ROCHESTER READY FOR VETERANS

THE RED, WHITE AND BLUE. Are The Predominating Colors In This City Today.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Red, white and blue are the predominating colors in this city today. Everywhere they meet the eye, in the countless flags waving in the breeze from every flagstaff in the "Flower City," in the many miles of bunting with which public buildings and housefronts in general and particularly those along the line of march, are profusely decorated and in the thousands of incandescent light bulbs, strung in garlands across the streets or massed at the crossings of the most prominent thoroughfares. This patriotic display of the national colors is a pleasing sight to the grizzled veterans of the Civil war who are arriving here with every train to attend the national encampment of their organization which will be held here next week.

The arrangements for the reception, the housing and the entertainment of the veterans are complete and in perfect working order. The arriving members were received by committees of the local posts at the train and escorted to their respective department headquarters, where the visitors were equipped with literature and every information they required or desired.

The headquarters of Commander-in-Chief Gilman of the Grand Army of the Republic was opened at the Hotel Seneca this morning and all day long the rooms were filled with visitors, among them many department officers who came to pay their respects to the commander-in-chief or to confer with him about some details of the arrangements for the coming week. The headquarters of the other patriotic organizations which will also hold their annual encampments in this city next week, among them the Woman's Relief Corps, the Ladies of the G. A. R., the Sons and the Daughters of Veterans, ex-Prisoners of War and Army Nurses.

Next Monday will be devoted to the reception of the arriving veterans and other visitors, to an exchange of visits at the various departmental headquarters and to business sessions of the executive bodies of the various organizations. On Tuesday the various organizations, excepting the Grand Army of the Republic, will hold sessions for the transaction of business during the day and in the evening all will attend the semi-official opening of the G. A. R. encampment at Convention hall, presided over by Commander-in-Chief Gilman. The trooping of about hundred old battle flags, under the direction of J. Payson Bradley, chief of staff to the commander-in-chief, will furnish the spectacular feature of the gathering. There will also be music and singing and Gov. Dix, Mayor Edgerton and other distinguished men will deliver addresses.

Wednesday will be a busy day. The grand parade of the Grand Army veterans and of the allied organizations will start at 10 o'clock in the forenoon and will travel over a line of march two and eight-tenths miles long, leading through level, well-paved and shady streets. The reviewing stand, having a capacity of 4,000 seats, is on Clinton avenue, south, and there the column of veterans will be reviewed by Commander-in-Chief Gilman, President Taft, Governor Dix and Mayor Edgerton. It is expected that the parade will last about five hours, quite a task for the old men, many of whom are quite infirm.

On the evening of the same day the veterans will have their big campfire at Convention hall and there they will listen to stirring music and to addresses by distinguished comrades and pay a tribute to the memory of the former comrades who have gone to their last rest during the past year.

The business session of the encampment will not begin until next Thursday. Several important subjects will come up for discussion, among them the protest against the placing of the Gen. Lee statue in the Hall of Fame. The question of electing a new commander-in-chief does not promise much excitement, as it is generally conceded that Col. John McElroy, past second vice commander-in-chief, has practically no opposition as candidate for that post.

The election of officers in the Woman's Relief Corps promises to be

DETROIT TO ENTERTAIN MOOSE.

NEWS FORECAST FOR THE COMING WEEK

TRIAL OF PAUL GEIDEL MONDAY

Admiral Togo Will be Entertained in Montreal Monday.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 19.—President Taft will go to Rochester Tuesday on what will probably be the only trip that he will take until he begins his tour of the South and West next month. The Rochester visit will be in fulfillment of an engagement to address the Grand Army veterans at their national encampment.

The political campaign in Canada is increasing in intensity as it progresses and scarcely a city, town or hamlet from coast to coast but will hear the oratory of the platform speakers the coming week. Sir Wilfrid Laurier will devote the week to the Montreal district, while Robert L. Borden, leader of the opposition, will speak in half a dozen cities of Ontario.

Admiral Togo, having concluded his visit to the United States, will be entertained in Montreal Monday and will then start for Vancouver to sail for home.

The Argentine battleship, Rivadavia, the biggest ship of war now building or under design, will be launched today at the yards of the Fore River Shipbuilding Company, at Quincy, Mass.

Monday is the day set for the trial to begin in New York city of Paul Geidel, the bellboy, charged with the brutal murder of William Jackson, an aged broker, in the Hotel Iroquois, a few weeks ago.

