INDIAN DURBAR IN FULL SWING

EXTRAORDINARY CELEBRATION.

Native Potentates Bend Knee To British Rulers.

DELHI, India, Dec. 9.—Delhi is all a-glitter in anticipation of the great imperial durbar. Not since the days when the grand moguls held sway have such brilliant scenes been witnessed as have followed one another in rapid succession the past few days. And the most brilliant pageants of all are yet to come.

Within a mighty arena, outside the walls of the city, next Tuesday, one hundred thousand persons, representatives of every race, creed and color, and including every prince and potentate of India, with diamonds and rubies, emeralds and pearls worth millions gleaming in turban, on the breast of the waistband, will assemble as special guests, and while massed bands play and the regiments stand attention, and while the sun pours down a flood of brilliant light, princes and potentates will pass in review before their Majesties King George and Queen Mary, making deep obeisance.

The brilliant ceremonies incident to the durbar had their beginning this week with the estate entry of the king and queen into Delhi. It was something of a disappointment to the natives that their majesties preferred riding in a motor car to sitting in a golden howdah on the back of a state elephant. But the disappointment was assuaged by the presence of a hundred elephants in the imperial train, including the largest elephant in India, which is worshipped by the natives as the incarnation of one of their lesser deities.

After receiving the homage of the native princes the king and queen and their suite took up their quarters in the great camp outside of the city gates. The camp occupies an area of 25 square miles. The camp is furnished with all the conveniences of modern life, even electric lights, tramways, and taxicabs. The visitors' camps are located immediately to the north and northwest of the Delhi central station. About a mile and a half from the station to the northwest is the king's camp, immediately surrounded by those of the provincial governors and the higher officials of the government of India. The chiefs occupy spaces to the northeast, north and west of the royal tents. The review ground and the durbar amphitheatre lie beyond the camp to the northwest.

The range of tents occupied by the royal party are on a scale of grandeur calculated to impress even those accustomed to the magnificence of the tabernacles of India rajahs and chiefs. The principal tent is about 400 feet in length and is lined with native woven draperies. The general scheme of decorations follows Indian traditions, and has been carried out in a full, rich-toned orange and black as the dominant colors.

Today the king continued the reception of the natives and chiefs, while the queen attended the Indian arts exhibition. Last night the visitors drove about to view the gorgeous illuminations. The whole city and fort were illuminated. Every building was outlined in dazzling light. From the top of the ridge, where one can look right over the city, the scene was one of rare beauty. In the clear atmosphere of the Punjab night every light was visible. The panorama remained one of a fairy city raised by a magician of the Arabian Nights.

The preparations for the great ceremony of Tuesday next raised everyone to the tiptoe of expectation. At noon of that day the king and queen will enter the great arena to a fanfare of trumpets and take their seats on glittering thrones, placed high on a dais, draped in imperial and crimson. At their right will stand Viceroy Hardinge and grauped about will be the members of their personal suites and the high officials of the government of India.

A herald, accompanied by four pursuivants, will read a loud, clear voice, this proclamation in Hindustani:

"George V. of England has deigned to take on himself the title of Emperor of India. Even the princes and people have it so."

When the tumult of cheers dies away his majesty will step to the front of the dais, and in an address will assure the princes and people

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Cycle racing fans who for more than a decade have been wont to loaf and lounge and eat and sleep in Madison Square Garden while the weary six-day bike riders have sped around the steep banked saucer track are preparing for their annual treat—the last, by the way, that will be afforded them in the big building in Madison Square. The dates for this year's event are December 11 to 17, the long struggle starting as usual at one minute past the midnight hour tomorrow night.

The entire world from Australia to Europe has been ransacked this year to bring together absolutely every champion of note in the cycle-racing game. Jimmie Moran of Boston, one of the greatest six-day racers in the world and one of the winners in last year's contest, will have for his partner, Frank Kramer, the champion of America. Eddie Root, who was Moran's team-mate last year, will be paired with Freddie Hill, of Boston. Joe Fogler, who has two six-day victories to his credit, has teamed with Jackie Clark. The European entries are headed by Lorenz and Saldow, winners of the recent six-day race in Berlin. Other contestants from abroad will include Lapize, Georget, Brocco and Wanhouwaert.

