

A GREAT MANY ARE ATTRACTED BY THE DAILY REFLECTOR'S MAMMOTH PIANO AND PRIZE VOTING CONTEST

Only the Most Determined Contestants Will be Winners of These Beautiful Prizes to be Given by The Reflector.

THOSE WHO ENTER WITH THE NEVER-SAY-DIE SPIRIT SURE TO BE WINNERS

Much Good Territory Left For Real Hustlers—Don't Make it Necessary For Dame Opportunity to Knock Your Door Down.

Prize For Nominators, Too.
Realizing the value of good, "live" contestants, the Contest Manager of The Daily Reflector offers a prize of $5.00 in gold to the person nominating the lady who wins the piano, the first grand prize in the contest. If the winner nominates herself she will be entitled to the $5.00 in gold as well as the piano. You are not limited to one nomination; nominate all your friends today and enhance your chances to win the $5.00 in gold.

The widest publicity has been given The Daily Reflector big piano and prize contest in the few hours since it was announced and it has attracted the attention of a great number of people throughout the territory reached by the Daily Reflector.

Nominations have been received from wide-awake people in every section in which this paper is generally circulated and from a large percentage of the towns throughout the county.

The Daily Reflector is pleased beyond measure at the manner in which its contest has been received, but, aware of the fact that it takes many nominations to make a few good contestants it invites more nominations. It invites every eligible lady within the territory of the contest, who thinks well of the opportunity offered, to send in a nomination and enter the race.

It will not be found a difficult matter to win one of the prizes offered. The principal requirements of wide-awake candidates are energy and determination. It is determination more than anything else that counts—the determination to surmount all obstacles and stick to the last. Many candidates lose interest in the race after a short while. It is the ones that do a little at every opportunity offered and keep everlastingly at it who succeed in the end.

In the districts outside of the town of Greenville there are a number of small towns from which only one or two nominations have been received and in some instances none at all. All of these points should have wide-awake candidates in the field. Every corner of the county has been given the same opportunity to win a prize, no portion of the territory covered by the contest has any advantage over the rest, not even the town of Greenville.

The prize list is large enough and selected with sufficient care to attract almost any lady who can spare a few hours to the contest. Seven prizes aggregating the value of five hundred dollars are offered to the seven most energetic women in Pitt county and the town of Greenville.

The territory has been divided into five districts and in each of these districts at least one prize must and will be awarded. In addition to these district prizes there are a magnificent piano and a Victor Victrola with ten double records that can go to any part of the territory—to the contestants standing highest at the close of the contest. These two prizes are known as grand prizes.

There are two ways of securing votes, one by clipping and sending in the daily ballots that appear in The Daily Reflector. These count as ten votes each and you can send in as many as you and your friends can secure. Then, votes are issued on all prepaid subscriptions to The Daily Reflector and the Carolina Home and Farm and Eastern Reflector. Schedule of votes awarded on subscriptions will be found on another page.

The Mediumists.

It is comforting to find occasional folks who have the courage to speak their thoughts without equivocation and the good judgment to use conservative utterances in regard to the conditions of this country and its people. When one declares himself neither an extremist in conservatism or radicalism, naturally enough the evidence is prima facie that this same citizen occupies the fence position, but when Rev. George R. Stuart declares, as he did in an interview lately with a Memphis paper, that in interpreting the moral factors in operation at this time, he was disposed to class himself a mediumist, discovering no grounds upon which to base the conclusion of the pessimist that the world is going to the dogs and yet acknowledging that the religious elements in the world are not asserting themselves with that degree of favor and efficiency which is their duty, he displays commendable poise of opinion. It seems to be a right sensible idea to be one of these mediumists, for, admittedly, the tendency is too general to reach the conclusion, on the one hand, that the world is going rapidly to moral destruction and, on the other hand, that the forces in operation making for its good are accomplishing all the results of which they are capable. The evangelist has these sound views on the situation.

