OHIO TRIES OUT NEW ELECTION LAW

KIMBALL ACT GIVEN TEST TODAY

Believe it Will be a Revolution in Methods of Practical Politics.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 5.—The Kimball corrupt practices act enacted by the last session of the Ohio legislature was given its first practical test in the primaries held throughout the state today. The law in all its provisions applies to the primaries as well as to the regular elections. The results of its operation are awaited with keen interest, particularly in Cincinnati, Toledo, Columbus and other large cities where it was tried out today.

The advocates of the Kimball act believe that it will work a revolution in the methods of practical politics. The measure is designed to bring practically every movement of every political party and candidate into the daylight of publicity. The publicity feature is attained by the provisions of the law which compel the filing within ten days after any election, of statements showing the precise amount of money spent by every candidate, party committee, or association or organization of two or more persons, interested in the election, and showing in addition how every dollar was spent. Primary elections are included, and the law makes the filing of such statements absolutely compulsory. The law requires, furthermore, that the statements must include not only the amount of money spent, but the amount "promised" or "received."

The new law also places a strict limit upon the amount of money any candidate can spend for his nomination. The amount allowed is to be in proportion to the population of the territory in which the candidate seeks nomination or election. In addition the law specifies all things that are to be regarded as legitimate campaign expenses, such as advertising, traveling expenses, expenses of halls and speakers, offices and headquarters the preparation of lists and voters, etc.

The penalties for the violation of the provisions of the law, are severe. For a candidate it means forfeiture of office, in addition to the fine of imprisonment. The fine is to be from $100 to $500 and the imprisonment not to exceed six months.

Employers who seek in any way to influence or control the votes of those in their employ are made amenable to the law. An employer who threatened even verbally or indirectly that the election of any particular candidate or ticket would result in a partial suspension of business or a cut in wages, might, under the provisions of the law, be sent to prison for six months.

The Kimball law, which is pronounced by experts to be the most drastic "corrupt practices" act in force in any of the states, is the result of the revelations of vote-buying in Adams county, this state, where hundreds of voters were disfranchised a year ago by Judge A. Z. Blair. The measure was introduced in the legislature by the representative from Adams county, Mr. Kimball.

Card From F. D. Foxhall.

On Wednesday, Sept. 6th, I will have the second sale and on Thursday, Sept. 7, the first sale. I am going to make a special effort and show the farmers who have tobacco on my warehouse floor that the Star is the place to sell if you want the most for your tobacco. If you have not seen or heard my new auctioneer, you have missed a treat, for he is one of the best in the state. Everybody knows my past record, and that I lead in high prices is a matter of general knowledge. This has been my record in the past and will be my record in the future. Bring me your next load and let me demonstrate. See sales elsewhere in this paper.

IS TOBACCO A PROFITABLE CROP?

Past And Present Cost Of Producing It.

Tobacco farming, present and future, is probably engaging the attention of the farmers of Eastern North Carolina more just at this time than ever before. The all-important and perplexing question of labor is one that must be solved by each individual farmer, and those of us who have had experience, hesitate before going too fast in the preparation of land without adequate labor supply, especially the preparation for a tobacco crop. The farmers of this section who have grown tobacco continuously for the past several years have expressed themselves very freely during the last few months, and many of them seem to be growing tired of tobacco culture unless greater inducements in the way of high prices are offered them for the crop.

The high price of cotton and its comparative easy culture, requiring less skilled labor and less attention, will largely take the place of tobacco culture in this section, unless the farmers get what they consider profitable prices for their tobacco. There has been more concern expressed about the question this year than ever before. Ten years ago, a crop of tobacco could be made an average of at least 3 per cent. per pound cheaper than it can now. Ten years ago, mules were fifty per cent. cheaper than they are now, and labor thirty per cent. cheaper and fifty per cent. better than it is today and fertilizer thirty per cent. higher.

