AYDEN TAKES THE GAME.

Wins From Greenville In Score Of 5 to 4.

By far the cleanest and prettiest game played on the local diamond this season was the one Wednesday afternoon between Greenville and Ayden, to take the place of the game that was interrupted by rain on Tuesday. The brilliant start of Tuesday's game had served to increase interest, and the crowd Wednesday was even larger than on the day before.

While Greenville put on the same battery, White and Riddick, with which the previous game started, Ayden made a change and substituted McCall and Klock for Robertson and Cleveland, the latter taking first base and right field, respectively. McCall was Ayden's old pitcher, and he put in fine work Wednesday that it is not believed even the great Robertson could have surpassed.

Greenville again led with James up first and made a safe hit off the initial throw. Smith followed, with a hit to first that advanced James to second. Utley bunted for first, advancing both ahead of him one point. Lutterloh fled out, but James scored after the ball was caught. Forbes went out, pitcher to first, Billings also died short to first, retiring the side with one run.

Ayden started with Lutz up, who went out, pitcher to first. Nagel was given first on being hit by pitcher but died trying to steal second. Cleveland hit for first, but Robertson retired the side with a fly over to Lutterloh.

In the second both teams drew blanks, Greenville also getting a cypher in her half of the third. Ayden in third got McCall to first on a hit, who advanced to second on a bunt by Lutz, made third while Nagel was being put out at first, and was scored by Cleveland.

In the fourth for Greenville Forbes got base on balls, stole second and third and was scored by Riddick.

In Greenville's fifth James again hit for first and made second while Smith was going out and was scored by Utley. Utley also proved the best base stealer in the bunch and got third, from which point he sprinted home on a ball that passed the catcher.

Ayden also got busy in her half of the fifth, Nagel, Cleveland and Robertson all getting across the home plate on good work.

This left both teams with four runs, and it stayed that way through the ninth and in Greenville's half of the tenth, excitement being at high pitch as each side came up to the bat. In Ayden's half of the tenth Lanier unfortunately muffed a fly by Cleveland that gave him first, he was advanced by Klock and scored by Graham, giving Ayden the victory.

There was much spectacular playing on both sides. James out of four times up made three hits and two runs. Lanier in right and Forbes in left both made beautiful running catches of flies, and Robertson made a thrilling double play by putting out a man at first and sending the ball

WONDERFUL WATER.

Pleasant Surroundings—Life Worth Living.

MOUNT AIRY, N. C., Aug. 16, 1911.

Editor Reflector
A tired, feeble citizen of your town left home last Tuesday seeking recreation and rest, and not knowing exactly where he was going or where he would find either, his footsteps in some way were guided this way and Wednesday evening he found himself at the "White Sulphur Springs" near Mount Airy, with Galloway & Gwyn, as proprietors.
Mr. Galloway, as many of your people will recall, went to Greenville to get his wife, marrying Miss Louise Latham, the daughter of the late Hon. L. C. Latham. This fact being known to us, we felt pretty comfortable from the beginning, and began to feel that we had made no mistake in coming here. This feeling has grown upon us, and after not quite a week's stay here we have been thoroughly convinced that this is one of the very best places among the many good ones in the "Land of the Sky," for pleasure, rest and recreation. We have had opportunity heretofore to visit many of these resorts, but none of them have compared with this in the wonderful properties of the water, the delightful and pleasing surroundings, which gives a new lease on life to the overworked, tired traveler, looking for a panacea for these conditions of life. We have gained more than a pound every day we have been here, appetite and strength have come until we feel like another man. The hotel is large and commodious, the fare is the best, the climate delightful, the crowd large and of the very best and highest type of our citizenship, and everything corresponding to make it an exceedingly pleasant place to be as well as one to get the very best results in the restoration of health.

Besides a large number of North Carolinians we find people here from Florida, Texas, South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, Virginia, New York, Massachusetts, etc. Every person here with whom we have talked bears testimony to the wonderful properties and effects of the water, and I am writing this note to you not to advertise anybody's business or any summer or winter resort, but simply because having gotten a great deal here for myself in the way of restoration of strength and real life, I ought to say just this little bit that some one else needing just what they can get here may see this and know where to go. In this way I shall be adding to human happiness by adding to human health. A few days here means much to any man or woman who needs it and will come.

