KINSTON HAS DISASTROUS FIRE

AND THE LOSS A HEAVY ONE

Magnificent Work Done by Firemen And Citizens.

Kinston suffered the worst fire it has had in sixteen years, Sunday morning, when about 3:30 o'clock flames broke out in the wood-working department of Ellis Carriage Works, and quickly destroyed property to the amount of $100,000, notwithstanding magnificent work by the firemen and citizens, aided by an abundant supply of water and splendid pressure. The blaze originated in a room where there was much shavings and other highly inflammable material and flashed up like powder was set.

As soon as the fire was discovered and the alarm turned in the department went quickly to the scene and began heroic efforts to save the main factory, but seeing that was impossible, directed their energies to saving nearby property. The heat from the large two-story factory, burning, set fire to buildings across Gordon street, and this was eating its way towards the Free Press office and the business houses on Queen street when several streams of water stopped its progress and probably averted a conflagration that would have destroyed some hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of property.

Going west, on the south side of Gordon street, the fire swept everything from Ellis' Carriage Works' storage rooms to Heritage street, including some buildings back in the block.

Ellis' Carriage Works, of course, the heaviest loser, and the loss is fully $60,000, of machinery and stock, of which a large amount was carried. The insurance amounted to $25,000. On the north side of the street three dwellings were burned, and several small shops.

No commendation of the services rendered by the fire fighters would be extravagant and the value of the services would be hard to overestimate, for had the flames not been kept back as they were several blocks of the most valuable business property in the city, would in all probability, have been destroyed. At one time eight streams of water were playing on the fire, and still the pressure from the city water plant was so great that nozzlemen were frequently thrown by the hose. Hines Bros. Lumber Company kindly loaned the department nearly a thousand feet of hose, to add to the already generous equipment, and willing hands placed these where they would do the most good.

In the buildings destroyed was the Farmers' warehouse, of which Mr. L. P. Tapp was proprietor, but Mr. Tapp leased the Atlantic this morning and will run that this year, continuing in the tobacco warehouse business in this city.

There were employed by the Ellis Carriage Works 72 people, and one of the fire's worst features is that these will be out of employment for a while, at least. Arrangements are being made to resume work at the earliest opportunity, as the factory was running on rush time to fill heavy orders for vehicles. Many of the workmen lost their tools in the fire, and it is estimated that this loss amounted to about $1,500.

The losses are:
Ellis Carriage Works, $60,000; insurance, $25,000.

Workmen's tools, $1,500; no insurance.

City electric light department, $100 by wires being burned.

S. H. Loftin, dwelling on Heritage street, damage to amount to $800; insurance, $1,000.

Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company, $100; no insurance.

L. P. Tapp, $400; no insurance.

J. B. Hill, $500; no insurance.

Esse Sugg, $200; no insurance.

E. Letchworth, $50; no insurance.

C. R. Turner, $150; no insurance.

J. A. Prigden, $2,500; insurance, $1,000.

W. C. Fields, owner of the factory building, $12,000; insurance, $7,150.
Mrs. W. L. Sutton, nee Miss Annie Fields, $3,000; insurance, $3,900.
Mrs. Dan. Quinerly, $1,000; insurance, $900.

L. Harvey & Son Co., $3,000; insurance, $1,750.

Branton & Lawrence, $100; insurance, $100.

The origin of the fire is a mystery, but it is freely stated that it was incendiary, because if it had been

INVENTOR OF BESSMER PROCESS

Helped Make One of The Greatest Industrial Centers in The World.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 22.—Today saw the centenary of the birth of William Kelly, who is generally credited with the invention of the Bessemer process for converting melted cast iron into malleable steel, a discovery which revolutionized the steel industry and helped to make Pittsburg and neighboring towns one of the greatest industrial centers in the world.

Kelly was born in this city August 22, 1811, and early in life manifested an uncommon aptitude for mechanics. In 1845 he removed to Kentucky, where he acquired an iron works on the Cumberland river. Here it was that he conceived the plan of dispensing with fuel in the process of refining and decarbonizing iron by the introduction of a current of air. After several years of experimenting he finally perfected the process, which was long known as "Kelly's air-boiling process," and which was used for the manufacture of boiler-plates before Sir Henry Bessemer was born. When the latter brought out his process in England in 1856, Mr. Kelly asserted that Bessemer had obtained his knowledge of the process from English workmen employed by him in America. Subsequently both inventors applied for patents in the United States, but the commission issued one only, to Mr. Kelly, acknowledging the priority of his invention of the process.

CALIFORNIA STANDS TREAT.