I have kept some books on the cost of growing tobacco, and while in my particular case, it may cost me more money to make a crop of tobacco than it does the average farmer, yet I am constrained to believe that the majority of farmers in Eastern North Carolina will agree that my figures are not far from correct. Ten years ago an average crop of tobacco could be made and marketed for an average cost of fifty-five to sixty dollars per acre. My experience last year and this has been that it will cost from seventy-five to ninety dollars per acre, depending largely upon local labor conditions.

NEGRO ATTACKS MAN AND WIFE.

Fractures Husband's Skull, Then Attacks Wife but is Frightened Away.

LUMBERTON.—An unknown negro entered the home of Mr. Gray Tolar Saturday night, shortly after 12 o'clock and struck him unconscious with a plow-bar while he was sleeping and then attempted to criminally assault his wife, who was sleeping in another bed in the same room. Mr. Tolar was brought to the Thompson hospital here yesterday and his skull was found to be badly fractured and he is not expected to live.

When the negro first entered the home he assaulted its owner and then attempted to assault Mrs. Tolar. She could feel his kinky hair on her face as he attempted to choke her. By some means she got his fingers off her throat and by screaming scared the brute away before he could accomplish his purpose. Mrs. Tolar went over to her husband's bed and found him lying in a pool of his own blood. She grabbed up her two children and, with them in her arms, ran a half-mile to summon the assistance of her neighbors.

Rocky Mount has suffered two fires the past week, the first was the residence of Mr. H. B. Duke, on Battle street and owned by Mrs. W. M. King, of Greenville. Mr. Duke lost most all of his furniture and wearing apparel with no insurance while the building is only a partial loss, probably covered by insurance.—Spring Hope Leader.

LUMBERTON.—An unknown negro entered the home of Mr. Gray Tolar last night, shortly after 12 o'clock, struck him unconscious with a plow-bar while he was sleeping and then attempted to criminally assault his wife, who was sleeping in another bed in the same room. He has extensive sawmill interests and was living in a house near one of his mills.

SALISBURY.—Mrs. Janie Noel will spend the next five years in the penitentiary if Judge Daniels' sentence passed this morning is not upset by a higher court. The passing of this sentence by Judge Daniels marks the end of a hard fought legal battle, both sides in the now famous "white slave" case removed to this county from Davidson having contested every inch of ground. Charles A. Noel, husband of the woman convicted yesterday and sentenced today, drew 15 years for the same offense in Davidson Superior court two weeks ago.

ASHEBORO.—Over three thousand people were present at the unveiling of the Confederate monument. Col. A. C. McAllister was chosen by the Daughters of the Confederacy as master of ceremonies. He introduced Col. James T. Morehead, of Greensboro, who, in a brief speech, commended the efforts of the Daughters and paid a glowing tribute to the veterans present, who were his comrades and patriots and not rebels. Colonel Morehead made a good speech, introducing Chief Justice Walter Clark

FARMERS' UNION IN SESSION

MEMBERSHIP OF OVER 2,000,000.

The Largest, Most Influential Organization of Its Kind.

SHAWNEE, Okla., Sept. 5.—A national convention for farmers unparalleled, probably in importance, undoubtedly in attendance, in the history of America, assembled in Shawnee today for a three days' session. The occasion is the annual convention of the National Farmers' Union, the largest, most influential and most successful organization of its kind that ever existed in this country, not excepting the Farmers' Alliance, which made itself felt in national politics several decades ago.

The present convention is attended by delegates representing a membership of over 2,000,000, scattered over more than half the United States of the Union. While the South and the West are the best represented numerically there is abundant evidence to show that the organization is steadily making headway among the farmers of other sections of the country.

The National Farmers' Union, though not primarily a political organization, has never hesitated to make its influence felt in national or state politics where the interests of the farmers were believed to be at stake. Consequently, and in view of the approaching presidential and congressional elections, the discussions and addresses of the three days' sessions will be watched carefully by the politicians.

