PRODUCTION AND CONSUMPTION

Have Their Influence On the Prices of Tobacco

COMPARISON OF RECENT CROPS

Mr. O. L. Joyner Gives Interesting Review of the Tobacco Situation, Showing Where Large Crops Have Caused Low Prices.

Editor Reflector:

In response to your request for an article on the tobacco situation, I do not recall that during my experience in the tobacco business for the last twenty years, a situation similar to the one confronting us at this time. Many changes have taken place in the tobacco trade since the Greenville market was established in 1891, and many and varying conditions have existed that affected the trade. My work and experience have led me to consider the tobacco question largely from the stand point of the tobacco farmer, not ignoring the while the rights and interests of others.

When first we began growing tobacco in Eastern North Carolina, the total production of tobacco in the state was only a little over fifty million pounds. During these years, the production of tobacco has increased and at times exceeded the consumption. This condition has invariably brought on low prices. A few and only a few times during these years, has the production been less or about equal to the consumption. This condition has invariably been accompanied by increased prices and active demand for tobacco. I have endeavored to induce the farmers to control the production along the line of consumption, and in this way be sure of profitable prices at all times, for I have never believed that any circumstances or combination of circumstances could very long force down and keep down the price of any product or commodity if there was a shortage of that product or commodity. Tobacco farmers remember a few years ago, when Eastern North Carolina alone produced over one hundred million pounds, how low the price was the succeeding year. They also remember that within two years time after the production of this bumper crop, the production in Eastern North Carolina fell to a little over forty million pounds. Why? Simply because the production was so far in excess of consumption the price of tobacco went so low as to force many of them to abandon its culture. When the production fell to about forty million, the price began going up until Eastern North Carolina again produced upwards of seventy million pounds. This was three years ago. The price was correspondingly low. Farmers were urged to reduce their acreage and they did it. Bad crop seasons and the strong determination on the part of the farmers to cut out at prevailing prices, still further reduced the production and in 1910 only about fifty million pounds were produced in this section.

It seems to have been the intention of the farmers this year to further decrease the acreage, but on account of scarcity of plants, only about 60 per cent. of last year's acreage was planted, and the prevailing and unbroken drought will doubtless still further reduce the production. The thoughtful farmers will have no difficulty in recalling without exception higher prices those years when small crops were made, and lower prices those years when large crops were made. During all this time, the consumption of tobacco has been gradually increasing. Of course, the crop has been gradually increasing.

In considering the conditions affecting the tobacco trade, we must look at the types of tobacco. Eastern North Carolina and South Carolina tobacco is classed by the government as one type. Central North Carolina and Virginia brights are classed as "Old Belt." What I have said pertains to the production of tobacco in Eastern North Carolina. But influences radically affecting any of the different types of tobacco, will likewise have some effect on the others. For instance, a heavy production of tobacco in the "Old Belt" will affect the selling price of our

FORMER BETHEL PHYSICIAN.

Sad Death of Doctor G. A. Thigpen.

BETHEL, N. C., Aug. 30.—The people of this community were deeply grieved to learn on Sunday evening of the death of Dr. G. F. Thigpen, formerly of this city.

A graduate of the medical school of the University of Maryland, Dr. Thigpen came to Bethel as a young man soon after receiving his degree, and located here for the practice of his profession. His bright and sunny disposition, his thoughtfulness and consideration for others, no less than his exceptional ability as a practitioner of medicine, soon won for him a host of friends and admirers.

Until February, when failing health necessitated his retirement, it was his pleasure to bring cheer and comfort to the sick and distressed, sacrificing himself, as was the measure of the man, to relieve the burdens of his fellows. A thorough Christian gentleman, a humanitarian in the strictest sense, and a physician of the old school, his untimely death is indeed a great loss to the community; and the heartfelt sympathy of his many friends go out to the members of the deceased's family in their hour of trial.

The funeral services were held this afternoon at the home of his father, Mr. Lafayette Thigpen, near Mildred, in Edgecombe county, after which the remains were interred in the family plot with the rites of the Woodmen of America.

