THE RATIO OF WHITE AND COLORED

AS SHOWN BY THE LAST CENSUS.

The Population of North Carolina According To Color.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 1.—A preliminary statement of the white and negro population of North Carolina, by counties and principal cities, as shown by the returns of the thirteenth decennial census, taken as of April 15, 1910, was issued today by Director Durand, of the bureau of census, department of commerce and labor. The statistics were prepared under the direction of William C. Hunt, chief statistician for population in the census bureau, and are subject to later revision.

The total population of North Carolina in 1910 was subdivided as to color as follows: White, 1,500,513; negro, 697,843; all other persons (Indians, Chinese, and Japanese), 7,931. The equivalent figures for 1900 were White, 1,263,603; Negro, 624,469; all other, 5,738. For 1890 they were: white, 1,055,382; negro, 501,018; all other, 1,549.

The negro population constituted 31.6 per cent of the total population of the states in 1910, as against 33 per cent in 1900 and 34.7 per cent in 1890.

There has been an increase since 1900 in the negro population of 73,374, or 11.7 per cent, as compared with an increase during the preceding decade of 63,451, or 11.3 per cent. The white population shows an increase during the past decade of 236,910, or 18.7 per cent, as against 208,221, or 19.7 per cent during the preceding decade.

Charlotte city had a population in 1910 of 34,014, comprising 22,259 whites, 11,752 negroes, and 3 other persons. The equivalent figures for 1900 were: White, 10,938; negro, 7,151; all other, 2. For 1890 they were: White, 6,417; negro, 5,134; all other, 6.

The white and negro population of Charlotte constituted 65.4 and 34.6 per cent, respectively, of the total in 1910, as against 60.5 and 39.5 per cent in 1900, and 55.5 and 44.4 in 1890. The white population more than doubled itself during the decade 1900-1910, the increase being 11,321, or 103.5 per cent, as compared with 4,521, or 70.5 per cent, for the preceding decade. The negro population increased at a higher rate than during the preceding decade but at a much lower rate than that for the white element. The increase in the negro population was 4,601, or 64.3 per cent, from 1900 to 1910, as compared with 2,017, or 39.3 per cent from 1890 to 1900.

The population of Pitt county in 1910 was 36,340, of which 18,233 are white, and 18,106 colored. In 1900 the total population was 30,889; white, 15,397; colored, 15,492.

Oklahoma Teachers Meet.

EDMOND, Okla., Dec. 1.—An army of visiting educators took possession of the State Normal School here today, the occasion being the opening of a joint convention of the Central Oklahoma Teachers' Association and the Oklahoma Academy of Sciences. An instructive two day's programme has been prepared for the gathering.

Vice Regal Visit to Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Ont., Dec. 1.—The Governor General and the Duchess of Cornwall met with an enthusiastic reception upon their arrival here today from Toronto. The city was elaborately decorated in their honor. Their royal highness will be the guests of Hamilton until tomorrow morning when they will return to Ottawa.

It seems as if the only way to make some men want to come home early at night if for their wives to be away on a visit.

The Norfolk Southern, through its land and agricultural agent, Mr. Rice, is co-operating with The Daily Reflector in the edition of the special number which will appear about December 9th. Over a thousand copies of this edition will be forwarded through the Norfolk Southern to as many Western people of sterling character and who have expressed interest in Eastern North Carolina.

CAROLINA LOSES BOTH GAMES.

Richmond Score, 28 to 0; Norfolk Score, 8 to 1.

Thousands of people from all sections of North Carolina went to Richmond and Norfolk Thursday to attend the football games. The game at Richmond was between the university teams of the two states, and the score was 28 to 0 in favor of Virginia.

At Norfolk the game was between V. P. I. of Virginia and A. and M. of North Carolina, this game ending 3 to 0 in favor of Virginia, the only score being made in the last few moments of the game. The A. and M. boys put up a clever contest, and at several points in the game it looked like they would win, but the quick work of the V. P. I. boys blocked their movements.

MURDER CASE.

To be Tried for the Killing of his Sister.

ROCKVILLE, Md., Dec. 1.—After repeated delays and postponements it now appears certain that the trial of Richard W. Allnutt, accused of murder, will be taken up in the Montgomery county district court here early next week. Numerous features in connection with the case combine to give promise of one of the most notable murder trials that taken place in this section in many years.

The crime with which Allnutt is charged is the murder of his sister, who was slain at her mother's home near Dawsonville, this county, on March 14 last. Several months before the tragedy Allnutt had married and after his marriage had boarded at the home of his brother, Lawrence Allnutt, at Dawsonville.

