CALIFORNIA WOMEN FIGHT FOR SUFFRAGE

THIS IS THEIR SECOND ATTEMPT.

Only a Trifle More Than Two Weeks Before the Voters Decide Their Fate

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 21.—On October 10, only a trifle more than two weeks hence, the voters of California, for the second time in the history of the state, will decide by their vote whether women shall have the right to vote. The last time woman's suffrage was submitted to the ballot in this state it was defeated by only 9,000 votes. Times have changed greatly since then and the advocates of women's rights are not only more hopeful of success than ever before but quite confident that California will win the honor of becoming a state in the union to grant suffrage to women.

Never was a political campaign in this state fought with greater determination than the one now drawing to a close. The women of California realized the importance of a victory at this time, and, inspired and encouraged by success of the women in other western states, entered upon this campaign with tremendous energy and determination. When the legislature decided to submit a constitutional amendment, giving women the right to vote, a referendum vote on October 10, it did not find the women of the state unprepared.

More than two years ago the first step was taken to prepare the women of California for just such an emergency. It was Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw, chairman of the Women's Suffrage party of New York City, who by her individual efforts induced the women of California to organize for the purpose of making a fight for suffrage. The ground was well prepared and when the legislature voted for the submission of the women's suffrage amendment to the state constitution, the organized women of this state were ready to begin the battle.

Fully realizing the importance of a thorough and energetic campaign the women of California sent out an appeal to the friends of women's suffrage throughout the United States and elsewhere. Nobly did their friends respond to the appeal. From all parts of the world came letters from men and women interested in the success of the women of California fighting for their rights. J. H. Braly, of Pasadena, a retired business man of great wealth, organized under the name of The Political Equality League, a powerful body of prominent men and women bound together by the common desire to aid the women's suffrage movement.

In every state of the union where there were friends of women's suffrage, meetings were held, resolutions passed, giving moral support to the battling suffragists in California and funds were contributed to help the women of this state in their great struggle. The women of New York, headed by Mrs. Laidlaw, willingly came to the assistance of their sisters on the Pacific coast. Miss Jeannette Rankin, sent by Mrs. Laidlaw, Mrs. Helen K. Hoy-Greely, Mrs. Archibald C. Fisk, and other distinguished leaders and organizers of the women's suffrage movement in Greater New York, came to California to help by word and deed in the campaign. Large sums were raised during the week of self-denial, when men and women, anxious to help the women in California, denied themselves of some luxuries and contributed the money thus saved to the campaign fund.

The energetic, businesslike and effective manner in which the women of this state have conducted their campaign has been a revelation to such men even those who have made politics a business for many years and have grown gray in it. There was no uncertainty about the methods employed and everything was thoroughly up-to-date. The women throughout the state were thoroughly organized and everywhere meetings were held, speeches made and literature distributed. In many places house-to-house canvasses were made by special committees of women and all men favorable to the movement were enlisted in the campaign.

The opposition, which includes many distinguished and powerful men, Harrison Gray Otis, former United States Senator Frank P. Flint, Oscar P. Lawler, former assistant United States attorney-general in the department of the interior; former United

BARACAS AT WINTERVILLE.

Gave An Interesting Programme Sunday Night.

The Baraca class of Winterville Baptist church had charge of the services Sunday night, September 17, in place of the regular preaching.

They had an excellent program arranged, consisting of the following: Song—"O Jesus With Thy Church Abide."

Unison recitation of the National Motto, Platform and Slogan of the Baracas.

Prayer—By J. D. Cox.

Song—"Guard the Bible Well."

Scripture Reading—Phil. 4:1-13.

Address—"What the Baraca Class Means to Young Men," by G. H. Cox.

Address—"Why Young People Should Read and Study the Bible."—I. L. Bennett.

Song—"Church of Jesus."

Address—"Young People and the Temperance Question."—R. C. Causey.

Address—"Young People and Public Amusements."—J. R. Carroll.

Song—"Ship Ahoy."

Baraca Benediction.

Every part of the program was well rendered and the large crowd that filled the church went away saying they had greatly enjoyed the service.

The class is living up to its motto, "We do things." They have an enrollment of sixty members, a good set of officers, and are going rapidly forward, accomplishing great good in Baraca work.

Much of the success of the program is due to Miss Liles, teacher of the Philatheas, who very kindly assisted with the music.

BRAZIL LOOKING AFTER COTTON

Special Ambassador Visits North Carolina.

Goldsboro had quite a distinguished visitor within her gates Monday in the person of Mgr. Sa Persissa, special ambassador from the Brazilian government, to study cotton-growing with a view of introducing cotton culture in Brazil. This gentleman was accompanied by his wife, a beautiful French lady, while he is a Portuguese, and they are accompanied, as interpreter, by no less a personage than Mr. Humphry Butler, a Goldsboro boy proper, grandson of Mrs. M. O. Humphry, of this city, and son of Rev. Dr. Geo. W. Butler, of Brazil. Mr. Butler will leave them at the Mexican border, where another interpreter will accompany them through Mexico, while Mr. Butler will return to his medical studies in Baltimore. The Brazilian government, finding cane culture less profitable than formerly since the rapid development of sugar beet culture, has decided to venture upon the growth of cotton, and is seeking all obtainable and as varied information as possible on cotton culture.

TWO GOOD WAREHOUSES.

That Lead All Others in High Prices.

Every tobacco farmer especially should read the half page advertisement of the Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Company in this issue. The nine years record of this company establishes the fact that they lead all other warehouses in prices, and make money for the farmers who sell with them.

On the Greenville market this season they are operating two houses, both under excellent and experienced management, the Star managed by Mr. F. D. Foxhall, and the Gum by Mr. J. J. Gentry and they look well after the interest of all farmers who sell at these houses.

Electrical Engineering Exhibition

LONDON, Sept. 21.—The third triennial Exhibition of Electrical Engineering and Machinery will open at Olympia Saturday and continue for one month. The exhibition will be international in character and is expected to be the largest affair of its kind ever held. In the foreign section the American and German manufacturers will have the largest representation.

States Senator Cornelius Cole, President Benjamin Ide Wheeler, of the University of California, and many others, has by no means been idle and is still carrying on its campaign in all parts of the state, counteracting the efforts of the suffragists with great shrewdness and ability. The outcome is still doubtful, but the women are confident of success.

GOOD ROADS LAW FOR GREENVILLE TOWNSHIP

THE AMENDMENT A SURPRISE.

Friends of Good Roads Are Encouraged Over Growing Sentiment.

To the Citizens of Greenville Township:

The road law enacted by the legislature gave the citizens of Greenville township the right to vote on the issuance of bonds for the purpose of building and maintaining good roads in Greenville township, and this law required a new registration.

