GOVERNMENT MUST LOOK AFTER HIGHWAYS

Underwood asks aid of Advocates in pleading

CONGRESSMEN FAVOR BETTER ROADS

Champ Clark, Speaker of the House Pledged Himself to Work for Movement—Federal Assistance Can be Constitutionally Sought, Says Senator Bankhead—Funds to Come From Additional Taxes on Luxuries

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—United action was urged upon the members of the first national good roads federal aid convention last night by Representative Underwood, of Alabama, who declared that such means alone would result in congressional assistance for the movement for better highways. Representative Underwood declared the work of advocates of good roads who go before congress each with a different scheme to advocate would amount to naught. He suggested the creation of a joint congressional committee on post roads.

Legislation required by the new era in interstate communication was discussed by Representative Linthicum, of Maryland, while Representative Tower, of Iowa, emphasized the importance of a unified plan for federal aid. Others who spoke were: Dr. E. Stagg Whitin and Representative Sulzer, of New York and Borland, of Kansas.

Speaker Champ Clark, of the house of representatives, in the afternoon announced his accord with the object of the convention, and declared that in the future, as in the past, he would be working to procure good roads. Representative Solomon F. Prouty, of Iowa, declared that the farmer had not received fair treatment, and advocated, if money with which to improve the roads over which he must haul his products was lacking, that the federal government procure that fund by reducing the naval appropriation.

SURGERY TAKES FORWARD STEP

New Methods For Giving Anesthetics Put in Practice

MAN DISCOVERS NEW METHOD

Dr. S. J. Meltzer of the Rockefeller Institute Invents New Method of Administering Anesthetics. Called Very Valuable.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—A new method of administering anesthetics evolved by Dr. S. J. Meltzer of the Rockefeller Institute with the co-operation of Dr. Carrel and Dr. Elsborg has now been tried in some of the city hospitals and its success has demonstrated, the surgeons say, that it is a valuable adjunct to surgery and will soon be in general use.

Stripped of the medical terms, the system employed is simply putting a tube down the wind pipe of the patient and forcing air with a bellows into the lungs. The current of air passes through the space between the tube and the wall of the windpipe, thus keeping up a system of ventilation. Thus artificial respiration is established, the supply of oxygen replenished and the carbon dioxide removed.

Ether is mixed with the air and administered in practically unlimited quantities, if required, and without serious after effects during the operations which have lasted from 4 to 12 hours. The organs of respiration need not act during the pumping in of the air and the danger of an insufficient supply of oxygen is eliminated. In every way the danger to the patient is lessened by the new method, for, as there is a more direct application of the ether, it takes less to anesthetize than in the old way of application. It has been proved that respiration can be efficiently maintained by means of the tube without the aid of muscular action.

Missourian Declares That in Time the Nation's Wealth Will be Totally Controlled by Great Corporations if Present Federal Supervision is Continued—Gov. Mann Backs Champ Clark.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—"Plutocratic socialism" was the term applied to the federal supervision of trusts plan advanced recently by Andrew Carnegie, Judge Gary, of the United States Steel Corporation, and other capitalists, by Senator Reed, of Missouri, before several hundred leading members of the American Meat Packers' Association at their annual banquet last night at the New Willard Hotel. Senator Reed charged President Taft and former President Roosevelt with giving their support to the plan.

In an address opposing such trust supervision Senator Reed declared that if the government ever decides to legalize monopolies, real socialism will speedily follow, and that then the people of the United States will rise in the greatest revolution this nation ever has known. The United States never will stand for socialism, he declared.

The banquet also was marked by a glowing tribute paid by Minority Leader Mann, of the house, to Speaker Champ Clark, who was unable to attend because of illness, and by the prediction of Senator Reed that the next Democratic candidate for president will be from Missouri. He did not specify whether he meant Speaker Clark or former Gov. Folk.

CUBA HEARS U. S. THREATS

President Gomez Says No Cause For Agitation

TO FIGHT IF INDEPENDENCE MENACED

Gen. Nunez, Head of Veterans Declares Countrymen Will Fight if Freedom is at Stake—Course of U. S. Government May Help Calm the Situation.

HAVANA, Jan. 17.—The news of threatened intervention by the United States in Cuban affairs, which was published in the late editions of the Havana afternoon papers, coming without the least warning, caused intense excitement. In all places of public gathering it was the absorbing topic of discussion. Astonishment and resentment against American interference were mingled with very general incredulity.

