PRESIDENT TAFT WELCOMES 1400 OF THE JUDICIARY

Great Gathering of Justices at White House

JUSTICE McKENNA LEADS JUDGES

Stately Gathering Enhanced by Presence of Beautifully Gowned Women at White House—Mrs. Taft Aids President Receive Guests—Former Vice-President Morton at Reception.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—One of the most stately of the winter's receptions was given at the white house last night, when the special guests of the President and Mrs. Taft were the members of the judiciary. A distinguished company was brought together in their honor, including a number of diplomats, many members of the senate and house, representatives of resident circles, and several persons from other cities.

The members of the highest tribunal in the land, the United States Supreme court, with members of the district bench, assembled in the green room, while the early arrivals from the diplomatic corps gathered in the red room, awaiting the hour of the reception, 9:30 o'clock. Promptly at that time, the President and Mrs. Taft, preceded by the entire group of military aids assigned to the white house, and followed by the cabinet members and their wives, descended to the blue room from the library on the second floor, heralded by the buglers of the marine band. Then, while the band played "The Star-Spangled Banner," the second of the season's receptions at the white house began.

The state apartment were beautifully decorated with flowers, especially the blue room, in which many orchids were used. The east room was converted into a general assembly room, and the long line, composed of nearly 1,400 persons, formed there, passing through the green room into the blue room, after the special guests of the evening had been received.

President Axton, of the Independents, Bitterly Assails Wickersham For What He Calls Protection to The Trusts.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24.—A caustic attack on Attorney General Wickersham characterized the address of W. F. Axton of Louisville, president of the Independent Tobacco Manufacturers' Association, delivered yesterday before the annual convention of the organization at the New Willard.

Mr. Axton, in discussing the decision of the Supreme Court dissolving the American Tobacco Company, declared that "a decision which should have settled the trust question in America forever" had been "flittered away like chaff on a windy day by the chief law officer of the United States, whose vision was limited to the interest of the common stockholders of the American Tobacco Company, whom the Supreme Court denounced in unmeasured terms."

He thought the Supreme court should have reviewed the plan of recognition, saying:

The Weather.

WILSON RIGHT ACCORDING TO W. J. BRYAN

Nebraskan Takas Side With Governor Wilson In Harvey Row

BREAK HAD TO COME, HE DECLARES

Men Who Look at Public Questions From Different Points of View Are Bound to Differ in The End, Says Bryan. He Does Not Believe That Harper or Any Other Paper Made Wilson.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 24.—William J. Bryan takes the side of Gov. Woodrow Wilson in his break with Col. Harvey and Henry Watterson, justifying the question of the New Jersey governor in requesting that his name be withdrawn from the columns of Harper's Weekly. In a letter sent from the east, made public here tonight, Mr. Bryan says:

"The recent break between Gov. Wilson and Col. Harvey illustrates the impossibility of cooperation between men who look at public questions from different points of view. Col. Harvey became a supporter of Mr. Wilson when he was selected as the Democratic candidate for governor of New Jersey and he continued his support when Gov. Wilson began to be discussed as a candidate for the presidency. Of course, it is absurd for Col. Harvey's friends to talk about his 'bringing Gov. Wilson out.' No man or paper could have made Gov. Wilson as a candidate if he himself had not attracted attention; it would have been impossible for Col. Harvey to have prevented a discussion of Gov. Wilson's availability.

"But let us assure that Col. Harvey was doing all that he could for his choice, what was the situation? His conspicuous support was not only of no advantage, but it became actually a disadvantage; it did not bring to Gov. Wilson the class for which Col. Harvey speaks, but alienated men just as honest as Col. Harvey's friends who could not understand why Col. Harvey praised Gov. Wilson personally without indorsing the things for which Gov. Wilson stands.

Hadley Says, That, From Information Received From all Over the State the People Want Roosevelt—Stubbs Wires T. R. to Speak Up

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 24.—Gov. Hadley, in a statement today, said he favored the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt as the Republican presidential candidate. His statement, in part, says:

"From information that has recently come to me from all parts of the state, I am convinced a large majority of the Republicans are in favor of the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt as our candidate for president, and a large majority of people are in favor of his election."

