GREENVILLE, N. C., WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, SEPTEMBER 6, 1911.

NUMBER 6224

MISS GASTON RESIGNED.

Will Be Succeeded by Thorough Music Instructors.

Miss Olive Gaston, the former teacher of music at the graded school, has resigned, much to our regret. We did everything we could to induce her to return, but she felt that she was needed at home, and we could not re-engage her for this year.

I believe the people of Greenville agree with me fully when I say that there are few more efficient teachers of music than Miss Gaston. In the four years in which she has been one of our number, the people of the community have had the advantage of having their children instructed by one of the best teachers to be had. The school of music has been built up to an extent that makes it a very necessary adjunct to the school.

In seeking a successor to our former teacher, I determined to employ a teacher trained by Prof. W. A. White if I could get one. Prof. White was at one time the Dean of Fine Arts at Syracuse University, and he trained Miss Gaston for her work while there. He is now Dean of the School of Fine Arts at Northwestern Reserve University, in Illinois. I wrote to him, explained fully the position we have, told him we must have a teacher to follow Miss Gaston, and asked him to name one or two of his former pupils who could do the work. After some delay, he replied, as follows:

My dear Mr. Smith: Miss Ruth Saucerman has written you regarding the position you wrote me about, and I will tell you of her.

She is a very fine young woman, refined, cultured and has a pleasing personality. Miss Saucerman's father is a minister. She plays piano well, sings well, and she can teach piano and voice with credit to herself and to the school. She has had the full course in school music, including high school work, psychology of music teaching, etc. She has also had a good deal of experience in teaching music.

In thinking the matter over, I have carefully considered the fact that Miss Gaston is to be followed, and that the person will inevitably be measured by Miss Gaston's work and personality, hence I have tried to use much care in recommending a teacher to you.

I find Miss Saucerman very highly spoken of in every course of her work; in every relation, socially, as to character, etc., she is considered an exceptional student and worker. I don't believe I can find any better possibility among the students of my acquaintance, and I can unreservedly recommend her to you.

Very sincerely,
W. A. WHITE.
Evanston, Illinois.

We have employed Miss Saucerman, and we believe we have in her a strong teacher. Having been taught by Prof. White, there will be no change in methods of instruction. The class will be carried on in the course now pretty carefully mapped out. I am pleased with this fact, because, as is well known, there are nearly as many different ways of teaching music as there are teachers.

To assist Miss Saucerman we have employed Miss Lillian Carr, a graduate in our school of music, also a graduate of the East Carolina Teachers Training school. Miss Carr and Miss Saucerman have been trained in the same methods, and we are pleased with the fact that we can offer to the people of the town such competent instruction, fully in line with what we have done during the last four years.

H. B. SMITH,
Superintendent of Schools.

Warm Times in Wilmington.

WILMINGTON.—At a turbulent mass meeting in the court house to-night seven or eight hundred citizens, dissatisfied with a sanitary privy law adopted by the city, voted almost unanimously for the immediate recall of the mayor and all the councilmen. Petitions will be prepared and circulated tomorrow.

Action tonight followed two conferences during the day with the council in special session. A committee of citizens demanded the repeal of the ordinance. The council consented to suspend operation of the measure for a few days and possibly longer, but this did not satisfy, and decision to ask for recall was asked tonight.

MIDNIGHT EXPRESS WRECKED.

Norfolk Southern Midnight Train Runs Into Open Switch.

The midnight express of the Norfolk Southern ran into an open switch at New Bern Monday night about 12:30, it being due there at 12:25. Engineer Dunn stuck to his post and escaped unhurt, his fireman, Ed Watson, colored, jumped and sustained slight injuries. None of the passengers were hurt. The engine almost turned completely over. The front part was completely torn away, the front trucks were knocked from the engine, and she lay this morning deeply buried in the dirt and mud. The track was torn up, the cross ties so badly demolished that it was necessary to put new ones down, the rails were twisted as if they were nothing more than wire.

One or two flat cars and about the same number of gondolas on the siding were so badly torn up that they are fit only for the scrap pile.

It is believed that some one purposely intended to wreck this train. The switchlight which is supposed to warn the engineers as to whether or not the switch is open, was found over in a field behind a clump of bushes.

ANNIVERSARY OF TRAGEDY.

Tenth Anniversary of the Shooting of President McKinley.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 6.—Today marked the tenth anniversary of the assassination of President McKinley in this city, an event which caused the whole world to mourn and which changed the course of the history of the nation. The president was shot twice by the assassin Czolgosz, while in the Temple of Music at the Pan-American Exposition, one bullet entering his arm, the other perforating his stomach. He survived an operation, but died from his wounds eight days later. His death occurred in the home of John G. Milburn, in this city, where Vice-President Roosevelt took the oath of office as president of the United States an hour later. Arrangements are being made to hold the customary memorial exercises next Thursday on the anniversary of Mr. McKinley's death.

LESS COTTON, MORE MONEY.

Crop Brought $254,000,000 More Than Bumper Crop Year Before.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 6.—"No American cotton crop ever grown has sold for as much as the one just marketed, the total value, including the seed, having been $1,030,000."