Later, as the news was fully confirmed, the impression became general that the suggestion of intervention probably could have a good effect in calming the existing veteran agitation and in quieting political excitement.

President Gomez, seen at the palace tonight, said:

"I have only recently received secretary Knox's note, through the American Minister, Mr. Beaupre, and have not yet made a reply, but probably will do so tomorrow. I am convinced that no occasion has yet arisen for any intimation of intervention. I believe that the Washington government's attitude is based on an erroneous view of the conditions in Cuba, arising from distorted and greatly exaggerated reports from Havana."

When it was suggested that the action of the administration at Washington was probably based on reports from Minister Beaupre, the president replied that he did not have the honor of knowing the character of the minister's reports.

It's easier to look wise than it is to deliver the goods.

NEWS THROUGHOUT THE NORTH STATE

North Carolina News : : : In Brief

Foreign Capital to Depart Mill.
ASHEVILLE, Jan. 17.—The following account of the establishment of a stove mill at Unaka in Cherokee county by a foreign corporation, as appears in the current issue of the Cherokee Scout, will be read with interest:

"A stove mill is to be established at Unaka, in the lower end of the county, by a foreign corporation, represented by Mr. John Gyulai, of Hamberg, Ark. The manager, Mr. John Naglich, was here some days ago making arrangements to put a squad of hands at work. The men were Austrians. When the mill is in full operation from 100 to 150 men will be employed. The staves will be hauled to Farmer, Tenn., for shipment."

A Fatal Boiler Explosion.

GOLDSBORO, Jan. 17.—Sunday afternoon about 2 o'clock people living in the eastern part of the city were greatly surprised by hearing a terrific explosion in that section, which proved to be at the home of Mr. J. D. Langston, where a hot water tank had exploded, resulting in the death of a colored cook, seriously injuring two of Mr. Langston's children and completely wrecking the entire house.

Ninety Days on Roads for Retailing Whiskey.

DURHAM, Jan. 17.—John Barbee was this morning sentenced to 90 days on the county roads in four cases, in which he was charged with retailing. There were five cases against Barbee. In the first case he was given 60 days, which, with the sentence in each of the other four, makes 14 months. John Claiborne received a sentence of 90 days in each of two cases of retailing.

Valuable Find in Bucket of Christmas Oysters.

STATESVILLE, Jan. 17.—It develops that a Hickory lady received a very valuable gift in disguise and undiscovered by the donors when a couple of Statesville gentlemen sent her husband a modest Xmas present Mr. West, of the Thompson-West Co. of Hickory, is a friend of Messrs. J. F. Bowles and C. S. Tomlin, two of Statesville's leading traveling men, and Christmas the Statesville gentlemen sent him a gallon can of oysters as a gift. In preparing the oysters for the table Mrs. West came upon a hard substance which she preserved and later discovered to be an oyster pearl. The pearl was submitted to a local jeweler who declared it to be the largest he had ever seen. A few days ago was sent to a pearl specialist for examination and Messrs. Bowles and Tomlin have been advised by Mr. West that they unknowingly sent him a precious stone worth from $250 to $300.

State Farmers' Union.

RALEIGH, Jan. 17.—Information is given out that a charter will be procured for the Farmers' Union Warehouse Company of North Carolina as soon as a location is decided upon for the principal warehouse and office and other details are worked out, after which stock will be solicited from members of each local union in the state. The company will not begin business until not less than $35,000 stock has been paid in. The executive committee of the union will meet in Raleigh Thursday for the purpose of deciding on a place to locate the central warehouse. Efforts will be made to locate it in Raleigh.

SENATOR REED FEARS REVOLT IN UNITED STATES

Missouri Senator Sees Danger In Trust Supervision

PLUTOCRATIC SOCIALISM, HE SAYS

As was Explained Earlier Wilson's Name as Candidate For President Was Removed From Harper's Editorial Page on Wilson's Own Request—Wilson Refuses to Pass Any Comment on Incident.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Harper's Weekly now comes to the front with an explanation of why the Woodrow Wilson banner was removed from its editorial page, attention to which first was directed through the publication on January 5, of an exclusive story in The Washington Post.

