MUST LOVE YOUR WORK TO WIN SUCCESS

BELIEVE IN YOURSELF AND WORK

How One Man Talked Scissors And Sold Scissors.

HANRAHAN, N. C., Sept. 9.—Now for more than a week I have been trying to think of something worth the while to say. And the longer I withhold and look and listen, the more fully I am convinced that a majority of us mortals are only playing at life's problems. We who sow the soil expect to reap, but so few of us are in love with our work. We nearly all of us think that you, Mr. Editor, and that other man who from early dawn until far into the shadows of the night has to deal with and try to satisfy the public, has, oh, such a happy time of it. Just anything except that thing which we are called upon to do out of the way with our work, child-like, anxious to do that which we can't do.

Oh, that we could learn to love the things that we are called to do, and stop wishing that you were me and I were you. Let's be so in earnest about our callings, be that ever so humble. If our purpose is honest, then our work is honorable, and if we will only learn to love it then we will impress others with the important fact that work, honest work, is a physical, all-mental and a spiritual blessing, and far from being a cure as so many deem it.

I have watched with peculiar interest one man who sold scissors. There was nothing specially peculiar about the scissors except a little attachment, but this man was so in love with and therefore so enthused that he talked scissors to every one he came in contact with, and he not only talked scissors but sold scissors to almost every house in 10 miles square. Why did he sell so many scissors? Because he honestly believed that the scissors he sold were the best scissors that has ever or ever will be manufactured by any company that makes scissors, and he was so in earnest in it that he made others believe with him. He had it figured out to such a fine point that he could tell a woman just how many pounds pressure she would use in a day's cutting with the ordinary scissors, and how many pounds burden she would take from her weary arm in a day by using his scissors, and, too, how much her fair and delicate muscles needed this rest. 'Twas love for his work that made his scissors speech so catchy, and when he had supplied every store that sold dry goods, leather or tin, every shop with a streaked pole in front, and every home with a mother and child and there are no homes without these, he sighed because there were no more people who needed scissors. But such devotion to work does not go long without being rewarded, by a call to a more noble and grander position. So he was very soon given the agency for a weekly newspaper. His zeal for this was even more intense, and he talked his paper to every one he met and sold it to almost, if not quite, every one he talked to. I have heard him stand and plead so earnestly the merits of his paper that he almost persuaded me to believe that one could get the news out of his weekly one or two days sooner than it could possibly be obtained from a daily. How this can be done he can explain satisfactorily. I can't. If any daily wants an agent who can make many people believe that if they will take the paper that he represents they, through that paper, can get all the news sooner than it can be sent them by wire, even though they had a telegraph office this man can do it and would soon have all the post offices in his territory so crowded with the daily paper that other boxes would have to be supplied. Please don't all the state dailies apply for his services at once, but any one will do well to secure him. I can vouch for his honesty of purpose. He loves his work.

WHY It Be Ready?

It doesn't lok now as if the next term of court, beginning next Monday week, will be held in the new court house. The contractors may have it ready so far as they are interested, but it will hardly be furnished by that time.

NEWS FORECAST FOR THE COMING WEEK

FREIGHT RATES INVESTIGATED.

President Taft Starts from Beverly on His 54th Anniversary.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 9.—Next Friday, on his 54th birthday anniversary, President Taft will start from Beverly on the most important trip that he has planned since he has been in the White House. The trip will take him through nearly the whole of the Southwest and West, as far as the Pacific coast. His first stopping place will be Syracuse, N. Y., where he will attend the opening of the New York state fair.

Following one of the most interesting and strenuous campaigns that New England has ever known, the voters of Maine will ballot on Monday to determine whether the policy of constitutional prohibition of the liquor traffic, which has prevailed for more than a quarter of a century, shall be retained.

A general investigation into freight rates on live stock, packing house products and fresh meats throughout that portion of the country west and southwest of Chicago, will be opened at Oklahoma City Monday with a hearing before representatives of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Saturday will be the anniversary of Mexican independence, ordinarily a day of great celebration throughout the republic. Fear of an uprising against the government will result, it is said, in almost all the celebrations being postponed this year.