"I am neither an optimist nor a pessimist, but a mediumist. I do not believe the country is going to the dogs, as some predict, nor do I believe that the moral conditions are rapidly righting themselves. The moral conditions of the country are in a state of unrest and I believe a crisis is coming within the next five years when the good people will overthrow the yoke of lawlessness which prevails in many parts of the country and that right will triumph.

"There are more straight and honest people in the world than crooks and grafters. The trouble is they are afraid to declare themselves and work for the cause as do the unprincipled. The lawless element all work with a purpose, i. e., of bettering their present temporal needs. They expect immediate rewards. Good people wish to help their fellowmen, working upon the basis that the greatest joy and reward will be the eternal crown.

"I divide the people, morally, into three classes, the good, bad and indifferent. Most of them are in the first class, but oftentimes the corporations and liquor interests round up the indifferent and when voting time comes round a lot of grafters and crooks are placed in office. The good people too often stand back and look on, saying, 'what is the use?'"

"Not enough interest is paid to politics these days. I mean in the right way. Great care and discretion should be had in selecting the men who are to make our laws, and the fellows who are later to enforce them. The pay for our lawmakers is not enough, for it falls too often to attract the well-equipped and as a result weak, impracticable and ridiculous laws are sometimes passed."—Charlotte Observer.

TWO-MILLION-DOLLAR TEMPLE

LARGE DELEGATIONS PRESENT.

Invocation by Rev. William T. Snyder, Chaplain of the Supreme Council.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The many memorable events which cluster about the making of the nation's capital must be added one other, the laying of the corner stone of the $2,000,000 Scottish Rite temple with solemn Masonic ceremonies this afternoon. The occasion was made notable by the presence of the entire Supreme Council of the Scottish Rite Masons of the southern jurisdiction, together with large delegations of the membership of the order from Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Delaware, New Jersey and the District of Columbia. Five thousand participated in the big parade through the city to 16 and S streets northwest, where the new temple is erected and where the ceremonies of the day were held.

The ceremonies opened with an invocation by Rev. William T. Synder, chaplain of the Supreme Council. James D. Richardson, of Tennessee, Sovereign Grand Commander of Scottish Rite Masons for the southern jurisdiction, delivered the opening address, after which John Russell Pope, of New York, the architect, delivered the Masonic implements appropriate to the occasion to the grand master. The Masonic rite of laying the cornerstone was then performed according to ancient usage by Grand Master J. Claude Kelper, of the District of Columbia. Rev. Richard Pardee Williams, canon of the Episcopal Cathedral of St. Peter and Paul, pronounced the benediction. The musical features of the program were furnished by the Scottish Rite Choir of St. Louis, Mo.

NOVEL PLAN OUTLINED.

Fayetteville Wants People to Buy Each a Bale of Cotton and Keep It.

FAYETTEVILLE, Oct. 18.—The Fayetteville chamber of commerce is the originator of a plan to elevate the price of cotton to a figure allowing a fair remuneration to the producer. This plan is contained in a resolution passed by the chamber of commerce urging each citizen of Fayetteville, merchant or clerk, manufacturer or mechanic, tradesman and professional man, who can by any possible means to do so buy at least one bale of cotton on the Fayetteville market and as long as he is able to do with out the funds invested in it to let that bale stand before his door as a sign of his friendly co-operation with the producer of the South's greatest crop.

It is estimated that if Southern towns and cities generally would adopt this plan at least 3,000,000 bales would be bought by individuals who are not cotton buyers and that probably half of this amount would be held until spring. This, it is pointed out by the chamber of commerce, would not only appreciably raise the price of the fleecy staple, but would bring about a new era of increased good feeling and co-operation between the town and country.

"The cause of the farmers," says the chamber of commerce, "is the cause of all" when the farmer suffers the whole country suffers. The merchants and business men generally are taking hold of the matter heartily and confidently believe the far-reaching plan of the chamber of commerce will be successful."

FOR ANOTHER TERM.