This remarkable statement contained the bumper crop of 1908 season's cotton crop issued today by Col. Henry G. Hester, secretary of the New Orleans cotton exchange.

With 1,700,000 bales less than contained in the bumper crop of 1908-1909, the crop just marketed netted the South $254,000,000 more. The 13,511,000 bale crop of 1906-1907 brought $222,000,000 less than the past season's crop.

As a whole the crop averaged within a shade of strict middling and the farmer was paid an average of 14.60 cents per pound.

COLONEL TAYLOR RETIRES.

After Forty-Four Years' Practical Service.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 6.—After forty-four years' service, Col. Sydney W. Taylor, of the second field artillery, was placed on the retired list today on his own application. Col. Taylor is a native of the District of Columbia, but was appointed to the army from New York in 1867. With the exception of three years' service in the adjutant general's department, his entire service of nearly forty-five years has been in the artillery arm. His last command was that of the department of the Columbia at Vancouver barracks, Washington.

Football Player's Romance.

ORANGE, N. J., Sept. 6.—A romance of the football field culminated in the wedding here today of Miss Florence Newton Flanders of this place and John Nathan Levene, of Waterville, Me., a former Yale football player. The bride is a sister of Carl S. Flanders, who played on the Yale eleven with Levene. The two men roomed together at college, and it was after one of the big football games at New Haven that Levene first met his future bride.

DISCUSS "NE TEMERE" DECREE.

Sessions Opened Today and Will Continue Through Next Week.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—The intellect and the power of the Anglican church in the Dominion are concentrated in this city today. On every train distinguished clergymen and influential laymen have been arriving for the meeting of the General Synod of the Church of England in Canada, the sessions of which were formally opened today and will continue until well into the coming week.

The indications point to a meeting of unusual importance to the denomination. The resolutions to be introduced and acted upon are numerous and of more than ordinary interest and importance. Foremost on the list is a motion condemning the "Ne Temere" decree of the Roman Catholic church, which will be introduced by the dioceses of Toronto, Saskatchewan, Ontario, Algoma and Ruperts Land.

Other resolutions to be discussed by the convention will deal with the proposal to change the name of the church, the preservation of the laws of morality on ships carrying immigrants, the proposed increase in the episcopate in the Canadian church, the necessity of interesting young men in the work of the ministry, and the long-standing controversy in regard to church union.

FARMVILLE PROGRESSING.

Many New Buildings Are Going Up.

The Reflector man spent Tuesday in Farmville and added a good number of subscribers to our already large list in that section.

It had been some months since we were in Farmville, and it was a pleasure to note the improvements going on in that town. Three more brick stores are now going up in the business district, and several new dwellings on the residence streets. Mr. W. M. Lang has a residence nearing completion that will be one of the handsomest anywhere in the county.

All over the town there are signs of progress.

NOTED ASTRONOMER.

J. N. Gillis, World-Famous Astronomer Born 100 Years Ago Today.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 6.—One hundred years ago today saw the birth, in Georgetown, of James N. Gillis, the world-famous astronomer, who, according to his biographers, "first in all the land conducted a working observatory, who first gave his whole time to practical astronomical work, who first published a volume of observations, first prepared a catalogue of stars and planets and carried into effect the construction of a working observatory as contrasted with one intended chiefly for instruction." Dr. Gillis made numerous valuable improvements in astronomical instruments and it was under his charge that the government observatory in Washington became one of the best in the world. His death occurred in this city, February 9, 1865.

CONTEST FOR OFFICE.

For Railroad Commissioner of Colorado.

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 6.—The contest between Frank S. Hoag and F. S. Kendall for the office of state railway commissioner of Colorado came up for trial today before Judge Shattuck. Kendall contends that he should have the office because of his election last November, selected for the place by the people of Colorado. Hoag claims he is entitled to it by reason of an appointment by Governor Shafroth under a law passed by the last legislature making all members of the commission appointive.

KEIL, Germany.—Emperor William today reviewed the mightiest German fleet ever assembled. One hundred and forty men of war passed in review of the Imperial Yacht Hohenzollern. His Majesty was seated on the quarter deck while the fleet was passing.

Taft To Speak at Hartford.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 6.—President Taft is expected to come to Hartford from Beverly tomorrow in acceptance of an invitation to deliver a public address at the Connecticut state fair.

SENATE FIGHT.

Democratic Primary to be Held Throughout State.

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 6.—A Democratic primary election is to be held throughout Virginia tomorrow for the nomination of two United States senators, members of the legislature and county officials. The campaign has been one of the quietest that the Old Dominion has seen in years. Even the senatorial contests have failed to arouse the usual amount of interest and enthusiasm, although the interest has increased to a noticeable extent during the closing of the campaign.

Senator Claude A. Swanson, who was appointed to fill out the term of the late Senator Daniel, which ended with the close of the last session, is a candidate for election to the full six-year term. Senator Thomas S. Martin, whose term will not expire until 1913, but whose successor will be chosen by the legislature to be elected this fall, is a candidate for re-election. Senator Swanson is opposed for the nomination by Representative Carter Glass, of the sixth district. Senator Martin's opponent is Representative Jones, of the first district. The general opinion seems to be that both Swanson and Martin will win out in the primaries.