The eyes of Christian Endeavors throughout the world will be on Aymer, Quebec, Tuesday, when an address and banquet will be tendered to the Rev. Francis E. Clarke, the founder and president of the organization. Dr. Clarke was born in Aymer, and Tuesday will be the sixtieth anniversary of his birth.

With the near approach of the date of election, public interest in the political campaign in Canada is expected to reach the high stage. Sir Wilfred Laurier will devote the week to a speechmaking tour of Quebec, while Mr. Borden, the leader of the opposition, will carry his campaign into Nova Scotia.

The most important gathering of the week will be the annual conference of the Governors of the States of the Union, which will assemble Tuesday at Spring Lake, N. J., for a session of five days. The chief executives of at least thirty states are expected to attend. Employers' liability, inheritance tax, fixing of interstate rates, public utilities and prison labor will be the principal topics discussed.

The first convention of national park superintendents and officials of the inter-department will meet at Yellowstone Park Monday. The convention will thoroughly discuss the proposed bureau of national parks which Secretary Fisher hopes to have established shortly.

Other conventions of the week will include those of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, at Calgary; the National Association of Postmasters, at Omaha; the National Association of Stationary Engineers, at Cincinnati; the National Society of the Army of the Potomac, at Providence, and the Atlantic Deep Waterways Association at Richmond, Va.

EX-SEN. PEPPER IS EIGHTY.

Will Celebrate His Eightieth Anniversary Today.

TOPEKA, Kans., Sept. 9.—Former Senator William A. Pepper, who represented Kansas in the United States senate from 1891 to 1897, and who was one of its picturesque members, will celebrate his eightieth birthday anniversary today. For nearly a decade after leaving the senate Mr. Pepper continued to reside in Washington, but last spring he returned to Topeka to spend the remaining days of his life.

It is with a sense of the utmost satisfaction that the former senator reverts to the part he has played in public affairs. In the current trend of the people's will he sees a vindication of his theories, and, in part at least, a fulfillment of what as a senator he demanded. In a recent interview he said: "The country now hotly demands legislation it abused me for advocating. I anticipated the evils against which it now cries out."

MONUMENT MARKS SCENE OF RIOT

LARGE CROWD IN ATTENDANCE.

Historical Society Unveils Monument In Pennsylvania.

LANCASTER, Pa., Sept. 9.—With appropriate exercises and in the presence of a large crowd of visitors from many parts of the State the monument was unveiled today which the Lancaster Historical Society had erected at Christiana, in the eastern part of this county, to mark the site of the old log cabin around which, sixty years ago, raged the Christiana, one of the most famous and bloody conflicts between slavery and anti-slavery elements before the civil war.

The Christiana riot was the outgrowth of an attempt by a Maryland slaveholder to regain possession of four runaway slaves. The negroes, who were claimed by Edward Gorsuch as his property, crossed the Susquehanna River at the Columbia bridge and, by means of the famous underground railroad were spirited to the eastern border of the county, where they were detained until arrangements could be made for their transportation further north.

A negro tavern keeper in Philadelphia learned that warrants had been issued for the arrest of the Gorsuch slaves and hurried to Christiana to give the alarm. When the party, consisting of Marshal Kline, Edward Gorsuch, Dickinson Gorsuch, his son, Dr. Thomas Pearce, a nephew, Joshua Gorsuch, and two hired assistants, arrived with their warrants at Christiana on the morning of September 11, 1851, the fugitives, who were secreted in the cabin of a negro named Parker, were prepared for them.

Marshal Kline and Edward Gorsuch battered down the door of the cabin and asked the slaves, hidden in the attic, to surrender. The negroes refused to surrender and the warrants were read to them. About this time Castner Hanaway and Elijah Lewis, two white residents, known for their strong anti-slavery ideas, appeared upon the scene. They were called upon by the marshal to assist in capturing the slaves, but positively refused to lend their hand.