Richard Allnutt was desirous of taking his wife to his mother's home to live, but there had been objection on the part of members of the family and Allnutt went to his old home on the morning of the alleged murder to talk the matter over. The refusal of his family to consent to the proposed arrangement is said to have angered Allnutt who is alleged to have grabbed a pitchfork and viciously attacked his sister, Mrs. Viers; his aged mother and the latter's old friend and companion, Miss Jane Rawlings. Mrs. Viers' skull was crushed and she died in a few hours after the attack. Mrs. Allnutt and Miss Rawlings recovered, though for a time their condition was critical.

During the long period of his confinement in jail awaiting trial the wife and aged mother of Allnutt have been steadfast in their loyalty to him. Three noted criminal lawyers, W. Outerbridge Spates of Rockville, Arthur Peter of Washington and Marshall McCormick of Berryville, Va., have been engaged for the defense. Several eminent alienists will be put on the stand in an effort to prove that Allnutt was insane at the time he is alleged to have murdered his sister.

OPIUM CONFERENCE.

Representatives From Many Nations Attend International Conference.

THE HAGUE, Dec. 1.—Representatives of many nations have assembled here to take part in the much-delayed international conference for the suppression of the opium traffic. The purpose of the conference is to give effect to the resolutions of the international opium commission, which met in Shanghai early in 1909, and to endeavor to secure an agreement upon uniform national laws and derivations and preparations. The effort will also be made to regulate the shipment of opium, restrict the cultivation of the poppy, authorize the search of vessels for contraband opium and finally to create an international commission to carry out the agreements.

Bishop Brent of the Philippines, heading the American delegation, has been selected to preside at the conference. Other members of the American delegation are Dr. Hamilton Wright of Maine and Henry F. Finger of California, with Frederic L. Huldekoper of Washington, D. C., as secretary.

The British delegates are Cecil Clement Smith, who attended the conference at Shanghai; Sir William Stevenson Meyer, former financial secretary in the Government of India; William Grenfell Max-Mueller, councillor-embassy at Peking and Sir William Collins, an eminent medical authority.

Miss Fannie Lee Spier of District Number Two Maintains Her Lead

End of Contest is only 9 days off, still winners can not be named in closest battle of good-natured rivalry

Five Thousand Extra-Vote Offer Closes Tomorrow Night at 9:00

Further plunge in Voting Schedule begins next Monday--No more Free Votes after tomorrow night--absolutely last offer in this Contest

Because The End Is So Near, It Does Not Necessarily Follow That Any Contestant Is Nearer Any Of The Prizes--Go Right Out Today And See All Those That Promised You Their Subscriptions.

With but nine days before them the contestants have their work cut out for them if they mean to be winners. A week from tomorrow every vote will be counted and the prizes awarded to the young ladies who stand highest in the count. Although subscriptions and votes are being received in plenty we are still very far from being able to designate the winner. In fact, it will be a very close count, as we have already mentioned. In every district there are at least four or five young ladies who are bidding strong for the capital prize--the Gordon and Son piano. Most of these contestants have been very busy these last few days taking full advantage of the last vote offer. Up to 9 p. m. tomorrow night every candidate bringing in sets of two yearly subscriptions will receive the benefit of 5,000 extra votes. Four six months subscriptions or a two yearly subscription will count on this offer. Failure to bring in subscriptions before then will cost many thousands of votes at a most critical time in the contest.

A Further Call.

With next Monday, the beginning of the last week, the voting schedule will further go down, and vote-getting will be a little more conservative than up to now. Contestants were given some few weeks ago the schedules that would be in force right up to the close. If they failed to take careful notice of it, they will certainly feel sorry for it. Prizes of unquestionable value and use were placed within their grasp; methods to obtain same were carefully given. It is clear that only those that took full advantage of our advice when we gave it, will see their hopes materialized. Those that from the beginning planned a systematic campaign and have followed it to the letter will see their efforts rewarded.

As The End Approaches.

Don't give up just because the end is drawing to a close. But rather call together all of your friends and tell them what their help just now will mean to you in a week from tomorrow. Don't grow dejected and discouraged. Most of the contestants still have the same good chances as they had and it is simply a case of following it up with the same relentless energy right up to next Saturday, the 9th. Because a contestant has a few more votes than you have in the list, it does not mean that she

GREENVILLE'S THANKS-GIVING A PLEASANT ONE

THE DAY MUCH LIKE A SUNDAY.

Interesting Service in Baptist Church --Good Dinners Feature of Day.

Greenville passed a quiet and pleasant Thanksgiving day. The weather was clear and crisp, making the day beautiful from the standpoint. With almost an entire suspension of business the day was very much like a Sunday, except more people were on the street.