MANY REUNIONS OF VETERANS

The Present Year Marks the 50th Anniversary of the Beginning of War.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 17.—The annual encampment of the National G. A. R. to be held in Rochester the coming week will be notable for the record-breaking number of regimental and brigade reunions to be held in conjunction therewith. The unusually large number of reunions is due chiefly to the fact that the present year marks the fiftieth anniversary of the beginning of the Civil war. In addition to the G. A. R., the organizations of national scope that will meet during the week will include the Woman's Relief Corps, Ladies of the G. A. R., Daughters of Veterans, Sons of Veterans, Army Nurses, Army and Navy Auxiliary, Union Veteran Union, Women's Veteran Relief Union, Ex-Prisoners of War, Naval Veterans and Andersonville Survivors.

Greenville is playing Ayden at Ayden this afternoon, and a large bunch of rooters went down.

Grifton also played Kinston at Kinston, Wednesday afternoon, the score being 6 to 4 in favor of Kinston.

NEWS THAT IS OF INTEREST TO TAR HEELS

GATHERED FROM EXCHANGES.

And Briefly Told for The Reflector's Busy Readers.

NEW BERN.—Two holdups on the public highway and the recent robbery of residences lead the police to believe that an organized gang of thieves is at work.

Late Monday afternoon several colored children killed a four and one half feet alligator near the colored graded school in the northern part of the city.—New Bern Journal.

Dr. W. P. Exum, widely known because of his nomination by the Populist party for the governorship of North Carolina, died at his home in Wayne county last Sunday night. He died of heart failure.

WADESBORO.—Will Allen has been acquitted in the recorder's court on a charge of shooting J. B. Martin. The latter, with his wife and children, automobiling near Wadesboro when shot by an unseen person and painfully wounded.

RALEIGH.—John W. Clark, a son of Chief Justice Walter Clark, was brought here from Durham today suffering from a mild attack of appendicitis. It was said this afternoon that he was getting along well. He is assistant superintendent of the Erwin cotton mills.

Yesterday, the second day of the Postal Saving Bank in this city failed to show that there was a single depositor. This condition of affairs seem to show that the people of this section are not very enthusiastic on account of the new institution.—New Bern Journal.

A dog attacked the three-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Hurst on the street yesterday morning, and but for the interference of a colored man, would have doubtless been seriously injured. As it was, the child escaped with only a few scratches which it is not thought will prove serious.—New Bern Journal.

RALEIGH.—The police now claim to be in position to prove that L. J. Norris had a 32-calibre revolver Saturday night before the killing of J. B. Bissett, thereby greatly strengthening the claim of evidence that they have woven about Norris as the slayer of Bissett, out in a woods one and a half miles from Raleigh, where he had driven in a hack with Mrs. Yearby. It is found that Norris came to Raleigh from Portsmouth, Va., last December to work as a pressman.

On the afternoon of Sunday, August 6th, at the home of Mr. George Nethercutt, in Olds township, there happened a near-tragedy. While Mr. and Mrs. Nethercutt were away from home their children began pranking with a shot gun. The first one who took the gun out removed the shell from it, but another one slipped it back with the result that the gun was accidentally fired in the play, tearing a great hole in the foot-board of a bedstead, but fortunately striking no one.—Snow Hill Laconic.

SANFORD.—J. C. Brooks, Charley Sloan and Jack Campbell, three white men, of Jonesboro, were arrested today at the instigation of the Branches Detective Agency, of Charlotte, on the charge of arson. It will be remembered that a large part of the business portion of Jonesboro was burned a few weeks ago, at which time the authorities saw evidence of incendiaries and employed Mr. S. L. Branch, manager of the detective agency to investigate, with the result that sufficient evidence has been secured to warrant the arrest of the above named parties. Brooks and Sloan were arrested here and Jack Campbell was arrested in Charlotte and arrived here this afternoon.

Col. Edwards Retires.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 17.—After more than thirty-seven years' service, Col. Frank A. Edwards, of the cavalry, was transferred to the retired list of the army today on his own application. He is a native of Pennsylvania, but was appointed to the service in 1873 from the District of Columbia.

Carnival at Comache.

COMACHE, Okla., Aug. 17.—The ninth annual carnival of Comache opened today, with aeroplane flights, baseball games, band contests and numerous other attractions as features of the three days' programme. The town is rapidly filling with visitors.