A radical change has been made in the financial arrangements for this year's race. Instead of riding for a fixed sum of money, as in all previous races here, the riders are to receive a percentage of the gate receipts. They have been clamoring for such an arrangement for several years, and as almost all other professional athletic sports are conducted along those lines, the management decided to give it a trial.

Was Born When George II Was King.

HAILEYBURY, Ont., Dec. 9.—Alexander Renau, of this place, who is believed to be the oldest resident of Canada and undoubtedly the oldest native-born Canadian, will celebrate his one hundredth and sixth birthday anniversary tomorrow. Renau was born in St. Paul, Quebec, December 10, 1805. At the time of his birth George III. occupied the English throne and Napoleon was dictator of Europe. Since early youth Renau has been a constant user of tobacco. He also was a moderate drinker of alcoholic beverages until a few years ago.

Rocky Mount and Tarboro were made to install a purification plant for their sewerage because Greenville has its water supply from Tar river. Louisburg dumps its raw sewerage into Tar river, and Rocky Mount gets its water supply from the same stream. Unless there is some explanation it looks as though the State Board of Health is remiss in its duty, unless the Franklin county town is forced to put in a purification plant. —Rocky Mount Morning Telegram.

of India that he will ever uphold their rights and rule them in justice and equity. Trumpets will blow and the great gathering will rise and sing, "God, Save The King."

In the afternoon the people will assemble for the military review. A state banquet will be held in the king's camp in the evening, and it will be followed by a reception in the royal tents. The festivities will continue until Saturday, when they will be brought to a close with the great procession through the city of Delhi.

Later in the day King George will leave for Nepal to engage in a tiger hunt, while Queen Mary will go to Agra to await his return.

To Country Contestants.

At the request of many country contestants I have decided to allow them to mail their votes and last subscriptions from their home postoffice, provided, postmark reads, Saturday, December 9, no later than 9 p. m. This is just the same as the allowances made throughout the contest or all special vote offers. I have taken this step in view of the irregularity of the mails coming from some of the districts of the contest. Country contestants, please remember that they must send all their vote coupons by that last mail in order to have them counted. Votes will be issued on subscriptions sent by that mail also.

At 9 p. m. today—a few hours after the present issue of the Reflector the contest will close. Despite the fact that we are so near the finish no single contestant has as yet established claim in the prizes, as subscriptions were received all day yesterday from most of the candidates. Many friends came forward and voted for the favorite and with only a few hours to closing time, we are still in darkness as to the winner. Many things have been done

TOO FEW TARHEELS.

Mr. Small Expresses Disappointment That Not More N. C. Folks Were at Rivers and Harbors Congress.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Congressman John H. Small today expressed great disappointment at the small number of delegates who attended the National rivers and harbors congress here from the States of North and South Carolina, Georgia and Florida.

"I am exceedingly disappointed," Mr. Small said, "at the very small number of delegates who came to the congress from some of the Southern States, especially my own State of North Carolina. Virginia sent a fairly good number of men. But even those who came from that State did not compare in number favorably with those from other parts of the country. Both the Eastern and Western states sent large numbers of delegates. The work of the congress, I will say in brief, was well done; and I believe that much good was accomplished and that sometime we will realize that we must have a 'policy' and not a 'project.' That is the watchword of the association and with that in view, we shall continue to work."

"The Inter-coastal canal which we hope soon to have completed from Norfolk to Beaufort, N. C., is of inestimable importance to that section of the country and we hope to get a favorable report from the proper authorities on it at an early date. The Atlantic deeper waterways work must interest all people from the New England States southward."

The man who proposes to an helmsman on his knees may want her to put him on his feet.

in the seven weeks of activity of this contest. Still, it remains for the very last hour to designate the winner.