Governor Pothier Re-Nominated for Another Term.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 18.—The Republican state convention met in Infantry hall today with Congressman George H. Utter, presiding. As there were no contests for places on the state ticket the work of the convention was speedily accomplished. Governor Aram J. Pothier was re-nominated amid great enthusiasm. Lieutenant Governor Zenas W. Bliss and other leading state officials were likewise re-nominated. The platform declares in favor of reciprocity and the principles of protection as enunciated in the last national platform of the Republican party. As regards state issues most emphasis is placed on the necessity of tax revision.

WED IN PARIS.

Both Bride and Bridegroom Are Well Known to Society.

PARIS, Oct. 18.—American society in the French capital was much interested in the wedding today of Miss Madeleine L'Engle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. L'Engle, of New Orleans, and Adrian Iselin, second son of C. Oliver Iselin, of New York. Both bride and bridegroom are well known to society on both sides of the Atlantic. The bride is of long and notable lineage, and through her father by the paternal lines she is a descendant of the younger son of the Marquis de L'Engle de Pretagne, who settled in America in the early part of the last century. By her father on the maternal side she comes to English stock which leads back to Lawrence Washington, the great-uncle of George Washington. Mr. Iselin's family has long been prominent in New York. C. Oliver Iselin is noted for his interest in yacht racing. The son was educated at Oxford and has spent much of his time abroad.

MINNESOTA'S NEW PRESIDENT

FORMAL EXERCISES IN ARMORY

Most Notable Gathering of Educators Ever Assembled Here.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 18.—In the presence of one of the most notable gatherings of American educators ever assembled at one time Dr. Geo. E. Vincent was installed as president of the University of Minnesota today, succeeding Dr. Cyrus Northrop, who served for twenty-five years as head of the university. The inauguration brought to this city representatives of more than fifty of the leading universities and colleges of the United States and Canada. The day's program was opened with an academic procession in which the educators, alumni, students, faculties and guests, all wearing academic gowns according to their degree, took part. The procession was followed by formal exercises in the armory. Dr. Vincent was introduced by his predecessor, Dr. Northrop. In a brief speech of welcome, former Governor John Lind, president of the board of regents, formally turned over to the new president the administration of the university. Greetings from other institutions and from the faculty, student body and alumni of the University of Minnesota followed. President William O. Thompson, of Ohio State University, presented the congratulations of the National Association of State Universities. The formal exercises concluded with the inaugural address of the new president.

Dr. George E. Vincent, who becomes third president of the University of Minnesota, comes to the institution from the University of Chicago, where he served for ten years as professor of sociology. He was born in Rockford, Ill., forty-seven years ago and is the son of Bishop John H. Vincent, of the Methodist Episcopal church. After graduating from Yale in 1885, he engaged in editorial work for one year and then made an extensive tour of Europe and the Orient. Upon his return to America he became literary editor of the Chautauqua Press. He went to the University of Chicago in 1892 as a fellow in sociology and continued as an instructor and professor at that institution until his election last year as president of the University of Minnesota.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1911.

Mr. Taft may call it a tour as president, but it has the appearance of a political junket.

Just as well make up your mind for some colder weather now and be ready for it.

Chicago Republicans have launched the La Follette boom for the presidential nomination.

This time they found dynamite sticks under a railroad bridge that President Taft's train was to pass over.

We hope the meeting of farmers in Raleigh may have some effect in raising the price of cotton, but it is doubtful if it can do so.

With some people money only talks in passing.—Durham Sun.
But with many it does not even come in speaking distance.

It matters not how low cotton may be, nor how hard money is to get, carnivals, circuses and fairs find the folks with something to spend.

The price at which cotton is going ought to convince the farmers that they can make more money raising something else—hog and hominy, for instance.

The anarchists need not be trying to put President Taft out of office. The people of the country will retire him orderly when they vote in November, 1912.

North Carolina is glad to entertain Governor Harmon, of Ohio. There is no doubt that his visit to the state will win him some supporters in his candidacy for president.

The mail of the newspapers these days is being flooded with articles from campaign managers of candidates. The readiness with which such articles go to the waste basket ought to convince the aforesaid managers that they might save a lot of postage.