In an editorial in the current issue of Harper's Weekly, Col. George Harvey, the editor, asserts that Gov. Wilson believed that the support of Harper's was affecting his candidacy injuriously, which is a confirmation of the statement made in The Washington Post's first story.

The current number of the Weekly contains the following editorial announcement:

"To Our Readers: We make the following reply to many inquiries from readers of Harper's Weekly:

"The name of Woodrow Wilson as our candidate for president was taken down from the head of these columns in response to a statement made to us directly by Gov. Wilson, to the effect that our support was affecting his candidacy injuriously."

"The only course left open to us, in simple fairness to Mr. Wilson, no less than in consideration of our own self-respect, was to cease to advocate his nomination."

PEKIN REVOLT FALLS THROUGH

Assassination of Premier Was On the Programme

DOWAGER EMPRESS TO BE POISONED

Head of Bomb Throwing Gang Has Confessed Intention of Assassinating Chinese Premier and Poisoning of Dowager Empress.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Huang Tui-peng, the bomb thrower who attempted the life of Yuan Shi Kai yesterday and his three accomplices, have confessed that the assassination of the premier was to have been the signal for a general rising in Pekin, says a Pekin dispatch to the Daily Telegraph.

The whole northeast portion of the city is now picketed with troops, and a house-to-house search resulted in the discovery of a bomb factory and the arrest of several men having bombs in their possession.

There are persistent rumors of an attempt to poison the empress dowager, who however, becoming suspicious, refused to partake of the fatal cup.

Manchus to Ring Down.

PARIS, Jan. 17.—A secret cabinet council at Pekin yesterday prepared an abdication edict, which according to a dispatch to the European edition of the New York Herald.

The attempt against Yuan Shi Kai has forced the hands of the obdurate princes, who fearing attempts against themselves, have decided to ring down the curtain on the Manchu dynasty. Yuan himself is authority for stating that he again tendered his resignation, but it was not accepted.

Iowa, Indiana, Illinois and Missouri, as well as the Southwest are represented among the exhibitors.

CUBA GETS WARNING FROM UNITED STATES

The Threatened Up-Rising Must Be Checked

U. S. GOVERNMENT WILL INTERVENE

Veterans Desire to Enter Politics once More. Have Been Intriguing for Some Time and Unrest is Felt Throughout the Island. Cuban Government Must Stop Threatened Revolt or Stand Intervention.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 17.—The heavy hand of the United States government is ready to drop upon the shoulder of Cuba. This island is threatened with revolution and consequent intervention by the United States.

Unless the government of Cuba takes steps at once to prevent moves that are being made by the Veterans' Association of the island with a view of turning over the affairs of the republic to Cuban army men, the United States government will intervene in the interest of law and order.

United States troops are being held in readiness for any outbreak that may occur in Cuba. It was admitted at the War Department last night that within five days an army of from 5,000 to 8,000 men can be landed in Cuba. Transports are being held at Newport News ready to depart at a word from the War Department.

That political intrigue was rife in Cuba had been reported repeatedly, but that the situation had assumed proportions that should bring about a threat of intervention from the United States was suspected by none but the officials who have been in active touch with the situation.

The Veterans' Association, an organization of army men numbering several thousands has issued an ultimatum to President Gomez that unless the law barring army men from politics is declared a deadletter, resort will be taken to something more drastic than an appeal. The suggestion of the Veterans' Association is revolution.

REFORM FOR GOVERNMENT PRINTSHOP

To Save $1,250,000 Per Year Is Being Planned

INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE REPORTS

Senator Smoot Presents Drastic Changes in Laws Governing Public Printing. Great Saving in Government Printshops Planned.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 17.—The first and only comprehensive revision of the laws governing public printing ever made to Congress was submitted to the Senate yesterday, when Senator Smoot filed his report and the bill that will be pressed for enactment into law. This revision is the result of the work of the joint committee that has been engaged in investigating the affairs of the public printing office.

The report shows that an annual saving of $1,250,000 will be made. Under existing laws, many of which are obsolete there have grown many extravagances. The most important provision in the measure, perhaps, is that authorizing and requiring the substitution of power for hand presses in the bureau of engraving and printing. This will save $600,000 a year. Not more than one-fifth of the hand presses will be removed in any year and the committee says that not a plate printer will be disturbed as the increase in business will require the retention of the present force.