An international marriage will take place in St. Paul Thursday, when Miss Josephine Kalman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Kalman, of St. Paul, will become the bride of Richard Blaque Bey, first secretary of the Turkish embassy in Berlin.

Another wedding of note will be that of Miss Dorothy Chapman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid D. Chapman, and Benjamin Sturtevant Foss, son of Governor Foss, of Massachusetts, which will take place Wednesday in Grace Pro-cathedral in San Francisco.

The convention calendar for the week is filled to overflowing. Among the gatherings of wide scope will be the conventions of the Grand Army of the Republic and affiliated bodies in Rochester, the Spanish-American war veterans in Oklahoma City, the National Association of Insurance Commissioners in Milwaukee, the American Federation of Catholic Societies in Columbus, the Fraternal Order of Eagles in San Francisco, the Loyal Order of Moose in Detroit, the National Association of State Dairy and Food Commissioners in Duluth, the Commissioners on Uniform State Laws in Boston, and the American Veterinary Medical Association in Toronto.

more interesting, as there are already four candidates in the field for the position of president, which Mrs. Belle C. Harris, of Emporia, Kans., will vacate. The outcome of the election is awaited by members of the organization with considerable interest and the friends of the candidates are working hard for their respective choice.

IF POPE PIUS X SHOULD DIE

CANNOT LAST MUCH LONGER.

The Sacred College Now Has Only Forty-Nine Members.

ROME, August 19.—That Pope Pius X. cannot last much longer is becoming a matter of conviction in all quarters. As a consequence the possibility of the imminent conclave is in the thoughts of all persons connected with the Vatican, though there is not the slightest sign as yet of canvassing or intrigue among the Cardinals for the chair of St. Peter. Nevertheless prognostications as to the possible successor to the present Pontiff are being made.

The Sacred College now has only forty-nine members, twenty-eight Italians and twenty-one foreigners. The Italian majority is strong in number, but it is stronger still in influence. Nearly all of the Italian Cardinals reside in Rome and direct all the affairs of the Papacy. As heads of congregations they have the power exercised elsewhere by cabinet ministers. Their views are carried out by Italian subordinates. All the Papal nuncios are Italian, depending from an Italian Cardinal secretary of state. The majority of the Vatican officers are Italian, from the high chamberlain of the apostolic palace to the lowest menial employed about the premises. All these people, with their influence, which is strong, have nothing to gain and everything to lose from a foreign successor to Pius X.

Foreign Cardinals being thus out of the contest, the choice of the next pope will be confined to one of the twenty-eight Italian members of the Sacred College. The best Catholic sentiment in Rome at the present time seems to be unanimous in its expression in favor of Cardinal Rampolla as successor to Pius X. Cardinal Rampolla came near being a successful candidate in 1903 when the present pope was chosen. It may be assumed that the Cardinals who voted for him at the last conclave will again support him, while it is well known that many of his former adversaries are now his supporters. Pius X. himself is reported to have said that he felt that his successor should be Leo XIV., thus clearly designating Rampolla, whose policy would have been a continuation of that of Leo XIII.

The election of Rampolla at the last conclave was prevented only by Austria's veto. There will be no mention of a veto at the next conclave for one of the first acts of Pope Pius X. was the promulgation of a constitution abolishing the veto power of Austria, Spain and France in the Papal elections and prohibiting Cardinals under the pain of ex-communication from receiving even in the form of a simple desire any demand for their good offices in presenting a veto or making it known in the conclave regardless of whatever manner it may have come to their knowledge.

Cardinal Rampolla is without exception at the present time the most notable figure of the Sacred College. He is a Sicilian by birth and it was just sixty-eight years ago yesterday that he first saw the light of day. He was educated at the College Capranica and the Academy of the Noble Ecclesiastics in Rome, and in 1875 became attached to the nunciature at Madrid.

In 1877 he became secretary of the congregation of Oriental Rites. In 1882 he was created titular Archbishop of St. Heracles and sent to Spain as nuncio. He was created and proclaimed Cardinal, March 14, 1887, taking title from the Church of St. Cecilia, and a few months later was named secretary of state. Since the death of his former chief, Pope Leo XIII., he has lived a very retired life, restricting his activities almost exclusively to his duties as head priest of St. Peter's.