The first Monday in September a delegation of citizens appeared before the county commissioners, asking them to call an election agreeable to the above law. The commissioners asked for a certified copy of the law. It was necessary to write to Raleigh to get this, hence no action was taken by the commissioners. When this certified copy came it was found that the law as originally written had been amended. This was a great surprise to the friends of the measure for they had no idea in the world that the law had been changed.

The Mooring Amendment, as it is called, nullifies the original law in so far as it relates to a new registration. It is custom where bonds are an issuance in an election to require a new registration, and this action has, and does, prevail all over North Carolina.

The advocates of good roads in Greenville township feel greatly encouraged. A great many who opposed the movement in the beginning have changed their views and are ready to vote for bonds to build and maintain good roads. Let every one who favors good roads continue the good work of winning friends for the measure.

An election of this kind usually arouses some feeling and interferes with business. We do not want to go through with it but once. Due notice will be given when the election is called to vote on bonds for the purpose of building and maintaining good roads in Greenville township. Our work should be so effective and our victory so overwhelming that after the election it will be hard to find a man who would be willing to admit that he voted against good roads.

E. B. HIGGS,

President, Greenville Township Good Roads Association.

CHILEAN ADMIRAL COMING.

He Is Expected To Arrive Here Early Next Week.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 21.—Admiral Goni, one of the most distinguished officers of the Chilean navy, is expected to arrive here early next week for the purpose of witnessing a ballistic test conducted by naval ordnance officers at the Indian Head proving grounds. The United States is endeavoring to interest the South American countries in American ordnance manufactures, with a view to securing that trade for this country. The tests at Indian Head will be designed to demonstrate the efficiency of American armorplate and armor-piercing projectiles.

Peoria Prepares for Taft.

PEORIA, Sept. 21.—Peoria is to have President Taft as her guest for the entire day tomorrow. The president is due to reach the city early tomorrow morning and will remain until midnight, when he will depart for St. Louis. While in Peoria he will be entertained by the commercial organizations and the Creve Coeur Club, the leading Republican organization of this section.

Oregon Editors Meet in Portland.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 21.—One of the best attended meetings ever held by the Oregon Editorial Association began in this city today and will continue in session until the end of the week. The programme provides for the discussion of a wide range of subjects of interest to those engaged in the making of newspapers.

Meeting of Life Insurance Men.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 21.—Many questions of interest and importance to life insurance men are slated for discussion at the sixth annual meeting of the American Life Convention, which opened here today for a three days' session. T. W. Vardell, of Dallas, Texas, is presiding over the session.

NORTH CAROLINA HAPPENINGS

GATHERED FROM EXCHANGES

And Briefly Stated for The Reflectors Busy Readers.

The first through train over the new route was a long through freight, northbound, pulled by engine No. 1011. The track is in good condition and within the next few days all through freights will be running over the new bridge.—Weldon News.

WILSON.—Mr. Stephen H. Morris, who is now in his sixty-seventh year, and perhaps one of the wealthiest planters in Wilson county, has never ridden on a railroad train, and the largest body of water he has ever seen is Neuse river. His wealth is estimated to be $75,000 and contends that he is too poor to marry—seeming to live the life of an "old bach."

It is rather an unusual thing to see a hawk taking up his abode in a thickly populated city like Goldsboro, and catch chickens, but one of these birds of prey, of the "blue darter" species, has been aggravating people in the neighborhood of Mr. C. S. Rackley's store, on John street, north, for some time, by eating their chickens. On Wednesday this hawk flew into Mr. Rackley's store and he captured it and placed it on exhibition in his chicken coop.—Goldsboro Argus.

RALEIGH.—General Julian S. Carr, of Durham, has set at rest reports that have cropped out now and again to the effect that he will make a fifth candidate in the contest for the seat in the United States senate now held by Senator F. M. Simmons, and being contested for by Governor Kitchin, ex-Governor Charles B. Aycock, and Chief Justice Walter Clark with Senator Simmons very much in the fight to succeed himself. General Carr made the positive statement that he will not get in the race.

AGAINST DOUBLE SALES.

Farmers Express Opposition To The Proposition.

We have received some letters from tobacco farmers expressing opposition to the petition of a number of merchants of Greenville to the Tobacco Board of Trade, asking that double tobacco sales be put on the market, which petition was published in The Daily Reflector a few days ago.

The farmers writing these letters in opposition to the petition give reasons why they do not think double sales are expedient, but as a discussion of the matter just now might have a tendency to produce friction between the merchants and the farmers, a thing that should by all means be avoided, we think it best not to publish the letters referred to. It is a matter that we believe the Tobacco Board of Trade will conscientiously handle in a manner which they think will best meet the interest of all concerned.

For Crime Committed Long Ago.

BONHAM, Texas, Sept. 21.—To answer for a murder alleged to have been committed forty-six years ago, former Lieutenant Daniel W. Dyars was arraigned in court here today. A Captain Harris and his son were the alleged victims. Following an argument over politics Dyars is said to have shot young Harris and then his father. He was indicted in 1865, but escaped while awaiting trial and was not located until a short time ago.

Lady's Choice Cost Three Lives.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 21.—Because Miss Elsie Ellis refused to accompany Obie Butler home from a dance at Rafter, Tenn., last night, three men are dead. When she refused to go with Butler Miss Ellis requested Olney Phillips, a boy of 17, to accompany her. When Butler saw them leave the dance he followed and shot Phillips dead. John Heading, aged 25, then rushed up to Butler and asked why he shot Phillips. In reply Butler shot Heading, killing him instantly. The third death came when an unknown person shot Butler from behind, the ball piercing his brain. Butler was 30 years old. Young Phillips was especially prominent in this section.

It's so easy for a girl to make her hair seem to curl that it would be mock modesty for her to say it does it naturally.

ADVICE TO FARMERS.

Don't Sell Your Tobacco Privately.

Ever since the organization of the Farmers Consolidated Tobacco company every moral influence that we could bring to bear has been used to put a stop to private sales of tobacco, or country purchases. This policy was adopted, and has been adhered to strictly by the company simply and solely because from our experience in the tobacco business we knew that the farmer was at a disadvantage in making a trade of this kind. So far as I know no man connected with the Farmers Consolidated Tobacco company on the Greenville market has ever purchased any tobacco in this way, and we don't intend to permit it being done.

I have seen farmers who have not been on the tobacco market for several days sell their tobacco, in some instances, at one-half its value, and while I know we have incurred the displeasure of this class of country buyers by our attitude and policy in this direction, it has made no difference with us, and this year more particularly than any year since my connection with the tobacco business, I think farmers would be exceedingly unwise to sell their tobacco at their packhouses. You are simply betting a man against his own tricks. The Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade has a law strictly prohibiting the buying of tobacco. This rule was passed in the interest of the tobacco farmers. We have lived up to it ourselves, and have tried to educate the farmers to an understanding that it was to their interest not to sell this way. They have all to lose and nothing to gain.