Stubbs Wants a Statement.

TOPEKA, Kans., Jan. 24.—Gov. Stubbs today made public telegrams sent to Col. Theodore Roosevelt Monday last, urging him to make a statement at once as to whether he would be a candidate for president, or permit his name to go before the Republican national convention. The governor has not received a reply. The telegram read:

"The demand for your candidacy is becoming more urgent daily, and in Kansas is overwhelming and among all classes of the people. The meeting of committees and the calling of caucuses and primaries to select delegates to congressional and state conventions which in turn will elect delegates to the Republican national convention, are near at hand."

NEWS THROUGHOUT THE NORTH STATE

North Carolina News : : : In Brief

Ice Skating Claims Victim.

ROCKY MOUNT, Jan. 24.—News reached here Monday that the 13-year old son of E. P. Weaver passed away at his home near Mill Branch church about 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning, after having suffered from a fall on ice since Saturday afternoon.

The little fellow, with a party of boys, was skating on ice near the Mill Branch church, when he fell, his head coming in contact with the ice. He was immediately picked up unconscious, but after a short time he became rational and said a few words asking them to take him home.

He was taken to his home, after which he again lost consciousness and although everything in human power was done for him he remained unconscious until death Sunday morning.

The little fellow was one of the brightest boys of his age in this section and the entire community was grieved to learn of his death. The remains were interred yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the family burying ground near Mill Branch church.

Nolo Contendere Accepted.

WILMINGTON, Jan. 24.—The movement to secure better regard for law and create in Wilmington a more wholesome atmosphere is contended by some to have been given a setback in Superior court today, when the plea of nolo contendere was accepted by the solicitor in the large batch of whiskey cases, 60 odd in number, and when upon the recommendation of the solicitor, Henry F.

Shaw, of Kinston, the judgment of the court was that the defendants give bonds ranging from $100 to $300 according to their financial ability for their appearance at the January term 1913, to show that they have been of good behavior and have not engaged in the sale of liquor. This disposition of the case does not meet the approval of the three private attorneys appearing for the prosecution, who are out in a card explaining their position and declaring that the bringing up the case without further conference with them. The card is signed by Assistant City Attorney George L. Peschau and ex-Mayor A. G. Ricaud.

Judge Ferguson, who is presiding at this term, had all the defendants to stand up and made them a brief lecture and incidentally stated that conditions here certainly needed improvement, the number of defendants for retailing indicating as much.

Relieved of Large Wad.

RALEIGH, Jan. 24.—Police are looking vainly thus far for the perpetrator of one of the boldest robberies this city has known in a great while. J. L. Thompson, a prominent farmer of this county, had just cashed a check for $375 Saturday afternoon, when the money was adroitly taken from him by a negro on Wilmington street. The negro was begging Thompson for a dime. No clue to his identity has been discovered. Thompson had just sold nine bales of cotton, which was mostly the property of his brother.

The Reclamation Will Cost About $1,500,000.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 25.—A contract for one of the most gigantic drainage projects ever undertaken in the south was let today by an engineering firm of this city. The project involves the reclamation of sunken lands in northeastern Arkansas, supposed to have been caused by an earthquake about 100 years ago. About 300 square miles are included in the district. The contract calls for the construction of about 300 miles of ditches, 230 miles of which will be 40 to 50 feet wide and 15 feet deep. The main ditch will be 55 miles long. Surplus water will be led into the St. Francis and Tyronza rivers. The reclamation will cost about $1,500,000.

Alabama Fruit Growers.

JASPER, Ala., Jan. 25.—A large attendance of prominent fruit growers marked the opening here today of the ninth annual meeting of the Alabama State Horticultural Society. Several well known horticultural experts are here to address the gathering, which will continue in session until the end of the week.

Saskatchewan House Open.

REGINA, Sask., Jan. 25.—With the usual ceremonies the fourth session of the second provincial legislature of Saskatchewan was opened this afternoon in the magnificent new parliament buildings. #### Maine State Club Women.