We hope that when 9 p. m. sounds tonight, every contestant will feel that she has done absolutely all she could before then, for the narrow margin that will make winners of some of the candidates, will be indeed so small that but a few votes will turn the trick. For this reason, every contestant should take the very best advantage of the short hours left. Should be trying when 9 o'clock comes around tonight. We maintain that it will be those contestants who will not give up till the very last minute who will see their efforts rewarded after the final count is made.

It will be with the greatest satisfaction that contestant who has tried till the very end will wait for the list of winners to be published. For she will be sure that she has done all in her power to respond to the generous help of her friends.

We want to remind country contestants that they have a few hours grace. Make the best of these hours, but be sure that your letter bears today's post-mark.

ONTARIO ELECTIONS MONDAY.

The Provincial Campaign Closed Today.

TORONTO, Ont., Dec. 9.—The provincial campaign in Ontario closed today and on Monday the voters will go to the polls to decide whether the administration of Sir James Whitney shall continue in power or give way to the Liberals. During the past few weeks the fight has become much more spirited than was promised at the outset.

At the beginning of the campaign the Liberals naturally felt the discouragement resulting from the defeat of their party in the Dominion elections. It was believed at first that they would be unable to organize strongly against Whitney. They were further handicapped by the loss of the veteran leader, A. C. McKay, who retired at the beginning of the campaign. But a new leader was chosen in the person of Newton W. Rowell and steps taken to put up a hard fight. Mr. Rowell, a strong Methodist and a noted teetotaler, has made the temperance question the chief issue of the Liberal campaign. Ontario has already shown itself disposed to put severe restrictions on the sale of liquor, but whether the people are ready to go to the lengths advocated in the Rowell platform remains to be seen. Sir James Whitney is relying for victory chiefly on the progressive record of his administration. Among other things he advocates the discontinuance of the hydro-electric power commission and the creation of a new department of government with a cabinet minister at the head to take over the work carried on by the commission.

DOINGS OF IMPORTANCE IN THE CAPITAL CITY

CONVENTION CITY TO BE CHOSEN

It Is Likely To Go To Chicago, Illinois.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 9.—The attention of the world will be centered Tuesday on the far-off city of Delhi, where the durbar ceremony will be held and where 100,000 persons, including many jewel-bedecked princes and potentates, will assemble to see the king and queen and to hear King George proclaimed emperor of India.

The event of the week in American politics will be in the meeting of the Republican national committee to fix the time and place for holding the national convention and will be dined by President Taft Monday evening and will hold their meeting the following day. The general expectation is that Chicago will be selected as the convention city, though St. Louis will put in a strong bid for the gathering.

A special meeting of the National Baseball commission and the regular annual meetings of the National and American leagues and several minor organizations will be held in New York during the week and will doubtless furnish "winter fodder" for the restless fans.

A number of important conventions are scheduled for the week, among them the meetings of the American National Live Stock association, in Denver; the National Wool Growers' association, in Omaha; the American Civic association, in Washington; the Anti-Saloon League of America, in Washington; the National Council of Jewish Women, in Philadelphia, and the Canadian Public Health association, in Montreal. A national congress of business men has been called to meet in Chicago "to consider what is the matter with the country and what remedial legislation will be asked of congress."

ST. NICHOLAS DAY IN HOLLAND

A Great Occasion For Big And Little Ones Alike.

AMSTERDAM, Dec. 9.—Queen Wilhelmina's subjects, both young and old, indulged this week in the customary annual celebration of the "Feast of St. Nicholas," which corresponds with the Christmas celebrations in other lands, though coming three weeks earlier. No festival in Holland exercises a more enchanting spell over both young and old. The original custom was for the children to place their little wooden shoes upon the hearth on the eve of St. Nicholas' day, the legend being that on that night the holy man rode over the housetops on a snow-white steed accompanied by his little black servant, a Moorish negro. He was supposed to carry with him a large bag, full of toys and sweets of all kinds for the "good" children, and riding over the roofs he threw the presents in passing down the chimneys into the shoes below, which were generally stuffed with a handful of straw by the children, for the white horse. In early days the Eve of St. Nicholas was given to the children entirely, but by degrees the grown-ups have come more and more to share in it, until now throughout Holland it is a great occasion for big and little ones alike.