MORE ARGUMENT FOR GOOD ROADS

THE BENEFIT OF A BOND ISSUE.

Present Road Tax Thus Applied Will Reduce Burden on Tax Payers.

Editor Reflector
The property of Greenville township as valued for taxation this year is in round numbers, $3,500,000. The road tax is 15 cents on each $100 property valuation, and 45 cents on each poll. The income from this tax is as follows:

$3,500,000 property at 15 cents per $100	$5,250.00
750 polls at 45 cents each	337.50
Total income	$5,587.50
Apply this amount under the bond issue:
$50,000 at 5 per cent. interest per annum	$2,500.00
Amount set aside each year and put on interest to pay bonds at maturity as provided for in bill	600.00
Amount then available for maintenance and improvement of roads each year.	2,487.50

In addition to the road tax as stated, each person between the ages of 18 and 45 years of age is, under the general law, subject to a road duty of six days a year, or pay $1 per day in emergency, a minimum duty of two days or $2. The bond bill dispenses with this road duty in Greenville township and thereby decreases the road tax to the individual.

The highest estimate yet made for the maintenance of sand-clay roads is $6 per mile per year. Were we to double that amount there would be a goodly sum left with which to reduce the road tax, or to further improve work, or to lay aside for the payment of bonds.

Under the present regime we pay a tax and work the roads, and yet we have no system and no roads. Under a bond issue the road burden will be reduced and we will have a road system that has proven a success and a boon to every progressive community that has taken this step.

MARS AND SATURN PASS.

A Phenomenon Easily Visible Wednesday Night.

Those of us who are much given to "turning night into day" and often put in hours of work after the majority of people have gone to bed, got a planetary vision Wednesday night that those who were asleep failed to see. It occurred soon after midnight when Mars and Saturn were in conjunction and not very far from the nearly half full moon. Mars passed very near to Saturn and they had much the appearance of a bright double star. The large planets vied with the diminished moon in brightness and made a phenomenon worth looking at.

PLAN STATUE OF DAVIS.

Planning Erection of a Statue of the Former President.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Aug. 17.—The Jefferson Davis Home Association is planning the erection of a statue of the former president of the Confederate states on an eminence in Todd county, overlooking the park which now marks the site of the Davis farm. It is expected that the next Kentucky legislature will be asked to make an appropriation for the purpose. The association also is working on a plan for a memorial highway to connect the Davis and the Lincoln homesteads.

Editors Meet at Sioux City.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Aug. 17.—What promises to be one of the most successful meetings in the history of the Upper Des Moines Editorial Association began here today with a large attendance of the members and their families. Business and pleasure combined will keep the editors busy for two days.

An Afterthought.

"Ye-es," remarked a young husband at breakfast, "these biscuits are pretty good, but don't you think there ought to be a little more."
"Your mother made them," interrupted the wife quickly.
—"of them?" ended the husband, with a flash of inspiration.

GOMPERS TO TOUR WEST.

President of the American Federation of Labor Trying to Raise Fund

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, left today on a tour of the West and Northwest that will last about two months and extend over a number of states. He will visit many of the large cities and incidentally will consult with the leaders of organized labor in regards to the defense fund and other plans to aid the men who are soon to be put on trial in Los Angeles for the alleged dynamiting of The Times building in that city. Mr. Gompers's first stopping place will be Denver, after which he is to visit Salt Lake City, Butte, Spokane, Seattle, Vancouver, Tacoma, and Portland. Labor Day will find him in San Francisco, where he will deliver the address before the organized labor bodies of that city and vicinity. A number of other cities will be visited before he returns East.

TOGO VISITS THE HUB.

Boston Gives Hearty Welcome To The Admiral.

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 17.—Boston gave a hearty welcome to Admiral Togo today. After exchanging greetings with the city officials this morning, the distinguished Japanese naval commander was escorted to the Charlestown navy yard, where he was greeted with a vice admirals salute of fifteen guns. After taking luncheon with Captain DeWitt Coffman, of the yard, Admiral Togo inspected the dry dock, the machine shops and the several battleships, cruisers and submarine boats now at the yard. After leaving Charlestown the party were taken in automobiles to Quincy, for an inspection of the plant of the Fore River Shipbuilding Company. Tonight and tomorrow he is expected to visit the Boston public library, the art museum and Harvard University before departing for Buffalo late in the afternoon.