The distinguished family connections of Cardinal Rampolla, his intimate acquaintance with Spanish and English affairs, and his abilities to cope with political statesmen are well known. Also he is quite as famous for his learning as for his ability. He has written the best works extant upon the traditions of the Greek church, and upon the infallibility of the pope, and he is the author of a notable volume on the historical accuracy of the story of the Maccabees.

Another advantage possessed by the Cardinal as a candidate for the chair of St. Peter is his patrician ancestry, for it is a tradition of the church that the pope should be a man of patrician birth.

Rampolla's views are quite as liberal as those of any of the hierarchy and he has often expressed warm admiration for Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop Ireland and other members of the liberal party of the Catholic church in America.

THE MOORING AMENDMENT--DISCUSSION

GOOD ROADS OPPONENT HAS SAY

And Criticizes Action of Promoters of Bond BILL

Editor Reflector: "Whom the Gods would destroy, they first make mad." In Friday's Reflector you surely must have been red hot, and the way you yelled "perfidy," "sneak," and "unfair" was almost enough to make one think that this was your first connection with the famous bond bill. Have you so soon forgotten how that those who wanted this bond issue held somewhat of a sneak meeting one Monday night without warning the people in time to be present, and how, when your attention was called to it, and a motion made to adjourn to another time so that all persons interested might come, you and your crowd voted it down by a vote of 21 to 18? And do you remember how that next day you published that a mass meeting (?) of the citizens of the township met the night before in the town hall and ratified the bond bill? You knew at the time that the meeting was held under a snap call, and that it was not a meeting of the citizens of the township, still you seemed willing to let it appear that it was. But, of course, under your code, this was all perfectly fair.

You state in your "red-headed" article that last winter a large number of people of Greenville township held several meetings, etc., etc. Would you kindly give the time and dates of these alleged meetings. The meeting held that night in the town hall only had about 50 persons present, and the famous Fourth of July meeting, thirteen. All the other meetings were sneak meetings if they were held, and advertised under the head of "Farmers' Educational Meeting," "Land and Industrial Agent of the Norfolk Southern," or some such misnomers.

And so, why all this red-headed hula-ba-loo over the Mooring amendment? Did not a majority of the registered voters in the township petition the legislature that the bill itself be not passed, and has it come to pass that somebody must be hung because the legislature of North Carolina won't do all that Mr. White wants done?

The opponents of the bill with the petition above referred to went before the legislative committee, and as Mr. White, assisted by Mr. J. J. Laughinghouse, who is himself a state official and closely connected with Bryan Grimes, our secretary of state, and who has much of his influence thereby, had been lobbying the said committee for several days prior to the date of the hearing, they received but scant recognition. And so we appealed direct to Mr. Mooring, and he promised us to table the bill when it should come up in the house. But one Saturday he came home with a carbuncle on his neck and the bill "sneaked" through the house. Then it was that he introduced his amendment and wrote me that it had got tied up in a committee and on account of certain influences, could not be got out.

It seems that those pushing the bill kept better informed than its opponents, for you say in your article that Mr. White, Mr. Thorne, and Capt. Laughinghouse were given a hearing on the amendment. Of course, under your code, it was perfectly fair for this to be done without letting the other side know it, and for Mr. Thorne, who was the representative of all of us, or at least was elected that way, and for Mr. Laughinghouse, one of our state officials, and who has no property in Greenville township, to use their influence to thwart the will of a majority of those citizens affected by the bill.

And after all, Mr. Editor, why should a little two-by-four committee legislate for a people? Has not the legislature passed the amendment and did it not do so in compliance with the expressed will of a majority of the voters of the township? Has it come to a pass that you should get red-headed and say ugly things because Herbert White and two or three others didn't have as much influence with a Democratic legislature as four hundred other citizens. Aren't you satisfied with giving the majority one small crumb?

The friends of the bill never presented to the legislature anything other than the dictates of a small handful of men who met the committees, and why should they cry about getting a small dose of their own medicine?

And, further, Mr. Editor, where were the ever-watchful representatives and our very alert senator, who played always so well into the hands of the bond bill promoters? Is it possible that they slept while a little word "not" went rollicking up and down the floor of the senate and house, duly labeled and tagged as the amendment was being read three times in each house and ratified? Surely, Providence must have intervened to carry out just this one little favor to the masses of a Democratic community!

And further, why should there be a new registration? Aren't you really mad because this little trap set to embarrass the voters was thrown and nobody gets caught? Why, you raise more fuss over it than if a murder had been committed under your very nose. Everybody knows that a new registration is a trap to catch the unwary. And now you say it is dirty, and a whole mess of stuff, and your methods seek to fool somebody into thinking that your watermelon is stolen. It isn't that—you dropped it pulling wires around Raleigh.

