CAROLINA CLUB GOING FORWARD

Thirty Seven New Members at Monday Night's Meeting

LETTER FROM HON. J. BRYAN GRIMES

Interesting Address by Dr. Henry L. Smith—Club Goes on Record for Deepening Channel of Tar River—Officers elected for the Coming Year.

The annual meeting of Carolina club, held Monday night, was one of the best in the history of the club. There was a regular revival in membership, the number received at this meeting being 37, bringing the total membership up to 115. This is truly a creditable membership, and it embraces the cream of business and professional interests of the town. With such a membership there is no telling what the club can accomplish for the community.

The following officers were elected for the coming year:

- President—Albion Dunn.
 - Vice-President—F. M. Wooten.
 - Secretary—J. Benjamin Higgs.
 - Treasurer—A. J. Moore.
 - Board of Governors—R. H. Wright, C. T. Munford, E. B. Higgs, B. W. Moseley, L. W. Tucker and D. L. James.
- A committee consisting of B. W. Moseley and C. T. Munford was appointed to confer with Proctor Bros. relative to the building of a new hotel, and to assure them of the interest and co-operation of the club in such an enterprise.

A subject for discussion at this meeting was river improvements and deeper waterways. Secretary of State J. Bryan Grimes was invited to address the club on this subject and expected to be present, but finding that he could not come, sent a letter which was read by Dr. Laughinghouse.

Owing to its length we cannot print this letter today, but it will be published in full soon.

Prof. R. H. Wright spoke on the subject, referring to the importance of deepening the river to Greenville to give the town the benefit of water transportation. He argued that the club should have definite aims and go in earnest after things, it should be one of our aims to secure this water transportation, which would save more to the business of the town than anything that could be secured.

Dr. Henry L. Smith, of Davidson College, was introduced and spoke with much interest.

It is quite evident that the Carolina club is getting ready to do things. The idea of inviting Dr. Smith to deliver an address in the club Monday night was indeed a happy one. Regret was expressed by the present members for the non-appearance of the absent ones, and we, who were fortunate to hear Dr. Smith, can well sympathize with the absentees. It was interesting and instructing, and as great an address as we have ever heard. Dr. Smith dealt in a brilliant style with the progress of mankind to the present state of affairs and still went beyond prophesying a world-wide community that when a fact will make a regular Arcadia of Mother Earth. Beginning with the political revolutions which brought with them the emancipation of men and women from the servility of king-trodden countries, going through the progress brought with it by industries, up to the substitution of mere muscle power by natural power harnessed by the brain of men, and finally coming to the perfect communal living. Dr. Smith held the attention of his audience every second of his very interesting talk. In concise speech and brilliant manner he told of the perfect understanding that must be brought into each community, in order to have a "city beautiful," both physically and morally, if we may speak of a town in such personal terms.

No doubt that Dr. Smith's address at the club will sink deep into the heart of every member who heard him and that the seed sown will find ready ground in the minds of the people of Greenville.

Mr. J. B. Higgs then made some remarks on the waterways proposition that were very timely.

TO IMPROVE THE WATERWAYS.

Eighth Annual Convention of National Rivers and Harbors Congress.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 5.—Senators, representatives, diplomats and other persons high in official life are here to take part in the eighth annual convention of the National Rivers and Harbors congress, which will meet tomorrow for a session of three days. At the concluding sessions of the congress the participants will include the nine western states' governors who are making a tour of the eastern cities. The representative attendance and the wide range of subjects scheduled for discussion combine to give promise of one of the most notable gatherings ever assembled in the history of this country in the interest of waterway development.

The congress is national in its purpose, representing all sections and all waterways. Representative Joseph E. Ransdell, of Louisiana, is the president of the body and will occupy the chair at the several sessions. Secretary of War Stimson and Gen. Bixby chief engineers, U. S. A., will represent the government. Senator Jones, of Washington, will speak for the Pacific Northwest, and Stephen Sparkman, of Florida chairman of the house committee on rivers and harbors, will be another prominent participant. Others on the program will include the presidents of the leading waterway and river improvements associations throughout the country. The speakers will endeavor to impress upon the sixty-second congress, whose leaders are demanding economy, that there is a widespread throughout the country for a continuance of generous appropriations for improved waterways.