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION OF PITT COUNTY

HOLDS INTERESTING SESSION.

Program For North Carolina Day—Splendid Address by Prof. Wright.

The Pitt County Teachers' association met in the auditorium of the Greenville graded school promptly at 11 o'clock. The association was called to order by Prof. W. H. Ragsdale, the president. The devotional exercises were conducted in a most delightful manner by Rev. E. M. Hoyle, the new pastor of the Jarvis Memorial Methodist church. Mr. Hoyle made a fine impression upon the association.

Supt. Ragsdale announced that a special program on Pitt county history would be used for North Carolina day on December 22, in the public schools. Special programmes were distributed and a most excellent paper on finding the sources of information for the essays suggested in this program was read by Miss Sallie J. Davis, head of the history department of East Carolina Teachers Training school.

A most interesting address was made by President Robt. H. Wright. His subject was, "A Purpose in Life." Purpose in life makes out a definite course in life. It is the compass and rudder to life. A purposeless life is a ship drifting on the treacherous waves without a compass and a rudder. The dead teacher has no purpose. A nervous teacher is a ship on a choppy sea. The teacher who has a purpose will far surpass the well prepared and scholarly teacher without a purpose. The teachers must plan each day's work, each term's work. The teacher must be in touch with the community in all its interests. There is no greater work than that of the teacher.

The association adjourned promptly on time. The attendance was fine and the entire program was interesting, indeed.

CHRISTMAS RUSH TO EUROPE.

A Dozen Transatlantic Steamships Depart From New York.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—A dozen transatlantic steamships have departed from New York during the past forty-eight hours, taking out 10,000 or more steerage passengers. This marks the flood tide of the exodus of those who go abroad each year to spend Christmas in their native lands. Steamship men say that the holiday steerage traffic this year is likely to fall a little short of the previous high record, though no one would ever think to see the busy scenes at the docks along the North river. Italians and natives of other countries of Southern Europe make up a large percentage of the out-going steerage passenger list. They come mostly from the country east of the Mississippi river. Other steamships carry out large lists made up entirely of Scandinavians, and those from Northern Europe. A majority of these come from the Northwestern States.

A WORTHY CAUSE.

Should Have Liberal Encouragement Of Greenville People.

The play which the two literary societies of East Carolina Teachers Training school are to give in the auditorium of the school next Tuesday night, deserves the most liberal encouragement of the people of Greenville. The young ladies to show their appreciation of the work of two of Greenville's citizens—ex-Governor T. J. Jarvis and Professor W. H. Ragsdale—who were so largely instrumental in securing the establishment of this school, are raising a fund to procure oil portraits of these gentlemen to adorn the auditorium of the school and remain there as a testimonial to them. Surely if these patriotic students, the large majority of whose homes are elsewhere and many of whom we may never see the school again after they leave it, take such interest in showing this work of esteem to two of Greenville's honored citizens, we who claim them as our own cannot afford to show less interest than to encourage the play with a large attendance. We believe the people of Greenville and community will take pleasure and pride in doing this.

A BLESSING TO GREENVILLE.

East Carolina Teachers' Training school is of far more benefit to Greenville than being an educational institution that gathers hundreds of pupils here from all sections of Eastern North Carolina. It is not only a power in the educational uplift of all who come under its influence, but it is a magnet that attracts educators of renown, not only from this but from other states. At the last summer term the faculty contained some of the most eminent instructors in the entire country. And through the regular terms, educators and men of prominence who have learned of the reputation of this splendid institution, come to visit the school and lecture to the student body. This is in keeping with the spirit of President Wright, who holds that nothing is too good for the pupils of this school. Greenville also gets the benefit of this for when these distinguished men come our people are given the opportunity of meeting and hearing them. Note the visitors at the school during the week just closed, for instance: Monday night and Tuesday morning, Dr. Henry L. Smith, president of Davidson College; Thursday, Dr. Venable, president of the University; Friday, Dr. A. L. Phillips and Rev. Robert King, of Richmond; Saturday, Bishop Robert Strange, of the East Carolina diocese. And there are others from time to time as those who keep up with the school notes appearing in The Reflector have observed.