JUSTICE AND PROHIBITION.

The hand of justice descended heavily upon the shoulders of six men Wednesday night. Three white and three colored men faced Judge Allen in the Pitt county court house self-confessed defiers of a law the enforcement of which is costing North Carolina many dollars. For some time past these six men had been engaged in the traffic of liquor notwithstanding the fact that North Carolina is a legal dry state. And in the discharge of his duty Judge Allen sentenced them to terms on the roads, varying from twelve to six months. Exception was made in the case of one white man, his case remaining open for further investigation. But with this one exception justice was made to reign over crime.

Startling facts were brought to light by the investigation carried out by Solicitor Abernathy into the illegal selling of liquor in Pitt county. Perhaps the most startling being the receipt in a secluded R. R. landing of whiskey shipments amounting to 229 barrels during only two months. Men who could not possibly be traced or who had long ago quit the world of the living were the consignees of that whiskey, and back of it all a white man, who looks more like a prosperous, honest farmer than a law-breaker, had sat rifle in hand seeing to it that the liquor was translated into currency for his own profit. This man had for years been vying his misery and crime spreading trade and his example of good profits and apparent proof against punishment acted as a magnet to induce others into the illegal trading. Justice was just in regards to this man, who thought a great deal more of his personal greed than the good of his community into which he was injecting the germ of crime to increase his bank account. Such a man may or may not deserve sympathy; we are rather strongly inclined to think that he deserves none whatever. He knew full well what he was doing.

Another white man sat not three feet from him, listening to Judge Allen's avowal to clean the county of defying the law and literally "comes

Aspects of the Lawrence Strike.

A strike against a law enacted in the interest of and at the instance of labor has the aspect of an anomaly, as if the beneficiaries had recoiled from a boom. But the cause of the trouble at Lawrence, Mass., is due to ignorance—not crass ignorance, but lack of knowledge of the language of America. Nobody seems to have foreseen what would happen when the new law reducing the hours of labor and incidentally wages to a slight extent was put in force. The 45 varieties of tongues spoken by the operatives of the cotton mills was an element of danger the bosses failed to apprehend, or perhaps the task of organizing as many different schools of instruction appeared to be impracticable. Anyway, no precautions had been taken to meet the situation that rose when pay day came around.

All of the 45 nationalists had been schooled in the art of counting the contents of pay envelopes, and they were familiar with the rate of wages. The babel of imprecations that arose when the truth was divined never could have had a parallel except in biblical narrative. Assuredly, nobody living ever before faced the experience of being "cussed out" in 45 picturesque vocabularies in chorus.

The strike was inevitable from the first. There was nobody competent to interpret the law and justify the action of the employers. The authorities likewise find it impossible to make headway in bringing about a better understanding as to the new conditions and thus letting the strikers see that they are butting their heads against their own game.

Under these untoward circumstances the situation naturally drifted from bad to worse. Thousands of foreigners not at first disaffected have joined the ranks, and the strike committee has coupled the original grievance with demand for higher pay and other concessions. The cause of the strike looked so trivial at the outset that the mayor declined a proffer of state assistance, but now the city is under martial law and the streets are strongly patrolled by troops, who have orders to quell the rioting at any cost.

The lesson of the strike of tongues is that due caution should be observed in changing the conditions under which raw immigrants work, even when the change is for the better.—Washington Post.

such men. He was another defier of the law but where no sympathy need be shown such a man as we mentioned before, this second white man might have been shown some consideration. His crime, his violation of the law is comparatively young while the motive that might have induced him to engage in the illegal trade, appears to be minimized by the fact that he stood as the only support of relatives whose old age and youth made it pressing for him to add in some other way to his income. Perhaps he was a victim of the example furnished by the first man. Impunity and a small fortune had attended the first man's venture into the illegal field, and it is hardly to be wondered that more men did not avail themselves of the opportunity offered. The case of this second white man is mighty sad. Poverty when a boy prevented him from reaching an education without which it is dangerous to enter life. By donation from the people of his community he was given a chance to attend high school for one year in which time he lead all his classes. While still in his teens he joined the army and served his country in the Spanish war. Through all his career not a black spot can be traced. He is not a "tough" man. He is not a hardened criminal. We might perhaps say that he is a victim of circumstances and his case is really the only meritorious of mercy. We feel sorry for him.