This Was "Open House" Day on the Convention Calendar.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 22.—After the notable demonstration of hospitality given today no Eagle in attendance on the national convention of the order in session here is likely to return home with anything but praise for the city of San Francisco and the state of California. It was "open house" day on the convention calendar and practically everything in the way of solid and liquid refreshment was dispensed free to the visitors. Ten thousand gallons of choice wine and carloads of California oranges, figs, plums, cherries, grapes, raisins and almonds were distributed with a lavish hand.

Bronson And Deshler Again.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 22.—Ray Bronson, of Indianapolis, and Dave Deshler, the Boston boxer, have finished traiping for their ten-city contest to take place in this city tomorrow night. Both appear to be in excellent condition for the bout. It will be the third time the two fighters have met in the ring. In 1909 they engaged in two twelve-round contests in Boston. Both were declared draws. The two are regarded as very evenly matched and as a consequence they are counted upon to put up an interesting fight.

Bar Harbor's Annual Horse Show.

BAR HARBOR, Me. Aug. 22.—The golf links, the tennis courts and the yachts were deserted today for the field at Robin Hood Park, where the annual Bar Harbor Horse show was opened under most promising conditions. In the quality and number of exhibits the show this year is the equal of many of the metropolitan exhibitions. The judging and award of prizes was begun this afternoon and will continue until the close of the show next Thursday.

Minnesota Temperance Rally.

FARIBAULT, Minn., August 22.—Temperance workers from every section of the State, among them many noted temperance speakers and lecturers, are gathered here to attend the Minnesota State convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, which opened here today for a session of four days. Nearly two hundred delegates are present.

New Hampshire Day in Oregon.

ASTORIA, Ore., Aug. 22.—New Hampshire Day was celebrated at the Astoria Centennial today, the exercises having especial reference to the share of the Granite State in the settlement and development of the Pacific Northwest.

that some of the men had thrown a match or lighted cigarette around before quitting work the fire would have broken out much sooner than 3:30 next morning, as it started in highly inflammable material.—Kinston Free Press.

SPEAKER CLARK WINS APPLAUSE

A PRESIDENTIAL POSSIBILITY.

He Swats Taft for Accusations Against Democratic Party.

(By Clyde H. Tavenner).
WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(Special)—"The president has raised an issue which will rage with unabated fury until the close of the polls in November, 1912.

When Speaker Champ Clark threw down this challenge in what is now regarded as one of the most brilliant and militant speeches of his entire career, it meant not only that the Democratic fight for lower cost of living was to be one to a finish, but that Champ Clark himself was the man best qualified to lead that fight.

Republicans, as well as Democrats, apparently realized this, as was evidenced by the fact that when the speaker's name was mentioned in connection with the presidency, the big Missourian was cheered to the echo.

To those in the galleries, too, there was a significant meaning to this wild demonstration; it meant that Champ Clark, of Missouri, who started life as a poor barefoot country boy plowing corn on a rocky hillside in Kentucky, had entered on the last leg of a journey to the White House. And to the ears of Clark's friends in the crowded chamber the din of applause also sounded sweet, for to them it meant recognition at last of their contention that Champ Clark has become the biggest figure on the Democratic horizon; that the party has at last found a leader who can lead all factions.

"It makes me weary," thundered the speaker, directly challenging the leaders on the Republican side, "to hear people talk about somebody wanting to destroy the industries and prosperity of this land. It is a lie. No sane man wants to injure any legitimate industry in this country. That is what I have contended for always and especially since we carried the house and had the responsibility placed upon us. It is our country as well as yours; our children must live here as well as yours; we have as great a stake in the prosperity of the republic as you have, and, in the language of Tiny Tim, 'God bless us every one.'

"Another thing, they say we are playing politics. Whenever any man stands up and attempts to do anything for the benefit of the great masses of the people, he is denounced by the 'interests' as a demagogue, and is charged with playing politics. But to stand up and advocate the cause of the 'interests' is the highest evidence of statesmanship. As far as I am individually concerned, I sprang from the loins of the common people, God bless them, and I am one of them. I labored with my hands in my youth, and would do it again tomorrow if I had to do so; and I unhesitatingly take my stand with the consumers of the land against the interests.

"The Globe-Democrat said that I had come around to a tariff on wool, because I heard the bleating of 134,000 sheep in my district. I tell you what I did hear. I heard the cry of 93,000,000 American citizens for cheaper and better clothing. The great desire of my heart is to give them some relief from their burden of taxation, which they have borne for lo! these many years.

"We most cheerfully welcome the issue. We will meet the president and his stand-pat cohorts at the polls in 1912!" (Loud and prolonged cheering on the Democratic side).

American Veterinaries Meet.