LORIMER HEARINGS RESUMED.

Lorimer Will Testify After All Other Witnesses Have Been Heard.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 5.—The United States senate committee, which has been investigating charges of corruption in the election of Senator Lorimer, of Illinois, resumed its hearings in this city today. Twelve weeks have been spent in the investigation so far and during that time 130 witnesses have been heard. Practically all of these witnesses were called by attorneys for the committee. A large number are now to be called by Elbridge Haney, attorney for Senator Lorimer, in an effort to break down the stories previously told on the stand. Senator Lorimer will testify after all other witnesses have been heard. There seems little likelihood that the committee will submit its report to the senate before next February.

PROHIBITIONISTS IN THE FIELD.

Will Fix Time and Place For Holding National Convention.

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 5.—Confidence in the ultimate success of the prohibition cause and enthusiasm over the outlook for the coming national campaign formed the keynote of a great gathering of prohibition party leaders and temperance reformers which assembled in this city today. The meeting here tomorrow of the prohibitionist national committee is the magnet that has served to attract the foes of liquor from all parts of the country. At this meeting the committee will fix the time and place for holding the national convention to name the party candidates for president and vice president of the United States. Following precedent, the convention probably will be held the latter part of May or early in June. Chairman Jones and other influential members of the committee are said to favor the proposal to hold the convention in the far west. Portland and Seattle are under consideration. No decision will be reached, however, until after a thorough discussion of the matter. In addition to the Pacific coast cities the committee will consider bids from Milwaukee, Detroit, Boston and several other places.

Minnesota Fruit Growers.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 5.—The Minnesota State Horticultural Society began its annual meeting in this city today with a large and representative attendance of fruit growers and horticultural experts. In conjunction with the meeting, which will continue four days, there is being held an elaborate exhibition of choice products of the farm, orchard and garden. The display of apples is declared to be the best ever seen in Minnesota.

Miss Mary Proctor of Grimesland Latest Leader of the Contest

Rules of Contest will be Adhered to the very Finish by Management

COUNTY CONTESTANTS LOOM HIGH ON FIELD OF WINNERS

Rush of Subscriptions and Votes Began Yesterday and Bids Fair to Eclipse all Records Set Heretofore—Time Shorter by 24 Hours—Important Announcement in Tomorrow's Paper

ANOTHER TWENTY-FOUR HOURS NEARER END OF CONTEST—ACTIVITIES IN CONTESTANTS' CAMPS REACH FEVER HEAT—FIVE DAYS NOW FROM FINISH.

Our failure to print the standing of contestants in yesterday's Reflector was explained, but we give it today on another page of this issue. The changes we told you about are there and you should study it carefully. The contest has reached a point where all contestants will find it to their advantage to be on the "go" right up to the end. In reality this is not much as only five short days are between us and next Saturday, and whilst consistent work may turn the tables in favor of some dark horse, if all candidates persist in their attempts to maintain their positions in the contest, we promise them as close a count as was ever made in a contest of this nature.

Every District Should Be To The Front.

Contestants in every district who are "up and doing" realize the importance of whatever they may achieve from now until 9:00 p. m. next Saturday night. Already most of them have answered to the call issued yesterday and subscriptions are coming in a steady stream. Votes are being issued by the thousands, and candidates are adding handsome amounts of votes to their already respectable totals. The contest is now drawing to a close and has awakened great interest in this section of the state wherever The Reflector is read. Contestants and their supporters are doing their mightiest to have their energies rewarded. This is not to be wondered at when the value and usefulness of the prizes are taken into consideration. A little fortune has been spent by The Daily Reflector in this mammoth gift distribution and we are glad to remark that the young ladies of Pitt county were wide-awake enough to realize the chance offered them by The Reflector.

The Prizes.