DEXTER, Me., Jan. 25.—The Woman's Literary club of this place is entertaining for two days the annual convention of the Maine Federation of Women's Clubs. This, the opening day of the gathering, was devoted chiefly to the reception of the delegates who arrived in large number from all over the state. The business sessions of the meeting, including the election of officers for the year, will be held tomorrow.

MRS. T. E. KEEL DEAD

Dies At Her Home In Farmville Wednesday Morning

WAS WELL KNOWN IN THIS COUNTY

FARMVILLE, N. C., Jan. 23.—Mrs. T. E. Keel died rather sudden this morning at her home in Farmville, of paralysis, with which she was stricken last Saturday. Her remains will be interred in the old Ben May burying ground in Pitt county, Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Mrs. Keel was formerly Miss Pennington of Pitt county and is a sister of Mrs. Martha Parrott of this city and Mr. Ben May of Beaufort. She was 48 years of age and is survived by her husband and ten children, besides a number of other relatives.

Writes to Reflector About Modern Hotel Enterprise

MANY INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT IT

Editor Reflector:
I have just read your editorial on the hotel project and heartily agree with you in what you say about the indifference of our people, except in a few cases in which some of our citizens, who are by no means the moneyed men of the town, have shown a marked enthusiasm and gone their limit in subscribing to stock, but it takes more than public spirit to build this hotel, and the people of the town who have the money must come to our aid and invest a few dollars. Such an investment we conservatively estimate, will return the stock holder not less than fifteen per cent on the dollar, and the town (Continued on Page 4).

FRANCE ADDRESSES ITALY IN A VERY FIRM MANNER

Turkish Prisoners Must be Returned or Ambassador Withdrawn

"PRACTICE MANOUVERS" FOR FLEET

France Sends Strong Note to Italian Government Demanding Release of Prisoners. If Not Complied With Republic is to Withdraw Ambassador From Italian Kingdom.

PARIS, Jan. 24.—Camille Barere, the French Ambassador to Italy, is due to arrive in Rome tomorrow. He has been instructed to reiterate firmly France's demand that the Turkish nurses captured when the steamer Manouba was seized must be released. The French government expects that Italy will yield.

Should Italy refuse to accede to France's demand that the Turks shall be turned over to the French authorities, France is prepared to recall her ambassador from Rome and designate French warships to escort and protect French steamers in the Mediterranean.

France's words of warning to Italy were partly influenced by an interview which it was alleged Tomaso Tittoni, Italian Ambassador to France gave to the Paris correspondents of Italian newspapers intimating that Italy would not surrender the Turks she had taken from the Manouba nor abandon her right to capture vessels carrying contraband. Ambassador Tittoni today denied that he gave any interview.

Rome Receives Demand.

ROME, Jan. 24.—The French charge d'affaires, M. Legrand, in an interview with the Italian foreign minister Marquis di San Giuliano, today explained fully the French attitude and insisted upon the release of the Turks. The foreign minister promised to consider the matter and it will reply tomorrow after a consultation with the premier.

Spectacular Devices Used by Roosevelt's Friends to Win Him Votes. Gathering at Coalgate Declares Itself For President Taft.

COALGATE, Okla., Jan. 24.—President Taft was indorsed for renomination by the Republican party for President at the fourth congressional district Republican convention here tonight by a vote of 118 to 32 after Roosevelt supporters had made a determined effort to stampede the convention.

Spectacular methods were used to impress the delegates with the boom which the supporters of Roosevelt had set in motion. Edward Perry, district chairman, led the fight for Roosevelt while James A. Harris of Wagoner, held the lines for the administration.

Previous to the assembling of the delegates this afternoon a huge balloon was released near Convention Hall. Printed on it was one word, "Roosevelt".

The balloonist, before his leap, unfurled a flag bearing the lettering: "He will land."