When the marshal's party attempted to storm the attic, the negroes opened fire and Edward Gorsuch was killed and when Dickinson Gorsuch and the cabin was surrounded by armed negroes, Marshal Kline gave up the attempt to capture the slaves.

The Federal authorities promptly took steps to prosecute the rioters. All the negroes who participated in the riot were arrested, together with several white men, including Hanaway, Lewis and Joseph Scarlett. They were taken to Philadelphia and there tried on the charge of treason. The trial lasted fifteen days and, although the presiding Judges Grier and Mane were strong pro-slavery men, the jury acquitted the prisoners. What lent additional interest to the exercises today was the presence at the unveiling of Peter Wood, a negro who as a boy took part in the riot, armed with a corn cutter. The family of Edward Gorsuch was also represented.

His Ear Torn Off In Printing Press.

SPARTANBURG.—Mr. Morrisett, pressman of the Spartanburg Journal, lost his left ear in a peculiar accident at 4:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, while the regular edition of The Journal was being run off. He was working underneath the press, when in some manner his ear was caught in the mechanism. Had the press been running faster, it is said, he might have been killed.

Although painfully injured, he did not lose consciousness nor his presence of mind. He was unaware of the extent of injury, and said to one of those who ran to his aid that his ear was giving him great pain. He asked if it seemed to be badly crushed. He was told the ear was missing.

Howard-Jefferson Wedding.

BUZZARDS BAY, Mass., Sept. 9.—Miss Cornelia Frances Jefferson, a daughter of Thomas Jefferson and granddaughter of the late Joseph Jefferson, the famous actor, was quietly married today to Carrington Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Howard, of Montclair, N. J. The bride is an actress of considerable talent, having been on the stage since her sixteenth year. In her professional life she has been associated almost wholly with her father.

ALDERMAN ORDER MORE SIDEWALKS

NEW UNIFORMS FOR THE POLICE.

Things Done By The Board At Monthly Meeting.

The board of aldermen was in regular monthly session Thursday night, with the mayor and six members of the board present. The meeting continued in session until midnight.

Ex-Governor Jarvis appeared before the board in regard to having an extension put on the culvert on Fifth street near the Training school grounds, the school board agreeing to bear half of the expense. It was ordered that he work be done.

Mr. Julius Brown appeared in regard to the Averett judgment against the town, and the judgment was ordered paid.

Mr. F. C. Harding appeared in respect to a ditch near the residence of Mr. M. D. Lassiter, he agreeing to deed the strip of property to the town. It was ordered that the ditch be tiled on execution of deed.

Permission was given the Johnny J. Jones carnival to show here in October without license.

Mr. C. D. Rountree reported that he had turned the tax list over to the clerk.

The street committee reported some work being done on Washington street.

The cemetery committee reported that the cemetery had been put in fair condition.

It was ordered that a uniform be purchased for each of the police officers.

A motion was adopted by the property owners on Evans street between Five Points and Tenth street be required to lay granolithic sidewalk abutting their property on said street. A similar motion was adopted relative to the sidewalks on Ninth street from Cotanch street to Dickinson avenue. Property owners on Washington street between Fourth and Fifth streets, were also ordered to put down curbing.

It was ordered that a fee of 50 cents each be charged for impounding dogs and 15 cents a day for feeding.

DRUG CLERK'S MISTAKE.

Drinks Poison—Cries for Aid—Died In Five Minutes.

LOUISBURG.—A very sad death occurred here yesterday morning about 11 o'clock in the drug store of the Aycock Drug company. Mr. E. B. Massenburt came in the drug store and went behind the prescription counter, while all the clerks were in the front part of the store. Upon hearing his cries they rushed to his assistance, and it seems that he had taken some formaldehyde through mistake. He was given prompt medical attention, but of no avail, his death following in about five minutes. He was 61 years of age and leaves a wife and large family.

MARTIN AND SWANSON WIN.

Opposition Made Little Progress—Big Majority for Regulars.