When tobacco is offered on the warehouse floor, every buyer has a chance at it. Don't sell your tobacco privately. It will spell loss to you.

O. L. JOYNER.

GAIETY THEATRE

Has Excellent Programme For Tonight.

The managers of the Gaiety Theatre have secured for tonight's performance in motion pictures the cream of the season. They will present the "Coronation of King George and the Fall of Troy," the latter picture being a story of the Trojan war that we are all familiar with.

Judging from the praise these pictures received in the larger cities, they have broken all records for their excellence produced from a camera and something that appears to be an impossibility. In New York City these same pictures was exhibited each night for six months in succession and standing room was at a premium every night.

Those who have never witnessed this programme should avail themselves of the opportunity and visit the Gaiety tonight.

Desperate Negro Seriously Shot.

WARRENTON, Sept. 20.—Bill Cooper, a desperate negro of Henderson, from whom a warrant was issued charging him with beating a negro woman of that town in a terrible manner, was detected here today by Officer Simon Fleming. Accompanied by Mr. E. L. Green he located Cooper in a negro pool room and attempted to place him under arrest. The negro resisted, striking Mr. Fleming a vicious blow over the head with a billiard cue, felling him.

Mr. Green drew his revolver, calling upon the negro to surrender, and upon his refusal shot him twice, once through the lungs and through the shoulder.

Anthracite Miners in Session

HAZELTON, Pa., Sept. 21.—An important meeting was begun here today by the executive boards of the three anthracite districts of the United Mine Workers. The purpose of the meeting is to decide upon a time and place for a convention of the hard coal miners at which the demands to be made on the operators next April will be prepared.

In Memory of Civil War Officers.

LEBANON, Ind., Sept. 21.—A monument to the memory of Colonel A. C. Miller was dedicated with interesting exercises here today in connection with the annual re-union of the Wilder brigade. Colonel Miller, whose home was in Lebanon, was commander of the seventy-second Indiana regiment, which formed part of the Wilder brigade.

PLANTERS TRUST vs SUGAR TRUST

Another Source of High Prices—Four Planters Hold 6-7 of Sugar Crop.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 21.—Louisiana has usurped the center of the stage as far as the sugar market is concerned because of the shortage of the 1911 crop in the opinion of those interested in the marketing of the product in this city. Four prominent commission dealers and planters of Louisiana are now in New York and are said to be in a position to dictate the so-called sugar trust as to the price of this year's crop in this state.

The 1911 crop of Louisiana sugar is estimated at 350,000 tons and the four men who are now in New York are said to control the sale of about 300,000 tons.

The Warren Rapist to Die.

WARRENTON, Sept. 20.—Promptly at two o'clock Wednesday the case of Norval Marshall, the negro who assaulted Mrs. Choplin last Saturday and later shot her father and the sheriff was called in the Superior court here.

The jury took the case at 5:50 and returned at 6 o'clock with a verdict of "guilty."

The court then ordered Marshall to be electrocuted on Friday, October 20th.

The brute stood up firmly with no emotion while being sentenced. Everything passed off quietly and there was no demonstration from any source.

GIVE VERDICT AT LAST.

A Surprise—All Still A Mystery—The Verdict.

HENDERSONVILLE, N. C., Sept. 21.—The coroner's jury met at the court house at 10:30 yesterday morning and after 30 minutes of deliberation, found that Miss Myrtle Hawkins came to her death from "causes unknown at the hands of unknown parties."

Having admitted publicly that Myrtle Hawkins died as a result of a criminal operation, the verdict assigning death to "cause unknown" came as a distinct surprise today.

In view of the fact that the coroner's jury is not supposed to have evidence sufficient to convict, but merely to establish "probably cause," the failure to return any indictments will no doubt be a disappointment to those who desired to see the murderers of the girl punished.

Girls look upon young widows as brazen things.

The shoe trust is also being swatted.

Looks like the equinoctial bluster is beginning.

When you say she's sweet as sugar now, it means something.

At the way the price is going there will be less sugar in the pie.

When one goes wrong it is customary to add "he was of a prominent family."

The recent advance in sugar puts a profit of $40,000,000 in the pockets of the trust.

The oil inspection law passed by the legislature has been declared unconstitutional.

We are prepared to say if Hendersonville people are tired and disgusted with the Hawkins murder investigation, bet those in other sections of the state are.

President Taft had an easy day, is the way a news head line expressed it. Most any one could have an easy day on his salary and all junketing expenses paid.

Early in the game there were frequent rumors that Gen. J. S. Carr, of Durham, was also going to enter the race for United States senator for this state, making five candidates for sure with a possibility of more. But General Carr has set the matter at rest so far as he is concerned, by making the announcement that he will not be a candidate.

The dealers are now robbing the cotton farmers and the government through its crop estimates are helping them do it. Because the present crop is opening faster than usual it is being picked and marketed faster, and the bears who want to buy it for as little as possible are pressing the price down, claiming that the receipts indicate the large crop estimate made by the government. As soon as the cotton has passed from the hands of the farmers to the dealers, then they will discover (?) that the crop is short and prices will push up. The decline in price now is costing the South millions of dollars which the speculators will make out of this crop.

with little thought for the niceties of the occasion, yet, a stranger does not rush into an office or private residence and shout out, "Hello, hello!" and wind up this by angrily exclaiming, "Well, why don't you answer?" There is a certain civility due over the telephone as well as in the presence of the other person.

Large corporations are rapidly instructing their employes, especially their "exchange girls," to use the shortest, and at the same time, most courteous means of calling a person to the phone. Loss of temper does not make for expediency. The man who goes to the phone in a dignified way, talks in a modulated tone, and has clear cut ideas of what he wants to say, and usually accomplishes his business in a much shorter space of time than the man who wrangles with "central" and is in a temper by the time he gets the person he wants and finds it necessary to explain to a total stranger why he is in such a stew.

The telephone is one of the most important of the modern time-saving inventions. It plays a part in the life of each one, and there is no reason why it should not prove an efficient to all classes. We strive for perfection in our mechanical development, and the human equation is fully as important as the purely industrial arts. The key note to the whole situation as relating to telephone use is, "be polite."—Greenville S. C. News.

GOWNS AND OMENS.

Odd Superstitions That Darken the Dressmaker's Shop.