GAIETY THEATRE.

Popularity Fast Increasing and Picture Plays Are Stronger.

Now that the managers are located in their new quarters, their attendance seems to increase and there is no reason why it should not. Greenville now has an up-to-date theatre and one that is worthy of being praised.

No one now has any kick in regard to the seating convenience these managers has provided in the way of opera chairs for their patrons, their picture plays are excellent in every respect and the management they are giving this play house speaks well for Greenville.

The program that appears elsewhere in today's paper promises to be a feature from start to finish. They are giving the people here their money's worth and there is no doubt but what they will meet with much success in the business.

START LAFOLLETTE BOON.

Banquet as a Send-off for LaFollette Boom For President.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 6.—Progressive Republicans of Minnesota are expected to assemble in force here tomorrow for the state meeting and banquet designed as a send-off for the LaFollette boom for president. Nearly all of the Republican governors, senators and representatives of this section of the country who have aligned themselves with the progressive wing of their party have been invited to attend the gathering and a number of them have accepted invitations to speak at the banquet.

FARMVILLE MARKET OPENS.

A Good Tobacco Sale There Tuesday.

The Farmville tobacco market on Tuesday had its first sale of the season and a large crowd was in attendance. Two warehouses will be run there this season, the Farmville warehouse by Mr. J. Y. Monk and the Planters warehouse by Mr. C. R. Townsend.

The two houses together had close to 40,000 pounds at Tuesday's sales and it sold well. The highest figure reached on the Farmville floor was $43 and on the Planters $40. Common grades were exceptionally high.

To Vote on Price of Cotton.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 4.—Farmers throughout the South will have a direct vote as to the price to be received for the great bulk of the cotton crop this year.

At the same time the national convention of the Farmers' Union opened at Shawnee, Oklahoma, Tuesday, every lodge of the organization throughout the country held meetings and wired instructions to their delegates at Shawnee. These messages dealt principally with the minimum price at which the crop should be sold. The national convention, through a committee, will consider these messages and fix a union price as near the general average as possible.

NORTH CAROLINA HAPPENINGS.

And Briefly Told for the Reflector's Busy Readers.

WILSON.—Sunday morning about five o'clock, Sam Daniel, a negro who works for Mr. Harry Wainwright on the Jonathan Applewhite plantation, about a mile southwest from Wilson, was found asleep on the second story piazza of Mr. Wainwright. He was discovered by Mrs. Applewhite, who aroused her son-in-law and told him of her find. Police headquarters were notified of the occurrence when Officer Felton went over to the farm and made the arrest, bringing his prisoner to the town guard house. When found Daniel was half drunk, hatless, shoeless and coatless, and when questioned says he knows not how he came on the porch, but remembers that two strange negroes assisted him in putting a ladder against the house, and after that he remembered no more until he was arrested.

The army worm has invaded several farms in Wilson county and are sapping the life out of cotton plants. They have been found in great numbers on the plantations of Mr. Walter F. Woodard and Capt. T. M. Washington. It is said that a red spider has attacked cotton in some sections and that this little pest is doing much damage.

RALEIGH.—The three largest railroad companies in North Carolina—the Southern, Atlantic Coast Line and the Seaboard Air Line—have taken exceptions to the assessment of their property in taxation and today officials of the Southern and Atlantic Coast Line appeared before the state tax commission with the request that their property be placed on an equal basis with real property, which they claim is not assessed at more than 75 per cent of its true value. The officials claim that their property is assessed at its full value and in some cases more than its full value.

The city commissioners yesterday gave an order for an automobile patrol wagon, to be supplied in about 25 days, the automobile being decided upon as the best available means for the needs of the police department.—Greensboro News.

The list of applicants for the vacant position of assistant state bank examiner is growing, and it now numbers twenty-one. Each of the applicants is connected with a banking institution.

NEW YORK SOLONS MEET AGAIN.

Congressional Reapportionment and New Charter for New York.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 6.—The New York legislature reassembles today to consider the subjects of congressional reapportionment and proposed new charter for New York City. The subject of the charter is the one in which most interest is manifested. Whether the Tammany influence can muster enough votes among the independent Democrats to put the measure through is a matter of much speculation. The Republican members of the assembly are believed to be solidly opposed to it.

The legislature will take the action necessary for the reapportionment of the state into 45 congressional districts. There are now 37 districts, represented by 15 Republicans and 22 Democrats. The ratio of population under the present apportionment averaged 196,402. That under the new apportionment will be 211,944.

PEACEFUL WARLIKE SHOWS.

France and Germany Have Big Naval Review.

TOULON, France.—With every magazine filled with ammunition, every bunker full of coal, the entire home fleet of France ready for battle passed in review before President Falliers and his cabinet today. Eighty-eight vessels, eighteen of them battleships and nine armored cruisers, were in line. Only one accident marred the day, the battleship Vonice ran down and excursion steamer but there were no fatalities.

Want Ohio River Improved.