By no means do we say that because a series of circumstances attenuates a man's crime he should go scot free. We voted a law and are paying to see to it that it is enforced. We further congratulate ourselves for having so zealous a solicitor as Mr. Abernathy and so able a judge as Judge Allen and feel sure that their efforts will go a long way towards making Pitt county clean, safe and healthy. All the same there is one case where, from all appearances, a heavy bond would have brought the desired effect.

In his charge to the Grand Jury, Allen explained that a criminal is sent to prison, 1st to protect society, and 2nd to reform the criminal and he mentioned the Constitution to back his statement. We thoroughly agree with him. When a man becomes a criminal society is better off without him and the penitentiary or the roads are the places for him. It is then up to the authorities to cure him before restoring him to society. This is perfectly true in the case of criminals. But where a man has only fallen once and that one time has not really reached very low, it seems unfair to class him with the criminal. The stigma attached to him will forever live with him and will be forever a handicap in his "struggle for life". Why should the authorities need such a long time to reform a man who has only committed a crime and that only in a very mild form? And furthermore society in this case seems inclined to have him remain in its midst.

But for the man who persists on defying the law and literally "comes back with his head down" after serving his sentence or paying his fine, the limit of the law is but a fitting punishment for his crime.

GOV. JARVIS' BIRTHDAY.

Today is the birthday of our esteemed townsman, ex-Gov. T. J. Jarvis. He is 76 years old, and it will be truly gratifying to his host of friends here and elsewhere to know that today, for the first time since he was taken sick three weeks ago, he was able to sit up several hours with his clothes on, and feels that he will soon be able to come out again. He was enjoying the congratulations of friends as well as the fragrance of many beautiful flowers that had been sent him. We hope he is to be spared yet for many more years of usefulness to his people. His life is a blessing to his state.

What The Chimney Sang.
Over the chimney the night-wind sang
And chanted a melody no one knew,
And the woman stopped, as her babe she tossed,
And thought of the one she had long since lost,
And said, as her tear-drops back she forced,
"I hate the wind in the chimney."
Over the chimney the night-wind sang
And chanted a melody no one knew,
And the children said, as they closer drew,
"Tis some witch that is cleaving the black night through!
Tis a fairy trumpet that just then blew,
And we fear the wind in the chimney."

Over the chimney the night-wind sang
And chanted a melody no one knew,
But the poet listened and smiled for he was the man, and woman, and child, all three,
And said: "It is God's own harmony,
This wind we hear in the chimney."

Prof. E. R. Graham, dean of the faculty of arts of the University of North Carolina, and professor of English, will deliver a lecture on Lee at the Training school on Friday evening, January 19th, at 8:30 o'clock. Prof. Graham was president of the State Literary and Historical association last year and is a vital force in the literary life of North Carolina. It will be a fine opportunity for the school and the public to hear one of the foremost thinkers of the state on Lee. The subject of the lecture will be "The Teacher as a Patriot."

Farmers' Institutes.

The farmers of Pitt county should bear in mind the dates on which farmers' institutions are to be held in this county, which are as follows: Grimesland, Wednesday, Jan. 31; Bethel, Saturday, Feb. 3; Ayden, Monday, Feb. 12. In Martin county they will be held as follows: Oak City, Tuesday, Jan. 30; Williamston, Monday, Feb. 5.

Prayer Services.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Baptist church will hold prayer services Friday, the 19th, beginning at 10:30, with an hour's intermission for dinner, closing with the regular missionary meeting in the afternoon. All members of the church and congregation are requested to be present and bring their offering for foreign missions.

LOCAL BRIEFS
Knights of Pythias meet tonight. There is a little more moderation in the weather.
This term of court is opening the eyes of some of the blind tigers. Slush is much in evidence now.
The slaughter of robins continues in large numbers.
The trains have not yet caught up with schedule.

Gen. Lee's Birthday Tomorrow.
To the Daughters of the Confederacy of the George Singletary chapter: You will remember that Friday is General Lee's birthday and it is our annual custom to celebrate it. Owing to the illness of Governor Jarvis I will not be able to meet with you in our usual celebration, but Dr. Graham will deliver an address on the life and character of General Lee at the Training school tomorrow evening and President Wright has kindly invited us to attend. Deeming this a rare opportunity to pay our respects to our beloved chieftain, I trust as many of the Daughters as can will attend.