At 11 o'clock in the morning a service was held in the Baptist church, this being the only church open. The choir of this church, with some additions from the Methodist choir, gave an excellent musical program. The sermon of the pastor, Rev. C. M. Rock, was truly a splendid one and most appropriate to Thanksgiving. He cited numerous facts for which he felt especially thankful to God, one being that he lives in the present age--an age that is the best religiously, scientifically and educationally in the history of the world.

After the sermon ex-Gov. Jarvis spoke a few words on Thanksgiving that were characteristic of the "grand old man," and the fruit of a life of nearly four score years spent in such service to his state that makes him truly North Carolina's first citizen.

A collection was taken for the Thomasville orphanage amounting to $27.20, which sum will be increased Sunday.

The Thanksgiving dinner came along as a feature of the day. Around many boards there were family reunions, and at others friends gathered with friends to partake together the Thanksgiving feast.

The chief interest of the afternoon was in the football games in Richmond and Norfolk. The reports of the games were received through the Western Union telegraph office and quite a number of people gathered at the John L. Wooten Drug Co.'s to hear them.

Those who wanted even more pleasure before the date had passed, attended the Gaiety theatre at night and enjoyed a good program.

AT DUNN, N. C.

Former Pitt Countian Big Merchant--New Municipal Building.

While on a visit to friends in Dunn, a few days ago the writer met Mr. Mc. D. Holliday, an old Pitt county boy, who went there about twenty years ago and has made good as a progressive business man. Mr. Holliday's native home is Grimesland, where his mother and near relatives live now. He is a member of the firm of Holliday-Barnes, furniture and hardware dealers, who operate two large stores and have a most complete stock in their line. Their stores and warehouses combined would probably cover a city block. We are glad to note this success of our former countrian. They usually have the stuff that makes for success.

Dunn has recently built one of the prettiest municipal buildings in the state, and one which would do credit to a town much larger. Our townsman, Mr. C. B. West, contracted the building at a cost of about $10,000. When furnished throughout it will have cost about $12,000. Dunn is to be congratulated.

TAKES EXCEPTION TO REFLECTOR ARTICLE

AND STATES HIS SIDE OF CASE.

Preliminary Trial Twice Continued And Peace Warrant Sworn Out.

Greenville, N. C., Nov. 28, 1911. To D. J. Whichard and The Reflector Company:

In compliance with section 2012 of the North Carolina Revisal, you are herewith notified that exception is taken by me to your article in yesterday's issue of the Daily Reflector, in which I am accused of kidnapping my wife, in that in said article it is made to appear that I have committed a crime, the punishment for which is a term in the state's prison, and in which several charges are made which are not substantiated by the facts. In the first place, it has only been four weeks since my wife was caused to abandon me, and not two as your article states. It is true that a divorce suit is now pending as stated in the article, but it is my firm conviction that my wife is being forced by others into the unfortunate position into which things have gotten.

As to the incident of Saturday night, suffice it to say that I overtook my wife and told her to come with me and took hold of her arm and assisted her into the buggy in the face of very strenuous opposition on the part of her sister. The statement that I dragged her or brandished a pistol is without foundation, or that she protested against going with me other than a request to go to her mothers for our baby--which I did not do, but which I told her I would do in the morning. For reasons which I do not care to state here, I have been prevented from talking with my wife by those in charge ever since she has been with her mother, and I have not been able to see my baby for about three weeks. It is strange that an article should be published accusing a husband of kidnapping his wife in his efforts to see her and to rectify those differences which others have injected between them; it is hardly possible that sensible people will think it a case of kidnapping when the true situation is learned. It is also strange that if such a heinous crime had been committed in the community, that our very efficient sheriff would not have performed the duty of making an arrest three miles in the country and left it unnecessary for two police officers of Greenville, one of which is my wife's uncle, to have been called upon to ride at midnight and tear a wife from the arms of the husband. For the reasons above you are requested to retract the accusation against me.

N. L. TRIPP.

The Reflector cheerfully accords Mr. Tripp space for his explanation of the occurrence, and if any mis-statements were in the article complained of, we as cheerfully retract them, as it is never the purpose of the editor or the paper to be unjust to any one. As to the article in question, while the matter referred to was current comment on the street, The Reflector did not take that as a source of information but obtained the points from the officers of the town who had the case in hand and based the article entirely on the statements they furnished us.

The Preliminary Trial.