MONTANA ELKS

In Session Today At Their Annual State Reunion.

ANACONDA, Mont., Aug. 17.—Elaborate decorations of purple and white, the official colors of the order, greeted the army of Elks who rallied here today from all parts of Montana for their annual state reunion. Arriving trains this morning brought large delegations of visitors from Butte, Helena, Great Falls and numerous other points. The official programme covers two days, but the majority of the visitors are expected to remain over Saturday.

Laurier in Quebec.

Opened His Campaign Today at Three Rivers.

MONTREAL, Aug. 17.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier opened his Quebec campaign at Three Rivers, where he addressed a great demonstration of Liberals. Tomorrow he will go to the city of Quebec, returning thence to Montreal. The premier attaches much importance to the campaign in this province, owing to the wide prevalence here of the Nationalist sentiment, which is regarded as one of the most disturbing elements with which the Liberals have to cope in the present fight.

Francis Joseph

Nears Eighty-First Mile Stone—Passes The Day Quiet.

VIENNA, Aug. 17.—The venerable Emperor Francis Joseph will be eighty-one years old tomorrow. Beyond receiving the customary congratulations he will make no special observance of the anniversary, but will pass the day in quiet at Ischl, where he has resided the most of the time since his recent illness. His subjects throughout the dual empire, will celebrate the day as usual with national rejoicings.

Weds Army Lieutenant.

CHARLESTOWN, W. Va., Aug. 17.—Zion Protestant Episcopal church, of this city, was the scene of a brilliant gathering today for the marriage of Miss Cecilia Davenport, daughter of Mr. Arthur Davenport, and Lieut. Paul A. Larned, U. S. A., son of the late Colonel Larned, who was for many years dean of the United States Military Academy at West Point.

FAVORABLE TO ROMPOLLA

Reached His Sixty-Eighth Birthday Today.

ROME, Aug. 17.—Cardinal Rampolla, who is looked upon generally as the most prominent candidate for the Holy See in the event of the death of Pious X., reached his sixty-eighth birthday anniversary today. The sentiment favorable to the Rampolla candidacy is not wholly personal to the famous cardinal, but is in part due to a feeling that circumstances on the political side of Vatican interests demand at this time a pontiff of Rampolla's experience and abilities.

Cardinal Rampolla is an Italian by birth and education. He was proclaimed cardinal in 1887, and a few months later was named secretary of state, in which important position he soon established his reputation as one of the leading diplomats of the world. He has lived a retired life since the death of his former chief, Pope Leo XIII., being head priest of St. Peter's.

ADMIRAL SHROEDER RETIRES.

Placed on the Retired List Today On Account of His Age.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 17.—Rear Admiral Seaton Schroeder, a conspicuous figure in the navy, was placed on the retired list today on account of age. His naval career began in 1868, in which year he graduated from Annapolis and was assigned to duty with the Pacific fleet. During the ensuing thirty years he served on sea and land in many parts of the world. In the war with Spain he served on the battleship Massachusetts. His first command was the battleship Louisiana. During the memorial voyage of the Atlantic fleet around the world he was in command of the Virginia. His last active duty was as president of the Naval War college.

SMALL ROASTS HITCHCOCK.

The Reflector told on Tuesday of getting a telegram from Congressman John H. Small, containing the information that the order previously made by the post office department to discontinue the post offices at Falkland and Bruce in this county had been revoked. A special from Washington City to the Charlotte Observer tells how Congressman Small went about this matter, and it shows the influence he has when he goes about anything in the interest of the people of his district. It says

A hot roast was dealt Postmaster General Hitchcock by Representative Small in an interview today apropos of the attempt to abolish the offices at Bruce and Falkland in Pitt county. The recommendations of Postoffice Inspector Goldsboro that the offices be discontinued was blocked by Mr. Small.

He said the postoffice department seemed to be seeking to make a record for economy, even if it meant the destruction of efficiency. What the people wanted was better service, he said, and they did not expect the postal department to yield revenue. He referred to the fact that money given by congress for establishing new rural routes had not been used.

The Charlotte Observer's editorial paragraph has gone to making it rhyme. Just listen at this from that songster

Just as many a shaft at random sent finds mark the archer little meant, so many a dart with purpose shot hits everywhere except the spot.