The coming Christmas will certainly be made happier to the winning candidates. The young lady standing highest when the final count is made next Saturday night will be able to entertain her friends with the Gordon and Son piano, one of the most magnificent instruments of its kind manufactured anywhere in the world. This prize constitutes the highest word in piano manufacturing and was purchased from the stock of the Sam White Piano Company, of this town. Its price of $300.00 and its value every cent of it. Mr. White's word backs this statement and Mr. White has been in the business long enough to have the confidence of the people of this county in whatever statement he might make. The second grand prize is a Victor Victrola and ten double records. Right here the winning young lady will possess one of the prettiest and best self-players that was ever manufactured. The Reflector Company bought this instrument from the A. B. Ellington Company. The name of the makers and that of the selling agents is ample guarantee of its quality and worth. The gold Waltham watches to be awarded, one in each district, were ordered specially by Mr. W. L. Best, of this town, and are beautiful products of artistic watchcraft. Waltham on a watch is exactly like stirring on silver, and we all know what that means.

Altogether as pretty, costly and useful a set of prizes as ever were offered by any publication in a contest of the nature this one is.

A Square Deal To All.

Whatever may be the outcome of the present contest; whatever the winners, we are perfectly satisfied that every one will get a square deal. This is our characteristic. We have held contests in all states of the Union and have yet to hear of dissatisfaction from any young lady who took an active part in any of the contests we ever conducted. And we wish to state that this will be no exception. No matter what contestant wins, she will do so by her own energy and the help of her friends. No influence of any kind will make us deter from this line, which we have followed wherever we had anything to do with a contest. So far the Contest Manager is perfectly satisfied that as far as his judgment has been called upon to act in different matters in connection with this contest he has acted as previously indicated and every rule as set forth when the contest was announced, has been adhered to in every way. In the matter of offers contestants have been always given information which at no time was misleading and whatever we have said has been done to the letter. A careful perusal of the progress of this contest will prove this beyond doubt. When we announced that a special prize would be given as a Thanksgiving gift from the management of the contest to the candidates, many doubts were expressed by certain people, as to the proposition. We carried our part of the program to the letter and on date announced the youthful contestant who won the Diamond ring, was presented with it, much to her satisfaction, and also much to the sorrow of those that have delighted in belittling our efforts to do our best by every contestant.

We have said it, and here repeat it. The management of the contest has so far, and will, continue to the end to carry out its part of the program in the same way. Fairness to everyone concerned, and a square deal to all. Even if by so doing the management of this contest sadly disappoints certain parties, who, owing to a defective liver are wont to allow their infirmities to crop out into black and white. We are sorry for such parties and would recommend them instant acquaintance with some near-by drug store, where their physical defects might be cured much to the benefit of their moral shortcomings. And for this little digression, we apologize to our contestants. We are merely breaking from our rule of ignoring such attacks from such parties, in order to set our contestants' minds at ease.

THE REFLECTOR'S BLUE MONDAY

Two "Pi's" Forms And Press Break All In One Day.

Monday was a day of accidents and adverses in The Reflector printery, those things happening that sometime come along to cause misery to printers and newspaper men. That morning as the forms of Saturday's paper were being taken up stairs from the press room one of them fell off the elevator and was knocked into "pi." This was enough to worry and disarrange things for the day, yet the paper for that evening got to press in fairly good time. But when there is hurry things usually go at their worst, and it was so this time. When about half of the edition had been printed, two of the forms jumped out of place, one being kind enough to land squarely on the floor. Not so with the other, however, for that not only caught in the press and got knocked into "pi" but also broke a bolt and a cogwheel in the press.

While the page of the paper was being reset the breaks were patched up and it was well in the night when the remainder of the edition was printed. The factory was wired for a new wheel, and though the press will have to run a little slower than usual, we hope to keep going somehow until the new part arrives.

ALMOST A FIRE.

Cigarette Stump In Box of Sawdust Starts a Blaze.