A WORD TO ADVERTISERS.

At the rate the subscription list of The Daily Reflector is growing we expect it to reach 2,000 or more by the first of September. So confident are we of reaching that number by then, we are willing to guarantee an average circulation of not less than 2,000. This is important to advertisers, as it means not for one day only but for every day. It is an opportunity also that business men should take advantage of if they want their advertisements to reach the people. September is the month in which they should put forth their best efforts in advertising for fall business. The tobacco market will be open then, cotton will also be coming to market, and the farmers who raise tobacco and cotton constitute a large majority of the readers of The Reflector. On every nearby rural route are a large number of Reflector subscribers, and the business men can reach these farmers by placing their advertisements in The Daily Reflector. Right now is the time they should be engaging space in this paper. Our advertising rates are the same for this large circulation that they have been all the year.

Friday of next week, 25th, is the time for the next meeting of the governing board and various committees of the Pitt County Fair Association. There is much business of importance to be considered at that meeting and the attendance should be large. It is now a little over two months to the date of the fair—November 2nd and 3rd—and it is necessary that all details be completed soon. Every member of the governing board and committees should make it a point to be at the meeting on next Friday, 25th.

The farmers of Pitt county should prepare for planting more wheat this fall than in former years. The Reflector is not authorized to speak for a certainty on the matter, but enough has been said to us to lead to the belief that Greenville will have a flour mill before another wheat thrashing time comes. Such a mill here will make it convenient for farmers to get their wheat ground into flour, and more wheat should be raised.

The Patented Snore.

A young Raleigh lawyer, who makes a few dollars by acting as administrator, recently had a case that has given him quite a lot of trouble to settle up. His experience might possibly be of some benefit to other aspiring young attorneys who are anxious to rise in the world by aiding their clients.

This young lawyer in question got along fine with the case until it came to making a final settlement, and then his attention was called by the court to an account of $25.00 to which the heirs objected. The account reads as follows: "To one snorer, $25.00." This item had been placed in his expense account and, of course, if the heirs had not objected—as naughty heirs sometimes do—it would have gone through without any trouble. The court was much troubled over the item and asked the attorney for an explanation, suspecting that something was wrong in the accounting department of the administrator.

The brilliant young attorney was equal to the occasion and explained it in this wise: He said that the deceased husband was a chronic snorer and his beloved wife had become so accustomed to his snoring that she could not sleep unless he was snoring, and that after his death she had been unable to sleep for weeks for lack of this familiar noise. Finally, he struck upon the idea of having a machine made that would snore, and when this was put in the room she had no more trouble at night, but slept soundly. The widow regained her lost health and when the bill for the new machine was presented to the attorney he naturally thought it should go into the expense account of the administrator. The court, after some questions as to the technical workings of this new invention, allowed the claim as a just one.—Raleigh Times.

The Long Arm of the Law.

Three men wanted in Boston for a burglary have just been arrested, one in Russia and the others in Austria, and all are now on their way back to the scene of their crime for trial. The arm of the law is long. A notable feature of these extraditions is that the treatment of Austrian and Russian interests in our Courts has not always been calculated to strengthen excellent relations between the United States and the two other countries. In the case of the Hazelton, Pa., riot of a number of years ago, Austria complained, while only a short time since Russia vainly sought the extradition of a revolutionist charged with terrible crimes, which he himself acknowledged committing.—Providence Journal.

Bad Roads Tax The Heaviest.

The farmer who is not an advocate of good roads is an enemy to himself, for the heaviest tax that he pays is the bad road tax. A bad road means loss of time in going to market, to school, to church, to neighbors. It means the more rapid wearing out of vehicles and of stock. The preacher who said it was hard to be a Christian and drive constantly over a bad road was right, and hence bad roads means a decrease in Christian life. Good roads mean better citizenship, mentally, morally and physically, so let's have good roads.—News and Observer.

"THIS IS MY 64th BIRTHDAY." "Father Vaughan."

Rev. Bernard Vaughan, or "Father Vaughan," as he is popularly termed, the distinguished English Jesuit, who has announced his intention to pay another visit to America at an early date, was born at Courtfield, England, August 20, 1847, and was educated at the Jesuit College of Stonyhurst.