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 6.—"Nine-foot stage from Pittsburg to Carlo all the year round" is the slogan of the 2,000 delegates from the commercial bodies of Ohio Valley cities to the annual convention of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association, which opened in Cincinnati today.

It's a short sermon that makes no snoring.

BOYS FERRY-PACTOLUS BRIDGE.

Commissioners Heard Argument—Both Sides Employ Counsel.

The Boys Ferry-Pactolus bridge controversy was heard by the county commissioner Tuesday. Mr. F. C. Harding represented the Chicod people and ex-Governor Jarvis and Col. Skinner the Pactolus people. Mr. J. J. Laughinghouse also spoke in behalf of the Chicod side. A number of citizens were present, gave their views of the matter. The commissioners, after carefully weighing the matter, decided the county was not in financial condition the build such a bridge at the present.

Just "Conscience."

WASHINGTON.—A clerk in the index and files bureau of the state department was busy opening and classifying the mail that had just been delivered Saturday morning, and as he sliced a sealed envelope and emptied the contents he observed five $100 bills drop out. He gathered them up, and then delved into the envelope to find the accompanying letter.

But the only enlightenment he got was a slip of paper on which was written "conscience."

Rate Hearings in the West.

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—Commissioner Prouty, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, began a hearing in Chicago today on the rates on wool, hides and pelts from various Western points of origin to Eastern destination. Later in the month he is to conduct hearings on the same subject in Albuquerque, Denver, Salt Lake City, Portland and Phoenix.

West Virginia M. E. Conference.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 6.—The West Virginia conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, began its annual session in St. Paul's church in this city today, with Bishop H. C. Morrison, of Florida, presiding.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1911.

Talk as they may, the sentiment for good roads is growing.

Mr. Roosevelt might get some recruits for his Annanias Club out of the Beattie witnesses.

The best way to stop "blind tigers" is to catch some of the big fellows and put them on the roads.

The way they keep killing each other, Wilmington will not be long losing her colored population.

If advance sentiment counts for much, Baltimore will get the next Democratic national convention.

There is plenty of complaint about the high cost of living, yet it is cheaper to live than it is to die and be buried.

No better advice could be given the farmers just now than that they should market their present tobacco and cotton crops slowly and carefully.

If advertisers have any doubt about the circulation of The Daily Reflector being 2,250, they are invited to visit the press room any afternoon and see an edition of the paper run off.

The Mecklenburg county fair is trying to get former President Roosevelt as a drawing card. We doubt if he would draw any better than an airship or a big hog.

State Bank Examiner J. K. Doughton having resigned, the corporation commission may have as many applicants out of which to select his successor as the governor is having for the place to succeed Judge Biggs.

The commissioners of Durham county, after a wrangle extending through several months, have at last selected a site for the new court house the county proposes to build. A quarter million dollars is to be expended in the building. That sum ought to get a court house sufficient for the needs through centuries to come.

Prices get better and better on the Greenville tobacco market. For several years Greenville has stood at the head of all the Eastern markets in prices, and proposes to hold that position. No market is better prepared to take care of all the tobacco that can come.

The Democratic Record.

The Boston Globe, which is classed as independent in politics, gives the Democrats just commendation and credit for the record made by them in the house during the extraordinary session of congress recently closed.

A Peek Into His Pocket.
Would show the box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve that E. S. Loper, a carpenter, of Marilla, N. Y., always carries. "I have never had a cut, wound or bruise, or sore it would not heal," he writes. Greatest healer of burns, boils, scalds, chapped hands and lips, fever-sores, skin-eruptions, eczema, corns and piles. 25 cents at all drug-gists.

Among the results accruing from Democratic control of that body the Globe mentions the following:

Overthrow of the autocratic power of the speaker.
Refusal to play politics with reciprocity legislation.

Excellent organization and enforcement of party discipline on Democratic lines, with ample courtesy to the minority.

Sensible moderation in its differences with the president touching the admission of Arizona and New Mexico into the Union.

Initiating prudent and popular legislation and thereby winning the support of the progressive wing of the Republican majority in the senate.

Trust investigations conducted with singular fairness and resulting in the bringing to light of more information concerning combines than has ever been before given to the public.

Shedding much needed light on the bureaucracy that has been hampering Dr. Wiley in his efforts to protect the public health.

Our Boston contemporary might have added the sincere efforts made by the Democrats to redeem their promises to the people by passing several important tariff revision bills, which were prevented from becoming law only by the interposition of the presidential veto.

The fact is that the Democrats have, in every respect, met the popular expectations and deserved popular confidence. Should they do as well at the forthcoming regular session of congress, full Democratic victory in November, 1912, ought to be assured. With it the promise of being made ruler over many.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

Children and Divorce.

If you will study the origins of marriage you will find that it was instituted in all probability at the instance and pressure of women to protect the rights and secure the maintenance of children. The Roman law term "matrimonium," or matrimony, which is the Latin for marriage, bears out this contention.

Yet the Roman word for marriage has distinct reference to motherhood. In fact, it means no more and no less than legalized motherhood. Thus at the base of marriage lies the idea of motherhood.