TORONTO, Ont., August 22.—Convocation Hall of the University of Toronto was crowded with members of the veterinary profession today, when the forty-eighth annual meeting of the American Veterinary Medical Association was opened today. The convention will continue four days, closing on Friday with a big banquet. The exhibition of surgical appliances and apparatus used by veterinary doctors, which is held in conjunction with the convention, is attracting considerable attention.

Dr. Hyatt Coming.

Dr. H. O. Hyatt will be at Hotel Bertha, September 4th and 5th, Monday and Tuesday, to treat diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat.

GREENVILLE TAKES FIRST.

The Score 1 To 0 In A Ten Inning Game.

The first of the post season series of three games between Ayden and Greenville for the Eastern Carolina championship, took place in the ball park here Monday afternoon. McCall and Cleveland composed the battery for Ayden, and Stafford and Seifort for Greenville. It was the most exciting game played here this season, as neither team scored through nine innings.

In the tenth inning Ayden got a man as far as third base, and for a time felt hopeful of getting him to the home plate, but did not succeed. Greenville was a little more fortunate in the tenth and got a run, winning the game. Lanier, G., got to first on an error of second baseman. Bowling hit to short stop and made first, but forced Lanier out at second. Lanier, C., hit safe to first and advanced Bowling to second. Smith hit safe to first, advancing both of the others, making full bases with one out. Billings hit to third and forced Bowling out at home plate, but the catcher in trying to make a double play and head off Billings threw to first, and the first baseman muffing the ball Billings played safe and Lanier scored.

McCall struck out 6, and gave one base on balls. Stafford struck out 7 and gave one base on balls.

INSURANCE COMMISSIONERS MEET

Prospects Indicate That the Session Will be a Very Profitable One.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 22.—Present prospects indicate that the annual session of the national convention of insurance commissioners, which opened in this city today, will be a very profitable meeting. Commissioners, deputies and actuaries representing nearly every state in the Union are in attendance.

Proposed reforms in the conduct of industrial insurance companies will form the most important subject of discussion. Repent investigation, it is said, has developed the fact that some companies, taking advantage of the helplessness of their clients, who are mostly of the poorer class, compromised or adjusted claims, so that thousands of dollars, withheld from victims of accidents or from their widows, children, or dependents, went to increase dividends or surpluses of the companies.

LUTHERAN CONFERENCE.

About 170 Ministers In Attendance at The Opening.

WAUSAU, Wis., Aug. 22.—The triennial meeting of the Evangelical Lutheran Wisconsin State conference of the Missouri Synod opened here this morning at Zion Lutheran church with about one hundred and seventy ministers belonging to the conference in attendance. The program includes discussions of various theological topics and a number of addresses on church work. The conference will remain in session three days and tomorrow evening the customary communion services will be held. In connection with the conference the triennial union of the alumni of Concordia college, of Milwaukee, is held here. Many of the ministers attending the conference are alumni of that college.

PINE BLUFF 79 YEARS OLD.

Seventy-Ninth Anniversary of the Birth of Pine Bluff.

PINE BLUFF, Ark., Aug. 22.—The seventy-ninth anniversary of the birth of Pine Bluff was the occasion of a big celebration by the citizens today. The town was laid out August 22, 1832, a family by the name of Pullen making the survey. The original town comprised forty-five blocks, but fourteen of them have been washed away by the encroaching river.

Stamp Exhibition in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 22.—The twenty fifth anniversary exhibition of the American Philatelic Society opened in Chicago today, to continue through the remainder of the week. The exhibition has attracted a notable gathering of stamp collectors from all parts of the United States and Canada.

And one-half the world wonders why the other half lives.

A SUGGESTION AS TO GOOD ROADS

KEEP TRYING AND NOT GIVE UP

Place A Good Man As Superintendent Of All Road Work.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Aug. 22, 1911
Editor Reflector:

I am in favor of good roads, and have been reading some of the articles about good roads, hoping that some move might be made that would open the way for the work to begin; but bonds seem to keep the way blocked, for we can't get bonds and we can't get them out of the way to try something else.

I read the article in your paper where Mr. X. Y. Z., had discovered a plan to build the roads by bonds and to pay the interest on the bonds, and a part of the bonds each year, by using our present funds, that we collect from the taxes.

Well, I expect he was about right, but I had to wonder how he was going to keep the roads repaired, for I am sure that it will take more labor to keep the good roads repaired than we spend at this time on our roads. So it occurs to me that we might need all our present tax money to keep the roads repaired.