As Perry began speaking after the convention was temporarily organized a small boy dressed in "Rough Rider" costume rode a horse up the center aisle of the convention hall. He was lifted to the stage while Perry suspended his address for the moment. The lad, waving his diminutive sombrero, shouted: "I want Teddy." Cheers followed.

PRESIDENT FARRELL SAYS STEEL AND HAR- VESTER TRUST AT ODDS

President Of United States Steel Corporation Talks Of Break

IS READY TO PROOVE STATEMENT

Steel Corporation and Harvester Trust Have Never Worked Together, According to President of Former. Goes Into Details as to Export Business And Employees Bonuses.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24.—James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation, surprised the Stanley steel trust investigating committee yesterday with the statement that the steel corporation and the International Harvester Co., have had no business dealings with each other for five or six years.

The information, coming on the eve of a proposed investigation of the harvester company by congress, in which it was sought to show that the harvester company and the steel corporation had joint directors and that the latter gave rebates to the former on steel, was doubly surprising.

Representative McGillicuddy of Maine, questioned President Farrell about the export business of the steel corporation and rebates given to certain companies.

"Isn't it a fact that the International Harvester Company gets larger rebates than are granted smaller concerns?" Mr. McGillicuddy asked.

"We have done no business with the International Harvester Company for five or six years," Mr. Farrell replied.

"The International Harvester Company has had a boycott on this corporation. It all grew out of a controversy between one of our subsidiary companies and the harvester company. It started as a mere quibble between salesmen and resulted in a complete severance of business relations. There is absolutely nothing in common between us. We don't do business with them."

Iron and Steel Schedule is Ratified by Adding Bailing Wire to Free List—Debate on Public Building Measure Postponed Till Monday.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—After an ineffectual effort on the part of some members to place steel rails and pig iron on the free list, and increase the proposed duties on lead and zinc, Democrats of the house, in caucus last evening, ratified the iron and steel tariff schedule drafted by their colleagues on the ways and means committee, adding an amendment to include bailing wire in the free list.

The threatened fight between Majority Leader Underwood, Representative Fitzgerald, chairman of the appropriations committee, and other leaders who approve of the recommendation of the committee on public buildings and grounds for a $16,000,000 public building bill, was postponed until next Monday night, when a special caucus will be held.

The iron and steel schedule was explained by Representative Underwood in an extended speech. As soon as he had concluded Representative Finley, of South Carolina, moved an amendment to the proposed tariff of 10 per cent ad valorem on steel rails, placing it on the free list with iron ore.

LIGHT VS. SHADOW.

The first idea we have about anything is usually a blurred conception. At least this is what happens to the average mind. We conceive that idea 'off the bat' as might be said. That's why we put it "An idea struck me." In the momentary childhood of that idea we don't fully realize what it may mean. Therefore we go into the trouble of further ideas which added to the first one give us something which might be called the evolved idea.

So it is with practically everything else. Of course such minds as possessed by a Napoleon, of a Pitt of a Beaconsfield give birth and evolve ideas in one effort. But we are talking of the average capacity mind. When we set about to do anything we must perforce go through this process of addition and subtraction and finally we reach the ultimate. By the time we get there we have flooded with light many corners which had laid in darkness.

And when we have finally completed the scaffold of secondary ideas that prop up and magnify the initial one we might find fault with some of the supporting ones, but before we discard them, others are looked for and when found are carefully placed in their stead.

Everything that is built is simply the result of addition and subtraction. Sometimes multiplication and division, but mainly the two former. However, not promiscuous addition and subtraction, but careful weaving and weeding.

Just as an instance of how we can err in the matter of alimation. Here we have a town. "Right nice town" we tell each other. House has been added to house. Pavements to the houses, streets to the pavements, and so on until we have really a "right nice town." All, or almost all that contributes to make a town candidate for the list of "modern and progressive;" electric lights, waterworks modern buildings, well furnished stores, etc. All that is addition. Careful and progressive addition. Rickety buildings have been weeded out, muddy streets have been improved etc. All that is subtraction. Careful and progressive subtraction. So far we have gone forward.