The trial of the case under the warrant issued by Justice C. D. Rountree was set for last Monday, at which time the defendant made affidavit for a removal of the case from Justice Rountree's court, and it was set for a hearing this afternoon before Justice L. A. Mayo. At the calling of the case today counsel for the defendant stated he was not ready for trial because of absence of witnesses, and after the argument of counsel for the state and the defendant, the court continued the case until next Wednesday at 10 o'clock. The defendant's counsel refused to have inserted in the appearance bond a clause to keep the peace toward the complainant, Mrs. Nora Tripp, thereupon Mrs. Tripp swore out a peace warrant against N. L. Tripp, returnable at the same time as the case comes up.

The little town of Greenville, in South Carolina, is "putting on airs" because it has a telephone system that you "just have to lift up the receiver."—Durham Sun.

If this kind of a slam was to be made against the big town of Greenville, in North Carolina, there would be a scrap.

If things keep on coming to light the people of the country will find out that Col. Roosevelt is just the kind of man that Judge Alton B Parker said he was in the campaign of 1904. It is well remembered that Mr. Roosevelt was very loud in branding falsehoods, the charges Judge Parker made against him, yet nearly every charge made has later been proven true. At this late day, seven years after, it has shown up that Mr. Roosevelt sold himself to the bankers and railroads, or made a bargain with them, in order to get their support and secure his election. A man's sins find him out sooner or later.

Take Care of The Birds.

Sometimes you see a boy or even a man out with a gun killing birds as fast as they appear. This should be stopped. Some birds are the friend of the farmer and should be protected. Their greatest work is to destroy insects.
The boys in the family may do a great good by building bird houses about the barn, house and shade trees. The houses should be kept out of reach of cats and dogs. Give each room 6 inches of floor space and make it 18 inches high. A single opening near the top 2 inches in diameter should be made for large birds; but for small birds such as the wren a 1-inch door will do.
When I was a small boy I would trap and kill birds, but I know better now, and wish I had known before now.

I have built a great many bird houses this year and put up about the farm. And the birds built nests in them, too. I used old boards or planks.

If birds felt that man was a friend and not a foe, they would often turn to him for protection. Think of the storms, winds and rains; would you like to have to stay out in them as the birds do sometimes? Think of it. The bird is the friend of the farmer. We can not have too many birds. They should be encouraged and protected. They should be supplied with shelter and water.—Alonzo McKay, in the Progressive Farmer.

ROADS BY OLD METHODS

Some Observations Made on Road Just Before Reaching Farmville.

The "hands", about twenty in number, were working the road, throwing up into the middle or along the edges of the road (with apparent indifference as to where it landed) the sod from the sides of the road. Were they repairing the road? Were they maintaining the road? No, most emphatically no. Instead they were actually damaging the road. At a low estimate, the value of the labor used in damaging the road was worth at least $20 per day, a sum sufficient to keep three or four miles of dirt road in good condition all the year round, if judiciously spent. How? Shape up the road with the right slope from crown to ditches, keep the water out of the ditches as much as possible; use the split log dray. Easy? Yes, Effective? Yes. Any more expensive? No, not as expensive. Result? A good road instead of a bad one. Then, why not spend our money in this way?

This method of building or maintaining roads in Pitt county is duplicated in practically some portion of every county of North Carolina every year. Such an expenditure of money is worse than wasted.

Pope's Initials.

Alexander Pope was a victim of his initials. After the publication of the Dunciad one of the poet's enemies, who had suffered a severe trouncing in the satire, declared that if you took the initial letters of Pope's name and added the final letter of his surname you had his character. The "jest" caught on, and in 1728 appeared a pamphlet entitled "Pope Alexander's Supremacy and Infallibility Examined." The frontispiece to this now forgotten pasquinade represented Pope in the form of an ape, with his head resting on his hand, and his elbow placed upon a pile of his own works.

In a state of convalescence a West Philadelphia man became hungry. When his physician visited him the man said, "Doctor, I'm as hungry as a bear, but from what you tell me I mustn't eat anything."
"Quite correct," replied the physician, who is inclined to be somewhat absentminded, "and be sure, above everything else, to chew it thoroughly."

HAPPY RESULTS.

Have Made Many Greenville Residents Enthusiastic.

No wonder scores of Greenville citizens grow enthusiastic. It is enough to make anyone happy to find relief after years of suffering. Public statements like the following are but truthful representations of the daily work done in Greenville by Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. L. Mangum, 116 Dickinson avenue, Greenville, N. C., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are by no means a new remedy to me. I have used them on different occasions and have found that they are a preparation of great merit. Kidney complaint and back-ache made me miserable and it was not until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills from the John L. Wooten Drug Co., that I found relief. Recently I again got a supply of this remedy and it helped me as promptly and effectively as before."

