

STORM OF VOTES BEGINS IN EARNEST; VOTES COMING THICK AND FAST FROM ALL QUARTERS!

First Announcement of the Standing of the Many Contestants Will Be Made Early Next Week.

WILL YOU BE ON THE LIST?

If You Intend to Enter, Get An Early Start So Your Friends Will Know
It.

Prize For Nominators, Too.

Realizing the value of good, "live" contestants, the Contest Manager of The Daily Reflector offers a prize of $5.00 in gold to the person nominating the lady who wins the piano, the first grand prize in the contest. If the winner nominates herself she will be entitled to the $5.00 in gold as well as the piano. You are not limited to one nomination; nominate all your friends to-day, and enhance your chances to win the $5.00 in gold.

The first announcement of the names of the different contestants will be made early next week, and the votes each has to start with will be shown.

Be sure to watch for this list and vote for your friends every day if you would like to see them win the piano, the Victor Victrola or one of the five gold Waltham watches.

Send In The Names.

By the time the first list of names is made public nearly every one in Greenville and vicinity will have friends or relatives in this great contest. Interest in the contest will grow by leaps and bounds as soon as the list is made public.

Every district of the contest is well represented and it is not too late to enter the greatest contest ever attempted by a publisher in this section of the state. Send in your name, or that of a friend today, the nomination blank will entitle you to 5,000 votes, and that will be a starter, and when your friends see that you are in the contest you will be surprised to see how rapidly your total will roll up.

Those who have their names on the list early will have a better chance to secure votes than those who wait until later. One contestant may have a number of friends who are also friends of some other contestant and the person whose name appears first gets the support of people who do not know that some other of their friends are contemplating entering the contest.

Keep Your Eye on The Paper.

No one will have many votes to start with, so no one need hesitate in sending her name because she has only a few votes to send in. The first few weeks will not show a large number of votes to the credit of anyone as it takes a couple of weeks to get started, but after the second week the votes should come in rapidly.

Inquiries are coming in from all parts of the county asking for information regarding different points of the contest. In order to let each one understand the terms of the contest The Daily Reflector will print daily the entire plan of the contest. Watch for the daily ad and the write up for full information.

Many persons are just waiting to subscribe to The Daily Reflector or the Carolina Home and Farm and the Eastern Reflector, and it is only a matter of getting busy. It all depends upon the early workers. Better send in your name today and get to work while the field is clear and the chances of winning one of the seven prizes are good.

Who Will Lead?

Active efforts have been made by a large number of young ladies to be at the head of the first list that will be published, and they are determined to secure enough votes to carry away the piano, whatever other valuable prize they have decided to win.

Those who have considered entering the contest but have not yet done so, should not delay another minute. Every day that a contestant delays the announcement of her campaign, she loses that much time.

An early start spells SUCCESS in large letters. Just now, while you have time, fill out the nomination blank, clip out the votes and bring them or mail them to the Contest Manager and then make an effort to win one of the valuable prizes. Just do it now—and remember that this alone may win for you that $5 in gold offered to the person nominating the winner of the piano.

MEN BEHIND THE FAIR.

List of Officers and The Board of Governors.

The Reflector has been asked to print the names of the officers and board of governors of the Pitt County Fair Association, so that persons contemplating making exhibits at the fair may know whom to look to for information. They are:

- President, J. L. Wooten.
- Vice President, A. J. Moye.
- Treasurer, J. B. Tucker.
- Secretary, D. J. Whichard.
- Board of Governors—J. R. Bunting, W. W. Bullock, J. H. Cobb, J. W. Crawford, J. Mc. Dixon, A. G. Cox, S. I. Fleming, J. F. Evans, B. M. Lewis, J. C. Galloway, R. L. Little, C. G. Little, Dr J. Morrill, J. G. Moye, J. L. Perkins, H. G. Mumford, J. P. Quinerly, W. M. Moore, J. R. Turnage, M. T. Spear, H. A. White, Carl Turnage, C. J. Whichard.

Director of Woman's Department—Mrs. J. D. Cox.

Any of these will give you any information possible about the fair. They want all the people from their respective communities to come to the fair, and as many as can to have exhibits.

Do You Know How to Plow?