Now for the one step backward. The one step that is neither careful nor progressive. Can any body tell us what is the reason why our streets remain in darkness certain nights during the month. It surely cannot be on account of the moon. But if it is, that fickle lady does or does not do her work according to how she feels; also according to what degree the clouds happen to veil her efforts to shine in answer to the plea for light. And we can't blame her. Nobody pays her for it. It would be mighty interesting to find out just how much is economized by plunging us into inky-blackness several nights a month.

It is a most discreditable opinion one makes of a town when upon arriving after a weary journey he is pushed from the railroad car into a street blurred and gloomy because of the absence of light. This cannot have escaped the many travellers who alight in Greenville in the late evening.

People are attracted by light as much as any self-respectable moth. And, if we want to attract people, and this seems to be our object right now, we should have a better lighted town. This would undoubtedly give us a Bigger and Brighter Greenville.

THE HOTEL AGAIN.

In another part of this issue we publish a letter sent us by Mr. D. M. Clark, secretary of the Carolina club. We are glad to hear from him that "something" has been done towards giving Greenville the hotel it needs so badly. He mentions that a few thousand dollars have been promised.

To our way of thinking this hotel stock would be about the most desirable investment a Greenville man could make. The hotel itself would rent for $500.00. The five stores to be built in connection with it would bring another $50.00 or $75.00. The bank about the same. So anyone can readily see that their money would bring them in the neighborhood of 15 per cent on their investment.

It is not absolutely necessary to invest large sums. $500.00 or $1,000 is a sum that many men could afford to invest in such a manner and only 30 such men are needed to make the hotel proposition a go. Money grows in the bank. Of course it does. But does it grow by simply laying in the bank's safe? Not much. Bankers invest that money carefully in sound propositions. Your money growing in the bank is bringing you 4, 5 and even 6 per cent. How do you suppose the bank makes that 4, 5 or 6 per cent? By sound investment. You have now the opportunity to invest your money yourselves and apparently there is no earthly reason why you should not be your own bankers in this one occasion.

It is not the easiest thing going to sum up just what is best for the farmers. In Durham county there is an agitation to cut out the cotton crop and put in more tobacco, while in Yadkin county it is cut out tobacco and put in more cotton. The Reflector stands by its position that the farmers should not plant too much of either crop. Let them first be sure to raise enough feed crops for supplies, and then think about the so-called money crops afterwards. Raising cotton and tobacco at low prices to buy corn, hay and meat at high prices does not look like making money.

In New Hanover Superior court sixty odd blind tiger defendants were allowed to enter a plea of nolo contendere and were turned loose under small bonds not to sell any more liquor in a year. Perhaps the court officials down there had not heard what they do with blind tigers in Pitt county.

Now we guess Governor Blease, of South Carolina, feels like thirty cents, or something smaller. In his message to the legislature of that state he made a bitter attack upon the newspapers of South Carolina, and the legislature refused to let that portion of his message go on the records of the body.

If Greenville gets manufactories and other much needed enterprises, she must look to the resources of her own people to provide them. Sitting still and waiting for outsiders to come along and give us these things will never bring them.

Something certainly broke loose in Georgia a few nights ago. An infuriated mob broke into the county jail at Hamilton and took out four negro prisoners, one of them a woman, and lynched them. A quadruple disgrace to the state.

The Winston-Salem Tobacco Journal says: "What is smokeless tobacco?"

Why of course its the kind you chew and dip with a brush.

With a little more than fourteen-and-a-half million bales of cotton already ginned, it looks like the finishing up of the last crop will reach fifteen millions.

In Kentucky they are saying that Colonel Watterson is the man for the Democratic presidential nomination. The party could do worse in selecting a candidate.

WITH OTHER EDITORS

Nicotine and Justice.