Dr. Thigpen is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Beulah Sparks, of Baltimore; one son, Guy T. Jr.; his father, Mr. Lafayette Thigpen, and a large family of brothers and sisters.

ALABAMA G. O. P. MEETING.

Republicans to Discuss Plans for Next Convention.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 30.—The advance guard of delegates has arrived in Birmingham for the Republican state convention, which will meet tomorrow to select a new state committee and chairman to discuss preliminary plans for the next campaign. Harmony will be the keynote of the gathering. The differences which have split the party for a long time past and which for a time past threatened its total ruination appear to have been smoother over and it is believed the convention be a harmonious affair. The rivalry of the two opposing factions seeking control of the party probably will result in the selection of a compromise candidate for state chairman. The convention is expected to give a hearty indorsement to President Taft and his administration.

Eastern North Carolina tobacco. A small crop in the "Old Belt" would likewise have the effect of stimulating the selling price of our tobacco.

A recent government report shows the tobacco crop in the United States to be very short this year, something over three hundred million. Of course, no one can tell what the production will be, but in North Carolina and South Carolina we know it is an unusually short crop, and with these conditions, farmers this year should receive good prices for their product. It is a time for them to be cautious, and not to be too anxious to sell at what seems to be high prices. It is a time to move intelligently, not to be in too big a rush, but to go about the selling of this crop in a sane, sensible way, and if they properly grade and market their crop there is no doubt but what they will get satisfactory prices. This is a year when tobacco farmers should think for themselves and not be influenced to part with their tobacco in ways that have not been tried.

It is a good year for farmers to take a day off before they get ready to sell their tobacco, and examine the methods and systems of warehouses, and see for themselves, without the influence of paid drummers or warehousemen, where they can best market their tobacco to their own interest. Every warehouseman and every employee naturally is doing all he can for his particular warehouse. Intelligent farmers ought to be able to form their own conclusions as to the best place for them to sell their tobacco and have their interests thoroughly protected and looked after.

SELECT CUP DEFENDERS.

Speedy Motor Boats Cut Waters of Hunnington Bay.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Nine speedy motor boats cut the waters of Hunnington Bay today in the first of the trial races to select three boats to defend the British International Trophy. The elimination contest will continue three days and are to be conducted over the same course on which the races between the American defenders and the British challengers will take place next week. The nine boats entered in the elimination trials range in length from 20 to 39 feet and with one exception all are entered from the Motor Boat Club of America.

Big Wreck—No Lives Lost.

GREENVILLE, S. C., Aug. 29.—A Sunday school excursion train leaving Charlotte this morning over the Charlotte-Atlanta division of the Southern railway, bound for Johnson City, Tenn., was wrecked four miles south of King's Mountain at 9:40 o'clock, derailing the tender, one baggage car and five coaches and injuring twenty-two of the 175 passengers.

None of the injured passengers was seriously hurt. With a few exceptions, the most of them were residents of Charlotte.

Booze Couldn't Swim.

ELIZABETH CITY, Aug. 29.—Attempting to take a dip in the Pasquotank river in an unfit condition and against the advice of companions, John Warren, a well known negro butcher, was drowned yesterday afternoon on Arbutuse Hill, near the country place of W. H. Cropsey. Warren and several of his boon companions were said to have been shooting crap and drinking on board a small sailing vessel on the Pasquotank river. They finally decided to do a little bathing and Warren, although nearly full of booze, could not think of letting his friends get ahead of him. He dived down into the water and never came up. His companions being also a little "enthused" and shaky did not care to do any heroic stunts and the negro went to a watery grave without any effort, so far as is known, being made to save him. His body has not yet been recovered.

BRITISH SCIENTISTS WILL MEET

FOR ADVANCEMENT OF SCIENCE.

Several Hundred Scientists Filled the Hall for the Opening Session.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The British Association for the Advancement of Science, which has had a successful career for eighty years, during which time it has accomplished notable results in furthering scientific inquiry and in promoting the intercourse of those who cultivate science in different parts of the British empire, opened its annual meeting today at Portsmouth.

Several hundred scientists of international reputation filled the Portsmouth town hall for the opening session. Sir William Ramsay, the world-famous chemist, inaugurated himself into the presidency, vice the Rev. Prof. T. G. Bonney, who resigned, after which he delivered the presidential address.

