers that shall come after us, surely we are forced to exclaim God is merciful and good.

As soon as I was sure that Eugene was entirely out of reach of any who might betray him, I told my father how much better I felt when I had drunk of that Seven Springs water that Eugene had led me to, and that there must be a road opened sufficient for me to get to them with a horse. So he took two colored men and went immediately and opened a way to them. Each day thereafter for about five weeks I found my way to these springs, and there drank and was restored to health and vigor. Little was said about them, even for years, for the country round about was thinly settled and my home was in a somewhat obscure place. But occasionally those who had seen my sorrowful look now saw that it had changed into the bloom of health. So on inquiry they found that the waters of these springs had done it. As mines of great worth develop slow, but after a while the shaft sinks low and the gold that has been so long hidden from the use of man is revealed, refined and purified, and is put into circulation, so with the wonderful waters combining curative properties that no human chemist can combine for centuries lay hidden, and are yet comparatively unknown, but they are beginning to come into notice, and ere long the inhabitants of distant states and even other nations who are longing for health, will flock to them as they do to no other source of comfort or health. It will not be very long before some Rockefeller or Carnegie, worn, tired and longing for some drink that will revive them, will on their magnificent car, drive on the great highway from Beaufort N. C. to San Francisco, Cal., and must needs pass by these wonderful springs. Some of these great financiers will be attracted by the wonderful beauties that nature has thrown around these clixirs of life, they will be so enchanted by the natural scenery that they will halt, and once they have imbibed of these waters they will never rest until they have spent their millions developing and artistically beautifying this lovely spot. And these men who are so much interested in the eradication of hookworm will develop these springs and the pilgrims will come from the four ends of the earth to see, drink and be made well, especially those who are suffering from hook worm or that dreaded malady, indigestion.

This is a prophecy that ere long will be fulfilled. An highway shall be there, a way that shall lead from the surging billows of the great Atlantic to the peaceful shores of the mighty Pacific. Yes, and this highway must run almost parallel with the charming banks of the enchanting Neuse. First, because this undeveloped river courses its way along the most direct route for the great highway, and second, because in the formation of the earth the great I Am looked down through the ages and saw the progressive spirit of the North Carolina people of this age, and He made this river with its sand belt along one bank and its splendid clay soil all the way along the northern bank and with its channel furnishing abundant waters with which to mix these two elements, our state will be at little cost to build this highway from the extreme eastern to western border and when this is done Tennessee will run gasoline cars along this way and partake of

FIGHT SHY OF LIQUOR QUESTION

County Conventions Were Held Today Throughout Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., August 12.—County conventions were held throughout Kentucky today for the election of delegates to the Democratic State convention which is to meet here next Tuesday. The work of the convention will be confined to the adoption of a platform, as the candidates for governor and other State officers were chosen in the primary last year.

Great care will be exercised in building the platform, for the Democrats appreciate the fact that they must fight hard to win a victory in the coming election. Despite the success with which the Democrats have been meeting in other sections the party leaders here are aware that Kentucky, which has been admittedly a doubtful State since it went Republican for the first time in 1895, is now more doubtful than ever. This is due partly to the advantage of the Republicans in being in control of the State administration and partly to the fact that the State's increase in population, as shown by the recent census, has been almost wholly in the eastern districts, which are overwhelmingly Republican.

The platform will give an enthusiastic indorsement to the policy pursued by the Democratic party in congress. As regards State issues the most interest centers in the resolutions concerning the liquor question. Unless the Republicans force the issue, which so far they have evinced no intention of doing, the Democrats probably will refrain from making the question the chief issue of the fight. If the convention feels obliged to take an emphatic stand in the matter, however, it will probably declare itself unequivocally in favor of a uniform local option law, with the county as the unit.

Newport Society Goes to the Dogs.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 12.—The first dog show held here in several years was given at the Casino today under the auspices of the Rhode Island Kennel Club. More than 400 canine pets belonging to the fashionable residents of Newport were displayed. There was no place for an ordinary dog in the exhibition. A line of blue-blooded canine ancestors was the only ticket that insured admittance. Even class distinctions prevailed among the tiny animals, the haughty Blenheim spaniels and those named in honor of King Charles absolutely ignoring the breezy looking little English bulldogs and Boston terriers.