The Sinclair crew, in their riot of selfishness, have chosen to neglect this fact. It will arise in its might to destroy them. This inclines one to ask about the child of this marriage. In all this lunatic jabber about soul mates, poems, freedom, aspirations, lyrics, Kansas railroad engines, Aegean seas and temperamental adjustments—they soon get disjunct—neither parent—not even the poet Kemp—has the slightest regard for the interests of the future of that innocent and helpless atom of humanity.

In nine cases out of ten divorce means the ruin of the lives of children, the tainting of their future, the blasting of their careers. The children of the divorced are the unhappiest in the world. The cruelties of life oppress them when they have not the moral maturity to be able to bear them. They make their entrance into life crippled, lonely and bewildered. The furies of their parents' wrongdoing pursue them to the end of their lives. The ghost of the ugly and sordid past haunts them to the last syllable of their recorded time. A tear trembles on their eyelids forever.—New York Telegraph.

NATURE'S WARNING.

Greenville People Must Recognize and Heed It.

Kidney ills come mysteriously. But nature always warns you. Notice the kidney secretions. See if the color is unhealthy—If there are settlements and sediment. Passages frequent, scanty, painful. It's time to use Doan's Kidney Pills.

To ward off serious diseases. Doan's have done great work in Greenville.

L. W. Lawrence, 311 Washington street, Greenville, N. C., says: "I am pleased to make the fact known that I have been greatly benefited by Doan's Kidney Pills, which I obtained from the John L. Wooten Drug Company. Frequent passages of the kidney secretions annoyed me and I often noticed that the flow was scanty. I took Doan's Kidney Pills as directed and since then my kidneys have been in much better condition."

SOLVING THE NEGRO QUESTION.

Nature Doing Much—The Southern Ratio of Increase.

"Nature may be solving the 'negro problem' for the south. The returns of the last census show that the white population there is growing faster. For the cities in the nine cotton states there was an increase in white population of 36.6 per cent. (as compared with an increase of 27.3 in the previous decade); among the negro population there was an increase of 30.5 per cent (as compared with an increase of 23.2 per cent in the previous decade). Thus each race increased at a greater rate in the last ten years than in the previous ten, but the whites increased in the greater proportion. Similarly in the rural regions the whites increased 17.3 per cent, while the negroes increased 8.3 per cent. In the previous decade the figures were respectively 18.0 and 17 per cent. Thus while the whites almost hold their former ratio the negroes' increase was only one-half.

"In these states, as in the country generally, the cities are growing faster in population than the country, yet in both the whites show large and increasing gains in the comparison. There is a higher birth rate among the negroes, but the death rate is also higher, and there is no immigration to help the loss. That increase is all on the side of the whites. So, relatively the difference grows in favor of the white race; and though the negroes may increase absolutely, this relation of white superiority in numbers promises to grow. We have been told constantly that the north does not suffer from the race problem because of the comparative fewness of the negroes. The last census shows that the South is well on the road to the same position. We ought then to have less of the 'problem,' and fewer excuses that disproportionate numbers cause it, and leave us unable to sympathize with the factors that enter into it. It is predicted that a new factor will now be discovered in this very decrease of the negroes proportionately, namely, that there is not enough of them to do the work they have heretofore done."—Indianapolis News.

Protecting Witnesses.

According to The Goldsboro Argus. Judge Peebles' latest exceptional move is in behalf of the protection of witnesses, and in that position we are heartily and ever-lasting with His Honor. There is too much brow-beating witnesses by some lawyers, and frequently unjust criticism is heaped on the heads of witnesses, and slurring remarks made about them, simply because they happen to testify on the other side, and, in nine cases out of ten, they were accidental witnesses of the affair at bar.

Judge Peebles recently presided at Wayne county court and The Goldsboro Argus tells that when a lawyer got bitter at a witness expense, Judge Peebles "called him down," saying: "You can be allowed to do this in some courts, but you can't abuse a witness in my court."

Thirty thousand acres of De Soto county, Florida, land, divided into seven hundred and fifty farms of forty acres each, will be thrown open for settlement December 11, 1911. Actual possession of the land cannot be had until opening day, but registration for these free farms should be filed immediately.

When The Day Is Over.

When the bees come home from the scented clover.
When the sun sinks into its grave in the west;
When the heat and the toll and the care is over,
And the day's head lies on night's soft breast;
When the stars shine down from the halls of heaven,
And the moon sails out o'er the sea of blue
Tis then I grow tired of the whole world around me,
'Tis then, in the darkness, I long for you.

Through the dreary day with its weary struggle.
With the ceaseless throng 'mong the Armies of men;
When the heart grows sick, and the brow grows fevered,
It does not seem that I miss you then;
But after the day's fierce fight is over
And the tired world goes to its well earned rest.
'Tis then that I long to take you and kiss you,
And hold you close to my hungry breast.

In life's short day with ceaseless toiling
For wealth and honor and wealthy fame,
When the heart grows numb and the brain is reeling,
I do not hearken to hear your name
But after life and its fight is over,
And death leads me out from the haunts of men,
I want you there with your arms around me,
I want you to kiss me and love me then.

—Exchange.