In his address Sir William Ramsay sounded as his leading note the increasing need of scientific training with a view to future as well as to present-day requirements. He passed under review modern conceptions of the nature and constitution of the elements, especially radium and its products, and proceeded to consider the available sources of energy in Great Britain and whether a reasonably economic use is being made of them. Having come to the conclusion that the present-day methods are wasteful, seriously limiting the period of British national existence, he advocated an immediate stocktaking of the nation's possessions of potential energy as the first step towards their judicious conservation.

The sessions at Portsmouth will continue an entire week. It is considered improbable that the meeting will bring forth any such surprises as the announcement of the discovery of argon at the Oxford meeting in 1895, but here is abundant material in the papers announced to insure an interesting meeting.

TOBACCO MARKET WILL OPEN FRIDAY

Everything in Readiness for the Season

STAR WAREHOUSE HAS FIRST SALE

The Market Will Have A Strong Corps of Buyers—Working Forces of the Warehouses—Greenville Will Lead The Eastern Markets.

The tobacco warehouse row in Greenville is a busy place just now with the final preparations for the opening of the market which takes place on Friday, September first.

The opening of the tobacco market season is always hailed with delight, for it means employment to more people, more money in circulation among the farmers and more trade for the business people. Following as it does the dull summer months, everything takes on new life and everybody gets busy when the tobacco market opens.

The warehousemen of Greenville were never in better shape to handle a crop than they are for the coming season, and they are determined to make Greenville hold its place as the leader of the Eastern markets. The market this season being some weeks later in opening than formerly has given the farmers more time to get their crops cured and ready for market, hence it is expected that sales will be brisk almost from the outset. The crop this year is a very short one, and that may mean a short season. If prices are good at the opening (and they ought to be good for the entire crop) the farmers will no doubt sell freely early in the season, but if prices are not satisfactory there will likely be a holding back until they get better. Surely the buyers should appreciate the shortness of the crop and pay for it all that it is worth.

One warehouse here, the Peoples, having been destroyed by fire since last season, only four warehouses will be operated on the Greenville market this season, but they have ample room to handle all the tobacco that can come here. The four houses are Star, Centre Brick, Gum and Liberty, all well known to the planters who sell on this market. The opening sale will take place Friday at the Star, and then proceed at the other 'houses in the order named above. Manager Foxhall, of the Star, says that as it is up to him to make the opening prices with the first sale, he is going to set a high pace that the others must hustle to approach.

While we are not yet able to give a list of the buyers on the Greenville market for this season, as all of them have not come, it is safe to say no market will have a stronger corps and they will be here for business with ample facilities for taking care of all their purchases.

The working forces of the several warehouses will be as follows:

Star Warehouse.
Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Company, proprietors.
F. D. Foxhall, manager.
N. D. Young, assistant manager.
G. H. Baker, auctioneer.
E. A. Brown, floor manager.
H. S. Ragsdale, bookkeeper.
G. R. Lanier, assistant bookkeeper.

Centre Brick Warehouse.
Brinkley, Rice & Spain, proprietors.
W. L. Rice, auctioneer.
D. S. Spain, bookkeeper.
G. E. Harris, assistant bookkeeper.
John Hutchings, floor manager.
Miss Jessie Stille, stenographer.
Mrs. W. L. Rice, cashier.

Gum Warehouse.
Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Company, proprietors.
J. J. Gentry, manager.
J. B. Frizzelle, assistant manager.

B. T. Cannon, auctioneer.
J. L. Gibson, floor manager.
L. H. Bowling, bookkeeper.
H. N. Beasley, assistant bookkeeper.

Liberty Warehouse.

SUIT FOR LESS THAN PENNY.

Man Ejected Because Couldn't Get Six Tickets for Quarter.