"Women who wear fine dresses are as superstitious as the girls who make them," said a dressmaker. "If the lit accidents that happen in the work room were not mercifully concealed from the owners of rich gowns they would be sick with apprehension half the time. I had one customer who refused to accept a very expensive dress because a girl who assisted with the fitting dropped a pair of scissors which fell point down and stuck in the floor. That meant an order for mourning within six months. The customer hoped that by refusing the hoodoo dress she could avert the calamity, but the precaution was useless. In less than three months her father was dead."

"Girls are especially particular in their work on wedding dresses, for if a tiny drop of blood from a pricked finger should fall on the gown the bride would surely die before the end of the year. Then there is green thread. Whether the customer is there to see it or not, no dressmaker will keep green thread near spools of another color. Green thread used for basting means the return of a dress for alterations, and there is enough trouble of that kind in a dressmaking establishment without deliberately bidding for it."

"Women who are themselves superstitious are never surprised or offended at a sewing girl's untidy coiffure. The girls tumble their hair about on purpose when working on a large order, for it is a sacred belief among dressmakers that a hair inadvertently worked into the garment shows that more work is coming soon from the same customer."—New York Sun.

Famous Coffee of 200 Years Ago

Over a century ago the old French Market at New Orleans was famed for its delicious coffee. It was quite different from the ordinary coffee of today. People were accustomed to visit the French Market and drink cup after cup of the delicious beverage. Andrew Jackson, Henry Clay and other famous men praised this rare old French Blend. Beautiful women of New Orleans enjoyed it at the close of the Mardi Gras balls, and after the daily siesta. Then you could obtain ### PROMPTING AN AUDIENCE.

English Actors Give a Signal When It's Time to Laugh.

"Nothing illustrates the difference between English and American wit more, probably, than the manner in which playwrights write their lines," said Rupert Hughes. "There are few people who realize the intricacy of the science of writing a 'laugh'—that is, a line capable of producing a laugh from an audience.

"A man may write one of the funniest lines ever given to the American stage, and see it ignored by an audience because of some act on the part of the producing company or one member of that company. I have seen the wittiest remarks wasted because of the move of a hand or of the head of the comedian or actor who enunciated it. Then, again, the laugh is taken out of a line by the moving of some person in the stage setting or by the moving of some part of the stage setting itself. It is funny how the slightest move on the part of an actor, after reciting certain lines, absolutely eliminates the wit from what he has just spoken, so far as the audience is concerned.

"This is so of American audiences, but not so of the English theater-going public. They will not laugh unless the witticism is finished by a nod of the head or a certain movement of the body.

"It is on this account that certain comedies, great successes in this country, are absolute failures in Great Britain," he continues. "Something must be done when a 'laugh line' is spoken on the English stage to give the audience an inkling that the witticism has been completed. Then you get your laugh.

"Not so, on the contrary, with Americans. I remember of hearing of an incident involving one of Olga Nethersole's first appearances in this country. Several times during the performance the celebrated actress walked to the sides and exclaimed to the stage manager: 'What's the matter? Are they going to hiss me off? Why, they applaud before they hear the end of the lines.' In each instance she was told that the audience was quicker than the audiences to which she had been accustomed to playing. She was told the Americans grasped the meaning and the wit of her lines when she had spoken only half of them. The actress, although she received all kinds of applause during the performance, seemed disheartened."—Washington Post.

A Wig and a Tragedy.

It is just as well that our enthusiasm for oriental curiosities should be tempered by discretion. Eastern antiquities may be picturesque and with all the charm of mystery, but at the same time they may have a history that, if known, would consign them to the stove without benefit of clergy. Here is a story bearing upon the point and with its obvious moral. A young and extremely pretty girl went to a fancy dress ball in Chinese costume. The triumph of her makeup was a real oriental wig, and she wore it proudly. Some time after a strange mark appeared on her forehead, and this was treated as a trifling skin affection. But it refused to disappear; in fact, it grew larger, and then the specialist was consulted. It was leprosy.—Argonaut.

Color of Lightning.

The color of lightning is almost entirely due to the nature of the substance in its track that is made incandescent. The blue, red, purple or silver tints, which are ordinarily much more brilliantly marked in tropical countries than they ever are in this latitude, are due to the same circumstance as that which produces the color designedly communicated to the light of different kinds of fireworks. Each different foreign ingredient that floats in the air has its own proper hue, which it can communicate to the lightning. The vapor of iron has one kind of shine and the vapor of sulphur another.—Harper's Weekly.

Stolen Eloquence.

"It is better to be silent," said a prominent clergyman, "than to be eloquent by unfair means.

"There was once a divine whose good wife said to him:

"James, dear, the Rev. Dr. Tenthly has made over $200 by the publication of a volume of sermons. You preach much better than Dr. Tenthly, dear. Why not print a few of your sermons?"

"My love," the man whispered honestly, "they were all printed long ago."

Trans-Atlantic Cable Business

Traffic Chart of Western Union, Anglo-American and Direct U. S. Cable Business, Showing Capacity of the Cables and the Proportion Now Utilized.

Proposed Modification of Existing Arrangements

A provisional modification of an arrangement which has existed for many years has been reached between the Western Union Telegraph Company, The Anglo-American Cable Company and the Direct U. S. Cable Company, under which the cable systems of these companies now worked exclusively in business connection with each other, but operated and maintained separately, will be operated in direct physical connection with each other and with the Western Union land system.

Two objects are to be attained by this arrangement:

First, more efficient and economical operation.

Second, the introduction of new forms of service to the advantage of the public.

The Trans-Atlantic Cable Situation and Competition

The trans-Atlantic cable situation is as follows:

The Mackay group of seven cables, including the German cable owned by or worked in physical connection with the telegraph lines of that company form one system.

The French cables comprise an independent system, using both the Western Union and the Mackay land lines for their United States connection.

In competition with these is the Western Union group of cables, eight in all, owned by three separate companies, two of which are British companies owning five of the eight cables.

Two only of the British owned cables terminate in the United States, and all of them are entirely dependent on the Western Union for their connection with any telegraph system, or for their reaching any part of the business, and are now worked exclusively, so far as business is concerned, with the Western Union.

Efficiency Increased, Waste Prevented

The proposed arrangement between the Western Union, the Anglo-American and the Direct U. S. companies will bring the eight cables of the three companies under one operating control. The consequent increase in effectiveness and economy will place the Western Union in a position to offer certain advantages in cable service not now enjoyed by the public.

The other way open to enable the Western Union to make such improvements and introduce such new services as it proposes to do, would be to lay new cables. This would seem to be the height of folly. Duplication of the existing trans-Atlantic cable facilities at a cost of many millions, when there are more than ample facilities for all business, would put an unnecessary financial burden upon an already fully burdened business and would probably postpone the reduction of rates or introduction of new services.