There came near being a serious fire Saturday that was discovered and put out so quickly that few people knew anything about it, and even the newspaper man did not find it out until Monday evening.

About one o'clock Saturday night Mr. R. Greene was passing up the street and was attracted by a light in the sewing machine office of Mr. J. S. Cockerill, in the Proctor building. He went over to investigate and saw that the partition separating the front door and rear rooms of the office was burning near the floor. Without giving any alarm he broke the front glass, went in and put out the fire which had done no damage except burn a small hole in the partition and the floor. But for this timely discovery it might have been something serious.

The cause of the blaze was a box filled with sawdust that was used as a cuspidore and set near the partition. Some parties were in the office earlier in the night, and one of them who was smoking a cigarette threw the stump in the box. After smouldering in the sawdust two or three hours it set the box on fire.

SOUTHERN CORN SHOW OPENS.

With One Thousand Representatives Of Corn Clubs.

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 5.—One thousand representatives sent by boys' corn clubs throughout Georgia came to Atlanta today for the opening of the great Southern Corn show. The homes of many well known families have been thrown open for the entertainment of the boys during their stay in Atlanta. Corn growers of the Carolinas, Mississippi, Florida, Louisiana and Alabama are represented at the exhibition. During the week there will be addresses by well known agricultural experts and daily demonstrations on practical methods of corn growing, including preparation of the soil, selection of seed, fertilizing, planting and harvesting.

PUBLIC HEALTH CONFERENCE

Opens In Havana Today and Will Continue Until Saturday.

HAVANA, Dec. 5.—Well known physicians, surgeons, bacteriologists, and health officials from many parts of the United States and Canada and Mexico have come to Havana to attend the annual meeting of the American Public Health association, which opened today, and will continue until Saturday. A wide range of subjects for discussion, touching the preservation of public health, has been prepared. The president of the association, who will preside at the general sessions, is Dr. Robert H. Simpson, of Winnipeg. An invitation has been received from Washington, D. C., to hold the next meeting of the association in that city in connection with the meeting of the international congress on hygiene.

DR. SMITH AT TRAINING SCHOOL

THE OLD SOUTH AND THE NEW.

Scholarly, Eloquent Address That Delights All Hearers.

East Carolina Teachers Training school was fortunate in having as one of the speakers on its winter lecture course, Dr. Henry L. Smith, president of Davidson College, who delivered a lecture in the auditorium of the school Monday night.

After two splendid songs by the student body, President Wright introduced Dr. Smith, saying that it was to help solve our educational problems that this series of lectures is being given. Dr. Smith's subject was announced as "The Supreme Educational Task of This Generation in The South."

Fortunate indeed were the students, faculty and those people of the town (though the latter were far too few) who gathered to hear this address. It was scholarly, eloquent, a real gem that lifted the ambitions of the hearers and inspired them with nobler purposes. Dr. Smith in beautiful language compared the old South with the new. He said every generation has the task laid on its shoulders to mould the character of the generation that is to follow. We should teach our youth the old chivalry, the old reverence, the old sense of personal dignity, the old standard of honor that distinguished the Southern gentleman and Southern woman. All true greatness is moral, never material. It is not what we export nor what we import that counts, but what we are. Virtue and character cannot be estimated by capitalization.

The property of the South is the wonder of the world—her banks have doubled, her manufactures increased, her production multiplied. But if I were called upon to say when the south was richest taking account of all her assets, I would say it was in 1865. The sunset of chaos hung over her, her sons had fallen on the field of honor, her beautiful homes were devastated, but her fortitude was shown through suffering, her honor, her morals, her old time reverence and faith were preserved, and even through the reconstruction period that followed her integrity was unshaken.

Cosmopolitan visitors smile at our old-fashioned morals, love of home, respect for our women, and call us out of date, but let us cling to the old-fashioned home and still be a land of old things.

Wants 15th Term As Mayor.