There are thousands of farmers all over the land who would say in reply: "Of course we do, for we have been plowing all our lives, and ought to know how to do it." And yet how many of them have ever given serious study to the art of plowing? Hundreds of them write asking about deep plowing and wanting to know if they should plow so many inches or should subsoil further.

Now the mere matter of depth is not all there is in good plowing. Soils differ greatly in regard to the depth they should be plowed. On the rolling red-clay hills of the Southern Piedmont one can hardly plow and subsoil too deep, for the deeper these hills are broken the less tendency there is to wash, for there is a deep body of loose silt to take up and hold the water.

Then there are level clay loam soils that need drainage, and if we plow these lands and run a subsoiler below the breaking plow, the subsoil will simply settle back as before and little good will be done by the deep breaking until the field is under-drained.

Then again, all over the Southern Coastal Plain there are deep sandy soils. Now, to break these very deep and subsoil them would not only be a waste of labor but an actual damage to the soil, for in such land we should endeavor to get a sort of hard pan formed below the plowing in order to make the soil hold water and plant foods. On such soils lime applied to the surface and merely harrowed in will settle down and form just such a retentive layer below.

Hence, in the matter of depth of plowing one must take the character of the soil into consideration, and what would be deep enough plowing on a sandy soil would be shallow plowing on a red-clay hill. Where there is no clay in reach of a good turning plow, I would assume that 6 inches is deep enough to plow that soil, while on red-clay hill I would turn 8 inches and run the subsoiler in the fall as deep again in the furrows, giving a loose bed 16 inches deep.

Then, when this plowing settles and the cultivation is frequent and shallow there is formed a means for the capillary moisture to rise freely.—W. F. Massey, in the Progressive Farmer.

WELLESLEY'S NEW PRESIDENT.

Miss Helen Fitz Pendleton Becomes President of That Institution.

WELLESLEY, Mass., Oct. 19.—In the presence of a great assembly of educators and scholars, Miss Ellen Fritz Pendleton today received the keys and charter of Wellesley College, and by her acceptance of those symbols became the president of that well known institution for the higher education of women. The exercises of Miss Pendleton's induction into the presidency were held in Houghton Memorial chapel this morning and were of a very impressive character. Following a prayer by Bishop Lawrence there were addresses by Miss Katherine Bingham, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, who spoke in behalf of the students; Miss Frances Scudder Williams of Connecticut, representing the alumnae, and Miss A. C. Chapin, representing the faculty. Following luncheon in College hall the students and invited guests again repaired to the chapel to listen to congratulatory addresses from President Lowell, of Harvard University; President Faunce of Brown University, and several other noted educators.

Miss Pendleton, who succeeds Miss Caroline Hazard as president of Wellesley, is forty-seven years old and a native of Rhode Island. She graduated from Wellesley with a bachelor of arts degree in 1886 and two years later she was appointed an instructor in the department of mathematics. In 1889 and 1890 she had leave of absence to devote to specialty study abroad. Upon her return she continued as an instructor until 1897, when she was chosen secretary of the college. Since 1901 she has been dean of the college and during a part of the time has served as acting president of the institution.

Peggy Stewart Day.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 19.—The historical and patriotic societies of Baltimore and other Maryland cities, in pursuance of a custom followed for many years, today celebrated "Peggy Day," which is the anniversary of the burning of the brig Peggy Stewart, whose owner had paid the duty on a cargo of tea brought from England and thereby incurred the displeasure of the patriotic Marylanders who were opposed to "taxation without representation." The burning of the vessel occurred in the harbor of Annapolis on the night of October 19, 1774.

Vice President Sherman Presides.

LAKE MOHONK, N. Y., Oct. 19.—Vice President Sherman is presiding at the annual Lake Mohonk Conference of Friends of the Indian and Other Dependent Peoples, which met here today for a two days' session. The conference, as its name implies, is interested in promoting the welfare of the American Indians, Porto Ricans, Filipinos and other peoples over whom the United States government has been placed in the position of guardianship.

TRYING TO SAVE HENWOOD.

The Convicted Slayer of George Copeland.

DENVER, Col., Oct. 19.—The Colorado Supreme court today heard arguments on the application for a writ of supersedeas in the case of Frank H. Henwood, the convicted slayer of George Copeland. If the writ is denied Henwood will be taken at once from the Denver jail to the Canon City penitentiary to begin serving his life sentence. The killing occurred on May 24, last, in the barroom of the Brown Palace Hotel. In a quarrel over the wife of a Denver banker Henwood shot and killed Copeland, who was an innocent bystander.