I have also read the other articles in your paper about what the legislature did and what others did, but they seem to be of an explosive nature, and I expect threw more dirt out of the road than in it. Let's keep trying and not give up, even if we have to make the roads without bonds. Let us amend our present system and start to work. Perhaps we can begin to plan in such a way that results will soon follow. I would suggest that we have the best practical man we can get for county superintendent of roads and let him have control of all labor overseers that are subject to road duties, and let him have them work full time, and as they work let them work to the best interest of the road by giving the proper drainage and shape to the road bed. Then, I would suggest that the county superintendent have control over the chain gang force to work them where it is not convenient for the overseer and his force to work. We might also let him have partial control of X. Y. Z's tax money, and instead of letting it be used to pay bond interest let it be used to buy the best tools and machines available, and let these be used among the overseers or chain gang, or any where else for the improvement of the road. Then if there is tax money still on hand, it might be used to hire special labor to be used on the roads where it might be used to the best advantage. We might be very lengthy in suggesting plans as to how this work might be scheduled so the county superintendent might be with the work all over the county to see that the road bed might be in proper shape for the machines, and how the labor might be kept at duty. But this can be looked after later.

If something like this could be done we might call a mass meeting at an early date to discuss plans, and also to get some unity among the people.

A. B. C.

[As the writer of the above seems to have overlooked where "X. Y. Z's" calculation pointed out that $2,487.50 would be available for maintenance and improvement of roads each year, we reproduce that part of the article for information.]

The property of Greenville township as valued for taxation this year is in round numbers, $3,500,000. The road tax is 15 cents on each $100 property valuation, and 45 cents on each poll. The income from this tax is as follows:

$3,500,000 property at 15 cents per $100 . . . . . $5,250.00
750 polls at 45 cents each . . . . . 337.50

Total income . . . . . $5,587.50

Apply this amount under the bond issue:

$50,000 at 5 per cent. interest per annum . . . . . $2,500.00

Amount set aside each year and put on interest to pay bonds at maturity as provided for in bill . . . . . 600.00

Amount then available for maintenance and improvement of roads each year. . . . . 2,487.50

$5,587.50

The experience you buy is seldom up to the sample submitted.

SEEK UNIFORMITY IN FOOD LAWS

Secretary Wilson Present and Delivers Address.

DULUTH, Minn., Aug. 22.—The problem of how best to bring about the much needed uniformity of the food laws of the various states of the Union was the main topic of discussion at the meeting of the association of State and National Food and Dairy Departments, which was held here today. Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, who is one of the strongest supporters of the uniformity movement, was present at the meeting and delivered an address, in which he explained the existing conditions and pledged himself to do everything in his power to bring about uniformity of food legislation.

FINE SHOW OF INDIANA FRUIT

All Fruit Raising Sections of the State Represented.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Aug. 21.—In connection with the annual meeting of the Indiana Horticultural Society, which opened its two days' session here today, one of the finest exhibitions of fruit raised in this state is held in this city at present. Practically all fruit raising sections, particularly the northern parts, are represented and there is strong competition for the valuable prizes offered.

H. E. Van Deman, one of the foremost horticultural authorities in the United States, is scheduled to deliver two addresses before the Horticultural Society.

The Raleigh Times had an empty can crusade for a week, and in that time the boys picked up something like 25,000 old tin cans about the city. It was a crusade in behalf of health, tin cans being regarded as breeding places for mosquitoes. We would not be surprised if other towns could not find comparatively as many as Raleigh.

Are you getting anything ready for exhibit at the Pitt county fair? It is now but little more than two months off—November 2nd and 3rd being the dates—and it ought to bring together an array of Pitt county's very best products. If you have not seen a premium list apply for one and get something ready to exhibit.

Good Roads—What They Mean.

One hundred million dollars for good roads! One hundred million times as much money as the government ever spent to make the country roads a little easier for traffic. That is what a prominent United States senator recently advocated. Think of it. Just to fill up the ruts and the holes to make pulling a trifle easier for a few tired farmers' horses.

Why? Because the people of the United States has, at last, come to see that there is but little else in this country so fundamentally necessary to the welfare of each citizen as are good roads. That is the answer. It appears on the face of it, a perfectly simple answer, and one that at first thought does not provoke much interest and arouse no astonishment, and yet the gospel of good roads has come to mean salvation for the dying towns and the sick communities as well as for that greater evil—the high cost of living.

Never before in the history of this country has there been such an awakening as that which has resulted recently from the scientific study of the economic conditions now in existence. The citizens' physicians who made the diagnosis have stated that bad roads are yet at the bottom of the existing high prices of necessities. Why? There are several answers. One of them is best illustrated by the story of the woman in a small town who recently went into a grocery store and asked the price of eggs. The storekeeper quoted his price.