Be foolish tomorrow, if you will, but be wise today.

what we once thought worthless sand, and will carry it into her borders and build, and thus the work will move on until our continent will be opened by this one mighty highway. Then some genius will see with an eye of faith (that means things my work) underneath this sand belt rivers of oil, and by means of his foresight applied by some one's capital, great oil wells will be explored that will furnish the power to drive all the transporting cars over this way that shall not only carry our traveling public but our rich commerce. No ravenous beast shall walk thereon and only the most thorough bred horses will travel upon it, because the burden of commerce will be transported by gasoline or electric power, and there will be no need to burden beasts of any kind to carry our produce and only those who have horses and who will care for their comfort, need hook them up, because it will be much easier and much more rapidly done to move our commerce by the aforesaid power.

So then the poor, as well as the rich, can traverse this mighty continent and see what wonderful things the Lord of heaven and earth hath done for the children of men, and much of this through the instrumentality of man.

Eugene has a son out in the far West who is fast developing into one of the greatest electricians and civil engineers of his age. So no doubt he will be a great factor in planning, surveying and building this highway. The next two years will see our State and the South develop as she has not in a century before, and this portion of our State, especially, because near here flows the river that carries the life-giving waters of Seven Springs.

GRAND JURY TO PROBE BEATTIE MURDER

ON NEXT MONDAY, AUGUST 14.

The History of His Crime Contains Many Features of Unusual Interest

RICHMOND, Va., August 12.—Intense and general interest is manifested throughout the State in the opening, next Monday, of the session of the Grand Jury for Chesterfield county, across the river from here. The Grand Jury will be called upon to investigate the Beattie murder case one of the most sensational and puzzling crimes ever committed in that county. It is the general impression that there will be enough evidence submitted by the State to justify the Grand Jury to find an indictment against Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., now a prisoner in the Henrico county jail, but at the same time it is well known that the State has added little to the circumstantial evidence obtained shortly after the crime was committed, that a reasonable motive for the alleged crime has not yet been found and that counsel for the defence has been working quietly but diligently, assisted by a number of private detectives, and is evidently determined to make a desperate fight at the subsequent trial to save the accused from electrocution.

The history of the crime with which Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., has been charged by the coroner's jury, contains many features of unusual interest. The accused, who is now about twenty-six years of age, is the son of Henry Clay Beattie, Sr., a well-to-do business man of this city. Young Beattie received a fair education and, at an early age, began to indulge in a fast and reckless life. He had numerous affairs with girls, but only one had serious consequences. About four years ago he became intimate with Beulah Binford, a handsome but morally corrupt girl who, at that time, was not quite fourteen. The intimacy continued and two years ago a child was born to the girl. The young mother named the child Henry Clay Binford, but soon abandoned it to the care of some relatives. Later the child was adopted by Mrs. Mary Trout of Richmond, but it proved sickly and died in July of last year. To hush up matters young Beattie induced Beulah Binford to Raleigh, N. C., where she promised to remain, so as not to interfere with Beattie's marriage plans.

More to please his father, upon whom he depended for a living, young Beattie, about two years ago married Miss Louise Owen, the pretty daughter of a resident of Dover, Del. The marriage was not happy. Young Beattie did not abandon his fast life after marriage and even the birth of a child, about six months ago, did not improve the relations between the young married people. A few months ago Beattie met the Binford girl by accident at a baseball game at Norfolk and she was easily induced to return to Richmond, where Beattie promised to provide a house for her.

Beattie and the girl met frequently at different hotels in this city and, although they kept their relations secret, Beattie's father learned of the affair and is said to have threatened his son with the withdrawal of his support, should the young man not stop his dealings with the Binford girl. In the second week of July last young Mrs. Beattie, with her baby, went to visit her uncle, Thomas E. Owen, within a mile of South Richmond. She was to return home on July 19. On the evening of July 18, young Beattie came to Mr. Owen's house in his automobile, to take his wife out for a ride. They left, driving along the Midlothian Pike. About eleven o'clock that night Beattie returned to Mr. Owen's house in his auto, steering with one hand, while he was holding his wife's lifeless body with the other.