Every business man in Greenville ought to feel an interest in the proposed reorganization of Carolina club to add a commercial feature. This town is in much need of a real progressive business men's organization that will work for the promotion of the town, and the movement now in contemplation affords the opportunity. A meeting of the club will be held next Monday night, 23rd, to consider the question. Every member should be on hand.

Banks to Sell Money Orders.

The banks are preparing to go into the money order business. According to New York dispatches, 6,000 members of the American Bankers' association are preparing to cooperate in establishing a system by which funds may be transmitted with safety and at reasonable rates. The post office department handles some $750,000,000 a year, according to the figures of the bankers' committee and the banks believe they can secure a share of this profitable business. The new system has been worked out by financiers who understand the needs of business men. It must be an improvement on the plan now in the postal service, for the banks would have to give either better service or lower rates in order to compete with the government. The express companies for years have made substantial profits by selling money orders, and the bankers propose to enter an inviting field.—Baltimore Sun.

HIGH POINT.

Tonight at 8 o'clock fire broke out at the Globe Parlor Furniture company in the southern part of the city. All the fire companies responded promptly, but the fire had already gained good headway when they arrived. Owing to the inflammable nature of the material the fire made rapid headway and the plant was destroyed. The estimated loss on building and finished stock may reach $25,000. The amount of insurance is not known.

The first grand prize, the prize that will be awarded to the young woman who has the most votes in the whole contest, is a beautiful, high-grade instrument, purchased from a local dealer, in whose store it will be displayed shortly.

5 Gold Waltham Watches

The prize in each of the five districts--irrespective of the two Grand Prizes--will be five Gold Waltham Watches purchased from the immense stock of a local jeweler, in whose window these handsome watches will be displayed in the course of a day or two. These watches carry a 20 year guarantee, are beautifully engraved and are indeed representative specimens of modern watchcraft. Little need be said about the movement of these watches for the Waltham movement is too well known in this country to be questioned in the least. See these watches and know their worth.

The Second Grand Prize-- a Victor Victrola

In harmony with the record-breaking scale in which this enterprise has been launched by the Daily Reflector, is the second prize to be given in this Contest. The Victor Victrola is the last word representing musical instruments. Outside of its value as a musical instrument, its beauty as an ornament would be enough to qualify it as a most desirable object in the most handsomely appointed home. The ten records given away with this instrument can be chosen by the winner from an illimited stock.

Votes will be allowed on all subscriptions to the Daily Reflector and The Carolina Home and Farm and The Eastern Reflector, paid in advance and on all arriages paid during the contest.

Free Treatment for Hookworm Disease

ADULT HOOKWORM, AS IT APPEARS UNDER THE MICROSCOPE.

The State Board of Health, acting with the Commissioners of Pitt County, have arranged to establish temporary dispensaries for diagnosis and FREE TREATMENT OF HOOKWORM DISEASE. Those dispensaries will be open between the hours of 9:30 a. m. and 3:30 p. m., at the following places:

BETHEL, Tuesday, October 24, 31; November 7, 14, 21.
 FARMVILLE, Wednesday, October 25 November 1, 8, 15, 22.
 GRIMESLAND, Thursday, October 26; November 2, 9, 16, 23.
 GRIFTON, Friday, October 20, 27; November 3, 10, 17, 24.
 GREENVILLE, Saturday, October 21, 28; November 4, 11, 18, 25.

Dr. C. F. Strosnider, Hookworm Specialist, will be in charge of the dispensaries, assisted by a trained microscopist.

There will be lectures on Hookworm Disease and rural sanitation daily, and you can see the chief cause of ground-itch through the microscope by asking the man in charge. You can get pamphlet on Hookworm Disease, Flies, Malaria and Typhoid Fever, and the Sanitary privy FREE! at the dispensary.

REMEMBER

That if you have had ground-itch or dew poison within the past ten years, you should suspect Hookworm Disease. That we have found that more than half of the people have Hookworm Disease. The satisfaction of knowing that you do not have Hookworm Disease will repay you for the time you invest. To be examined we ask that you bring on your first visit, a small amount of your bowel action in a tin box for microscopical examination. But few people are cured by taking less than three treatments. That we give but one treatment at a time, and that the treatments are taken one week apart.