WILMINGTON, Aug. 29.—Mr. F. Herbst, a well-known citizen, today brought suit against the Tidewater Power Co., through his attorney, Wm. Bellamy, Esq., for damages, actual and punitive, for ejecting him from a suburban car at Carolina Yacht Club, Wrightsville Beach, Sunday afternoon, because he declined to pay five cents to cross the trestle when he wanted 25 cents' worth of tickets, six in number one of which would have been sufficient to convey him across the sound. He contends that the conductor claimed that there was no ticket seller on the car until after it passed Wrightsville and that he could not even wait until the ticket seller boarded the car to ring up the fare, therefore it was pay five cents or get off. The conductor held a conversation with Mr. A. B. Skelding, general manager, who was on the front of the car, and returned and said that Mr. Skelding said he would have to get off or pay the cash fare.

The conductor held a second talk with Mr. Skelding and then forcibly ejected Mr. Herbst from the car, it is claimed.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., August 30.—At the annual convention here next week of the United National Association of Postoffice Clerks and strenuous effort will be made to defeat the re-election of President Frank T. Rogers and other of the present national officers on the ground that they have been inactive and inefficient in promoting legislation desired by the membership.

WELDON.—Judge Justice disposed of the Dickins case in Halifax Superior court by imposing a fine of two hundred dollars and three-fourths of the costs on former Chief of Police S. M. Dickens and fifty dollars fine and one-fourth of the cost on Lonnie Dickins, found guilty of assault with deadly weapon upon George Jones March 25th. The fines, costs and lawyers' fees the brothers had to pay was over twelve hundred dollars.

H. F. Starr, of Salisbury, was awarded $2,800 damages against the Bell Telephone Company in Guilford Superior court last week. When Starr lived in Greensboro lightning ran into his home over a telephone wire, which he claimed he had ordered removed, and Starr was injured. He sued for 20,000. The first trial of the case resulted in a verdict against the company but the Supreme court ordered a new trial.

The well diggers who took out a wall to make the well deeper near the depot have struck a bed of blood red clay that has no signs of grit in it at a depth of 40 feet and no signs of water. This freak of nature is a great curiosity to all who have seen it, as all the surrounding country is rocks and sandy land. It might be very valuable and ought to be taken good care of until we see what it is. It might be the finest point in the world or something better.—Salisbury Post.

market are ready for you, and when you want the best prices to be had anywhere for your tobacco, you only have to bring it to the Greenville market. Not only the warehousemen and buyers will make it agreeable for you, but the business people generally of the town will give you a cordial welcome. The banks have ample money to cash your checks, and the merchants are ready to extend you every courtesy. In the meantime keep your eye on the The Reflector, for this paper is going to visit hundreds of you every day, and it will keep you posted on what the Greenville market is doing.

Cotton Crop Short.

CHARLOTTE.—Perhaps the most versatile and learned of local cotton men has been over the country within the past few days and brings back the estimate that the cotton crop will be short at least 10,000 bales, which is an alarming curtailment. Figuring on a basis of the price of last year's crop at $70 a bale, this means a decrease in the revenue to the farmers this fall of $700,000 in this one crop alone.

GREAT ANNUAL SNEEZE-FEST OPENS

SCORE OF STATES REPRESENTED.

Annual Meeting of the United States Hay Fever Association.

BETHLEHEM, N. H., Aug. 30.—Sneezers, for whom sneezing is a common interest, rounded up in this famous White Mountains resort today for the annual meeting of the United States Hay Fever Association, which derives its name from the fact that all its members in June, July and August and as much longer as they are afflicted with hay fever outside of the regular hay-fever season.

Hay fever is not a pleasant disease, and it makes its victims suffer and destroys their good temper. But it is by far the best organized disease in America. So far as is known the jaundice sufferers have never held a convention, and no one has ever called a convention of those afflicted with ingrowing toe-nails. But for many years the hay fever victims have gathered here each summer to discuss their common troubles. Every member of the association pays annual dues of fifty cents, and this payment entitles him to receive all of the many pamphlets and other forms of literature that are issued each year on this disease and methods for procuring relief.

Rev. Clayton E. Delamater, of West Bridgewater, Mass., occupied the chair at the opening of the convention today. More than a score of states were represented in the attendance. The initial session was given over to a symposium discussion in which veteran sneezers and physicians told their associate sufferers of all the new discoveries in the line of remedies and preventions. Tomorrow the members of less experiences will be given an opportunity to tell what they have learned about the ailment.