Beattie said that his wife had been shot and killed with a shotgun by a tall man with a long beard, who had held them up, while they were driving along Midlothian Pike. The case called for an investigation by the coroner and after a long and quite sensational hearing the coroner's jury gave the verdict that Mrs. Beattie had been shot and killed with a shotgun in the hands of her husband, Henry Clay Beattie, Jr. The latter was arrested and lodged in Henrico county jail, where he spent his time unconcernedly, smoking cigarettes and strumming on his guitar. The Binford girl was arrested as a possible accomplice. Since his imprisonment

NEWS FORECAST FOR THE COMING WEEK

TAFT TO GO TO OCEAN GROVE.

The Political Calendar Calls for Many Meetings of Interest.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 12.—President Taft is scheduled to go to Ocean Grove, N. J., Tuesday to address the Methodist camp meeting there and later in the week he expects to go to Beverly to begin his belated summer vacation.

Admiral Togo, whose visit to the United States is attracting much attention, will remain in New York City until Wednesday when he will go to Boston. He will remain in Boston two days, visiting the Charlestown navy yard, Harvard University and other places of interest in the vicinity, departing Friday evening for Niagara Falls.

The annual month of rifle competitions for the picked shots of all branches of the United States service and the militia organizations of the different states will begin on the ranges at Camp Perry Monday with the opening of the twenty-ninth tournament of the National Rifle Association and the ninth matches of the National Board for the promotion of rifle practice.

The political calendar of the week calls for several meetings of interest to the leaders of both parties. Kentucky Democrats will assemble in Louisville Tuesday to formulate the platform on which the state ticket will make the fight for election next fall. In Nebraska on the same day the state primaries of all parties will be held for the nomination of candidates for the minor state offices to be filled at the next election. At Harrisburg there is to be a meeting of the Democratic state central committee of Pennsylvania to consider proposed changes in the party rules and to carry out the plan for the re-districting of the state. At the same time and place there is to be a meeting of Democratic editors to form a state league. At Columbus, O., an outing is to be held by the Jefferson Club with William J. Bryan as the guest of honor. The club is an "insurgent" Democratic organization and is understood to be opposed to Governor Harmon, of Ohio, for the presidential nomination.

The conventions of the week will include those of the International Typographical Union at San Francisco, the American Press Humorists' Association at Boston, the Irish Catholic Benevolent Union at Toledo, the Loyal Order of Moose at Detroit, the American Pharmaceutical Association at Boston, and the National Negro Business League at Little Rock.

"Typos" Meet in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 12.—Delegates and visitors to the fifty-seventh annual convention of the International Typographical Union, which will be called to order here Monday by President James Lynch, are arriving on all trains. The convention will be the first that organization ever has held west of Denver. An attendance of fully 2,000 visitors is expected, representing all sections of the United States and Canada. Many important questions are to be settled at the meeting, among them being a proposed increase of the death benefits and pension rate.

Admiral Togo at West Point

WEST POINT, N. Y., August 12.—Admiral Togo and his party visited the United States Military Academy today. The visitors came up from New York on the naval yacht Mayflower. After luncheon with General Barry, the superintendent, Admiral Togo witnessed a review of the cadet corps and afterwards made a tour of inspection of the grounds and buildings.

All men are ambitious. Some are ambitious to live without work.

When money is tight it prevents a lot of men from becoming so.

Beattie stuck to his original story, but his position became serious when Paul Beattie, a poor relative of the accused, confessed that he had bought for the prisoner the shotgun with which the murder had been committed. The State has succeeded in forging a strong chain of circumstantial evidence against Beattie, but the apparent lack of motive is considered a weak spot, which may vitally affect the chance of a conviction.

FAKE FIRE ALARM.

Moon Reflection the Cause of the Excitement.

Some fellow must have been "looney" or "lunary" Friday night. About 8:45 there was a cry of "fire" out in the southwest section of the town. The cry was taken up along Dickenson avenue until it reached down town, when the gong-rim on the city hall chimed in the clatter. The fire department turned out, every place where people were gathered was quickly emptied, those spending the evening at home got out to join the push in the streets, here everybody went hurrying out the avenue to look for the fire, most of them yelling as they went.

But there was not any fire. Whoever started the racket had seen the reflection of the rising moon on a window, and thinking there was fire inside the house lifted up his voice and alarmed the natives. It was a hot night for such a run, and the crowd shed floods of perspiration on the way back.