Miss Myrtle McLawhorn Entertains.

On Friday evening from eight until twelve, Miss Myrtle McLawhorn delightfully entertained in honor of her guest, Miss Louise Satterthwaite, of Pactivolus.

The guests were received at the door by the hostess and ushered into the hall where delicious fruit was served by Mrs. Chas. and Miss Jennie McLawhorn.

The crowd then gathered in the parlor and porch where progressive conversation was carried on with interest and delight. At eleven o'clock the couples marched into the beautifully arranged dining room, where delicious cream and cake were served. At the hour of mid-night the guests departed, declaring Miss McLawhorn a most charming hostess.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Pick Ups and Hand-me-Downs.

No complaint about dust just now. Prayer meetings in the churches tonight.

Annual meeting of Carolina Club tonight.

All sections of the county have had plenty of rain now.

There is no place like Greenville when it comes to selling tobacco.

Cotton is opening so rapidly that the farmers are having a rush to get it picked.

Tobacco.

Tobacco breaks are running about the same as at the opening, with if anything, prices a little better. Cotton is opening rapidly and farmers are looking to having it picked, hence small tobacco breaks. And, too, farmers are sensible in not rushing too much to market.

Off to Oklahoma.

Mr. J. Marshall Cox left last week to attend the annual meeting of the National Farmers' Union, at Shawnee, Oklahoma. Mr. Cox is one of the delegates from this state. He left several days ahead to take a run to Norfolk and some other places and get to Shawnee on time. The meeting opened yesterday.

To Repaint Church.

The contract for painting of the Christian church was closed yesterday with Mr. Jno. Askew, a hustling painter from Kinston. He expects to begin the work in about one week. The two fresh coats will visibly improve this property.

Excursion Rates.

The usual week end and Sunday excursion rates to Morehead City and Beaufort, will be in effect from all stations on the Beaufort division and Oriental branch throughout the month of September. Get complete information from ticket agents of the Norfolk Southern railroad.

GIRLS CANNING TOMATOES.

They Rival The Southern Boys of The Corn Clubs.

Way down South in Dixie the girls tried to beat the boys raising corn, but the work was too hard for them. However, they did pretty well at it, so they decided to get up some tomato clubs.

Each girl receives a small plot of ground about 20 by 200 feet and the men plow it deeply for her, but after that she has to paddle her own canoe. The girls wrote on to the government and got seed, and ever so many of them bought a canning outfit among them. The record-breaker raised and gathered enough big, juicy tomatoes to fill more than 500 cans, and they brought her a good price, because the fruit was the best and was free of benzoate of soda or any other keeping dopes. Of course, the boys had help a little around canning time, so the girls met at one another's homes and called in the corn raisers to chop wood and keep up the fire and use the soldering irons on the cans. After the cans were passed around everybody had a slashing good time.—New York Press.

"THIS IS MY 42nd BIRTHDAY."

James K. Hackett.

James K. Hackett, the well known actor, was born on Wolf Island, Ontario, September 6, 1869, the son of John Henry Hackett, one of the most celebrated actors of his time. The younger Hackett was educated in the public schools of New York and at the College of the City of New York. In 1892 he made his stage debut, in Philadelphia, as a member of A. N. Palmer's company. He first came to the prominent attention of the New York public in the production of "Mme. Sans Gene." His rise in the profession after that time was remarkably rapid. Augustine Daly engaged him as leading man and later Charles Frohman starred him in "The Prisoner of Zenda," which was one of Mr. Hackett's most notable successes. Of late years he has devoted his energies largely to the management of other players. In New York he has produced many successful plays, including "Don Caesar's Return," "The Crisis," "The Crown Prince," "The House of Silence," and "The Walls of Jericho."

Kill More Than Wild Beasts.

The number of people killed yearly by wild beasts don't approach the vast number killed by disease germs. No life is safe from their attacks. They're in air, water, dust, even food. But grand protection is afforded by Electric Bitters, which destroy and expel these deadly disease germs from the system. That's why chills, fever and ague, all malarial and many blood diseases yield promptly to this wonderful blood purifier. Try them, and enjoy the glorious health and new strength they'll give you. Money back, if not satisfied. Only 50c a. All druggists.

Tribute to War Secretary.

STEBENVILLE, O., Sept. 6.—General Frederick D. Grant, son of General U. S. Grant, and Robert T. Lincoln, son of Abraham Lincoln, are among the distinguished men scheduled to take part tomorrow in the exercises attending the unveiling of the memorial to Edwin M. Stanton, Lincoln's secretary of war. Governor Harmon will also be one of the speakers. The memorial was erected by the citizens of Steubenville, of which place Secretary Stanton was a native.

AN OLD GOLD BRICK

Used For Fleecing the Innocents a Generation Ago.

THE PATENT SAFE SWINDLE.

It Was a Plausible Trick That Generally Caught the Coin and Sent the Bewildered Victim Out of Town in a Hurry For Fear of Arrest.