The proposed reciprocity agreement with Canada will naturally receive attention from the convention, as will also such subjects of general interest as parcels post, the restriction of foreign immigration, and the abolition of gambling in farm products. Much attention will be given also to plans for increasing the membership and influence of the organization.

Army In Need of Officers.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 5.—To fill the unusually large number of vacancies in the ranks of the minor officers of the army the War Department conducted examinations of candidates today at the larger military posts throughout the country. Of late years much difficulty has been experienced in securing a sufficient number of desirable applicants, as a result of which the department decided to let down the bars and admit to the examination any capable young man between the age of 21 and 27 years. The successful candidates will receive appointments as second lieutenants in the army, paying from $1800 to $2000 annually at the start. Some of the successful ones will be appointed to the engineers corps of the army, which heretofore has always been made up of the cream of West Point graduates.

University Hospital Dedicated.

MINEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 5.—The Elliott Memorial hospital, a gift to the University of Minnesota from Dr. and Mrs. A. F. Elliott, of Minneapolis, was formally dedicated today with interesting exercises held on the university campus. President Vincent of the university and the heads of the college of medicine and surgery were among the speakers.

Just as it was about 120 feet from a short trestle Potts suddenly jumped in front of the train and attempted to beat it across the trestle. He was caught almost as he reached the end of the trestle.

BREVARD.—George Potts, about 20 years of age, a negro field hand on the farm of Jeff Wilson, of the county, was struck about 12:30 o'clock today by a Southern work train and instantly killed. The boy was brought to Brevard and is being held pending receipt of advice from his relatives. The man

NEW GAIEY THEATRE.

Opens In Its New Quarters Monday Night.

The Gaiey Theatre, under the management of Messrs. Sparrow and Squires, of Washington, gave the first entertainment in its new quarters in the Edwards building Monday night, and Greenville people showed their appreciation of the new play house by attending in large numbers. More than seven hundred witnessed the three programs. The pictures were splendid, and the entertainment was made more enjoyable with music by the Forbes' orchestra, of Washington, that came up for the opening.

The hall occupies the entire upper floor of the new Edwards office building just north of the court house. The entrance is midway the building on Evans street, the ticket booth being at the head of the stairs. Immediately behind the ticket booth is the entrance to the main aisle of the hall, and there are two other entrances at the side aisles, making entrance and exit easy without crowding. The hall has twenty-five windows, making it very comfortable and the inclined floor is seated with folding opera chairs. It is a well equipped hall for entertainments.

To Be Followed By A Church Conference.

Following the lecture the regular monthly conference of the church will be held, and as some matters of importance to the church are to be considered, the members of the church should all be at this conference.

Hookerton Firm Bankrupt.

The firm of Moore and Beaman in Hookerton has gone into bankruptcy. This firm suffered in the recent fire. They carried insurance which was supposed to cover the loss, but owing to improper wording of the policy the insurance company has refused to settle. They have offered to compromise a $1,500 policy for $250. This settlement has been declined and a suit will doubtless result.—Snow Hill Laconic.

Winfree, who was under arrest for drunkenness, struck his shoulder and set fire to a celluloid collar he was wearing. Instead of calling for help Winfree attempted to put out the flames, and did not succeed in doing so until his shirt had been burnt from his back. He received severe burns about the arms, breast and neck. Medical attention was rendered by Dr. Watts, of the city ambulance.

A Unique Punishment. Col. Jim Fulford of this city is not only a Farmers' Union live wire but he has recently introduced a new mode of punishment for offenders and the story runs thusly: On last Sunday afternoon he drove out to his farm and as he came down through the corn he discovered at least ten stone cutters, hailing from all sections of the globe, enjoying themselves in his watermelon patch. He quietly slipped to the house, procured a gun and they say that the charge at San Juan was quiet compared with the noise he made. The raiding party were taken by surprise and three sons of Italy were too frightened to follow their companions into the river and the Colonel made a complete capture of them. He marched the captives back to the melon patch where he required each to eat a fifty-pounds melon and one dago remarked "me gotta nough," the Colonel placidly remarked that it was eat or go to jail. Colonel Jim enjoyed the joke, the dagoes got enough watermelon and owing to his goodness of heart the big quarry was enabled to resume business Monday morning.—Mount Airy Leader.