Limited Business Hours and Idle Facilities

As at present carried on, the trans-Atlantic cable business is practically all flash service, i. e. instantaneous. Owing to the difference in time, there are only a few business hours of the day common to both sides and during these hours at least 75% of the cable business is done. This is demonstrated by the accompanying chart.

In the interests of international business nothing should be done to interfere in any way with the so-called flash or instantaneous service, and the lines should be kept clear to accommodate such messages during the few business hours common to both countries; but to continue to confine the cables to this class of service, as at present, will utilize only about 25% of the existing capacity of millions of property and places on that limited service all the capital, maintenance and operating charges.

The limited time and the character of the business, if best results are to be obtained, demand direct cable circuits between principal centres of the two sides of the Atlantic, as well as special circuits devoted to special business.

Efficient Service Requires Sufficient Facilities

To meet these requirements it is essential not only that there be at all times sufficient cable facilities, under one control, but that they should be operated interchangeably with each other, and in close physical connection with land lines as one system. Ample spare facilities are necessary to provide against the very frequent cable interruptions.

Neither the Western Union nor any one of the companies of the Western Union group has, independently of the other facilities enough to handle the business which at times any one cable may be called upon to take care of, because of some particular rush of business, or because of some cable interruption. Nor could any one company furnish all the direct circuits necessary for efficient service, although the combined facilities of the three companies are ample if they could be used supplementary to each other and interchangeably.

As it is, each company operates its own cables through separate and distinct offices and under separate and distinct management. All interchange of business is by actual transfer of the business from one company to the other, with the consequent delay and interruption of a service in which seconds are valuable.

Daily and Week-end Cable Letters

So soon as the proposed arrangement goes into effect, the Western Union proposes, with the consent of the British Post Office Department, to introduce at least two new features or services in addition to the proposed deferred rate—the

DAILY CABLE LETTER and the WEEK-END CABLE LETTER

at a very low rate for cable service only. This will enable the public to save the six to eight days consumed in the trans-Atlantic passage of mails.

Monopoly of Cable Business Impossible

There is no cable monopoly possible. The three systems—the Western Union, the French and the Mackay—will continue to exist.

The Mackay Companies is a holding organization with no physical property, but exercising through stock ownership, lease or contract, operating control of various companies owning land lines and cables which make up the Mackay System. Through this control all the various properties are operated as one system to great advantage in service over what could be given by these same companies if operated separately.

The French cables form another system.

The Western Union System, under the proposed arrangement for one operating control over the present segregated units, will be enabled to make two distinct advances in the trans-Atlantic cable business:

1—BETTER SERVICE. This will be insured by more efficient and economical working resulting from single direction over the operations of both cables and land lines.

2—PUBLIC ADVANTAGES. The greater part of the cable capacity has been and is now unutilized. It will continue to lie dormant and unutilized under existing conditions and traditions. The Western Union proposes to make these wasted facilities useful to the public by means of new kinds of cable service.

In addition, the Western Union intends to nationalize its land lines by opening them to all trans-Atlantic cable companies.

FELL AMONG THIEVES.

And the Old Man Didn't Know Which Set Was the Worst.

An old man from rural England with his wife was on a holiday in London and decided on an evening at a theater. He looked up the advertisements in the papers and selected a house where "All Baba and the Forty Thieves" was being played. It was a "cheap" house, the price of stalls being given as two-and-sixpence. The farmer was surprised, however, on arriving at the box office to be met with a demand for 6 shillings for the two tickets. The extra sixpence per seat, it was explained, was for booking. Then he was called upon to pay sixpence for a program, and the female attendant who showed him to the seats also asked for sixpence, in addition to which there was a shilling to be paid for hats and coats being taken care of in spite of his protest that they could take care of them themselves. A footstool was brought for his wife and was accepted without suspicion that it would be charged for, but the attendant who brought it demanded another sixpence, and finally opera glasses were handed to them and payment of another sixpence requested. Then the farmer went in search of the manager and, finding him, said in a tone of deepest disgust: "You may do what you like with these tickets. There are so many thieves in front of the house that we don't think we want to see the forty on the stage!"—London Answers.

THUNDERSTORMS.

They Kill Over 300 Persons a Year in Madagascar.

Thunderstorms never occur in the arctic regions, and even the north of Scotland very seldom suffers from such a visitation. The nearer you get to the equator the more frequent and severe are the electric manifestations. In parts of Central Africa the average of thunderous days rises to the astonishing total of 250 per annum.

Yet there are curious exceptions. In Java and Sumatra, both intensely hot climates, there are but ninety-two storms yearly, and in Borneo only fifty.

The Gold coast of Africa has only sixty a year, which is less than occur in Florida, though the latter country is outside the tropics.

In Jamaica there is a thunderstorm every day during the rainy season, which lasts for five months. These storms almost always occur between midday and 3 in the afternoon.

Perhaps the most astonishing fact with regard to thunderstorms is that the island of Mauritius, which is only 550 miles east of Madagascar, has, on an average, only one thunderstorm in eighty years. Yet in Madagascar the lightning is more destructive than any where else in the world, the annual death toll being over 300.—Pearson's Weekly.

Costly Privacy.

Although a waiter, he was very human, so when he perceived that the young couple who had been assigned to his table had many matters tender and confidential under consideration he retreated to a respectful distance and stared at the opposite wall. The restaurant proprietor disapproved of that humanitarian attitude.

"Don't stand away back there," he said. "Go up and hang over that fellow's chair back for awhile."

"Oh, no," expostulated the human waiter. "They want to talk."

"Of course they do," the proprietor retorted. "That is why I want you to butt in. Every time you come near they will send you to the kitchen for a fresh order to get you out of the way."—New York Times.

Grim Rites.

A prison sale is held annually in Paris. The articles offered for sale are the clothes of murdered people, the instruments with which the crimes have been committed and the effects which have belonged to the deceased prisoners. Articles which have been taken to the prefecture of police and have not been claimed are also sold. The proceeds go to the Paris almshouse. Unclaimed jewelry is usually bought by ordinary brokers, but the articles which have belonged to criminals, especially those who are notorious, are bought at high prices.

Dodging a Difficulty.

"Are you going to send the Sparkler girl a wedding present?"

"No, old Sparkler and I had a squabble yesterday."

"That's too bad. What was the cause?"

"I really can't afford his friendship. He has five marriageable daughters."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Fast Talker.

The orator spoke about the things he had not said, the things he did not believe and the things he would not do.

"That fellow," observed the sailor, "is talking at the rate of about thirty notes an hour."—Judge.

A Faithful Likeness.

A Strong Player.

Mother—What do you think you will make out of my daughter's talent? Professor—About a dollar a lesson. If the piano holds out.

Our pleasures come in faint outline, our pains in solid chunks.

THE COMSTOCK LODE.

A "Strike" That Was Destined to Influence the World's Finances.