"Why!" she exclaimed. "That is more than they ought to be at this time of the year—6 cents more than I ever paid before."

"I know that," replied the merchant, "but it can't be helped. The roads have been so bad lately that the farmers won't bring in their products."

That is the whole story in a nutshell. There are many others like it, some more important than others. That same woman probably placed her order with a mail order grocery house, leaving the express company to deliver the goods irrespective of the condition of the roads. The merchant in the story lost a customer, the farmer lost a chance to market his products, and the woman finally found that she had paid a big price for her goods after all—and all of this because the roads were bad.—Wilkesboro Chronicle.

Taft Vetoes Bills.

The Democratic members of the house and senate have every reason to be proud of the legislation that they presented and passed at the extra session, and while most of their labors came to naught through the vetoes of the wool bill and the farmers' free list and the cotton bill, which will be vetoed, the responsibility rests with the president, and he and his party will be held accountable to the people next year for the failure to give relief by the lowering of the burdensome tariff duties upon the articles embraced in these various schedules.

The able leadership of Representative Underwood and Senator Martin has cemented the party in congress into a vigorous and compact organization that has achieved victories and that will renew the good work of tariff revision when congress meets in December. They have demonstrated that the present Democrats in congress are alive to the needs of the people and are capable of prompt and intelligent action along the line of tariff revision.

The vetoes of Mr. Taft have come as a great disappointment to the Democratic leaders, but it is through no fault of theirs that the reduction in the cost of living will not follow from the measures that were passed.

The president has already acknowledged generously and fully that reciprocity with Canada was only accomplished by the aid of the Democrats, and the admission of Arizona and New Mexico is also to their credit therefore though the tariff revision is delayed, the Democrats have every reason to be proud of the record they made during this extra session.—Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch.

Oil City. He affiliated with the Knights of Labor in 1886 and five years later he became prominent in the International Association of Machinists. In 1892 he was elected president of the last-named body. The organization at that time had but 2,500 members. Under the presidency of Mr. O'Connell the membership has increased to 75,000 and the machinists are now among the best organized of any of the crafts. Since the affiliation of the organization with the American Federation of Labor, Mr. O'Connell has been vice-president of the federation.

BLACK JACK ITEMS.

Happenings In That Portion of Chicod.

BLACK JACK, N. C., Aug. 22.—We are having some showers occasionally after so much dry and hot weather.

The crowd was somewhat small at church Sunday. Elder Lupton, our pastor, did not come to fill his appointment, so Brother J. A. Hudson filled it.

Mr. J. H. Clark returned from Baltimore last Wednesday.

Misses Bertha Spain, Bessie Corbitt and Maggie Corbitt attended church here Sunday.

Among those who attended church from Grimesland Sunday were Mrs. J. O. Proctor and daughter, Miss Susie, Messrs. A. O. Clark, J. O. Johnson, Mr. Godley and Mr. Warren.

Mr. W. V. Clark went to Greenville Saturday evening.

Mrs. E. S. Dixon is very sick at the present, also Mrs. W. L. Clark.

Mr. Henry Mills, of South Carolina, came in last Wednesday to visit friends and relatives.

Mr. Moseley Mills left a few days ago for John Hopkins hospital for an operation for appendicitis.

Messrs. Marshall Buck and Zeno Mills left this morning for Wingate High School.

Mr. Roy Venters passed through our town today en route to Grimesland.

Several of our farmers will finish curing tobacco this week.

The rattling of corn stalks will soon be over, at the present it is in full blast.

STOKESTOWN ITEMS.

The News Around That Neighborhood.

STOKESTOWN, N. C., Aug. 22.—Mr. Levi Stokes went to Ayden Saturday.

Mrs. Bessie Cannon and daughter, Miss Carrie Lee, returned Saturday from a visit to Raleigh.

We had a fine rain Sunday morning.

Mr. W. B. Harper went to Greenville Monday to serve as a juror this week.

Mr. C. Moore and family spent Sunday afternoon here with relatives.

Mrs. Augusta Stokes accompanied them home for a visit.

We are glad to note that Mr. Heber Stokes is progressing very well. His many friends will be glad to see him out again.

Mrs. L. B. Stokes and son, Herman, spent Sunday afternoon near Shermidine, with Mr. and Mrs. George Venters.

Several of our people went to Shermidine Sunday to hear the "Holiness" people preach. They create a lot of curiosity.

We had a large crowd at Sunday school Sunday afternoon.

Our farmers are busy curing tobacco and pulling fodder.

Misses Faye E. Corey and Ida Burney were welcome visitors to our village this week.

NOTICE

To The Tobacco Farmers of Pitt And Adjoining Counties.