Although the essentials of imposture remain unchanged from generation to generation, so that the rogue of today would have no trouble in recognizing his counterpart of the seventeenth century, nevertheless there are fashions in thievery, as in everything else. Old tricks are cast off like threadbare coats, in favor of newer ones, and these in turn are discarded when publicity has rendered them familiar and therefore less effective, but plausibility and address are the indispensable qualities of the gentry who live by their wits.

The newest type of confidence man is the get-rich-quick individual who breathes of money and wouldn't turn his hand to a small "job." He angles for victims with new corporations and great business ventures for bait, but he is the same man who a generation ago raked in the shekels by means of the patent safe game. This game is now an outworn fashion. But, it had its points.

Let us suppose a countryman, carpetbag in hand, to have alighted at the union station and set out to see the sights. Although his name is conveniently printed on the outside of his bag or set down in a legible hand on the hotel register, he is amazed to find himself hospitably greeted by an utter stranger, who knows his name and the town from which he hails. The stranger is an old friend whom the countryman is ashamed to think he cannot remember—place is the word. But the stranger is very affable and lays himself out to entertain the newcomer. They stroll about town in company, visit a bar or two, exchange reminiscences and at the end of a few hours are bosom companions. The stranger invariably pays the score, has a lordly disdain of money; good fellowship is his own reward.

The two stroll by devious ways until finally while they are walking arm in arm down a quiet bystreet the stranger's eye is caught by a curious object lying on the pavement. He pauses to examine it. It is a miniature globe about the size of a billiard ball. The stranger turns it over curiously in his fingers and finally sees that it is fitted with a small plug, which comes out under pressure. Continuing his explorations, he then unscrews the top of the plug, takes out a piece of crumpled paper, shows his dupe the empty box and throws the paper on the ground. There is a similar bit of paper in the small chamber at the end of the plug, but this the countryman does not see. The two then stroll on, discussing the mysterious ball.

Presently they come upon a worried looking man, who is studying the ground with a face the pattern of despair. The roper observes him and wants to know whether he has lost something.

"Lost something, indeed!" says the man. "Why, I've lost an invention of mine that I wouldn't have taken $10,000 for. It was a patent fire safe which would save hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of papers and valuables every year. I was just on my way to Blank & Blank's, the safe manufacturers, to get one made, and here I have lost the model."

The roper is evidently much touched by the inventor's distress. He produces the wooden globe and is immediately overwhelmed with expressions of gratitude.

"But what good is that invention of yours?" asks the roper.

"Well," says the inventor with pride, "you see, it is set on props. When there is a fire all you have to do is knock out the props and the safe rolls down an incline right out of the building as neat as you please. There's a box inside to hold the papers. There is a paper in this box right now."

At that the roper winks slyly at the farmer and whispers in his ear. "I'll make him a bet on that piece of paper."

"Come," says the roper, "that's a pretty tall yarn. I don't believe there's any paper in that ball. I'll bet there isn't a scrap of paper in it."

"I'll bet you $1,000 there's a paper in it," says the inventor, much incensed.

"I haven't that much with me," says the roper, "but I'll just bet you a hundred on it." With that he takes out a number of bills, say $50 or so, and a bank check for the other $50. To his friend the farmer he says, "Will you just lend me $50 on this check until I can get to my hotel?"

The farmer sees that his friend is sure to win. He advances the $50, when, behold, the inventor draws out the plug, removes the concealed paper from its small chamber and collects the bet. The roper is decidedly crestfallen, but while he is still lamenting his folly a policeman rushes up, charges him with gambling and makes a grab for him. Roper flees, but the farmer is caught. After protesting his innocence the farmer is allowed to depart. Still fearful of arrest, he flees the city. When he presents his check he discovers that roper, inventor and policeman are all confidence men who have enriched themselves at his expense.—Chicago Record Herald.

No harm can befall a good man, whether alive or dead.—Socrates.

Settlers To America.
WINNIPEG, Man.—The largest colonization plan ever organized for the benefit of one country has been put into effect in the United States by the Catholic church for the purpose of bringing settlers from all parts of the world to western Canada. It is planned to induce 5,000,000 poor families to come to the west. The plan is sanctioned by Pope Pius. Men and women of all religions will be welcomed.

Gov. Deneen Hurt.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Gov. Charles S. Deneen suffered a double fracture of the left leg at 5:15 o'clock this afternoon in an automobile accident near Farmingdale, fifteen miles from Springfield. The governor's big touring car was climbing a steep hill when the brakes refused to work, and the machine rolled rapidly downhill toward a team that was ascending.

Dying From Cholera.
LONDON.—The Daily Chronicle's Constantinople correspondent reports that the mortality from cholera among the soldiers in Constantinople is appalling. In the last two days there have been 850 deaths. Out of forty-five officers returned from Albania thirty-seven died.

Geographical.
"Where was he struck by automobile?" asked the coroner. "At the junction of the dorsal and cervical vertebrae," answered the surgeon. "Will you please point that out on the map?" asked the coroner, indicating one that hung on the wall.—Housekeeper.

One, But Not The Other.
Reporter—"Was Jones calm and collected when the boiler explosion occurred?" Citizen—"Well, he was calm, all right; but they never did get him quite collected.—Pathfinder.