"You've struck it, boys!" Thus said Henry Paige Comstock to Peter O'Reilly and Patrick McLaughlin, who were his fellow prospectors in a search for gold in Six Mile canyon, near the present Virginia City, then capital of Nevada. The date was June 10, 1859. In that remote spot in the American wilderness by these three obscure men was made on that day a discovery destined to affect the current of American politics for a score of years and to have for long a disturbing influence on the world's finances.

The thing which was "struck" on that June day of 1859 was the vein covering what came to be known as the Comstock lode, in which were hidden the richest deposits of silver ever found anywhere on the globe. Their development years afterward simultaneously with that of the silver mines of Colorado started the downward flood in the price of silver which broke the old ratio between the money metals, changed the monetary system of the leading nations from the double to the single gold standard, incited the movement, beginning in 1877 under the leadership of Richard P. Bland, for the reopening of the mints to silver on the same terms as to gold, led hence to the passing of the Bland-Allison limited silver coinage law of 1878 and to that of the Sherman silver bullion deposit act of 1890 and was the issue which split the two great parties and made havoc among the smaller ones in 1896, resulting in the act of 1900 which gave statutory recognition to the gold standard in the United States.—Atlantic.

THE EARTH'S CHANGES.

What the Fossil Remains of Plants and Animals Tell Us.

There was a time when even the polar regions bloomed with many of the splendid and varied forms of life that now adorn the tropics.

The fossil remains of these ancient forms preserved in the bosom of the rocks carry us back perhaps millions of years in the earth's history and show clearly what wonderful revolutions the surface of the globe has undergone since the first plants and the first animals appeared upon it.

Who would think of meeting a rhinoceros nowadays on the prairies of northwestern Canada unless perhaps a traveling menagerie should pass that way? Yet at one time, as discoveries of recent years prove, a creature closely resembling the rhinoceros of India and Africa dwelt in that now comparatively cold, snowy and barren region. Remains of these extinct ancestors of an animal that in our day thrives only in the tangled tropical forests and under the hot equatorial sun have been found buried in the Canadian rocks.

where now the cold blasts of winter blow over treeless plains and sweep the flanks of ice incrustated mountains.

The rhinoceros of that remote age was no less formidable a beast than its descendants, for the skull of one of the skeletons discovered is three feet long, while some of its teeth are four inches across.

The fossil remains of many other forms of animals have been found in the same region within recent years.—Harper's Weekly.

Charms of Labrador.

People are not apt to think of Labrador as a particularly delightful land to dwell in. No tourist thinks of going there for a summer vacation. Yet if Mr. H. H. Prichard's impressions, gathered while hunting big game, are to be accepted, Labrador possesses charms of scenery that it would be difficult to match elsewhere in the world. The words that he quotes from Salta-tha, a "Yellowknife Indian," best indicate the nature of these scenes: "You say the kingdom of heaven is good, my father, but tell me, is it better than the land of the musk ox in summer, when the lakes are sometimes misty and sometimes blue, and the loons cry often? That is good, my father, and if heaven is better I shall be willing to dwell there until I am very, very old."—Youth's Companion.

One Man Overcomes a Nation.

Jean Angot, who died in 1551, was a French merchant in the African and East Indian trade. When some of his ships had been taken by the Portuguese he fitted out an armed fleet that kept Lisbon blockaded until the government of Portugal indemnified him for his losses. At one time he was immensely wealthy, but he lost in speculations and in money lent to the King of France, and the closing years of his life were passed in destitution.

The Truthful Milkman.

Mrs. Youngwed—It's all right, dear, I've spoken to the milkman about it, and he explained that they fill the bottles so full with milk there's no room left for any cream on top.—London Telegraph.

No Hope.

"Well, how are you getting on with your admirer, Alice?"

"Oh, I have given up all hope now. We got stuck in a lift for three hours yesterday, and even that didn't make him propose."—Fliegende Blätter.

The Penalty.

"There seems to be a penalty provided for everything but stealing a man's daughter."

"There's a penalty for that too." "I'd like to know what it is." "Hard labor for life."—Houston Post

WASHING AWAY THE LAND.

Erosion of the Drainage Basins of the United States.

Investigations by the United States geological survey of the erosion of numerous drainage basins of the United States show that the surface of the country is being removed at the average rate of about an inch in 760 years. Though this amount seems trivial when spread over the surface of the country, it becomes stupendous when considered as a total or even in separate drainage basins. The Mississippi river, for instance, carries annually to the sea 136,400,000 tons of dissolved matter and 340,500,000 tons of suspended matter, and of this total the Ohio river carries 83,350,000 tons and the Missouri river contributes more than twice as much. The Colorado river, which has built up for itself a vast delta, brings down more suspended matter than any other river in the United States, delivering annually 387 tons for each square mile of its drainage basin or a total of 100,740,000 tons.

The rivers of the United States carry to tidewater every year 270,000,000 tons of dissolved matter and 518,000,000 tons of suspended matter. This total of 788,000,000 tons represents more than 350,000,000 cubic yards of rock or 610,000,000 cubic yards of surface soil. If this erosive action had been concentrated on the Isthmus of Panama at the time of American occupation it would have excavated the canal in about seventy-three days.

A FAMOUS DWARF.

Boruiwaski, the Pole, Was Handsome, Scholarly and Witty.

A notable dwarf who, had a long lease of life over parts of two centuries—he was born in 1739 and died in 1837—was Boruiwaski, the Pole, of whose debut an interesting tale is told. As a boy of fifteen, when he was just one inch higher than a two foot rule, Boruiwaski was presented to the Empress Maria Theresa, who was so charmed by his good looks and grace that she seated him on her lap and gave him a hearty kiss. To the queen's question as to what he considered the most interesting sight in Vienna the dwarf replied, "What I now behold, so little a man on the lap of so great a lady." This speech referred the little fellow a great favorite.

He became a special favorite of Stanislaus II, who took him to England and introduced him to George III, and for more than half a century Boruiwaski made his home at the English court.

This dwarf, who at his tallest was a yard and three inches, had a sister whose head just reached her big brother's shoulders. Boruiwaski was not only a handsome and courtly man, but a scholar of repute. He lived in five reigns, and when he died, lacking only two years of reaching the century mark, he was laid to rest in Dunham, side by side with the Falstaffian Stephen Kemble.

SMILE WHEN YOU LOSE.

Then Brace Up and Start Right in to Become a Winner.

Be as good a loser as you are a winner—a hard task to set a man, but not an impossible one. Many have met it. Those who have are those who win more than they lose, for nothing inspires success or victory like calmness in defeat or coolness under stress. It is true in business, in politics, in sports, in any sphere of competitive endeavor.