NEWPORT, R. I., Dec. 5.—A count of the ballots cast in the city election here today will determine whether P. J. Boyle, who has served fourteen terms as mayor of Newport, is to head the municipal government during a fifteenth term. In consequence of a reform movement that has been under way for some time Mayor Boyle encountered more opposition in his candidacy this year than heretofore. Opposing him on the ballot were P. E. Garretson, a former mayor, and J. P. Mahoney, a member of the board of aldermen.

ARE NOT QUITTERS.

It is time for the University of North Carolina boys to quit the gridiron after the walloping the University of Virginia boys gave them in Richmond.—Greenville Reflector.

Oh, No! The University of North Carolina boys nor the North Carolina boys of any other institution or in any capacity are not quitters, we hope. If they are, they will make men that are quitters and that would be failing to live up to the standards of the past. The men who have brought the state thus far on the way have suffered many adverses, some of them overwhelming, but they have never lost their courage and have never given up. And they have won many victories and cleared the way for the winning of many more for those who come after them. The sons of these men are not going to flinch and fall out of ranks when they take up the serious work of life and they are not going to "lie down" when they meet defeat in the formative period of life, whether it be in the striving after knowledge or in the field of sports. Defeats are to be expected, and they do good. But they would not do good if they were ever accepted as the final verdict. Men of the right would not accept them as final so long as strength lasts and boys with the ingredients in their make-up that are going to win their success in after life have their ambition fired to a brighter red when they meet disaster. The fighting spirit, the ambition to retrieve and save the day makes the disaster only temporary. This rather long sermon is only to say that the University of North Carolina boys, while "beaten to a frazzle," are not conquered. They didn't run away. They took their "licking" like men. But they will "live to fight another day." There is no reason why they should quit the gridiron. They are clean, manly, sportsmen. They played the game with the boys of the same type and lost. But they would not be the boys they ought to be if they had not already determined to make the defeat of today the victory of tomorrow. They are looking forward with hope and eagerness to next Thanksgiving day. And that is the spirit that counts and that will carry them successfully through life. Those who cannot meet defeat with that spirit will soon drop by the wayside.—Raleigh Evening Times.

It was quitting football and giving more attention to the other things mentioned in The Times that we had in mind when suggesting that they quit the gridiron. As far as the other things go we endorse all the Times says.

The Baptist State convention is in session with Brown Memorial church, Winston-Salem, with Mr. W. C. Dowd, as president. This is the largest religious body in the state, representing 1,951 churches with a membership a little above 226,000 and 1,791 Sunday schools; with an enrollment of 164,706 pupils and something over 658 ministers.

With so many of Greenville's business and professional men joined together for one purpose, as they now are in Carolina club, it is going to count for much towards the advancement of the town and community. Their first step, taken Monday night, looking to a deeper channel in Tar river and to secure a modern hotel for Greenville, shows that they have resolved to go after things.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

Richard Croker, former Tammany Hall leader, picks Mayor Gaynor of New York city as the logical Democratic candidate for President.

Col. F. E. Boothby, three times mayor of Portland, will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor of Maine.

A movement has been started to erect a handsome monument over the grave of the late Senator John W. Daniel, of Lynchburg, Va.

The Rolph administration, which is about to assume its duties in San Francisco, will inaugurate a plan of city government almost identical with the commission form of government.

Cost of Living.

Whether the cost of living is higher in this country than in Europe seems to be a matter of dispute, probably from the fact that the comparisons are not often fairly made. The Baltimore Sun alludes to a recent article upon the subject, and says:

"Robert Heller, a cultured German, now traveling in America, finds most things so much more costly in this country than in Europe that he declares a dollar goes no further than a mark (24 cents) in Germany. In Berlin, he points out, you may use a taxicab for 10 or 15 cents. The cheapest cab ride he had in New York cost him $2. He was taxed $3 for taking his baggage to and from the station. In Berlin it would have cost him 2 marks (48 cents). In the more modern Berlin hotels no charge is made for use of the telephones, while in the small shops the cost is but 15 pfennings, about a cent. He finds in America the most magnificent hotels, which are also the most costly, but he misses the coffee house and middle class restaurant that furnish the vast majority of Germans food and drink at small expense.