School Teachers of Quebec.

MONTREAL, Oct. 19.—The annual convention of Protestant teachers of the province of Quebec began in this city today and will continue until the end of the week. After the opening exercises this morning the convention divided into sections for the discussion of separate branches of educational work.

Campbell's American Tour.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The Rev. R. J. Campbell, the noted pioneer of the new theology movement, sailed today for New York to begin an extensive American tour. After appearing in many leading cities of the eastern states and Canada he will visit the middle and west and the Pacific coast.

CAN WE REALLY STOP WORRYING?

SOME POINTS ON THAT SUBJECT

What Worry Is And How We Can Cure It.

Now it is a curious fact that man is the only animal that makes himself ridiculous by worry. The biologists teach us that intelligence—the liability to worry—exists only in those animals that possess associative memories. Numerous experiments made upon lower animals serve to prove that much of their apparent intelligent action is purely instinctive, hereditary. They do not reason intelligently. The lower forms of life seem utterly unable to profit by experience; they have no associative memories, and, of course, they are not addicted to worry. In ascending the scale of animal life interesting problems are encountered when we reach the ant tribes. It seems highly probable, too, that wasps actually possess certain powers of associative memory.

And so the higher we ascend in the scale of animal life the greater the tendency to worry, that is, to borrow trouble, to look with fear and misgiving upon that which the future holds in store, or to be unduly apprehensive concerning the difficulties and problems of the present.

Man Is The Only Animal That Worries.

Of course the fact that man is the only animal that worries is but a demonstration of the superiority of the human mind over that of the lower animals. Animals are not given to looking backward, and, as a rule, they do not look very far into the future; on the other hand the mind of man sweeps back over past ages, and, from the page of history, as well as from the perplexing incidents of the present, forms those conclusions which cause him to look with fear and trembling into the future.

The causes of human worry are indeed varied, but in the last analysis they are usually found to consist of some form of irritation, anxiety or fear. It not frequently develops that numerous habits of life and physical practices are contributory to the worry habit. The use of alcohol and other forms of psychic and physical transgression are often discovered to be the handmaidens of worry and sorrow. Lack of self control is another great cause of worry. A strong will would cure nine-tenths of this unnecessary form of grief.

Whatever the immediate cause of worry a solicitude for our own general welfare, material prosperity and mental happiness, or that of our loved ones, must be recognized as the real cause of all our worry. We worry lest we may lose or fail to obtain those material blessings which will make us and our friends happy.

The desire for happiness is generally found to be the real, fundamental cause of worry. But is it not amazing that we should forget that under no circumstances can worry ever contribute to our happiness? On the other hand worry and anxiety never fail to detract from the enjoyment of life, to destroy mental peace, and not infrequently they store up for the future that which will everlastingly destroy the very happiness for which we are wont to worry.

Many good people entertain the false notion that the possession of material riches can bestow happiness upon the soul. They are fully possessed of the idea that riches are essential to the joy of living. Accordingly they toil in anxiety, endure hardships and experience much mental torture in their efforts to provide themselves with these supposed essentials to life and happiness.

That's The Way to Do It.

We know of one farmer renting land who will not have to sell his cotton to meet his obligations because he has none to meet, says the Dillon, S. C., Herald. He is running a 12-horse farm and he made this year's crop from last year's profits. He does not owe a dollar, having discounted his own rent notes last spring, and he could sell his present crop at prevailing prices and have a clean profit of $15,000 in the bank. If there were more farmers of his kind in the South New York would not be able to dictate the prices of cotton. This remarkable farmer does not live very far from Dillon.—Monroe Enquirer.

JOHN ROBINSON'S BIG CIRCUS IN TOWN

TENTED AGGREGATION IS HERE.

The Town Full of People Having A Holiday.

Among the oldest shows on the road today is John Robinson's, and few if any have amused as many people as this aggregation. Among show loving people the name of John Robinson has always had a charm, and whenever this big show comes around there are thousands to greet it. It was so in years gone by, and it was so today.

The train bringing the circus from Kinston, where it showed Wednesday, rolled in at the Atlantic Coast Line station at an early hour this morning, but as early as it was there was already a crowd there ahead of it, eager not to miss a thing from the unloading of the train to the transfer to the show ground in Munford's park.