Negro Boy Made Big Haul. Marvin Clark, colored, 12 or 13 years old, early Saturday morning stole between $140 and $150 from the store of Mr. John A. White, east of the depot. The little negro watched for a chance when the clerk's eyes were turned and he cleaned out the money drawer—$30 in currency, $60 odd dollars in silver and several checks—and jumped out the back door. He was discovered too late to catch him, but it was later learned who he was and Policeman Kerr and Deputy Sheriff Ward caught him. The boy piloted the officers to where he had hid the checks under the house, and to where he had thrown the bag of silver in a gully. He kept the currency in his pocket and had it there when arrested.—Statesville Landmark.

THIS LADY'S GOOD APPETITE

Mrs. Hansen, in a Letter From Mobile, Tells How She Gained It.

Mobile, Ala.—"I suffered for seven years, with womanly trouble," writes Mrs. Sigurd Hansen in a letter from this city. "I felt weak and always had a headache and was always going to the doctor. At last I was operated on, and felt better, but soon I had the same trouble.

My husband asked me to try Cardui, I felt better after the first bottle, and now, I have a good appetite and sleep well. I feel fine, and the doctor tells me I am looking better than he ever saw me."

If you are sick and miserable, and suffer from any of the pains due to womanly trouble—try Cardui. Cardui is successful because it is composed of ingredients that have been found to act curatively on the womanly constitution.

For more than fifty years, it has been used by women of all ages, with great success. Try it. Your druggist sells it.

Good Roads Lead to Improvement.

What is drearier, what more depressing than to drive along a country road deep with mud and furrowed by ruts, the water standing in pools in the road and where ditches ought to be? Good roads will lead to the general improvement of the countryside. The farmer who drives to and from town over a spacious, smooth, well-cared-for road will unconsciously come to effect corresponding improvements in the management and operation of the farm.—Fayetteville Index.

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

THE SHILOH PASSES.

First Boat To Make The Trip Down The River in Months.

Yesterday about sunset, the whistle of a boat up the river was heard. It was blowing for the draw of the Greenville bridge to open for it to pass. It was the steamer Shiloh that had been enjoying a quiet berth at Tarboro for three months or more. The recent rains have caused a good little rise in the river and the whistle of the Shiloh sounded as of much gladness.

Mule And Auto.

Yesterday a mule hitched to a wagon near Dr. Laughinghouse's office, took exception to the passing of an automobile. The result was some damage to the wagon and a mule in twisted harness, helplessly inverted upon the street. The assistance of the owner with other help finally got the mule up and aright, little the worse for the mishap.

Raleigh In 1860.

That clipping about Raleigh's population in 1858 being so disappointing led this writer to make a little census investigation for 1860.

That census gave Raleigh a population of 4,780; Wake county, 28,627. Greenville's population was only 828; Pitt county, 16,080.

There were only twenty-five incorporated towns in the state, according to that census. Only thirteen had a population of over 1,000. Greensboro, Winston-Salem and Asheville were not in the list. Wilmington was the largest town with 9,552 population. The others with more than 2,000 were: New Bern, 5,439; Fayetteville, 4,790; Raleigh, 4,780; Salisbury, 2,420; Charlotte, 2,265.—(H. T. K.)

"THIS IS MY 54th BIRTHDAY," Judge Drysdale.