"This does not accord with the report of Americans, who say they find living abroad as expensive as in this country. Perhaps one reason is that tourists generally stop at the better hotels, pay the highest transient rates and are bled for tips at every turn. We have inexpensive eating houses in America which Herr Heller might have found if he had searched for them, perhaps not so many nor so good as Berlin's. In Europe, it is well known, there are two prices for nearly everything, the low price for the native, the high price for the American. Europe gets $100 out of American tourists for every dollar we get out of European visitors. But this does not settle the question whether living is less expensive in Europe or America. Europeans testify that it is less expensive abroad, while some American travelers find it equally high in Europe. There is evidently considerable difference in what it costs a tourist and what it costs a resident."—Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch.

The Gift I Ask.

These are the gifts I ask
Of Thee, Spirit serene:
Strength for the daily task,
Courage to face the road,
Good cheer to help me bear the traveler's load
And, for the hours of rest that come between,
An inward joy in all things heard and seen.

These are the sins I faint
Would have thee take away:
Malice and cold disdain
Hot anger, sullen hate.
Scorn of the lowly, envy of the great,
And discontent that casts a shadowy gray
On all the brightness of the common day.

These are the things I prize
And hold of dearest worth:
Light of the sapphire skies,
Peace of the silent hills,
Shelter of forests, comfort of the grass
Music of birds, murmur of little rills,
Shadow of clouds that quickly pass,
And, after showers,
The smell of flowers
And of the good brown earth—
And, best of all, along the way friendship and mirth.

The ladies of the Methodist church have been at work energetically for some time getting ready for their Christmas bazaar, and the fruition of their labors is displayed in the double store of the Proctor building. Here a number of booths have been attract-corated as to merit admiration for the skill of those in charge.

The bazaar opens this evening and will continue until Friday night, and from beginning to end there will be something to interest all who attend,
as well as afford them an opportunity of buying beautiful articles for Christmas.

The book booth contains a great variety of popular books, magazines, stationery, Christmas cards, post cards, art calendars, etc.

The doll booth has all sizes of dolls and every imaginable article for the twins in this display.

The fancy booth contains an endless variety of articles of fancy work
that the ladies especially will appreciate and admire.

The Japanese booth contains kimonos and all kinds of pretty Jap ware and fancy articles. Fortunes will be told in this booth and a good program of music rendered there

The children's booth is very attractive with its home-made candies, and all kinds of fruits and confections.
Here is also a fish pond to amuse the little folks.

Then there is the culinary department and dining room where meals and refreshments will be served each day and night. The menu embraces everything good to eat that can be desired.

The bazaar promises much of in-

MRS. LARAMORE TELLS TROUBLES

Lady in Goodwater Describes Her Distressing Experience and Tells How She Was Finally Relieved.

Goodwater, Mo.—"Ever since I was a little girl," says Mrs. Riley Laramore,
"I was a great sufferer from dyspepsia.
I suffered misery after eating, and had terrible heartburn.

I thought I had to suffer this way as long as I lived, but when I began to take Theford's Black-Draught, in small doses, every night, the heartburn was all gone in a few days, and I could eat without distress.

I took two small packages in all, and although that was some time ago, the dyspepsia has not returned.

I speak a good word for Theford's
Black-Draught whenever I have the opportunity."

If eating causes distress, we urge you to try Theford's Black-Draught. It cleanses the system, helps the stomach to digest its food, regulates the bowels, and stimulates the liver.

It acts gently and is without bad after-effects. Try it. Price 25c.

POULTRY SHOW IN NEW YORK.

Poultry Exhibition Largest Ever Seen
In Metropolis.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—The New Grand Central Palace was transformed today into an immense barnyard, and all day long it resounded with the cackling of hens, crowing of roosters, quacking of ducks and geese,
piping of canaries, while the sounds
from other varieties of poultry contributed to the musical medley in the great building. The fifth annual exhibition of the Empire Poultry association was opened this morning and the show will continue through the week. Tomorrow the cat show will be added to the attractions.