The rising sun found vehicles coming to town from all directions and the stream kept increasing as the day grew. As the people filled the streets the balloon vendors, photographers and other circus followers got a pull at them and began their honks of nickles and dimes. There was a constant moving between the business section of the town and the show grounds, but just before the parade they all moved down town again to await the coming of the gilded procession, taking advantage of every possible point to get a good view. The parade came along in due time and afforded much interest to the thousands of spectators. Then they fell in its wake and followed it back to the big tents.

There are two performances of the big show, at 2 and 8 p. m., doors opening an hour earlier.

To Fight Tree Disease.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 19.—In response to the invitation of Commissioner Pearson, of the State Department of Agriculture, a conference of authorities on forest culture met here today to discuss the chestnut tree disease. Immediate steps are urged to combat the disease which is reported to have cleaned out all the chestnut trees in the southeastern part of the state and in isolated areas in the Susquehanna and Mohawk valleys.

Kentucky Sunday Schools.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 19.—The largest and most notable convention in the history of the Kentucky Sunday School association—the forty-fifth annual meeting of that organization—opened in this city today, to continue over Sunday. Half a dozen churches will be used for the meeting places, which will be addressed by noted Sunday school workers from many parts of the country.

In Memory of Yorktown.

YORKTOWN, Va., Oct. 19.—The 130th anniversary of the surrender of Lord Cornwallis and the British army to the American troops, under General Washington, was celebrated today at the scene of that memorable event which brought the Revolutionary war to a close. The chief feature of the celebration in which patriotic organizations and soldiers and sailors from Fort Monroe and the Norfolk navy yard took part.

Weds Army Aeronaut.

MANSFIELD, O., Oct. 19.—The wedding of Miss Gertrude Jenner, a member of one of the oldest families of Mansfield, and Lieutenant Frank B. Lahm, of the seventh United States cavalry, took place today at the home of the bride's parents in this city. Lieutenant Lahm is widely known as an aeronaut expert and is the head of the balloon corps of the United States army.

Roosevelt to Deliver Address.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The Civic Forum is in receipt of many applications for tickets to hear Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, who is to speak under the auspices of the organization in Carnegie hall tomorrow evening. Col. Roosevelt's subject will be "The Conservation of Womanhood and Childhood."

Man gets all tangled up trying to light a pipe and talk at the same time, but a woman can visit over the telephone, feed the baby and read a letter all at once.

PLEA FOR WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE

THE 48th ANNUAL CONVENTION

Women in Attendance From All Parts Of The Country.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 18.—Delegates to the forty-third annual convention of the National American Woman's Suffrage Association took Louisville by storm today. The women have come from every section of the country, prepared to give to "the cause" the most notable impetus since the inception of the equal franchise movement. The hostesses of the city are taxed to provide accommodations for the visitors and many of them are being entertained in private homes.

The programme for the five days' session is pronounced the best ever prepared for a convention of the association. There will be reports from each of the delegations representing their respective states. These reports will embody a narration of the progress made during the past year, the plans of campaign found most effective in the different localities and an exchange of ideas through debate.

It is in the number and promise of the speakers, however, that the present convention promises to eclipse all of its predecessors. Heading the list is the Rev. Anna Howard Shaw, of Philadelphia, the president of the national organization and the most prominent advocate of equal rights since the days of Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Susan B. Anthony. Others who will be heard at the several sessions include Miss Jane Adams, of Chicago; Miss Mary Johnson, the Virginia novelist; Mrs. T. B. O'Connor, wife of the noted Irish journalist and member of parliament; Mrs. Desha Breckenridge, the Kentucky suffrage leader; Miss Carey Thomas, president of Bryn Mawr College; Mrs. Emeline Pankhurst, the English suffrage leader, and Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane, of Michigan.

Though a convention of women and in the cause of women, the fair sex do not intend to monopolize the programme. Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, the pure food expert, will be among the speakers, also Mayor Brand Whitlock, of Toledo, and Omar Garwood, of the Colorado Equal Rights Association. Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, has advised the association that he will be there to deliver an address if his other engagements permit.

Whether pickpockets touch the folks or not, circuses and carnivals lighten the pockets of many.

Let Raleigh have all the glory that is coming to her over that handsome auditorium. She deserves it.