GALA WEEK FOR THE FUNNY MEN

Annual Gathering of the American Press Humorists' Association

BOSTON, Mass., August 12.—Following close on the heels of the advertising men's convention Boston is called upon to entertain the annual gathering of the American Press Humorists' Association and she is wondering today if she will not have to resort to the bromo bottle after playing host to the two big round-ups. Though the latter gathering does not begin its sessions until Monday many of the newspaper funny men put in an appearance today and are spending the time seeing some of the sights of the city which has been the butt of many of their witticisms and thereby put many a dollar in their pockets. An entire week of hard work and recreation combined is planned for the humorists. The Boston members of the association have been making up the programme and have arranged for a week that will go down in the annals of the association as the best it has ever enjoyed. The business sessions will be presided over by "Cy" Warman of Montreal widely known as a humorist writer and poet.

CONFERENCE OF SOCIALISTS.

Make Preliminary Plans for the Next Campaigns.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., August 12.—Office holding members of the national Socialist party from all sections of the country have assembled here for a three days' conference to discuss the affairs of the party and to make preliminary plans for the next municipal, state and national campaigns. Victor Berger, the only Socialist member of Congress, is to preside over the sessions. Among the other participants, nearly all of whom have arrived in the city, are the Socialist mayors of Butte, Mont., Grand Junction, Colo.; Coeur d'Alene, Idaho; Berkeley, Cal.; Girard, Kas.; Flint, Mich. and several other cities.

NEGRO FINDS MONEY.

Refused to Give It Up and Went to Jail.

On Friday Frank Hopkins, a colored man here, lost a $10 bill in the lobby of the post office. A little later Mr. J. W. Brown, one of the post office clerks, saw Louis Allen, colored, pick the money up from the floor. Mr. Brown asked Allen to give up the money which he refused to do. Frank later went back to the office looking for the money and Mr. Brown told him of seeing Allen pick up the money. Hopkins then went and found Allen who denied having the money or knowing anything about it. Hopkins obtained a warrant for Allen who was given a hearing before Justice H. Harding and committed to jail.

Cannot Reach Red Banks.

Owing to the death of one of his members near Robersonville, necessitating him remaining to conduct the funeral Sunday afternoon, Elder T. M. Lawrence, who was announced to preach at Red Banks, near Greenville, Sunday morning will be prevented from filling that appointment. He expects to spend Sunday night and Monday night in Greenville, and will preach at Great Swamp Tuesday morning.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 12, 1911.

These are days that make you sweeter.

They certainly do run if the fire alarm sounds.

If a man once betrays your confidence it is hard to restore it.

When they don't do to suit him, the governor of South Carolina whacks off their official heads.

Those who cannot get there have to take what the other fellow says about the delights of the seashore in this torrid weather.

Maine having a Democratic governor, that state will get a Democratic United States senator to succeed the late Senator Frye.

Don't get scared, but this weather reminds us of that August twenty-five years ago in which the earthquake came.

A news item says Paris fashion leaders have outlawed both false hair and corsets. If this is true it means an advance in the health of women.

Pitt county has sufficient land and is productive enough to support a hundred thousand people. We would like to see that many within her borders.

It is something to make North Carolina feel proud that the cruiser bearing the name of this state came out winner in an engineering test with twenty-three other vessels of the same class.

A North Carolina admirer sent Speaker Champ Clark a seventy-pound watermelon. Senator Bacon got a slice of it and had to admit it came up to anything Georgia could produce.

A county like Pitt that can produce almost anything in abundance, certainly should have good roads. Not many new comers can be looked for with such roads as we have. Our fine farm lands may interest them, but when they see these farms are reached by mud roads they prefer to go elsewhere. Nothing gives better indication to thrifty people than good roads.

New Bern claims that the kissing bug has again appeared there. New Bern must be paving the way to ask for the next convention of the North Carolina Press Association.—Wilmington Dispatch.
Just like Cowan to be puckering his mouth. But if he could not face the music at Lenoir, there's no use of his plans on New Bern. Phillips would be on to him there in his old quarters.

It is a bad idea to yell fire in a motion picture theatre, especially when it is crowded as the Galety was Friday night. The doors are built to open inward and there is no telling what might result from a real bad fire scare.

One fellow wanted to know of The Reflector man why he never tried to bring the State Press Convention to Greenville some time. Just show us enough hotel accommodations to take care of them and we'll see that they come, but not until then.