Having been raised on a tobacco farm near the town of Winston-Salem, the largest tobacco market in the state and for the past few years connected with Ayden tobacco market, I feel that I am in position to assert, with a reasonable degree of accuracy, that the Greenville tobacco market is one of the best in the state. From my experience on a small market, I became convinced that I could not protect the interest of tobacco farmers selling on my floor, and therefore decided to establish myself with a larger market. I shall this year have charge of the Gum warehouse for the Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Company. I want to say to every tobacco farmer, and especially to those who have sold with me in the past, that, as manager of the Gum warehouse, for the above company, I am absolutely in position to thoroughly protect your interest in the sale of your tobacco, and every pound that is sold on this floor shall have my personal supervision and personal interest.

I want to thank all of my old customers whose patronage I deeply appreciate, and to say to those who have never sold with me, that if you will give me a trial, I will endeavor to make you a customer and make you feel perfectly at home at THE GUM.

J. J. GENTRY,
8 22-1tw Mgr., Gum Warehouse.

ARE THEY SEEKING NOTORIETY?

That Is The Way It Impresses A Reader.

Editor Reflector:

What have you done to arouse the personal wrath of the Messrs. Evans? I have read their communications about the "bond issue for good roads," which turned out to be mainly attacks upon you and one or two other citizens who favor a bond issue for roads. Have they seized this opportunity to gain a little public notoriety at your expense?

And it does not cost you anything to use these cuts simply get the advertising space and the cuts are at your service to use as freely as you please. You can see a list of the cuts any time desired. This is a good time to start up your fall advertising and use some of these cuts.

How It Is In South Carolina.

The good roads movement is steadily gaining ground. It may be slow, but the day is sure to come when this country will be a net work of improved highways. We believe that within the next twenty-five years more good roads will be built than have been built within the past hundred years. But we don't want to wait twenty-five years. By that time we will be either gone to a country where the streets are gold, or where they walk on moulten matter, or else we will be too old to enjoy good roads to the fullest extent. What we desire is immediate action so we can have some of the pleasures and benefits of it. Come on, gentlemen of the county commissioners, and make a change in your road working system. You couldn't possibly do any less with the facilities at hand, and a change might prove profitable.—Gaffney (S. C.) Ledger.

MORE HAPPENINGS ALL AROUND AYDEN

A BAD STORM SUNDAY MORNING.

Good Prospects For School—Some Prolific Tomatoes.

AYDEN, N. C., August 22.—Sunday morning at 4 o'clock our town was visited by a severe electric storm with wind and rain. Lightning struck the two story residence of Mr. W. B. Alexander, demolishing one end and knocking off the chimney, up stairs. It completely splintered a bureau and other things in the room near the fire place. Down stairs, underneath, in the parlor, the mantle, frames and pictures were in a complete jumble. The bolt seemed to pass between the weatherboarding and plastering, coming out at the front door. The family were sleeping in the room down the hall and escaped unhurt.

Messrs. W. B. Dennis and William Jones were stunned by lightning; Mr. W. H. Harris' tobacco barn struck; an oak tree in the school park near Mr. W. E. Patrick's was struck and many telephone and telegraph poles were torn into atoms.

Mr. Reddin E. Jackson, who was bitten by a supposed rabid dog, was afraid to trust any mistakes and left last Thursday evening for Raleigh to undergo a 21 days' treatment for hydrophobia, which will remove all doubt in his mind.

The swamps and ditches were full one more time Sunday.

Mr. W. L. Tucker showed us a twig containing some very large tomatoes, which he had photographed, and then sent them to the Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C. He told us from five plants he had sold enough at 10 cents per dozen to amount to $5.10 and the vines were still blooming and he could gather five bushels. Some of them were 12 feet in diameter. Mr. Tucker takes great pride in trucking and usually excels his neighbors in early vegetables.

From all indications this will be the largest enrollment in the history of the Baptist Seminary. Much credit is due to Dr. St. Claire and his able corps of helpers for the untiring energy, self-denying spirit and laborious efforts they have made to forge this institution to the front. If Rev. Thad Harrison could have lived he would have been to this school what Dr. McIver was to the state Normal at Greensboro. But his death was untimely and the brethren mourn. His work was not finished, yet his column was broken and we hope to see erected in the spacious auditorium a tablet to perpetuate him, his life, his fidelity and his untimely death. He was a true friend to the F. W. B. Seminary.

Rev. R. H. Jones, former pastor here, will preach in the Christian church next Wednesday night. His many friends will delight to hear him.

Mr. Grover McLawhon left Monday morning for his new home in Rocky Mount. We wish him much success.