It was the editor's pleasure a few days ago to visit "Ingeltarre," Mr. O. L. Joyner's model farm a few miles west of town. His fields of fine tobacco, corn and cotton, the large pastures with a hundred head of sheep, fifty head of thoroughbred cattle, and scores and scores of fine hogs, were a scene worth looking at. Mr. Joyner is as good a farmer as he is a tobaccoist, and in both he has few equals. Whatever he does is done well. He will not forget to make some exhibits at the Pitt county fair.

Don't Be Too Optimistic.
Do not, overdo the matter of being optimistic. It is all very well to hope that things will turn out all right, but do not settle down on that comfortable conclusion unless you have done your best to turn them. Do not fancy that some kindly power is going to counteract the effects of your short-sightedness or idleness, without any help on your part. There are people who call themselves optimistic who seem to think themselves the chosen favorites of the goddess of chance. They boast that their "luck" will bring them out on top every time. This foolish superstition would not be so serious a matter if it did not lead these people to trust to something beside hard work and careful foresight.—Young People's Weekly.

Origin of the Cakewalk.
The origin of the cakewalk has been discovered, not as might be supposed, in the jungles of Africa, but on an island in the Pacific ocean. And the original cakewalkers are not humans, or semi-humans, but birds. At all events that is the report of a Chicago ornithologist, who has returned from an island in the Pacific which is inhabited by no creatures except sea birds. He saw groups of these birds dancing the cakewalk, with bills close together, and ducking their heads now under one wing, and now under the other.

Id Like To Go.

It seems to me I'd like to go
Where bells don't ring, or whistles blow.
Nor clocks don't strike, nor gongs
don't sound,
And I'd have stillness all around—

Not real stillness, but the trees,
Low whispering, or the hum of bees,
Or brooks, faint babbling over stones
In strangely, softly, tangled tones;

Or maybe the cricket or kitydid,
Or the songs of birds in the hedges hid,

Or just some sweet sound as these
To fill a tired heart with ease

If 'tweren't for sight and sound and smell,

I'd like the city pretty well;
But when it comes to getting rest,
I like the country lots the best.

Sometimes it seems to me I must
Just quit the city's dim and dust
And get out where the sky is blue—
And, say, now, how does it seem to you?

Ernest Rutherford.

Prof. Ernest Rutherford, a noted British scientist and educator who a short time ago was awarded the "Elliott Cresson" medal by the Franklin Institute of Philadelphia, was born in Nelson, New Zealand, August 30, 1871. His education was received principally at the New Zealand University and at Cambridge University England. In 1898 he was appointed McDonald Professor Physics at McGill University, Montreal, which position he filled for about ten years. At present he holds the professorship of physics in Victoria University, Manchester, England. Professor Rutherford is noted especially for his work in the advancement of the knowledge of electrical theory. He is the author of numerous papers on the subject of radioactivity. In 1903 his researches and writings dealing with the various branches of physical science were recognized by his election as a Fellow of the Royal Society.

To The Good People of Greenville

The report having been circulated in Greenville that I am a mulatto and that I have taken a negro in co-partnership with me, I take this method of telling the citizens it is all untrue and ask a continuance of their patronage. I am a full blooded German-Jew. Both of my parents are Hebrews, now living in Germany. I can prove my birth. As for taking a negro in co-partnership with me, I have done nothing of the kind. White labor from the north being too high to bring here for my patronage, and, as I had to have some help, I simply hired a negro to work for me on piece work basis. This is nothing more than a great many other people do and I am sorry to be so criticized and misrepresented.

Thanking you for the liberal patronage that you have given me, and asking a continuance of same, I am,
9 2 I. ORNOFF, German-Jew.

THE HAPPENINGS AROUND WINTERVILLE

SCHOOL HAS LAGE ATTENDANCE.

Business Men Active In Pushing Their Wares.

Remember that Harrington, Barber & Company can furnish you with any kind of sewing machine needles.

Mr. E. A. Brown, of Greenville, was in town Saturday, much to his pleasures.

For the next 10 days we will sell $2 umbrellas for $1.75, and $1.50 for $1.14, and $1 for 87c. See A. W. Ange & Company before the time expires.