Thus wherever the reputation of the school goes, the reputation of Greenville goes with it, and it is something our people should appreciate. Besides this the school affords a means of pleasure through its entertainments that are greatly enjoyed by all who attend them. In every way that can be mentioned, the school is a great help to Greenville, and the benefit will increase as the years come and go. Greenville should show its interest in everything that takes place at the school.

BRING THE SHOPS HERE.

The acquiring of new lines of road by the Norfolk Southern railroad and the proposed building of links and extensions which will carry this system as far up the state as Charlotte, will doubtless call for the location of the company's railroad shops at some convenient interior point. According to The Reflector's way of thinking, a better location for these shops cannot be found than Greenville, and this is to remind our people that they should bestir themselves in the effort to induce the railroad to put the shops here. There is no need of calling attention to the benefit the shops would be to Greenville and the business interests of the town. It would mean the turning loose of large sums of money here to find its way into other avenues of business, as well as give the town such a growth in population as it has never seen before. The shops are worth going after, and Greenville should not wait to act in the matter until every other town along the road gets busy for them. The time to begin is right now, and if Carolina club takes hold of it with a determination to win, something may come out of it.

Greenville needs to be rid of a few tight-wads, who only see the dollar they have in hand. The man who acquires riches for himself by stint and miserliness is no good to any community nor to himself. We need men who are not afraid to invest a little in future prospects. When we get more of that kind you will see a Greater Greenville in every way. Our resources are not short of wonderful, but there is "not a man to till the soil" in a manufactory way. Wake up, tight wads, and lets get a factory. Your riches will multiply there. If you could only see beyond your nose!

The Baptist State convention in Winston-Salem adopted a resolution expressing disapproval of the shipments of intoxicating liquors into dry territory, and petitioned our members of congress to favor and work for the enactment of such laws as will prevent this obstruction to the enforcement of prohibition. Congress ought to pass such laws, for when a state adopts prohibition, other states should not be allowed to ship liquor into it.

Greenville needs the manufacturing enterprises bad enough, but the people with money are slow to take action toward securing them.

Two messages to congress the first week of the session was a pretty good record for the president.

SHE GAVE UP ALL HOPE

Physicians Failed To Help Mrs. Green, But She Finally Found Relief in Cardui.

Meetez, Va.—Mrs. J. C. Green of this place, says: "I suffered with womanly troubles so that I could hardly sit up. Two of the best doctors in our town treated me, and I tried different medicines, until I gave up all hope of ever getting well."

One day, I decided to try some Cardui. It did so much for me that I ordered some more, and it cured me! Today, I feel as well as I ever did in my life.

The pains and the trouble are all gone. I feel like another person in every way. I wish every sufferer could know what Cardui will do for sick women."

A few doses of Cardui at the right time, will save many a big doctor bill, by preventing serious sickness.

It tones up the nervous system, and helps make pale cheeks fresh and rosy. Thousands of weak women have been restored to health and happiness by using Cardui. Suppose you try it.

It may be just the medicine you need.

Social and Personal

The teachers are with us today in the meeting of their association. There are but two more Saturdays before Christmas. The merchants who desire your Christmas trade are asking for it through the Reflector. We saw two bales of cotton sell for 9 cents Friday, but it was above the average grade.

Christmas On Wash Day.
When Christmas comes on Monday it happens well, indeed. Then Santa Claus need hardly pause or slacken in his speed.

When Christmas comes on Monday for Santa Claus things are fine. As all the hosiery in neatest rows are hanging on the line.

When Christmas comes on Monday with stockings out to dry, then Santa Claus, amid applause, can fill 'em on the fly.
—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Rev. E. M. Hoyle, the new pastor of the Methodist church, has arrived with his family to take up his work here. He will hold his first services tomorrow.