After his ordination in 1876 he spent eighteen years in religious work in Manchester. Then he went to London, where as a worker among the poor and a preacher he attained international fame. As a writer he is also famous, and in his books as well as his writing, he has inveighed against the sins of fashionable society. He is a brother of the late Cardinal Vaughan. Last year Father Vaughan was one of the most distinguished and prominent participants in the International Eucharistic Congress in Montreal.

WHAT IS HAPPENING ALL AROUND AYDEN

JUBILANT OVER BALL VICTORY.

Correspondent Takes a Trip Through The Canal.

AYDEN, N. C., Aug. 19.—All Ayden has been smiling since the winning game was played Thursday. Just as we expected.

Sheriff S. I. Dudley is giving away receipts for ridding your premises of chicken-eating snakes. Soak tobacco sticks in chicken blood and scatter them around in places infested by snakes. They swallow the sticks and time does the rest.

If the train had not been crowded Thursday, we should have expected Dr. McErnult and Mr. B. F. Patrick. We don't think Mr. Patrick has been to Ayden since he was a candidate for sheriff, way back when we were in our teens.

Miss Fannie Hardee, who has been visiting friends in Ayden, left Saturday morning for Elizabeth City.

Our milliners are getting their ribbons, straws and feathers for mid-summer and fall business. Watch this department.

Lime, cement and all building material at J. R. Smith & Bro's.

We see from The Daily Reflector that Dr. Moye had an additional chair at the table when he returned from the Ayden ball game Thursday.

I am now ready for your business—grind, gin, saw, dress your timber, mantles, moulding, carts, waggons, and all kinds of repair work in wood and iron. L. L. Kittrell.

To our business men: This department is for you, so let us have your locals and advertisements. People go where they find the stuff.

We learn that Mr. Luke McGlohorn left his real estate to his niece, Mrs. Reddin McGlohorn, subject to the life estate of his widow.

Rev. H. C. Brewer writes that he cannot possibly accept the care of Ayden Christian church, and move his family here, owing to the educational facilities. We have a ninth grade graded school, besides the Baptist Seminary, where students are prepared for Trinity, the University and Wake Forest. This goes to prove conclusively that a town is usually judged by the educational advantages it can offer. We regret our trustees could not dispose of the $12,000 issue of bonds and erect a suitable, up-to-date building, and raise the curriculum that would be adequate to the demands.

The tobacco drummers are singing to the tune "I am the right way."

It was our good pleasure a few days ago to go through the canal from the sound to Oriental which is 100 feet wide and sufficient in depth to float large merchant boats. The timber is killed on the banks of this canal far as the eye can see, where the salt water, sand and marl was blown out. About midway from Morehead to Oriental there stands a cabin a man lives there named Susman, who reminds us of Geo. W. K. Kitchin's favorite poem, "I'll build me a house by the side of the road and be a friend to man." We weighed anchor for a few minutes and talked to this man, who very much resembled Roberson, Cruise. The man, apparently exiled, was cheerful and intelligent. We asked him who deserved the credit for opening up that water-way improvements and he said it might be Congressman Thomas, Small or Dr. Faison, but he believed it was all due to Governor W. W. Kitchin. We asked him about the senatorial contest and he said he was for Kitchin for anything he wanted.

We regret to learn of the death of Mr. John Moore, which occurred last Friday morning at his home near Timothy, in Swift Creek township. He lingered for some weeks with indigestion. The deceased was a model citizen and a farmer, a member of the Christian church, and a Mason. He leaves a widow and several children. Among them are Mr. J. Paul Moore, and Rev. Eber Moore. The remains were buried with Masonic honor Saturday.

Miss J. Alf Harrington, R. H. Garris and W. E. Patrick, made an automobile trip to Vanceboro, Friday.

OUR WEEKLY LETTER FROM WASHINGTON

SOME VITAL WASHINGTON NEWS.

How They Try to Oust Wiley—Democratic Prospects Bright.

(By Clyde H. Tavenner).

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—The Taft administration will not dare to carry out the plot to drive Dr. Harvey Wiley from the government service.

This was the thought that suggested itself time and again, to the minds of the men and women who crowded the Moss investigation committee rooms and heard Dr. Wiley lay bare the story of the systematic fight which has been waged against him because he has insisted the food manufacturers, keep their products pure. At times, as Dr. Wiley told of the fierce persecution he had endured, his voice almost broke, and he could proceed only with difficulty. At times also the committee members, utterly dumbfounded by the doctor's statements, were at a loss as to what questions to ask him next.