Not only that, but nothing is quite as disconcerting to one's opponent in one of life's contests as the ability to lose with a smile and well directed effort to regain the lost. Any man who has run a foot race or boxed or wrestled or played ball knows that.

But nobody has any time for the man who is forever lamenting his own loss or defeat. The world simply credits him with being what it terms a "grouch," which means a poor loser, and passes him by for a more agreeable man. Any one can be a good winner, but it takes a man to be a good loser.

The philosophy of life itself teaches that in all of its precepts. Some one has to lose. It may as well be you, perhaps, so far as the good of the world goes, as your neighbor. It makes for unselfishness to keep that in mind.—Omaha Bee.

Ancient History.

"I'm satisfied," said the young man who was just home from college, "that the science of electricity was understood before the flood."

"Don't be a fool," snorted the old gentleman.

"Beg pardon, but Noah must have certainly used some kind of an ark light."

Warned.

Engaged Man—Love me? Why, she actually counts the kisses I give her! Cynical Friend—That's bad. She may keep it up after your marriage.—Boston Transcript.

One of Those Crazy Questions.

"Well, great guns, Jones! I see you're wearing glasses. What for?" "For a sprained knee, you darned fool! What do you suppose?"—Toledo Blade.

Another Trouble.

The trouble with most men is that they want to be at bat all the time and are never willing to do any fielding.—Chicago Record-Herald.

FRANK WILSON, The King Clothier.

GREENVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA

Social and Personal

D. J. Whichard, Jr. Reporter

Mr. T. A. Person returned this morning from Richmond.

Mr. S. J. Everett is spending this week in Williamston attending court there.

Mr. J. S. Cockrell went to Farmville today.

Mr. A. M. Moseley went to Charlotte today.

Miss Etta Hines left this morning to visit relatives in Farmville.

Mrs. Zeno Brown and child and Mrs. Frank Wilson and child went to Bethel this morning to visit their sister.

Mrs. Olive Clark went to Hamilton today.

Mr. T. W. Whitehurst went to Hamilton today to attend the funeral of his father-in-law, Mr. LaFayette Moore.

Miss Louise Boyd went to Staton today.

Mrs. W. J. Boyd and little daughter, of Ayden, who have been visiting relatives here, left this afternoon.

Pretty Home Marriage.

On Wednesday morning, September 20, 1911, at eleven o'clock, friends witnessed at the residence of Mrs. Pattie Vaughan, a beautiful home wedding, when Mr. James H. Randolph, of House, N. C., was united in marriage to Miss Pattie Vaughan, the charming daughter of Mrs. Pattie Vaughan.

The house had been decorated for the occasion with ferns and potted plants, and promptly to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Mabel Vaughan, sister of the bride, came the little boys, Francis M. Vaughan, Jr., and Leon T. Vaughan, Jr., nephews of the bride, bearing the ribbons to form an aisle to a beautiful arch under which the bride and groom were to stand, then came the bride gowned in blue cloth, with hat, gloves and shoes to match, carrying a large bouquet of white asters, leaning on the arm of her sister, Miss Emma Vaughan, of Whitakers, who was handsomely gowned in white voile over messaline with bead trimming, carrying pink asters. The bride and maid of honor were met at the altar by the groom and best man, Mr. Leonard Randolph, of House. The words that made them man and wife were spoken by Elder A. J. Moore. After the ceremony the bridal party left in automobiles for Hobgood to take the south bound train for Port Tampa, Fla., and other points South.

The handsome and useful display of presents betokened the esteem in which the young couple were held.

Among the out of town guests were Mrs. F. M. Vaughan and children, of Norfolk; Misses Ruth Moore, Emma Vaughan and Elder A. J. Moore, of Whitakers; W. L. Vaughan, L. L. Stencil, Charlie Stencil and Miss Carrie Simmons, of Washington; Dr. and Mrs. F. M. Register and Miss Sewell, of Tillery; Messrs. L. A. Randolph, F. E. Randolph, and Mr. Shelton, of House; Miss Roland Jenkins, of Greenville; Mr. and Mrs. Leon T. Vaughan and children, of Nashville.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

Can Furnish The House.

You have been reading about the many nice ready-to-wear goods at C. T. Munford's big store. This is a reminder that he can fit out your house as well as your person. His line of furniture, both full sets and odd pieces, hall racks, china closets, chairs of all kinds, carpets, art squares, rugs, and all such things for the house, can be surpassed by no other dealer. Quality and price will suit you. Don't forget that for anything nice and serviceable to wear or anything to furnish the house, you should go to Munford's.

Forgiving.

Constance was three. Her mother, having forgotten to do something for her which she had promised, said: "Oh, darling, I forgot it! Wasn't it naughty of me?" Constance replied consolingly, "Oh, no, mother, dear; not naughty, only stupid!"

"THIS IS MY 44th BIRTHDAY."

Henry L. Stimson.

Henry L. Stimson, who holds the war portfolio in President Taft's cabinet, was born in New York City, September 21, 1867. After leaving preparatory school he entered Yale and was graduated in 1888. Later he took the law course at Harvard law school. In 1890 he became a member of the law firm in New York of which Elihu Root was the senior partner. Mr. Stimson first came prominently into the public eye as United States district attorney for the southern district of New York, a post to which he was appointed by President Roosevelt in 1906. In his three years in office Mr. Stimson prosecuted the so-called sugar trust and the New York Central railroad for rebating, and secured the imposition of enormous fines. He appeared personally before the Supreme court of the United States and argued against the appeals taken by the New York Central, winning against every appeal. A year ago Mr. Stimson was the unsuccessful candidate of the Republicans for governor of New York.

TWO DEATHS IN HAMILTON.

Both Of Them Connected In Greenville.

Mrs. Sarah E. Davenport died a few days ago at her home in Hamilton. She was 70 years of age and a sister of Mr. D. C. Moore, of Greenville. Mr. LaFayette Moore, of Hamilton, died Wednesday. He was the father of Mrs. T. W. Whitehurst, of Greenville.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Pick Ups and Hand-me-Downs.

Knights of Pythias meet tonight. Just now the days and nights are of equal length, and soon the nights will be the longest.

Farmers don't like the slump in the price of cotton.

The electric lighted flower plant in the window at A. B. Ellington & Co.'s is something pretty.

The Jewish new year will begin Friday evening at sunset.

Next week the Training school will also open.

Record of the F. C. Tobacco Co.

The Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Co. has been doing business in Greenville for nine years, and we have never yet heard of a single reason given why this company should not receive the support and patronage of the tobacco farmers. It has boasted from its organization that it supplied the very best men to fill the various positions in the warehouse, and in addition, has used its influence in every possible way to advance the best interest of the tobacco growers. No possible objection can be made against this company, except by those whose interest it is to destroy it. It has lived and prospered in spite of the attacks of its enemies, and has a record it points to with pride.