MRS. T. J. JARVIS, Pres.

Mrs. Amanda Harris Dead.

Mrs. Amanda Harris died just before noon today at her home on Ninth street, after an illness of only a few days. She was 78 years of age and is survived by one son, Mr. M. A. Harris. The funeral will take place Friday afternoon at the old Matthias Harris home place about six miles from town.

New Advertisements.

J. R. and J. G. Moye have something to say about Oliver Chilled plows in their advertisement today that every farmer should read.

Frank Hopkins, the clothes cleaner and presser, has an advertisement today that those wanting good attention in his line should read.

Ready to Open Laundry.

Mr. R. A. Bishop, formerly of Blackstone, Va., has arrived and his machinery is here in readiness for the opening of a steam laundry in Greenville. He has had many years experience in the business and will give Greenville a good laundry.

The Best Way to Draw Trade.

Some merchants seem to think that the people are mind readers and know just what is in the stores for sale. But the people don't know this and the best way to let them know is through an advertisement where they will read it. Trade comes quicker by asking for it, for when the people know a certain article can be had at a certain place at a certain price, they are apt to act on this instead of having to hunt around from store to store for what they want.

Two Small Fires Call out Department

CHARLOTTE, Jan. 17.—The fire department answered two calls this morning, one at the residence of Mr. William Harty, 409 North Tryon St. and one at the residence of Mr. J. A. Fricker, 306 West Tenth avenue. The fire at the Fricker home was nothing more serious than a burned-out chimney. At the Harty residence about $25 or $30 damage was done in the dining room from a small blaze which is thought to have originated from a fire which plumbers had started in an effort to thaw the frozen pipes.

To Discuss Auto Construction.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Every mechanical point of the motor car, from the multiple disk clutches to the homogenous carburetting of air is to be discussed by the Society of Automobile Engineers at its annual meeting which opened today in the assembly hall of Madison Square Garden. The meeting will continue over Friday and Saturday.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS
May Irvin has bought a play called "Her Waterloo."
Florence Rockwell will be seen in a revival of "A Fool of Fortune."
"The Nest Egg" is to be used by the Belasco company in Los Angeles.
Harry Macdonough has taken the place of Charles Bigelow in "The Kiss Waltz."
Charles Hawtrey has revived "A Messenger from Mars" in London with great success.
Fred De Gresac and Harry B. Smith have written a new comedy for Sam Bernard.

Taylor Granville is the author and producer of "The Hold-Up," a successful vaudeville skit.
Fritz Scheff is rehearsing for an early production of "Die Fledermaus," which she will call "The Bat."
A play by Rudolf Besier, founded on H. G. Wells' novel "Klippers," is scheduled for production in London this season.

Rosaline Conghlan, daughter of Rose Conghlan, is to appear in "The Obstinate Miss Granger," a playlet by Edgar Allen Wolf.
Benjamin Chapin, who made himself famous by appearing in a play on Abraham Lincoln, is now lecturing on Lincoln in the western states.

Mabel Taliaferro is to return to the stage under the management of Klaw and Erlanger in a new comedy which bears the title "The Penny Philanthropist."
A new play entitled "The Singed Woman," by a Belgian playwright, M. Kistemaeker, has scored a hit in Paris. The theme of the play is hypnotic fascination.

Paul Dickey wrote "The Come-Back," and he is said to have based it upon personal experiences of hazing when he was a freshman in the University of Michigan.
Wilton Lackaye's stock company in New York will shortly produce a play called "The Right to Happiness." Adelaide Keim has been specially engaged for the leading part.

Among the players with Nora Bayes and Jack Norworth in "A Musical Surprise Party" are Rita Walker, Cyril Chadwick, David Stamper, Albert Anderson and Hubert Carlton.
It is reported that Oscar Hammerstein has accepted for production an opera by the Duke of Argyll, whose wife is the Princess Louise, daughter of Queen Victoria and aunt of King George.

Charles Frohman will have new comedies next season by Alfred Sutor Sir Arthur Pinero, W. Coiermet Maugham, Augustus Thomas and Hubert Henry Davis. The natural bent of nearly all these men is to comedy.
Maude Adams will play nothing but "Chantecler" this season, which will run until the middle of July. After her engagement in San Francisco she will appear in the cities of the Northwest, ending her tour in Spokane. Her next New York engagement will be in November of this year.