This, From Dear Jimmie.
Who would have thought it? Whichard, of the Greenville Reflector, has had a birthday, bless his—now we were about to say "bless his dear old heart," but we refrain, because, under the circumstances, he might get riled over the use of the word "old." Just how many years young he is has not been stated, but as a "man is as old as he feels" why, as an outsider judging by appearances, we should say he is not over twenty-five. He is as frisky as a young colt and as charming as one of the coy nymphs that revel in the waves at Wrightsville Beach (when we say that you know we have said something), and as popular among the newspaper boys of the Old North State as a pretty debutante with a fat bank account. His charms will never grow old, and may he never get bald-headed. Of course, we know his locks will never get silvery.—Wilmington Dispatch.

All In The Same Boat.
Cotton and Cotton Oil News propounds this question: "If the cotton crop should prove to be fifteen million bales, and if it should sell at an average price of ten cents per pound, it would bring to the South $750,000,000, which is less than last year's crop sold for. The labor and expense of growing and gathering a fifteen-million-bale crop must be much greater, while all other crops are necessarily curtailed in the effort to make and handle the fifteen-million-bale cotton crop. The deficit in other crops necessitates larger purchases by the farmer, increasing the cost of living to him. These facts can not be disputed. Then why waste labor and money and add to the cost of living to grow cotton that spinners and middlemen may grow rich and fat while the cotton raiser grows poor?"

Why, indeed? For a long time the South was continually raising more cotton and getting less money for the total crop. There could not have been any very greater relief from this situation so long as cotton growing constituted almost the only means of wealth. But diversified industrial development automatically restricted cotton production to the point of remunerative return. It converted great numbers of people who did little except raise cotton if they did anything much at all into consumers of other crops. It made new markets, kept the manufacturing cost and increased value of cotton goods at home, extended itself into other manufacturing activities as capital and confidence grew, and brought about better conditions for one and all.

MRS. MCGILL BROKE DOWN
Gives the Real Facts In Regard to Her Case and Tells How She Suffered.

Jonesboro, Ark.—"I suffered a complete break down in health, some time ago," writes Mrs. A. McGill, from this place. "I was very weak and could not do any work. I tried different remedies, but they did me no good. One day, I got a bottle of Cardui. It did me so much good, I was surprised, and took some more. Before I took Cardui, I had headache and backache, and sometimes I would cry for hours. Now I am over all that, and can do all kinds of housework. I think it is the greatest medicine on earth."

In the past fifty years, thousands of ladies have written, like Mrs. McGill, to tell of the benefit received from Cardui.
Such testimony, from earnest women, surely indicates the great value of this tonic remedy, for diseases peculiar to women. Are you a sufferer? Yes? Cardui is the medicine you need. We urge you to try it.
N. B.—Write to: Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.

Southern development is thus interdependent in the fullest sense. Every one who does not wish to see the South's industrial revolution turned backward should realize and act upon this essential truth.—Charlotte Observer.

A Hint For Pitt.
Quoting an estimate of The Hickory Times-Mercury that there are 140,000 acres of idle land in Catawba county, The Newton News admonishes its readers that desirable settlers will never choose a mud-roads county when they can get land in good roads counties instead. The fact is that with the general procession moving out of it do not merely stand still but fall behind. Of course Catawba county has no intention of letting itself fare like this.—Charlotte Observer.

Even marriage sometimes turns out to be an agreeable disappointment. If a man has a reputation for being a bad egg don't try to beat him.

Let me hug you to my heart;
All the year I've clung to you,

Little bank roll, in a day
You and I will start away
To a gay and festive spot;
I'll come home, but you will not.

The coming season Wm. A. Brady will make two musical productions, "The Violet Widow," by Dorothy Ussler, and "The Merry Bachelor," by two well-known writers.

Early in October the first New York production of George Broadhursts latest play, "Bought and Paid For," will be made, with Charles Richman in the leading male role.

Ethel Barrymore's first New York engagement in "The Witness for the Defense," will be played at the Empire Theatre, following the season of John Drew. Her leading man will be A. E. Anson.

Wm. Brady has acquired the American rights to "The Gods of the Mountain," a sensational short play by Lord Dunsany, which has been running at the Haymarket Theatre, London, for six months.