Visit the dispensaries on the dates named and see for yourself what is being done. It may mean the saving of life, as well as many dollars to yourself or your child. We are interested in the health of your family. Are you? If so, take advantage of this vital opportunity.

Everybody should come. Take advantage of this opportunity while it lasts and see if you have any of these diseases. If you have, medicines will be given you that will bring about a wonderful change in both your feeling and your health. Instead of being a tired, indolent and despondent kind of man you will be changed into one with a bright and active body and mind who goes about his work with a rush and a vim, always finding pleasure in everything. FREE! Remember these Medical Dispensaries will be in Pitt County but six weeks. Each one only open one day in the week.

This is a family that became infected with Hookworm Disease, and as a result lost out in the battle with the world and had to ask the County for aid. Treatment will restore them to health and strength in a short time and they will become taxpayers instead of depending on the county to support them. There are many others just as bad in this county and they should seek treatment. They owe it to themselves, their families, their county and State. Those who are not treated continue to carry the infection and give it to others. This is not the kind of liberty a good citizen should want. (Pridgen.)

A Victim of Hookworm Described His Feelings

"HIS FEELINGS."

"I feel tired all the time almost, and get tired very easily, and have little or no energy. My spirits are low almost all the time. I feel full after eating. My memory is poor.

"I feel that I am getting weaker. I have a disgust for fatty foods. I prefer being alone rather than to be in company with others. I have no desire even to converse tete-a-tete with the ladies. After taking a walk I feel broken down and tired all over, feel more like lying down than anything else. It tires me very much to stand any length of time. In the morning when getting up I feel tired and broken down also. Under these conditions I am not able to do justice to my work."

(The patient describing his symptoms above is a male, age 19, and weighed 145 pounds. He was raised on a farm, had a ravenous appetite, was restless at night and often dreamed. He had had three or four attacks of ground-itch, one of them lasting eight months.—W. S. R.)

IT IS ABSOLUTELY FREE

Will not cost you one cent. The dates and places that these Dispensaries will be but for six weeks. Each one open but one day in the week.

Remember that nearly one-half of the people of all ages have this disease. You are probably among the half that have it. Come and find out anyway.

HOW TO TELL WHEN YOU HAVE HOOKWORM DISEASE

Dr. Strosnider gives Symptoms—Says 55 to 80 per cent. of people under 25 who have ever gone barefooted have this Disease.

Should an individual have a mild case, he would present mild symptoms and no signs, but should he possess a medium or severe case, both the signs and symptoms would be well marked. Hence, the signs and symptoms depend upon the severity of the infection and the individual's power to make and replace the blood lost and destroyed by these blood-sucking parasites.

The first symptoms or sign is ground-itch, toe-itch, cow-itch or dew poison, when the infection is gotten through the skin, or a sore throat, slight bronchitis with cough and paleness, when the infection is gotten via the mouth by eating vegetables grown on polluted soils.

At first the individual complains of a severe itching and burning sensation, then in a few hours the place where the tiny worms entered the skin becomes red, and in about eighteen hours a few watery blisters make their appearance, which soon rupture and leave a raw surface. The foot often becomes swollen in about twenty-four hours. Again watery blisters may not appear, but in their stead a small vine-shaped swelling may be seen gradually extending up side across the bottom or over the top of the foot, the same itching intensely so much so that much sleep is lost as a result of the condition. I have often seen children bury their feet in the hot sand to get relief.

This is one of the most common, most suggestive, and the most constant signs and symptoms of the disease.

A sore throat, slight cough, paleness, loss of appetite for a few days or a chill and fever called a "billious attack", are as a rule, the next symptoms observed. If the infection be severe the individual rapidly becomes pale, weak, loses weight and soon becomes incapacitated for work. This is known as an acute case.

If the individual has ground-itch several times in one summer or is infected for several successive summers, or is not cured from first attack, he is known to have a chronic case, which, as a rule, presents many of the following symptoms:

The skin presents a tallow, tan or pasty appearance, seldom sweats, and in young men the beard is slow in appearing. Often have ulcers on lower extremities. Wounds heal slowly and bleeding is very difficult to arrest on account of hookworm poison destroying the coagulating properties of the blood.