Pitcher Walter Johnson, the Washington star, won more than twenty games for his team last season.
Manager Chance of the Cubs, figures he has picked up several star pitchers among the minor leaguers signed.
John J. Carney, veteran player, manager and scout, has been chosen baseball coach at Phillips Exeter Academy.

The Southern league has lost its star umpire in Bill Carpenter, who has signed with the American association.
Spike Shannon, one-time New York Giant and last season a member of the Kansas City team, has retired from the game.
Trainer Joe Quirk will have charge of the Boston Red Sox players. Joe formerly worked for McAleer in St. Louis and Washington.

Fights Scheduled for Tonight.
Abe Attell vs "Knockout" Brown, 10 rounds at New York.

HEALTHY HAIR
Use Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. A Harmless Remedy That Makes the Hair Grow.
What a pity it is to observe so many people with thin and faded hair and then realize that the most of these people might have a fine, healthy head of hair if they would but use the simple "sage tea" of our grandmothers, combined with other ingredients for restoring and preserving the hair. No one, young or old, need have gray hair, weak, thin or falling hair, dandruff or any trouble of the sort if they would but use Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. On the contrary, it is possible to have healthy, vigorous hair, of perfect color, by a few applications of this remarkable preparation.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy quickly removes dandruff, leaves the scalp clean and healthy, promotes the growth of the hair and restores the natural color of the hair which has become faded or gray. It is a clean, wholesome dressing, which may be used at any time and with perfect safety. Don't neglect your hair. Start today with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

NOTES FROM THE BASEBALL WORLD
Another old star has quit, Del Howard, the former Chicago-Louisville player has retired from the diamond and purchased a farm in Oregon.
President Dr. Carson will abandon his large practice in the interests of baseball, and will hereafter give all of his time to the Central league.

Five of the eight teams in the American league have changed managers since last October. Connie Mack, Hugh Jennings and Rhody Wallace are the only pilots of 1911 who are still on the job.
John M. Ward, president of the Boston Nationals, is against baseball on Sunday, and the Pilgrims will not take part in any Sabbath day games if the new official of the South End club can arrange with the other league magnates.

Harry (Slim) Sallee, star pitcher of the Cardinals, has signed the pledge. "Slim" always had the number of most of the National league batters any time he was half-way right, and if he rides on the cart next season he will put many a game in the win column for Roger Bresnahan's boys.

It is said that two archaeologists, Profs. Winkle, of Berlin and Hogarth of London, have dug up in northern Syria tablets or slabs, that show that a game similar to baseball existed in 1800 B. C., and that the catcher wore a perforated mask made of the dried shell of the calabash, or native gourd. The race that played this game was called the Hitites. This must have been before Jim McGuire and Cy Young broke into the game.

FREE IF IT FAILS.
Your Money Back if You Are Not Satisfied With the Medicine We Recommend.
We are so positive that our remedy will permanently relieve constipation, no matter how chronic it may be, that we offer to furnish the medicine at our expense should it fail to produce satisfactory results.

It is worse than useless to attempt to cure constipation with cathartic drugs. Laxative or cathartics do much harm. They cause a reaction, irritate and weaken the bowels and tend to make constipation more chronic. Besides, their use becomes a habit that is dangerous.
Constipation is caused by a weakness of the nerves and muscles of the large intestine or descending colon. To expect permanent relief you must therefore tone up and strengthen these organs and restore them to healthier activity.

We want you to try Rexall Orderlies on our recommendation. They are exceedingly pleasant to take, being cast in like candy, and are ideal for children, delicate persons, and old folks, as well as for the robust. They act directly on the nerves and muscles of the bowels. They apparently have a neutral action on other associate organs or glands. They do not purge, cause excessive looseness, nor create any inconvenience whatever. They may be taken at any time, day or night. They will positively relieve chronic or habitual constipation, if not of surgical variety, and the myriads of associate or dependent chronic ailments, if taken with regularity for a reasonable length of time. 12 tablets, 10 cents; 36 tablets, 25 cents; 80 tablets, 50 cents. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store, Key's Pharmacy, Greenville, N. C., and at all drug stores.