At least a Solomon has come to judgment out in Cincinnati, who makes Shylock's judge look like a notary public and every man who ever used tobacco can light a first one, or gnaw off another corner of the plug with that feeling of satisfaction which comes of having a long cherished theory finally O. K'd. There was a particularly knotty aggregation of problems involved in a case being heard in Superior Judge Prescott Smith's court. All the legal lights pondered upon them with compressed lips and corrugated brows. Finally the court handed down a decision more momentous, doubtless, than he realized, to the effect that, in order to grease up the wheels of justice, so to speak, anybody who cared to might smoke. Soon the opposing counsel were puffing cigars of pears, the jury box looked like the stockhold of a battleship, and the judge himself toyed daintily with the cork-tipped cigarette. One by one the perplexing snarls were unraveled, the trial proceeded with a hum, and the witness, under the soothing influence of a perfecto, threw upon the proceedings a luminous knowledge calculated to upset the traditions of the "stand."

Thus the potency of nicotine as a mental stimulant is recognized, and tobacco takes the place to which it is rightfully entitled as a rule of reason which should prevail in all the temples of the blind goddess. That, under the influence of the weed, the mind of man becomes more flexible has long been known to those who smoke. It is no stranger to the bench or bar, although never so openly indorsed as now. One can easily recall that picture of the learned judges of the Supreme court of the United States passing along from hand to hand beneath the sheltering cover of the bench and their own flowing robes, the homely plug of that distinguished jurist who, but a short time ago, went hence to the great beyond. Cincinnati has rendered a service to the cause of human liberty. To all the judges, to all the juries, to all the lawyers in the land wrestling with that hydra-headed dragon, the law, we say, by way of amen: "Smoke up!"—Charlotte Observer.

The Rotten Pension Roll.

Where is the congressman brave enough to draw up and champion a bill to purge the federal pension rolls? There has been talk and talk of this, but instead, additional fakirs are being added to the rolls and more money voted at every congress. Mr. Charles Francis Adams is bringing some unpleasant facts to the attention of congressmen through The World's Work. He gives some cases of pension frauds that are on record. A responsible man himself a veteran of the war, wrote from a town in Ohio that he "could name at least twenty men in the same company to which he belonged who are receiving under a special pension act $24 a month, and who never stood in the line of battle." Still another case was specified on the floor of the last house of a man "who enlisted in 1864, got a big bounty; stayed in the hospital until discharged; never fired a gun or did a day's duty at the front; came home; was examined, was pensioned at $12 per month for the last stages of consumption, and is living yet." A system under which such abuses exist, and are practically connived at, is one not improperly characterized as a "system which offers every possible inducement to mendicancy and conceals every possible inducement to defraud."—Charlotte Chronicle.

The destruction by fire of four buildings of the Catholic orphanage near Raleigh is enough to arouse the sympathy of the state.

FABLE NO. TWO.

The Light that Failed.

The man had come from far away and got to town quite late that day; the Great White Way had been his home, the city of light, of fiery dome. In labels green he'd often seen "Yours if you come" and he came in to get his share of the spoils; to claim his part of the pot that boils. 'Twas six p. m. yet darkness thick made mighty hard his steps to quick. His critic eye he casted round, and found that nothing could be found. "Yours if you come" he thought again as through the dark his eye did strain; with a quick jerk long his pantaloons he struck a match and saw.....the moon. Moral: Throw a little light on the subject.

Only Today.

I will not look along the years
And try to face my future way;
I only need to see my path
For this one day.

O Thou who art my life, my hope,
Who art each weak heart's strength and stay—
Help me to live within the line
That bounds today!

Then loving with Thy patient love,
That waits to lift and head away.
My heart can hold no thought, no wish Beyond today.

—Selected.

Rev. C. W. Blanchard, of Wilson, was here this morning on his way to Winterville to meet with the trustees of the school there to plan for the early erection of new school buildings.

Mrs. J. W. Higgs went to Rocky Mount today to visit relatives.

Home-seekers Return.

The ten prospectors who came Monday night to pay us a return visit left this morning for their respective states. It is rumored that some of them are to come back at an early date and settle amongst us. We sincerely hope this remour has some solid foundation.

Funeral of Mrs. Godwin.