There will be services at the Episcopal church Sunday at 3:30 o'clock by Rev. W. J. Fulford. Everybody invited.

Miss Hulda Cox returned home Tuesday from a stay at Seven Springs. Harrington, Barber & Company have a large lot of sewing machines, bands and shuttles.

Rev. R. C. Carroway filled his regular appointment at the M. E. church Sunday morning and night, and after the morning service baptised and received one member in the church.

A. W. Ange & Company can supply you with duck at 10c per yard. Now is the time to make cotton sheets.

Mr. C. T. Cox and Miss Esther Johnson attended church at Rountrees Sunday. They reported an excellent sermon and a pleasant time. Get the celebrated needle threader at Harrington, Barber & Co.'s. You can thread a needle in the dark as well as in the light.

Mr. Harvey A. Cox, of Winston-Salem, is spending a few days with his mother, Mrs. E. E. Cox, this week.

Mr. A. W. Ange left yesterday for Martin county.

If you fail to get one of those cheap hats at Harrington, Barber & Co.'s, you will certainly miss a bargain.

Several of our young people attended the Todd show at Ayden Monday and Tuesday nights. They report it a fine and clean show.

Winterville High School opened Monday with the largest enrollment in its history. About 130 students are enrolled up to today. Others are coming on every train. Quite a number are expected next week.

Mrs. M. L. Barber returned Saturday evening after a several weeks' visit with friends around Henderson. She was accompanied by Mrs. Addie Barnes and son, Goode, who will spend a short time with her.

Mr. E. White, of Colerain, one of the leading farmers of Bertie county, brought two of his sons here and put them in school. He left Tuesday morning for Raleigh to attend the farmers' convention.

HOLD YOUR COTTON.

Barrett Says Figure The Difference Between 8 Cents and 14 Cents.

UNION CITY, Ga., Aug. 29.—National President Barrett, of the Farmers' Union, today made his first official expression regarding the attitude of that big organization in the battle that is coming this fall to maintain the price of cotton at a proper level.

"The Farmers Union," says President Barrett, "issues an invitation to the entire South to co-operate with it in saving to this section many million dollars on the cotton crop of 1911-12. It is for the merchant, the business man, the banker, the smallest citizen, no less than the farmer, to figure the difference between eight or nine-cent cotton and thirteen or fourteen-cent cotton. The fight we are going to win is not alone in behalf of the farmer; it is waged in the interest of the Southern business world as a whole. To that degree it is not only the duty but the individual profit of every element in the Southern States to join hands with the Farmers Union, to the end that the powerful machinery of this organization may be brought to bear with complete success upon the present situation."

GERMAN NAVAL REVIEW.

Brought Together For Review Before The Kaiser.

BERLIN, Aug. 30.—Seldom before in the history of the German empire has such a powerful fleet been brought together for review by the Kaiser as was assembled at Swinemunde today. Dressed from stem to stern in flags and bunting, the great armada of warships stretching across the broad channel at the mouth of the Oder, made a magnificent spectacle. In his review of the great naval fleet the Kaiser was accompanied by a number of foreign royalties.

Scandinavian-American Brotherhood.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 30.—The grand lodge meeting of the Scandinavian-American Brotherhood began here today with an attendance of delegates representing local lodges of the order in Colorado, Idaho, Washington, Oregon and British Columbia. Judge J. M. Arnston, of Tacoma, is presiding over the sessions, which will last three days. A proposal to consolidate with the Scandinavian Brotherhood of the east is one of the principal matters to receive attention. The creation of a supreme lodge, with grand lodges to have charge of the various jurisdictions, also will be considered.

An Afflicted Family.

The family of Mr. Eli Powell, of Carolina, is sorely afflicted with typhoid. He has lost two daughters, Misses May and Crissie, in the last ten days and two others are seriously ill with the fever.

That's What They Say.

That the John L. Wooten Drug Company have the busiest drug store in town. Read their advertisement in this paper and you will learn that there is a reason for it.

The Recent Hail.