This disease frequently causes dwarfing, both mentally and physically. It is not uncommon to find an undersized boy or girl, man or woman, as a result of this disease. I have observed quite a number of children fifteen years of age, who in both size and mental development appeared to be about ten years of age. An individual suffering with this disease frequently complains with pains in the chest and joint pains in elbows shoulder or knee. They tire out easily, become short of breath on the slightest exertion and suffer with dizziness, nausea, or vomiting at frequent intervals. Men and women often put in the day, but only do from half to three-quarter of a day's work as a result of weakness. Stupidity in appearance and in work, with lack of attention to details and an attitude of indifference frequently attracts the attention of the observer.

Many children either take no part in games at school or if they do, very little enthusiasm is manifested.

In many cases children suffering with medium or severe cases of this disease make poor progress in their school work, many repeat some branches, others repeat the year's work, while others keep up with their work but when night comes they are exhausted and nervous. It is in the latter class of cases that you frequently find young men and women completing their high school work in a nervous breakdown or having to give up their college work in the first or second year on account of poor health.

Palpitation of the heart and indigestion with night terrors are frequently noted.

Appetite; may be increased or decreased; abnormal appetite for clay, chalk, paper, lead pencils, wood, bark, salt, coffee grounds, charcoal and thread is frequently observed in medium and severe cases.

Weakness, paleness, nervousness, night blindness and defective eyesight with diseased throats can be explained by the blood becoming thin. That is, instead of our blood containing 90-100 per cent. of red coloring material, this disease frequently reduces the same down to 60 or some times as low as 10 per cent. of the normal. The average cases possess from 40 to 60 per cent. This means that the man or woman, boy or girl, is only getting from 40 to 60 per cent. of air and nourishment to give them strength and to cause growth and development of the youth. It is our blood which carries nourishment to every part of the body; it is our blood which keeps the disease germs from overpowering our body; and, it is our blood, our best friend, our fort and army of defense, and our very keynote to health, that the hookworm destroys in one of three ways; first, by holding fast to the inside of our small bowel and sucking blood all the time; second, by a continuous oozing from places where they hold fast or let loose; third, by a poisonous substance being injected into our system which destroys more blood than they use. This disease is on the principle of having a small vessel cut and then take no steps to arrest the blood flow, but with an attitude of indifference allow our heart to gradually pump our very life blood from our body to be replaced by water, and the redness of our cheeks be replaced by pallor.

When you stop to think, and then to realize that from 55 to 80 per cent. of the children and young people under twenty-five years of age who have gone barefooted in the Eastern part of North Carolina, are suffering with this disease, and in hundreds of instances with other diseases as a result of the weakening effects of this disease, it is time for every parent to make a study of the disease, have their children (and themselves if any symptoms present) examined by their family physician or the State Board of Health, and if the disease exists have treatment administered until cured.

Hookworm Disease attacks the youth and weakens their constitution to such an extent as to make them quite receptive to such dreaded diseases as consumption, typhoid fever, pneumonia, appendicitis, diphtheria and scarlet fever.

This is an actual photograph of a case of ground-itch. Note the little worms crawling through the skin. They are fifty times too small to see at this time but are very active. If you have had ground-itch you may have had hookworms. We can also get infected by eating strawberries, fruit or vegetables that are uncooked or unpeeled. Keep the children shod to prevent this infection.

The above cut with the footnotes give a picture of the infection by hookworm. The cause, mode of infection and results. The cuts inserted here tell even a more wonderful story. The cause of this and other infections lies in the use of open closets or no closets at all. Whether you have any "ailments" or not, come to the dispensaries and be examined. It won't cost you anything and you will feel better for it. Build sanitary closets on your premises and don't go barefooted for a year and the worms will die out in the soil if your neighbor doesn't bring them to you. Get him to take treatment and to use sanitary closets also and we will soon be rid of this scourge.