Hon. Arthur Drysdale, Puisne Judge of the Superior court of Nova Scotia, was born in New Anna, Colchester county, Nova Scotia, September 5, 1857. In the same year he removed to Halifax, where he soon attained high standing in the legal profession. In 1891 he was elected to the Nova Scotia legislative assembly and at the succeeding general election he was appointed commissioner of public works and mines. Judge Drysdale has occupied his present position on the bench since 1907.

Oliver Loke, a condemned negro wife murderer, struggled for twenty-eight minutes at the penitentiary at Eddyville, Ky., last Thursday and finally broke the leather straps that bound his legs and arms. BALLET DANCERS.

Long Training and a Ceaseless Grind of Hard Work Are Theirs.

The modern imperial ballet schools of St. Petersburg and Moscow are under government control, forming, with the theaters and dramatic schools, a department of the ministry of the court. Pupils, both male and female are entered at the early age of ten years—seldom older. After the necessary nomination has been obtained—by no means an easy matter nowadays—a stringent examination regarding health, strength, beauty of form and natural gracefulness has to be passed before the child is finally accepted. From the time it becomes an inmate the whole of its education, secular and artistic, is taken in hand and some years of training are necessary before it is considered ripe to appear in public.

The dancer's life is a ceaseless round of hard work. All, even great artists, when at home take regular daily lessons in addition to the daily rehearsals for the next performance which are demanded, however old and well known the ballet. Thus an average of five to six hours' dancing a day is rather the rule than the exception, popular ballerinas in demand at charity performances and artistic at homes often dancing as much as eight hours in the twenty-four.

Trained artists are kept to design in every detail of period and subject, the dresses, scenery and accessories—a task obviously requiring much imagination and much knowledge—and often as many as 150 personages appear on the stage at the same time. Even the orchestra leaders qualify especially for ballet music, having no place in the orchestra at any other time.—London World.

One has to spend so many years learning how to be happy.—Ellot.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

Governor Woodrow Wilson is to speak at the Texas State Fair in Dallas next month.

Dr. John W. Abercrombie, president of the University of Alabama, is mentioned as a probable candidate for congress.

The State that will elect governors this fall are Maryland, Kentucky, Mississippi, Rhode Island and Massachusetts.

Edward F. Dunne, former mayor of Chicago, is expected soon to announce his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor of Illinois.

Governor Bass of New Hampshire is said to be laying plans to succeed United States Senator Burnham, whose term will expire on March 3, 1913.

Many of the politicians are now agreed in the opinion that the national Democratic convention next year will meet in Baltimore and the Republican convention in Chicago.

United States Senator Bristow of Kansas has declared himself against the renomination of President Taft and in favor of Senator LaFollette for the presidency.

Progressive Republicans of Minnesota are arranging for a state banquet in Minneapolis, September 7, at which time a boom for Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin for president is to be launched.

New Mexico is to hold her first election next November. The present indications are that the question of prohibition will figure conspicuously in the campaign for State officers and members of the legislature.

Joseph E. Davis, who has been chosen member of the Democratic National Committee from Wisconsin, is a resident of Watertown and a graduate of the law school of the University of Wisconsin.

William J. Browning, for many years chief clerk of the house of representatives, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress in the First New Jersey district, to succeed the late Congressman Loudenslayer.

For the first time since the Republican party began its long lease of power in Massachusetts, now more than half a century ago, its control of the legislature promises to be seriously challenged in the elections this fall.

In view of the general expectation that the Democrats will hold their national convention in Baltimore next year it is interesting to note that the party has met in that city five times and that four of the candidates nominated there were elected to the presidency. They were Andrew Jackson, Martin Van Buren, James K. Polk and Franklin Pierce.

Elections in the two new States of New Mexico and Arizona will be held in November and the United States senators will be chosen in January. William M. Andrews, the present Republican Delegate from New Mexico, will be a candidate for United States senator from that State, and Ralph H. Cameron, the present Republican Delegate from Arizona, is expected to be in the running from that State.

Convict Gaurd Steals Five Pigs.