Some of The Reflector's friends remembered us today, but it was before the circus. Guess the balance of them were broke after the show.

Baltimore is making a strong pull for the next Democratic national convention, and we hope that city will get it.

You may have hookworm whether you think so or not. The free dispensary for treatment of this disease will open in Greenville Saturday.

Money finds its way into the pockets of show and carnival folks that ought to go to the grocer and dry goods man on payment for their goods.

The Charlotte Observer has a new phrase for it. Instead of saying it is getting time to put 'em on, it says you had better be consulting schedule K of the tariff. That's all wool.

The old saying goes that almost any fellow who drinks much whiskey finds snakes in it, but it was left for an Illinois man to find a snake in his twist of chewing tobacco. It broke him from chewing the weed.

Among those being mentioned in Washington City as possibilities in a successor to Associate Justice Harlan, the recently deceased member of the United States Supreme court, are Chief Justice Walter Clark and ex-Governor C. B. Aycock, of North Carolina. Either of these gentlemen could fill the position with ability and dignity. And as both of them are senatorial candidates in this state, we imagine some others would be very glad to see the associate justice appointment come to one of them and thus reduce the number in the senatorial race.

CAN WE STOP WORRYING?

In the September number of the Ladies' Home Journal, Dr. William S. Sadler had a most timely and interesting article on the subject of worrying and how we can cure ourselves of it. So many people are prone to worrying, and often without any reason therefor, we believe to read this article will do them good. It is too long to give in one issue of The Reflector, therefore we are going to print it in twelve subdivisions, giving one a day. The first of these appears today and others will follow. They cover many features of worrying and it will benefit you to read every one of the articles carefully.

If War is This, What is Peace?

Mention the exorbitant charges for many of the present staple commodities of the people and there is a long waiting list of enthusiastic defenders of our modern prosperity who have quotations of war-time prices ready for deliverance for purposes of comparison. Leaving aside the fact that such a contrast can not reasonably be made between the tendencies of trade at times of war and at times of eminent peace, it is interesting to refute the cry with some facts that have been unearthed by a Richmond antiquarian:

In war time a barrel of flour could be purchased for $4.10; the present price is $7.75.

Hams at the time of the war sold for 14 cents a pound; the present price is 20 cents a pound.

Butter sold then for 15 to 20 cents. The present price is 30 to 45 cents a pound.

Beef sold then for 6 1-2 cents a pound. The present price is 15 cents a pound.

Coffee could be purchased for 13 to 16 cents a pound. The present price is 20 to 40 cents.

Lard sold for 8 to 12 cents a pound. The present price is 12 to 15 cents.

Molasses sold for 30 to 35 cents a gallon. The present price is 35 to 60 cents.

Interpretative comment is hardly necessary in view of such a striking comparison. It is not impertinent to recall, however, the famous expression of General Sherman when he made the striking comment that "War is hell." If the prices which prevailed for the absolute necessities of life during that tragic struggle contributed in the least to the meaning of this definition of war, it is now the imperative duty of some general of modern finance to come forth with a definition of what is peace in comparison with war.—Charlotte Observer.

The Testing of the South.

For the first time in fifty years the South now has a chance of becoming the dominant section in the government of the American people. During all this time we have held to high ideals of statesmanship. Our representatives in congress have denounced the pension graft by which the North has unjustly enriched itself. They have condemned the tariff graft by which the manufacturing East has exploited the agricultural South and West. They have reminded the country of the Exiled Dynasty of high ideals while others have engaged in a mad scramble for appropriations and sectional advantages. And at last the nation, wearying of the plunderers and

HIS TROUBLE NOT OF HEART

Real Facts in Regard To F. R. Huffman's illness. Relief Obtained By Curing His Stomach Ailments.

Waynesville, N. C.—Mr. F. R. Huffman, of this city, says: "I suffered dreadfully with what I thought was heart trouble, and tried various medicines in vain.

After other remedies had failed, Theodor's Black-Draught restored me to health. I would not feel safe without Black-Draught in the house. I consider it worth its weight in gold.

It cured my indigestion, and by this means I was restored to health. I can not express my gratitude for its benefits."

Good health depends on the condition of your digestion. Poor digestion and good health do not go together.

Theodor's Black-Draught will thoroughly cleanse and set in order your digestive system.