The funeral of Mrs. Jane Godwin, who died Wednesday morning, was held at 3 o'clock this afternoon in Cherry Hill cemetery, services being conducted by Rev. C. M. Rock. The pall bearers were: Messrs. S. T. White, W. L. Brown, C. W. Wilson, J. C. Tyson, W. B. Greene, R. W. King and W. S. Atkins.

Forerunners of Spring.

Mr. O. E. Warren told us today he had seen several blue birds, and it is the earliest these forerunners of spring have been known to appear. If the old saying is true it means we will have an early spring.

Mary Godat Bellamy, the only woman member of the legislature of Wyoming, is reported to be the leader of a movement to have the vacancy on the bench of the supreme court of the United States caused by the death of Justice Harlan filled by a woman.

WHAT SAVED HER LIFE

Mrs. Martin Tells About a Painful Experience that Might Have Ended Seriously.

Rivesville, W. Va.—Mrs. Dora Martin, in a letter from Rivesville, writes: "For three years, I suffered with womanly troubles, and had pains in my back and side. I was nervous and could not sleep at night.

The doctor could not help me. He said I would have to be operated on before I could get better. I thought I would try using Cardul.

Now, I am entirely well. I am sure Cardul saved my life. I will never be without Cardul in my home. I recommend it to my friends."

For fifty years, Cardul has been relieving pain and distress caused by womanly trouble. It will surely help you. It goes to the spot—reaches the trouble—relieves the symptoms, and drives away the cause.

If you suffer from any symptoms of womanly trouble, take Cardul. Your druggist sells and recommends it. Get a bottle from him today.

N. B.—Write for Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.

LOCAL BRIEFS

Knights of Pythias meet tonight. When The Reflector talks for you, the people hear, or rather see, what you have to say.

The moon helps the electric light bills outside but not inside. Why not put the split log drag at work on the streets.

The giving away of a portion of the sewer on Evans street, near the court house, has caused a slight cave-in there.

Watch the Advertisements.

It is easier to save money than it is to make it. A good way to save it is to watch what Reflector advertisements have to say and do your trading accordingly.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

Katherine Gray has been engaged by Henry W. Savage to play the title role in "Everywoman".

The vaudeville stage is to experience the return of John L. Sullivan, who has tired of rusticity.

Cecil De Mille who wrote "Strongheart" is the author of "California," the new operatic production by Lasky.

Sam Bernard is to appear in a new musical comedy which was written for him by Fred de Gressac and Harry B. Smith.

Arthur Aylsworth, at present in the "Over Night" cast, is to be featured next year in a new comedy by Philip Bartholomae.

Edward Sheldon is at work on a play for the Shuberts to be called "Romance". Doris Keane is to have the leading role.

Among those who will appear in "The Pink Lady" in London shortly are Hazel Dawn, Alice Dovey, Alice Hegeman and Frank Lalor.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA—PITT COUNTY.

To C. C. Reid, or any person interested:

Take notice, that on the first day of May, 1912, at the court house door in the town of Greenville, L. W. Tucker, sheriff in and for the county of Pitt, did expose to public sale the following described land: 4 lots in the town of Fountain, Falkland township. Said lots were sold at said sale for the taxes due for the year 1910, at which the undersigned became the purchaser thereof; the said lots were taxed or assessed in the name of C. C. Reid for the year 1910, and the time of redemption will expire on the first day of May, 1912.

This the 25th day of January, 1912. J. J. HEARNE, Purchaser. 125-1td-3tw.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—After a lapse of nearly two and a quarter centuries since his death, London paid a belated tribute to the memory of John Bunyan today, when the national memorial window in the north transept of Westminster Abbey was unveiled with impressive ceremonies. The memorial to the "inspired tinker" was designed by J. N. Cowper and executed at a cost of $6,000, raised by popular subscription. The window designed in two sections, illustrates some of the chief scenes and episodes in Bunyan's immortal "Pilgrim's Progress."

Among Other rarities Were a Number Early Issued Revenue Stamps
NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—The sale of one of the finest stamp collections dispersed in a long time in this city attracted a large gathering of dealers and collectors to a Broadway auction room today. Among the rare rarities included in the sale were a St. Louis postmaster's stamp, of 5 cents denomination, issued in 1845, and valued at $150, and an unused, specially printed 12-cent blackish purple government issue of 1880, valued at $100. Among the other rarities were a number of early issues of revenue stamps.