SMITH-WRIGHT.

Beautiful Church Marriage of Popular People.

WARSAW, Nov. 30.—At the Methodist church in this place Miss Betty C. Wright and Mr. H. B. Smith were happily married, Rev. M. A. Smith, the pastor of the church, officiating. A choir of girls dressed in white sang, "O Perfect Love" as the people assembled. Promptly at 5 o'clock the bride, preceded by her sister, Miss Mary Wright, the maid of honor, entered on the arm of her brother, Dr. John B. Wright, of Lincolnton, N. C., who gave her away, and the groom entered from the pastor's study with his best man, Mr. Claud Smith, of Greensboro, to the measure of Lohengrin's wedding march, rendered by Mrs. J. K. Morisey at the organ and Rev. T. M. Lee with the violin. During the ceremony the words of the minister sounded through the soft strains of the Melody in F as he pronounced the happy couple man and wife, using the ring ceremony. They left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, and after a luncheon immediately left for Roseboro, where they took the train for a trip South.

The ushers were Messrs. Howard McKinnin, Will Herring, of Clinton; Dr. Henry L. Sloan, of Ingold, N. C.; and Rev. Robt. King, of Richmond.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. B. V. Wright, of Coharie, this county. The groom is superintendent of the public schools of Greenville, N. C., and a native of Guilford county.

The out-of-town guests were Mr. Claud Smith and Miss Rosa Lee Smith, of Greensboro, N. C.; Dr. J. B. Wright, of Lincolnton, N. C.; Dr. Henry L. Sloan, of Ingold, N. C.; Miss Mary Wright, of Washington, N. C.; Rev. Robt. King, of Richmond, Va.; Prof. Robt. H. Wright, of Greenville, N. C.

The bride's gown was white and draped with net and duchesse lace, and she carried a shower bouquet of roses and lillies of the valley. The maid of honor's gown was charmeuse trimmed with corn color brocade fringe and carried yellow chrysanthemums. She wore a black picture hat.

A delightful reception was given the wedding party last night at the home of I. C. Wright, brother of the bride here. Mr. and Mrs. Smith left immediately after the marriage for a Southern tour including many Florida points.

AT THE GAIETY.

Prof. Hopkins Pleases Large Audience.

With a pretty and clever exhibition of animal training, Prof. Hopkins delighted his Thanksgiving audience at this popular house last night. In all he presents eight dogs, all of them clever and well trained. The young members of the audience had a great time seeing the wise canines going through their stunts. And these were not the "regular" dog stunts either. Many new tricks were performed and altogether Prof. Hopkins provides as good an entertainment as could be wished. Nobody should miss the chance of witnessing this finished act.

Mr. Armstrong was there again last night. By request he sang one of the prettiest songs ever, "Dreams, Just Dreams," as sung by Mr. Armstrong it is more than well worth hearing. He also introduced another popular ballad, which was well received. The more we hear Mr. Armstrong sing the more we like him and can't for the world see, why better patronage should not be given the Gaiety when such a popular young man is at the bat. We have heard many singers of popular songs, but we are conservative in saying that Carl Armstrong is more than "there." We are glad that he has decided to be a performer as well as a manager and we hope that at an early date the people of Greenville will be more generous with their support to his endeavors.

"THIS IS MY 67th BIRTHDAY."
Queen Alexandra.

Queen Alexandra, widow of King Edward VII. and mother of the present British ruler, was born in Copenhagen, December 1, 1844, the eldest of the three daughters of the late King Christian IX. of Denmark. One of her sisters is the Dowager Empress of Russia and the other is the Duchess of Cumberland. The present king of Denmark is her brother, as is also King George, of Greece. The marriage of Princess Alexandra and the Prince of Wales, who later became King Edward VII., took place in King George's Chapel, Windsor, March 10, 1863. Of the queen's six children—three sons and three daughters—four are living. The eldest son, Prince Alexander, born in 1871, died in early infancy. The second son is King George V. The eldest of the Queen's daughters, Princess Louise married the Duke of Fife. The second daughter, Princess Victoria, is unmarried. The third daughter, Princess Maud, married Prince Charles, of Denmark, who was elected king of Norway.

Here Is Where The Draft Enters

Wilson
HOT BLAST
Heater

The air enters at the top, drives the combustible gases into the fire where they are burned—prevents the escape of heat up the chimney—doubles the heating power of the fuel.

In other words, only half the amount of fuel used in ordinary heaters is necessary. The Wilson is air-tight, making perfect combustion possible and a fire can be held 24 hours.

We sell Wilson Hot Blast Heaters for either wood or coal.