In November a new American melodrama will be produced at the Manhattan Opera House, New York. The scenes of the play are laid in New York City and the Far East. There will be more than fifty speaking parts.

Edmund Pollock, an English actor, has been engaged for the role of Dallas Brown in "Seven Days." Mr. Pollock, who will make his first appearance in this country in that play, is a brother of Allan Pollock, the original Dallas Brown.

DON'T PULL OUT

THE GRAY HAIRS

A Few Applications of Simple Remedy Will Bring Back the Natural Color.

"Pull out one gray hair and a dozen will take its place," is an old saying, which is, to a great extent, true, if no steps are taken to stop the cause. When gray hairs appear it is a sign that Nature needs assistance. It is Nature's call for help. Gray hair, dull lifeless hair, or hair that is falling out, is not necessarily a sign of advancing age, for there are thousands of elderly people with perfect heads of hair without a single streak of gray.

When gray hairs come, or when the hair seems to be lifeless or dead, some good, reliable hair-restoring treatment should be resorted to at once. Specialists say that one of the best preparations to use is the old-fashioned "sage tea" which our grand parents used. The best preparation of this kind is Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of domestic sage and sulphur, scientifically compounded with later discovered hair tonics and stimulants, the whole mixture being carefully balanced and tested by experts.

Weyth's Sage and Sulphur is clean and wholesome and perfectly harmless. It refreshes dry, parched hair, removes dandruff and gradually restores faded or gray hair to its natural color.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special agent, Moye's Pharmacy.

Mrs. F. M. Crawford left Wednesday evening for Stantonburg to spend a few days with her daughter, Mrs. F. A. Edmondson.

There was a terrible slaughter at the Union Mercantile Co.'s store last Wednesday when the prices on pants were cut all to pieces. The result is that $4 pants are now being sold for $2.98, $3 pants at $2.25, $2.25 pants at $1.98, $2 pants at $1.49, and so on. There may be more trouble any time, because the manager, Mr. Harper, declares that he will sell out at the above price if he has to call in troops to keep things quiet.

Prof. F. C. Nye made a business trip to Greenville Thursday.

Mr. C. T. Cox and Miss Ida Belle Williams spent Wednesday evening at Rountrees.

Cotton seed meal and hulls at A. W. Ange & Co.'s.

Harrington Barber & Co. are selling out their stock of hats at and below cost to make room for new ones, for cash you can get a bargain while they last.

Mr. Marcellus Smith and daughter, Miss Helen, of Farmville, spent Friday in town.

Don't forget the cheap Hamburg at A. W. Ange & Co.'s.

Our Winterville correspondent for the Pitt County News is getting to be quite a big-hearted fellow in the girl line. He has until now been satisfied with a few in number, but on Thursday night his heart grew extra large, and he got up all the young girls in town and strolled out to Mr. H. B. McLawhorn's tobacco barn, and the writer was informed they spent a pleasant evening. But I expect the watermelons fared but common.

"Bring your corn and wheat to Harrington, Barber & Co.'s mill any day, and get your corn manufactured into good meal and your wheat manufactured into good flour.

Mrs. E. E. Cox and daughter, Miss Hulda, left Thursday to spend sometime at Seven Springs.

For durability quality and style, something that will please the old man, the young man and the boy, the old lady, the young lady and the girl, the Union Mercantile Co. has just received and opened a most up-to-date line of shoes. Come and see us and we will make you glad in prices as we bought them to sell and not to keep.

Mr. M. G. Bryan made a trip to Kinston yesterday.

Rev. C. J. Harris left this morning for Trent, Pamlico county, where he holds services tomorrow.

A Rapid Growth.

The Chronicle is glad to note the rapid growth of the Farmers Union, for it is a business body, having nothing to do with politics, or politicians. Against these influences its doors are firmly barred. This week's issue of The Carolina Union Farmer says official reports at the recent meeting in Salisbury showed that a little more than ten thousand new members have been received into the Farmers Union in North Carolina since the December meeting at Greensboro and fourteen county unions have been organized during the past six months. "In gain of membership North Carolina stands so far ahead of any other state in the Union that it places this state in a class by itself," says The Carolina Union Farmer. "And it is gratifying to note that in nearly every locality where the Farmers Union has been planted it has enlisted in its membership the progressive and active men of the vicinity—the intelligent and broad-minded farmers who know what kind of organized commercial conditions must be met, and who stand ready to co-operate for the uplift of the community and for the protection of their own financial interests from the ravages of organized greed. While our numerical strength in North Carolina is something to be proud of, our real strength exists in the character and intelligence of our leading members, and wherever the right kind of local leadership has been brought into service the local unions have been planted upon an enduring foundation." The growth of this organization in North Carolina has been remarkable. To the individual efforts of Organizer Green, much of this success is due, but the State Union is fortunate in having enlisted the services and the faith of the strongest men in their respective localities.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Reasons Why Some People Do Not Attend Church.