RICHMOND.—Senators Thomas S. Martin and Claude A. Swanson were renominated on the Democratic ticket for the long and short terms in the United States Senate from Virginia. The total vote up to 1:15 o'clock this morning gave Senator Martin a plurality of 28,294 over Representative Wm. A. Jones. Senator Swanson's plurality over Carter Glass was 33,118. Indications were that the regulars likewise had triumphed throughout the state in the local elections.

In the city there was particularly little interest manifested concerning the returns, the Swanson-Martin landslide being a foregone conclusion from early evening.

Celebrate Church Founding

GENESEO, Ill., Sept. 9.—The seventy-fifth anniversary of the organization of the First Congregational church of this place will be celebrated with an elaborate programme of jubilee exercises commencing tomorrow and continuing for three days. The society had its preliminary organization at Bergen, N. Y., Sept. 13, 1836, just as the members of the colony which came to the Illinois prairies were preparing to leave their homes there. Of the charter members there is only one living, Mrs. Harriet T. Miller of Geneseo.

H. C. BEATTIE, JR. GUILTY OF MURDER

JURY TOOK 58 MINUTES TO DECIDE

Sentenced to Be Electrocutted November 25th.

CHESTERFIELD, Va., Sept. 9.—Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., was found guilty of murder in the first degree. The jury had been out but 58 minutes when it came into court with a verdict of guilty. No degree of guilt was specified, however, and Judge Watson directed that the jury retire again to consider this matter. It seemed but a minute or two that the jury was gone. When they re-entered the foreman announced that the jury held Beattie to be guilty of first degree murder in putting his wife to death on the night of July 18, last.

Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., drove his motor car into Richmond, Va., on the night of July 18 and unloaded the dead body of his wife. The young husband's story that the murder was committed by a rough bearded stranger, and that he wrested from the murderer a single barrel shot gun was discredited by police authorities.

The state showed that young Beattie killed his wife in order that he might be free to continue relations with Beulah Binford, a young woman of the underworld.

Meanwhile Beulah Binford left the scene of her notoriety and after being released from jail, hurried to New York to accept a stage engagement.

The jury last night returned a verdict of murder in the first degree. Beattie was condemned to death by electrocution, and November 24 fixed for the execution. A motion for a new trial was denied. A stay of execution was ordered to give counsel an opportunity for writ of error when the Court of Appeals meet in November.

CLOSING OF MAIN CAMPAIGN.

Both Sides in Fight Have Been Extremely Active.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 9.—One of the most bitterly fought and most strenuous campaigns ever known to New England ended in this State today and on Monday the voters of Maine will decide by their ballots whether the policy of constitutional prohibition of the liquor traffic, which has prevailed for more than a quarter of a century, shall be retained or not. Both sides in the fight have been extremely active and for many weeks the State has been flooded with campaign literature. Meetings for and against the proposition to eliminate prohibition as a constitutional feature were held by the score in all parts of the State. The press was divided upon the question and each side devoted columns to arguments and attacks. Speakers of both parties presented their respective sides to thousands of attentive listeners and even women and children were drawn into the agitation by the prohibition element. Constitutional prohibition, in which Maine was the pioneer, was first adopted in 1854. In 1901 a bill for the resubmission of the subject was before the legislature, but was defeated. In 1907 a similar proposition was again defeated, but only by a narrow margin. But at the last election a Democratic governor and a Democratic legislature were elected and resubmission was voted. The issue will be decided next Monday, but, although both sides claim victory, the result of the election is extremely doubtful.

Cruise of the Black Cat.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 9.—Four hundred lumbermen, with their wives and friends, departed from Detroit today on the steamship City of Cleveland for a five days' cruise on the upper lakes. The lumbermen are members of the Concatenated Order of Hoo-Hoo and the cruise is in connection with twentieth annual convention of that fraternal order, the sessions of which will be held on board the boat. The cruise will be through Georgian Bay to the Sou, returning down the east shore of Lake Huron.

BACK TO NATURE.

A HEN is not supposed to have much common sense or tact, yet every time she lays an egg she cackles forth the fact.

A ROOSTER hasn't got a lot of intellect to show, but none the less most roosters have enough good sense to crow.