Mr. F. F. Carr, of Willow Green, in Greene county, spent today here. He said the severe hail in his section Sunday before last did not do as together as much damage as was first feared. Some of his neighbors, however, were heavy sufferers.

Escaped With His Life.

"Twenty-one years ago I faced an awful death," writes H. B. Martin, Port Harrelson, S. C. "Doctors said I had consumption and the dreadful cough I had looked like it, sure enough. I tried everything I could hear of for my cough, and was under the treatment of the best doctor in Georgetown, S. C., for a year, but could get no relief. A friend advised me to try Dr. King's New Discovery. I did so, and was completely cured. I feel that I owe my life to this great throat and lung cure." Its positively guaranteed for coughs, colds, and all bronchial affections. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at all druggists.

A WORD TO SUBSCRIBERS.

For two or three months The Reflector has had nothing to say to subscribers about paying for their paper. We know it was the dulllest time of the year when people had but little money, and we, like the rest, have been toughing it out as best we could. Now September will soon be here, the tobacco market will be open and cotton will be coming in, so the people ought to soon have some money. We hope they will look at the date after their name on the paper, and all who are in arrears, are urged to pay just as soon as they can. We have some large bills to meet during September and cannot do this unless you pay us. Do not wait for a statement to be sent, as the date on the paper shows how much each subscriber owes. We hope every one will respond promptly to this request.

Pal Moor and Tommy Hurphy Again.
NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—At the National sporting club tomorrow night Pal Moore the little Britisher, and Tommy Hurphy of this city are to mix it up for ten rounds in another effort to settle the question of relative supremacy. In their last bout several months ago Murphy had decidedly the better of it, but Moore believes that with another chance he can show himself to be at least the equal of the Harlem boy.

IMPORTANT COTTON NOTICE.

To All Cotton Buyers, Farmers and Ginner.

NORFOLK AND PORTSMOUTH COTTON EXCHANGE.

Norfolk, Va., July 19, 1911.—This exchange views with alarm the abuses that have grown up in preparing cotton for market and deem it our duty to protest against these abuses, to state what they are, and how they can be corrected.

The troubles have appeared in the last few years and have grown each year. The loss which primarily is paid by the ginner and producer of cotton, incidentally reaches the mill agents, exporters and mills. The abuses are these: First, the excessive use of bagging; second, weight of bagging used; and third, the weight of the bales.

Regarding the excessive use of bagging, each bale should be covered on the upper and lower sides, in the press box, and on the heads, and no more. The quality of covering considered sufficient to cover a bale is 22 pounds, which includes bagging and bands, and any excess over this will be deducted.

Second: As to the weight of the bagging used, it was only a few years ago when the bagging weighed 2-4 pounds, 2 pounds and 2 1-4 pounds to the yard, the heaviest being 2-4 pounds; now we hear of bagging weighing 3 and 4 pounds per yard. This is selling bagging and not cotton. We would strongly protest against anything heavier than 2-4 pounds, and in case where the bagging exceeds 2-4 pounds we advise the ginner that just claims and deductions will be made against such excessive weight.

Third: The weight bales have become more in evidence as the heavy weight bagging has increased. While there are rules against bales of cotton under 400 pounds, and as all sales made both for domestic and foreign shipment are required to weigh an average of 500 pounds per bale, it is urged that shipments destined to Norfolk shall average in weight as near 500 pounds per bale as possible, because on bales weighing 400 pounds or under a deduction may be made.

These suggestions are made purely with a view of saving the producer and ginner of cotton from further loss by correcting these bales. NORFOLK AND PORTSMOUTH COTTON EXCHANGE.

Greenville, N. C., Aug. 26, 1911.—In co-operation with the late ruling of the cotton exchanges, regarding the excessive use of bagging, and light weight bales, we the undersigned as representative buyers for the mill and export trade, in this section, hereby agree to make proper deduction for any excess in weight over 22 pounds per bale, for the covering of cotton including bagging and ties and dock $1 per bale for any bale weighing under 400 pounds.

Six yards of bagging is all that is required to wrap a bale, and no bagging weighing over 2 1-2 pounds per yard will be accepted without proper deduction for excess weight, and every bale of cotton should weigh as near 500 pounds as possible.