Why do so many people not attend church? I will give some of the reasons that were lately given to me by different parties:

One man said: "Well, I used to go to church regularly, but I now have to work so hard through the week that when Sunday comes I just have to rest."

Another said: "I like to go to church, but the last time I went the preacher was asking for a lot of money to endow some college and his appeal was so strong that it made me feel like I was a poor church member if I did not respond, and I didn't have fifty cents. So I decided not to go again until I got a little money on hand to respond to the next call that was sure to come."

The next man was a merchant, and he said: "The last time I went to church there was a man sitting on the front seat who had beat me out of ten dollars, so I got disgusted, and thought that if religion did not make a man pay his just debts it was a mighty poor thing."

The next man was a non-professor of religion whom I asked to go to church, and after he went he said: "The preacher sure did go after them, but that hypocrite in the choir that sang the solo did not bat his eyes. When you people get such stuff as that out of your choirs and front seats I will attend church."

Next I asked a woman why she did not attend church and take the children, and she said: "Nothing would give me more pleasure than to go to church, but my husband works on a small salary and it takes all he can make to buy food and sufficient clothing even sufficient to stay at home and I will not take them for other children to laugh at."

The next man said: "I did not like the last preacher. He paid more attention to the man who paid the most money."

I told him his excuse wouldn't apply to the present pastor and he admitted that his only reason now for not going was general cussedness. These are the excuses given by actual persons. So you see that the church of Christ must be either a drawing or a driving force. The Master said, "And if I be lifted up I will draw all men to me." Are we lifting Him up sufficiently? Jesus Christ is the embodiment of all that is right. If the church will lift up that principle in all her dealings, and require it to be lifted up among her members, one with another, the question of why so few people attend church will not be so often asked. But so many church members lift up the other force. I will illustrate. The other day a professor of religion went into a store and joined a crowd that were drinking. They said, "Come on old friend and take a drink." He did so and in a few minutes was leading the conversation in the most vulgar language I ever heard. He was casting his professed pearls before swine and they were trampling them under foot. Jesus Christ left the power with men, and said "Occupy till I come."

Christ said he would draw all men if He were lifted up. The church is far from drawing all men. Is it not, therefore, possible that the church is not lifting Him up sufficiently?—Observer.

Can a man love a woman he's afraid of?

More Worry.

"I didn't know you admitted that of fiscal."

"I don't," replied the political manager.

"Then why do you insist on crediting him with a presidential boom?"

"Merely to make his life harder by giving him something more to worry about."—Exchange.

Be Slow to Indorse.

"A man should think before he speaks," said the prudent youth.

"Yes," replied Dustin Stax. "And he should think still harder before he writes his name on the back of any sort of document."—Washington Star.

All Must Help.

A wise man who does not assist with his counsel, a rich man with his charity and a poor man with his labor are perfect nuisances in a commonwealth.—Swift.

A True Friend.

Your friend is the man who knows all about you and still likes you.—Philistine.

H. A. WHITE,

INSURANCE, GREENVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA.

RALEIGH.—In a fit of nerve-racked desperation that came upon him after a week's illness, Job P. Wyatt, one of Raleigh's oldest and most esteemed merchants, attempted suicide to end his life by slashing his throat with a razor. He arose from his bed about 5 o'clock and cut two ugly gashes neither of which, however, struck the jugular vein so that prompt medical attention stayed the flow of blood.

Notice.

We wish to announce that our land is posted and to warn people not to hunt on it. We have stock in the grounds and have had several cattle shot, supposed to have been shot by stray bullets fired by people shooting at marks. Unless this shooting on our property is stopped, we shall have to indict all persons we can catch on it carrying or using fire arms.