For anything kept in a general hardware store, we have it. J. R. Smith & Bro.

Mr. J. C. Jones and family worshipped at Airy Grove Sunday.

Miss May Smith returned Sunday from an extended visit to friends and relatives near Reedy Branch.

We are ready. Come on with your corn, cotton and orders for turned and scroll work, cabinet mantles, waggons, either wood or iron. L. L. Kittrell.

Mrs. Jessie Wilson has made application to the Oxford orphan asylum to send her two little girls, Katie and Gladdis, there.

We worshipped at the Episcopal church Sunday and listened to a splendid sermon by Rev. J. W. Fulford, on the parable of the Unjust Steward.

Only a few more weeks and it will be time for the annual meeting of the North Carolina Christian Missionary Convention, which will meet here. The date is not fixed as yet.

We hear that Rev. C. M. Morton has resigned the care of the Wilmington Christian church on account of his health.

Now is the time to advertise. A young man tells us he inserted an ad in a paper for a wife, and had 18 applications the first week, and one not more than twelve miles away. People will read the Daily Reflector, so let us write you up.

Mr. Stancil Hodges spent Sunday in Washington.

Lime, cement, hair, a full supply of windows, doors, glass, beltings, mill-supplies and carpenters' tools. J. R. Smith & Bro.

Don't forget me when you need rough or dressed lumber, moulding, balusters, mantles, etc. We do all kinds of repair work. L. L. Kittrell.

We are much in need of a modern hotel, a wholesale grocer or broker.

How much did Pitt county lose yesterday by not having court? If there were 516 witnesses summoned for no good they might have pulled 129 stacks of fodder, besides expense of transportation, dinner, etc.

DINED THE AUDIENCE.

And the Treat Proved a Fine Ad. For Liszt and Rubini.

An article in an Italian review contains an interesting story of Liszt and Rubini, the tenor. They were touring together and visited a town where, from the preliminaries which had been arranged, great things were expected. But they were disappointed, for when they entered the hall they found only fifty persons present.

Rubini was furious and said he would not sing, but Liszt calmed him. "You must sing," he said. "This small audience is evidently composed of musical connoisseurs of the town, so we should treat them with respect." Liszt set the example with a grand overture, and Rubini sang to perfection. Liszt gave another piece and then addressed the audience.

Liszt as an orator was as tactful as he had been in the role of pacificator. Addressing his audience of fifty, he said: "Ladies and gentlemen"—there was only one lady present—"I think that you have had enough music. Allow me to ask you to take a little supper with us." After a few seconds the invitation was accepted, and Liszt and Rubini entertained the audience to supper at their hotel, which cost them 1,200 francs.

When the guests separated the hosts thought the affair had been a joke, about which nothing more would be heard, but they decided to give their concert as advertised on the following night. To their astonishment the hall was packed. There was not standing room. The whole town had turned out on the off chance of an invitation to supper.

PATAGONIAN INDIANS.

Customs of the Remnants of a Once Powerful Tribe.

Normally the Tehuelches, as the Patagonian Indians are called, are a peaceable and kindly people, yet they are impulsive, capable of strong prejudices, very revengeful and—often with good reason—suspicious of strangers. They are not to be trifled with and when under the influence of drink are brutal and dangerous. They show love for their children and wives and kindness to their old people. They are divided into numerous tribes or groups, each having its chief or cacique, upon whom the burdens of government rest but lightly.

They believe in a good and an evil spirit, whom they propitiate, and have many stories, myths and superstitions connected with the sun, moon and stars, while the slaying of horses and drinking of blood form a conspicuous part of their superstitions, birth, marriage and death ceremonies, many of which are most repulsive.

When Magellan first passed through the strait there were perhaps no fewer than 10,000 Patagonians roaming from the Rio Negro to the strait, while today, driven back from the littoral to the high pampas and the foothills of the Andes, altogether they would probably not total over 500.—Harper's Magazine.

The Smallest Pension.

Great Britain's pension system is as liberal as may be considering the vast number of persons carried on both the military and the civil lists, but in one case the record for smallness of payment has undoubtedly been established. Various factors enter into determining the amount to be paid sailors, and these factors so combined against one old salt that it was found that he could draw a pension of not any more than fourpence—8 cents—a year. Promptly on each quarter day there comes an official communication transmitting the amount due in the form of postage stamps, and he is granted leave of absence in order that he may convert this into money at the post-office. Then, after the proverbial manner of sailors, he promptly proceeds to "blow" the entire amount.—New York Tribune.