Friends have acted for you and brought this opportunity to your door, now act for yourself and accept it before it is too late.

Full of pathos, full of interest, is the scene at the hookworm dispensaries. One never realizes the number of children and even men whose lives have been blighted, whose minds and bodies have been stunted by this miserable disease, until he sees the number who come eagerly and hopefully to the "Hookworm Doctor" for treatment. They come in large numbers, boys and girls of 18 years, who have the appearance of 12 years. Their faces colorless, lifeless, unambitious. Hoping against hope, they come for something that will bring life into their limbs, red blood into their veins, and strength to their bodies. Does any one doubt this? Let him spend the day at the dispensary or even pay it a short visit.

It is a good sign that our people have made haste to take advantage of the treatment. It is good that there are so few scoffers, so few who are sceptical. It is true, that there are some few who have the same attitude of the old farmer who went to the circus for the first time. He was an extreme sceptic and his credulity received almost more shocks than it could stand. He saw so many things that were strange and the existence of which he had always doubted that when he saw the giraffe he was struck dumb with the consciousness that there was such a "critter". He walked around the animal and finally in an awed tone said "there ain't no such a thing". But these are in a small minority for the dispensaries have more patients than they can handle. And splendid results have already been obtained. Some of the patients have received benefits that were never dreamed of. Boys, who with sickly frames and devoid of energy, have been unable to work at all, have been enabled to do a man's work and feel as new beings already.—Sampson Democrat, Clinton, N. C.

BETHEL, N. C., Oct. 18.—The Round Dozen club held its first regular meeting last Tuesday evening with Mrs. J. A. Staton. It being time for election of officers, the following were elected: President, Mrs. R. L. Barnhill; vice President, Mrs. V. A. Ward; Secretary, Mrs. W. H. Woodard.

After a discussion of the several magazines, the guests were invited into the dining room, where a dainty salad course, followed by cream and cake, was served.

David C. Barrow.

David Crenshaw Barrow, chancellor of the University of Georgia, was born in Oglethorpe county, Georgia, October 18, 1852, and received his education at the University of Georgia. In 1878, four years after his graduation, he was appointed an instructor in the departments of mathematics and civil engineering in the university and the following year he became professor of civil engineering. In 1892 he was appointed professor of mathematics and served in that capacity until his election as chancellor in 1906. The administration of Chancellor Barrow has been one of splendid success for the university. The attendance has increased fifty per cent, and under his direction the college of agriculture and the summer school of the university have been developed to a high point of efficiency and usefulness.

What's The Good of It?

A Massachusetts man has invented a mechanical woman that will talk, another example of the perversity of geniuses.

A mechanical woman that will talk is about as necessary and useful as a mechanical whale that will swim.

We are told that you push a button in the M. W., and she starts the conversation. Throw in the clutch and she talks fast. Open up the throttle and she flings herself into the ditch.

Of course, if the gearing is geared and the spark plugs are plugging, the mechanical talker can be stopped without chloroforming or calling the plocie.

Still, what's the good of it?—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Averts Awful Tragedy.

Timely advice given Mrs. C. Wiloughby, of Marengo Wis., (R. No. 1) prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. Doctors had said her frightful cough was a "consumption" cough and could do little to help her. After many remedies failed, her aunt urged her to take Dr. King's New Discovery. "I have been using it for some time," she wrote, "and the awful cough has almost gone. It also saved my little boy when taken with a severe bronchial trouble." This matchless medicine has no equal for throat and lung troubles. Price 50 cents and $1. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

A cuddly woman can search as sharply as the rest of them when the time comes.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

Five states—North Dakota, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Oregon and New Jersey—will by law-choose delegates to the national conventions next year by direct vote.

New York state with its ninety delegates to the national conventions of the two parties next year, will practically make up one-tenth of the conventions.

Richard Yates, who was governor of Illinois from 1901 to 1905, has announced his intention to seek the republican nomination for the office again next year.

Associate Justice W. F. Ramsey, of the Texas Supreme court, who is known as a strong advocate of prohibition, will try for the Democratic nomination for governor of Texas.