The poultry exhibition is the largest ever seen in the metropolis. With 1400 classes on the premium list the event has attracted all the breeders
of fine poultry in the Eastern States.
One of the best breeds of chicken shown is the famous Orpington, for which as much as $2,500 has been paid for a single bird. The display of pigeons, bantams and game cocks also attracted much attention from the crowd that attended the opening of the show.

Get Ready for Sunday.

If Sunday drags, make it a day of interest as well as rest by getting a copy of the New York Sunday

fascinating features, such as "Mind-reading tests that any one can try,"

E. S. Farrow, U. S. A. Ret.; "Women

atized in London," "Hygiene" by Mrs.
O. H. P. Belmont; a Junior Page for the little ones, fantastic drawings,
etc. To drive dull care away, order

"THIS IS MY 42ND BIRTHDAY." F. Augustus Heinze.

F. Augustus Heinze, for many years
one of the leaders in the copper mining industry and also prominent in New York city as a capitalist and financier, was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., Dec. 5, 1869. He was educated in the schools of Brooklyn, afterward taking a course in the Columbia College school of mines, from which he was graduated as a mining engineer. He also studied in the best scientific schools of Germany, before putting his theoretic training to practical test in the mining camp. In 1890 he went West, seeking his first business opening in life, and settled in Butte, Mont.
He found employment as a mining engineer and quickly acquired a thorough practical knowledge of the mining and smelting business. Two years later he started a mining enterprise of his own. He was successful from the start and was rated a millionaire
before he was thirty-five years old.

AT THE GAIETY.

Pictures Continue To Be of The Highest Standard.

Another two excellent numbers
came to the Gaiety last night to entertain Greenville audiences. Miss Edith Temple, a charming young lady, sings a few songs. It does not matter what the songs may be; her voice is about the sweetest we have ever heard and we are not risking much in saying that everybody who heard her last night agrees with us. Everybody should go to the Gaiety before this delightful singer departs,
and remember, good people, she goes Thursday, next.

Jack Plinton, is a comic juggler of great ability and laugh producing resources. Of all the stunts he does, and these are many, his juggling of three silk hats, the sky-piece variety, seems to win the most applause for him. Somebody thought sure somebody else would get an awful "wallop" from that ball he lets loose to the audience. But not so.

Mr. Armstrong sang a little last night. Somehow or other we like to hear him and we wish he would be more generous with his voice. To be sure his duties in the front of the house should not keep him away from the piano all the time. We say this simply because we really like to hear him.

Pictures continue to be of the highest standard and altogether the show at the Gaiety is excellent. Take it in tonight, if you will listen to good advice.

Good Roads Demonstration.

The Atlantic Coast Line good roads train will reach Greenville this evening, and the demonstrations and lectures will begin at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, closing at noon.

The Hog.

Let the breeding hogs stay outdoors most of the time and let them get a good part of their living from pasture crops. They will be thrif-tier and more prolific. As the manager of a large stock farm said to the writer
the other day: "A hog needs exercise and fresh air just like a man does. The only difference is the hog is chunkier and has a shorter neck
and suffers sooner if he doesn't work
for his living."—Progressive Farmer.

Daughters of The Confederacy.

HOUSTON, Texas, Dec. 5.—Prominent women from many cities and towns throughout Texas were on hand at the opening of the sixteenth annual convention of the Texas division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. Mrs. A. R. Howard, state president, occupied the chair
at the opening session, which was devoted to the exchange of greetings, the appointment of committees and the reception of annual reports. The business sessions of the gathering will continue until Friday and will be liberally interspersed with receptions, luncheon and other features of social entertainment prepared for the visitors by the several chapters of the organization.

"Because the swellness was at the expense of the food supply."