Not only was it shown that Dr. Wiley's efforts to serve the public and protect it from injurious and poisonous substances in food preparations had been absolutely blocked by the conspirators in the administration headed by Secretary of Agriculture Wilson and his controlling influence, Solicitor McCabe, but that the latest effort to force Dr. Wiley out of office was based upon a letter which he never received and knew nothing about.

Not boastfully or eagerly, but in response to questions by members of the committee, Dr. Wiley recited the universities at which he had studied, the great scientific societies at home and abroad which have honored him in various ways, and the recital went a long way in revealing to the committee the great public spirit and sympathy of this man who possessed a courage in public duty which neither threats from official sources nor opposition by the powers of evil had been able to break down.

While the whole hearing was a succession of revelations that left the committee and spectators thunder-struck, the most astonishing testimony came when Dr. Wiley told of his efforts to prevent the use of alum, and when he recited the story of how three cabinet members—Cortelyou, Straus, and Wilson—to please the $80,000,000 Corn Products Company, abrogated the application of the pure food law to a product of that concern.

"Alum, used in foods," said Dr. Wiley, "especially in baking powder, is responsible for the large amount of constipation that is prevalent throughout the country. I considered its use a serious danger to public health, and wanted it stopped pending an investigation. But the other two members of the reviewing board overruled me, as they invariably did, and the use of alum is still permitted."

"Another case involved the use of sulphur dioxide. Dunlap and McCabe recommended that we discontinue the rule requiring the presence of this drug be indicated on the label. As the rule had been adopted after a most exhaustive investigation, I was convinced that to do away with it would be a grave mistake. Dunlap and McCabe revoked the rule, however, during my absence, and when I returned I wrote a letter to Secretary Wilson asking for a hearing. But Secretary Wilson did not even reply to my letter."

Administration Stenographers.

Here is a story of two Taft administration stenographers which shows how hard it is to work for the government these days and remain honest.

F. M. Kerby, stenographer to the late Secretary of Interior Ballinger, exploded the whole Ballinger defense by bringing to light the "Lawler memorandum." Kirby wrote this memorandum and knew, therefore that President Taft's letter exonerating Ballinger was ante dated and a frame-up to clear the secretary. And because he revealed information which came to him in his confidential capacity as stenographer, Ballinger called him "unworthy" and discharged him.

Now contrast this with the case of Miss Carrie M. Davis, stenographer to Dr. L. F. Kebler, of the bureau of chemistry. In his campaign to oust Dr. Wiley, Solicitor McCabe locked Miss Davis in a room and "sweated" her for three hours because she refused to divulge confidential information which McCabe thought he could use against Wiley. Kirby broke a confidence, because he placed loyalty to the people above loyalty to Ballinger, and was discharged. Miss Davis refused to break a confidence, and for that she was cruelly chastised.

A Four-Ply Monopoly.

One of the first facts developed by the Stanley steel investigating committee was that the directors of the steel trust actually dominated the boards of directors of nearly all the important railroads of the country. Then it came to light that the same ruling spirits of the steel trust cooperated with and practically dominated Standard Oil. And now it develops that four of the six directors of the harvester trust are also directors of the steel trust. In other words, the steel trust, the railroads, the harvester trust, and Standard Oil, (all star contributors to Republican campaign funds) are dominated by the same handful of men. And these men in turn take orders from one man, Mr. J. P. Morgan.

La Follette A Real Candidate Now.

"Taft and sure defeat, or La Follette with a chance to win." This cry has been taken up anew by the genuine Republican insurgents since La Follette co-operated with the Democrats in an honest endeavor to revise the Payne-Aldrich tariff downward. The indications are that if Mr. Taft obtains the renomination the Roosevelt and La Follette hosts will not raise a finger, much less their voices, to help him.

Democratic Prospects Bright.

"Prospects for the election of a Democratic president have never been brighter," declared Hon. James T. Lloyd, chairman of the National Democratic Congressional committee, who had charge of the campaign which resulted in the present heavy Democratic majority in the house. "The Democratic party is popular from one end of the country to the other," Mr. Lloyd continued. "The party has carried out pre-election promises and made a creditable showing in every way. The many investigations conducted by Democratic committees have demonstrated to the satisfaction of every intelligent man in the country that the Republicans are guilty of mal-administration, and should be relieved of power for a term or two at least."