Congressman Underwood, of Alabama, has been making speeches in behalf of the Democratic ticket in Kentucky, of which state he is a native.

According to political rumor in Illinois an unsuccessful effort has been made to induce Senator Cullom to withdraw from the race for re-election in favor of Governor Deneen.

Congressman Arthur L. Bates, who has represented one of the Pennsylvania districts in the house for the past ten years has announced his intention to retire at the end of his present term.

United States Senator W. Murray Crane has assumed the active leadership of the Republican party in Massachusetts, and is directing the fight to prevent the re-election of Governor Foss.

Congressman Morris Sheppard, who appears to be one of the most prominent aspirants for the seat of Joseph W. Bailey in the United States senate, has represented the First Texas district since he was twenty six years old.

It is said the Republican Progressive League of Illinois is planning to put a full state ticket in the field for the Republican primary election next year, when a governor and other state officials will be elected.

Now close to his eightieth year, John P. St. John, who was the prohibition candidate for president in 1884, is spending the evening of his life in quiet retirement at his home in Clathe, Kans.

A spirited three-cornered race is on in Georgia to succeed Hoke Smith as governor. The contestants are J. Pope Brown, former state treasurer; Joseph N. Brown, former governor, and Richard B. Russell judge of the court of appeals.

The National Republican committee, at its meeting in Washington in December, probably will decide who shall direct the campaign next year, though the definite chance of a manager will not be announced until the nominating convention is held.

At the next regular state election in Colorado the voters will be called upon to select two United States senators—one for the full term of six years to succeed Simon Guggenheim and one for the unexpired term of 2 years, caused by the death of the late Charles J. Hughes.

Something Lacking.

Oh, nut brown is my lady's hair, Her eyes so blue, so blue. That when you search their depths you're swear The sky was looking through.

The perfect arches of her brow Put nature's arch to shame, And, for her lips, she stole his bow One day when Cupid came.

She tilts her nose as who should seek To breathe a nobler air, And Venus touched her rosy cheek And left a dimple there.

Nor tall, nor short, a lovely mean In every grace is hers. Who says her peer was ever seen, By heaven above, he errs!

But though of beauties all compact Still something lacketh she, Nor is perfection's tale exact Till she makes terms with me. —Paul Mall Gazette.

Universalist General Convention.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 18.—Eight hundred leaders of the Universalist church throughout the country were in attendance here today at the opening of the general convention of their denomination. At the initial session this morning Rev. N. F. Dickerman, of Connecticut, discussed "The New Denominationalism." The convention proper will last only five days, but the meetings of the different church organizations will probably take over a week.

Must Show Mileage Book.

Railroad travelers who buy mileage books must not only exchange mileage for a ticket before boarding a train, but they are also required, on demand of the conductor, to show him the mileage book. Few people, probably, know of the latter requirement, and it seems an unnecessary one, but it was held to be proper by Judge W. J. Adams, in Mecklenburg Superior court this week.

The ruling of Judge Adams was in the case of E. L. Mason, of Charlotte, who had sued the Seaboard Air Line road for $10,000 damages. Mason had mileage and at the Charlotte station made the usual exchange. When the conductor took up his ticket he asked Mason to show his mileage book. Mason complied, but remarked that he would not do so again. On the return trip the conductor again asked that the mileage be exhibited, explaining that it was required by the railroad regulations. Mason refused to show the book and was put off the train at Lincolnton. The result was a suit for $10,000 damages. Judge Adams ruled that Mason was not a passenger until he complied with the requirements of the exchange ticket, which provide for the exhibition of the mileage, and thus the case went out of court.—Charlotte Observer.

The Milan Medicine Co., Danville, Va.

Gentlemen:—

My niece suffered for many years with a trouble pronounced by her physicians to be uric acid rheumatism and although he treated her, she never obtained relief.

Being well acquainted with Milan and knowing it had been used successfully very frequently in similar cases, I determined to put her on it. She took six bottles with the happiest results. I regard her as entirely relieved and will always take pleasure in recommending Milan for uric acid troubles.

Yours truly,
C. T. Barkdale