THE MULE, the most despised of beasts, has a persistent way of letting people know he's around by his insistent bray.

THE BUSY LITTLE BEES they buzz, bulls bellow and cows moo, and watchdogs bark, and ganders quack and doves and pigeons coo.

THE PEACOCK spreads his tail and squawks; pigs squeal and robins sing, and even serpents know enough to hiss before they sting.

BUT MAN, the greatest masterpiece that Nature could devise, will often stop and hesitate before he'll ADVERTISE!

WHERE LOCAL BUSINESS MEN LOSE.

Never in the history of Greenville have the business men of the town had such an opportunity for advertising as now, yet they fail to take advantage of it and they are the greatest losers by this neglect. Here in The Daily Reflector sending out more than 2,200 papers every day, and while its columns show a liberal amount of advertising, it is noticeable that so few of the local merchants are among the advertisers, yet all want more business and complain because they do not get it.

The last issue of the Pitt County News was a double size special edition that carried many large attractive advertisements, yet they were mainly from business men of other towns in the county and Greenville taking very little part in such an opportunity for publicity.

Does this mean that a majority of Greenville merchants (of course it does not apply to all) are wanting in enterprise? It certainly makes such an impression upon those who read the town's papers. It also means that Greenville merchants are letting the enterprising business men of other towns invade their own territory and draw trade which could be brought here with the proper effort. The business men of the other towns have a perfect right to draw all the trade they can, and when they show sufficient enterprise to do this the local dealers have only themselves to blame for losing it. They have the opportunity if they will use it.

There are fully fifty business houses in Greenville that ought to be regular advertisers, and their town papers are just as good, have as large circulation, with just as low advertising rates as those of other towns. These papers will help make business for the town if the business men will do their part.

Guilty of murder in the first degree was the verdict of the jury that brought to a close the famous trial of Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., for the murder of his wife. There had been much speculation as to what the verdict would be. Beattie himself displayed an air of brazenry all through the trial, and said with confident air that the jury would either bring in a verdict of acquittal or disagree. He has learned otherwise, for in Virginia juries are found who will say that the man who murders his wife should be punished for his crime.

The corporation commission is after the tax assessors of some of the counties, Pitt among them, for the valuation which they placed upon real estate, and has summoned them to Raleigh for an explanation. It seems that this has come about by the affidavits of certain parties that much property has not been assessed at near its real value. We do not know what the investigation will develop, but there is hardly a doubt that some people pay more and others less than their just part of the taxes.

The depravity of human nature is well exemplified in the going of Paul Beattie and Beulah Binford, two leading witnesses in connection with the Beattie murder trial, to New York to accept flattering offers to go on the stage and pose for moving picture films. The offers came to them while they were in jail.

When druggists themselves sometimes take poison through mistake, there is not so much surprise that occasional mistakes are made in preparing medicine for other people.

Beattie said he was going to spend Sunday at home with his folks, but the jury said otherwise. Just the result of a difference of opinion on the testimony.

John Jacob Astor paid five millions for the girl, but is having a hard time finding a preacher to tie the knot for the paltry thousand offered.

The way the senatorial primary in Virginia went, may be an index as to how it will go in North Carolina.

"Oh, yes!" happily answered the woman, "I got an absolute separation, with alimony, and the court awarded me the custody of the dog too."

WHAT SAVED HER LIFE

Mrs. Martin Tells About a Painful Experience that Might Have Ended Seriously.

Rivesville, W. Va.—Mrs. Dora Martin, in a letter from Rivesville, writes: "For three years, I suffered with womanly troubles, and had pains in my back and side. I was nervous and could not sleep at night.

The doctor could not help me. He said I would have to be operated on before I could get better. I thought I would try using Cardui.

Now, I am entirely well. I am sure Cardui saved my life. I will never be without Cardui in my home. I recommend it to my friends."

For fifty years, Cardui has been relieving pain and distress caused by womanly trouble. It will surely help you. It goes to the spot—reaches the trouble—relieves the symptoms, and drives away the cause.