Wordsworth's Sense of Smell.
Poets have not failed to do perfume justice, but one major poet—Wordsworth—went through life without a sense of smell and was not sorry for it. Nature, he told Aubrey de Vere, seemed to him all the more a vision. But once, and once only, did Wordsworth smell, and the prosaic occasion illustrates the unpolished household ways of his time. He sat down with his family to the midday dinner and began to carve a leg of mutton. The leg of mutton was stuffed with onions, and for once, and once only, the sense of smell was revealed to him. The onions, suddenly laid bare, conquered.—London Standard.

MR. EVANS REPLIES.

Editor Reflector:

Referring to your editorial in Monday's Reflector, I wish to state that I was present at two of your so-called meetings, which were in reality caucuses of the machine basis; and I must say, that what I saw and heard at those meetings was enough to disgust any man who loves free government and believes that the people should rule. The first meeting that I attended was a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of Greenville, on one Friday night, to which the citizens of the township were invited. Among other things that came before the chamber was the question of good roads, and a committee, composed of Mr. H. A. White, Dr. C. O'H. Laughinghouse, Mr. O. L. Joyner and others, were appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to draw up a good roads bill which was to be presented to a mass meeting of the citizens of the township for ratification. This mass meeting was called to meet on the following Monday night—a little more than forty-eight hours later.

I was present at this meeting and the bosses were so determined to carry out their purpose that they forgot that it was supposed to be a mass meeting of the citizens and the president of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. H. A. White, assumed the chairmanship of the meeting and Mr. J. B. James elected himself as secretary. This organization continued for some time, until the point was raised whether it was a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce or a mass meeting of the citizens of the township; then, Mr. E. G. Flanagan was elected chairman and you as secretary. The committee which had been appointed by the Chamber of Commerce made its report and the bill was read. As there were only forty or fifty citizens present, a motion was made that action on the bill be deferred until all the citizens of the township could be duly notified and have ample opportunity to be present and to be heard on the proposition. This motion met with much discussion and finally after a dominating talk by Mr. H. A. White, in which he asked every man who favored the bill not to leave the hall until some action was taken, the motion was killed by a close vote; and thus the aristocratic powers reigned supreme. So the bill was ratified by this mass meeting of the citizens at which fully 90 per cent. of the voters were conspicuously absent and had no voice in the matter whatever. This shows that you and your crowd were afraid of the people and it is well that you were, for they, in a mass meeting, held sometime after that denounced your acts; and enough of the citizens to constitute a majority of the voters signed a petition asking the legislature not to pass your bill. Yet, this bill was sneaked off to the legislature branded "Endorsed by the people," and lobbied through the legislature without ever giving the people a chance. Now, Mr. Editor, this may not be technically and literally "working behind closed doors," but it amounts to the same thing. No matter what terms you use to describe it, it certainly was not fair nor honest, and such acts and procedure should be as a stench in the nostrils of every honest, liberty-loving man.

As to who are trying to fool the people the evidence is overwhelmingly against you and your crowd. Why do you present such an absurd argument that $50,000 will build and maintain a system of permanent, hard-surfaced roads over every inch of road in Greenville township? Why not be honest with the people and ask for $200,000 or $250,000? You know that it will take that much or more. Why was that automatic clause permitting an election every 90 days put into the original bill? Why was a new registration required? You say that it is customary in such elections. Then, why is it customary? It certainly is not necessary, especially in as small a territory as Greenville township. If there was no scheme in that new registration clause, why do you so strenuously object to its being stricken out? There was some sinister purpose in it and I don't believe that you can give any just or reasonable explanation for it, your statement that "the attempt to fool the people is all on the part of those opposing the bill and championing sneak legislation," is very, very inconsistent, because those opposing the bill and sneak legislation are not the same people and are not in the same class. Please show me one instance where the opponents of this bill have stooped to sneak legislation? You claim that the Mooring Amendment was sneaked through, but what evidence have you that it was done by an opponent of the bill? You admit that you do not know who did it. Indeed, why should an opponent of this bill seek to destroy that little, innocent, harmless new registration clause? Mr. Editor, you ought to be the last man to cry out, "perfidy," "treachery" and "sneak legislation," in view of the fact that you and your special privilege crowd secured so much of that kind of legislation during the past session of the general assembly.

In your editorial you further state that there is no better plan for people to express themselves than at the ballot box. This is very true, but let me ask you this plain question, "What right has a few men to force an election upon the people against the expressed will of the majority of the people?" They have no natural or moral right to do it and when such things occur, it is the result of the exercise of usurped despotic powers. So much tyrannical and oppressive legislature that the people are not going to stand for it much longer. They are going to show their hand and some of your crowd will awake from their despotic slumbers wiser men. This is a free government and the people are going to rule.