Miss Hattie Lee Jenkins attended a box party at Pactolus Friday night. Miss Lena Denton went to Ormondsville this afternoon.

Mrs. G. F. Smith and children, of Wilson, are visiting Mrs. R. L. Humber.

Mrs. G. F. Roberson, of Hassell, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Fannie Jenkins, returned home to Mr. J. Benjamin Higgs returned this morning from Norfolk.

Mr. W. H. Dail, Jr., went to Tarboro today.

Ladies' Aid Society Meets Monday.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church will meet with Mrs. Will Hooker, Monday afternoon. Every member is requested to be present promptly at 3 o'clock.

Bright Jewels Sunday Afternoon.

The Bright Jewels will hold their last business meeting of the year, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. No literary program will be used, but parts will be assigned to all those who will take part in the Christmas entertainment. Let every member be present.

Born.

On December 6th, 1911, to Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Ferguson, a son.

"Mr. Bob."

Mr. Bob is to be given at the Training school, Tuesday, December 12, 1911, at 8:00 o'clock, by the literary societies. The play is a comedy in two acts and lasts two hours. The characters are all of a jolly nature, and take everything just as it happens making the best of it. All the action in the play hinges upon Miss Rebecca Luke's pet scheme of providing a winter home for the cats. Her nephew, Phillip, and neices, Katherine, who live with her object to this and she has quite an interesting time in keeping her plans from them. Jenkins, her brother, and Polly, her maid, at first are very much opposed to this idea, but are finally persuaded to help Miss Becky keep her secret. See how well they manage it. Robert Brown, a clerk from the law firm of Benson & Benson, comes down with a missing cordial for Miss Luke. Jenkins and Polly are the first to meet him. See how he is greeted. Marion Bryant, one of Katherine's friends, comes on a visit to Katherine, and her pet name of "Mr. Bob," causes no end of confusion. Come and see how the misunderstanding is righted.

Cast of Characters:

Phillip Ryan, (Miss Rebecca's nephew), Neary Moore.
Robert Brown, (clerk of Benson & Benson), Edna Campbell.
Jenkins, (Miss Rebecca's butler), Willie Green Day.
Rebecca Luke, (a maiden lady), Marjorie Davis.
Katherine Rogers, (her niece), Lula Quinn.
Patty, (Miss Rebecca's maid), Eula Proctor.
Admission, 25 cents.

Be Wise.

The wise buyer looks ahead to save time. So before starting out for your Christmas packages, read the advertisements in The Reflector and learn which merchants have the goods and want your trade.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Pick-Ups And Hand-Me-Downs.

Nearly a whole week of pretty weather. The town looked lively today. Tobacco is not all sold yet, and those who have it to sell will find Greenville the best market. Whatever else may be plentiful, eggs and wood are not. The Pitt County Farmers union held its monthly meeting here today and was well attended. When you come to court next week remember The Reflector would like to write you a subscription receipt.

AT THE GAIETY.

Raymond And Hess Will Appear Again Tonight.

Before a record house a most interesting program was presented at this popular theatre last night. The ladies of the Baptist church lent their valuable aid, and the evening was made successful from every point of view.

Despite the fact that "The Song of the Soul" (originally sung in the Climax in New York) is anything but of easy rendition, Miss Vernessa Smith gave a good account of herself singing it.

Miss Ward Moore in recitation and story-telling was delightful and well appreciated, being called for an encore. Mrs. W. L. Hall sang a beautiful solo, and Carl Armstrong, leading Greenville's quartette, was very good. We want to say that for the length of practice this is some quartette, and under the able leadership of Mr. Armstrong, there is no telling what they may accomplish. The young men forming part of the quartette are Messrs. A. Dupree, L. R. Hearne and Louis Johnston.