If you suffer from any symptoms of womanly trouble, take Cardui. Your druggist sells and recommends it. Get a bottle from him today.

Back in Town Again.

The mountains and the seashore called,
And with our souls athirst we went
And breathed the air of sylvan heights
So near to God's blue firmament.

The salt-spray of the sea we knew,
And all the joys of surf and shore
With moonlit nights and maidens sweet
And things we know can be no more.

But, oh, how sweet again to look
On this white-gleaming, wondrous town,
And hear each friendly sound we knew
Where millions wander up and down.

And, oh, how wondrous once again
To see the glinting spears of light,
When sudden rose-hued dusk becomes
The million-eyed seraphic Night!
—George Lawrence Andrews.

Prayer—Dismissal.

Rain is interfering with cotton picking in some sections of the county.

Miss Vernice Lang Entertains.

FARMVILLE, N. C., Sept. 9.—Miss Vernice Lang delightfully entertained Friday night in honor of her guest, Miss Ruth Deans, of Wilson. The guests were received at the door by the hostess and ushered into the hall where delicious punch was served by Miss Annie Laurie Lang and Miss Madeline Horton. The crowd then gathered in the parlor, where progressive heart dice was carried on with interest and delight.

Miss Agnes Barrett, the player winning the highest score, received a box of stationery, which she gracefully presented to the guest of honor. After this a very interesting contest—questions answered by the names of the counties in this state. The prize, a beautiful rhinestone hat pin, was won by Dr. Paul Jones and presented to Miss Deans. Mr. Richard Bryan was the happy winner of the booby prize, a box of Coast matches.

At eleven o'clock the guests were gracefully served with choice and delicious refreshments by Mrs. W. M. Lang, Mrs. J. Y. Monk, Mrs. Harry Humphrey and Mrs. W. C. Askew.

Thus closing a very pleasant evening, the guests all departed, declaring Miss Lang a most charming hostess.

Original French Market Coffee The Coffee With a History

The secret of the roasting process, and the blend, by which is produced the rare aroma and marvelous flavor of the French Market Coffee, was well kept for over a century.

Even today imitations are little like the original.

Few realize that French Market Coffee is roasted nearly twice as long as ordinary coffee.

Yet all its delightful properties are retained and intensified.

Harshness and bitterness are roasted out, leaving only the smoothness and aromatic flavor that is so delightful—so different from other coffees.

French Market Coffee

That is why French Market Coffee has always been the favorite midnight beverage of New Orleans society. Why it is the coffee with a history.

In France and Austria only are there coffees prepared with the same exquisite care that is characteristic of French Market Coffee. But nowhere in the world is there a duplicate of the Unique Hygienic Roasting Process used at the French Market Mills in the production of French Market Coffee.

Until the building of the French Market Mills, this historic coffee-blend could be had only at the French Market in New Orleans.

But NOW you all may enjoy it daily on your own tables. For genuine French Market Coffee is now delivered everywhere in hermetically-sealed tins—in all its full natural strength and delicious flavor.

"There is only one real old French Market flavor."

"THIS IS MY 52nd BIRTHDAY."

James H. Kirkland.

James H. Kirkland, chancellor of Vanderbilt University, was born in Spartanburg, S. C., September 9, 1859. He was graduated from Wofford College in 1877 and a few years later returned to that institution to become professor of Greek and German. In 1883 he resigned his professorship to go abroad for study. He traveled extensively through Europe and upon his return home in 1886 he joined the faculty of Vanderbilt University, at Nashville, Tenn. For seven years he was professor of Latin at Vanderbilt and since 1893 he has been chancellor of the university. Chancellor Kirkland has been actively interested in many educational and other movements for the public welfare. Last February he was chosen president of the Religious Education Association in succession to Bishop Lawrence, of Massachusetts.

GRANDMOTHERS

USED SAGE TEA

To Darken the Hair and Restore Gray and Faded Hair to its Natural Color.

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life, was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the vision of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair and are fast following suit.

The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready-to-use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. As a scalp tonic and color restorer this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers.

This remedy is sold under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agent, More's Pharmacy.