In view of the general exception that he Democrats will hold their national convention in Baltimore next year it is interesting to note that the party has met in the city five times and that four of the candidates nominated there were elected to the presidency. THE STAR CONTINUES TO LEAD.

Look Here Boys! How is This For Fine Averages!

For S. G. Forbes—220 @ 10 1-4, 34 @ 17, 130 @ 14 3-4, 104 @ 15 1-3, 222 @ at 12 1-2, 138 @ 14 3-4. Average, $13.18.

For Jesse Haddock—40 @ 13, 94 @ 19 1-4, 24 @ 30, 200 @ 10 3-4. Average, $14.31.

For S. Carroll—28 @ 13 1-4, 50 @ 19, 70 @ 16 1-2, 80 @ 10 1-4. Average, $14.46.

Well, this is what I am doing for other people, and I can do the same for you if you will bring me your next load. I have one of the best auctioneers in the South, and if anybody can get a big price for tobacco we can at the Star warehouse. All I ask is that you give me a trial with your next load, and you will be convinced that you have made a mistake in the past if you have not sold at the Star. The above are samples of sales that I am making every day.

THE HAPPENINGS AROUND WINTERVILLE

EVENTS OF THE LAST FEW DAYS

Personal Mention And Notes For Business People.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Sept. 6.—Miss Hattie C. Kittrell, of Ayden, was in town Saturday.

Harrington, Barber and Co. are busy opening up their new stock of goods, and they are opening some pretty goods, too.

Mr. M. B. Bryan came in Saturday and spent a few days with his parents and friends. Mr. Bryan is located in Kinston now in the fruit business.

The boy that knocked the ball over the fence made a home run, and the lady that bought a pitcher for 10c at A. W. Ange and Co.'s made money.

Mrs. E. F. Tucker and Miss Evelyn Sutton returned Saturday from Baltimore, where Mrs. Tucker purchased a full line of up-to-date millinery.

We have just returned from the northern markets, where we purchased a very nice line of dress goods and notions. Come to see us. Harrington, Barber and Co.

Mr. J. T. Wiggins, of Elm City, was in town Saturday to see his daughter who is in school here.

Harrington, Barber and Co. will take pleasure in showing you the nice and cheap goods which they have on hand now, and it will pay you to see them before you make your purchase.

Misses Kate and Lala Chapman went to Kinston Saturday.

The circumstantial evidence in the Beattie case is strong, but by noticing A. W. Ange and Co.'s stock, the evidence is still stronger that they sell everything cheap.

Mr. J. E. Nye, of Fairmont, spent Saturday and Sunday here with his son, Prof. F. C. Nye. He also brought two boys and put them in school here. Mr. Nye says that he has never met any people who were as pleasant as the people in Winterville.

Harrington, Barber and Co. have a very nice line of good rugs, such as Axminster, Brussels and velvet, all of the latest floral and animal patterns.

Rev. M. A. Adams filled his regular appointment here Sunday morning and at night, delivering two of his usual good sermons. At the close of the night service two joined the church.

Farmers should try the experiment for one year of keeping a bank account and see if it does not pay. A large number of our best farmers have accounts with us now, but we will not be fully satisfied until every farmer in the county has one. Bank of Winterville.

Mr. O. W. Rollins, of Ayden, was in town Sunday evening.

Mr. Farmer: You want to get a good price for your crop when you sell it, don't you? You are selling some tobacco now aren't you? Well, don't you intend buying a wagon or a cart to carry your produce to market? We make the best wagons and carts going. Our prices are right. Come to see us. A. G. Cox Mfg. Co.

Miss Edith Mumford, of Ayden, was in town Sunday evening.

The Union Mercantile Company is rigging up their show window with a beautiful and attractive line of ladies' and gent's shoes. If you want a pretty shoe, a good shoe and a shoe that will give you absolute satisfaction, come to see us before buying elsewhere.

Mr. Herbert Cox and Miss Esther Johnson were visitors in Ayden Sunday.

The hardest work of the farmer is about over. Riding is then in order. They owe it to themselves and their families to get a new buggy or surrey. We believe we can please all. Call in to see the A. G. Cox Manufacturing Company, Winterville, or J. E. Winslow, at Greenville, or Ayden.

Rev. W. J. Fulford filled his regular appointment at the Episcopal church here Sunday evening.

Mr. Harvey A. Cox returned to Winston-Salem yesterday after spending a few days here.

We are opening up some beautiful 40-piece dinner sets that are beautifully decorated and cheap for the birds. You know birds wear feathers and so do the ladies. These sets will please the ladies that want their table to look nice. Union Mercantile Company.

Mrs. J. L. Rollins is spending a few days with her parents near Kinston.

The A. G. Cox Manufacturing Co. is shipping a car load of the Pitt county school desks to Rutherford county this week.

Rev. N. C. Duncan and wife, of Fayetteville, came in last night to spend a day or two with relatives. Mrs. Duncan was formerly Miss Olive Butt.

Misses Sarah Barker, Hulda Cox and Minnie Mae Whitehead made a trip to Greenville today.

The incompetent bookkeeper when weighed in the balance is found wanting.