Sylvester Holland, one of the guards of the convict force of Cumberland county and his brother Archie, have been jailed in default of bond for their appearance at court to answer the charge of stealing five pigs from Whitney McNeil, colored, near where the convicts were working. McNeil found his pigs and got them under claim and delivery proceedings. The Hollands sold the pigs to a merchant where McNeil found four of them. It is said that Sylvester Holland had previously sold another lot of fine pigs to the same merchant who suspected nothing.

Newspapers Bring Results

A good New York law, to go into effect on September 1st, makes it illegal to display any form of advertising on the public highway. It is indeed high time the people were learning that the only practical, commonsense way to advertise, is through the columns of a good newspaper. When the advertisers adopt the plan exclusively they will save much money and find that newspaper advertising is in every way more satisfactory and brings far greater results, than advertisements placed along the highway.—Salisbury Post.

VALUE OF HUMAN BEINGS.

Every Man Should Own Himself To Prosper Best.

It seems odd to speak of the commercial value of flesh and blood, but it is a fact that there is such a thing as market quotations of human beings.

Andrew Carnegie reminds us that "in the days when men were bought and sold a first-class slave was worth $1,500."

He adds that able-bodied immigrants from Northern Europe are worth more than that today and that the country could well afford to pay a bonus to get them.

It curiously happens that the same figure, $1,500, is the amount fixed by the national labor bureau as the value of each adult citizen to the community in which he lives.

The value of the human being is more clearly seen in connection with the increase of real estate values. For example, if a tract of vacant ground is worth a certain figure as mere agricultural land, it will be worth very much more if it becomes the home of, say, 100 men and women. By their presence, they will create an increment of $1,500 per person, or a total of $150,000.

Every man is worth $1,500 even if he hasn't a cent to his name. So is every woman.

The problem is to make it available for your own use.

One way to do it is to own land. The "citizenship asset" goes into the soil, and if you own the soil the asset is placed to your credit.

The commercial value of human beings inevitably belongs to the owners of the earth—to those who own the land, the buildings, the public utilities, the factories, the machinery. And the big job of future statesmanship will be to make it more and more easy for each man to own himself and get the full benefit of his own ability, industry and thrift.—Winston Sentinel.

Returned The Purse.

While asleep at Atwell's cafe at the depot Saturday night, H. D. Ballard, a Southern engineer, was relieved of $15 in cash, three passes and some receipts. He put his pocket-book under his pillow and after taking out the contents the burglar put the purse back under the pillow.—Statesville Landmark.

WANTS NEW OFFICER.

Mecklenburg Union Asks for County Commissioner of Agriculture.

To procure the services of a "county commissioner of agriculture," a delegation of leading farmers of Mecklenburg county, representing the Farmers Union, is appearing before the Mecklenburg board of county commissioners this afternoon to urge the commissioners to take up the proposition and give such financial and other support and guarantee as may be necessary.

A county commissioner of agriculture is an officer whose duties and work consists in visiting the various farms of the county and in suggesting and starting such demonstration work in up-to-date farming, as he may consider of advantage and interest to the country.—Charlotte Chronicle.

The Gum Still Leads in High Prices.

The Gum opened the highest and is still leading the market in high prices. Mr. Luther Tripp, of Ayden, sold a load of bottom primings at the Gum today at an average of 16 cents. Try the Gum and you will be convinced that we can continue to sell at the highest top prices. See my sales card elsewhere in this paper and if you will bring me your next load, I will do for you what I am doing for others.

THE MALLEABLE RANGE IS RIVETED together just like a boiler. Were it not made of malleable iron and steel, it would be impossible to do this. Cast iron ranges are put together with bolts, the nuts get loose and fall off, the joints leak, but once the rivets is driven home on our ranges, it is there for ever. Just think what this means—air tight where it should be, perfect combustion, perfect cooking. For sale by Carr & Atkins Hardware Co. 9 5