It has done this for others, during the past 70 years, and is today the most popular vegetable liver remedy on the market. Try it. Insist on Theodor's. Price 25c.

turning hopefully to our section for purer and higher leadership, has given us the chance of our generation. The question now is, how shall we use it—and it is a question big with meaning not only for our section but for the whole nation and its future. Let the South now in its hour of testing only stand true, overcome by no spirit of greed, tempted by no desire to get its share of plunder, recalcitrant to no-high principle its old traditions have emphasized, and it will go from strength to strength and its record will shine as the sun. But on the other hand, let the South now fall before the temptations of power and the promptings of greed, let it now ask for its share of the protective tariff graft instead of trying only to end the evil, let it now ask for its share of the national pension spoils instead of trying only to purge the fraud, and as surely as the sun shines, "Mene, Tekel" will be written in doom above our blighted hopes, and the nation, disappointed and disillusioned, will go back for leadership to the frank and arrant commercialism of the North and East. This is the hour of testing for the South. God grant she may not fail the nation and the time!—Progressive Farmer.

Social and Personal

D. J. Whichard, Jr. Reporter

Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Ware and little daughter left this morning for Greenwood, S. C., at which place he has accepted a call as pastor of the Christian church there. Mr. Ware has made many friends during his stay in Greenville, who wish him great success in his new field.

Mrs. W. H. Crawford, of Williamston, is visiting Mrs. E. H. Shelburn.

Master Burt Greene left Wednesday evening for Raleigh.

Messrs. D. M. Clark and J. A. Dixon left this morning for Raleigh.

Cannon-Smith.

Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the home of the bride, five miles from Greenville, Miss Carrie Smith and Mr. Eugene Cannon, of Ayden, were married, Rev. J. R. Tingle, officiating.

The couple came to Greenville and left on the 5:22 train for a tour of Northern cities.

Invited to Meet

With Mrs. R. O. Jeffries.

The Federated clubs of Greenville are invited to meet at the residence of Mrs. R. O. Jeffries, Friday afternoon, October 20th, at 3 o'clock, to discuss the preliminary arrangements for entertaining the board of managers of the North Carolina Federation of Women's clubs, which will meet in Greenville this winter.

A full attendance is requested as important questions will be discussed.

MRS. R. R. COTTEN, President North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Pick Ups and Hand-me Downs.

Circus day.

My, what a crowd. The folks are with us today.

No cotton picking going on anywhere near Greenville today.

Knights of Pythias meet tonight.

Keep out of the way of the elephant and the pickpockets.

The next big crowd will be here at the Pitt county fair.

The circus did not get all the folks, as the carnival drew its share.

Just two weeks to the Pitt county fair.

The new court house had hundreds of visitors today who wanted to go through the new county building.

The carnival automobile filled with megaphone spellers made as much noise as anything on the street today.

That was a fine balloon ascension and parachute jump made by Prof. Collins from the carnival grounds Wednesday afternoon.

"Chick" Johnson, with his educated pony, was in the circus parade today advertising Ellington's store and the Pitt county fair.

Hatch's 5 and 10 cent store had an attractive float behind the circus parade today, and also helped to advertise the Pitt county fair.

The circus could not have picked a better day in the way of weather for coming. Neither too hot nor too cold and not a cloud.

Greenville has not seen as large a crowd in years as the town had today.

Announcement.

I desire to announce to my friends and former customers that I am with Mrs. I. F. Lee & Co., and will be glad to have them call there when in need of anything in the newest and best millinery.

MRS. M. T. COWELL.

WHY HESITATE?

An Offer That Involves No Money Risk if You Accept It.

We are so positive our remedy will completely relieve constipation, no matter how chronic it may be, that we offer to furnish it free of all cost if it fails.

Constipation is commonly caused by weakness of the nerves and muscles of the large intestine. To expect a cure you must therefore tone up and strengthen those organs and restore them to healthier activity.

We want you to try Rexall Orderlies on our guarantee. They are eaten like candy, and are particularly good for children. They seem to act directly on the nerves and muscles of the bowels. They apparently have a neutral action on the other organs. They do not purge or cause other inconvenience. We will refund your money if they do not overcome chronic or habitual constipation and thus aid to relieve the myriads of associate or dependent chronic ailments. Try Rexall Orderlies at our risk. Three sizes, 10c, 25c, and 50c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store, Moye's Pharmacy, Greenville, S. C.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

Viola Allen's "Lady Godiva" play is to be called "The Lady of Coventry."