Republicans in congress are trying to let President Taft's bungle in the Controller Bay matter drop, but the Democrats are determined that the truth shall be known and will push the investigation to the bottom.

At an aviation meeting in Chicago, Tuesday, two more were added to the long death list from this cause.

This will likely be the last week of the extra session of congress.

News Not Fit To Print.

That a newspaper man often can serve his community better by not printing statements, though coming from responsible authorities, is splendidly illustrated in the story of the action of General Manager Stone of the Associated Press during the seething excitement of the panic of 1907.

George W. Perkins gave out a statement to attending newspaper men that the only "sore spot" was the Trust Company of America. This statement was sent to the Associated Press. General Manager Stone saw printing it meant a run upon the organization.

Such a statement from Mr. Perkins about the strongest financial institution in the world, at that time, would have made trouble for it. Mr. Stone fortunately had been a banker and also a working newspaper man. With an intelligence brightened by experience from both of these professions he determined that this story ought not to be printed.

It was news not fit to print. The story was an opinion advanced by Mr. Perkins. If the public had merely received it as an opinion the danger might not have been so great. Mr. Stone knew that the public would receive it as a statement of a man closely, and Morgan is the first and last authority in Wall street.

The New York Times, however, did print the statement, with the result that there was a run the next day on the trust company, and except for extraordinary efforts that company which today is a splendid institution, would have been wrecked.

There are times when opinions of men may have the greatest news value. There are other times when they are worthless in essence and hurtful if given publicity. And there are times when opinions, no matter how startling, coming from an ordinarily well balanced but temporarily fevered mind, are mere hysterical utterings.

It is most fortunate for the Associated Press, the greatest news-gathering organization on earth, that an experienced veteran like Mr. Stone is at its head to do active duty as an editor in a time of great excitement—Memphis Commercial-Appeal.

Southern Hospitality.

Hospitality need not remain the same in order to be as genuine and as lavish. F. Hopkinson Smith, speaking of the "old Southern gentleman," is reported to have enquired: "What has become of the old-time chat over a long-neck bottle? Where has the spirit of our old-time hospitality gone?" The esteemed Charlotte Observer briefly answereth: "One has gone autoing and the other it putting up at the skyscraper."

The "old-time Southern gentleman" is dead, but his son, the new-time Southern gentleman, is alive and about in the world. The long-necked bottle is not necessarily any more. There is so much going on that he does not find resort to the bottle a necessity in order to keep up conversation. Public school houses, such as the old-time Southern gentleman never dreamed of, are to be built and maintained in every rural community; public roads, graded and macadamized, are to be constructed and maintained such as our ancestors did not even have a need for; farm lands are to be improved and enriched instead of being abandoned and left to grow up in "old field" as in "ye olden days." In short, there is plenty to stimulate conversation now without recourse to the bottle.

"Where has the spirit of our old-time Southern hospitality gone?" It hasn't gone anywhere. It is still here. The war destroyed the means of indulgence and lavish abundance; but the spirit of our erstwhile hospitality yet abides. Let the son of a Southerner, "bred in the bone," become able by industry and energy, to indulge his taste, follow his ideal and he will build for you a home whose hospitality is as regal and lavish as any that blessed our good land in the days that are gone. The spirit of hospitality is here. Its appurtenances may sometimes be lacking without the help of the long-necked bottle.—Christian Sun.

HIS TROUBLE NOT OF HEART

Real Facts in Regard To F. R. Huffman's Illness. Relief Obtained By Curing His Stomach Ailments.

Waynesville, N. C.—Mr. F. R. Huffman, of this city, says: "I suffered dreadfully with what I thought was heart trouble, and tried various medicines in vain.

After other remedies had failed, Theford's Black-Draught restored me to health. I would not feel safe without Black-Draught in the house. I consider it worth its weight in gold.

It cured my indigestion, and by this means I was restored to health. I can not express my gratitude for its benefits."

Good health depends on the condition of your digestion. Poor digestion and good health do not go together.

Theford's Black-Draught will thoroughly cleanse and set in order your digestive system.

It has done this for others, during the past 70 years, and is today the most popular vegetable liver remedy on the market. Try it. Insist on Theford's. Price 25c.