LAND SALE.

North Carolina
Pitt County,
Before the Clerk
In the Superior Court.

By virtue of a decree of the Superior court of Pitt county, rendered in a special proceeding or action therein pending, entitled Mary E. Whitfield, administratrix of Geo. B. Whitefield, deceased, vs. William Hathaway and wife, Magnolia Hathaway, Jesse W. Whitefield and wife, Annie Whitefield, Howard Bullock, and others, heirs at law, the undersigned commissioner will, on Thursday, February 22, 1912, between the hours of 12 and 2 o'clock, in the town of Greenville, before the court house door, sell at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, the following described tract or parcel of land, lying and being situated in Pitt county, Bethel township, N. C., and more fully described as follows:

Adjoining the lands of R. D. Whit-hurst; the Edgcombe county line; the lands of Gary Manning and Mrs. Mary E. Whitfield, containing 96 acres, more or less, being the lands of the late Geo. B. Whitefield and the same being more fully described in deed book D 3 on page 562 of Pitt county registry.

The said land will be sold subject to the dower rights of the widow, Mrs. Mary E. Whitfield.

This January 23, 1912.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA—PITT COUNTY.

To W. G. Webb, his administrator or assigns, or any person interested:

Take notice, that on the first day of May, 1912, at the court house door in the town of Greenville, L. W. Tucker, sheriff in and for the county of Pitt, did expose to public sale the following described piece or parcel of land: 39 acres in Farnville township known as a part of the late Luther Joyner land, being the portion allotted to his daughter, Bettie Lewis. Said land was sold at said sale for taxes due for the year 1910, at which said the undersigned became the purchaser thereof; the said land was taxed or assessed in the name of W. G. Webb for the year 1910, and the time of redemption will expire on the first day of May, 1912.

This the 25th day of January, 1912. J. J. HEARNE, Purchaser. 125-1td-3tw.

Swift Creek, Job Moore.

Elsewhere in this paper will be found a statement of the association for the year ending Dec. 31, 1911, showing that there are 785 members in the county carrying nearly a million dollars insurance on their farm property. A considerable increase was made over the previous year.

YOU CAN HAVE HEALTHY HAIR.

Use Weyth's Sage and Sulphur, A Harmless Remedy That Makes The Hair Grow.

What a pity it is to observe so many people with thin and faded hair and then realize that the most of these people might have a fine healthy head of hair, if they would but use the simple "sage tea" of our grandmothers, combined with other ingredients for restoring and preserving the hair. No one, young or old, need have gray hair, weak, thin, or falling hair, dandruff or any trouble of the sort if they could use Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. On the contrary, it is possible to have healthy, vigorous hair, of perfect color, by a few applications of this remarkable preparation.

Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy quickly removes dandruff, leaves the scalp clean and healthy, promotes the growth of the hair and restores the natural color of the hair which has become faded or gray. It is clean, wholesome dressing, which may be used at a y time and with perfect safety. Don't neglect your hair. Start today with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agent, Moye's Pharmacy.

Frederick Thompson has engaged Millicent Evans, last season with Douglas Fairbanks as leading woman in "The Cub," to take the leading feminine role in "The Flyers," which is to be produced about the middle of next month.

CAUSES SICKNESS.

Good Health Impossible With a Disordered Stomach.

There is nothing that will create sickness or cause more trouble than a disordered stomach, and many people daily contract serious maladies simply through disregard or abuse of the stomach.

We urge every one suffering from any stomach derangement, indigestion, or dyspepsia, whether acute or chronic, to try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, with the distinct understanding that we refund their money without question or formality, if after reasonable use of this medicine they are not satisfied with the results. We recommend them to our customers every day, and have yet to hear of any one who has not been benefited by them. Three sizes, 25c., 50c., and $1.00 a box. Sold in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store. Moye's Pharmacy, Greenville, N. C.