Raymond and Hess kept up their promise of an entire change of program and those that are accustomed to vaudeville acting will appreciate what this means. Most vaudeville actors are almighty lucky to have "a" good act, let alone two or three good acts. Nevertheless Raymond and Hess repeated the success of the night before and were loudly applauded throughout their act. They will be with us again tonight, and well deserve a big audience.

We wish to announce for the management of the Gaiety that the vaudeville venture started some three weeks ago, will wind up with tonight's performance. This is simply due to the fact that the patronage accorded the Gaiety by the people of Greenville does not guarantee the great expense incurred by the management in securing acts of the nature it wishes to present to Greenville audiences.

Bazaar Closed.

The Christmas bazaar which the ladies of the Methodist church opened Tuesday evening, closed Friday night. It was quite a financial success and a good sum was realized.

It's almost as easy to give good advice as it is not to follow it. Manners pay exclusive attention to money.

DON'T PULL OUT THE GRAY HAIRS.

A Few Applications of a Simple Remedy Will Bring Back the Natural Color.

"Pull out one gray hair and a dozen will take its place" is an old saying, which is, to a great extent, true. If no steps are taken to stop the cause. When gray hairs appear it is a sign that nature needs assistance. It is nature's call for help. Gray hair, dull, lifeless hair, or hair that is falling out, is not necessarily a sign of advancing age, for there are thousands of elderly people with perfect heads of hair without a single streak of gray.

When gray hairs come, or when the hair seems to be lifeless or dead, some good, reliable hair-restoring treatment should be resorted to at once. Specialists say that one of the best preparations to use is the old-fashioned "sage tea" which our grandparents used. The best preparation of this kind is Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of domestic sage and sulphur, scientifically compounded with later discovered hair tonics and stimulants, the whole mixture being carefully balanced and tested by experts.

Weyth's Sage and Sulphur is clean and wholesome and perfectly harmless. It refreshes dry, parched hair, removes dandruff and gradually restores faded or gray hair to its natural color.

Don't delay another minute. Start using Weyth's Sage and Sulphur at once and see what a difference a few days' treatment will make in your hair.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agent, Moyer's Pharmacy.

STALK CUTTER

The Parlin & Orendorf Co., Canton, Ill., made the first Stalk Cutter ever built, over 50 years ago; today they are building the best Stalk Cutter on the market

You need weight in a Stalk Cutter to do good work. You get it in this one—and with weight you get strength. The P. & O. is practically indestructible. Beware of light, flimsy stalk cutters—you will rue the day you buy one. This one will last a life-time. What do the manufacturers themselves think of it? "Back it up with an unqualified guarantee." That is putting it pretty strong—what more can you ask?

PUBLIC DEBATE.

By The Vance Literary Society of Winterville High School.

The annual mid-term debate was given by the Vance Literary society of Winterville High school, Friday night, December 8, to a large and appreciative audience. The query was: Resolved, That the South should encourage such immigrants to her borders as are lawfully admitted by the United States laws. The affirmative was represented by Messrs. S. O. Roberson, of Camden county; Z. V. Berry, of Norfolk, Va.; and I. L. Bennett, of Brunswick county. The negative by Messrs. J. D. McGlohon, of Pitt county; W. H. Smith, of Pitt county; and F. W. Carroll, of Pitt county. The judges were Prof. J. L. Olive, Miss Dora Cox and Miss V. E. Boushall.

Every speaker acquitted himself magnificently and the contest was close, indeed. After carefully considering the argument and the oratory the judges rendered a decision in favor of the negative.

Before the debate was taken up two declamations were excellently rendered by Messrs. C. Causey and G. H. Cox. The subject of Mr. Causey's declamation was "Regulus to the Roman Senate." That of Mr. Cox, "Webster's Reply to Hayne."

Two excellent piano solos were furnished by Misses Carrie Yelverton and Olivera Cox.

The work of this society has been of a high order this year. Winterville school boys put special stress on the society work, because this feature is so essential in the preparation for a successful life.

Wilson HOT BLAST Heater

The air enters at the top, drives the combustible gases into the fire where they are burned—prevents the escape of heat up the chimney—doubles the heating power of the fuel.