Being married to a strenuous woman prevents a man from living the simple life.

A Hospital Nurse's Hands.

As an example of trademarks have you ever noticed the hands of the hospital nurse? The soft white hand which in fiction is occupied in cooling fevered brows does not exist and could not. It is a skilled hand, but its work makes it rough and chapped. Try bathing your hands in disinfectants twenty times a day and you will find that, look after them as you may, they will soon be seamed with cracks, which an east wind often turns to bleeding cuts. And as they are worked hard for some twelve or thirteen hours a day the nurse takes a somewhat larger size in gloves than most women. If you ever see the photograph of a hospital nurse you may observe that she prefers to keep those hands behind her back.—London Chronicle.

Longest Family Tree.

The biggest family tree in the world is believed to be the one which traces the genealogy of Queen Elizabeth back to King David and thence to Adam, or at least as near to Adam as one could get. The coat of arms is given in almost every case, with full particulars of the dates of births and deaths. The labor of providing coats of arms is abandoned before Methuselah's time, but the chart measures forty-five feet and certainly does take one through a maze of nobility.

A National Mistake.

"I wonder why the English people have taken the rose as their national flower?"
"Why not?"
"Judging by the way their peerage hunt American fortunes, I should think a more appropriate floral emblem would be marygold."—Baltimore American.

Car Workers Strike Settled.

WILMINGTON, Sept. 20.—Following a conference here today between D. E. Smith, general superintendent of motive power of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, and F. M. Doughty, chairman of the grievance committee of the car workers of the company, with representatives of the men from the Rocky Mount and Wilmington shops, it was announced that the strike of repairers and inspectors of the system had been settled and that the men who are now out would return to work tomorrow morning. No details of the settlement were given out.

Kinston Lawyer Sworn In.

On Wednesday before Judge Carter in the Superior court here, Mr. Frederick I. Sutton, of Kinston, who recently obtained license from the Supreme court to practice law, was sworn in as a member of the state bar. He was introduced to the court by Mr. J. B. James who also administered the usual oath.

Ambassador Uchida Starts for Home.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 21.—Viscount Yasuya Uchida, the retiring Japanese ambassador, left Washington today for Seattle, from which place he is to sail for Japan next Tuesday. Pending the arrival of his successor the embassy here will be in charge of Mr. Masanao Manihara, the first secretary.

Missionary Show in Providence.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 21.—"The Orient in Providence," probably the most elaborate and comprehensive missionary exposition ever held in this country, was opened in Infamy hall today, to continue until October 7. Governor Pothier, Mayor Fletcher, President Faunce, of Brown University, and other notables were present at the opening.

J. J. GENTRY, Manager.

Stop! Look! Listen!

Farmers: There is a danger sign and its purpose is to warn you against negligence and avoid accidents. Many a farmer has had his tobacco crop wrecked, his bank account demolished and his hopes crushed because he failed to let facts and figures guide him in the sale of his tobacco. Undisputed facts and sworn figures prove that the Star warehouse has led the Greenville market in high prices during the years gone by, and that it is leading today is unquestionable.

Of course, everybody can supply an abundant amount of "hot air," but when it comes to facts and figures, dollars and cents, the Star tells the tale. Now, my farmer friends, it takes facts and figures and not "hot air" to build up a bank account. We are building them every day for others. Why not for you?
Bring me your next load.
F. D. FOXHALL, Manager.

GRAY HAIR WILL MAKE YOU LOOK OLD

Use Weyth's Sage and Sulphur and Your Gray Hair Will Vanish.

Gray hair is a mark of age, and nothing that can be said as to its beauty will effect the disadvantages of this mark of age set upon your brow.

Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy darkens the hair and restores it to its youthful beauty. Our grandmothers and their grandmothers before them used sage and sulphur for darkening their hair. Nothing has ever been found more effective for this purpose than these two time-honored remedies, but Weyth, a modern chemist, has combined the two with other ingredients which makes a delightful dressing for the hair, and which not only removes every trace of dandruff but promotes the growth of the hair. It also stops the hair from falling out and makes it beautiful.

All druggists are authorized to refund the money if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agent, Moyer's Pharmacy.

FACTS AND FIGURES.

Foxhall Always Making Fine Sales at The Star.

Here they are, facts and figures, dollars and cents. Look at these sales made at the Star warehouse:

For T. W. Venters—142 @ 17 1-2, 194 @ 24, 54 @ 33, 86 @ 30, 58 @ 39. Average, $25.78.
For W. T. Harris—286 @ 8, 8 @ 7 1-2, 260 @ 15 1-2, 150 @ 25, 64 @ 33. Average, $15.94.

For J. S. Jackson—76 @ 13, 180 @ 12, 166 @ 21 1-2, 258 @ 17, 240 @ 16 1-2, 50 @ 25. Average, $16.82.
For J. J. Oakley—70 @ 11, 78 @ 14 1-4, 140 @ 20, 84 @ 25, 48 @ 32. Average, $19.80.

For Buck & Dudley—132 @ 10 1-4, 146 @ 13, 124 @ 18, 48 @ 31, 225 @ 17 1-2, 146 @ 21, 82 @ 30, 32 @ 30. Average, $18.75.

Come on with your next load. Money talks.
F. D. FOXHALL, Manager.

High-Water Mark at the Gum.

The Gum is daily making high-water marks in high prices, wiping out all previous records. I came to Greenville with the intention of conducting my warehouse in such a manner as to win your confidence and to insure the highest market price for tobacco sold on my floor. Every one who follows my sales realizes that we do a high-tone business, and that nothing is left undone to secure for our patrons the highest price for their tobacco, and we get it.

If you have not yet patronized the Gum, I want to ask you to bring me your next load, and let me make a high-water mark price for you. You will never know what can be done for you until you have tried the Gum.
J. J. GENTRY, Manager.

At The King Clothier's.

In a half page announcement in this paper, Frank Wilson, the king clothier, calls attention to the completeness of his fall stock in every department. His new suits for men and boys, new hats, new shoes and new furnishings speak for themselves. They await your examination, and there is that perfection about them in quality and style that will please you. Be wise and see this stock before you buy.

FARMS FOR SALE.

The R. G. Chatman farm on Creeping Swamp, Pitt county, containing 350 acres.

The Dennis Smith farm, on Indian Well Swamp, Pitt county, containing 349 acres.

Two tracts 60 acres each on Indian Well Swamp, Pitt county.

Also several farms in Craven county running from 50 to 2,000 acres, nicely located. Any of the above mentioned farms can be bought for cash, or deferred payments, or will trade for smaller farms. If not sold, will rent.