MR. W. S. RAWLS DEAD.

Former Greenville Citizen Dies in Baltimore.

Telegrams were received by relatives here this morning announcing the death of Mr. W. S. Rawls, which occurred at 12:20 o'clock this morning at his home in Baltimore.

Mr. Rawls was a native of Virginia and about 62 years of age. He and an older brother, Mr. J. G. Rawls, moved to Greenville in the early '70s and established a jewelry business here that proved very successful. In the year 1890, associated with his brother-in-law, Mr. R. A. Tyson, he established a private bank here, the first bank the town had, which later became the Bank of Greenville.

In the year 1894 Mr. Rawls' health failed, causing him to retire from business, and two years later he moved to Baltimore where he made his home.

While a citizen of Greenville in 1876 he married Miss Margaret Tyson, of this county, and the wife and three children survive him, his two sons, Messrs. Leslie and Lee Rawls being residents of Baltimore, and his daughter, Mrs. Edgeworth Smith, residing in New York.

Mr. Rawls was a Mason and a member of the Methodist church. During his residence in Greenville he was foremost in promoting the interest and upbuilding of the town, and was held in high esteem by all our people.

The remains will be brought to Greenville for interment, reaching here Sunday afternoon on the Norfolk Southern 4:56 train, the funeral to take place immediately afterwards in Cherry Hill cemetery.

POSTAL SAVINGS BANK OPENS.

Deposits Will Be Limited To $100 Monthly.

Under the order of the post office department of the government, a postal savings bank was established today in the Greenville post office. While the officials can give no information as to depositors, it is known that there are several who have availed themselves of the opportunity to make deposits in this postal savings bank here.

Certificates of deposit are issued for depositors at $1, $2, $5, $10, $20, $50 and $100, and draw interest at the rate of 2 per cent., no interest being paid for less than a year, and the depositors are subject to no tax. Deposits must be made by individuals, and no one can deposit to exceed $100 monthly, nor have a greater sum on deposit than $50. When the deposits of an individual reach $500 the amount can be withdrawn and expended for government bonds, which draw 3 per cent. interest.

LOOKING AHEAD.

All Things Working Together For Good.

How can all things work together for good? By the guidance of infinite chance? Wheels within wheels, and wheels playing into wheels, in the vast system of human circumstances, and all permitted to move according to their own sweet will; is the way in which all things work together for good to God's saints? We know it cannot be so. There must be a Divine Superintendent directing all, and He can direct only as He knows all things from the beginning to the end. Here is a cause, and yonder, twenty years hence, is an effect. Unless God sees the relation of the two, how can He touch the keyboard of causes with His fingers today, so as to affect our highest good a score of years in the future? And God works at long range. He is no day laborer, planning only from sunrise to sunset. We believe that our pious grandmothers, praying and studying their Bibles in the lonely cottage among the hills, had much to do in shaping our Christian characters. And when now we pray for success upon our labors we seem to hear the Lord saying, "Before thou callest, I answered and before thou knewest me, I girded thee."

And we don't believe that God can make all things work together for good to His people unless He begins very far back and looks very far ahead.—Spurgeon.

While talking to a gentleman about the famous "Cox cotton planter" and other farming implements manufactured by the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co., something was said about buggies and wagons. We told him that this same firm built buggies and wagons. What! said he, "I didn't know that." Well, I guess he opened his eyes and saw some things as we proceeded to show him through the buggy department.

There he saw some of the leading styles in buggies, he saw the highest class of workmanship, and the very best material used in the construction of buggies and wagons. Then the smile on his face was the longest as he beheld the finished product.

"That is a dandy job," said he. They surely do make buggies and wagons. Call on the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co. and be convinced about buggies, wagons and carts.

A HARMLESS WAY TO DARKEN THE HAIR

A Little Sage and Sulphur Makes Gray Hairs Vanish—A Remedy for All Hair Troubles.

Who does not know the value of sage and sulphur for keeping the hair dark, soft, glossy and in good condition? As a matter of fact, sulphur is a natural element of hair, and a deficiency of it in the hair is held by many scalp specialists to be connected with loss of color and vitality of the hair. Unquestionably, there is no better remedy for the hair and scalp troubles, especially premature grayness, than sage and sulphur, if properly prepared. The Wyeth Chemical Company of New York put up an ideal remedy of this kind, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, and authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Moye's Pharmacy.