GRAY HAIR MAKES YOU LOOK OLD

A Simple Remedy Brings Back The Natural Color—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

How often one hears the expression, "She is gray and beginning to look old." It is true that gray hair usually denotes age and is always associated with age. You never hear one referred to as having gray hair and looking young.

The hair is generally the index of age. If your hair is gray, you can't blame your friends for referring to you as looking old. You can't retain a youthful appearance if you allow your hair to grow gray. Many persons of middle age jeopardize their future simply by allowing the gray hair to become manifest. If your hair has become faded or gray, try Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation which a chemist by the name of Weyth devised a few years ago. It is simple, inexpensive and practical, and will banish the gray hairs in a few days. It is also guaranteed to remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.

It is a pleasant dressing for the hair, and after using it a few days itching and dryness of the scalp entirely disappears.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agent, MOYER'S PHARMACY.

How About It, Josephus?

Mr. Josephus Daniels attended a barbecue on the farm of Dr. N. W. Blalock, in Panther Branch township, at which there was "cider and fixings." On his return he wrote glowingly of Dr. Blalock's cotton and corn and said the doctor will make three bales of cotton to the acre. Whereas, we are moved to enquire in all seriousness, was that cider spiked?—Charlotte Chronicle.

Life in The Blossoms.

Life there in the blossoms
Of your country ranch;
Little barefoot fellows
Knee-deep in the branch!

Pathway to the river—
Out of school they burst;
All of life's ambition
Who'll be in it first!

O you gray-haired fellers,
Come to field and plain!
Just to see the blossoms
Makes you young again.

Senor Crespo.

Senor Gilberto Crespo Martinez, the new Mexican ambassador to the United States, was born in Vera Cruz, of Cuban parentage, August 17, 1853. He chose mining engineering for his profession, and after practicing it successfully for several years became engineer professor in the National School of Engineers of Mexico, which position he filled from 1878 to 1902. During this period he was called upon to represent his government at home and abroad in numerous projects and congresses demanding the highest degree of technical learning. In 1902, after several years' experience in minor diplomatic positions, he was appointed consul general at Havana and was again promoted to be minister, which position he held in 1905, when he was sent as Mexican minister to Austria-Hungary, from which post he has just retired to come to Washington. In recognition of his distinguished services to science, agriculture and commerce Senor Crespo has received honorary decorations from the rulers and governments of France, Russia, Germany, Belgium, Spain and Portugal.

If every man loved his neighbor as he loves himself, his satanic majesty would soon have to hunt another job.

No Reason For Alarm.

Mr. Redding Jackson, who was bitten by a dog some time last week and who became somewhat alarmed at what the result might be, in company with Mr. Jesse Hart, of our town, went to Raleigh to consult a specialist. The doctor assured Mr. Jackson that there was no reasonable ground for alarm, as the skin was not fractured sufficiently for the poison from the dog, though he might have been mad, to become inoculated into the system.—Ayden Free Will Baptist.

Meanders on The Farm.

A city girl writes: "It is a fond dream of mine to become a farmer's wife and meander with him down life's pathway." Ah, yes, that is a nice thing! But when your husband meanders off and leaves you without any wood and you have to meander up and down the land pulling splinters off the fence to cook dinner, and when you meander along in the wet grass in search of the cows till your shoes are the color of rawhide and your stockings soaked, and when you meander out across 20 acres of plowed ground with a club to drive the hogs out of the corn field and tear your dress on the barb wire fence, when you meander back home to the house, and find that the billy goat has butted the stuffin' out of your child and find the old hen, with 40 chicks, in the parlor, you'll put your hands on your hips and realize that meandering is not what it is cracked up to be.—Dahlonega, Ga., Nugget.

Money Spent By Conventions.

"Did you know that the chambers of commerce in the big western cities have a regular system of ratings on organizations that hold conventions?" asked a Chicago man. "Never heard of it?" Well, they do. I have had charge of a convention bureau for a number of years.

"In my card index I have a list of every organization that has an annual gathering. The list shows how many members each has, how often they meet and how much they spend. They are desirable from any point of view, only in accordance with the amount of money they are likely to leave in the town. Therefore, I go after some of them hot foot and leave the others alone. But I have to keep track of all of them, for now and then an organization changes in character, and the chances of their spending money freely improve accordingly.