Maeterlick is writing a new fairy play for production in London next season.

Edna Goodrich is to appear in vaudeville with the English comedian G. P. Huntley.

Henry Nortimer has written a play called "His Knightly Hour," in which he will appear himself.

Dorothy Dorr will soon come forth in the title rôle of a play by Miss Geraldine Bonner, entitled "Bob's Sister."

"The Convict" has been decided on for the name of Guy Bates Post's new play by Edward Childs Carpenter.

"A Modern Marriage," in which Cyril Scott started out to star, did not measure up to expectations, so he is to substitute "Speed."

Kate Rorke, who was Charles Wynyham's leading lady twenty-five years ago, is playing in the newest Drury Lane melodrama.

Announcement has been made in London that David Belasco has obtained the American rights to "The Spider's Web," a play by Austin Strong.

Bob Fitzsimmons is to appear in vaudeville in a playlet by Jack London called "Her Birth Mark." His leading woman will be Magda Dahl.

Frank Keenan, report has it, has left the cast of "A Million," and will be replaced by T. Daniel Frawley. Mr. Keenan will return to vaudeville.

Twenty-five years ago Forbes Robertson was a member of Mary Anderson's company, and in that capacity was making a tour of the United States.

Weedon Grossmith's venture with "Baby Mine" on the other side of the Atlantic has attained to 250 performances, and the play is as popular as ever.

A big production will be made shortly of James Montgomery's newspaper play, "Jimmie, Jr.," which has been given a successful tryout in Los Angeles.

Stephen Phillips has written a new play called "Pietro di Siena," the first of his plays to be produced since his "Faust." It will be staged by the Drama Society of London.

Edward Peple, the author of "Prince Chap" and "The Littlest Rebel," has just finished another play called "The Call of the Cricket," in which Beulah Poynter will star in the near future.

"Nancy Hanks," the popular play by Frank Tannehill, Jr., which was produced a number of years ago with Marie Jansen, Clayton White and Ignacia Martinetti in the cast, is soon to be revived.

Mrs. Fiske will begin her season in Langdon Mitchell's new comedy, "The New Marriage," at Syracuse, N. Y., tonight. After the opening in Syracuse and a week in Pittsburg, Mrs. Fiske will go to Chicago for a season of eight weeks before presenting the play in New York.

"THIS IS MY 41st BIRTHDAY," Charles B. Crisp.

Charles B. Crisp, the parliamentary clerk in the national house of representatives, was born in Georgia, October 19, 1870, the son of the late Charles F. Crisp, who was speaker of the house in the fifty-second and parliamentary congresses. He comes of English stock and of a family of actors, the late Speaker Crisp being the only one of his generation who was not on the stage. The son received a liberal education and was parliamentary clerk to his father when the latter served as speaker. Upon the death of the elder Crisp the son was elected to fill the unexpired term as representative. When his term expired he resumed the practice of law and for ten years he was judge of the county court of Schley county, Georgia. When the Democrats gained control of the house at the last election, Mr. Crisp was appointed to hold his position of parliamentary clerk.

The Daily Reflector's Prize-Voting CONTEST

Rules of Contest Division of Districts Nomination and Vote Coupons

Rules of the Contest.

Any woman, either married or single, is entitled to enter this contest, provided she is a resident of the territory included in the contest.

No employe of the Daily Reflector, or member of his or her immediate family, will be permitted to participate in this contest as a candidate.

In case of a tie, the value of the prizes will be equally divided.

Votes once issued to a candidate cannot be transferred to the credit of another candidate.

Candidates and their friends are not limited to their own particular districts in securing votes on subscriptions. Subscriptions may be taken from anywhere.

Candidates must fill in every blank on the daily ballot plainly, their name, address and district number.

All ballots must be trimmed to uniform size, fastened together and sent in flat; do not roll the ballots.

Candidates compete only against the candidates in their own districts for the district prize, but all have a chance to win the Piano or the Victrola.

Votes cannot be bought; they must be clipped from the Daily Reflector or secured on subscriptions.

A committee of unimpeachable public men will be chosen to judge the finish of this contest and will assemble for this purpose immediately after the contest closes on Saturday, Dec. 9, at nine o'clock, p. m.