"What do you mean?"

of vegetables."—Louisville Courier

Beware of light, flimsy stalk cutters—you will rue the day you buy one. This one will last a life-time. What do the manufacturers themselves think of it? "Back it up with an unqualified guarantee." CAROLINA CLUB GOING FORWARD

Attention was then called to the fact that the Atlantic Coast Line good roads train will spend tonight in Greenville, and the suggestion was made to have the gentlemen on the train visit the club tonight and address the people of the town on the good roads question. A committee consisting of Albion Dunn, C. T. Munford, J. L. Hassell, D. L. James, B. W. Moseley and W. H. Ward was appointed to take the matter in hand and make arrangements accordingly.

President Dunn took occasion here to extend a word of welcome to the new members and to predict a great outcome from the co-operative spirit now being manifested by our business people through the club.

Prof. R. H. Wright offered the motion, which was unanimously adopted, that Carolina club go on record as favoring the opening of a channel in Tar river 70 feet wide and 8 feet deep, and that the secretary of the club notify our congressman and senators of this desire on the part of the business people of Greenville.

R. H. Wright, J. Benjamin Higgs and W. S. Atkins were continued as a committee on the deeper waterways movement to push the matter to completion.

SLANDER SUIT ON TRIAL.

Woman Asks Eight Thousand Dollars Damages.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Dec. 5.—Much interest is manifested in the suit brought by Mrs. Virginia Janis, of Cos Cob, Conn., against Arthur N. Devore, a well known musician at present living in Brooklyn, which came up for trial in the Superior court here today. Mrs. Janis alleges that on July 3, 1910, Mr. Devore slandered her to his sister, Miss Elsa M. Devore. She asks $8,000 damages.

Mr. Devore denies the charge and asserts that the suit is the result of some real estate transactions in which he and Mrs. Janis were recently involved and which resulted in foreclosure on the home which they jointly occupied at Riverside. His sister lives with Mrs. Janis at present, and is an artist and a violinist.

Mrs. Janis was the wife of Dr. Sangree, of New York, whom she divorced because of his attentions to a younger woman, whom he later married. She then resumed her maiden name. She is an artist, having painted floral pieces which elicited praise from Mrs. Andrew Carnegie and others.

Mr. Devore is an organist, and once led the orchestra at the Ocean Grove camp meetings. For a long time he and his sister lived with Mrs. Janis at Riverside. Last summer he was married to a well known musician. Then came a disension with Mrs. Janis and since that time he and his wife have made their home in Brooklyn.

NATIONAL IRRIGATION CONGRESS

Assembles in Chicago Today For A Four Days' Session.

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 5.—All of the various problems pertaining to irrigation, drainage and forestry are to be exhaustively discussed by experts at the nineteenth National Irrigation congress, which assembled in Chicago today for a four days' session. The activities of the congress originally were confined largely to the western section of the United States, but in recent years the scope of the organization has been greatly broadened. No better evidence of the importance with which the world now regards the subject of irrigation could be cited than the fact that seventeen foreign countries have deemed it worth while to have representation at the present congress. Governors of states, several members of congress and officials in charge of Federal and state irrigation and reclamation projects are in attendance, also the representatives of commercial bodies in many parts of the country and numerous agricultural colleges.

To Discuss The Boll Weevil.

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 5.—A conference of much interest to the cotton-growing states was begun in Atlanta today for the discussion of the quarantine laws covering the shipment of cotton seed, seed cotton and cotton from points infested with the boll weevil to points that have not been attacked by it. Dr. W. G. Hunter, the boll weevil expert of the department of agriculture, at Washington, and the state entomologists of North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and other states are among the participants. The conference will last two days.

Wilson HOT BLAST Heater

The most perfect draft ever discovered is the patent Hot Blast Down Draft of the Wilson Heater. The only draft that secures perfect combustion and prevents waste. This draft is found only in the

Wilson HOT BLAST Heater

The air enters at the top, drives the combustible gases into the fire where they are burned—prevents the escape of heat up the chimney—doubles the heating power of the fuel. In other words, only half the amount of fuel used in ordinary heaters is necessary. The Wilson is air-tight, making perfect combustion possible and a fire can be held 36 hours. We sell Wilson Hot Blast Heaters for either wood or coal.