"The Mystic Shriners are up toward the head of the lot. Each member will spend about $13 a day while he is at the grand round-up. On the other hand, the delegates of a religious convention will spend less than $2 a day. The biggest per capita averages are in the meetings of the railway and manufacturing associations. Some of them mean an average expenditure of nearly $100 a day a man for those who are present."

The Old Spring and Its Memories.

"I went to the spring where I used to get water when I was a little boy," said an old man to us a few days ago, after he had paid a visit to the home of his boyhood after spending many years in a distant State. That is one thing that any man who goes back to his boyhood home, after a long absence, does, goes to the old spring or to the well—the place where he got his cool water when a boy—and there is not in all the world water quite so good as that from the old spring or well "back home." We are fated to forget many things, but there are some things we can never forget, and among them is the old spring or the old well where before we knew there was such a thing as microbes or bacilli or any other abomination in the watering place, we drank and drank until we could drink no more. The boy who goes to a faucet and gets his rent-paid water from an iron pipe misses a whole lot and we are sorry for him. It doesn't matter if the state chemist has certified that the "city water is pure," we are sorry for the boy who gets his drinking water from any such source, for he can never know how good it feels to go to the old spring, hot, tired out, with his throat dry enough to "sizzle," get a gourd and sit there under the shade of the trees and just drink until he proves that the fellow who wrote in the school physiology that the human stomach will hold only three pints is a liar—and then stretch his tired body out on the grass and pillow his head on the root of a tree and just naturally rest. Every man who ever went back to the home of his boyhood and there was a spring there will tell you: "I went to the old spring, where I used to drink when I was a little boy."—Monroe Enquirer.

The Mother-in-Law.

The jokesmiths of the press are having lots of fun over the Boston mother-in-law whom a New York judge sent home, declaring that ten days was the limit for a mother-in-law visit.

In all the jests there is little new wit. For countless ages the mother-in-law has been the victim of decayed jests, until it has become one of the most melancholy subjects in existence.

And yet many a good man has deep affection and profound respect for his mother-in-law, and is not ashamed of it. Laugh at him, too, if you will.

He knows that the one girl whom in the sweet freshness of youth he chose from among all others to bless his life owes her lovely qualities to the woman who is now his mother-in-law, but was first and is always her mother.

He remembers how that mother gave up to him her most precious treasure on earth, loved as only a mother can love her girl, smiled bravely through it, and then turned away, with flooding tears and fainting heart, to weep in heartache and loneliness.

Very funny—eh?

Well, there are men weak enough to remember such things, and too blind to humor as not to see at all that the mother-in-law is nothing but a continuous farce.

Yes, yes, there are men—strong, wholesome-minded men—who realize that in sickness, misfortune, distress the mother-in-law is the first to come and the last to go, ever the readiest to serve and to sacrifice, ever the most loyal, the most untiring and the most truly sympathetic. For she brings her heart with her, and her heart is love.

And, too, many a man has known her to linger, white-faced, but calmed, to speak words of courage to him, beside their dead—hers and his; and then hiding her heartbreak, take the mother's place with the motherless children, and, forgetting that she is a farce, become a ministering and sustaining angel.

Those of us who can, let us laugh at the mother-in-law; let us perpetually bandy back and forth the stale jokes and gibes in ridicule of her.

For there are some men who can't laugh at the mother-in-law. In the innermost secret place of their souls there is a shrine sacred to her, where love and gratitude give worship.—Memphis News-Scimitar.

DUTY.

Even if you have to force yourself to do your duty, still do it. Do your duty even if your duty be wearisome and hard, for then you are in the place where it can become joyous and easy to you.—Phillips Brooks.

THE HAPPENINGS AROUND AYDEN

INTEREST IN GOOD ROADS

A Sad Commentary on the Piety of Parents—School Improvements.

AYDEN, N. C., Aug. 17.—Mr. J. R. Smith and family spent Wednesday in Winterville.

Master Frank Hart, Jr., is very proud of the Banker pony his father has brought for him from Shackerford's Banks. There will be another pony penning on the 21st of August, which will be the last one for this season.

A pious old deacon tells us that after a sermon, by the pastor one day, he put in a few words of exhortation and requested all who had ever heard their parents pray, to stand up. To his surprise, only two stood and he reversed his request to all who had heard them profane, and all stood but two; whither are we drifting?