The contest manager will decide all questions which may arise in the course of the contest and contestants in entering this contest agree to abide by any and all rulings which he may make.

Here's your chance!

How the Prizes will be Distributed

The town of Greenville and Pitt County have been divided into five districts, as follows:

- District 1. The town of Greenville and all of Greenville township (both sides of the river).
- District 2. Bethel, Belvoir, Carolina and Pactolus townships, and all towns included in these townships.
- District 3. Farmville, Falkland and Beaver Dam townships including all towns.
- District 4. Contentnea township, embracing the towns of Winterville and Ayden.
- District 5. Chocod and Swift Creek townships, including the towns of Grimesland and Grifton.

Coffee Goodness that has Spanned the Centuries

From the historic past of old New Orleans has come down to us across the centuries, a marvelously delicious coffee blend. So good is it that it has been an undisputed leader for over a hundred years. And today its use is rapidly increasing among people who love good coffee. It is, and always has been, the choicest Pan-American grown berry, roasted by a Unique Hygienic Process that while retaining and intensifying all the natural flavor and aroma. Until the building of the French Market Mills this rare old could be had only at the French Market in New Orleans. But NOW you all may enjoy it, daily, at your own table. For it is now sold everywhere in hermetically-sealed tins, in all its natural strength and delicious aroma.

Eliminates Harmful Elements

French Market Coffee

"There is only one real old French Market flavor"—only one coffee with a history.

PITT COUNTY FAIR NOVEMBER 2 AND 3

Governing Board Getting Everything In Readiness

FRIDAY WILL BE A SCHOOL DAY

All Teachers Invited to Come And Bring Their Schools—Commissioner of Agriculture Graham Will Make Opening Address on Thursday—Fair Free to Everybody.

The governing board and township committees of Pitt County Fair Association held a meeting here Friday in office of President J. L. Wooten to further discuss details for the first county fair to be held here on Thursday and Friday, November 2 and 3.

It was gratifying to hear that so much interest has been aroused all over the county in the fair and that there is every indication that it is going to be a great success, both in exhibits and attendance. As everything about the fair is to be free to everybody—no charge for admissions nor for entering exhibits—it should draw a large crowd. At the same time the Pitt County Fair Association, aided by the State Board of Agriculture, will give liberal premiums for exhibits.

Those persons who are to make exhibits should let the president or secretary of the fair know as far in advance as possible, so that the necessary space can be provided for them. Also the most of the exhibits should be here by Wednesday evening, November 1st, so they can be arranged that night ready for the opening of the fair Thursday morning, and all exhibits should be in by 9:00 o'clock Thursday.

The fair will open to the public at 10 o'clock on Thursday, November 2, and Hon. W. A. Graham, state commissioner of agriculture, will deliver the opening address at 11 o'clock.

The board of governors at Friday's meeting renewed the invitation to manufacturers and dealers in farm machinery and farm implements to make exhibits at the fair. This is open to all manufacturers of and dealers in any kind of farm implement.

On the premium list that has been sent out, attention has been called to the omission of some crops that might have been included, so the premium committee decided that any meritorious article exhibited, even if not mentioned specially in the premium list, will be properly rewarded.

It was decided to make the second day of the fair, Friday, a school day, and an invitation is extended to every teacher in the county to bring their schools to the fair that day. It will be worth much to the pupils to see and learn what their county is doing. It is hoped to have a school parade that morning, and details of this will be announced later if the plans for the parade can be perfected.

Now, if people all over the county take hold and do their part, November 2 and 3 are going to be great days for Pitt county.

The governing board will meet again on Friday, October 27th.

How To Get More Out Of Your Hay Crop

Whether you feed or sell your hay, it should be baled. Baled hay takes up much less room and nets a better price than loose hay. It is always ready for any market at top price, while loose hay must be sold near home, at whatever you can get.

I H C HAY PRESS

have many points of strength, simplicity, and convenience found in no other presses. They are equipped with a compound lever and a toggle joint plunger, which gives them great compressing power. A 500 pound pull on the sweep of a 16x18 I H C press gives 76,800 pounds pressure in the bale chamber.

The bed reach is only 4 inches high and very narrow. The bale chamber is very low—easy to reach over to tie the bale.

If you examine an I H C hay press you will appreciate its value as a money saver and money maker.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.
